INTRODUCTION.

THE help afforded to an attentive reader of Holy Scripture by the simple plan of arranging its unbroken text in paragraphs accommodated to the sense, is by this time too well appreciated to require, for adopting that method, either apology or enlarged explanation. By discarding the over-numerous and sometimes arbitrary breaks at the end of each verse in our ordinary Bibles; by banishing the numerals which indicate the chapters and verses into the margin, where they may be used for the purpose of reference; by broadly distinguishing the poetical books or portions of books from those written in prose; by marking clearly to the eye the passages of the Old Testament which are quoted in the New; as much aid will probably have been rendered towards the right understanding of the Inspired Volume as can be hoped for from the employment of devices merely typographical.

But it is not mainly as a Paragraph Bible that the interest of theological students is sought in behalf of the present work, to the preparation of which upwards of seven laborious years have been willingly devoted. The Syndics of the Cambridge University Press have considered that its special and exceptional form presents a favourable opportunity for supplying to scholars and divines their much-felt want of a critical edition of the Authorized Version of the Holy Bible, such as would have been executed long ago, had this Version been nothing more than the greatest and best known of English Classics. And this design has been rendered all the more necessary by the fact that a formal revision of the Translation itself is now in progress, having been undertaken about three years ago under the auspices of the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury. If a judgment may be formed from previous experience in like cases, the revised and unrevised Versions, when the former shall be at length completed, are destined to run together a race of generous and friendly rivalry for the space of at least one generation, before the elder of the two shall be superseded in the affections of not a few devout persons, who, in so grave a matter as the daily use of Holy Scripture, shall prove slow to adopt changes which yet they will not doubt to be made, on the whole, for the better. With such a struggle before it, it is only right that the Authorized or King James's Bible should be represented, so far as may be, in the precise shape that it would have assumed, if its venerable Translators had shewn themselves more exempt than they were from the failings incident to human infirmity; or if the same severe accuracy, which is now demanded in carrying so important a volume through the press, had been deemed requisite or was at all usual in their age. The purpose of this INTRODUCTION is to discuss, within as moderate a compass as the subject will permit, the principles which have been adopted in editing the following pages, the reasons whereon they are grounded, and the difficulties which have been encountered in the prosecution of an arduous but by no means a wearisome task. For the reader's convenience it will be divided into seven Sections, the chief contents of which are here subjoined.

Section I. On the history of the text of the Authorized Version, from A.D. 1611 down to the present time.

Section II. On its marginal notes; and on the original texts, both Greek and Hebrew, employed by the Translators.

Section III. On the use of the Italic type by the Translators, and on the extension of their principles by subsequent editors.

Section IV. On the system of punctuation adopted in 1611, and modified in more recent Bibles.

Section V. On the orthography, grammatical peculiarities, and capital letters of the original, as compared with modern editions.

Section VI. On the references to parallel texts of Scripture which are set in the margin.

Section VII. Miscellaneous observations relating to the present edition, and general Conclusion.

To the INTRODUCTION is annexed, besides several other Appendices, a full Catalogue of the places in which the text of modern Bibles differs from that of the standard of 1611, with the dates at which the variations were severally adopted, so far as by diligent care they have been ascertained.

SECTION I.

On the history of the text of the Authorized Version of the English Bible, from A.D. 1611 down to the present time.

Most readers will be aware that numberless and not inconsiderable departures from the original or standard edition of the Authorized Translation as published in 1611, are to be found in the modern Bibles which issue from the press by thousands every year. Some of these differences must be imputed to oversight and negligence, from which no work of man can be entirely free; but much the greater part of them are deliberate changes, introduced silently and without authority by men whose very names are often unknown. Now, if such alterations had been made invariably for the worse, it would have been easy in future editions to recall the primitive readings, and utterly to reject the later corruptions. This, however, is far from being the case. Not a few of these variations, especially those first met with in Cambridge folio Bibles dated 1629 and 1638, which must have been superintended with much critical care, amend manifest faults of the original Translators or editors, so that it would be most injudicious to remove them from the place they have deservedly held in all our copies for the last 240 years¹. A full and, it may be hoped, a fairly complete list of these changes is given in Appendix A at the end of this Introduction, to which the student is referred once for all: the attempt therein made to assign the period at which they were severally admitted into the text, although great pains have been bestowed upon the investigation, must be regarded as sometimes only approximately successful. Other copies, of an earlier date than that cited, may occasionally have anticipated it in making the given correction; but these inaccuracies will hardly affect the general results, or impair the conclusions to which they lead. One class of variations has been advisedly excluded from the Catalogue, as seeming rather curious than instructive or important; namely, that arising from errors which, having crept into editions later than that of 1611, after holding a place in a few or in many subsequent issues, have long since disappeared from the Bibles now in use. Of this kind is that notorious misprint in the Cambridge folio of 1638, once falsely imputed to ecclesiastical bias, "whom ye may appoint over this business" ("ye" for "we") Acts vi. 3; a blemish which obstinately maintained its ground in some copies, at least as late as 1682². The several editions of the Authorized Version which have been used in the formation of our Catalogues and in our re-

ing changes for the better already made by previous editors of the Authorized Version, it is safe to be fortified by the judgment of so cautious and well-informed a writer as Dr Cardwell: "There is only one case, perhaps, in which it would become the duty of the privileged editor to enter into questions of criticism, without some express authority to support him. If a given mistake of the Translators had already been corrected before his time, if the public opinion had concurred, either avowedly or tacitly, in the change, he might reasonably hope that the general acknowledgment of the truth would relieve him from the obligation of returning into error. I say nothing of the boldness which first made the alteration; I only commend the sound judgment which, after it was generally adopted, did not hesitate to retain it" (Oxford Bibles, 1833, p. 2, by Edward Cardwell, D.D., Principal of S. Alban's Hall, Oxford).

² Hartwell Horne, to whose Introduction all English students of the Bible owe more than they can ever duly acknowledge, adds another instance of less importance (though he does not quite know its true history), which shall serve as a sufficient specimen of the whole class. In 1 Tim. iv. 16 for "the doctrine" of the books from 1611 to 1630, we read "thy doctrine" in 1629 (Camb.) to 1762. Blayney (1769) restored "the," but Horne has seen "thy" in Bibles of the commencement of the present century. Introduction, Vol. II. Pt. II. p. 79 note (1834).

vision of the text are chiefly, though not exclusively, the following.

(1) The standard or primary one published in 1611, "Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, Printer to the Kings most Excellent Majestie." Here, however, we are met on the threshold of our researches by the perplexing fact that at least two separate issues bear the date of that year, yet differ from each other in so many minute particulars, that we cannot help raising the question which is the earlier or more authoritative, and consequently the more suitable to be taken as the model to which subsequent reprints ought to be accommodated. On this subject, so interesting to students of the English Bible, much light has recently been thrown by Mr Fry of Bristol, whose materials will be thankfully used by many that feel unable to adopt his conclusions, and might desire a little more scholarlike precision in the method of his investigations¹. The two chief issues of 1611 may be respectively represented by a folio now in the British Museum (3050. g. 2), and another in the same Library (3050. g. 1) of which Mr Fry says in a manuscript note "it is every leaf correct, and may be taken as a standard copy of this issue." There is yet a third class of books, bearing date the same year, containing (some more, some less) sheets of six leaves or twelve pages each, or occasionally only two or four leaves of a sheet, which appear to be reprints of portions of one or the other of the aforementioned issues, the preliminary matter being made up from the folio of 1617 or elsewhere, a circumstance which complicates the question not a little, so that in what we have to say it will be advisable to exclude all considerations respecting these reprinted portions². This may be done the better, inasmuch as Mr Fry's researches have discovered only six such leaves in the Pentateuch, five in the Apocrypha, none in the New Testament. These reprints are bound up with and form a complete book with portions of each issue in two other Bibles in the Museum (1276. l. 4 and 3050. g. 3) respectively. The textual differences between the two original issues have been diligently collected in Appendix B, pp. lxxxvi. —xc., from which only very manifest misprints of both books have been excluded; by a careful examination of which collation, in those portions where there are no known reprints, the student can form an independent judgment respecting the internal character of each of them. In preparing the present volume, a Bible belonging to the Syndics of the Cambridge University Press (A. 3. 14, wanting sheet A of Title-page, Dedication and part of the Translators' Preface) has been substituted for the Museum book 3050. g. 2, and for 3050. g. 1 the Oxford reprint of 1833, as being a well-known publication which exactly resembles it in all places consulted, and was itself taken verbatim, with unusual care for insuring accuracy, from a Bible in the Library of the Delegates of the Oxford University Press at that time in actual use. Copies of both issues or recensions of 1611 survive in great numbers in private as well as in public hands, since when the Translation was completed every Church had to be furnished with at least one without delay. Fifteen copies of that which it followed, twelve of the other, are enumerated in the Advertisement which preceded the publication of the Oxford reprint (dated Jan. 14, 1834), and Mr Fry has seen at least seventy, although he seldom gives us information as to where they are severally located³.

The question which of the two recensions is ³ Besides those named above the Editor has examined (not to mention some in private hands) resembling Camb. Synd. A. 3. 14, S. John's Coll. Cambridge (T. 2. 24); King's College (53); Jesus Coll. Cambridge (A. 7. 7 with the false date of 1613 on the title-page of the O. T.); resembling the Oxford reprint, Brit. Mus. (466. i. 6); Cambridge University Library, I. 15; 16; Emmanuel College (B. 1. 23), and the very fine copy in the Bodleian.

the earlier must be decided partly by external, partly by internal considerations. The latter will speak for themselves, and it may be taken for granted that no one will doubt the great superiority on the whole of the text of the Oxford reprint to the other, or hesitate to mark in it many designed improvements and corrections which betray a later hand (Appendix B ii. pp. lxxxviii.—xc.), while the instances in which the Syndics' book is superior or not inferior to the other (App. B i. pp. lxxxvi., lxxxvii.) are scanty, slight, and incapable of suggesting the converse inference¹. Both contain innumerable errors of the press, some peculiar to a single issue², not a few (including nearly all the false textual references in the margin, see Sect. vi. p. lvi.) common to both. It is useful to remember one characteristic erratum of each, which will enable us to determine at a glance to which recension a particular volume in our hands belongs. The Syndics' copy and its fellows have "Judas" instead of "Jesus" in Matt. xxvi. 36; the Oxford reprint and its associates read twice over the following words in Ex. xiv. 10 "the children of Israel lift up their eyes, and behold, the Egyptians marched after them, and they were sore afraid: and" the printer's eye wandering back from the second "the children of Israel" in the verse, to the first³. Yet in spite of this portentous blunder, the recension which contains it is decidedly the more correct of the two, and irresistibly forces on the mind of any one that has minutely studied both, that whether we regard emendations of the sense or comparative exemption from typographical oversights, it had undergone revision, fitful and superficial perhaps, but not the less real on that account. Hence it is not quite reasonable, in answer to the enquiry "Which of the two issues was first printed?" to say with Mr Fry, "I do not think that any evidence on this point can be adduced, from the existence of an error in one, and the absence of it in another copy" (A Description, &c. p. 23). Not certainly from noting a single error or from noting twenty, for such an argument is cumulative in its weight, and can only be appreciated by patient enquirers: but if, out of two books substantially the same, one shall prove on examination more free than the other from mechanical imperfections and printers' errata, and at the same time full of small yet unequivocal corrections whether of the style or the matter of the performance, we cannot doubt that, in the absence of any considerable proof to the contrary, the common consent of mankind would pronounce that the better executed volume must needs be the later of the two.

And what considerable proof to the contrary has Mr Fry been able to allege? Direct evidence on the subject there is none, for never was a great enterprise like the production of our Authorized Version carried out, with less knowledge handed down to posterity of the labourers, their method and order of working. There still remains the bibliographical branch of this investigation, and this will demand some attention. The first point we take up makes little in favour of Mr Fry's view of the priority of that issue which the Oxford reprint follows with such faithful exactness. All copies of the other issue which have a title-page at all, exhibit a respectable and elaborate woodcut (repeated before the New Testament with the necessary change in the printed words) that had often done duty before, notably in the Bishops' Bible of 1602. It represents the four Evangelists with their proper emblems at the top and bottom of the cut, the tents and armorial bearings of the twelve tribes on the left of the letter-press, the twelve Apostles on the right of it, the Paschal Lamb slain on the altar beneath it, the Lamb Triumphant under the Incommunicable Name surmounting all. But in many copies of the recension to which the Oxford reprint belongs the title-page is of a totally different character. It is a very elegant copper-plate engraving, of whose refined beauty Mr Fry's reproduction on stone (Plate 34) gives but a poor idea. Here Moses stands cornutus on the left of the letter-press title, Aaron on the right, the Apostles and Evangelists above and below in attitude and form quite different from the conventional manner of artists; above, the Incommunicable Name, the Dove, the Lamb Triumphant; below, the Pelican and her young; at the foot of this masterpiece the subscription C. Boel fecit in Richmond, Cornelius Boel of Antwerp then working at Richmond in Surrey. Now the point to be noted is this. It is admitted by Mr Fry and by every one else that in no copy of what he calls the second issue is there an engraved title, whereas some copies of his first issue have the engraved plate, others the woodcut, a few possibly, though not certainly, both, prefixed to the Old Testament. The inference seems a natural one that Boel's plate not being ready when the earliest copies of our Authorized Version were published, the old woodcut was made to serve in its place for a while, and that those copies of Mr Fry's first and our second issue which contain Boel's copper-plate, are in all probability the latest of any. If there be any more simple solution of the matter, it would be well to state it.

But that which is most dwelt upon by such as would invert what internal evidence points out as the true order of the two issues insist on facts relative to the reprinted leaves which Mr Fry has demonstrated with great pains and ingenuity. Out of 25 copies of his first issue which he examined, 23 were leaf for leaf alike, agreeing entirely with each other: in one copy two leaves, in another six, were of the rival issue. Forty-five copies of this latter issue were then collated, of which the large number of 41 were found to vary from each other in some of the reprinted leaves supplied (see p. xi. note 2), and only two pairs were entirely identical. "I have now shewn" he proceeds to sum up "from the actual comparison of a very large number of the Bibles of 1611, as many as seventy, that one issue is unmixed (with the exception of eight leaves in two copies out of 25 examined), and that the other issue is made up in a very remarkable manner, not only with reprints, but that it is often mixed with the other issue, with the preliminary leaves of 1613, 1617, and 1634. Is not this conclusive evidence that the Bibles No. 1 and No. 2 before alluded to¹ are respectively of the 1st issue and of the 2nd issue?" (Description, &c. p. 25)? Certainly not, if we understand what is meant by conclusive evidence. The facts established by Mr Fry (and we can confirm many of them from our own experience) are sufficient to raise a strong presumption that not very many copies of the earliest printed issue were bound up at once and sent out to Parish Churches, for which reservation their shameful inaccuracy will abundantly account: after the great and immediate demand was satisfied by that better edition which the Oxford reprint exhibits, and after the Translators were dispersed and had ceased to have any control over their work, the printer seems to have gradually put forth the unused sheets that had been first printed and deliberately laid aside, supplemented by reprinted leaves and other portions of later books.

"Why these 244 leaves were required to be printed a second time we can only conjecture" (ibid. p. 24). In truth the difficulty presses equally upon every possible hypothesis that can be maintained. The only real information available which bears even remotely on the matter is Dr Anthony Walker's *Life of John Bois*² [1560—1643], who was a

¹ As usual, Mr Fry does not indicate what and where are the copies he used. He only says just before, "I placed my two best copies side by side, the one with the error of three lines in Ex. xiv. 10, the No. 1 copy..., and the other with the verse correctly printed, No. 2 copy... (p. 22)," which is vague enough. He tries also to make something of "the obvious difference in the condition of the rules with which the black lines [inclosing the letter-press] are printed. In No. 1 they are straight and generally true at the corners; in the 2nd Issue they are not so true, and are more open, shewing the effect of use" (p. 25). The difference will not appear so great to every one who inspects these early Bibles; from the original leaves supplied at the end of the Syndics' copy of his own book, and from comparing various parts of Brit. Mus. 3050. g. 1 and g. 2, quite an opposite conclusion might be drawn: but if ever so great, it would only prove that the lines were repaired for a new issue. It is even doubtful, on close inspection, whether the same lines were used for both.

² "Because those Bibles which were printed and bound up before the 2nd Issue was printed (and no doubt there were such) could have leaves of no other Issue or edition inserted" (p. 22). This consideration he calls "almost absolute proof" of his opinion. It shews, of course, that his theory is self-consistent, but nothing more.

³ Harleian MS. 7053, printed also in Peck's Desiderata Curiosa, Vol. II. Book VIII. 1732. The Harleian manuscript is written by the hand which records a list of Degrees conferred by George II. at Cambridge, April 25, 1728: Peck member first of the fourth, afterwards of the second Company. Of him we are told

"Four years he spent in this service¹, at the end thereof (the whole work being finished, and three copies of the whole Bible being sent to London, one from Cambridge, a second from Oxford, and a third from Westminster), a new choice was to be made of six in all, two out of each company, to review the whole work, and extract one out of all the three, to be committed to the press. For the despatch of this business Mr Downes² and he, out of the Cambridge company³, were sent for up to London, where meeting their four fellow-labourers, they went daily to Stationers' Hall, and in three quarters of a year fulfilled their task. Whilst they were employed in this last business, he, and he only, took notes of their proceedings, which he diligently kept to his dying day."

Could these notes be recovered⁴, they would solve, not only the problem discussed by Mr Fry, but many other questions of great interest. If Dr Walker can be trusted, it would seem that every part of each Company's task had in some fashion been revised by each of the rest, a statement which neither the time employed, nor the results obtained, render very likely (see Sect. vii. p. lxiii.). At all events it is clear, unless we reject his evidence altogether, that the printing, so far as the Transladerived his materials from one of the Baker papers, which John Lewis also cites in 1739. The two manuscript authorities are independent, each preserving passages not found in the other. Both contain incidental statements, hitherto unnoticed, which might lead to the supposition that the different Translators took to themselves separate books (Harl. pp. 104, 105), as was really the case with the Bishops' Bible.

¹ So that we need not take literally the "twice seven times seventy-two days and more;" about two years and nine months, as Westcott notes (General View of History of English Bible, p. 154), which The Translators to the Reader speak of (infra, p. cxvi.). Elsewhere Anthony Walker says of Bois's labours, "Five years were spent in the Translation, which makes no noise, because it carries no name" (Peck, ubi supra, p. 53).

² "Though Mr Downes would not go, till he was either fetcht or threatened with a Pursuivant." Walker in Peck. The Harleian copy does not mention this story, so characteristic of the times.

tors superintended it at all, must have begun and ended within the short period of nine months, which seems wholly inadequate for the accomplishing of all they had in hand.

Although we have not been able to resist the pressure of the internal evidence which assures us that the issue represented by Synd. A. 3. 14 is the earlier of the two, yet the influence of our error (if any shall still judge it to be an error) upon the text of the present volume is infinitesimally small. It is strictly confined within the limits indicated in Appendix B, § 1, the great majority of which variations are either purely indifferent, or would have been received on their own merits, without reference to the prior claims of the copy that contains them.

Respecting Appendix C, wherein are registered the joint readings of the two issues of 1611 which in later times have been displaced but are now restored, not a few of them are quite insignificant in themselves, but are re-established as a matter of right, and as a kind of protest against the unnecessary, the almost wanton changes, in which certain editors of the Bible have been pleased to indulge. Examples of this kind will be seen in Judg. xix. 29; 1 Sam. xx. 5; 2 Sam. vii. 7 marg.; 1 Kin. xv. 27; xvi. 19; 2 Kin. viii. 19; Isai. vi. 8; Hos. xiii. 3; 1 Esdr. viii. 75; 2 Esdr. xv. 22; 2 Macc. viii. 33; Luke xix. 13 *marg.*⁵

We now proceed to describe the principal editions of the Authorized Bible which have appeared since 1611, especially those which seem to have been prepared with some degree of care, or have largely influenced the text of succeeding impressions.

(2) The Holy Bible of 1612, copies of which are in the British Museum (1276. b. 6) and at

⁵ Students should be aware that the representation given of the New Testament of 1611 in Bagster's Hexapla, 1841 cannot be implicitly relied upon. There are two issues of the book, with two several Introductions, and the stereotyped plates bear marks of alterations in what seems the later (Matt. xiii. 45). Thus, for example, in John viii. 4 "said" suits neither form of the Bible of 1611: sometimes the text follows our first issue, as in Matt. xiii. 4, 31, 45; xviii. 30; xxii. 24; Mark xv. 46; Acts iv. 27; xvi. 7, 19; xxi. 2; xxv. 1; Rom. vi. 21; x. 21; xi. 22; Eph. vi. 21; 1 Thess. i. 9; James v. 4; 2 Pet. ii. 6: sometimes that which Mr Fry counts the earliest, Luke ii. 24; x. 36; John xiv. 23; Acts vi. 12; xv. 11; 1 Pet. i. 22.

Trinity College, Cambridge (A. 8. 51), is beautifully printed in a small clear Roman type in octavo, the woodcut of the first issue of 1611 (above, p. xii.) being reproduced in a reduced size. On examining the collation we have made of this the earliest reprint of the Authorized Version (Appendices A, B, C below), it may be considered to depart but seldom from the issue represented by the Oxford reprint, except to correct some grave mistake (e.g. Mark vii. 4 marg.). In such a case it is usually followed by the edition of 1616, also printed in Roman type, but rarely influences the black-letter Bibles of 1613 or 1617. In 1 Kin. iii. 4; 1 Esdr. viii. 39; Rev. xx. 13 marg. this edition stands alone. The following are examples of improvements brought into it, which immediate successors have overlooked: Ps. xcix. 2; 2 Esdr. ii. 7 marg.; Judith xvi. 24; 1 Macc. v. 9; Matt. v. 22; Acts xiii. 19; 1 Cor. vii. 32; 2 Cor. v. 20. We have rejected the grammatical corrections in Dan. v. 31; John xi. 18 marg.

(3) The Holy Bible of 1613 is more generally known from a collation of the smaller black-letter folio copy of it in the University Press at Oxford with the Oxford reprint of the book of 1611, annexed to that very useful publication¹. This book is readily distinguished from both issues of 1611, inasmuch as it contains 72 lines of smaller type in a column, to their 59². It is plain that no formal revision of the text, italics, or margin, was attempted thus early. Out of the 412 variations which the collation records, just 70 arise from the following of the Syndics' copy (A. 3. 14) in preference to the other issue, but this includes corrections of some 20 evident misprints of the Oxford reprint issue. In about four places (Ezra iii. 5; Ezek. xxiv. 7; 1 Macc. iv. 29; 2 Thess. ii. 15) we find manifest improvements on the standard editions: in Dan. ix. 12 the reading of the Hebrew margin or keri is adopted ("word") against the other books: nearly all the other variations arise from the glaring misprints of this handsome but inaccurate volume. Such are the omissions of whole clauses by reason of their having the same beginning or ending as those immediately preceding (1 Kin. iii. 15; Matt. xiii. 8; xvi. 11; John xx. 25), and two whole verses, Eccclus. xvi. 13, 14, putting "delighted" for "defiled" Ezek. xxiii. 7, the leaving out of "not" in 2 Tim. iv. 16, and other errors almost as gross. That this book was set up from our first issue appears likely, as well from many other resemblances to be seen in Appendix B, as from the printer's mistaking "y" in that book for "the" in Acts xxi. 38. The other issue has "that Egyptian" in full³.

The next two books were used at Tregothnan (R. 4 and R. 7), by the kind permission of their owner, Viscount Falmouth.

(4) The Holy Bible in small folio Roman type 1616; with the Prayer Book and Genealogies, Map, &c. prefixed, the metrical Psalms with musical notes (dated 1612) and Private Prayers at the end, with their first leaf lost. This seems a somewhat rare book, not particularly intended for Church reading, is beautifully printed, and in a very perfect state. It appears to be the first edition of the Authorized Version which was submitted to any considerable revision. Its value will be seen from the study of Appendices A and B, and it should be remarked all along, that improvements brought in from time to time in Bibles of the Roman type seem to have had very slight influence with the printers of the black-letter books of 1617, 1634, 1640, who continued to set the press from one or the other of the issues of 1611, almost regardless of subsequent changes for the better. Some of the corrections of 1616 were received into the great folio of 1617, but the following, among others, were overlooked: Gen. xxii. 7; 2 Sam. xxiii. 20; 1 Kin. xx. 3; 1 Chr. i. 5, 47; vii. 13; xxvi. 5; xxvii. 33;

² A few copies of what we regard as the first issue of 1611 are said to bear on the Old Testament title-page, but not on the New, a genuine date of 1613: that being no doubt the year they were bound up. There was at that time no inducement to antedate falsely, but rather the contrary.

³ Other copies, by no means rare, are from S. Luke's Chapel, in the Precinct, Norwich (bought 1618), now in the Chapter Library there, and Brit. Mus. 469. g. 10, with Boel's frontispiece, and an inserted title-page of 1611.

2 Chr. xi. 20; xxx. 6; xxxii. 20; Neh. viii. 10; Eccles. vii. 26; Cant. v. 12; Jer. xxxv. 13; Tobit iv. 12; Eccus. li. 12; 1 Macc. viii. 8; ix. 35; xi. 34, 56; xv. 23; Matt. xvi. 19; Mark xiv. 32; Luke xxiii. 19; Acts iv. 17; xxvii. 18; Rom. vi. 12; vii. 13; xvi. 10. Dr Corrie, Master of Jesus College, Cambridge, has a rare 8vo. in Roman type, dated 1619.

(5) The Holy Bible, large folio, black letter, 1617, a much more pretentious but less valuable edition¹. As its leaves have got much mixed with those of the other folios, especially of our first issue of 1611, it is proper to apply Mr Fry's tests before using any copy (A Description, &c. plates 46, 47), so far as for critical purposes it is worth using at all. The large paper copies may be expected to be pure for obvious reasons. The Tregothnan book does not answer Fry's tests in three leaves up to Ps. xxii.² Among its few original corrections are Mal. iv. 2; 2 Tim. ii. 19. The Bible of 1617, like that of 1613, usually abides by the issue of 1611, represented by our Synd. A. 3. 14, while that of 1616 follows the Oxford reprint standard, even in such obvious errors as in Hos. vi. 5.

The public demand must have been satisfied with these several editions, especially of the large size, which were published so near each other. Some years elapsed before the appearance of other chief Bibles, whereof three several pairs can most conveniently be discussed according to their relation to each other, rather than in the chronological order,—the two of 1629, those of 1630, 1634, 1638, 1640.

(6) The Holy Bible, small quarto, 1629 "Imprinted at London by Bonham Norton and John Bill Printers to the King's most Excellent Majestie."

(7) The Holy Bible, also small quarto, 1630 "Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, Printer to the King's most Excellent Majestie: and by the Assignes of John Bill."

These two books are of the same size, have the same title-page, though different tail-pieces at the end of the Prophets, correspond with each other page for page, line for line, with the closest exactness, even to the peculiar shape of the letters used in the same places (compare, however, Num. xxii. 31; Ezek. xx. 37 marg.; Dan. viii. 18 marg.), so that the type from which the two were printed off was clearly set up but once. The volume of 1629 however is printed on much worse paper, and does not contain the Apocrypha³, although APO- still remains, as in its fellow, below the tail-piece at the end of Malachi. At the end are the metrical Psalms with musical notes, and the date of 1630. It would never be suspected, prior to actual trial, that the text in these two books is not absolutely identical. Yet an inspection of Appendices A, B, C will shew that this is the case: e.g. Gen. xlv. 12; xlvii. 18; Lev. xviii. 30; xxv. 5 marg.; Num. v. 20; 1 Kin. xviii. 28; xx. 3; 1 Chr. i. 38; vii. 27; xxiv. 11; 2 Chr. xxvi. 18; Esther viii. 5 marg. (devised 1630, for the device); Ps. xxiv. 10; Jer. xl. 1; Ezek. i. 2; xvi. 59; xxxvi. 2; Dan. v. 4 (dranke 1629, drunke 1630 after 1611); Rom. x. 21; xvi. 10; 2 Cor. vii. 3 (ye are 1629, you are 1630 after 1611); ix. 4 (haply 1629, happily 1630 after 1611); Gal. i. 6 (removen 1629); Eph. vi. 21, 24; 1 Thess. i. 9; 1 Pet. v. 12. Instances such as these help to justify Mr Fry's assertion, which to an inexperienced reader might seem somewhat unlikely: "The absence of a particular error in one copy, is no proof that it is of a different edition from the one with the error; for I have observed many errors in one copy corrected in another of the same edition, in other Bibles than those here described" (A Description, &c. p. 23), meaning those of 1611 and their near contemporaries. The Bible of 1630 has some readings that appear peculiar to itself, e.g. 1 Macc. x. 20 "require of thee"; xii. 53 fin. "them" for "men."

¹ Other copies are numerous: e.g. Brit. Mus. (1272. h. 4) and (3052. b); a copy given by "Thomas Hobson, Carrier of Cambridge, to Benet Parish;" Trin. Coll. Cambridge (A. 12. 34), large paper, very fine; S. John's Coll. Camb. (T. 6. 26); Caius Coll. (H. o. 26).

Thus far the reprinting of the Authorized Version had been entirely in the hands of the King's Printers. They had made changes in the text, slight indeed and far from numerous, yet enough to shew that they doubted not their competency to make more if they had taken the trouble. The italic type and textual references in the margin they left untouched, with all the obvious faults of both uncorrected, only that occasionally a false quotation was set right. The next stage of the history of our Translation is more interesting, and the Cambridge University printers, Thomas and John Buck in 1629, Thomas Buck and Roger Daniel in 1638, published two important folios which have largely (and on the whole beneficially) influenced our Bibles to this day.

³ Thus early began the practice of leaving out the Apocrypha. It was hardening into fixed habit when Selden said, "The Apocrypha is bound with the Bibles of all churches that have been hitherto. Why should we leave it out?" (Table Talk, p. 10.) The copies used are also in the Syndics' Library, A. 5. 22 and 25.

(8) and (9)¹. The first Cambridge editions of the Holy Bible shall be considered together, inasmuch as that of 1629, which is the smaller of the two, and has the Prayer Book prefixed to it, and the metrical Psalms with musical notes bound up at the end, inaugurated that course of systematic revision of the text, of the italics, and of the margin, which nine years afterwards was more fully and consistently carried out. It is not a little remarkable, that the subject of the internal character of our English Bible, as distinct from its external history, had excited so little attention for the space of two centuries, that the high merit of these books has been understood only within the last forty years. "For this beautiful edition," Lea Wilson writes most truly of the elder of the two, "the text appears to have undergone a complete revision, although I can find no record of such having been done by authority" (List of Bibles, &c. 4to. 1845). "So far as I can judge" says Bp. Turton of its compeer of 1638 "the edition was carefully superintended" (Text of the English Bible considered, 2nd edition, 1833, p. 35). As he becomes better acquainted with it, his language grows more decided, as well it might: "a revision of the text of 1611...it is now certain, was carried into effect, from the beginning of the Volume to the end, at Cambridge, in 1638" (p. 126). "The revision indeed was a work of great labour" (p. 91), but he always speaks of it as commenced and carried out in the same volume. What Turton did not know, but only regarded as possible, that it might "hereafter appear that an earlier revision had taken place"

(ibid.), is a fact that no one will doubt as regards the text who shall examine the contents of the subjoined Appendices (pp. lxxviii.—lxxxiii.; xci.—xcvii.). The task seems to have been executed between the two sets of editors in no unequal shares. What the one left undone, by reason of haste or human oversight, the others in a good measure supplied, by inserting words or clauses, especially in the Old Testament, overlooked by the editors of 1611, by amending manifest oversights, by rendering the italic notation at once more self-consistent, and more agreeable to the design of the original Translators (see Sect. III. p. xxxiii.). What persons were concerned in the edition of 1629, as Lea Wilson notices, we are wholly ignorant, but if similarity of plan and spirit afford us any ground for conjecture, one at least of them must have had a share with others in preparing the subsequent book of 1638, and these latter, as we learn from a manuscript note in the Jesus College copy, in the handwriting of Richard Sterne, Master of the College, and Vice-Chancellor that selfsame year, were Dr Goad of Hadley, Dr Ward, Mr Boyse, and Mr Mead: men whose obscure diligence in a grave and delicate work was doubtless rewarded with honour more excellent than fame can give or take away².

With this pair of editions began the habit of adding to the parallel textual references in the margin: the Bible of 1638 admits also one or two fresh marginal notes (1 Macc. iv. 15; ix. 36). We have seldom to hesitate about receiving their emendations of the text (see Appendix C 2 Sam. xvi. 8; Ps. cxix. 42 marg.), as in the case of some of their successors: their corrections command our assent by their simple truth. One of the changes introduced in 1638 it would have been better to have finally adopted, "and the truth" with the Greek in John xiv. 6. The "and" held its place beyond Blayney's revision of 1769, but has disappeared in Bibles from D'Oyly and Mant (1817) downwards. The following errata have been noticed in these two admirable books: most of which blemishes have been perpetuated to modern times.

² Kilburne calls the book of 1638 "the Authentic corrected Cambridge Bible, revised Mandato Regio," whatever that may mean (Dangerous Errors in several late Printed Bibles to the great scandal and corruption of sound and true religion. Discovered by Wm. Kilburne, Gent., 8vo. Finsbury, 1659, p. 6). His little pamphlet of 15 pages produced a great effect, and is full of weighty matter. A copy is in the British Museum (1214 a. 9).

1629. 2 Chr. ix. 11 marg.; Jer. xxxiv. 16; Ezek. xxxi. 14; Eccles. xvii. 24; 2 Macc. ix. 18 (see Appendix C for all these); Judith i. 6 ("Hydaspe:" so also 1638 [not 1744], 1762, 1769, all moderns down to our model [below, p. xxiii.], which restores "Hydaspes" of 1611); Barnch vi. 8 ("gold," all the editions just named, with 1744 added: here again our model restores "silver" of 1611); 2 Cor. viii. 7 ("in utterance," repeated in 1638, 1699, "in utterance" 1762: but 1743, 1769 and the moderns restored "and utterance" of 1611); 1 Tim. iv. 16 (see p. x. note 2). Note also that this edition has misled every subsequent one by placing the reference to Ps. xxii. 6 in Job xxv. 6 over against the first "worm" instead of the second.

1638. Neh. xii. 3 marg. (Appendix A); Ezek. xviii. 1; Hos. xiii. 3 (see for these Appendix C); Acts vi. 3 (see p. x.); Rev. ii. 20 ("Jezabel," the Greek form, followed by 1699, 1743: but "Jezebel" was restored in 1762).

In the matter of the italic type, to which much attention is paid in these two Bibles, one or other of them has led later copies wrong in the following places:

2 Sam. xxiv. 12 do it (1629), corrected in the American (1867) only; Isai. v. 9 marg. This is (1638); 25 were torn (1638); xxxviii. 12 marg. from the thrumme (1638); Jer. xxv. 18 and the princes (1638); Ezek. xl. 4 art thou brought (1629); Zech. vi. 3 and bay (1638); 1 Esdr. viii. 58 is a vow (1629); Matt. xv. 9 for doctrines 1638, for doctrines 1762, &c.; Eph. v. 26 cleans it (1629). All these are merely uncorrected *errata*¹.

The next pair comprises the black-letter folios of the King's Printer, dated (10) 1634 [B. M. 1276. l. 5. 1—2] and (11) 1640 [B. M. 1276. l. 7]. The former is much mixed with later issues of the books of 1611 and 1617, and may be discriminated by the use of Mr Fry's tests (A Description, &c. Plates 46, 47). The latter is at once detected by its use of Roman letters instead of italics in the marginal notes, nor does the type run quite line for line with the earlier folios. Speaking generally, these books contain none of the improvements found in the two Cambridge editions, although a few changes for the better may be met with here and there. Thus the edition of 1634 anticipates the emendations of 1638 in 1 Chr. i. 20; John vii. 16 (Appendix A): in Hagg. i. 12 it reads "Joshuah," in Rev. xxi. 20 "sardonyx." In Eccles. xxxv. 18; xlix. 4; Acts iv. 17; vii. 10 (Appendix A) that of 1640, but not the other, adopts the readings of 1629. A fuller examination would no doubt bring to light some more instances, equally insignificant.

The volume of 1640 proved to be the last of the Bibles of its class, the Great Rebellion leaving men neither inclination nor means for costly undertakings of this nature. "You may well remember," writes William Kilburne in 1659, to the honourable and elect Christians whom he addresses, "the zeal and care of the late Bishops (especially of reverend and learned Doctor Usher) was such, that for the omission in one impression of the Negative word [not] in the seventh Commandment, the Printer was fined £2000 or £3000 in the late King's time, as I have heard², which happened long before the late wars began: in which time, through the absence of the King's Printers, and cessation of Bible-printing at London, many erroneous English Bibles were printed in and imported from Holland; which being diligently compared by the late Assembly of Divines were reported to the Parliament in 1643 to be corrupt and dangerous to Religion" (Dangerous Errors, &c. p. 5). This importation indeed was expressly prohibited by statute, without much good effect: "Moreover, during the time of the late Parliament great numbers of Bibles in a large 12° volume were imported from Holland in 1656 with this false title (Imprinted at London by Robert Barker, Anno 1638)...being contrary to the several Acts of Parliament of 20° Sept. 1649 and 7 Janu. 1652 for regulating of Printing" (ibid. p. 12). Kilburne furnishes a really painful list of the inaccuracies of these foreign Bibles ("thirty grand faults in part of Genesis, a hundred in Isai. i.—xxvii.”), but shews plainly that the privileged printers, Henry Hills and John Field, were scarcely a whit more careful. They had, in truth, to pay for their privilege a bribe of £500 per annum to certain men in power, “whose names, out of respect to them, I forbear to mention” (ibid. p. 14), and reimbursed themselves for that shameful outlay by taking no measures for the due correction of the press. In their Bibles of 1653, 1655 (two editions), 1656 (two editions), and 1657 (thought to be the worst of all), Kilburne computes that he discovered twenty thousand faults, some (which he particularises) being intolerably gross. On the other hand, he praises several editions in 8vo. and 12mo. issued “by Authority of Parliament” in 1646, 1648, 1651, &c., by Wm. Bentley of Finsbury, based upon the Cambridge folio of 1638.

¹ Professor Grote (M.S. p. 36) speaks of a small 4to., Cambridge, 1637, in Trinity College Library, "which has none of the additions of Buck, 1638." From the specimen Professor Lightfoot gives of its reading in 1 Cor. xii. 28 (On a Fresh Revision, &c. p. 129, note), it does appear to contain the changes or improvements of Cambridge, 1629. Such is the case also in Gen. xxxix. 1; Deut. xxvi. 1; Job iv. 6. The valuable manuscript notes of the late Professor Grote, from which we shall hereafter make several extracts, though scarcely in a state suitable for publication in full, were obligingly placed at our disposal by his representatives, and throw much light on the internal history of the printing of the Authorized Bible.

Of the Bibles published during the latter part of the seventeenth century, that of Hills and Field, small 8vo. London, 1660, is remarkable for certain additions to the original marginal notes of 1611, subsequently improved upon in a Cambridge quarto of 1682—3 (see Sect. II. p. xxxi., and note 1), bearing the name of John Hayes, the University Printer, who had previously put forth a well-known edition in 1677. The later of Hayes’s two contains a great number of fresh textual references, the reputed work of Dr Anthony Scattergood, and mostly taken from his Bible, also published at Cambridge in 1678. But the most celebrated edition of the period was that undertaken on the motion of Archbishop Tenison, and at the alleged request of Convocation in 1699, by the eminently learned William Lloyd [1627—1717], successively Bishop of S. Asaph and of Worcester, under whose superintendence appeared

(12) The Holy Bible, large folio, 3 vol. “London, Printed by Charles Bill and the Executrix of Thomas Newcomb, deceased, Printers to the King’s most excellent Majesty, 1701.”

This splendid but somewhat cumbersome book is the first that contains the marginal dates (see Sect. VII. p. lxii.), and sundry marginal annotations of doubtful merit, discussing chronological difficulties and imparting other information (Sect. II. p. xxvi.). Annexed are Bp. Cumberland’s Tables of Scripture measures, weights, and coins (first published in 1685), Tables of Kindred, Time, and

Offices and Conditions of men. The textual references also are increased, but not very materially, and in respect to punctuation many parentheses were restored, which had been gradually removed from the text (see Sect. IV. p. xli.). On the whole, this hasty labour added little to the fame of the veteran Lloyd, and in 1703 the Lower House of Convocation made a formal Representation to the Upper respecting the many errors it contains¹. Except in regard to the dates, no principal edition has so little influenced succeeding Bibles as this, notwithstanding the high auspices under which it came forth.

It was doubtless through the care of Archbishop Wake (who, though himself but a feeble writer, had a genuine love of sacred letters) that persons from whom so little could be expected as George I. and his great minister, were induced to issue four salutary Rules, dated April 24, 1724, to the King’s Printers², with a view to the more effectual removal of misprints from their copies of the Authorized Version. One of these rules strikes at what was beyond question the root of the mischief in the evil days of Hills and Field, and prescribes that those employed on so grave a work should receive competent salaries for their pains and skill. In the middle of the eighteenth century the Bibles of the Basketts, at once the King’s and Oxford University Printers, earned a fair name both for the beauty of their typography and their comparative freedom from misprints. Their quarto of 1756 is particularly commended, and will supply the student with a knowledge of the exact state of our Bibles just before the commencement of the kindred labours of Paris and Blayney, which yet remain to be described. In preparing the present volume we have used another of their editions, in substance almost identical with that of 1756.

from designs of the best masters," "Oxford, Printed by Thomas Baskett and Robert Baskett, Printers to the University 1744" (Old Testament): For the New Testament: "London, Printed by Thomas Baskett and Robert Baskett, Printers to the King's most excellent Majesty 1743."

We now come to the last two considerable efforts to improve and correct our ordinary editions of Holy Scripture, made in 1762 by Dr Paris, Fellow of Trinity College, Cambridge, and still commemorated in the list of the Benefactors of the College, and by Dr Blayney, whose labours were published in 1769, both anonymously. The latter, however, has left a very interesting account of his work and the principles upon which it was executed in a brief Report to the Vice-Chancellor and Delegates of the Clarendon Press, reprinted below as Appendix D (pp. xcvi., xcix.), and well deserving of attentive perusal. Dr Paris's name is not mentioned therein in such terms as might have been expected from the liberal use made of his materials by his successor: in fact his book is almost unknown even to Biblical students, although it has contributed more than that which appeared but seven years later towards bringing the text, the marginal annotations, the italics, and the textual references of modern Bibles into their actual condition. The truth is that Paris's edition had no real circulation, partly because it was so soon superseded by Blayney's, chiefly by reason of a large portion of the impression having been destroyed by fire in Dod's the publisher's warehouse¹.

(14) The Holy Bible, quarto, large paper, 2 vol. Cambridge, "Printed by Joseph Bentham, Printer to the University. Sold by Benjamin Dod, Bookseller... London, 1762."

(15) The Holy Bible, quarto [and folio], 2 vol. Oxford, "Printed by T. Wright and W. Gill, Printers to the University: 1769." With Prayer Book prefixed.

It will be seen when we come to discuss the italic type (Sect. III.) that the use of it was considerably extended in these two Bibles, notably in the later one, by a more full carrying out of the system of the Translators than they would have probably sanctioned themselves. The marginal annotations also, which had been growing in some Bibles since 1660 but were excluded from others (see Sect. II. pp. xxx., xxxi.), were finally received into the place they have occupied ever since, sundry new notes being added, the great majority in 1762. Bp. Lloyd's dates and chronological notices were also received and added to at the same time, and the two editions contributed largely, in about equal proportions, to swell the catalogue of textual references to parallel passages of Scripture. An inspection of our Appendices A and C will shew how far each of them contributed to amend or corrupt the Translators' text, and it cannot be doubted that these two editors are the great modernizers of the diction of the version, from what it was left in the seventeenth century, to the state wherein it appears in modern Bibles. Much of the labour described in Sect. v. (pp. xlviii., xlix., &c.) has been rendered necessary for the undoing of their tasteless and inconsistent meddling with archaic words and grammatical forms. On the whole, Dr Paris, who has been kept so utterly out of sight, performed his task with more diligence, exactness, and moderation than his Oxford successor. Yet, much as they left undone or did amiss, their editions of the Bible are monuments of genuine industry and pious zeal all the more conspicuous in an age when shallow superciliousness was too often made a substitute for generous criticism and scholar-like precision: they might either of them have cheered the heart of worthy Archbishop Secker, on whose suggestion Blayney's labours are believed to have been undertaken. In point of typographical correctness, as is already well known, the quarto (and to a slightly less extent the scarce folio) of 1769 are conspicuously deficient: on one page of the Apocrypha there are no less than three typographical errors (Esth. xi. 2 "Nison;" 8 "upon earth" ("the" omitted); xii. 6 "the eunuchs" ("two" omitted), so that the commonly estimated number of 116 such errata would seem below the truth. In Rev. xviii. 22 occurs an omission of a whole clause, for the same cause as was spoken of in regard to the Bible of 1613: "And no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee." Some of Blayney's needless changes are in Ps. cxv. 3; cxli. 9; 2 Pet. i. 9 (see Appendix C): certain of a better character occur in Prov. vi. 19

¹ "Only six copies were preserved from a fire at the printers," MS. note in the British Museum copy. But more than six undoubtedly survive, as may appear from the Catalogues of various booksellers. We have used Camb. Synd. A. 4. 3^b, 3^c for 1762; A. 4. 16 for 1769.

(App. A); Ecclus. xxix. 17 "[in danger]" for "[in danger]" of 1611, &c.; 2 Cor. iii. 3 "fleshy" of 1611 restored, for "fleshly," which had held its ground since 1613. On the other hand, in Ezek. xxiii. 4 (his own margin) His tent should have been Her tent. In regard to italics, whereof at times he is somewhat lavish, he rightly prints in Ps. xiii. 3 "the sleep of death," instead of "the sleep of death," as from 1611 downwards; in 1 John iii. 16 "of God" is italicised for the first time: his oversights in this matter will be noticed hereafter (p. xxii.). In the Bible of 1762 also the following errors should be noted: 2 Kin. x. 31 "for" instead of "for" of 1611—1744; xxv. 4 "of war fled" for "of war fled" of 1611—1744; Ps. lxix. 12 "I was" for "I was" 1611—1744. The second and grossest is amended in the American Bible 1867, otherwise they remain untouched to this day.

The following list of errors which we have incidentally detected in Dr Paris's edition of 1762 deserves the more notice, because they are nearly all repeated by Blayney, as we have indicated by adding the date 1769 within marks of parenthesis. They occur oftenest in the marginal annotations added in this pair of Bibles, and some of them can be best accounted for by supposing that Blayney's sheets were set up by Paris's, used as copy.

Blayney also refuses "be ye warmed and be ye filled," James ii. 16 ("be ye warmed and filled," 1611—1743), though he wrongly italicises the first "ye," which he retains. In Gal. ii. 6 1762 recalls from the Bible of 1683 the reading "those who," which had been afterwards neglected for the inferior reading of 1611, "these who" (Grote MS. p. 133). It was followed by Blayney and others up to a very recent period (Bagster 1846, American 1867). Our model (Camb. 1858) falls back upon "these who," which we do not disturb.

Some other emendations of Dr Paris are a little too bold (e.g. Ps. cvii. 19, App. C), and one at least of his marginal notes very questionable (Acts vii. 45). His punctuation is often good: he was the first to substitute a full stop and a moderate space for the colon of 1611, &c., at the great break in Zech. xi. 7 "And I took unto me two staves." For a specimen of his successor's merits in this respect see Sect. iv. p. xlv. (2 Cor. v. 2).

It is now necessary to subjoin an incomplete yet over-long list of the errors other than bare misprints which have met us in habitually consulting Blayney's quarto of 1769. We must not suppress the notice of faults, some of which have led his successors grievously wrong, through the vain fear of detracting from the honour of a learned and diligent student of Holy Writ. All accuracy is only comparative, as every true scholar knows well; and if we be at a loss to account for the unusual number of his oversights, we may fairly impute much to the comparatively short time—between three and four years—spent by him in accomplishing, or at least in attempting, the burdensome task which his Report describes (Appendix D). The reader will refer to Appendices A and C for further details.

Ex. vi. 21; Josh. xix. 2, 19; 2 Sam. xxiii. 37; 1 Kin. xv. 2 (marg. of 1769) Michaia; 1 Chr. ii. 47; vii. 1 (an error revived); 2 Chr. iv. 12 (the second "the top of" omitted¹); Job xli. 6 (Appendix C, p. xciii., note 6); Ps. xviii. 47 "unto" for "under²," xxiv. 3; lx. 4 "feared" for "fear²," lxxviii. 66 "part" for "parts²," so a Scotch edition (Coldstream) as late as 1845; cxlviii. 8; Prov. xxv. 24; Ezek. v. 6, the comma placed before "and my statutes" in 1629 is removed, for want of looking at the Hebrew; Hab. iii. 13 (an error revived) "by discovering" for "by [†]discovering," 1 Esdr. iv. 29; v. 13 marg.; 20 "Ammidol" for "Ammidol³," vii. 9 "service" for "services³," viii. 56 "sixty" for "fifty³,"

2 Esdr. i. 15 "to you" for "for you¹;" 38 "come" for "cometh¹;" iv. 21 "upon the heavens" for "above the heavens¹;" v. 15 "upon" for "up upon¹;" 27 "of people" for "of peoples¹;" Judith ii. 20; Esther xiv. 14 "help" for "helper¹;" Wisd. vii. 25 marg.; Eccles. xvii. 5 comma removed after "seventh¹;" xxvii. 13 "in" omitted before "the wantonness¹;" xlv. 8 marg.; Hist. of Susanna, ver. 37 "was there" for "there was¹;" Bel and Dragon, ver. 3 "was spent" for "were spent¹;" ver. 6 "a living God" for "a living god" (1611—1762), as all in ver. 24 after 1744; 1 Macc. ix. 68; x. 39 "of Jerusalem" for "at Jerusalem¹;" John xi. 34; Rom. vii. 20 "Now if do;" xi. 23 om. "still" (thus many later Bibles, but not our model, Camb. 1858); 1 Cor. iv. 13 "the earth" for "the world;" 2 Cor. vii. 16 "con-|dence" for "confidence;" xii. 2 "about" for "above," repeated in later Bibles up to Bagster, 1846; but the American and our model restore "above." This change seems intentional. 1 Tim. iv. 10 "the saviour;" Rev. vii. 6, see Appendix A, p. lxxxiii., note 2; Rev. xviii. 22 (see p. xx.).

In regard to the use of italic type Blayney's edition is very careless, although he had evidently taken some pains about the subject. Some of his errors are:

Deut. viii. 17 "mine hand;" xv. 20 "eat it;" 1 Kin. xvii. 24 "and that" for "and that;" 1 Chr. xviii. 16 "was" 1611—1762, but "was" 1769; 2 Chr. xx. 34 "is mentioned;" xxiv. 26 "these are they" for "these are they" (1762); Ps. viii. 4 "What is man" for "What is man" of 1611—1762; xvii. 6 "hear my speech;" xlix. 7 "his brother" for "his brother" of 1611—1762; lxxv. 1 "is near" for "is near" of 1611—1762; ver. 5 "with a stiff neck;" Prov. ix. 8 "wise man" and Isai. xxix. 8 "thirsty man," against his own practice, although 1638—1762 italicise "man;" Eccles. viii. 11 "sentence against," but "sentence against" 1611—1762; Isai. xxxvi. 3 "which was" for "which was" 1611—1762, as even 1769 in ver. 22; Jer. xxxiii. 12 "which is desolate" (after Camb. 1629), "which is desolate" 1611—1630, "which is desolate" 1638—1762; xxxvi. 19 "ye be" for "ye be" 1611—1762; Ezek. x. 1 "that was above" for "that was above" 1611—1762; Dan. viii. 3 (his), 6, 20 "two horns," though the noun is dual; Hab. i. 10 "shall be a scorn" for "shall be a scorn" 1611—1762; Hagg. ii. 19 "Is the seed" for "Is the seed" 1611—1762; Judith xiii. 14 "(I say)" 1611—1762, which is the method in the Apocrypha of indicating what is omitted in the Greek, he regards as parenthetical, and accordingly the marks () are removed in 1769; Matt. xxii. 10 "highways" for highways (ὁδοὶ) of 1638—1762; Luke xiv. 4 "let him go" for "let him go" of 1638—1762; Rom. iii. 14 "is full" (γέμει); 1 Cor. iii. 23 "ye are Christ's" for "ye are Christ's" of 1638—1762; Gal. v. 10 "his judgment" for "his judgment" of 1611—1762.

Out of this whole list of blunders in regard to the italic type, some of them being very palpable, the American Bible of 1867 corrects those in Ps. xvii. 6; lxxv. 5, Professor Scholefield (whose care on this point will be noticed again, Sect. III. p. xl., note 1)

the last two. Blayney is followed in the rest by the whole flock of moderns, without enquiry and without suspicion.

For many years which followed the publication of the edition of 1769, even after its glaring imperfections had become in some measure known, the King's Printer and the two English Universities continued to reproduce what was in substance Dr Blayney's work, when the public attention was claimed in 1831 by Mr Curtis of Islington, who complained that all modern reprints of Holy Scripture departed widely from the original edition of 1611, to the great deterioration of our Vernacular Translation². It is needless to revive the controversy that ensued, in which the case of the privileged presses was successfully maintained by Dr Cardwell in behalf of Oxford, by Dr Turton for Cambridge, in the pamphlets which have been already cited in this Section. The consequent publication of the standard text in the Oxford reprint of 1833, which we have used so much, virtually settled the whole debate, by shewing to the general reader the obvious impossibility of returning to the Bible of 1611, with all the defects which those who superintended the press had been engaged, for more than two centuries, in reducing to a more consistent and presentable shape. One result of the communication at that time entered upon between the Delegates of the Oxford and the Syndics of the Cambridge Presses was a letter written from Dr Cardwell to Dr Turton in 1839 respecting a more exact accordance of the Authorized Version as published by the two Universities. These learned men were instructed to confer together on the subject, although it is not easy to point out any actual result of their consultation. The only papers at Cambridge at all bearing on the subject have been placed at the Editor's disposal, but they amount to very little, though it is to them he is indebted, when in the Appendices or elsewhere he speaks of an alteration as having been made by the direction of Bp. Turton³.

³ It would be ungrateful not to notice the minute and unpretending diligence of those who prepared Bagster's editions of the Holy Bible. We have consulted the miniature quarto of 1846, wherein we found anticipated many a small discovery we had supposed to be original. Appendix A, pp. lxix., &c.

The revision of the Canonical Scriptures projected (1847—1851) by the American Bible Society was a more ambitious enterprise, which until lately has hardly been heard of in England¹. A Committee of seven, on which we recognize the honoured name of Edward Robinson, engaging as their collator James W. McLane, a Presbyterian minister in the State of New York, superintended his comparison of a standard American Bible with recent copies published in London, Oxford, Cambridge and Edinburgh, as also with the book of 1611. Where the four modern British volumes proved uniform, the new revision was conformed to them, or, in matters of punctuation, to any three united. Other rules drawn up for McLane's guidance shew laudable care on the part of the Committee, who felt and confessed that some restraint (even though a light one) was peculiarly needed by their citizens, since "the exposure to variations is naturally greater, wherever the printing of the Bible is at the option of every one who chooses to undertake it, without restriction and without supervision; as in this country since the Revolution" (Report, p. 8). To this task the good men devoted themselves for three years and a half, and finally presented their Report and revision to the Board of Managers which had appointed them. Ibi omnis effusus labor: adopted at first, the work was rejected the very next year (1852) by a majority of the same body, "on the ground of alleged want of constitutional authority, and popular dissatisfaction with a number of the changes made²." Some small fruits, however, of their faithful toil remain in the editions of the Bible published by the American Bible Society since 1860, to which reference is frequently made in the course of this Introduction and its Appendices³. It is not easy to persuade ourselves that very much has been lost by the failure of the praiseworthy effort just described. The plan of operation was not sufficiently thorough to produce any considerable results. Between the five recent Bibles that were collated the differences would be slight and superficial, but when the standard of 1611 came to be taken into account, it is very credible that the recorded variations, solely in the text and punctuation, amounted to 24,000 (Report, p. 31). No attempt seems to have been made to bridge over the wide gulph between the first issues of the Authorized Version and those of modern times by the use of such intermediate editions as have been examined in the present Section; nor does the general tone of their Report encourage the belief that the previous studies of the revisers had lain in that direction. Hence followed of necessity, or at any rate in practice, so complete a postponement of Bibles of the seventeenth century to those of the nineteenth, that wheresoever the latter agreed together, their very worst faults, whether relating to the text or to the italic type (and more especially to the italics), were almost sure to escape detection, and never did come to the knowledge of the Committee, save by some happy accident.

It remains to state that the model or standard copy by which the present work has been set up at the press is the Cambridge 8vo. edition, small pica (with marginal references) 1858. This Paragraph Bible, therefore, agrees with the Cambridge method of spelling certain words enumerated in Section v. (p. xlviii.), rather than with the London or Oxford fashion. Our standard may be pronounced to be accurately printed, inasmuch as close and repeated examination has enabled us to note only the following errata in the text or margin.

Since this Bible of 1858 does not contain the Apocrypha, a Cambridge 4to. 1863 has been adopted for the model of that portion of our work. Besides correcting the mistakes of Blayney and his successors in the passages indicated in pp. xxi., will explain what we mean. The revision seems due in the main to Wm. Greenfield, F.A.S., of the British and Foreign Bible Society, although he died in 1831.

The Epistle of "The Translators to the Reader," which follows the Dedication in all principal editions of the Authorized Version, has been illustrated in this volume by such notes as seemed necessary. The reputed author of this noble Preface (for, in spite of the quaintness of its style and the old fashion of its learning, it deserves no meaner epithet) is Dr Miles Smith of the first Oxford Company, who would naturally be one of the six final revisers (p. xiv.), and became Bishop of Gloucester in 1612. The Calendar and Tables of Lessons usually annexed to this Preface are no more a part of the Version than the Book of Common Prayer and the metrical Psalms which are sometimes placed at the beginning and end of the Bible. The Genealogical charts, accompanied with a Map of Canaan and its Index, the work of John Speed, were printed separately in various sizes, that they might be bound up with the Bibles, without any option of the purchaser. Mr Fry prints (A Description, &c. p. 40) a Patent granting to him this privilege dated in the eighth year of James I., to hold good "only during the term of ten years next ensuing," at an additional charge of not more than two shillings for the large folio size.

SECTION II.

On the marginal notes and the original texts of the Authorized Version of the English Bible.

Besides those references to parallel texts of Scripture which will be spoken of elsewhere (Section vi), the margin of most of our English Bibles, including the Authorized Version, contains certain brief annotations, the extent and character of which will now be described. The practice was begun by Tyndale, in whose earliest New Testament of 1525, the slight fragments of whose single known copy enrich the Grenville Library in the British Museum, notes rather expository than relating to interpretation are extant in the margin. In some places, and yet more in his version of the Pentateuch (1530 and subsequent years), these notes become strongly polemical, and breathe a spirit which the warmest admirers of that truly great man find it easier to excuse than to commend. In Coverdale's Bible (1535), which was issued in hot haste to seize a fleeting opportunity, only five out of the eighteen notes found in the New Testament are explanatory, the rest having reference to the proper rendering: in the earlier pages of his Bible they occur much more frequently. Annotations of this kind are quite a distinctive feature as well of the Geneva New Testament of 1557, as of the Geneva Bible of 1560; and, mingled with others which are purely interpretative, are strewn somewhat unequally over the pages of the Bishops' Bible (1568, 1572). One of the most judicious of the Instructions to the Translators laid down for their guidance by King James I., and acted upon by them with strict fidelity, prescribed that "No marginal notes at all be affixed, but only for the explanation of the Hebrew or Greek words, which cannot, without some circumlocution, so briefly and fitly be expressed in the text." It had by that time grown intolerable, that on the self-same page with the text of Holy Scripture, should stand some bitter pithy comment, conceived in a temper the very reverse of that which befits men who profess to love God in Christ.

In the Old Testament the marginal notes in our standard Bibles of 1611 amount to 6637, whereof 4111 express the more literal meaning of the original Hebrew or Chaldee (there are 77 referring to the latter language): 2156 give alternative renderings (indicated by the word "Or" prefixed to them) which in the opinion of the Translators are not very less probable than those in the text: in 63 the meaning of Proper names is stated for the benefit of the unlearned (e.g. Gen. xi. 9; xvi. 11): in 240 (whereof 108 occur in the first book of Chronicles) necessary information is given by way of harmonizing the text with other passages of Scripture, especially in regard to the orthography of Hebrew names (e.g. Gen. xi. 16, 20, 24): while the remaining 67 refer to various readings of the original text, in 31 of which the marginal variation (technically called Keri) of the Masoretic revisers of the Hebrew is set in competition with the reading in the text (Chetiv). Of this last kind of marginal notes a list is subjoined, as many of them are not readily distinguishable from the alternative renderings, being mostly, like them, preceded by "Or". They are

Dent. xxviii. 22. Josh. viii. 12 (Keri in marg.); xv. 53 (Keri in marg.). 1 Sam. vi. 18 (לִּפְנֵי for לִּפְנֵי, with the Targum and Septuagint); xxvii. 8 (Keri in text). 2 Sam. xiii. 37 (Keri in text); xiv. 22 (Keri in marg.). 1 Kin. xxii. 48 (Keri in text). 2 Kin. v. 12 (Keri in marg.); xx. 4 (Keri in text); xxiii. 33 (Keri in text). 1 Chr. i. 6; 7. 2 Chr. i. 5. Ezra ii. 33; 46 (Keri in text); viii. 14 (Keri in marg.); x. 40¹. Neh. iii. 20 (Keri in marg.). Job vi. 21 (Keri in text); xxxiii. 28 (twice as Keri in text). Ps. ix. 12 (Keri in text); x. 12 (Keri in text); xxiv. 6 (marg. with the Septuagint, Syriac, and Latin Vulgate); lxiv. 6; lxviii. 30; c. 3 (Keri in marg.); cii. 3; cxlvii. 19 (Keri in marg.). Prov. xvii. 27 (Keri in text); xx. 30 (Keri in marg.); xxi. 29 (Keri in marg.); xxiv. 19; xxvi. 17. Cant. v. 4. Isai. x. 13 (Keri in marg.); xiii. 22; xviii. 2; xxx. 32 (Keri in marg.); xli. 24; xlix. 5 (Keri in marg.); lxiii. 11 (marg. with Aquila and the Vulgate); lxxv. 4 (Keri in text). Jer. ii. 20 (Keri in text); iii. 9 (text with the Septuagint); vii. 18 and xlv. 17 (לְמִלְכָּת for לְמִלְכָּת, apparently from conjecture); xvi. 7; xviii. 4; xxiii. 31 (probably a conjectural reading, לַחֵק for לַחֵק); xxxiii. 3; xlix. 1 and 3 (marg. with the Septuagint); l. 9 (שׁ text, שׁ marg.);

26 (שׁ text, שׁ marg.); li. 59 (marg. סֵפֶר סֵפֶר παρὰ Σεδεκίου, Septuagint). Ezek. vii. 11; xxiii. 42 (Keri in marg.); xxv. 7 (Keri in text); xxx. 18 (שׁ text, שׁ marg.); xxxvi. 14 (שׁ text, שׁ marg., שׁ text, but Keri is quite different, viz. שׁ); ver. 23 (marg. with the Masora, Septuagint, and some Hebrew manuscripts, against the commonly printed text); xl. 40; xlii. 9 (Keri in marg. "he that brought"). Dan. ix. 24 (Keri in text, "to make an end"). Amos iii. 12 (Hebrew manuscripts varying between שׁ of the printed text, which is represented by marg., and the name of the city שׁ). Zech. xi. 2 (Keri in text). Mal. ii. 15 (marg. שׁ "excellency," being the rendering of Coverdale, "an excellent spirit").

Where the variation in the reading was brought prominently into view by the Masoretic notes, it was only natural that the Translators should refer to it in their margin. Respecting the Hebrew text which they followed, it would be hard to identify any particular edition, inasmuch as the differences between early printed Bibles are but few. The Complutensian Polyglott, however, which afforded them such important help in the Apocrypha, was of course at hand, and we seem to trace its influence in some places, e.g. in 2 Chr. i. 5 שׁ "there," of the Complutensian text, the Septuagint and Vulgate, being accorded a place in the margin; as also in Job xxii. 6 שׁ "thy brother," where later editors give the plural, as do the Targum, Syriac, Septuagint, and Vulgate. Yet the Complutensian throws no light on the reading in many other passages, where some other text must have been before them: e.g. 1 Chr. vi. 57 ("of Judah" added); Ps. lxiv. 6, where the marginal rendering ought to be taken in preference.

It has been sometimes alleged that the alternative renderings (introduced by "Or") which are set in the margin of the Authorized English Version, are superior, on the whole, to those in the text². It would be indeed a conspicuous instance of bad judgment on the part of the Translators, if it could be justly maintained that where two or more senses of a passage were brought fairly before them, they mostly, or even frequently, put the worst into the body of their work. But no competent scholar who has carefully examined the matter will think that they have gone so far wrong. On the other hand, he will perhaps feel disposed to complain that so many of these marginal notes assign a sense to the sacred record which cannot possibly be accepted as true. Some of these, no doubt, are taken either from the text or margin of the Bishops' Bible, which had been read in Churches for about forty years when the Authorized Version was made, and which King James had expressly directed "to be followed, and as little altered as the truth of the original will permit." But far the greater part must be traced to another source, to which adequate attention has not yet been directed. Of the several Latin translations of the Old Testament which were executed in the sixteenth century, that which was the joint work of Immanuel Tremellius [1510—80], a converted Jew (the proselyte first of Cardinal Pole, then of Peter Martyr), who became Professor of Divinity at Heidelberg, and of his son-in-law Francis Junius [1545—1602], was at once the latest and the most excellent. Originally published in 1575—9, and revised in 1590 after the death of Tremellius by Junius, who added a version of the Apocrypha of which he was the sole author, a large edition printed in London in 1593 soon caused it to become very highly esteemed in this country for its perspicuity and general faithfulness. One great fault it has, a marked tendency, in passages either obscure in themselves, or suggesting some degree of difficulty, to wander into new paths of interpretation, wherein it ought to have found few to follow or commend it. This version must have lain open before the Translators throughout the whole course of their labours: it has led them into some of the most conspicuous errors that occur in their text (2 Chr. xx. 1; Job xxxiv. 33), while as regards the margin, whensoever a rendering is met with violently harsh, inverted, or otherwise unlikely, its origin may be sought, almost with a moral certainty of finding it, in the pages of Tremellius and Junius. These statements are made with reference to every part of the Old Testament (e.g. Gen. xl. 13, 16, 19, 20. Ex. xvii. 16; xxix. 43. Judg. ix. 31. 2 Sam. i. 9; xxi. 8), but, for the sake of brevity, the proof of them shall be drawn from one distinct portion, the books of the Minor Prophets. To these authorities solely, so far as the writer has observed, are due the supplying of "for nought" in Mal. i. 10, and the textual rendering of Mal. ii. 16: as are also the following marginal notes, scattered among others of a widely different type: Hos. i. 6; 10 ("instead of that"); vi. 4 ("kindness"); x. 10; xii. 8 ("all my labours," &c.); xiv. 2. Joel iii. 21. Amos iv. 3; v. 22; vii. 2. Obad. 7 ("of it"). Mic. vii. 13. Nah. i. 12; iii. 19. Hab. i. 7; ii. 11 (second). Zeph. iii. 1. Zech. v. 3; ix. 15 (twice); 17 ("speak"); x. 2; xi. 16 (second); xii. 5; xiv. 5; 14 (first). Mal. i. 13; ii. 9 (but ἐδυσωπείσθη πρόσωπα Sym.), 11.

² "The Translators...have placed some different significations in the Margent; but those most what the better; because when truth is tried by most voyces, it is commonly out-voted." Dr R. Gell's Essay toward the Amendment of the last English Translation of the Bible, 1659 (Preface, p. 24).

Hitherto no marginal notes have been taken into consideration except those given in the primary issues of 1611; but 368 others have been subsequently inserted by various hands, which are distinguished from those of earlier date in the present volume by being printed within brackets. Of these the Cambridge folio of 1629 contributes that on Jer. iii. 19; the folio of 1638 that on Ezek. xlviii. 1: thirty-one others were inserted in the course of the century that followed, viz. 1 Kin. xxii. 41, 51. 2 Kin. i. 17; viii. 16; ix. 29; xiii. 9, 10; xiv. 23, 29; xv. 1, 8, 10; 30 (bis), 37; xvii. 1; xxiii. 23. 2 Chr. xx. 36; xxi. 1, 3, 5, 12, 18. Job i. 1. Ps. xi. 6. Dan. i. 21; xi. 7, 10, 25. Hos. vii. 7; xiii. 16: as many as 269 are due to Dr Paris (1762), and 66 to Dr Blayney (1769), who is usually credited with them all. Many of them are not destitute of a certain value (especially such explanations relating to Proper names as we see in Gen. ii. 23)¹, although a persistent resolution to set right the regnal years of the Jewish kings, commenced in 1701, and fully carried out in 1762, leads on their authors to expedients which are at times rather daring than satisfactory: e.g. 2 Kin. xv. 1; 30. The American revisers of 1851 (see p. xxiii.) not unreasonably condemned notes like these, and those on Judg. iii. 31; xi. 29; xii. 8, 11, 13; xiii. 1; xv. 20 (all from the Bible of 1762), as "containing merely conjectural and unwarranted commentary," and expunged them accordingly from the margin of their book; but they all came back again with the other restorations which public opinion forced upon the New York Bible Society. In one instance (Dan. ix. 27) Dr Paris has ventured to substitute a marginal rendering of his own in the place of that of 1611 ("Or, with the abominable armies"), and has been followed by all modern

Bibles. In the present edition the two stand side by side.

The marginal notes appended to the Apocrypha, which have next to be examined, differ not inconsiderably in tone and character from those annexed to the text of the Canonical Scriptures. They are much more concerned with various readings, as was indeed inevitable by reason of the corrupt state of the Greek text of these books, which still await and sadly need a thorough critical revision, by the aid of materials that have recently come to light. Authorities also are sometimes cited by name in the margin, a practice not adopted in the Old Testament¹. Such are Athanasius, 1 Esdr. iv. 36: Herodotus, Judith ii. 7: Pliny's History, Benedicite or the Song, ver. 23: Josephus, 1 Esdr. iv. 29. Esther xiii. 1; xvi. 1. 1 Macc. v. 54; vi. 49; vii. 1; ix. 4, 35, 49, 50; x. 1, 81; xi. 34; xii. 7, 8, 19, 28, 31. 2 Macc. vi. 2: in the Maccabees after the example of Coverdale. Even Junius, the Latin translator, is appealed to eight times by name: 2 Esdr. xiii. 2, 13. Tobit vii. 8; ix. 6; xi. 18; xiv. 10. Judith iii. 9; vii. 3.

The texts from which the Apocryphal books were translated can be determined with more precision than in the case of the Old Testament, and were not the same for them all. The second book of Esdras, though the style is redolent of a Hebrew or Aramaic origin, exists only in the common Latin version and Junius' paraphrase, which is cited for the reading in ch. xiii. 2, 13. In this book some excellent Latin manuscripts to which they had access (ch. iv. 51 marg.), as also the Bishops' Bible, must have had great weight with its revisers. The Prayer of Manasses had to be drawn from the same source, for the Greek was first published in Walton's Polyglott (1657), as it appears in the Codex Alexandrinus, the earliest that contains it, which did not reach England before 1628. The first book of Esdras ('Ο ἱερὲς as the Greeks call it) is not in the Complutensian Polyglott (1517), so that Aldus's Greek Bible (1518) was primarily resorted to, as is evident from the margin of ch. ii. 12, the typographical error there described being that of Aldus (παρεδόθησαν ἀβασσάω for παρεδόθη Σαραβασσάρη), which had misled the Bishops' Bible. Besides this edition, our Translators had before them the Roman Septuagint of 1586², to which they refer, without yet naming it, in ch. v. 25; viii. 2. For the remainder of the Apocrypha they had access also to the Complutensian, which in the books of Tobit, Judith, Wisdom and Ecclesiasticus seems a close copy of Cod. Vatican. 346 (Cod. 248 of Parsons)³, to the Aldine, and Roman editions⁴; the latter "copy" they cite by name Tobit xiv. 5, 10; 1 Macc. ix. 9; xii. 37, as they also do "the Latin interpreters" in 2 Macc. vi. 1. By means of these Greek authorities they were enabled to clear the text of Tobit of the accretions brought into the Old Latin version, which had been over-hastily revised by Jerome. As a small instalment of what remains to be done for the criticism of that noble work, two passages in Ecclesiasticus (i. 7; xvii. 5) are inclosed within brackets in the books of 1611. The former is found in no Greek Text our Translators knew of, but only in the Latin and Bishops' Bible: the latter occurs complete only in some late manuscripts, though the Complutensian and Cod.

² An excellent account of this edition is contained in the Prolegomena to Tischendorf's Septuagint, pp. xix.—xxviii. (1869). Although the work itself is not quite what it professes to be, "exemplar ipsum" (the great Codex Vaticanus) "de verbo ad verbum representatum;" yet both the Epistle of Cardinal Carafa, who superintended it, and the Preface of his assistant, Peter Morinus, display an insight into the true principles of textual criticism, quite beyond their age.

³ This manuscript contained also 1 Esdras, if it be the same as that for which Cardinal Ximenes gave a bond in 1513 to the Librarian of the Vatican (Vercellone, Pref. to Mai's Cod. Vat. Vol. 1.). So that he must have designedly kept back a book which the Council of Trent afterwards refused to declare Canonical.

248 have the last two lines of the triplet¹. These preliminary statements will enable the reader to understand the marginal notes in the Apocrypha which treat of various readings. They are no less than 154 in number, besides 13 of later date.

1 ESDRAS i. 11 (τὸ πρῶτον Greek, בְּרִי for בְּרִי); 12 (cum benevolentia Vulg., i.e. μετ' εὐνοίας); 24 (ἐν ἀσθήσει: om. 2 ESDRAS i. 22 (margin from the Bishops' margin: so Junius, in the form of a conjecture); ii. 15 (columba Vulg. Junius, columna Coverdale, Bishops'); 16 (text as Vulg. though Fritzsche's three Latin MSS. STD² read in illis, Coverdale, Bishops': margin from Junius); 32 (text as Clementine Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops': but margin with Fritzsche's STD); 38 (in convivio Vulg. Coverdale, Bishops' text: ad convivium Junius; "Or, for" Bishops' marg.); iii. 19 (text Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops': incorruptionem Fritzsche's SD, but the whole passage is in confusion); 36 (Huriel Fritzsche's T only: all the rest Jeremiel); 51 (quid erit Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops': but quis erit Fritzsche's STD, so that our Translators might well appeal to a "Manuscript" here); vi. 49 (Enoch Vulg. SD); 69 (curati...contentionum Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops': creati...contemptionum Fritzsche's STD); viii. 8 (quomodo Vulg., like as Coverdale: but quando Junius, quoniam Fritzsche's STD, when Bishops'); ix. 9 (miserebuntur Vulg. Junius, Bishops'; be in carefulness Coverdale: mira-buntur Fritzsche's STD); 17—19 (quoniam tempus erat...mores eorum. The whole passage is hopelessly corrupt, and no English version affords even a tolerable sense. In ver. 19 Coverdale reads creator with Vulg., mense with Fritzsche's TD: creatorum (κτισθέντων) seems a conjecture, adopted by the Bishops' version and our own: our margin reads messe, and so probably the text and Bishops' secd: the Syriac must have read mensā); xii. 42 (populus Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops': prophetis Fritzsche's SD); xiii. 2, 13 (Junius stands alone: above, p. xxvii.); 3 (millibus Vulg. Junius, Bishops': nubibus Fritzsche's SD, Coverdale); 20 (in hunc Vulg., in hunc diem Junius: but in hac Fritzsche's D, Syriac and Æthiopic, in hac ST, in these Coverdale, into these Bishops', in their substitute for italic type); 45 (the margin is only a bold guess of Junius³); xiv. 44 (904 Fritzsche's STD: he himself reads 94 from the versions); 47 (flumen all authorities. Perhaps lumen is conjectural); xv. 36 (text as suffraginem S, suffragmen D, fragmen T: avertam Junius: but substramen Vulg., litter Coverdale, Bishops'); 43 (text exterent Coverdale, Bishops': but margin exterent Vulg. Junius); 46 (consors in spem Vulg. Junius [Coverdale, Bishops']: consors specie or in specie Fritzsche's SD); xvi. 68 (very perplexing: fede the yale with Idols Coverdale: cibantur idolis occisos Vulg., shall slay you for meat to the idols Bishops'. Fritzsche notes no variation of his manuscripts). Three like marginal notes (the first two of importance, due to the Bible of 1762, may be conveniently added in this place. 2 Esdr. xii. 32 (ventus Vulg. Coverdale, Bishops'; Spiritus Junius: Unctus Fritzsche's STD); xiv. 9 (consilio Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops': filio Fritzsche's STD); xvi. 46 (in captivitate Junius, but the margin hardly rests on his sole authority).

TOBIT i. 2 (κύπλος Cod. 248. Compl.: Κυδῶλος Ald. Rom.); 5 (δυνάμει 248. Compl.: δαμάλει Ald. Rom., but Bahali deo Junius); 7 ('Ααρῶν Compl. Ald., εὐφράναι Rom.); xiv. 5 (εἰς πάσας τὰς γενεὰς τοῦ αἰῶνος Compl. Ald. Junius: omitted by Rom. Vulg.); 10 (ἐπηξεν Compl. Ald. Junius; ἐπηξεν Rom.); 11 (ἐθαψεν Compl. Junius: ἔθαψαν Ald. Rom.). The book of 1762 adds, ch. i. 2, Shalmancer, from the Old Latin, Vulg. Syriac.

JUDITH iii. 9 and iv. 6 (Esdreloom refers to ch. i. 8, where only LXX. has that form); iii. 9 (Δωράλας LXX. Junius: but Ιουδαίας Ald.); iv. 3 (ἐκ τῆς Ιουδαίας 248. Compl. νὺν ἐπιστρέφον. καὶ οἱ ἀδελφοὶ ἡμῶν ἀπερρήσαν, καὶ πολεμήσωμεν... which Junius follows: this virtually agrees with Vulg. Coverdale, Bishops'. Our version justly professes to follow Rom. ἀλλ' ἡ σῶζομεν τὰς ταυτῶν ψυχὰς τὸ νῦν, καὶ ἐπιστρέψωμεν μετὰ [ad Vulg. &c.] τῶν ἀδελφῶν ἡμῶν καὶ πολεμήσωμεν...); 37 (Ναδαβὰθ Ald. The Cambridge Bible of 1638, which very seldom adds to the marginal notes, in this book cites ch. iv. 15 Ἀσσαρημῶθ, the reading of Compl. Ald., and ch. ix. 36 Ἀμβρὶ of Compl. The Bible of 1762 adds (besides two rectifications of dates) ch. iv. 24 (bonus Vulg. Junius, Coverdale, Bishops'); v. 13 (Τωβίου Rom., τοῦ βίου Compl. Ald., Tubin Vulg. Coverdale, Bishops'); xiv. 22 (ταῖς βουλαῖς LXX. Vulg. Syriac); 34 (ἀνὴρ ἄνθρωποι, if that word be meant in the margin, has no authority: these men were not consuls at all, but legati to overlook affairs in Syria); xii. 12 (if the margin represents a various reading, no trace of it remains); 39 (τρόπον [Ald.] Rom.: χρόνον Cod. Alexandrinus, Compl. Junius: but Vulg. Coverdale, Bishops' omit both words); xiii. 14 (Κρίστη Compl. Rom. Vulg.: Κυρίω Ald. with three manuscripts only).

The Bible of 1762 notes one various reading: ch. xii. 36 (Γοργίαν Ald., five manuscripts, Coverdale, Bishops' text: Ἐσδρὶν all other Greek, Vulg. Syriac, Junius, Bishops' margin).

To these 154 various readings indicated by the Translators of 1611 in the Apocrypha we must add 138 marginal notes, which express the exact meaning of the Greek, and three of the Latin of 2 Esdras. In 505 places varied renderings are alleged (the word "Or" being prefixed to them), many taken from Junius (besides those where he is expressly named, p. xxvii.), from the Bishops' Bible, and other Old English versions. In 174 places (167 of them in 1 Esdras) alternative forms of Proper names are given for the reader's guidance, to which must be added 42 notes containing useful information. Hence the sum total of the notes due to the original Translators in the Apocrypha appears to be 1016. Besides these two were annexed in the Cambridge Bible of 1638 (see above, last column), 18 in that of 1762, one (Tobit iv. 20) in 1769, in all 21. In the present edition are added, set within brackets, one marginal direction note at Esther xv. 1, and at Eccus. xviii. 30; xx. 27; xxiii. 7, summaries of contents, extracted from the best Manuscripts, resting on authority quite as good as and nearly identical with any in favour of those inserted by the Authorized Version in Eccus. xxiv. 1; xxx. 1, 14; xxxiii. 24; xxxiv. 1; xlv. 1; li. 1.

We come at length to the New Testament, the marginal annotations in which in the first edition amount to 765, so that together with the 6637 in the Old Testament, and the 1016 in the Apocrypha, the number in the whole Bible is no less than 8418¹. Of the 765 in the New Testament 35 relate to various readings, and will be detailed presently (p. xxxi.); 112 present us with a more literal rendering of the Greek than was judged suitable for the text; no less than 582 are alternative translations, 35 are explanatory notes or brief expositions. Of later notes, the Bible of 1762 added 96, that of 1769 no more than nine. Taking in therefore the 368 noted in the Old Testament (p. xxvi.), and the 21 in the Apocrypha, these additional marginal annotations amount in all to 494, few of them of any great value, some even marvellously trifling, but all of them in the present volume readily distinguished from the work of the original Translators by being placed within brackets. Those who shall look almost at random into the multitude of Bibles published between 1638 and 1762 (a branch of enquiry which the plan of our edition did not lead to the necessity of examining very minutely), will probably find the germ of some of these later notes in Bibles of that period, put forth as it were tentatively, and withdrawn in later copies. Thus the later margins of Matt. xxviii. 19 (slightly altered in 1683, 1701) and of Acts xiv. 21 first appeared in Field's Bible of 1660, then in the Cambridge edition of 1683. To the same Bibles may be traced the notes on Matt. x. 25; xiv. 6; xxi. 19; xxii. 26. Mark xi. 17. Luke xxii. 42. Acts vii. 44; viii. 13. 1 Cor. vii. 32. 2 Cor. viii. 2; x. 10. James iii. 6. 2 John 3. The Cambridge Bible of 1683 first gave those on Matt. i. 20. Mark iii. 3; vii. 22. Luke vii. 8; xi. 36; xviii. 2; xxi. 8. Acts ix. 2; xv. 5; xvii. 3; xviii. 5. 1 Cor. vii. 16. Eph. ii. 5; vi. 12. 1 Tim. iii. 16. 2 Tim. postscript. Heb. x. 34; xii. 10. James iv. 2. 2 Peter i. 1, 8: many of which were obviously the work of the same mind. Two more appear in Lloyd's Bible of 1701, 1 Cor. xii. 5. Heb. i. 6¹. These 38 notes at least must accordingly be deducted from the 96 imputed to Dr Paris, and they are among the best of this class. After having been swept away from the ordinary Bibles whereof ours of 1743—4 is a type, he brought them back again into their former places.

As Tremellius had special influence with the revisers of the Old Testament, and Junius with those of the Apocrypha, so Beza had considerable weight with the Translators of the New Testament. Some of their worst marginal renderings come from his Latin version, such as Mark i. 34. Luke iv. 41. Acts i. 8. Rom. xi. 17. 1 Cor. iv. 9, though this last belongs to 1762. The earlier versions also often gave rise to the margin. Thus 2 Cor. v. 17 is alleged to this effect by Bp. Turton², where the Genevan Bible of 1560 led our Translators to insert a note in opposition to their own judgment, fortified as it was by Beza, and all the English versions save that one. Particular attention was naturally paid to the Bishops' Bible, which was the basis of the Authorized. Sometimes its renderings both in text and margin are retained unchanged: e.g. 2 Cor. viii. 22: or the margin alone is kept, after the text is changed, e.g. Heb. xii. 2: or the Bishops' rendering, although removed from the text where it once stood, is used for a margin, e.g. Gal. iii. 4. Eph. iv. 1. 2 Thess. iii. 14. 2 Tim. iv. 5, 15. In that primary passage Heb. ii. 16 the text and margin are both virtually the Bishops', with their places reversed. It is needless to pursue this subject further, however curious the questions it suggests, since after all, every rendering must be judged upon its own merits, independently of the source from which it was drawn.

The following marginal notes relating to various readings occur in the New Testament in the two issues of 1611. They are nearly all derived from Beza's text or notes.

S. MATT. i. 11; vii. 14; ix. 26 (perhaps αὐτοῦ of Codex Bezae [D] is represented in the text: "the fame of this" Bishops'); xxiv. 31; xxvi. 26. S. MARK ix. 16 (αὐτοῖς Beza 1565, afterwards changed by him to αὐτοῦς). S. LUKE ii. 38; x. 22 (the words in the margin are from the Complutensian edition and Stephens 1550); xvii. 36. S. JOHN xviii. 13 (the words of this margin, except the reference to ver. 24, are copied from the text of the Bishops' Bible, where they are printed in the old substitute for italic type³). ACTS xiii. 18; xxv. 6. ROM. v. 17; vii. 6; viii. 11. 1 COR. xv. 31⁴. 2 COR. xiii. 4⁵. GAL. iv. 17 (ὑμᾶς Compl. Erasm. Steph. Beza 1565, ἡμᾶς Beza 1589, 1598). EPH. vi. 9 (ὑμῶν καὶ αὐτῶν Compl.). HEB. iv. 2 (συνγκεκραμένους margin, with Compl. Vulg.); ix. 2 (ἅγια text, with Compl. Erasm. Beza: ἀγία marg. with Steph.); xi. 4 (λαλεῖ text, with Erasm. Aldus, Vulg. English versions: λαλεῖται margin, Compl. Stephens, Beza⁶). JAMES ii. 18 (χωρίς text, Colinaeus 1534, Beza's last three editions, Vulg.: ἐκ margin, Compl. Erasm. Stephens, Beza 1565, all previous English versions). 1 PET. i. 4 (ἡμᾶς Steph.); ii. 21 (ὑμῶν Beza 1565, not in his later editions: this marginal note is also in the Bishops' Bible). 2 PET. ii. 2 (ἀσελγείας marg. Compl.); 11 (marg. as Vulg. Great Bible); 18 (ὀλίγον Compl. Vulg.). 2 JOHN 8 (ἐργάσαθε... ἀπολάβετε marg. Vulg.). REV. iii. 14 (margin as Compl., all previous English versions); vi. 8 (αὐτῷ margin, with Compl. Vulg. Bishops' Bible); xiii. 1 (ὀνόματα margin, with Compl. Vulg. Coverdale); 5 (margin adds or prefixes πόλεμον to ποιῆσαι of the text, with Compl. Colinaeus 1534, but not Erasm., Beza, Vulg. or English versions); xiv. 13 (marg. ἀπ᾽ αὐτοῦ λέγει καὶ

³ It is doubtful whether even in the Bishops' Bible the words are designed to indicate a various reading, or are a simple comment on the passage, compared with ver. 24. There is Syriac and some other very slender authority for inserting them, but that of Cyril alone would be known to our Translators, who doubtless took them from Beza's Latin version (1556).

⁵ But as no early edition reads σὺν, the margin may only suggest a different rendering for ἐν.

⁶ Beza's Latin is like the Vulgate "loquitur:" perhaps λαλεῖται was not regarded by him as passive.

τὸ Πνεῦμα with Compl. Col.); xvii. 5 (marg. is from Vulg. and all previous English versions).

To these 35 textual notes of 1611, the edition of 1762 added fourteen, that of 1769 one.

1762. S. MATT. vi. 1; x. 10; 25; xii. 27 ("†Gr. Beelzebub: and so ver. 24") now dropped. S. LUKE xxii. 42 (incidentally excluding παρένεγκε). ACTS viii. 13. HEB. x. 2 (see Appendix E, p. ciii.); 17 (probably from the Philoxenian Syriac version, then just becoming known). JAMES iv. 2, revived from the Bible of 1683 (φθονείτε ERASM. 1519, Luther, Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Geneva 1557, Bishops', but perhaps no manuscript). 2 PET. i. 1 (see Appendix E, p. c.). 2 JOHN 12 (ὑμῶν Vulg.). REV. xv. 3 (ἀγίων text, after ERASM., English versions: the alternative readings in the margin being ἐθνῶν of Compl., which is much the best supported, and ἀγίων of the Clementine Vulgate, of some of its manuscripts, and the later Syriac); xxi. 7 (margin ταῦτα Compl. Vulg. rightly); xxii. 19 (marg. ξύλον for second βιβλον Compl. Vulg. rightly).

1769. S. MATT. xii. 24 taken mutatis mutandis from the marginal note of 1762 on ver. 27.

In Appendix E pp. c.—civ. has been brought together all that can throw light on the critical resources at the command of our Translators in the prosecution of their version of the New Testament. That these were very scanty is sufficiently well known, and, if for this cause only, a formal revision of their work has now become a matter of necessity, after the lapse of so long a period. None of the most ancient Greek manuscripts had then been collated, and though Codex Bezae (D) had been for many years deposited in England, little use had been made of it, and that single document, from its very peculiar character, would have been more likely to mislead than to instruct in inexperienced hands. It would be unjust to assert that the Translators failed to take advantage of the materials which were readily accessible, nor did they lack care or discernment in the application of them. Doubtless they rested mainly on the later editions of Beza's Greek Testament, whereof his fourth (1589) was more highly esteemed than his fifth (1598), the production of his extreme old age. But besides these, the Complutensian Polyglott, together with the several editions of Erasmus and Stephens's of 1550, were constantly resorted to. Out of the 131 passages examined in Appendix E, wherein the differences between the texts of these books are sufficient to affect, however slightly, the language of the version, our Translators abide with Beza against Stephens in 81 places, with Stephens against Beza in 21, with the Complutensian, Erasmus, or the Vulgate against both Stephens and Beza in 29. The influence of Beza is just as perceptible in the cases of their choice between the various readings which have been collected above (p. xxxi.): the variation approved by him is set in the text, that of the other is mostly banished to the margin. On certain occasions, it may be, the Translators yielded too much to Beza's somewhat arbitrary decisions; but they lived at a time when his name was the very highest among Reformed theologians, when means for arriving at an independent judgment were few and scattered, and when the first principles of textual criticism had yet to be gathered from a long process of painful induction. His most obvious and glaring errors their good sense easily enabled them to avoid (cf. Matt. i. 23; John xviii. 20).

SECTION III.

On the use of the Italic type by the Translators, and on the extension of their principles by subsequent editors.

The practice of indicating by a variation of type such words in a translation of the Bible as have no exact representatives in the original is believed to have been first employed by Sebastian Munster in his Latin version of the Old Testament published in 1534¹. Five years later this diversity of character ("a small letter in the text" as the editors describe it) was resorted to in Crammer's Bible, in order to direct attention to clauses rendered from the Latin Vulgate which are not extant in the Hebrew or Greek originals. A good example of its use occurs in Matt. xxv. 1 where "(and the bride)" is added to the end of the verse from the Old Latin, not from any Greek copy known in that age. As the readings of the Vulgate came to be less regarded or less familiar in England, subsequent translators applied the smaller type to the purpose for which Munster had first designed it, the rather as Theodore Beza had so used it in his Latin New Testament of 1556. Thus the English New Testament published at Geneva in 1557, and the Geneva Bible of 1560, "put to that word, which lacking made the sentence obscure, but set it in such letters, as may easily be discerned from the common text¹." The same expedient was adopted by the translators of the Bishops' Bible (1568, 1572), somewhat too freely indeed in parts. It is one of the most considerable faults of this not very successful version, that its authors assumed a liberty of running into paraphrase, the ill effects of which this very difference in the type tended to conceal from themselves. From these two preceding versions, then held in the best repute, the Geneva and the Bishops' Bibles, the small Roman as distinguished from the black letter (now respectively represented by the Italic and Roman type) was brought naturally enough into the Bible of 1611, and forms a prominent feature of it, whether for good or ill.

On this last point, namely, the wisdom or convenience of printing different words in the same verse or line in different kinds of type, with a view to the purpose explained above, it is not necessary for an editor of the Authorized Bible to express, or even to hold, an opinion. Italics, or whatever corresponds with them, may possibly be dispensed with altogether (though in practice this abstinence will be found hard to maintain); or they may be reserved for certain extreme cases, where marked difference in idiom between the two languages, or else some obscurity or corruption of the original text, seems to forbid a strict and literal translation. It is enough for the present purpose to say that our existing version was plainly constructed on another principle: those who made it saw no objection to the free use of a typographical device which custom had sanctioned, and would have doubtless given a different turn to many a sentence had they been debarred from indicating to the unlearned what they had felt obliged to add of their own to the actual words of the original; the addition being always either involved and implied in the Hebrew or Greek, or at any rate so necessary to the sense that the English reader would be perplexed or go wrong without it. Taking for granted, therefore, the right of the Translators thus to resort to the italic type, and the general propriety of the mode of their exercising it, the only inquiry now open to us is whether they were uniform, or reasonably consistent, in their use of it.

And in the face of patent and well-ascertained facts it is impossible to answer such a question in the affirmative. That undue haste and scarcely venial carelessness on the part of the persons engaged in carrying through the press the issues of 1611, which are only too visible in other matters (above, p. xii.), are nowhere more conspicuous than with regard to this difference in the type. If it be once conceded that the Translators must have intended to use or refrain from using italics in the selfsame manner in all cases that are absolutely identical (and the contrary supposition would be strange and unreasonable indeed), their whole case in this matter must be given up as indefensible. There is really no serious attempt to avoid palpable inconsistencies on the same page, in the same verse: and those who have gone over this branch of their work will be aware that even comparative uniformity can be secured only in one way, by the repeated comparison of the version with the sacred originals, by unflagging attention so that nothing however minute may pass unexamined. This close and critical examination was evidently entered upon, with more or less good results, by those who prepared the Cambridge Bibles of 1629 and more especially of 1638 (for before these appeared the italics of 1611, with all their glaring faults, were reprinted without change²), and in the next century by Dr Paris in 1762, by Dr Blayney and his friends in 1769³. The rules to be observed in such researches, and the principles on which they are grounded, must be gathered from the study of the standard of 1611, exclusively of subsequent changes, regard being paid to what its authors intended, rather than to their actual practice.

The cases in which the italic character has been employed by the Translators of our Authorized Bible may probably be brought under the following heads:—

(1) When words quite or nearly necessary to complete the sense of the sacred writers have been introduced into the text from parallel places of Scripture. Six such instances occur in the second book of Samuel:

² There may be more alterations, but we can name only Gal. i. 3, "be" italicised in 1613, but not in later Bibles before 1629 (Cambridge).

ch. v. 8. "And David said on that day, Whosoever getteth up to the gutter, and smiteth the Jebusites, and the lame and the blind, that are hated of David's soul, he shall be chief and captain." The last clause is supplied from 1 Chr. xi. 6.

ch. vi. 6. "And when they came to Nachon's threshing-floor, Uzzah put forth his hand to the ark of God." Rather "his hand" (as in 1638) from 1 Chr. xiii. 9.

ch. viii. 4. "And David took from him a thousand chariots, and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen." We derive "chariots" from 1 Chr. xviii. 4.

ver. 18. "And Benaiah the son of Jehoiada was over both the Cherethites and the Pelethites" (was over 1629). In 1 Chr. xviii. 17 "was over" (1611).

ch. xxi. 19. "...slew the brother of Goliath the Gittite." In 1 Chr. xx. 5 we read "slew Lahmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite."

ch. xxiii. 8. "the same was Adino the Eznite: he lift up his spear against eight hundred, whom he slew at one time." 1 Chr. xi. 11 supplies "he lift up, &c."

Thus Num. xx. 26 is filled up from ver. 24; Judg. ii. 3 from Num. xxxiii. 55 or Josh. xxiii. 13; 1 Kin. ix. 8 from 2 Chr. vii. 21; 2 Kin. xxv. 3 from Jer. xxxix. 2 and lii. 6; 1 Chr. ix. 41 from ch. viii. 35; 1 Chr. xvii. 25 from 2 Sam. vii. 27; 1 Chr. xviii. 6 from 2 Sam. viii. 6; 2 Chr. xxv. 24 from 2 Kin. xiv. 14; Ezra ii. 6, 59 from Neh. vii. 11, 61. In the Bible of 1638 Jer. vi. 14 of the daughter is italicised as taken into the text from ch. viii. 11. This is the simplest case, for the words supplied in italics are doubtless lost in the one ancient text, preserved in the other.

(2) When the extreme conciseness of the Hebrew language produces a form of expression intelligible enough to those who are well versed in it, yet hardly capable of being transformed into a modern tongue. One or two of Bp. Turton's (Text, &c. pp. 50, 51) examples will illustrate our meaning:

Gen. xiii. 9. "Separate thyself, I pray thee, from me: if the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if the right hand, then I will go to the left."

Ex. xiv. 20. "And it was a cloud and darkness, but it gave light by night."

Every one must feel that something is wanting to render these verses perspicuous; the latter indeed we should hardly understand, without looking closely to the context. It seems quite right, therefore, that supplementary words should be inserted in such places, and equally fit that they should be indicated by some contrivance that may shew that they form no part of the Hebrew original. In our version accordingly the verses stand as follows, except that in the former "thou" (twice over) was not in italics before 1629; italicise also the second "to":

"If thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left."

"It was a cloud and darkness to them, but it gave light by night to these."

To this class we may most conveniently refer the numerous cases wherein what grammarians call the apodosis (that is, the consequence resulting from a supposed act or condition) is implied rather than stated, yet in English requires something to be expressed more or less fully: such are the following texts:

Gen. xxx. 27. "If I have found favour in thine eyes, tarry."

2 Chr. ii. 3. "As thou didst deal with David my father, and didst send him cedars...even so deal with me."

Dan. iii. 15. "If ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet,...ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well."

Luke xiii. 9. "And if it bear fruit, well."

Occasionally our Translators, with happy boldness, have suppressed the apodosis entirely, as in the original (Ex. xxxii. 32; Luke xix. 42). In some few passages the seeming necessity for such insertion arises from a misunderstanding either of the sense or the construction: such is probably the case in Neh. iv. 12, and unquestionably so in Matt. xv. 6; Mark vii. 11.

(3) Just as little objection will probably be urged against the custom of our Translators in italicising words supplied to clear up the use of the grammatical figure known as the zeugma, whereby, in the Hebrew no less than in the Greek and Latin languages, an expression which strictly belongs to but one member of a sentence is made, with some violation of strict propriety, to do duty in another.

Gen. iv. 20. "And Adah bare Jabal: he was the father of such as dwell in tents, and cattle." Supply, "of such as have cattle."

Ex. iii. 16. "I have surely visited you, and that which is done to you in Egypt." Our version here, with less necessity, inserts "seen" after "and."

Ex. xx. 18. "And all the people saw the thunders, and the lightnings, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking." Here the order of the clauses renders it impossible to supply any single word which would not increase the awkwardness of the sentence: the passage is accordingly left as it stands in the original. Not so the sharper language of the parallel place:

Deut. iv. 12. "Ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude, only a voice." After "only" insert with 1611 "ye heard."

2 Kin. xi. 12 (so 2 Chr. xxiii. 11). "And he brought forth the king's son, and put the crown upon him, and the testimony." Insert "gave him" before "the testimony."

Luke i. 64. "And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue," add "loosed."

1 Cor. xiv. 34. "It is not permitted unto them to speak, but to be under obedience." After "but" insert "they are commanded." So "and commanding" before "to abstain" in the exactly parallel passage, 1 Tim. iv. 3.

The following examples, taken from the Apocrypha, have been neglected by all editors up to the present date:

2 Esdr. ix. 24. "Taste no flesh, drink no wine, but eat flowers only."

xii. 17. "As for the voice which thou heardest speak, and that thou searest not to go out from the heads." This rendering, taken from the Coverdale and Bishops' Bibles, is possibly incorrect.

Ecclus. li. 3. "According to the multitude of thy mercies and greatness of thy name."

(4) Akin to the preceding is the practice of inserting in the Authorized Version a word or two, in order to indicate that abrupt transition from the oblique to the direct form of speech, which is so familiar to most ancient languages, but so foreign to our own:

Gen. iv. 25. "And she bare a son, and called his name Seth: for God, said she, hath appointed me another seed instead of Abel."

Ex. xviii. 4. "And the name of the other was Eliezer; for the God of my father, said he, was mine help."

Our marginal references on the latter text supply several other instances of this construction. The inconvenience of a sudden change of person, unbroken by any such words supplied, may appear from Gen. xxxii. 30, "And Jacob called the name of the place Peniel: for I have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved." Just as abrupt is the construction in Gen. xli. 52 (compare ver. 51); Tobit viii. 21. In 2 Macc. vi. 24 "said he" continued in Roman type till 1638.

(5) Another use of italics is to indicate that a word or clause is of doubtful authority as a matter of textual criticism. Of this in the Authorized Version we can produce only one unequivocal instance in the Canonical books, 1 John ii. 23 (see Appendix E, p. cii.); for it is not quite certain that the change of type in Judg. xvi. 2; xx. 9, employed to point out words borrowed from the Septuagint, intimates any suspicion of a lacuna in the text. In subsequent editions occur the following instances, most of them being due to the Cambridge edition of 1638, those that are not so having another date affixed to them:

Deut. xxvii. 26 ("all"). Josh. xxii. 34 ("Ed"). 1 Sam. ii. 16 ("Nay" 1629 Camb.)¹. 2 Kin. xix. 31 ("of hosts")²; xx. 13 (the second "all" appears in most Hebrew Bibles, and we have restored the Roman character). 2 Chr. v. 1 ("all"); xvii. 4 ("LORD"). Job x. 20 ("cease then, and," 1611 inconsistently: we should read with 1638, "cease then, and," or leave all in Roman as 1629 Camb., since both particles are found in Keri). Ps. xli. 2 ("And he shall be," Chetiv, not Keri); lxix. 32 ("and be glad"). Prov. xx. 4 (therefore: but 1 of Keri is in Symmachus and the Vulgate, so that we restore the type of 1611). Jer. xiii. 16 ("and make," yet 1 of Keri is in the Septuagint and Vulgate). Lam. v. 7 ("and are not;" "And have." These two conjunctions are both wanting in Chetiv, present in Keri, yet 1769 italicises the first, not the second). Mark ix. 42 (see Appendix E, p. c.). John viii. 6 (1769: see Appendix E, p. c.). 1 John iii. 16 (see Appendix E, p. c.).

Thus in the Apocrypha 1629 italicises on me in Tobit xi. 15, me being wanting in the Complutensian, but we have decided to return to the Roman type. For similar cases examine Ecclus. iii. 22 (1629 and 1769); 1 Macc. iii. 18 (1638); x. 78 (1638); xi. 15 (1638, partim recte); xiv. 4 (1638).

To these passages, which in the present volume have been italicised or the contrary, according to the circumstances in each case, we have added 2 Chr. xv. 8 "of Oded," to point out the doubt hanging over the reading or construction in that place. Also in Ecclus. i. 7; xvii. 5, italics have been substituted, as was stated above, p. xxvii., in the room of brackets, as a mark of probable spuriousness in the lines so printed. The portion of 1 John v. 7, 8 which is now for the first time set in italics, is probably no longer regarded as genuine by any one who is capable of forming an independent judgment on the state of the evidence.

(6) The last class to which we may refer the italicised words in our version, is that wherein the words supplied are essential to the English sense, although they may very well be dispensed with in the Hebrew or Greek; nay more, although they could not be received into the original without burdening the sense, or marring all propriety of style. This last head comprises a far greater number of cases than all the rest put together, and it may reasonably be doubted whether much advantage accrues from a change of type where the sense is not affected to an appreciable extent. Whether we say "the folk that are with me" (Gen. xxxiii. 15) with the Bible of 1611, or "the folk that are with me" with the Cambridge edition of 1629, could make no difference whatever, except to one who was comparing English with Hebrew idioms, and such a one would hardly need to carry on his studies in this fashion. One thing, however, is quite clear, that if it be well thus to mark the idiomatic or grammatical divergences between languages, all possible care should be devoted to secure uniformity of practice; cases precisely similar should be treated in a similar manner. Now this is just the point at which our Authorized Version utterly fails us; we can never be sure of its consistency for two verses together. To take one or two instances out of a thousand, why do we find "it be hid" in Levit. v. 3, 4, and "it be hidden" in ver. 2, the Hebrew being the same in all? Or why should the same Hebrew be represented by "upon all four" in Levit. xi. 20, but by "upon (or "on") all four" in ver. 21, 27, 42? Even in graver matters there is little attempt at uniformity: thus οὗτος Heb. iii. 3 is "this man" in 1611, but "this man" in Heb. viii. 3, a variation retained to this day; in 1 Pet. iv. 11 "let him speak" is italicised in 1611, but the clause immediately following "let him do it" not before 1629. These gross oversights, with countless others, are set right by the revisers of 1629 and 1638, yet these later editors have been found liable to introduce into the printed text nearly as many inconsistencies as they removed. Thus, for example, whereas "which were left" Lev. x. 16 adequately renders the Hebrew article with the participle of the Niphal conjugation, and so in 1611 was printed in ordinary characters, the edition of 1638 wrongly italicises "which were" here, but leaves untouched "that were left" in ver. 12, a discrepancy which still cleaves to our modern Bibles. The same must be said of "ye are to pass" ("are" first italicised in 1629) Deut. ii. 4 compared with "thou art to pass" ver. 18: "even unto Azzah" ver. 23 ("even" correctly italicised in 1638, indeed the word is expressed in ver. 36), but "even unto this day" left untouched in ver. 22: "the slain man" ("man" first in 1629) Deut. xxi. 6, but "the slain man" ver. 3: "their backs" ("their" first in 1629) Josh. vii. 12, but "their backs" ver. 8¹. The reader will find as many instances of this nature as he cares to search for in any portion of our modern Bibles he may please to examine, and from the whole matter it is impossible to draw in the main any other conclusion than this:—that the changes introduced from time to time have been too unsystematic, too much the work of the moment, executed by too many hands, and on too unsettled principles, to hold out against hostile, or even friendly criticism.

Dr Blayney in his Report to the Oxford Delegates (Appendix D, p. xcvi.) appeals to the edition of Dr Paris (1762) as having "made large corrections in this particular," adding that "there still remained many necessary alterations, which escaped the Doctor's notice" and had to be set right by himself and his friends. And it cannot be doubted, that the two Bibles of 1762 and 1769 between them largely increased the number of the words printed in italics, but the effect was rather to add to than diminish the manifest inconsistencies of earlier books. Thus Blayney (and after him the moderns) in Luke xvii. 29 (ἅπαντας) italicises “them” before “all,” yet leaves untouched “them all” ver. 27: in Luke xix. 22 he reads “thou wicked servant,” retaining “thou good servant” in ver. 17. Nor can the correctness of Dr Paris be praised overmuch. In putting into Roman type the “good” of 1611, Eccles. vii. 1, he has been blindly followed by the rest, though a glance at the Hebrew would have set them right: yet some of his errors in italics were removed in 1769, e.g. “way-side” Matt. xiii. 4; Mark x. 46; Luke viii. 5. Hence it becomes manifest that in preparing a critical edition of our vernacular Translation, which shall aim at meeting the wants and satisfying the scholarship of the present age, nothing less than a close and repeated comparison of the sacred originals, line by line, with the English Bible, will enable us to amend the mistakes, which lack of time and consideration has led certain of the most eminent of our predecessors to pass by unnoticed, or even to exaggerate while attempting to remedy them. A task so laborious, yet promising from the first so little benefit from its most faithful execution, has been undertaken for the purposes of this volume only from a deep conviction of its necessity; and through the intervention of the Syndics of the Cambridge Press that task has been somewhat lightened by the use the editor has been allowed to make of the manuscript notes of the Rev. J. Gorle, Rector of Whatcote, whose acuteness, learning, and patience in the prosecution of researches so minute those who have toiled in the same field can best appreciate.

In the Apocrypha indeed the work had to be done almost afresh, inasmuch as the Company of Translators to whom these books were assigned took no sort of pains to assimilate their portion of the work to that executed by the others. They introduce this difference of type only 54 times in the whole Apocrypha, indeed only three instances occur at all later than Eccles. xlv. 4, after which brackets [], or sometimes () are substituted in their room. No improvement worth mention seems to have been attempted before 1638, when 96 (e.g. Judith xiv. 18, but Tobit iv. 13 in 1629) fresh instances of italics were added, and most of the brackets were displaced to make room for italics, though a few yet survive in modern Bibles (2 Esdr. iii. 22. Wisd. xii. 27; xvii. 2, 3, 4. Eccles. vi. 1, 2; viii. 11; xi. 30; xii. 5; xiv. 10¹). About ten places more were subsequently italicised (e.g. Wisd. v. 17; viii. 2. Baruch iii. 33. 2 Macc. xi. 33 and, all in 1769), so that the italics of modern Bibles are but 273 in all. Those that are employed are of much the same character as in the Canonical Scriptures; some for pointing out the zeugma (above, p. xxxiv.), as 1 Macc. vii. 19²; x. 20, 24; 2 Macc. xi. 14: or a transition in the form of speech (Judith v. 23. Eccles. ii. 18. 1 Macc. i. 50; xvi. 21; so 1 Esdr. i. 4 in 1629, and 2 Macc. vi. 24 in 1638): some for supplying a real or seeming grammatical defect (1 Esdr. iv. 11. Tobit viii. 10. Eccles. xii. 5): one for indicating uncertainty in the reading (Tobit x. 5³; see p. xxxv.): a few for no reason that is apparent (Wisd. vi. 9 O kings. Eccles. xl. 4; xlv. 4⁴), it would seem in mere error. As our version of the Apocrypha is so imperfectly revised as to resemble the Bishops' version in other respects more closely than we find in the inspired books, so does it in this over-free use of italic type by way of commentary. The interpolations in Wisd. ii. 1; xvi. 10. 1 Macc. vii. 32 are derived from this source; that in Eccles. vi. 2 from the note of Junius (ferociens incerto et rago impetu); and too many others are conceived in the same spirit, e.g. Wisd. x. 10; xiv. 12; xix. 14. Eccles. viii. 11; xi. 30; xlv. 6. 1 Macc. viii. 18. In 1 Macc. ix. 35, after Coverdale and the Bishops' Bible, our Translation actually brings a Proper name into the text “[John],” avowedly on the authority of Josephus, for the slight evidence now produced in its favour (the Syriac and three recent Greek copies) was unknown to them.

² But we have set in ordinary character “[have they cast out]” of 1611 in ver. 17, inasmuch as the ellipsis is only accidental, arising from the order of the words cited from Ps. lxxix. 2, 3 in the Septuagint, and indeed in the Hebrew.

³ In 1611 we read “Now I care for nothing, my son, since I have let thee go,” οὐ μέλει μοι, τέκνον, ὅτι ἀφῆκά σε, but Junius would have us read ōt for οὐ (Drusius persuades even Fritzsche to read σὺ μέλεις), from the Vulgate heu heu me, fili mi, ut quid te misimus. The italic type should be changed into Roman, since the passage may very well stand.

⁴ In the original edition the first four words of Eccles. viii. 8 are italicised by a like oversight. They were set in Roman type in 1629.

After this general survey of the whole subject, it is proper to state certain rules, applicable to particular cases, which a careful study of the Bible of 1611 will shew that our Translators laid down for themselves, but which haste or inadvertence has caused them to carry out very imperfectly in practice. It will be seen that many of their omissions were supplied in one or other of those later editions which display care in the matter, while almost as many have remained to be set right in the present volume. "Whether the Translators, if they had foreseen and fully considered how far the system of italics which they adopted, when carried out, would lead, would have adopted it,...may be a question. And whether the abundance of the italics...does not in a measure defeat its own purpose by withdrawing attention from them, is perhaps a question also. But as it was, the course adopted by the editors of 1611 having been to mark by italics not important insertions only, but to aim at marking in this manner everything, even trifling pronouns and auxiliary verbs, not in the originals, carrying out however their intention very imperfectly: the choice for after editors lies between adopting a different system, and carrying out theirs to the full¹." Between these alternatives few perhaps will censure us for having chosen the latter without much hesitation.

The following observations, therefore, grounded on the practice of our Translators, will guide us in a vast number of doubtful cases.

(1) The English possessive pronoun, when it renders the Hebrew or Greek article, should be set in italics. Compare in 1611 Judg. iii. 20. 2 Sam. vi. 7; xvii. 23. 2 Kin. ix. 35; xiii. 3. 2 Chr. xiii. 10. Job i. 5; ii. 13. 1 Cor. i. 1. 2 Cor. i. 1. Gal. v. 10. Eph. iv. 28. Phil. ii. 13. So in 1629, Gen. xxvi. 11. Neh. xii. 42: in 1638, Matt. viii. 3; x. 24; xii. 10, 33; xiii. 15 (ter); xiv. 19, 31; xv. 5, &c. passim: in 1762, Matt. xii. 46; xxi. 31; xxvi. 23, 51; xxvii. 24: in 1769, Matt. xv. 8; xxv. 32. Mark v. 29; x. 16, &c.

(2) Since the definite article is only the unemphatic form of the demonstrative "that," and has itself a demonstrative force², it might not appear necessary to set "that" in italics when it represents the Greek or Hebrew article. In 1611, however, it is thus printed so often as to prove that our Translators designed to do so always with "this" and "that." For their practice compare Gen. xviii. 32. Ex. ix. 27; xxxiv. 1. Num. xi. 32. Josh. iii. 4. 1 Sam. xiv. 8; xxv. 24. 1 Chr. xviii. 11; xxi. 22. 2 Chr. xx. 29; xxxvi. 18. Ezra ix. 2; x. 9. Eccles. vi. 12. Luke viii. 14. 2 Tim. ii. 4. In 1629 many more were added, e.g. Gen. xxxi. 43 (these ter); xliii. 16 (bis): in 1638, 1 Chr. vi. 64; vii. 21. 2 Chr. xxviii. 22. Ezra x. 4. Neh. viii. 10. Job xxxii. 5. Ps. li. 4. Eccles. viii. 8; ix. 9. Isai. xxxvii. 30 (yet not 2 Kin. xix. 29). Jer. ix. 26; xxxviii. 12. Ezek. xlv. 3; xlv. 2, 8. Hab. i. 6. Mark iv. 11; ix. 42. John v. 13. Acts xxiv. 22. Rom. xvi. 22. 1 Cor. ix. 12; xi. 27. 2 Cor. v. 1, 4. 2 Thess. i. 11. 1 Tim. vi. 7, 14. 2 Pet. i. 14: a few in 1769, 2 Sam. xvi. 11; xviii. 32. Hos. ix. 10. Yet in the New Testament this rule is even now greatly neglected.

(3) The idioms of the English and the Hebrew differ so widely that no attempt has been made, in the great majority of cases, to print the English definite article in italics when the Hebrew one is wanting. The only apparent instance of such distinction being kept up by our Translators occurs in 1 Sam. xxvi. 8, and is a mere error, the Hebrew article being present: hence "the" is put into Roman type in 1638³. Occasionally, however, the sense is so much affected, perhaps for the worse, by the presence of the English article, that we have been careful to note its absence in the Hebrew: e.g. Ps. xlv. 1. Ezek. iv. 1; x. 20; xxiii. 45. Hos. ii. 4; viii. 7; x. 10; xii. 4. Joel ii. 6. Amos vii. 10. Jonah iv. 10 marg. Mic. v. 5. In thus dealing with the Greek article rather more freedom has been assumed, regard being always had to the anarthrous style of certain of the sacred writers, and to the licence which permits the omission of the article in certain constructions. Compare Eccles. xlv. 18. Rom. i. 6; ii. 14. 1 Cor. ix. 20. Gal. iv. 31. 1 Thess. ii. 6. 1 Tim. ii. 5. Heb. ii. 5. 1 Pet. i. 12; iv. 10. 1 John ii. 1. 3 John 3. Rev. xiv. 9; xv. 2; xxi. 17. The English indefinite article⁴, or none at all, would better suit most of these places.

(4) Annexed to proper and common appellations of places the Hebrew He, the old accusative termination, is regarded as denoting motion to, and its absence, or that of a corresponding preposition, is indicated by italics: e.g. Job xxx. 23; Ps. v. 7 in 1611. But He prefixed, which may be the article, and sometimes accompanies He annexed (compare 2 Sam. xiii. 10), is not so regarded. Prepositions of motion in English, which have no Hebrew equivalent, are systematically set by us in italics, the rather, since it is not always certain that the right one is employed, e.g. 1 Sam. xxiii. 25. 2 Kin. xvi. 8.

(5) When an article is prefixed to a participle, but not otherwise, and it is rendered by "which are," "that is" &c. ("such as were" Eccles. iv. 1), these words are best printed without italics, as in 1611 they are pretty uniformly, e.g. Lev. x. 16. Deut. xx. 11; xxv. 6, 18; xxix. 29¹. In 1638 italics came to be employed in some cases of this kind, e.g. "that was built" Judg. vi. 28; "which is shed" Ps. lxxix. 10; "she that looketh" Cant. vi. 10; "one that accuseth" John v. 45. We have retained italics in the last place (perhaps wrongly), discarding them in the rest. In Judg. xi. 30 marg. "that which cometh forth" of 1611 is properly changed in 1629 into "that which cometh forth."

(6) But even if the article be prefixed to an adjective, the correct practice is to italicise the words supplied. Thus in 1611 "that are wise," "that are mighty" Isai. v. 21, 22; "who is holy" Heb. vii. 26, in which passages there is no article. In Judg. viii. 15, where the article is found, we have "that are weary" 1611, "that are weary" 1629, "that are weary" 1638 correctly. This last edition is very careful on the point, having rightly put into italics what had previously been Roman in 1 Sam. xv. 9. Neh. iv. 14. Ps. lxxxv. 12. Ezek. xxii. 5. Yet in Judg. xvii. 6; xxi. 25 and such like passages we adopt (not very consistently) "that which was right," to intimate the presence of the article, as 1 Sam. ix. 24 in 1638.

(7) In such phrases as "and it came to pass ...that," if the Hebrew copulative ו be not expressed at the beginning of the second clause, its absence is denoted by italicising "that," which otherwise would stand in Roman type. This nice distinction is observed by our Translators with as much consistency as they display in greater matters. Thus 1611 in Gen. iv. 14. Ex. xxxiii. 8. Num. xvi. 7. 2 Kin. xviii. 1. 1 Chr. xiv. 15. Esther v. 2. Isai. x. 12, 20, 27; xxiv. 18. So in 1629, Ex. xxxiii. 7. Lev. ix. 1. Num. xvii. 5; in 1638, Neh. iv. 16: in 1762, Matt. xiii. 53; xix. 1. Luke xx. 1. Compare Luke v. 1, 17; vii. 12; viii. 1, &c.

(8) The personal pronoun, when omitted with the Hebrew infinitive (occasionally with some risk of ambiguity in the sense), should always, when supplied in the version, be printed in italics. This comprehensive rule is abided by in 1611 Gen. vi. 19, 20 "to keep them alive;" Ex. xxx. 12 (second case, but overlooked in the first), 15; xxxi. 13. Deut. xxvi. 18. 1 Kin. xii. 6 ("I" overlooked by 1629 and later Bibles). 1 Chr. xxviii. 4. 2 Chr. xxxv. 6. Isai. l. 4 ("I" again overlooked in 1629 and its successors). Thus also in 1629, Ex. xxviii. 28. Esther iv. 11: in 1638, Gen. iii. 6. Acts xii. 19. Rom. xiii. 5: in 1769, Ex. xxxv. 1. Deut. xxix. 29. Heb. xii. 10.

(9) Where in Hebrew the first of two nouns is in the state of construction, the word "of" between them is not italicised in English: but if the preceding noun be susceptible of a change by reason of the state of construction, and yet be not so changed, "of" or its equivalent is italicised. Compare, for example, Ex. xxxvii. 24 with Ex. xxv. 39. The Masoretic points are necessarily taken for true under this head.

(10) It would seem natural to italicise "own" in the expressions "your own," "his own" &c. where the original has but the simple possessive pronoun. Yet in 1611 we find it so written only in 2 Sam. xviii. 13. Job v. 13; ix. 20. Prov. i. 18 (bis). Blayney has "his own" in Gen. i. 27, and in no other place, as if he shrunk from making about 200 changes in respect to one word. We have italicised "own" only in Job xix. 17, where its presence excludes one very possible sense, and in Acts xxi. 11, where it is important to mark that $\epsilon\alpha\upsilon\tau\omicron\upsilon$ is not in the text.

(11) The Hebrew preposition ל "to," with or without the verb "to be," is considered as equivanite article, as 1611 has done in rare instances, and 1762 in Acts xxiv. 5. It is here set in Roman type.

¹ In the concise style of poetry we have often willingly overlooked the absence of the article before the present participle.

lent, idiom for idiom, with the English verb "to have." It is so treated in the book of 1611 usually (e.g. Gen. xii. 20; xvi. 1), but not always (e.g. Gen. xi. 6 "they have," ver. 30 "she had"). But "pertained" in such phrases is always italicised, as Judg. vi. 11 in 1611. Hence we would not follow Scholefield¹, who reads "what have I" 1 Cor. v. 12.

(12) We have adopted, with some hesitation, Mr Gorle's refined distinction, confirmed by 1611 in Jer. xli. 16, between אַחֲרַי "after that" and אַחֲרֵיכֶם "after that;" not however with infinitives, as 2 Chr. xxvi. 2. Jer. xxxvi. 27; xl. 1.

(13) When in different parts of Scripture a phrase or expression is given with more or less fulness, it is right to distinguish the shorter form, by setting the missing part of it in italics. Examples are in 1611 "dead men" Ex. xii. 33; "mighty man" Ps. cxx. 4 marg. (compare Ruth ii. 1. 1 Sam. xiv. 52. Jer. xli. 16 where "man" is expressed): in 1638, Job xvii. 8, 10. Isai. xxix. 8; xlv. 25; in 1769, Isai. xli. 2. Again in 1611, "fill with" Gen. xlv. 1. Ps. lxxi. 8 (his); lxxii. 19, a preposition being supplied after the verb (אֶלֶּם) in Ex. xvi. 32. 2 Kin. ix. 24. Ezra ix. 11. Job xli. 7. Ezek. xxxii. 6. Care, however, should be taken to put in italics no more than is really wanting: thus in Matt. viii. 25 προσελθόντες ought to be "came to him;" Matt. x. 1 προσκαλεσάμενος "called unto him" as it is given in 1762, not as the same word is represented by 1769 in Matt. xv. 32 "called unto him." This rule extends very widely, and is difficult to be observed with perfect consistency.

(14) The verb substantive is italicised before the participle passive (Paül), to distinguish it from the Niphal conjugation of the verb (e.g. Gen. xxix. 31, 33 "was hated" in 1629 Camb.); but more licence has been granted to the auxiliaries that render the active participle (Poel). In Num. x. 29 we have given "we are journeying," though in other places the present "is" "are" &c. is in Roman type, but not "was" or "were."

¹ In the Greek and English New Testament, published at Cambridge by Professor Scholefield (new edition, 1836), many words were printed in italics for the first time, chiefly such as bear on our first rule, that regarding pronouns. The changes he introduced evidence great care, but seem not to have influenced other editions of the Bible published since his time.

Such are the principal rules which the Translators of the Authorized Version designed to follow in the arrangement of italics for the standard Bible of 1611. How little what they printed was systematically reviewed and corrected in the preparation of later editions is evident from the numerous glaring errors, committed by them, which have remained undetected down to this day. The reader will perceive what is meant by comparing the present volume with any modern Bible in 1 Chr. vii. 6. 2 Chr. x. 16. Neh. v. 19. Job i. 5; xxii. 24; xli. 20. Ps. lv. 21. Prov. xv. 26. Cant. v. 12. Isai. xxii. 18 ("like" a little doubtful). Jer. xi. 4, 7; xxxvi. 22; xlv. 13. Ezek. iv. 4, 9; xiii. 18; xxii. 20 marg.; xxxix. 11; xliii. 3 marg. Dan. i. 7; viii. 26; ix. 23 marg. Obad. 6. Hab. iii. 9. 1 Esdr. viii. 63. Tobit iii. 3. Wisd. ii. 1; xix. 14. 1 Macc. viii. 18; x. 24; xii. 37. Tit. ii. 3. 3 John 12. Indeed some more recent corrections are positively false, e.g. 2 Chr. iii. 11 "one wing of the one" (1638): Luke x. 30 "man" (1762).

What Blayney intended to do, and seems to have lacked time for (Appendix D, p. xcvi.), has been regarded as a matter of imperative duty by the editor of the present work. He has made out a full list of all the changes with respect to italics, in which this volume differs from his standard, the Cambridge small pica octavo of 1858, together with such reasons for them as each case might require; and has deposited the list for future reference in the Library of the Syndics of the University Press.

SECTION IV.

On the system of punctuation adopted in 1611, and modified in more recent Bibles.

"The question of punctuation," to employ the language of the late Professor Grote², "has two parts: one, respecting the general carrying it out for purposes of rhythm and distinction of sentences, independent of any question as to the meaning of the words; the other respecting the particular cases where different punctuation involves difference of meaning." In regard to the first of these parts, much variety of practice will always exist,

according to the age in which a writer lives, or the fashion which he has adopted for himself. Thus the edition of 1611 abounds with parentheses¹ which are largely discarded in modern Bibles, wherein commas supply their place, unless indeed they are left unrepresented altogether. The note of admiration, which is seldom met with in the old black-letter copies (wherein the note of interrogation usually stands in its room: e.g. Prov. xix. 7) is scattered more thickly over Blayney's pages than the taste of the present times would approve. Upon the whole, while the system of recent punctuation is heavier and more elaborate than necessity requires, and might be lightened to advantage, as in this volume has been attempted²; that of the standard of 1611 is too scanty to afford the guidance needed by the voice and eye in the act of public reading. "It is a torture to read aloud from, as those who have had to do it know."³ Grote contrasts it in this particular with a Cambridge edition of 1683, into which more changes in the stops were admitted than later books cared to follow, and whose punctuation differs in fact but little from that in vogue in recent times.

The case in which difference of punctuation involves difference of meaning cannot be thus summarily dismissed. Since interpretation is now concerned, rather than arbitrary liking or convenience, the principles laid down in the First Section are strictly applicable here (pp. x., xiv.). The stops found in the original ought not to be altered unless the sense they assign be not merely doubtful, but manifestly wrong⁴. Modern changes, if still abided by, should be scrupulously recorded, and their retention can be justified only by the consideration that it is at once pedantic and improper to restore errors of the standard Bible which have once been banished out of sight. The following list will be found to contain all divergencies of punctuation from that prevailing in recent editions, not being too insignificant to deserve special notice, which can be supposed to influence the sense. They naturally divide themselves into two classes, those which are, and those which are not, countenanced by the two issues of 1611.

I. The stops of 1611 are retained in preference to those of later Bibles, there being no strong reason to the contrary, in

Gen. xxxi. 40, "Thus I was in the day, the drought consumed me," 1611, after Masoretic stops, LXX., Vulg., against the Bishops', 1638—1769, moderns, who have "Thus I was: (, 1638—1762) in the day the drought consumed me." Lev. iv. 2, "(concerning things which ought not to be done)." Here 1769 and the moderns reject the parenthesis of the earlier books, which, though not found in vv. 13, 22, 27, tends to relieve a hard construction. Joshua iii. 16, "very far, from the city Adam," 1611—1630. In 1629 Camb. and subsequent editions the comma after "far" is removed, but the other distribution is not less probable. 1 Kin. xii. 32, "and he offered upon the altar (so did he in Bethel,) sacrificing." The moderns, after 1769, punctuate "and he offered upon the altar. So did he in Bethel, sacrificing:" against the Hebrew stops, Zakeph-katon standing over both "altar" and "Bethel;" and rendering the margin (which provides for לעל, being the Kal rather than the Hiphil conjugation) quite unintelligible. xix. 5, "behold then, an angel" (וְהִנֵּה מַלְאָכָא): "behold, then an angel," 1769, moderns. Neh. ix. 4, "upon the stairs of the Levites," (עַל-מַעְבְּרֵי הַלֵּוִיִּם): "upon the stairs, of the Levites," 1769, moderns. ver. 5, "Jeshua and Kadmiel," (cf. Ezra ii. 40): "Jeshua, and Kadmiel," 1769, moderns. Job xix. 28, "persecute we him?...found in me." 1611—1617. But 1629 Lond., 1630 place (?) also after "me:" 1629 Camb., 1638, moderns, transfer the second clause into the oratio obliqua "persecute we him,... found in me?" xxxi. 30. This verse is rightly set in a parenthesis in 1611—1744, which 1762, moderns, remove. xxxiii. 5, "If thou canst, answer me," as in ver. 32. The first comma is removed in 1629 Camb. (not 1629 Lond., 1630) and all modern books. xl. 24 marg. "or bore," 1611: "or bora," 1629. 1638, Bagster 1846. But 1744, 1762, moderns, "or, bora," quite absurdly. Psalm ii. 12, "but a little: Blessed," 1611—1744, "but a little. Blessed," 1762 mod.⁵ lxxix. 5, "wilt thou be angry, for ever?" (cf. Ps. xiii. 1; lxxxix. 46. The comma is removed by 1616 (not 1617, 1630), 1629 Camb., &c. ver. 11, "come before thee, According to the greatness of thy

¹ In Synd. A. 3. 14, these marks of parenthesis often seem to have been inserted with a pen, in places where the Oxford reprint has them.

⁵ The two lines of the couplet are closely connected, as the parallelism shews. Here, and in some other places (notably in Ps. iii. 5; lxiv. 7), the Masoretic punctuation is at variance with the poetical structure. So in Ps. xl. 12, Rebiah has tempted 1762 to change the comma after "head" into a semicolon, 1769 and the moderns into a colon, where we prefer the comma of 1611—1744.

power: Preserve thou." Thus 1611—1744, following the Hebrew punctuation. "come before thee; According to the greatness of thy power (, 1762 only) Preserve thou" 1769, moderns, very boldly, though approved by Canon Perowne. lxxxix. 46, "How long, LORD¹, wilt thou hide thyself, for ever?" The third comma is removed in 1629, London and Camb. (not 1630), 1638, 1744, 1769 mod. In 1762 this comma is strengthened into a semicolon. Prov. i. 27. The final colon of 1611—1630 is clearly preferable to the full stop of 1629 Camb., moderns. xix. 2. Restore the comma before "sinneth;" discarded in 1762: also in xxi. 28, that before "speaketh," removed in 1769: both these for the sake of perspicuity. xxx. 1 fin. The full stop is changed into a comma by 1769 mod. Eccles. ii. 3, "(yet acquainting mine heart with wisdom)." In 1769 mod. the marks of parenthesis are rejected, and a semicolon placed after "wisdom." Cant. vii. 9, "For my beloved, that" 1611, &c. ("For my beloved that," 1629 Lond., 1630: almost preferable; cf. Heb.): "For my beloved, that" 1769, moderns. viii. 2, "of the juice" 1611—1630: "of the juice" 1629 Camb., 1638, &c. Isai. xxiv. 14, "they shall sing." The comma is found only in 1611 (Oxford reprint, not Synd. A. 3. 14), and acknowledged by Vulg. and Field ("jubilabunt;") as representing the Hebrew Athnakh. xlviii. 12, "O Jacob, and Israel my called;" 1611—1630. But 1629 Camb. 1638 place commas after "Israel," 1769 and the moderns join "Jacob and Israel," against the Hebrew stops. Lam. ii. 4, "pleasant to the eye;" (cf. Heb. stop): 1769 mod. remove the comma. iv. 15, "when they fled away and wandered;" (, for : in 1769 mod.). Hosea vii. 11, "a silly dove, without heart." In 1629 Camb. and the moderns, the comma (which represents the Hebrew accent) is removed, as if "without heart" referred exclusively to the dove. Hagg. i. 1, 12, 14; ii. 2, remove comma of 1769 mod. after "Josedeck." Cf. Zech. i. 1.

2 Esdr. viii. 39, "and the reward that they shall have." (et salvationis et mercedis receptionis, Vulg., but et salutis, et recipiendæ mercedis Junius): but 1762 mod. place a comma after "reward," as if receptionis of Vulg. belonged also to salvationis. xii. 2, "and behold, the head that remained, and the four wing appeared no more." In 1762 a comma is inserted after "wings;" in 1769 mod. both commas are removed. There is a pause in the sense after "remained," such as a semicolon would perhaps better represent, before the vision in ch. xi. 18, &c., is repeated. Judith iv. 6, "toward the open country near to Dothaim (κατὰ πρόσωπον τοῦ πεδίου τοῦ πλησίον Δωθαίμ, LXX.). Here 1629 Camb., 1630, &c., insert a comma before "near." viii. 9. 10. In 1769 mod. the marks of parenthesis are withdrawn, to the detriment of perspicuity. xiv. 17, "After, he went" (καὶ εἰσῆλθεν, LXX.): 1629 Camb. (not 1630), 1638 mod. remove the necessary comma. Eccles. xxxvii. 8, "(For he will counsel for himself):" 1769 mod. reject the marks of parenthesis, setting a semicolon after "himself". ver. 11, "of finishing" (περὶ συντελείας, LXX.): 1769 mod. obscure the sense by rejecting the comma. Baruch vi. 40, "that they are gods?" In 1629, &c., "gods," the interrogation being thrown on the end of the verse. But compare the refrains ver. 44, 52, 56, 65, to justify our arrangement of the paragraph. 1 Macc. vi. 51, "to cast darts, and slings." The comma is removed in 1638 mod.

S. Matt. ix. 20—22, are inclosed in a parenthesis by 1611—1762, which 1769 rejects². S. Mark iii. 17, and v. 41. The marks of parenthesis (of which 1769 mod. make too clean a riddance) are restored from 1611—1762. S. John ii. 15, "and the sheep and the oxen," thus keeping the animals distinct from πάντας ("them all...with the sheep and oxen," Bishops). In 1630 (not 1638, 1743), 1762 mod., a comma intrudes after "sheep." xviii. 3, "a band of men, and officers," 1611—1762, thus distinguishing the Roman cohort from the Jewish ὑπηρέται (Archb. Trench). In 1769 mod. the comma is lost. Acts xi. 26, "taught much people, and the disciples were called," 1611—1630: both verbs depending on ἐγένετο. Yet 1638—1743 substitute a semicolon for the comma, while 1762 mod. begin a new sentence after "people," as if the editors had never glanced at the Greek. xviii. 18, "and Aquila: having shorn his head", Paul being the person referred to in κεράμενος. By changing the colon into a semicolon, 1762 mod. render this more doubtful. Rom. i. 9, "always in my prayers," 1611, 1612, 1613. The first comma is removed in 1629 Camb. and London, 1630, &c.: the second changed into a semicolon by 1769 mod. Cf. 1 Thess. i. 2; Philem. 4. iv. 1, "Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh," 1611—1762. In 1769 mod. the comma is transferred from after "father" to before "our." v. 13—17, were first inclosed in a parenthesis by 1769, which is followed by all moderns, even by the American Bible of 1867, though the American revisers of 1851 (see p. xxiii.) had removed it. It is worse than useless, inasmuch as it interrupts the course of the argument. viii. 33 fin. The colon of 1611—1762 is almost too great a break, yet 1769 mod. substitute a full stop. The semicolon of The Five Clergymen is quite sufficient. xv. 7, "received us," 1611—1743. The comma is removed in 1762 mod. 1 Cor. vii. 5, "prayer," 1611—1630. But 1638 mod. substitute a semicolon for the comma, as if to drive us to take the various reading συνέχεσθε of Beza 1598 (see App. E, p. civ.), and the Elzevirs. viii. 7, "with conscience of the idol unto this hour," 1611—1762, as if the reading ὡς ἄρτι τοῦ εἰδῶλου were accepted, ("with the yet abiding consciousness of the idol,") or cf. Phil. i. 26, and Prof. Moulton's Winer, p. 584. In 1769 mod. the comma is deleted. 2 Cor. xiii. 2, "as if I were present the second time," 1611—1762. In 1769 mod. a comma is put in after "present," through an obvious misconception. Eph. iii. 2—iv. 1 "of the Lord," is wrongly set in a parenthesis by 1769 mod. (not American, 1867). Rather connect ch. iii. 1 with ver. 14. Phil. i. 11, "by Jesus Christ unto the glory..." In 1762 mod. a comma is inserted before "unto." Col. ii. 11, "of the flesh," the two clauses beginning with ἐν τῇ being parallel (cf. var. lect.), so that 1762 mod. wrongly remove the comma after "flesh." 1 Thess. iii. 7, "by your faith" 1611—1630, but 1629 London and Camb. and all after them wrongly omit the comma. 2 Thess. i. 8, "in flaming fire," 1611—1762, connecting the words with ἐν τῇ ἀποκαλύψει, ver. 7. In 1769 mod.

¹ So read instead of "LORD?" of 1769 mod. The printed text of the present volume is inconsistent as it stands.

the comma is absent. Titus ii. 8, "sound speech that cannot..." The comma after "speech" in 1769 mod. obscures, rather than helps, the English. ver. 12, "teaching us that denying ungodliness and worldly lusts we should live..." Thus the sentence runs in the Oxford reprint of 1611 and in 1612, and this is the safest plan in such a construction, but Synd. A. 3. 14 places a comma after "lusts," and is followed by 1613 and the rest. In 1629 Camb., &c. another comma is set after "us," which 1769 mod. do not improve upon by transposing it to after "that." Heb. ii. 9, "lower than the angels," In 1769 mod. this comma is removed, so as to compel us to take διὰ τὸ πάθημα τοῦ θανάτου with the preceding clause, to which it hardly seems to belong. iii. 7—11. Reject the marks of parenthesis introduced into modern Bibles in 1769. The American Bible of 1867 has them not. x. 12, "for ever, sat down." So 1611—1630, plainly rejecting "is set down for ever" of Bishops' Bible. This arrangement is supported by our standard Cambridge edition of 1858, and the American (1867), Bp. Christ. Wordsworth, &c., and is surely safer than "for ever sat down" of 1638—1769 and most moderns. xii. 23. Restore the comma of 1611—30 after "assembly." xiii. 7. Restore the full stop of 1611 at the end of this verse, which 1762 mod. change to a colon. 2 Pet. ii. 14. The Greek compels us to reject the comma after "adultery" of 1743, mod. Jude 7, "the cities about them, in like manner..." The comma after "them" is injudiciously removed by 1638, 1699 (not 1743), while 1762 mod. increase the error by placing it after "in like manner."

It would be endless, and answer no good purpose, to enumerate all the cases wherein minute but real improvements in the punctuation, introduced into editions subsequent to 1611, have been universally acquiesced in (e.g. Jer. xvii. 3; Dan. xi. 18; Bel & Drag. ver. 10; Matt. xix. 4; Rom. ii. 13—15; 1 Pet. v. 13). Some very strange oversights of the standard Bible, in this as in other particulars (see pp. x., xl.), were permitted to hold their place quite late. Thus in John xii. 20 "And there were certain Greeks among them, that came up to worship at the feast:" the intrusive comma lingered till 1769. The comma, which originally stood after "about midnight," Acts xxvii. 27, was removed and set after "Adria" later than 1638. In regard to weightier matters, the comma put by 1611 after "God" in Titus ii. 13 is fitly removed by 1769 mod., that "the great God and our Saviour" may be seen to be joint predicates of the same Divine Person. Luke xxiii. 32 affords us a rare instance of an important change in the stops subsequent to 1769 (we have not been able to trace it up earlier than D'Oyly and Mant's Bible 1817) "And there were also two other malefactors," where recent editors insert a comma before "male-factors", in order to obviate the possibility of mistake in the meaning of a phrase which is rather Greek than English. They were rightly unwilling to adopt the alternative of changing the plural "other" into "others," as the American Bible (1867) has unfortunately done¹. The following chief additional changes in punctuation made in this volume, like those affecting the text itself (Appendix A. p. lxxxiii.), though usually sanctioned by respectable authority, occasionally by some of our own Bibles, must ultimately depend on their own merits for justification.

II. Passages in which the stops, as well of 1611 as of most later Bibles, have been altered in the present volume.

Ex. xi. 1—3 we have placed within a parenthesis, thus referring ver. 4 to ch. x. 29: Josh. vi. 1 might well be treated in the same manner. Josh. xv. 1, "even to the border of Edom" is better followed by a comma, as in 1762, than by the semicolon of 1611—1744: both stops are removed in 1769. 1 Kin. vii. 19, and xxi. 25, 26, should be set in parentheses, so as to connect closely the preceding and following verses in either case. xxi. 20. With 1617 (only) place a comma at the end of this verse, the protasis beginning with וְעַתָּה, ver. 20, the apodosis with וְעַתָּה, ver. 21, just as in ch. xx. 36. Cf. also ch. xx. 42; xxi. 29. 2 Kin. xv. 25. Set a semicolon after Arich, in place of the comma of 1611, &c. The "him" following refers to "Pekah," not to "Arich." So Tremellius after 11eb.² Job iv. 6. See Appendix A. p. lxxxiii. vi. 10, "Yea, I would harden myself in sorrow; let him not spare;" forms one line in the stichometry (Dolitzsch). This does not appear in 1611—1744, which set a comma after "spare," or in 1762 mod., which punctuate "let him not spare." xxviii. 3. Lighten the colon of 1611, &c., after "perfection" into a comma. "The stones" is governed by "searcheth out," whether we consider לְקַלְתָּלִּית to be used adverbially, or no. Ps. cv. 6, "Ye children of Jacob, his chosen." Unless the comma be inserted, "his chosen" would not be understood as plural.

² In Neh. xii. 24, we have substituted a semicolon instead of a full stop at the end of the verse, and perhaps ought to have changed the comma after Obadiah, ver. 25, into a colon. It would seem from 1 Chr. ix. 15—17; ch. xi. 17—19, that the list of the singers ends with Obadiah, that of the porters begins with Meshullam.

In 1 Chr. xvi. 13, a comma is inserted by 1769 mod. without much need. Ps. cvii. 35. End in a semicolon: yet all our Bibles have a full stop. Ps. cviii. 5, 6. All our Bibles except that of the Tract Society (1861) join these two verses, which seems an impossible arrangement (Perovne). Substitute a full stop for the colon of 1611 (which is made a semicolon by 1629 Camb. and the moderns) at the end of ver. 5, and a semicolon for the colon after "delivered," as 1611 has in Ps. lx. 5. Prov. vi. 2. Since this verse, as well as ver. 1, is plainly hypothetical (Ep. Christ. Wordsworth), in spite of LXX., Vulg. and Tremellius, a comma must take the place of the full stop of 1611, &c. after "mouth." viii. 2, "high places by the way." Transfer the comma of 1611 from after "place" to after "way." Eccles. iv. 1, "and behold," 1629 Camb.—1762. In 1769 mod. the comma is removed though it is really wanted. Even the Hebrew has a distinctive mark (⁴) here. Cant. iii. 2, "in the streets and in the broad ways," So LXX., the Hebrew punctuation and parallelism. In 1611, &c., the comma is transferred to a place after "streets," thus joining the second clause with what follows. Isai. xi. 11, "his people, Which shall be left from Assyria," So the Hebrew stops, the analogy of ver. 16 (recognized by 1611—1762, not by 1769 mod.), LXX., Vulg., Lowth, Field: "his people that shall be left, from Assyria" 1611—1762: in 1769 mod. another comma follows "people." xxxii. 9. This verse is a distich, the true division of which after "voice" is plainer in Hebrew than in English. It is variously punctuated in our Bibles, but all agree in suggesting a false division into three lines, ending respectively at "ease," "daughters," "speech." xxxviii. 10, "I said," All insert the comma in ver. 11. Jer. xlviii. 29. Instead of the parenthesis which encloses "he is exceeding proud" in all our Bibles, substitute a semicolon before, a colon after the words, as in Isai. xvi. 6 in 1762 mod. Ezek. v. 6, "my judgments, and my statutes." The comma, imperatively required by the Hebrew, was inserted in 1629 (both editions)—1762, discarded in 1769 mod. xxi. 29, "that are slain of the wicked." The comma after "slain", apparently employed by 1611, &c., to aid the voice, fails to represent the status constructus of the Hebrew. xlvii. 18, "by oppression to thrust them out" renders a single Hebrew word (oppressione deturbando eos, Trem.). Yet 1611—1630 separate the English by placing a comma after "oppression," which 1762 mod. restore after it had been rejected by 1629 Camb., 1744. xlviii. 30, "of the city." So the Hebrew stops. The Bishops' Bible and 1611—1630 have a comma after "city," which 1629 Camb. and the moderns omit altogether (cf. Wordsworth). Hosea ix. 15, "in Gilgal:" the colon of 1611 and the rest is too strong for the sense and the Hebrew accent. xii. 10. Remove the comma of 1611, &c., after "similitudes." Cf. Heb. Micah vi. 5, "From Shittim", the inserted semicolon representing the Hebrew Athnakh (cf. Wordsworth). The Bishops' Bible separates these words from the preceding, though only by a comma¹.

² Esdr. ii. 15 marg. "as a dove," with 1629—1744. In 1611 we have "as a dove," in 1630 "as a dove:" against the Latin. In 1762 mod. "as a dove", but our way seems safer. vii. 42, "is not the end, where..." Without the inserted comma, our version is hardly intelligible; in eo sc. seculo, not fine. Judith viii. 21, "if we be taken, so all..." Junius and 1611, &c., join οὕτως closely to the preceding words. (Cf. Moulton's Winer, p. 678.) Wisd. xiii. 13, "the very refuse among those, which served to no use," (τὸ δὲ ἐξ αὐτῶν ἀπόβλημα εἰς οὐδὲν εὐχρηστον). If, with 1611, &c., we omit the comma, "those" will inevitably be taken as the antecedent to "which." xvii. 11—13. Place these verses within a parenthesis. Prayer of Manasses, ll. 17, 18, " : Thou, O Lord,..." The very long English sentence is so constructed (differently from the Greek, this Prayer having been rendered from the Old Latin, see p. xxvii.), that the apodosis does not begin before this point; yet 1611 and all its successors put a full stop before "Thou." We have adopted a colon from the Bishops' Bible. 1 Macc. vi. 36, "every occasion, wheresoever the beast was:" far preferable to "every occasion: wheresoever the beast was," of 1611, &c. ix. 34 marg. "understood on the sabbath day," 1629—1744. In 1762 mod. the false punctuation of 1611—1630 is revived ("understood, on the sabbath day"), against the Greek, which is not in the same order as in ver. 43. We have set ver. 35—42 in a parenthesis. x. 1, "Antiochus, surnamed Epiphanes" ὁ ἐπιφανῆς, the comma after "Antiochus" distinguishing the text from that of Josephus, namely τοῦ ἐπιφανοῦς, as mentioned in the margin. 2 Macc. x. 29, "men upon horses with bridles of gold" (ἐφ' ἵππων χρυσοχαλκῶν ἀνδρες). In 1611, &c., a comma, worse than idle, is set after "horses." xiii. 2, "a Grecian power, of footmen, &c." In 1611, &c., we have "a Grecian power of footmen"².

S. Matt. xix. 28, "which have followed me, in the regeneration, when, &c." So 1630 alone of our old Bibles, with Nourse (Paragraph Bible, Boston, 1836), Bagster 1846, Scholefield (English), Lachmann, Tischendorf, Tregelles. This is at any rate the safest course. The second comma is wanting in 1611, 1612, 1613, 1616, 1617, 1629 London, most modern Bibles, D'Ooly and Mant (1817), Tract Society's (1861), Blackadder (1864), American (1867), Newberry (1870), and Alford's. The first comma is absent in the Bishops' Bible, the books from 1629 (Camb.) to 1769, and Scholefield's Greek text. S. Luke i. 55, "(As he spake to our fathers)." Thus with Nourse, the Tract Society, and Blackadder (see last note), indicate by a parenthesis the change of construction. Ver. 70 is also parenthetic³. Acts xxiii. 8, "neither angel nor spirit:" Even though the true reading be μήτε...μήτε instead of μηδὲ...μήτε, angel and spirit comprehend together one class, resurrection the other, the two classes together comprising ἀμφοτέρα. The comma after "angel" in 1611—1630, abolished by 1629 (both editions)—1743, is restored in 1762

² Yet it must be confessed that the Roman edition reads ἰππέις immediately afterwards, while our punctuation represents ἰππέων of Codex Alexandrinus.

³ It would be well also to place Acts i. 18, 19 within a parenthesis, even though the words be still regarded as S. Peter's. It is quite possible that the citation in ver. 20 is appealed to in ver. 16.

mod. Rom. viii. 20, “, in hope.” We can hardly do more in this doubtful passage, than relax the connection of ἐπ’ ἐλπιδι with what precedes, by inserting the comma before it, and lightening the stop after it from a colon to a comma, as in 1769 mod. xi. 8, from “according” to “hear” is rightly set in a parenthesis in 1769, as approved by the Five Clergymen. 1 Cor. xvi. 22. See Appendix A, p. lxxxii., note 4. 2 Cor. v. 2, “we groan, earnestly desiring...” The adverb is doubtless intended to represent the intensive force of the preposition in ἐπιποθοῦντες (rendered coveting by Wickliffe, but simply desiring by the later versions), so that this punctuation, first found by Prof. Grote in Field’s small 8vo. (not in his 12mo.) Bible of 1660, but afterwards lost sight of, is that to be received, although through mere oversight, rather than with a view to render ingemiscimus of the Vulgate, the comma is placed after, not before, “earnestly” in 1611—1762, the final correction being due to 1769, from which the moderns adopt it. ver. 19, “God was in Christ reconciling...” All the Bibles from 1611 downwards, except that of 1743, insert a comma after “Christ”. Eph. iv. 12, “for the perfecting of the saints for the work of the ministry, for...” (πρὸς...εἰς...εἰς). The comma of 1611, &c., after “saints” would be tolerable if the three prepositions were truly parallel. Phil. ii. 15, “the sons of God without rebuke,” The comma set after “God” in 1611, &c., would inevitably suggest a different gender for ἀμώμητα or ἄμωμα. Col. ii. 2, “of God and of the Father and of Christ.” The received text can hardly stand here, but the translation (taken verbatim from the Bishops’ Bible) is unquestionably very inferior to that of Tyndale, Coverdale, the Great Bible and Geneva (1557), “of God the Father, and of Christ.” The Bishops’ and our own Bibles from 1611 downwards, make bad worse by adding a comma after “God”. Heb. iv. 6, 7, “unbelief, again...” The apodosis begins with πάλιν. This is not so apparent if with 1611, &c., we set a colon after “unbelief”. vii. 5, “they that are of the sons of Levi who receive the office of the priesthood...” The comma set after “Levi” by 1611, &c., might suggest the inference that all Levites were priests. 2 Pet. i. 1—5. All our Bibles, following 1611 in their arrangement, place a comma at the end of ver. 2, a full stop at the end of ver. 4. Yet it seems evident that vv. 1, 2 form a separate paragraph, as Nourse, the Tract Society, Blackadder (see above), Wordsworth, and Tischendorf represent them; and if ver. 3 must be connected with ver. 5 (Moulton’s Winer, p. 771), a colon suffices at the end of ver. 4. ii. 22, “and, The sow”, a new proverb beginning. Thus 1638—1762, American 1867, but 1769 mod. return to “and the sow” of 1611—1630. Rev. viii. 12. Remove the stop, whether colon (1611—1630) or comma (1638 mod.), after “darkened”, since the following verb also is governed by ἴνα.

As the result of his investigations on this subject Prof. Grote infers that “With respect to the punctuation in general, independently of its affecting the meaning of particular passages, it is, in the editions before 1638, comparatively little graduated, colons and semicolons being much fewer in number than commas, and full stops.....That edition made the punctuation much more graduated, and introduced one practice not common in the earlier ones, that of a full stop in the middle of a verse.” “The graduation of the punctuation; i.e. the placing of colons and semicolons, is not materially different in Blayney’s edition (1769) from what it was in that of 1683. This latter (which is pointed, as printers say, very low) improved greatly in this respect upon 1638, as 1638 had improved upon the earlier ones¹.”

SECTION V.

On the orthography, grammatical peculiarities, and capital letters of the original, as compared with modern editions.

One of the salient points which distinguish the early editions of our Bibles from those of modern date, is their wide divergency of practice in regard to modes of spelling. It would be nothing remarkable, but rather analogous to what we observe in the case of all modern and probably of some ancient languages, that the customary orthography, even of very familiar words, should vary considerably at different periods of their literary history. But this is not the phenomenon we have mainly to account for in regard to English books printed in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Judged by them, it would hardly be extravagant to assert that our ancestors had no uniform system of orthography whatsoever, since there are comparatively few words, except a few particles of perpetual occurrence, that are not spelt in several fashions in the same book, on the same page, sometimes even in the same line². The licence extended, as is well known, even to proper names: men of the highest culture (Shakespeare for a conspicuous example, if we give credit to certain biographers) varying the orthography of their own signatures in three or four several ways. This circumstance affords a conclusive answer to the demand that has sometimes been urged by ill-informed persons, that our modern Bibles should be exact reprints of the standard of 1611; and it was partly to silence such a demand that the Oxford reprint of 1833 was undertaken. A glance at that volume must have convinced any reasonable person that more recent editors were right in the main in gradually clearing the sacred page of uncouth, obsolete, and variable forms, which could answer no purpose save to perplex the ignorant, and offend the educated taste; whether the judgment of those who are responsible for the Bibles of 1762 and 1769 (for these were the great and most thorough modernisers) was always as true as might be wished for, we shall have to consider in the sequel.

² The American G. P. Marsh (Lectures on the English

The general rule laid down in the preparation of the present volume is a very simple one:—whenever an English word is spelt in the two issues of 1611 in two or more different ways, to adopt in all places that method which may best agree with present usage, even though it is not so found in the majority of instances in the older books. Thus though charet is the form employed in at least nineteen places out of twenty, we have uniformly taken chariot as in Ecclus. xlix. 8; 1 Macc. i. 17; viii. 6. Kinred is probably the correct mode of spelling, and is by far the most frequent in the standard Bible, yet we abide by kindred, as it is found in Ecclus. xiv. 4; 2 Macc. v. 9; 1 Tim. v. 8 marg. We take caterpillar from Joel i. 4; elsewhere in 1611 it is caterpillar. Cield and Cieling are due to the Cambridge Bible of 1629, sield and siding being the forms of 1611 in all the eight places where they occur: possibly the American ceiled and ceiling would be better, as the root seems to be celo, not ciel. Again, forrest occurs everywhere else, but forest Isai. xxi. 13. For fain, the ordinary form, we see feign in Neh. vi. 8 only. Ghest occurs mostly, as in Matt. xxii. 10, but gucsts in ver. 11. Iron appears in Ecclus. xxxviii. 28, instead of yron, the common form. Linen is found 1 Kin. x. 28; 1 Esdr. iii. 6, but linnen elsewhere. Miter is almost constant in 1611, yet we adopt mitre from Ex. xxxix. 31; Zech. iii. 5. We find oake Josh. xxiv. 26, elsewhere oke. Between burden, murder, household, and burthen, murther, houshold, the usage is more divided: we prefer the former. Pedegree occurs thrice, but pedigree in Heb. vii. 3 marg., 6 marg. Pelican appears in Ps. cii. 6, elsewhere pellicane or pellican. After 1611, in Ecclus. xxxviii. 25 we give plough for the noun, but plow for the verb and its compounds in the 26 places where it occurs: the American (1867) has plough always. Pray (præda) is almost always used, but prey Job ix. 26. Again, surfeited, the modern form, occurs only Wisd. v. 7 marg., surfetting, &c. elsewhere. We find profane in Ezek. xxiii. 38, 39; 1 Macc. iii. 51; 2 Macc. vi. 5; Acts xxiv. 6: elsewhere the incorrect prophane. Instead of renowned (Num. i. 16; Ezek. xxvi. 17; 1 Macc. iii. 9; v. 63; vi. 1) we oftener meet with renowmed (Ecclus. xlv. 3, &c.). Such examples might be multiplied indefinitely. On the other hand, for the modern scent, we have boldly printed sent, following the ordinary, if not universal practice of the seventeenth century, inasmuch as sent is true to the etymology, and is invariably used in all the five places where the word occurs, Job xiv. 9; Isai. xi. 3 marg.; Jer. xlviii. 11; Hos. xiv. 7; Wisd. xi. 18. For omitting the e in scythe we have good authority, as well as the practice of our Translation in the margins of Isai. ii. 4; Jer. l. 16; Joel iii. 10; Mic. iv. 3. We must return to rye of 1611, which occurs but twice (Ex. ix. 32; Isai. xxviii. 25), though rie is in both Bibles of 1629. Probably, too, lancers should have been restored in 1 Kin. xviii. 28: it came from the Language, Lect. xx. p. 313) ascribes the variation of spelling in the same line to the mere convenience of the printer. Cardwell (Oxford Bibles, p. 4) had taken the same view before him. To Marsh's example, they shall lie down together, they shal, Isai. xlii. 17, many might be added, e.g. thercof, the locks thercof, and the barres, Neh. iii. 3: tread with shouting, their shawting shall, Jer. xlviii. 33: stayed from dew, and the earth is staid, Hagg. i. 10, without coming nearer to a solution of the problem. A word is often differently spelt in the text and margin, as in Gen. iii. 16, where Coverdale has "huszbande" in the body of his version, "husband" in the foot-note. Nor is the date of a writer any safe criterion. The best manuscripts of Chaucer, and especially of Gower, and the Paston letters, written about 1470, approach nearer our present standard of spelling than the Bible of 1611 (Marsh, p. 312).

Bishops' Bible (launers), but occurs nowhere else, and was not altered into lancets before 1762. For andirons Ezek. xl. 43 marg. (which is etymologically true) 1638, 1769 and the moderns have endirons; endirons of 1744, 1762 is a bad guess. The Bishops' margin has trevels. Another word, used but once, is ebony, Ezek. xxvii. 15, which is so spelt both in Hebrew and Greek: ebony of the moderns is more recent than 1638. Thus, too, turbant, Dan. iii. 21 marg. only, the form adopted by Milton and Dryden, was not changed into turbans before 1762. So imbers, Tobit vi. 16 marg. Since sailer, Rev. xviii. 17, is pronounced by Johnson to be more analogical than sailor, and held the ground till after 1638, we have taken courage to revive it. In Nahum ii. 4 also juttle of 1611 is restored, instead of jostle of some moderns. Of words met with but twice, ambassage Luke xiv. 32 is adopted rather than embassage 1 Macc. xiv. 23; scrole, Isai. xxxiv. 4, is preferred to scrowle, Rev. vi. 14; but it is not possible to take either champion, Deut. xi. 30, or champion, Ezek. xxxvii. 2 marg.; either musician, Eccles. xxxii. 4, or musicion, Rev. xviii. 22; or scholler as in 1 Chr. xxv. 8; Mal. ii. 12. Nor would anker, ballance, threed, suit the modern eye, although they are never met with in what to us appears the only correct form.

The same liberty has been taken in regard to soldier and vinegar, which the standard Bibles, contrary to their derivation, invariably spell souldier and vineger. What is spelt haply in five other places, in 1611 was happily 2 Cor. ix. 4 (πῶς): though changed in both books of 1629, happily was brought back in 1630, but can hardly hold its ground. The particle of comparison than is uniformly then in the Bible of 1611, as in many books far into the seventeenth century: this fashion, of course, could not be imitated now. Although saphir or saphire or saphyre does not vary in the same Bibles, the original will not dispense with pph. Nor have we retained cabbins, used but once, Jer. xxxvii. 16: though we have ventured upon fauchin of 1611, Judith xiii. 6; xvi. 9. The strange form chawes for jaws Ezek. xxix. 4 suggests a questionable etymology. Traffique (the verb used once, the noun four times) and traffiquers Isai. xxiii. 8 have also been refused¹.

Those English words which, whether from custom or difference of origin, vary in their significance according to the modes in which they are severally spelt, are invariably confused in the standard Bible. Travel and travail afford a familiar example of the fact, inasmuch as the fault has not yet been completely removed from modern editions, e.g. Num. xx. 14 where travel of 1629 (Camb.) and recent Bibles, though the Hebrew is תַּרְסֵיִם, would just make sense, and has been substituted for travail of 1611. In Wisd. x. 10 also the latest Bibles, after that of 1629, erroneously render μόχθους by travels, in the room of travails of 1611. In Lam. iii. 5 travel is given for תַּרְסֵיִם, as in Num. xx. 14, in all the books from 1611 to the American (1867) which has travail: although many like errors of the original edition have been corrected by its successors. The case between twined and twinned is stated below (Appendix B, p. lxxxviii., note 3). The distinction between morter (Gen. xi. 3) and mortar Num. xi. 8; Prov. xxvii. 22, was first taken in 1638: by spelling both morter, the Bible of 1611 confounds words which have only an accidental resemblance. We should also discriminate carefully between naught (נָעַם) 2 Kin. ii. 19; Prov. xx. 14, and nought (i.e. nothing) Gen. xxix. 15, &c.: they were both spelt nought previously to 1638². In spite of the analogy of nought, it is probably right to spell ought in such places as Gen. xxxix. 6, as the American revisers have done, but we have here abided by ought with 1611. We have not ventured on the fine distinction between veil, an article of dress, and the Vail of the Sanctuary, but retained in all cases (except in error Wisd. xvii. 3; Eccles. i. 5 marg.) vail of 1611 in preference to veil of later editions. In Job xiv. 17 the great oversight of 1611 sowest for sewest was left in our Bibles till 1762. The similar error sow for sew in Eccles. iii. 7; Mark ii. 21, remained till 1629; in Ezek. xiii. 18 it survived beyond 1638. Between intrat (to pray) and entreat (i. e. treat) there is a broad difference of sense, properly recognized in 1762: yet in 1611 the former is spelt followed in each case as it arose. The result of this has been to keep up apparent inconsistency in some places: e.g. Josh. xiii. 27, compared with ch. xix. 35.

¹ In regard to the spelling of Proper names, absolute uniformity has not been aimed at, but the Hebrew has been

intreated Job xix. 16, but entreated in the next verse; while in Job xxiv. 21 the second is intreated. In Jer. xv. 11 text and margin, intreat and entreat actually change places in 1611, and are not put right until 1638. Between enquire and inquire, on the contrary, the choice is purely indifferent; the former is chiefly adopted in 1611 (but inquired Deut. xvii. 4 Oxford reprint; Ps. lxxviii. 34; Ezekiel xx. 31 bis; John iv. 52, &c.; inquiry Prov. xx. 25), the latter is our practice, derived from our model (1858) and the recent Cambridge Bibles. Thus also we take informed with 1611 in Acts xxv. 2, rather than enformed as in 2 Macc. xiv. 1; Acts xxiv. 1; xxv. 15: but enrolled of 1611 in 1 Macc. x. 36 in preference to inrolled of the margins of Luke ii. 1; Heb. xii. 23. In Isai. v. 11 enflame is in 1611, but inflaming in Isai. lvii. 5; modern Bibles reverse this, yet all keep inflamed of 1611 in Hist. of Susanna ver. 8. Many words, the exact orthography of which is quite indifferent, we have laboured to reduce to a uniform method. Thus ankles, the usual modern practice, which we take in all five places, is found in 1611 only in Ps. xviii. 36 marg., but anckes in 2 Sam. xxii. 37 marg.; Ezek. xlvii. 3 text and marg.; Acts iii. 7: in 1629 anckes is set in the first place, ankles in the third and fourth, later Bibles recalling this last correction, but bringing ankles into 2 Sam. xxii. 37 marg. Sometimes the later Bibles issuing from different presses exhibit their characteristic varieties of spelling. Instead of inquire, noticed above as a peculiarity of the Cambridge books, those of Oxford (1857) and London or the Queen's Printer (1859) read enquire: for axe (which word is thus spelt ten times in 1611) these last, after the example of their predecessors from 1629 (Camb.) downwards, wrongly print ax, against the modern Cambridge editions. In 1 Kin. v. 9; 2 Chr. ii. 16; 1 Esdr. v. 55 we find flotes in 1611, but recent Cambridge Bibles have needlessly changed it into floats. These last are again wrong in soap, which, after 1611, the Oxford and London Bibles spell sope in both places (Jer. ii. 22; Mal. iii. 2). The truer form rasor occurs seven times in 1611 and the Cambridge text, while the books of Oxford and London have razor. In Judg. ix. 53 the Oxford editions, with 1611, adopt scull, but the Cambridge, and 1611 in all other places, prefer skull. The Cambridge books, after 1611, have gray (greyhound Prov. xxx. 31, rightly so spelt in 1629 Camb., 1630, has no connection with it), the Oxford and London grey. With the Cambridge Bible we also spell counseller (not counsellor with those of Oxford and London), as does also that of 1611 except in three places, where it has counsellours (Ezra viii. 25; Prov. xii. 20; xv. 22). Council (variously spelt council, councel, counsell in 1611) is ordinarily distinguished from counsel or counsell, but the latter is put for the former in 1 Esdr. iii. 15 marg. (χρηματιστηρίω); Matt. v. 22; Mark xiv. 55, all subsequently set right. Since ours, yours, theirs are possessive cases plural of the personal pronouns, the apostrophe set before s in the editions of 1762 and 1769, as also in the London and Oxford Bibles to this day, is positively incorrect: hence the Cambridge practice, which never admitted the apostrophe, has been followed in this respect.

Again, there are forms not wholly banished from our modern books, though their number is diminished in later times, whose presence tends to lend richness and variety to the style. Such is marish Ezek. xlvii. 11; 1 Macc. ix. 42, 45, for the more familiar marsh: the pathetic astonied, yet standing for the more common-place astonished in Ezra ix. 3, 4; Job xvii. 8; xviii. 20; Jer. xiv. 9; Ezek. iv. 17; Dan. iii. 24; iv. 19; v. 9, and restored to its rightful position in the great passage Isai. lii. 14, whence a false taste has removed it subsequently to 1638. Stablish also has been brought again into twelve places (e.g. Lev. xxv. 30; Deut. xix. 15) instead of established of later books: grin or grinne (Job xviii. 9; Ps. cxl. 5; cxli. 9) has been treated as a legitimate modification of gin or ginne (Job xl. 24 marg.; Isai. viii. 14; Amos iii. 5), though cast out in 1762. Once only, it would appear, a superficial difficulty is attempted to be concealed by a slight change in the spelling. In Gen. i. 23 marg. borne, which in 1611 was equivalent to born, was sufficiently correct to convey no wrong impression. To ensure clearness the final e was dropped in 1629 (Camb.), but restored again in 1762, by which time it would be sure to suggest a false meaning.

Enough has been said of those variations in orthography which are due to accident or the caprice of fashion. Others, more interesting, spring from grammatical inflections common in the older stages of our language, which have been gradually withdrawn from later Bibles, wholly or in part, chiefly by those great modernisers, Dr Paris (1762) and Dr Blayney (1769), and have all been brought back again in the present volume. Yet it is not always easy to distinguish these from forms involving a mere change in spelling, and different persons will judge differently about them at times. Thus we cannot well retain growen 1 Kin. xii. 8, 10, while we alter knownen 1 Kin. xiv. 2, &c. To reject, however, such words as fet by substituting the modern fetched, is a liberty far beyond what an editor of our version ought ever to have assumed: we have restored fet in 2 Sam. ix. 5; xi. 27; 1 Kin. vii. 13; ix. 28; 2 Kin. xi. 4; 2 Chr. xii. 11; Jer. xxvi. 23; xxxvi. 21; Acts xxviii. 13: it is full as legitimate as ficht of 2 Sam. xiv. 2; 2 Kin. iii. 9; 2 Chr. i. 17, and even of our latest Bibles in Gen. xviii. 7. The editors of 1762 and 1769 bestowed much evil diligence in clearing our English Translation of this participle in -t, Blayney following in the steps of Paris and supplying many of his deficiencies, yet, with characteristic negligence, leaving not a few untouched. Thus burned is substituted by them for burnt in some 93 places (burnt being left untouched in 2 Kin. xvi. 4; xvii. 11, &c.). For lift they put lifted 95 times, once (Dan. iv. 34, where lift is past tense indicative) with some show of reason; sometimes (e.g. Zech. i. 21, where lift up is present) to the detriment of the sense. Similar cases are built Neh. iii. 1 (builled ver. 2, 1611): clapt 2 Kin. xi. 12: clipt Jer. xlviii. 37: cropt Ezek. xvii. 4: crusht Num. xxii. 25: deckt Prov. vii. 16; 2 Esdr. xv. 47; 1 Macc. iv. 57: dipt Lev. ix. 9; 1 Sam. xiv. 27; 2 Kin. viii. 15; Rev. xix. 13 (dipped also in 1611 Gen. xxxvii. 31): girt 1 Sam. ii. 4 (girded ver. 18 in 1611): leapt 1 Kin. xviii. 26 (text, leaped marg.); Wisd. xviii. 15 (leaped 1611 in ch. xix. 9); 1 Macc. xiii. 44; Acts xix. 16: mixt Prov. xxiii. 30; Isai. i. 22; Dan. ii. 41 (sic 1611, not ver. 43, the second time); 2 Esdr. xiii. 11: past 2 Cor. v. 17 (so even moderns in 1 Pet. iv. 3; in Eph. ii. 11 we have passed in 1611, past 1769): pluckt 1 Chr. xi. 23; Ezra ix. 3; Neh. xiii. 25; Job xxix. 17; Prov. ii. 22 marg.; Dan. vii. 4, 8; xi. 4; Amos iv. 11; Zech. iii. 2; 2 Macc. xiv. 46 (plucked 1611 in Gal. iv. 15): puft Col. ii. 18: pusht Ezek. xxxiv. 21: ravisht Prov. v. 19, 20 (ravished 1611 in Zech. xiv. 2): ript 2 Kin. xv. 16; Hos. xiii. 16; Amos i. 13: slipt 1 Sam. xix. 10; Ps. lxxiii. 2; Eccles. xiii. 22; xiv. 1: stampt 2 Kin. xxiii. 6, 15: start Tobit ii. 4

(started 1762, but it might be present, ἀναπηδήσας ἀνεύλομην): stopt 2 Chr. xxxii. 4 (stopped ver. 30; Zech. vii. 11 in 1611): stript Ex. xxxiii. 6; 1 Sam. xviii. 4; xix. 24; 2 Chr. xx. 25; Job xix. 9; Mic. i. 8: watcht Ps. lix. title: wrapt 1 Sam. xxi. 9; 2 Kin. ii. 8; Job xl. 17; Ezek. xxi. 15; Jonah ii. 5. These archaic preterites contribute to produce a pleasing variety in the style of our version, and are grammatically just as accurate as the modern forms; which is perhaps hardly the case with rent when it is used not as a preterite only, but as a present, as in Lev. xxi. 10 (sic, 1611); 2 Sam. iii. 31; 1 Kin. xi. 31; Eccles. iii. 7; Isai. lxiv. 1 (sic, 1611); Ezek. xiii. 11, 13; xxix. 7; Hos. xiii. 8; Joel ii. 13; Matt. vii. 6; John xix. 24. Other antiquated preterites are begun Num. xxv. 1 (began 1611 in Gen. iv. 26): drunk Gen. xliii. 34 (text not margin); Dan. v. 4: shaked Eccles. xxix. 18; shined quite as often as shone; sprang Gen. xli. 6 (sprung ver. 23): stale Gen. xxxi. 20; 2 Kin. xi. 2 (stole 2 Sam. xv. 6; 2 Chr. xxii. 11 in 1611): strooke 1 Sam. ii. 14; 2 Chr. xiii. 20 (sic, 1611); 1 Esdr. iv. 30 (stroke 2 Macc. i. 16; Matt. xxvi. 51; Luke xxii. 64; John xviii. 22, also strake 2 Sam. xii. 15; xx. 10: never struck): stunk Ex. vii. 21 (stank ch. viii. 14 in 1611): sung Ezra iii. 11: swore 1 Macc. vii. 35: wan 1 Macc. i. 2; xii. 33 (sic, 1611); 2 Macc. x. 17; xii. 28 (won 2 Macc. xv. 9 in 1611). Among past participles may be noted (wast) begot Eccles. vii. 28: (his) hid (things) Obad. 6: (have) sit Eccles. xi. 5. It would have been well to have retained lien (which even modern Bibles keep in Ps. lxviii. 13) for lain in Num. v. 19, 20, as we have in the other places, Judg. xxi. 11; Job iii. 13; John xi. 17. Other verbal forms deserving notice are oweth Lev. xiv. 35; Acts xxi. 11, and ought Matt. xviii. 24, 28; Luke vii. 41, which were not changed into owneth and owed respectively till after 1638: lese (lose 1762) 1 Kin. xviii. 5. The noun flixe (flix 1629) was corrupted into flux in Acts xxviii. 8 as early as 1699.

It is hard to discover any intelligible principle which guided the editors of 1762 and 1769 in their vexatious changes of several particles into their cognate forms. Thus for amongst they print among 81 times, for towards they print toward 121 times, for besides they give beside 44 times¹, yet keep the forms they dislike so often that it is plain they have no design to disuse them altogether. Such wanton, or perhaps merely careless, variations are cancelled in this volume. Nor can there be any good ground for turning sith into since as does Dr Paris in Jer. xv. 7; Zech. iv. 10 marg.; 2 Esdr. vii. 53, and Blayney in Jer. xxiii. 38, the rather as sith is in our modern Bibles Ezek. xxxv. 6: sithence in 2 Esdr. x. 14 was modernized into since as early as 1616, so that it must have been going out of use even then. All our Bibles preserve whiles in 2 Macc. ix. 9; x. 36, yet in Ps. xlix. 18 while is printed in 1762; in Isai. lxxv. 24 whiles in 1769 becomes while; whilst becomes while in Heb. iii. 15; ix. 17 in the books of 1629; in 2 Macc. vii. 24 whilst is substituted for whiles in 1629. The interchanges between to and unto in Gen. xxv. 33 (1629 Lond.); 1 Kin. xxii. 53 (1616); 1 Macc. vii. 20 (1629 Camb.); Luke xx. 42 (1616); 2 Cor. xi. 9 (1629 Camb.) are not very intelligible. Amidst all this unmeaning tampering with the text, the several editors, especially those of 1762 and 1769, carried out fully at least two things on which they had set their minds: they got rid of the quaint old mo for more (spelt mo in the Bible of 1638) from the 35 places in which it occurs in the standard copies, and in 364 places they have altered the nominative plural you into ye, besides that Blayney makes the opposite change in Build you Num. xxxii. 24; Wash you Isai. i. 16; Get you Zech. vi. 7; Turn you Zech. ix. 12. In one particular the orthography of modern Bibles has been acquiesced in. The word midst is often spelt in the Authorized Bibles as middest, about Ezekiel and some of the later Prophets almost constantly for a time. This form, however strange to our eyes, would have the advantage of suggesting the true character of the word as a superlative adjective; but the spelling varies so much between midst, middest, midest (Judith vi. 11), *midde*s (Ps. cxvi. 19; Acts xxvii. 21; Phil. ii. 15) and mids (Jer. xxxvii. 12; Hist. Susanna ver. 34, 48, &c.), that it seemed safer to fall back on our general rule of adopting that one out of several forms which best suits the modern usage.

The practice of the Authorized Version with respect to placing the indefinite article a or an before a word beginning with h calls for some consideration, the rather as modern Bibles, with the exception of the American (see p. xxiii.) which conforms to present usage, have made no systematic or important changes regarding it. It would seem indeed as if a were but an abridged form of an, the n being dropped before an initial consonant proper, and only subsequently, under certain limitations, before h aspirated. Thus Chaucer's use an halle, an hare, an herth, is uniform, and the fashion maintained its ground far into the sixteenth century. In the earliest draft of our English Litany, contained in the King's Primer of 1545, we read, "an heart to love and dread thee," as it still remains in the Book of Common Prayer; and such cases as a harpe 1 Sam. x. 5, a hert Eccles. xvii. 6 in Coverdale's Bible of 1535 are quite rare, though no doubt the custom of dropping the n had already begun. In the Authorized Version of 1611 we mark a further step in the same direction. As a general rule an is there retained before the sounded h, though the exceptions are more numerous than some have supposed, and suggest to the modern editor the propriety of conforming the Bible to the now universal habit of the best English writers. The following list will shew how the matter stands in the original books:

An habergeon Ex. xxviii. 32; xxxix. 23¹; an habit Heb. v. 14 marg.; a habitation Jer. xxxiii. 12 up to 1629 Camb., 1630, but an in 8 places: an Hachmonite 1 Chr. xi. 11; a hair 1 Kin. i. 52²; Luke xxi. 18 up to 1629 Camb. and Lond., 1630, an in 3 places: a hairy Gen. xxvii. 11, an twice: a half Ex. xxv. 10 (1st and 3rd, an in 2nd until 1629), 17, 23; xxxvi. 21; xxxvii. 1 (her), 10; Ezek. xl. 42 (2nd); 2 Esdr. xiii. 45, but an in 16 places: a hammer Jer. xxiii. 29, an hammer Judg. iv. 21; a hand Ex. xix. 13 up to 1638, but an 5 times: an handbreadth 7 times: an handfid 5 times: a handmaid Gen. xxix. 24 up to the two editions of 1629, but an twice: an hanging thrice: a happy 2 Macc. vii. 24; a hard 2 Kin. ii. 10; Ps. xxxi. 18 marg.;

Camb., 1638, 1744, 1762) will not affect the sense, as may be seen from ver. 19, where the Hebrew is virtually the same. Both forms of the English word then meant "except," which is the signification here.

(an 1762); 1 Chr. xvii. 5 (an both Bibles of 1629); Ps. lxxviii. 6 marg.; Ecclus. xxi. 18; 1 Macc. vii. 37; Mark iii. 25; Luke xi. 17 (bis), but an house 84 times: an householder Matt. xiii. 52; xx. 1; an hovel Job xxv. 36; Zeph. i. 10.

An huckster Ecclus. xxvi. 29; an humble Prov. xvi. 19; Song, ver. 16 is probably true, and is so represented in the American Bible: a hungry Isai. xxix. 8 up to 1762, 2 Esdr. xvi. 6 up to 1629, but an Ecclus. iv. 2; a husband Ruth i. 12 (once out of 3 times, but an thrice in 1762); Jer. xxxi. 32 marg. (not text) up to 1629 Camb.; Ecclus. iv. 10, but an 15 times: an husbandman Gen. ix. 20; Zech. xiii. 5.

An hymn Matt. xxvi. 30; Mark xiv. 26; an hypocrite Job xiii. 16; Prov. xi. 9; Isai. ix. 17; Ecclus. i. 29; xxxiii. 2: an hypocritical Isai. x. 6.

This variable and inconsistent practice of the Authorized Bible, rather concealed than remedied in later editions, will probably be allowed to justify our rejection of the n of the indefinite article, whensoever modern usage shall demand it. In the case of the word hundred alone this has not been done, as well because that out of the 150 places or more wherein hundred occurs a is found before it only in six (Ex. xxxviii. 9; Judg. xx. 10 once; 1 Kin. vii. 2; Isai. xxxvii. 36; Ecclus. xli. 4; 1 Macc. vii. 41), whereof all but Isai. xxxvii. 36 are corrected in subsequent copies, as especially because an hundred is still found in some recent writers conspicuous for purity of style. The choice between an hundred (Matt. iv. 2; xii. 1, 3; xxv. 35, 37, 42, 44; Mark ii. 25; Luke vi. 3) and a hundred, which latter does not occur in 1611, is more precarious, inasmuch as here an or a is probably not the article at all, but a prefix expressive of a continued state, as “a building” 2 Chr. xvi. 6; 1 Esdr. vi. 20, “a coming” Luke ix. 42, “a dying” Luke viii. 42; Heb. xi. 21, “a fishing” John xxi. 3, “a preparing” 1 Pet. iii. 20 (where, however, a might represent the prepositions *at*² or on), athirst Matt. xxv. 44, for which thirsty is substituted in ver. 35, 37, 42, where the connection with an hundred is not so close³. An is also made to precede to in three passages of the standard Bibles, an whole Num. x. 2 up to 1762 (but not in Num. xi. 20), an whore Prov. xxiii. 27 also up to 1762; 2 Esdr. xvi. 49 altered after 1638. Such a one, where the sound is cognate to that of to, should be the form taken if we acquiesce in a before whole, &c., and is adopted by our Translators in Gen. xli. 38; Ruth iv. 1; Ps. l. 21 (an 1762); lxxviii. 21 (an 1762); Ecclus. xxvi. 28 (an

My and mine, thy and thine, should of course be used respectively as a and an before a consonant, or vowel, or h; but neither the original Translators nor later editors have shewn any knowledge of the fact, so that in the present volume it has been deemed advisable to follow the Bible of 1611 exactly in this respect, the earlier issue a little in preference to the other. The changes introduced in more recent books are apparently capricious or accidental, being as often wrong as right. Thus if my of 1611 is turned into mine before integrity Job xxvii. 5 in 1762, and mine correctly changed into my before head by the same, Luke vii. 46; the opposite alterations of my for mine before eyelids Job xvi. 16 in 1617, of thy for thine before eyes Job xv. 12 in 1769, and of thine for thy before hands 1 Macc. xv. 7 in 1629, prove clearly that they had no principle to guide them in the matter. Mutations of these forms made for the better in later Bibles will be seen in Deut. xvi. 15 and xviii. 4 (1769); Isai. lxiv. 8 (1629 Camb.); Ezek. xvi. 11 (1762); Zech. viii. 6 (1629 Camb.); Tobit ii. 13 and v. 14 (1629); Wisd. viii. 17 (1629); 1 Macc. ii. 18 (1629); Luke xiii. 12 (1616); 2 Cor. xi. 26 (1629, both books). Those changed for the worse are Deut. ii. 24 and xv. 7 (1769); Ruth ii. 13 (2nd) and 1 Sam. ii. 35 (1629, both books); Job xxxi. 7 (1762); xl. 4 (1629 Camb.); Ps. cxvi. 16 (later than 1638); Eccles. iii. 18 (1629 Lond.); 2 Esdr. x. 55 and Eccclus. v. 8 (1629); Eccclus. li. 2 (1629, 1630). These passages may be verified by comparing any modern Bible with the present volume.

The apparent solecisms also and unusual grammatical constructions of our standard of 1611 have been scrupulously retained, without any attempt to amend them. Such as they are, they comprise an integral part of the Translation, and preserve phrases once legitimate enough, which have since grown obsolete. Later editors have but ill spent their pains in partial attempts to remove or conceal them. Some, indeed, violate the concord of the verb with its subject, as Ex. ix. 31 "the flax and the barley was smitten," as in the Hebrew:

"tidings is brought" 2 Sam. xviii. 31 marg.: "thou wast he that leddest" 1 Chr. xi. 2: "earth and water was wont" Judith ii. 7 marg.: "the number of names together were" Acts i. 15¹: "a great company...were obedient" Acts vi. 7, as in the Greek: "riches is..." Rev. xviii. 17. In 1 Cor. vii. 32, however, we have acquiesced in "the things that belong" (see Appendix A), "belong" being substituted for "belongeth" as early as 1612. These faults may be imputed to venial carelessness, to the momentary relaxing of close attention which every one is sensible of in the course of a long task. At other times our version reminds the reader of some racy idiomatic expression which once formed a part of the spoken or even of the written language of our ancestors. A good example of this kind of archaism, which the best grammarians even now hesitate to condemn, is the double genitive in such cases as Gen. xxxi. 1 and the rest, given in Appendix C, p. xci., and note 3. The opposite practice of suppressing the sign of the possessive altogether, which survives in modern Bibles in Judg. iii. 16 "of a cubit length," is found in 1611 in Lev. vii. 23; xiv. 54 (Appendix C in loco); xxv. 5 "it² own accord"; and in one issue, Esther i. 13 "the king manner" (Appendix B, p. lxxxix.): it was never removed from Rev. xviii. 12 (bis). It may be stated here that the habit of placing the apostrophe before or after s to indicate the possessive case, singular or plural respectively, was first adopted by the editor of 1762 in part, more consistently by Blayney, yet with so little care that not very few errors in the placing of the apostrophe, such as one glance at the original would have detected, have clung to our common Bibles to this day, and have been left for us to set right. These are all noted in Appendix A (see p. lxi., note 4), and being of modern date, are distinguished by being placed within brackets: e.g.

² The only place in our version where "it" occurs in the possessive case, although much wanted in Num. xx. 8; Zech. iv. 2. See Mr Aldis Wright's full note on "It" in his Bible Word-book, and Bain, English Grammar, p. 87.

1 Sam. ii. 13; 1 Chr. vii. 2, 40. Since there exists no doubt that this s represents the Anglo-Saxon possessive ending -es (-is more often in Old English) it is manifest that the possessive his standing after the possessing noun is a mere error. We have accordingly adopted the changes of 1762, "Asa's heart" 1 Kin. xv. 14 for "Asa his heart" (Bishops'); "Mordecai's matters" Esther iii. 4 for "Mordecai his matters"; elsewhere retaining the original form in 1 Esdr. ii. 30; iii. 7, 8; Judith xiii. 9; xv. 11; 2 Macc. i. 33 margin; iv. 38; xii. 22 (Bishops'), all in the debased style of the Apocrypha (see Sect. vii. p. lxxv.). The antiquated singular for plural with the word "year" has been kept in 2 Kin. xxiii. 36; Jer. lii. 1; Dan. v. 31; Amos i. 1; 1 Esdr. i. 39; 1 Macc. ix. 57; 2 Macc. iv. 23; Rom. iv. 19 (see App. C in locis citatis). In like manner we have "two mile" John xi. 18 margin. (App. C): "three pound" 1 Kin. x. 17; Ezra ii. 69; Neh. vii. 71, 72; 1 Macc. xiv. 24; xv. 18; John xix. 39; "thirty change" Judg. xiv. 12, 13; "thirty foot" Ezek. xli. 6 margin: so "an eight days" Luke ix. 28: these last have never been altered. The use of the cardinal for the ordinal number we have suppressed only four times, the earliest being Gen. viii. 13, on which passage in Appendix A, note 2, the case is stated. Nor have we meddled with a few manifest inaccuracies of other kinds, most of which the hands even of Dr Blayney have spared. Such are the pronouns pleonastic in "which pains...they slack not" 2 Esdr. xvi. 38; "Onias...he went" 2 Macc. iv. 4, 5¹: the double negatives in "shall not leave...neither name nor..." 2 Sam. xiv. 7; "Give none offence, neither...nor..." 1 Cor. x. 32. The objective in the place of the nominative in "him that soweth" Prov. vi. 19 was corrected in 1769; it is less clear that "whom" is wrong in Matt. xvi. 13, 15; Acts xiii. 25. The use of the adjective for the adverb is not unfrequent in the Authorized Version (Eph. iv. 1; 1 Thess. ii. 12; 2 Pet. ii. 6), and has not been disturbed even in so extreme a case as "wonderful great" 2 Chr. ii. 9. Double superlatives, "most straitest" Acts xxvi. 5; "chiefest" Mark x. 44, and the places cited in the margin there, have ceased to displease by reason of their very familiarity. Verbs transitive and intransitive are sometimes confounded; e.g. "lying in wait" Acts xx. 19 compared with "laying await" Acts ix. 24; "to be heat" Dan. iii. 19; "shall ripe" 2 Esdr. xvi. 26; "will fat" Eccclus. xxvi. 13 (see Appendix C, p. xcv., for the last three); "can white" Mark ix. 3; compare "did fear" Wisd. xvii. 9. The following errors have not been touched, the first three being imported from the Bishops' version, "that we should live still in wickedness and to suffer, and not to know wherefore" 2 Esdr. iv. 12; "if any man knew where he were" John xi. 57; "or ever he come near" Acts xxiii. 15; "if we know that he hear us" 1 John v. 15 (Bishops', after Tyndale). The next instance seems to have been influenced by the Greek (like Acts vii. 39), "she took it, and laid it on her mule; and made ready her carts, and laid them (αὐτὰ) thereon" Judith xv. 11.

A few miscellaneous observations may close this branch of the subject.

The more English prefix un- in the place of im- or in- has been restored in all eleven passages where it was given in 1611; even modern Bibles keep unperfect, Ps. cxxxix. 16. This form chiefly comes from the Bishops' version; except those cases cited on Matt. xvii. 20 in Appendix C, it is found only in Wisdom and Ecclesiasticus. To set s after the Hebrew termination -im (Gen. iii. 24; Ex. xxv. 18; xxvi. 1, &c.) is a manifest inaccuracy, and if the American rule (Report, &c. p. 22) had been adopted of rejecting the s throughout, no valid objection could have been raised. The middle course taken in recent English editions, that of sometimes making the required change and sometimes not, admits of no reasonable defence. We have simply abided by the standard of 1611 in every instance, not caring to adopt even such changes as that set down in Appendix C on Gen. xxvi. 1. In regard to the interjection O or Oh, the American plan (ubi supra) looks tempting from its simplicity, since it limits O to the pure vocative, and employs Oh for the optative, which practically introduces the latter into the great majority of places. But Oh in English is neither dignified nor pleasing enough for constant repetition, and after a fruitless attempt to discover the law observed by our Translators, it has been judged advisable to limit Oh to passages where the optative sense is very decided, as when it answers to the Hebrew נִסְּ Gen. xix. 18, 20, or נִסְּ 1 Chr. iv. 10, or נִסְּ Ps. cxvi. 16, or נִסְּ Isai. xxix. 1 marg.: it would probably be better to banish Oh altogether. The intensive forms of certain words are occasionally put for the weaker, and vice versa, perhaps for euphony: thus bide Rom. xi. 23 becomes abide, ware in Matt. xxiv. 50 becomes aware (see App. C in loco), both in 1762: rise becomes arise 1 Sam. xxiv. 8 (both books of 1629, 1630); xxv. 42 (1629 Camb., which makes the opposite change in ch. xxviii. 25); 2 Sam. xix. 8 (1629 Lond.); Tobit xii. 21 (1638); 1 Macc. ix. 23 (1769); Mark x. 1 (1629 Camb.); Luke viii. 24 (1616). In Gen. xi. 3 thoroughly best represents thoroughly of 1611, though the latter has throughly in Ex. xxi. 19 (where thoroughly of 1762 should be withdrawn from our text); 2 Kin. xi. 18; Job vi. 2. Lastly, it ought to be stated that the diphthongs æ and œ occur only in that small Roman type which in the Bibles of 1611 answers to our italic, and have no corresponding characters in the black letter in which the text is printed. In this way we mark Cæsars Phil. i. 13 marg., chenix Rev. vi. 6 marg., the same character being set up in both places. In fact, a simple e represented both these diphthongs in the ordinary Bibles until after Blayney's time, when they gradually came into use, though they are wanting in the latest copies for Nagge Luke iii. 25, Menan ver. 31, Colosse Col. i. 2, nor do they exist at all in the American book, except in chenix. In 1611 indeed they found more favour than afterwards, for besides the margins afore-mentioned, we meet with Coclosyria in 1 Esdr. ii. 17, &c., Aenon John iii. 23, which double vowels, after having been made real diphthongs in 1630, and partly in both books of 1629, were converted into simple e in the influential edition of 1638.

The employment of capital letters was much more free in the seventeenth century than at present, and in the Authorized Version whole classes of words that seem little entitled to that distinction are constantly so represented. Such are Altar, Ark, Court, Hanging, Mercy-seat, Noble, Priest, Sabbath, Statutes, Tabernacle; even Cedar-wood, Shittim-wood, &c. The tendency of later times has been to diminish such capitals very considerably, and in a few instances the moderns may have gone a little too far. Cherubims has a capital now only in Gen. iii. 24, and the Americans seem right in removing it thence. Archbishop Trench would restore the lost capital in "Vengeance" Acts xxviii. 4, which is not in the Bishops' Bible, and was withdrawn as early as 1629 (both editions), but then we must treat Wisd. xi. 20 in the same way, for the personification is just as strongly marked, though the initial v is small in 1611. Ordinary words also, when pregnant with sacred associations, may wisely be distinguished by a capital. Such are Testimony Ex. xvi. 34, &c., Witness Num. xvii. 7, 8, &c., especially in Acts vii. 44, where in 1611 the w is small. But indeed the practice of our Translators in this matter is little more consistent than in certain others. Thus we have "the city of Salt" Josh. xv. 62, but "the valley of salt" 2 Sam. viii. 13, in all our books from 1611 downwards. With Mr Gorle we prefer no capital, where the character rather than the name of the region is designated. Sometimes an initial capital is useful to intimate a change of speaker, as in John iv. 9, where "For" of 1611 ("for" 1629 Camb., &c.) shews that the woman's speech is already ended¹.

But what in most instances is only a matter of taste or propriety, becomes of real importance where the Divine Persons are spoken of. The familiar rule that Spirit should have a capital when the Holy Ghost or Spirit Himself is indicated, while spirit ought to be used in other cases, even when His power or influence is referred to, may be as safe as any, yet in application it gives rise to occasional perplexity, which the inconsistencies of the standard and other editions do little to remove. Thus in Gen. xli. 38 the Bible of 1611 has spirit (changed as early as 1613, though Spirit was not finally adopted before 1762), while in the precise parallel (Ex. xxxi. 3) it reads Spirit. The original edition is right also in 2 Chr. xxiv. 20 (s); Ps. cxxxix. 7 (s); Isai. xi. 2 (S, and s three times); xxx. 1 (S); lix. 19 (s); Matt. iv. 1 (S); Mark i. 12 (S); Acts x. 19 (s, as ch. xi. 12, 28); Rom. i. 4 (S); 1 John v. 8 (S, as all ver. 6), against some or many later Bibles, but wrongly has S Num. xi. 17, 25 (bis),

¹ James iv. 5 is less easy to deal with. In 1611 we have "the spirit," but from 1629 (both editions) "The spirit" has prevailed, as if a quotation began at this point, which is hardly true.

29. In 2 Esdr. vi. 39 Spiritus calls for the capital, when the verse is compared with Gen. i. 2, though none hitherto have so printed it, whereas spiramen 2 Esdr. xvi. 62 requires the opposite. Thus every case must be considered on its own merits. So again, while we admit that "Son of God" or "Son of man," wheresoever the word refers to the Lord Christ, should invariably have a capital letter¹, we may legitimately question its propriety in Dan. iii. 25; vii. 13, where it does not appear in 1611: the analogy of Rev. i. 13 has persuaded us to receive S from the books of 1629 (Lond.), 1630. Appellations derived from the Divine attributes we have indicated by capitals, whatever the variations of editions, being more studious of uniformity in such matters than of following the inconsistencies of those that have preceded us. Thus, when relating to God, we have Author (Wisd. xiii. 3), Father, the Most High, the Holy One, *Maker*², Mighty One, *Redeemer*³, *Saviour*⁴. As regards Scripture, we abide by the ordinary rule of using the capital where the whole body of Holy Writ is meant (e.g. John v. 39, to which might be added 2 Tim. iii. 15, 16), the small s where some particular portion is referred to⁵.

SECTION VI.

On the references to parallel texts of Scripture which are set in the margin.

A large proportion of the time and labour bestowed on the present volume has been spent upon the references to parallel texts which are set in the margin. The Authorized Version only followed the example of earlier English translations in providing these materials for the exact study of Holy Scripture by means of comparing one portion of it with others. In fact, more than half the references contained in the edition of 1611 are derived from manuscript and printed copies of the Vulgate Latin Bible, and thus present to us the fruits of the researches of mediæval scholars and the traditional expositions of the Western Church. The references found in the standard of 1611, however, scarcely amount to a seventh part of those printed in modern Bibles, and have been computed not to exceed nine thousand⁶; the whole of which, inasmuch as they must be regarded as an integral portion of the Translators' work, have been scrupulously retained in this volume; except only a few where the reference is hopelessly wrong. Such are Chap. xvi. 15 in the margin of 2 Sam. xix. 19; Eccles. v. 12 in that of Job xx. 19; Judg. xiii. 21 in that of Ps. cvi. 2; Judg. vii. 19 in that of Ps. cvi. 6. Sometimes they appear to have mistaken the drift or meaning of the passage; e.g. 1 Chron. ix. set over against Neh. xii. 23, where our existing books of the Chronicles are scarcely meant at all: Prov. xv. 30 as parallel to Eccles. vii. 1; Ps. cxxxii. 6 as parallel to Jer. vii. 14; and 2 Macc. iii. 4 referred to in Eccles. i. 1, although quite a different person is meant: the last two have disappeared from modern Bibles. Occasionally, indeed, the original reference has been preserved by us, where it would hardly have been accepted on its own merits: such is the case of Ex. xxxiv. 6 in the margin of Neh. ix. 32; Deut. vii. 1, (2) in that of Ps. cxlix. 9; Ps. l. 9 in that of Prov. xxi. 27; Isai. liii. 3 in that of Wisd. ii. 15; 2 Cor. iii. 17 in that of John iv. 24; Matt. xxviii. 19 in that of John xv. 16; Mark ix. 12 (from the Vulgate) in Isai. liii. 3; Rom. vii. 9 in 1 Thess. iii. 8⁷. The doubtful appropriateness of these references is occasionally indicated by annexing to them the note of interrogation (?). As

² As in 1611, "maker" has no capital in Isai. xlv. 9, 11, where a contrast is intended with the "makers" of idols.

³ So (against the standard of 1611) we read in Prov. xxiii. 11, comparing Job xix. 25.

⁴ Yet not so with 1611 in Ps. cvi. 21, since temporal deliverance seems to be intended: cf. Judg. iii. 9 margin.

⁵ For the small capitals, by which our Translation represents the Hebrew JEHOVAH, see Appendix A, p. lxxiii., note 1.

⁷ In Amos ii. 1 the reference of 1611 to 2 Kin. iii. 27 has been retained, because the heading to the latter chapter renders it plain that our Translators supposed (wrongly, as it would seem) that the king of Edom's son was sacrificed.

we cannot praise very highly the typographical correctness of the Bibles of 1611 in other particulars (see p. xii.), so it must be stated that no other portion of the work is so carelessly printed as these parallel texts, each issue having a few errors peculiar to itself¹, but few leaves indeed being exempt from some gross fault common to them both. The references to the Psalms direct us constantly to the wrong verse: namely, that of the Latin Vulgate from which they were first derived, not to that of the English Bible on whose pages they stand. The marks of reference from the text to the margin are so often misplaced, that it would be endless to enumerate glaring errors in regard to them which have long since been removed.

One of the main services rendered by the revisers of the Cambridge folios of 1629 and 1638 was the setting right these vexatious inaccuracies of the earlier books, which toilsome duty they performed very thoroughly, leaving to their successors the more congenial employment of adding largely to the original texts, a liberty which seems to have been taken by almost every one who prepared a special edition. Whosoever a reference had once found its way into the margin, there it was allowed to remain, unchallenged and even unexamined, however frivolous or mistaken it might be. Moreover, in recent Bibles that do not contain the Apocryphal books, all references drawn from them by our Translators have been summarily rejected, through the same unwarrantable licence which led later editors to expunge altogether the marginal note in 1 Chr. vii. 28 (see Appendix A, pp. lxxxii. note 1, lxxxiii. note 2), and to mutilate that on Acts xiii. 18 by striking out the reference to 2 Macc. vii. 27. All such Apocryphal texts, together with a few others dropped through apparent inadvertence, have in the present volume been restored to their rightful places. The parallel references in the Apocrypha itself have been largely increased, as well for other purposes, as with a view to illustrate the style of the Greek New Testament.

The textual references which have been gradually accumulating in the margins of our modern Bibles have here been received or expunged solely on their own merits: they have no such general reception to plead in their favour as those in the standard of 1611. Many of them are excellent, and help much for the right understanding of Scripture: these, after having been verified more than once, as well in the original tongues as in the Authorized Version, have of course been retained. Of the rest, a larger portion than might have been anticipated have been judged irrelevant, questionable, or even untrue. No editions are more open to criticism in this particular than those of Dr Paris (1762) and of Dr Blayney (1769), who between them added at least half as many references as they found already existing. The worst errors, because unlearned readers cannot discover or so much as suspect them, relate to parallelisms which are true in the English, false in the Hebrew or Greek. Such are Judg. ix. 27 cited at Judg. xvi. 25 (1769): 1 Chr. v. 26 cited at 1 Kin. xi. 14 (1769): 1 Sam. xii. 21 (1762) and Isai. xli. 29 (1769) cited at 1 Kin. xvi. 13: 1 Sam. ix. 9 cited at 1 Chr. xxi. 9 (1762): Ruth i. 21 cited at Job x. 17 (1769): Hos. xi. 12 cited at Ps. cxxxii. 16 (1762): Ex. xxviii. 36; xxix. 6; Lev. viii. 9 cited at Zech. vi. 11 (1769): John xix. 40 cited at Acts v. 6 and vice versâ (1762). Even in the Bible of 1611 we have Gen. iv. 4 made to illustrate Num. xvi. 15, although the resemblance is far less exact than the English might make it appear. References objectionable on more general grounds, some few being scarcely intelligible, are Num. ii. 3, 10, 18, 25 to illustrate Ezek. i. 10 (1762): the marvellous comment implied by citing John i. 14; Col. ii. 9 in Rev. xiii. 6, and 2 Kin. xx. 7 in Rev. xiii. 14 (both due to 1762): the allusions to the Great day of Atonement in Jer. xxxvi. 6 (1762 and 1769), whereas some special fast is obviously meant (ver. 9): the hopeless confusion arising from connecting Acts xx. 1, 3 with 1 Tim. i. 3 (1762): the tasteless quotation of 1 Sam. xxiv. 3 in Jonah i. 5 (1762). Hardly less false are John x. 23 cited at 1 Kin. vii. 12 (1762) and Acts iii. 11 (1762): 1 Chr. xxiv. 10 and Luke i. 5 made parallel to Neh. xii. 4, 17 (1762): Josh. xiv. 10 to Matt. iii. 1 (1762): while Ex. xxiii. 2 employed to explain Job xxxi. 34

(1769); Esther vii. 8 compared with Prov. x. 6 (1769); 1 Kin. v. 17, 18 with Prov. xxiv. 27 (1769); Ps. lxxviii. 4 with Isai. xl. 3 (1762); Dan. iv. 27 with Eccles. xxxv. 3 (1762), will be regarded as but slender helps to the student of Scripture. In 2 Macc. ii. 8 the allusion surely is to Ex. xl. 38, not (as in 1762) to Ex. xxxiv. 5. Finally, the note of interrogation is annexed in these pages to some overbold, though not impossible, suggestions of the more recent editors, as when in Ps. cxxxiii. 3 the reference to Deut. iv. 48 (1762) would identify יְיָ with יְשׁוּעָה.

We can only conjecture that the "Scotch edition" of which Dr Blayney speaks so vaguely in his Report to the Delegates (see Appendix D, p. xcix.) was that of Brown of Haddington, then just published. The parallel texts of Canne (1664, 1682), though often surprisingly wide of the mark, are said by those who have patiently used them to be at times very suggestive, and to contain more truth than might appear on the surface¹. The editor of Bagster's Miniature Quarto Bible 1846, while "admitting without examination the references of Blayney, Scott [1822], Clarke [1810, &c.] and the English Version of Bagster's Polyglot, from their acknowledged accuracy," held himself obliged "to verify all that were found in Canne, Brown, and Wilson [i.e. Crutwell, 1785, p. xcix., note 2]; the aggregate number, it is believed, being nearly half a million" (Preface, p. i.). It is plain that so numerous a host can prove little else than an encumbrance to the private Christian, by positively discouraging him from resorting to the margin at all, and even earnest students will often be sensible of the danger incurred by such burdensome and minute commentaries, lest, "after all, the design and scope of the whole may not be understood, while the reader's mind stays so long in the several parts" (Bp. Patrick, Dedication to Paraphrase of Job). Bagster's publications have been so perpetually consulted in cases of difficulty for the purposes of the present volume, that the editor may fairly express his regret that what is intrinsically valuable in them should be buried under a heap of irrelevant matter. Less full, but on the whole more profitable for study, is the collection of texts in the Religious Tract Society's "Annotated Paragraph Bible" of 1861, but here too, as in Bagster's books, nearly all the old matter is adopted without any attempt at revision, or apparent consciousness of the need of it. That the additions made in the present work to the store of already existing references will by many be deemed too copious, their compiler is painfully aware. He can only plead in self-defence that he has aimed at brevity throughout; that no single text has been accepted as parallel which did not seem to him really illustrative either of the sense or language of Scripture; and that all the materials, whether new or old, have been digested into such a shape as, it is hoped, will prove convenient for practical use; while the form in which they are given will afford some indication as to their respective characters and relative values. With this last end in view, the reader's attention is directed to the following simple rules, on which the collection of textual references in the margin of this volume has been constructed and arranged.

(1) When the parallel between the passage in the text and that in the margin, whether it be verbal or relate to the general sense, is as exact as the subject allows, the marginal text stands with no prefix: e.g. 2 Cor. iv. 6 cited in the margin of Gen. i. 3.

(2) If "So" stand before the marginal text, it indicates that the parallel, although real, is less complete, or that the language is more or less varied in the two places: e.g. 2 Chr. xiii. 9 “^sno gods” being exactly like Jer. v. 7, but less closely akin to Deut. xxxii. 21, the marginal note is thus expressed “^sJer. 5. 7. So Deut. 32. 21.” Again, Job. xi. 10 “¹shut up,” being precisely identical with Lev. xiii. 4, while in Job xii. 14 the Hebrew verb is of a different conjugation, the margin runs “¹Lev. 13. 4, &c. So ch. 12. 14¹.”

(3) If instead of “So,” the word “Compare” or “Comp.” be prefixed, it is intimated that the resemblance is slighter and less direct, or even that there is a seeming inconsistency between the two places: e.g. 2 Kin. ii. 11 in the margin of Gen. v. 24, where the events recorded are not in all respects analogous. So also “^fComp. 2 Kin. 8. 26. and ch. 21. 20” annexed to 2 Chr. xxii. 2, to draw attention to the numerical difficulty. Such phrases as “Supplied from” in the margin of 2 Sam. xxi. 19; “Expressed in” Ex. xxiii. 2; “Expressed” Judg. vii. 18, will be understood at once by consulting the passages alleged.

(4) Much space has been economised and the constant repetition of a body of texts, all bearing on the same point, avoided, by setting them down once for all in full, and elsewhere referring the reader to that place by means of the word “See.” Thus “See 1 Chr. 29. 14” in the margin of 2 Chr. ii. 6, directs the reader to a place where all extant examples of a certain idiom had already been brought together. In Num. ix. 15, “See Ex. 13. 21” shews that the latter place contains a collection of the texts relating to the pillars of cloud and fire. This method has been much employed in regard to Proper names both of places and persons. It should also be stated that where passages of the New Testament are noticed as “Cited from” the Old, it has been judged needless to repeat the textual references previously set down in the corresponding places from which the citation is made: e.g. Matt. xxii. 37, 39, 44.

(5) When the parallelism extends to a whole paragraph, or indeed to any portion of the sacred text exceeding a single verse, the fact is carefully indicated by a peculiar notation. Thus in the margin of Ex. xxi. 1, “To ver. 17, Deut. 5. 6—21” (the name of the book being printed in italic type) intimates that Ex. xx. 1—17 is in substance identical with Deut. v. 6—21. Such instances occur very frequently, especially in the books of Samuel and Kings compared with Chronicles, and in the first three or Synoptic Gospels. Here again it has not been thought advisable to repeat in a later passage the textual references already given in an earlier passage in great measure resembling it. Such as are found in the second passage either belong to it alone, or are intended to direct attention to its divergencies from the first one: e.g. “Compare 2 Sam. 10. 18” in the margin of 1 Chr. xix. 18.

(6) The parallel is frequently a real one in the original tongues, although it appears faintly or not at all in the Authorized Version. In this case (Heb.), (Chald.), or (Gk.), as the case may be, is annexed to the citation, to give notice of the fact: e.g. Lev. xi. 17. Where several texts are cited, and this is true of two or more of them, the expression is varied to “in the Heb.,” “in the Gk.”: e.g. Deut. xxxiii. 27, where the notation happens to relate to all the three places in the Psalms. Whensoever, in the margin of the New Testament, (Gk.) is set after a quotation from the Old, it is intimated that the Septuagint version agrees with the New Testament: e.g. Matt. xxvi. 12. In a few instances, and for special reasons, the word (Septuagint) has been printed at length.

(7) If, on the contrary, the resemblance between two or more passages belong only to the English, and have no respect to the original, (Eng.) or (English) is added to the quotation. Such notices are designed to gather in one view words nearly obsolete, or otherwise to throw light upon the phraseology of the Authorized Version: e.g. Gen. xlv. 6; 1 Sam. ix. 5; 1 Kin. xx. 11; 2 Chr. xxvi. 14; Dan. vi. 3; 2 Esdr. xvi. 49; Tobit iv. 14; vi. 12; Matt. x. 10; xiii. 20; xiv. 8; xvii. 12, 25; xx. 11; xxiv. 48; xxvi. 67; xxvii. 39; Mark x. 44; Luke i. 54; vi. 32; vii. 4; viii. 23; xiv. 32; 1 Tim. ii. 9. Compare Judg. xii. 14.

(8) Lastly, as a note of interrogation (?) has been used to bring into question the references both of the standard of 1611 (p. lv.), and of preceding editors (p. lvii.), so it has been occasionally employed for the same purpose with certain that appear in the present volume either alone, or with little countenance elsewhere: e.g. "1 Chr. 27. 21" cited for "Iddo" in 1 Kin. iv. 14. Names of places and persons are frequently so marked, if the orthography be somewhat varied: e.g. "Ramah," Josh. xviii. 24. In Judg. xviii. 30, by illustrating "Gershom" from "Ex. 2. 22? & 18. 3?" attention is directed to the proposed substitution of "Moses" instead of "Manasseh," a reading both probable in itself, and supported by weighty and varied authorities. In the same spirit, an attempt has frequently been made to convey some notion of the relative value of the marginal renderings (see Section 11.) as compared with those in the text, by means of passages cited by us to illustrate one or both of them: e.g. Esther vi. 1; Ps. vi. 6.

Advantage has also been taken of the present opportunity to insert in the margin a great number of passages tending to illustrate the internal connection and relative dates of the several books of the Old Testament, which have been the most subjected in modern times to criticism more or less sober and profound. Such references as are made to the Pentateuch in Judg. xix. 7, 8; 2 Sam. xiv. 7, are so many additional proofs that the diction of the oldest books of the Bible clave to the memory, and was wrought into the literary style even of the earliest surviving writers after the conquest of Canaan. Nothing short of actual collation of parallel texts, undertaken by the student for himself, can cause him to realize the extent to which the peculiar language of the book of Job has influenced those which followed it, or can do justice to its claim to the most venerable antiquity. Thus too the resemblances between Zech. i.—viii. and ix.—xiv. have been diligently recorded: while in regard to the prophecies of Isaiah it may be confidently affirmed that no unprejudiced scholar, who shall but faithfully examine the numberless coincidences both in thought and expression between the first thirty-nine and last twenty-seven chapters of his book (coincidences which are all the more instructive by reason of their often being so minute and sometimes lying below the surface), will ever again admit into his mind the faintest doubt, whether the two several portions of that inspired volume are the production of one author or of more.

The compilation of this virtually new body of textual references has been greatly aided by Wetstein's only too copious collections from the Septuagint in the notes to his Greek Testament (1751—2), and yet more by two laborious volumes, to which the editor has been more largely indebted than he knows how to express;—Canon Wilson's accurate and exhaustive English, Hebrew and Chaldee Lexicon and Concordance (Second edition 1866), especially valuable for the attention paid therein to the marginal notes; and Wigram's Hebraist's Vade Mecum (1867), which, answering as it does many of the purposes of that great desideratum of sacred literature, a real Hebrew Concordance, has been his hourly companion ever since it was published. He has also enjoyed the benefit of using for the Poetical and Prophetic books, that glory of the Clarendon Press, the Origenis Hexaplorum quæ supersunt (1867—1871) of Mr Field; whose Latin version of the Hebrew passages cited throughout the work, by reason of its elegance and precision no less than from an almost instinctive perception of the true sense of the original in cases of difficulty, leaves us nothing to regret save its fragmentary character, and begets in the student an earnest longing for a continuous translation, at least of these harder portions of the Old Testament, from the same able and accomplished hand.

SECTION VII.

Miscellaneous observations relating to the present edition, and general Conclusion.

It is obvious that the practice of printing the English Bible in sections or paragraphs accommodated to the sense (the notation of the chapters and verses being set in the margin), which Mr Reeves the King's Printer introduced early in the present century, and in which he has found so many imitators, is in substance only a return to the fashion that prevailed in our early versions, before the Genevan New Testament of 1557 unfortunately broke up the text into divisions at once so minute and so arbitrary as the verses invented by Robert Stephens. "The subdivision of the books of Sacred Scripture into chapters and verses, without regard to the sense, and frequently to its great injury, has thrown a most serious obstacle in the way of common readers." It has given rise to "a very erroneous impression, that the Bible is rather a collection of apophthegms, or disconnected sentences, than composed of regular histories and treatises on religion, which have their separate topics and connexions." "It is a method peculiar to the Bible, and confined to translations alone. Yet the word of God is not deserving of such an injurious peculiarity as this¹." Thus clearly is the case stated by an editor who seems to have been the first to introduce this simple plan into the United States of America, and who has certainly carried it out with singular skill and discretion.

For indeed the division of the sacred text into sections suitable for general use will not be deemed an easy matter by any one who has assayed it. If we look only to the broad and prominent breaks in a Bible narrative or discourse, they will usually be found too far apart for the reader's convenience: if the subordinate members be separated from each other, the result will often be a virtual return to the discarded verse divisions. Something between these two extremes is to be aimed at, and in this effort there is room as well for much honest difference of opinion, as for the exercise of careful discrimination and a subtil faculty of analysis. From the marks of paragraph division (¶) employed for the first time in the Authorized Version, little help has been derived. They are unequally and capriciously distributed, and in both issues of 1611 and in the Bible of 1613 they cease altogether after Acts xx. 36: nor have they any perceptible connection with the headings of the chapters, hereafter to be mentioned. The editor would have been glad, in the prosecution of this portion of his task, if he could have followed rather than preceded the publication of the new Church Lec-tionary. It is, however, with great satisfaction that on comparing the paragraphs in this volume with the beginnings and endings of the Lessons as appointed by the Royal Commissioners, he has been able to note a resemblance between the two which is quite remarkable, due allowance being always made for the motives which sometimes cause a Church Lesson to commence or leave off at a certain place, irrespective of considerations suggested by the sense.

The poetical portions of the Old Testament and Apocrypha, as well as a very few passages of the New Testament², have been arranged according to the principles first enunciated by Bishop Lowth, and modified and improved upon by his successors. The series of couplets or triplets of parallel lines is furthermore broken everywhere by divisions (similar to those in the prose books) suggested by the sense, which throughout Job (as represented by Delitzsch) and in some of the Psalms (e.g. xlii., xliii., lxxxix.; cvii.) may be regarded as stanzas, often though by no means always of uniform length. The thirteen alphabetical poems³ are distinguished by Hebrew letters at the proper places, so that an English reader may form some notion of the grounds on which the Lowthian system of Hebrew parallelism ultimately rests. Here again a difficulty often occurs which is at times unavoidable in a version made before the true laws of the poetry were ascertained, in that the order of the English, departing for good reasons from that of the original, forbids a correct distribution of the verse into its proper members. Instances may be noticed in Ps. xxxi. 18; lxviii. 23; lxxiv. 6; lxxv. 8; xci. 9; xcvi. 1; cxix. 4; cxx. 1; cxxix. 5; cxxxii. 12; cxxxiv. 3; cxxxvii. 2. Prov. viii. 2, 3; xxiv. 11. Isai. xxviii. 4. Mic. iv. 8. Nah. iii. 3. Zeph. iii. 17. Zech. ix. 1. Mal. i. 3. Ecclus. i. 2, 3; xviii. 6; xxvi. 9; xxxiii. 19; xl. 29; xlviii. 22. Not that we should be over anxious to maintain an equable length for the lines, as Nourse too often does, dividing (for example) Mal. iv. 5, at the word "coming" instead of "prophet," in violation of the sense, and against the Masoretic points, which, through some happy instinct of their authors, seldom lead us wrong. More considerable is the perplexity, in dealing with writers that pass gradually from what might well be deemed poetry into rhetorical prose, and so back again, to determine the precise point at which the poetical structure should begin or terminate. This was found especially the case in Jeremiah and the earlier chapters of Zechariah, wherein another mind might easily arrive at a different result. Portions also of Ecclesiastes (ch. vii. 1—14; x. 1—xii. 7) and 2 Esdras xvi., are imperfectly metrical, though printed as prose; while on the other hand the tone of Zephaniah is less elevated than is usual in poetry. We notice a burst of poetic fervour in so prosaic a book as Daniel (ch. ii. 20—23), while the last prayer of David (1 Chr. xxix. 10—19), which began in the same high strain, gradually sinks to a lower level. Passages of the hymn Neh. ix. 5, &c., are among the latest breathings of an expiring literature of holy song. The opening of Wisdom again is quite as capable of being thrown into parallel lines as Ecclesiasticus, yet as the book proceeds (though it is the work of a single writer and composed on a regular plan) it insensibly swells into the ornate periods of the later Greek style¹. How wholly unsuitable some parts of it are for reduction into parallel lines may be seen in the edition of O. T. Fritzsche (Libri Apocryphi V. T. 1871), who in this matter will find few imitators.

We are very little concerned with the chapters and verses of ordinary Bibles, though they should not be interfered with needlessly. In the Apocryphal additions to Esther, nothing can be more confused or preposterous than the order of the matter and the numbering of the chapters in our own version, and to some extent in the Clementine Vulgate and earlier English Bibles. By adopting Jerome's arrangement, and omitting his explanatory notes, we have as a result, among other inconsistencies, the interpretation of Mardocheus' dream before the dream itself². It is hoped that the directions placed within brackets [] in this volume will prove sufficient for the reader's guidance. In other cases the divisions of chapters have been disregarded without scruple, whensoever they appeared erroneous or unnecessary. Thus with the Hebrews we join Lev. vi. 1—7 with ch. v. Connect also Josh. v. 15 with ch. vi.; Isai. ii. 22 with ch. iii.; Isai. x. 1—4 with ch. ix.; Jer. xix. 14, 15 with ch. xx.; Ezek. xx. 45—50 with ch. xxi. (the parable with its solution), as in the Hebrew (which also rightly joins Hos. xi. 12 with ch. xii.; and Nah. i. 15 with ch. ii.); Amos ii. 1—3, or 1—5, with ch. i.; Ecclus. vi. 1 with ch. v. 15; Matt. xv. 39 to ch. xvi.; xix. 30 to ch. xx.; Mark ix. 1 to ch. viii.; the first clause of Acts viii. to ch. vii.; 1 Cor. xi. 1 to ch. x.; 2 Cor. v. 1 to ch. iv.; vii. 1 to ch. vi.; Col. iv. 1 to ch. iii.; Rev. viii. 1 to ch. vii. Nor can anything be worse than the verse divisions at times, especially in the Old Testament, e.g. Ps. lxxviii. 30, 31; xcv. 7, 8; Isai. i. 16, 17. We may also notice that in the Song of the Three Holy Children the modern verses are, from the commencement, one in advance of those of 1611 (see Appendix A, p. lxxix.), and that the English verses in John i. 38, &c.; Acts ix. 28, 29; xi. 25, 26; xiii. 32, 33; 2 Cor. xiii. 12, 13 differ slightly from those in ordinary Greek Testaments.

The headings of the chapters, as also those set over the several columns of the text, the plan of this work compels us to dispense with altogether, and nothing considerable is lost by their omission. The column headings of necessity varied more or less for every edition which did not (like the black-letter books of 1617, 1634, and that of 1640 very nearly) correspond with the standard of 1611 page for page: the headings summing up the contents of each chapter do not much resemble those previously given either in the Genevan or in the Great and Bishops' Bibles (which two in this particular are almost identical), but seem to be quite original. In the early chapters of the Acts of the Apostles they are inordinately long. The variations between our present headings and those of 1611, other than mere corrections of the press, are but twelve in number, that prefixed to Ps. cxlix. being the only one of importance³.

² Bp. Lord A. C. Hervey in Smith's Dictionary of the Bible. Coverdale and the Bishops' Bible get rid of the difficulty by omitting ch. x. 4—xi. 1 altogether.

³ Where "that power which he hath given to the Church to rule the consciences of men" is discreetly curtailed in the edition of 1762 by the omission of the last six words, that of 1769 further amending by substituting "his saints" for "the Church," which latter some modern Bibles still retain. D'Oyly and Mant stand to the words of 1611. On this

Dr Blayney, however, for his edition of 1769, gave what may be called "a New Version of these headings, bearing somewhat of the same relation to the Old that Tate and Brady does to Sternhold and Hopkins. It has been stigmatized by some as a doctrinal depravation of them, and praised by others as an improvement. It is in fact a modernization or dilation of them, with little systematic difference of doctrine, but with less force of it, giving however in many cases a better account of the real contents of the chapters than the old¹." This portion of his labours Blayney speaks of with complacency in his Report to the Delegates of the Clarendon Press (Appendix D, p. xcvi.); but whatever might be its merits, it met with no sort of acceptance. Oxford Bibles have returned long since to the headings of 1611; his changes were never adopted at Cambridge. It was felt, perhaps, that there is much comment of this kind in the original edition which long prescription alone has persuaded men to tolerate, and his work was rejected not because it was bad, but because it was new.

The chronological dates placed in the margin of the present volume are derived from Bishop Lloyd's Bible of 1701 (above, p. xix.), without any pretence of vouching for their correctness. They are in substance taken from Archbishop Ussher's Annales V. et N. Testamenti (1650—4), and are beyond doubt sufficiently exact to be a real help to the reader, the data on which they are constructed being always assumed as true. In the history of the later kings of Judah modern researches have not been able to suggest a variation from them of more than two years. The dates according to the Greek reckoning, set under those of the Hebrew in the first six books of the Bible, are grounded upon the well-known differences in respect to numerals between the text of the Hebrew and of the Septuagint, in the fifth and eleventh chapters of Genesis. Bp. Lloyd's dates have not been materially tampered with since they were first brought into our Bibles, though in some copies they are repeated more frequently than in others. Lloyd and after him the books of 1762 and 1769 had assigned to the ninth chapter of Zechariah the date of B.C. 587 (being 67 years earlier than that of his first chapter), in accordance with an opinion, more plausible than solid, to which Joseph Mede first lent the weight of his profound learning, that the last six chapters of that prophecy are the composition of some earlier writer, who flourished about the period of the Captivity. Modern Bibles later than 1835 have substituted in ch. ix. the date of B.C. 517; in Bagster's edition of 1846, it is reduced to B.C. 510, in the American of 1867 to B.C. 487, which is much too low. A mark of interrogation has simply been placed by us after this and some other questionable dates. The year B.C. 791 for the eclipse referred to Amos viii. 9, being now known to be incorrect, other more possible dates have been substituted within brackets. In Jer. xxvii. 1, "B.C. 598" is omitted altogether, as it rests on the needless supposition that for "Jehoiakim" in the text we ought to read "Zedekiah." The like remedy has been applied to Isai. ix. 8 and x. 1, which obviously belong to the same idyl or ode, and are connected by the same refrain: yet the one part of it is assigned to B.C. 738, the other to B.C. 713. It would have been well to have set a query after the date (B.C. 862) of the prophecy of Jonah, inasmuch as it is nearly certain that the Twelve Minor Prophets stand in the Canon in chronological order: and certainly on comparing Mic. vi. 16, the third chapter of that book must have been written before the fall of Samaria, not eleven years after it (B.C. 710). In the second Prologue to Ecclesiasticus "the eight and thirtieth year" being that of the writer's life, not of the reign of Euergetes, for B.C. 133 we should probably read some earlier time. The few dates added in this volume are included in brackets, and may perhaps be regarded as at once convenient and certain: such as that on Esther xi. 1. It is not easy to approve of the boldness of the editor of 1762, who affixes to Ps. cxx. "cir. 1058," apparently on the authority of the chapter heading that Doeg is the enemy referred to, as indeed a comparison of ver. 4 with Ps. lii. 1 renders not improbable.

The passages of the Old Testament which are cited in the New we have distinguished by printing them in spaced type, both in their original places and where they occur as quotations². Whosoever subject the editor is much indebted to an obliging communication from the Rev. C. K. Paul, of Bailie, Wimborne.

² We have thus anticipated the suggestion of Mr R. B. Girdlestone, of the Bible Society (Revision of the English Bible, a text is quoted generally, or (as is so often the case) with variations, those words only are set in spaces which are truly identical, at least in sense. But we have not employed this notation where the reference seems uncertain or remote, such as Ps. lxxvii. 4 alleged by some in Acts xvii. 31, and Gen. vi. 5 or viii. 21 in James iv. 5.

The present is scarcely a fit opportunity for discussing at length the merits and faults of the Authorized Version, which "so laborious, so generally accurate, so close, so abhorrent of paraphrase, so grave and weighty in word and rhythm, so intimately bound up with the religious convictions and associations of the English people"¹ will never yield its hard-earned supremacy, save to some reverential and well-considered Revision of which it has been adopted as the basis, that shall be happy enough to retain its characteristic excellencies, while amending its venial errors and supplying its unavoidable defects. Yet it may not be improper to touch briefly on one or two particulars, which have not been prominently noted by others, but have impressed the editor's mind in the prosecution of his laborious, yet most interesting task.

First then, we mark great inequality in the execution of the several portions of this version. The limits of life and human patience would forbid the whole Bible (including the Apocrypha) from being committed to the care of a single Company, but it was surely a mistake to divide the whole body of Translators into six parties. The Bishops' Bible indeed seems to have had a fresh translator for almost every book², and the inconsistency which such a plan must needs engender may have been one of the causes which hindered that version from obtaining general acceptance. No doubt it had been wisely provided by the King's ninth and tenth Instructions that "As any one Company hath despatched any book..., they shall send it to the rest to be considered of seriously and judiciously; for His Majesty is very careful in this point:" as also that "If any Company doubt or differ upon any place...the difference be compounded at the general meeting, which is to be of the chief persons of each company at the end of the work." But our very meagre information respecting the progress of the Translators gives us no great reason to believe that this wholesome device was carried out in practice (see Sect. i. p. xiv.), while internal evidence points decidedly to a contrary conclusion³. Certain it is that the six or twelve who met at Stationers' Hall during the nine months which immediately preceded publication had mechanical work enough on their hands in carrying the sheets through the press, without troubling themselves much about higher matters. The first Westminster Company undertook the historical books from Genesis down to the end of 2 Kings, and included the great names of Andrewes, then Dean of Westminster; of Overall Dean of S. Paul's; and of Adrian de Saravia, by birth a Fleming, at that time Prebendary of Westminster, but best known as the bosom friend and spiritual counsellor of saintlike Richard Hooker. Compared with other portions of Holy Scripture their share in the work may seem the English Bible, p. 135. This is plain both from the manner in which the initials are distributed, and because the names of some persons known to have been employed nowhere appear. But even in regard to the present Authorized translation, tradition has assigned a share in the final revision to Dr Thomas Bilson, Bishop of Winchester, whose name appears in no list of the six Companies.

³ One instance of this lack of consistency observable in the different parts of our Translation, the more minute the better for our purpose, will serve to illustrate a statement which is notoriously true. The Oxford Company, which revised the Prophets, was careful to render the Niphal conjugation of נִבֵּן with some intensity of meaning, whether wrongly or rightly matters not. In Ezek. xxxiii. 30 we find "still are talking;" in Mal. iii. 16 "spake often;" three verses before "spoken so much," where 1629 so little understands what is intended as to put "so much" in italics. This Niphal form occurs only once elsewhere, Ps. cxix. 23, where the second Company simply has "speak."

p. 8), who notices that the same plan is adopted by the American Bible Union, and justly prefers it to the method of the Douay Bible, and indeed of the Rhemish New Testament, which employed italics for the same purpose.

¹ Preface to The Gospel of S. John revised by Five Clergymen, p. vi. In regard to the rhythm it may be said that those can best appreciate the Translators' happy skill, who have tried to improve upon their version. Even such an expression as "that that" Ezek. xxxvi. 36; Dan. xi. 36; Jonah ii. 9; Zech. xi. 9 (bis), 16—all the work of one Company—is common in so musical a contemporary writer as Fletcher.

an easy one, yet the eminent success of the whole enterprise is largely due to the simple dignity of their style, and the mingled prudence and boldness wherewith they so blended together the idioms of two very diverse languages, that the reader is almost tempted to believe that the genius of his native tongue must have some subtil affinity with the Hebrew. Not inferior to theirs in merit, but far surpassing it in difficulty, is the work of the third, or first Oxford Company, the prophets from Isaiah to Malachi inclusive. This body was presided over by Dr John Harding, Regius Professor of Hebrew [1591—8; 1604—10], in the room of the great Puritan John Reynolds, President of Corpus Christi College [ob. 1607], who is reputed to have first suggested the new translation at the Hampton Court Conference (1603—4), full three years before it was actually commenced. This party included Dr Richard Kilbye, Rector of Lincoln College [1590—1620], afterwards Regius Professor of Hebrew [1610—1620], whose testimony to the anxious pains devoted to this version, as preserved by Isaac Walton, will be most readily credited by those whose privilege it has been to bear a part in similar conferences, directed to the same great end¹. It needs but the comparison of a single chapter of Isaiah, for instance, as rendered by the Authorized translation, with that in the Bishops' Bible which was adopted as the ground of their labours, to estimate very highly the manifold improvements effected by this Company. The common notion that the Minor Prophets are less felicitously rendered than the four Greater, must be modified by the consideration that three or four of the Twelve, as well from their pregnant brevity as from the obscurity of their allusions, are among the very hardest books of the Bible in the original, whose difficulties no faithful translator would wish to dissemble or conceal. Respecting the second, or first Cambridge Company, which sustained irreparable loss by the death of Edward Lively, Regius Professor of Hebrew [1580—1606], before their task was fairly begun, his successor also, R. Spalding, apparently dying a year after, it may be confessed that its version of Job is very unsatisfactory, nor indeed could it well be otherwise before the breaking forth of that flood of light which Albert Schultens long afterwards (1737) shed upon it from the cognate languages. A more legitimate subject of complaint is the prosaic tone of its translation of the Psalms, which, however exact and elaborate, is so spiritless as to be willingly used by but few that are familiar with the version in the Book of Common Prayer; a recension which, though derived immediately from the Great Bible, is in substance the work of that consummate master of rhythmical prose, Bishop Miles Coverdale. Of the other three Companies it will suffice to re-echo the general verdict, that the Epistles, entrusted to persons sitting at Westminster of whom little is now known, are worse done than any other part of the Canonical Scriptures, and bear no comparison with the Gospels, the Acts (which book is especially good, as indeed is its prototype in the preceding version, from the hand of Bishop Cox of Ely), and Apocalypse, as revised by the second Oxford Company, on which served Sir Henry Savile, then the most famous Greek scholar in England. In the New Testament, as was both right and almost necessary, the renderings of the older English versions were more closely adhered to than in the Old. Of the performance of the fourth, or second Cambridge Company, to which the Apocrypha was consigned, little favourable can be said. It was the earliest party to complete its share, as appears from the fact that John Bois (above, pp. xiii., xiv.) was transferred to the first Cambridge Company after his proper task herein was completed². A formal correction of the text, often so obviously corrupt, might have been impossible with the means within their reach; yet it required very little critical discrimination to perceive the vast superiority of that which they perpetually appeal to as the "Roman edition" (p. xxvii.) over the older recensions of the Complutensian and Aldus. For the rest, they are contented to leave many a rendering of the Bishops' Bible as they found it, when nearly any change must have been for the better; even where their predecessor sets them a better example they resort to undignified, mean, almost vulgar words and phrases¹; and on the whole they convey to the reader's mind the painful impression of having disparaged the importance of their own work, or of having imperfectly realised the truth that what is worth doing at all is worth doing well².

Nor can the attentive student of the Authorized Version fail to marvel at the perfect and easy command over the English language exhibited by its authors on every page. The fulness and variety of their diction, the raciness of their idiomatic resources, seem almost to defy imitation, while they claim our just and cheerful admiration. We need not extenuate that great error of judgment which is acknowledged to be the capital defect of the Translation, especially in the New Testament, in that the same foreign word is perpetually translated by several English ones, while on the other hand a single English word is made to represent two or three in the original, and that too in the same context, where the cogency of the argument or the perspicuity of the narrative absolutely depends on identity in the rendering. But in avoiding this conspicuous fault of the men of 1611, some modern revisers whose efforts are already before the public have fallen into the opposite mistake of forcing the same English word to stand for the same Hebrew or Greek one where there is no real need for preserving such slavish uniformity, thus at once impoverishing our native tongue which is so much more copious than either of the others, and casting over the version an air of baldness very painful to a cultivated taste. Let us take for an example of the beautiful flexibility of their English style the numberless devices our Translators resort to while endeavouring to convey the intensive force of the Hebrew gerundial infinitive when used with some finite form of the selfsame verb, of which the earliest example occurs in Gen. iii. 4, "Ye shall not surely die." The passages are cited almost at random and might be multiplied indefinitely.

That part of the Bible was given to him who was most excellent in such a tongue—as the Apocrypha to Andrew Downes" [Regius Professor of Greek, 1585–1625]. He adds moreover this interesting piece of information, to whatever part of the work it may apply: "Then they met together, and one read the translation, the rest holding in their hands some Bible, either of the learned tongues, or French [Olivetan 1535, The Pastors' 1588], Spanish [Pined 1553, De Reyna 1569, De Valera 1602], Italian [Bruccioli 1532?, or more probably Diodati 1607], &c. If they found any fault, they spoke; if not, he read on." We hear nothing from him of Luther's German [1522, &c.], which, however, is no doubt the "Dutch" of the Translators' Preface (infra, p. cxvi.), a passage that Selden probably had in his mind.

1 Sam. ii. 16. Let them not fail to burn the fat. 2 Sam. xiv. 14. we must needs die (after the Bishops'); xvii. 10. shall utterly melt; 16. speedily pass over; xviii. 2. I will surely go forth; 3. if we flee away (with the Bishops'); 25. came apace (Bishops'); xx. 18. They were wont to speak (margin, They plainly spake). 1 Kin. ii. 37, (42). thou shalt know for certain that thou shalt surely die; iii. 26, 27. in no wise slay it (Bishops'); ix. 6. If ye shall at all turn. 1 Chr. iv. 10. Oh that thou wouldest bless me indeed (Bishops'). Neh. i. 7. We have dealt very corruptly against thee ("grievously sinned" Bishops'). Esther iv. 14. If thou altogether holdest thy peace. Job vi. 2. Oh that my grief were thoroughly weighed ("truly weighed" Bishops'); xiii. 17 and xxi. 2. Hear diligently (Bishops'); xxvii. 22. he would fain flee. Jer. xxiii. 17. They say still; 32. profit at all; 39. utterly forget; xxv. 30. mightily roar; xxxi. 20. earnestly remember; xli. 6. weeping all along; l. 34. thoroughly plead. Ezek. i. 3. came expressly. Thus too both versions even in translating the Latin of 2 Esdr. iii. 33; iv. 2, 26; vii. 21, &c.

Yet it has been said by one who ought to know, that "our Translators of the Bible, in their attempt to maintain idiom, have sometimes sacrificed vigour¹."

The editor earnestly trusts that no apology is necessary for the labour bestowed in this volume on the English text and marginal references of the Apocrypha. So long as that very miscellaneous collection of books shall comprise a part of the Holy Bible in its largest form, or lessons shall be selected from it for the course of Divine service, it deserves far more regard than has been paid to it in recent times, even by those who have undertaken to reprint it. But the frequent and exact study of a large portion of the Apocryphal writings may be vindicated on higher grounds by such as most loyally accept the rule that "the Church doth read them for example of life and instruction of manners; but yet doth it not apply them to establish any doctrine." Few more conspicuous instances can be alleged of the tendency in man's nature to rush into extremes than the strong reaction to their prejudice which has set in since the Reformation, by way of protest against the error that had placed the greater part of them on a level in point of authority with the Canonical books of the Old Testament. Add to this that by some untoward accident those portions of the Apocrypha which deserve the least esteem have become best known, as in the case of the History of Susanna (unfit for public reading, for all its delicate touches of natural beauty), and of the grotesque story of Bel and the Dragon. Yet Ecclesiasticus and the first book of the Maccabees, written in the second century before the Christian æra, are among the noblest of uninspired compositions; if indeed their authors, so full of faith and holy fear, can be regarded as entirely uninspired. The second book of the Maccabees also, though greatly inferior to the first in respect of energy, judgment, veracity, and correct taste, abounds in passages fraught with encouragement to those who in every age shall be called upon to suffer for the truth's sake; not to add that it powerfully illustrates the eleventh chapter and other parts of Daniel's prophecies. The Wisdom of Solomon (which was not seriously intended to be ascribed to the king of Israel) approximates in tone to the spirit of Christ more nearly than any book without the Canon; the Epistle of S. James is full of allusions to it, and to the first five Chapters of Ecclesiasticus. Judith too is a fine work; grave, elevated, pious, chaste in thought and expression, exquisitely finished. Were it not buried where it is, it would long since have attracted the admiration it deserves; but it is not history, and does not claim to be such. It is fable constructed with a moral purpose; and must have stirred up the heart of many a Jewish patriot in that heroic struggle for liberty and religion whose details fill the books of the Maccabees. For the remaining books less can be said. Tobit, probably the oldest of them all, exhibits a pleasing picture of the prosperity of a religious household in the land of their captivity: the main outlines seem correct, though sadly deformed by childish superstitions, which are more visible in the Old Latin version followed by the Bishops' Bible, than in our own which adhered to the Greek. Baruch, though of course a pseudonym, contains some excellent poetry: the Prayer of Manasses and the Song of the Three Children need no praise. It is difficult to determine the precise relation of 1 Esdras to the Canonical books of Ezra and Nehemiah: after all the trouble bestowed upon it, we can but conclude that it contains not much intrinsically valuable. "The rest of the book of Esther" seems worth little for any purpose, since it is founded on a radically false conception of the character of two of the most worldly-minded persons God ever employed in the dispensations of His Providence, and rewarded for their obedience with blessings purely temporal. The remaining book, the second of Esdras, is a curious composition, not very fitly placed in the same volume as the rest, and never accounted canonical by any branch of the Church. Though extant only in Latin, it betrays on every page its Hebrew original; but since no considerable portion of it can be earlier than the second century after Christ, what it has in common with the Revelation and other books of the New Testament is drawn from them, not they from it. It can hardly be questioned that the fortunes of the Roman emperors during the first century are herein figuratively depicted. The celebrated passage ch. vii. 26—35 bears every appearance of interpolation.

It may be thought seemly in the editor to plead some excuse for the long time this work has been in hand, or at least for the unexpected delay which has ensued since the publication of its earlier Parts. Hindrances indeed and grave ones he has met with, but to detail them could interest none who are not already acquainted with them. The main causes of all were the great labour demanded by this employment, and an ever-growing sense of the duty of avoiding haste, but for which any one of those that had assayed the same task before him, would have accomplished it thoroughly once for all. Their short-comings (for, compared with what the case required, Blayney and those who preceded him must be held to have fallen greatly short) might justly prove a warning to one who was treading in their steps, and induce him to store up for his profit the words of a living Divine, himself as able as most men et properare loco et cessare:

“When we consider the errors and failures that mark every stage in our most deliberate and most matured progress in merely secular subjects, we may well pause before we presume to hurry through the sanctuary of God with the dust and turmoil of worldly, self-seeking, and irreverent speed¹.”

Finally, it is right to state very explicitly that the Syndics of the Cambridge University Press, after having arranged with the editor the general plan of this volume first projected by themselves, were pleased to leave all details to his judgment; and furthermore, that he alone is responsible for the statements alleged and the opinions maintained in the foregoing pages of this INTRODUCTION.

¹ Heb. JEHOVAH. The words "Lord" and "God" are always intended to be printed in small capitals in the Authorized Version, when they are employed to translate that Holy Name. Adonai Jehovah is represented by "Lord God" about a hundred times in Ezekiel alone, and Jehovah Adonai by "LORD God" only in Hab. iii. 19, itself corrected (perhaps wrongly) in the Cambridge folio of 1629. See Appendix B. ii. Ps. xlv. 23.

² In Deut. xxxiii. 5 alone "Jeshurun" is read also in 1629 C and L. 1630. In Isaiah xlv. 2 the same form is found in 1616 alone of all our editions.

³ Modern editions follow 1762, 1769 in omitting "of waters."

² But these archaisms we have elsewhere retained: e.g. 2 Kin. xii. 18. Compare 1 Chr. xxvi. 20, App. C.

³ The rendering of 1611 is quite justifiable, but the LXX. and Vulgate translate as in 1629.

¹ The editions of 1629—1769 correct the discrepancy with Gen. xxxvi. 22 in the wrong way, by putting "Heman" in the earlier place. The latter error is corrected by some (e.g. D'Oyly and Mant 1817, Oxford 1835) that retain Heman in 1 Chr. i. 39 marg.

² The references to the margin, up to 1629 L, 1630, are in hopeless confusion: "1 Or Coniah, Jer. 22. 24" being made a marginal note to "Zedekiah," instead of to "Jeconiah," and "2 Kin. 24. 17 being his uncle," which is the proper note on "his son," being misplaced so as to stand after † Heb. Shealtiel, ver. 17.

³ The final is usually represented by h: yet not so by any edition in 1 Chr. iii. 10; v. 5 (Reaia); vi. 29.

¹ To distinguish יְהִיֵּל (Jeiel) from יְהִיֵּל (Jehiel) of ver. 20. In this verse and ch. xvi. 5 both names occur, and are thus distinguished in 1611. "Jeiel" is right ver. 21 and in ch. v. 7; "Jehiel" in ch. xxiii. 8; 2 Chr. xxi. 2; xxix. 14; xxxi. 13; xxxv. 8; Ezra viii. 9; x. 2, 21, 26. See also 2 Chr. xx. 14; xxix. 13.

² In ver. 4 the vowel points are different, and "Jerimoth" correct.

¹ In 1629, 1637 we find “; and the uprightness of thy ways, thy hope?” Though this has been noted as a mere error, the changes both of 1629 and 1638 (which all later editions have followed) are plainly intentional, and unique for their boldness. In this volume we have changed the comma after “hope” into a semicolon, although the Hebrew has only Rebin, and Athnakh in the word before. Grote MS. pp. 130, 131.

³ This gross error of 1611—1630, though corrected long ago, is revived in most modern Bibles, e.g. D'Oyley & Mant 1817, Oxford 1835, Camb. 1858.

⁴ This rendering might possibly stand, but that Tremellius, from whose version our Translators mostly derived their margin in the Old Testament (see p. xxvi.), has Heb. facit ut pertingat. Hence "couch" is a mere misprint.

Heb. alamdetestationum desolantem: ala pro copiis metaphorice, ut Isai. viii. 8." Whatever may be its value, it ought not to have been displaced by the edition of 1762 (which 1769 and the moderns have servilely followed) for something not so very good of its own. We have retained both.⁴ So in Amos vi. 7 Camb. Synd. A. 3. 14 alone has "first that goeth" for "first that go" of Oxf. 1611, 1612, 1613, 1616, 1617, &c. See Appendix B, p. xc.

² Gk. συνουσία: Vulg. concilio: Junius consilio. Similar confusion between the words occurs in Matt. v. 22; Mark xiv. 55.

³ This word is wanting in the Roman edition (1586-7), the Alexandrian MS., the Vulgate and Junius. Our Translators (after the Bishops' Bible) followed the text of Aldus (1518) in this book, as plainly appears from Introduction, p. xxvii. 1 Esdras is not contained in the Complutensian (1517-22). Yet how could Junius say, in his Preface to the Apocryphal books (1592), "Hezra libros duos me tacente evincit veritas: quos neque Hebraice neque Græcè vidi, aut fuisse visos meminì legere"? See Introduction, p. xxvi.

² In the same way all our books from Tyndale downwards (except Coverdale and the Geneva version) read "Heber" ver. 35 from Erasmus's Εβερ, though "Eber" is the form used in the O.T.

³ Elissens might be preferable here, as Zaccheus is spelt in Oxf. 1835, Camb. 1858, and some recent Bibles. An English reader can hardly fail to confound the three separate terminations in -eus; 1. eu

diphthong, as, Menestheus 2 Macc. iv. 21, Nereus Rom. xvi. 15; (2) the dissyllable -eus, e being short, as Timotheus 1 Thess. i. 1, &c.; (3) the more usual dissyllable -eus, e being long as here. Such are Aggeus, 1 Esdr. vi. 1; 2 Esdr. i. 40; Asmodeus, Tobit iii. 8; Cendebeus, 1 Macc. xv. 38; Channneus, 1 Esdr. viii. 48; Eliseus, here: Hymeneus, 1 Tim. i. 20; Maccabæus, 1 Macc. iii. 1, &c.; Mardocheus, Esther x. 4, &c.; Ptolemæus, Esther xi. 1, &c.; Sabbathæus, 1 Esdr. ix. 14; Sabatæus ver. 48; Zaccheus, Luke xix. 2, 5, 8. So also in 1 Esdr. ix. 21, 23, 30, 32 (bis), 33. These all represent the termination -αῖος. In 1 Macc. xii. 7 marg., 20, Ἀρεῖος should be rendered Arias, not Areus.

² 1769, followed by our standard (Camb. 1858), and all other moderns we know of, reads "Nepthalim."

³ Elsewhere the forms employed in 1611 are saphire, and saphyre. See Introd. p. xlvii.

List of Passages in which this Edition departs from the Text of 1611.

N.B. All variations in the foregoing list, except those relating to the apostrophe, have been made in at least one previous edition. The changes described in the subjoined list (which relates chiefly to the Apocrypha) are peculiar to this volume, and must justify themselves.

³ Less palpable is the error in 1 Chr. xxvi. 19 (cf. ver. 1), where Kore (קֹרֶה) is put for Korhite (קֹרִיתִי).

² The marginal "bring unto" (b not B, 1611—1638) cannot be meant for the imperative, but renders differentes super of Tremellius.

³ The margin notes the various reading upheld by Vulg. and Junius.

⁴ So Camb. Synd. A. 3. 14, &c., 1613, 1617, &c.; but Serenias, Oxf. 1611, 1612, (1616).

This must be the intention of the Translators, since Vulg. has Nihil memini of the text, Junius Nihil venit in mentem of the margin, the Bishops' Bible "I cannot perceive."

² So Fritzsche's text of the LXX.: Vulg. has civitatem. But the arrangement of 1611 might very well stand, as the margin exactly represents the reading of Aldus, ἐν ἀγοραῖς τῆς Μηδείας. See Introduction, p. xxviii.

¹ So all the early versions from Tyndale to the Bishops' Bible, and even T. Baskett's 8vo. edition of the Authorized, London, 8vo. 1754, Brit. Mus. 1411. f. 5. This last fact was made known by the Rev. J. Henley (Guardian, June 7, 1871).

² That the margin "Or habit" refers to σχήματα, not to ἡμοιωματα, is plain enough in itself, not to add that for σχήματα the Vulg. has habitu, Tyndale, Coverdale, and the Great Bible apparel.

APPENDIX B.

The two Issues of the Bible of 1611 compared.

Catalogue of variations (not being very manifest misprints) between the two issues of the Authorized Version of 1611, represented by Camb. Synd. A. 3. 14 and the Oxford reprint of 1833 respectively. See Introduction, Sect. I. pp. xii. xiv. Wheresoever the contrary is not stated, the British Museum copies, 3050. g. 2, 3050. g. 3, and 1276. l. 4, have been ascertained to agree with Camb. Synd. A. 3. 14.

N.B. Bp. denotes the Bishops' Bible (1572), Synd. our Cambridge, Oxf. our Oxford model. Amer. the New York Bible, diamond, 24mo. 1867³.

§ I. The readings of Camb. Synd. A. 3. 14 have been preferred in forming the text of the present volume in the following places:

GEN. x. 16 Amorite 1617, 1634, 1640, 1769, moderns. Amer. (Emorite [Bp.] Oxf. 1612, 1613, 1616, 1629 L & C, 1630, 1638, 1744, 1762, here only). xlv. 17 Ishui 1617 (Isui Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.). xlvii. 27 possession [with B. M. 1276. l. 4 only] (possessions Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.). EXOD. xxxviii. 11 the hooks (hoopes Oxf. 1612, but not ver. 10) of the pillars 1613, &c. cf. Bp. ver. 10, 11⁴. LEV. xviii. 30 ye shall 1630 (shall ye Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1613, 1629 L & C, &c.). NUM. x. 2 thou shalt (shalt thou Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.). xxvi. 21 Hezronites [with B. M. 1276. l. 4 only] (Hesronites Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.). DEUT. viii. 7 the valleys (valleys Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.).

³ The readings of the Bishops' Bible are added in some places, in case that any should think that light may be thrown upon the origin of these variations by the Bible from which, as it would seem, our own version was set up for the press. Inferences thus drawn seem to the editor for the most part too slight to be relied on. See, however, the next note.

xvii. 4 it is true¹ (it be true Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.). xxxii. 15 Thou art waxed 1617 (Thou art waxen Oxf. 1612, 1613, &c.). 2 SAM. xvii. 25 Abigail² 1612, 1613, 1616, 1617 (Abigail *Bp. Mark x. 46; Luke viii. 5 (see Appendix A, p. lxxxi.), where Synd. Oxf. 1612, 1613, 1616, 1617, have “ways,” but 1629 C & L, 1630, 1638 vary between the two: 1743, 1762, 1769 have “way” consistently throughout. xiii. 31 like unto a grain 1613, 1617, 1629 L, 1630 (like to a grain Bp. Oxf. 1612, 1616, 1629 C, &c.), as all (including Bp.) in ver. 33, 44, 45, 47, 52. S. MARK vii. 4 Oxf. alone transposes the marginal notes, placing ¹ Or bds. before ¹ Sextarius. ¹ The copy in S. John's College, Cambridge (T. 6. 26), and B. M. 3050. g. 3, must be earlier on this leaf, since they read “it is time.” See Sect. 1. p. xvi.

² Thus dispensing with the marginal note of 1762 “¹ Heb. Abigail.” But B. M. 3050. g. 1 and 466. i. 6 have “Abigail,” against Oxf.

³ So B. M. 466. i. 6 “she,” but not 3050. g. 1 which is almost identical with it. Bp. has “till she be content her self” in all these places. The original American revise of 1851 (see Introduction, p. xxiii.) read “she” uniformly in all, but Amer. 1867 has returned to “he.”

¹ Yet "eagle wings" though antiquated is not incorrect. Marsh (English Language, p. 278) cites from Wycliff "unkil doughter" Gen. xxix. 10. So Num. xxiv. 6 (1611); Esther i. 13 (Synd.). Even modern Bibles retain "a cubit length" Judg. iii. 16. See Introd. p. lii.

¹ The context must decide which form is preferable, as the practice varies in rendering τῆς: e. g. John xv. 13 "a man;" John xvi. 30 "any man."

NOTE. Between the two copies in the British Museum which resemble the Oxford reprint (3050. g. 1 and 466. i. 6) the only differences in any of the passages cited in the foregoing lists § 1. and § 11. occur in Ex. xxi. 26; Cant. ii. 7. Of the other issue, B. M. 3050. g. 2 being regarded as the standard, and 3050. g. 3, 1276. l. 4, and Synd. A. 3. 14 mixed copies, the Syndics nowhere agrees with 3050. g. 2 against the other two, but with 3050. g. 3 alone in Ezek. v. 5; with 3050. g. 2 and 1276. l. 4 against 3050. g. 3 in 15 places; with 3050. g. 3 and 1276. l. 4 against 3050. g. 2 in 5 places; with 1276. l. 4 alone (which is a fine tall volume, once the property of Lea Wilson) in no less than 34 places. Not one of the four is ever left without one copy to countenance it, except Synd. in 2 Kin. xviii. 37 (p. lxx.); 1 Chr. iv. 36. Hence it is plain that Synd. A. 3. 14 and B. M. 1276. l. 4 were among the earliest and least revised of the copies printed off.

APPENDIX C.

List of Passages in which the Readings of the Edition of the Authorized Bible of 1611 have been restored in the present Volume.

The date annexed is that of the later edition in which each change is supposed to have originated. See Introduction, Sect. I. p. xiv.

N.B. Variations relating only to English orthography or grammatical inflexions are not admitted into the following list, since they have been sufficiently described in the Introduction, Section v. pp. xlviii.—liv.

br ¹ This change, however, ought to have been acquiesced in: cf. Hew.

² So all have the word in 1 Chr. i. 33, and the final Ain is not usually represented by h, cf. 2 Sam. v. 14. 1 Chr. xxiv. 11. See however h final in Gen. xxxv. 27; xxxviii. 2 (but not 1 Chr. ii. 3); Josh. xxi. 11. This variation was overlooked in the text of the present volume.

⁴ Yet so even 1611 in ch. xxxviii. 30 on account of the Hebrew pause.

⁵ Corrected in the Scotch and American (1867) Bibles only.

⁶ The re-correction of 1769 is followed by Mant 1817, Oxford 8vo. 1835, Bagster 1846, Oxford 4to. 1857, London 8vo. 1859, American 1867, but not by our standard (Cambr. 8vo. 1858) and some modern Bibles.

¹ Modern Bibles are divided between the two wrong renderings of 1616, 1769. The American only follows 1611.

³ So Oxf. 1835, Bagster 1846.

⁴ See p. xci., Gen. xxv. 4 note 2. Ain is not represented in ver. 15 bis, 16 bis.

⁵ Vulg. has premut te mala tua. The Translators give what they hold to be the general sense in the text, reserving a more literal rendering for the margin.

⁶ The reading of the Keri and of 1 Chr. xx. 7. The variation of 1769 will not suit the form in the Chetiv and the Vatican Septuagint (Ceteed). Yet "Shimeah" is correct in ch. xiii. 3.

⁷ A very needless change, though upheld by LXX. and Vulg. Cf. Cardwell, Oxford Bibles, p. 16. In 1762, &c. we find the marginal note † Heb. son.

⁸ Ain final is usually mute (see p. xci., note 2), but in the middle of a word the practice is less fixed.

² In this volume "Mizpar" of the later Bibles has been retained in error.

³ This seems to be an attempt on the part of the Translators (afterwards given over; ch. vii. 18) to represent, whensoever it might be possible, the status emphaticus of the Chaldee.

⁴ The passage is too obscure to be worth altering. The Vulgate has filius I hohereth, qui erat ortus ex Sabaim filio Amon.

⁵ In 2 Chr. xx. 16 "cliffe" of 1611 represents another Hebrew word. "Clift" in Ex. xxxiii. 22; Isai. lii. 5 is left unaltered in 1762 and the moderns, the general sense, though not the Hebrew words, being the same as here.

⁶ That is, the partners in the fishery (Luke v. 7, 10); Blayney's variation hardly looks accidental, and lingers in many later Bibles, e.g. Osterwald 1808, Oxford Svo. 1813, D'Ooly & Mant 1817, even in Bagster 1846.

⁷ The present text is Adonai, but Jehovah is read in at least 25 Hebrew manuscripts and five early editions, so that the Translators (who seldom err in this matter) probably intended to use capitals. Since Oxf. Svo. 1835, as also by Bp. Turten's direction (Introd. p. xxii.), the capitals have been again withdrawn, but not in Bagster 1846.

¹ The error of 1611, which misplaces the reference mark in the text (as it so often does), led to the hopeless confusion of 1629 and the moderns. Our Translators merely wish to give, as an alternative rendering for "theirs," Tremellius' ex Thrasionibus ipsorum.

² In 14 other places in Ezekiel "utter" is left unchanged.

³ The correctors of 1629 failed to perceive that the margin (following Tremellius, conquiescant in se ipsis altitudine sua) translates by "upon themselves" the word rendered "their trees" by the Bishops' and Authorized versions.

⁴ So read in this volume.

⁵ Most moderns here, with our standard, omit "the." Ostervald (1808) reads it consistently in ver. 11, 12.

⁶ Blayney in the very same note corrects the false reference to Josephus of 1611—1762 from cap. 4 to cap. 3.

² So read in the present volume.

³ In ver. 33 "eight" of 1611—1630 (not 1629) may be regarded as another mode of spelling the ordinal, as 1611 has it in Lev. xiv. 10, 23; Luke xv. 8 marg. Compare also 2 Kin. xv. 8 and Ezek. xliii. 27, p. 21v.

⁴ So, though wrongly, nearly all the moderns, but not Schotenfeld, in the Cambridge Greek and English N.T. (Introd. p. xl, note 1), and the Tract Society's Bible 1868. Archbishop Trench contrasts the insertion of "not" in John iv. 29 with its omission in John vii. 22; xviii. 35; Acts vii. 42; x. 47. Compare also John vii. 26, 31.

⁵ This change has not been imported into the Gospel for Palm Sunday in the Book of Common Prayer. Cf. 1 John v. 12 in Appendix A, and 1 Cor. xiii. 2 below, where in modern Prayer Books we read "not" in the Epistle for Quinquagesima Sunday.

² A deliberate but needless correction (which ought not to have been followed in the present volume), derived from Tyndale's, Coverdale's, the Great, and the Bishops' Bibles. The Geneva 1557, has "destinate to death."

³ So Wisd. xvi. 18, where the Bishops' renders ποτέ "sometimes" and "sometime" in consecutive verses. The modern distinction between the two words did not exist when these versions were made. Hence all our Bibles have "sometimes" Eph. ii. 13; v. 8; Titus iii. 3; all "sometime" Col. iii. 7; 1 Pet. iii. 20, the Greek being always ποτέ.

APPENDIX D.

Blayney's Report to the Rev. the Vice-Chancellor, and the other Delegates of the Clarendon Press.

THE Editor of the two editions of the Bible lately printed at the Clarendon Press thinks it his duty, now that he has completed the whole in a course of between three and four years close application, to make his report to the Delegates of the manner in which that work has been executed; and hopes for their approbation.

In the first place, according to the instructions he received, the folio edition of 1611, that of 1701, published under the direction of Bishop Lloyd, and two Cambridge editions of a late date, one in Quarto, the other in octavo, have been carefully collated, whereby many errors that were found in former editions have been corrected, and the text reformed to such a standard of purity, as, it is presumed, is not to be met with in any other edition hitherto extant.

The punctuation has been carefully attended to, not only with a view to preserve the true sense, but also to uniformity, as far as was possible.

Frequent recourse has been had to the Hebrew and Greek Originals; and as on other occasions, so with a special regard to the words not expressed in the Original Language, but which our Translators have thought fit to insert in Italics, in order to make out the sense after the English idiom, or to preserve the connexion. And though Dr Paris made large corrections in this particular in an edition published at Cambridge, there still remained many necessary alterations, which escaped the Doctor's notice; in making which the Editor chose not to rely on his own judgment singly, but submitted them all to the previous examination of the Select Committee, and particularly of the Principal of Hertford College¹, and Mr Professor Wheeler. A list of the above alterations was intended to have been given in to the Vice Chancellor at this time, but the Editor has not yet found time to make it completely out.

Considerable alterations have been made in the Heads or Contents prefixed to the Chapters, as will appear on inspection; and though the Editor is unwilling to enlarge upon the labour bestowed by himself in this particular, he cannot avoid taking notice of the peculiar obligations, which both himself and the public lie under to the Principal of Hertford College, Mr Griffith of Pembroke College, Mr Wheeler, Poetry Professor², and the late Warden of New College³, so long as he lived to bear a part in it; who with a prodigious expence of time, and inexpressible fatigue to themselves, judiciously corrected and improved the rude and imperfect Draughts of the Editor.

The running titles at the top of the columns in each page, how trifling a circumstance soever it may appear, required no small degree of thought and attention.

Many of the proper names being left untranslated, whose etymology was necessary to be known, in order to a more perfect comprehension of the allusions in the text, the translation of them, under the inspection of the above named Committee, has been for the benefit of the unlearned supplied in the margin.

Some obvious and material errors in the chronology have been considered and rectified.

The marginal references, even in Bishop Lloyd's Bible, had in many places suffered by the inaccuracy of the Press; subsequent editions had copied those Errata, and added many others of their own; so that it became absolutely necessary to turn to and compare the several passages; which has been done in every single instance, and by this precaution several false references brought to light, which would otherwise have passed unsuspected. It has been the care of the Editor to rectify these, as far as he could, by critical conjecture, where the copies universally failed him, as they did in most of the errors discovered in Bishop Lloyd's edition. In some few instances he confesses himself to have been at a loss in finding out the true reference, though the corruption was manifest in the want of any the most distant resemblance between the passages compared together. Cases of this sort indeed did not often occur; so that a very small number only of the old references are, with the sanction of the Committee, omitted, and their places more usefully supplied.

³ Thomas Bayward, 1764—1768.

It had been suggested by the late Archbishop of Canterbury¹, that an improvement might be made in the present editions of the Bible, by taking in a number of additional references, of which many useful ones, as he supposed, might be furnished from other editions referred to by him, and particularly from a Scotch edition, of which the present Vice-Chancellor was kind enough to lend a Copy. The references found in it, which were indeed very numerous, having been severally turned to and examined, such of them were selected as the Editor judged most pertinent, together with others that occurred from his own reading and observation. In doing this he has endeavoured to keep clear of mere fanciful allusions, of which too many presented themselves in the before named Scotch edition; and to adhere as near as possible to the plan marked out in the former collection made by Bishop Lloyd; pointing out such passages chiefly, where the same history or the same name were introduced, the same matter treated of, or sentiment expressed, or at least where parallels might fairly be drawn; and sometimes where a similar use of a particular word or expression tended to illustrate the application of it, on another occasion. The number of References being thus augmented considerably, the Collection upon the whole will, it is hoped, be regarded as useful in the light of a Concordance, material as well as verbal, always at hand.

In this state the Quarto Copy was sent to press; and the first proofs carefully collated with the Copy both text and margin; after which the second proofs were again read, and generally speaking, the third likewise; not to mention the frequent revisions of proofs besides, which are common in correcting the press. This proved indeed a very tiresome and tedious task; but was not more than was absolutely necessary in order to attain the degree of accuracy that was wished. A particular attention was required with respect to the figures belonging to the marginal References, where errors were continually creeping in after a manner that would appear highly astonishing to those, who have never been concerned in correcting multitudes of figures, as they came from the press.

When the Quarto Sheets, were printed off, the Forms were lengthened out in order to make up the Folio Edition; in doing which the parts were often so jumbled together, and such Confusion introduced by misplacing the References and mistaking the Chronology, that nothing else would suffice than a fresh Collation of the whole with the Quarto Copy, and a repetition of almost the same trouble and care in the revisal, and in making up the running Titles anew, as had been used before. But the Editor thinks he has just reason to congratulate himself on the opportunity hereby given him of discovering and correcting some few trivial inaccuracies, which in spite of all his vigilance had escaped his notice in the Quarto Edition. So that the Folio Edition is rendered by this somewhat the more perfect of the two, and therefore more fit to be recommended for a standard Copy.

The Editor humbly hopes this Account of his proceedings will not be unacceptable to the Board; and will think his time and pains not ill bestowed, if he shall have succeeded in his desire of giving satisfaction to those who honoured him with the employment, and of contributing in any wise to God's honour, and the public utility.

² All the English have "a tomb," or "a grave," but they are so careless in respect of the definite article, that, but for Canon Westcott's authority, this instance too would have been withheld. Luke vii. 12:

δουλεύοντες in Compl., Beza's last three editions, Vulg., Tyndale 1526 ("even as though ye served the lord"), but not in Erasm., Steph., Beza 1565, Tyndale 1534 or the subsequent English versions. COL. i. 2. Κολοσσαῖς in nearly all: Κολασσαῖς Erasm., Steph. ver. 24. ὅς is set before νῦν χαίρω in Beza's last three editions, Vulg., and our Authorized Version only among the English. ii. 13. ἡμῶν Vulg., Geneva 1557 (Bishops'): but ἡμῶν Compl., Erasm., Steph., other English versions. 1 THESS. ii. 13. οὐχ ὡς λόγον ἀνθρώπων Beza 1589, 1598 (not 1565), Vulg., English (perhaps rather as an interpretation than a reading): the rest omit ὡς. ver. 15. ἡμᾶς all except Steph., which has ὑμᾶς. 1 TIM. i. 4. οἰκοδομίαν Erasm., Ald., Vulg., all English?, but οἰκονομίαν Compl., Steph. TITUS ii. 10. ἡμῶν all except Steph., who reads ὑμῶν. HEB. ix. 1. σκηνὴ omitted by Erasm., Ald., Beza, Vulg. ("Testament" Great Bible, "covenant" Geneva 1557, Bishops', Authorized), but Compl., Tyndale, Coverdale have it. x. 10. Compl., Erasm., Steph., but apparently no English version, prefix οἱ to διὰ. xii. 22, 23. Compl., Erasm., Steph., Vulg., with all the English versions before the Authorized, and most modern editors, join πανηγύρει with ver. 22. JAMES iv. 13, 15. The four verbs in ver. 13 and ποιήσομεν ver. 15 are futures in Vulg., Geneva 1557 (the Authorized stands alone in reading with Stephens 1549³ ζήσομεν ver. 15), but they are aorists subjunctive in Compl., Erasm., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Bishops'. v. 12. εἰς ὑπόκρισιν of Compl., Erasm., Steph., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, was corrected into εἰς κρίσιν by Geneva 1557, Bishops' ("sub judicio" Vulg.). 1 PET. iii. 21 init. ᾧ Compl., Ald., Geneva 1557, Bishops': but ὃ Erasm., Steph., Vulg., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible. 2 PET. ii. 18. ἐν ἀσελγείαις of Beza is certainly the reading of the Authorized ("through" was not italicised before 1769), possibly of Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Geneva 1557: but the Bishops' ("they entice through lusts with the bait of wantonness of the flesh") after Compl., Erasm., Steph., rightly omits ἐν. iii. 7. τῷ αὐτῷ λόγῳ Vulg., Tyndale, Geneva 1557, but τῷ αὐτοῦ (αὐτοῦ only, Erasm.) λόγῳ Compl., Erasm., Steph., Coverdale, Great Bible, Bishops'. 1 JOHN i. 4. χαρὰ ὑμῶν after Erasm. is rendered in all English versions except Tyndale 1534, but ἡμῶν in Compl., Steph., Vulg. ii. 23. ὁ ὁμολογῶν τὸν υἱὸν καὶ τὸν πατέρα ἔχει is the well-known clause inserted in italics in our own and the Bishops' versions, to indicate thereby a doubtful reading (Introduction, p. xxxv.). Though not in Compl., Erasm., Steph., or even in Beza 1565, Tyndale, Coverdale, Geneva 1557, it was brought in within brackets and italicised in the Great Bible, doubtless from the Vulgate, and rightly forms a part of the text in Beza's last three editions. v. 14. ὑμῶν is a mere erratum of Stephens. 2 JOHN 3. ὑμῶν Compl., all English except the Great Bible: ἡμῶν Erasm., Steph., Vulg. (manuscripts, not Clementine edition). ver. 5. γράφω Erasm., Steph. only. 3 JOHN 7. αὐτοῦ after ὀνόματος of Compl., Vulg. (Clementine). English versions, is omitted in Erasm., Steph., Vulg. manuscripts. JUDE 19. ἐαυτοὺς is added after ἀποδιόριζοντες in Vulg., Beza, and our own Version against Compl., Erasm., and the other English ("makers of sects"). ver. 24. ὑμᾶς Vulg., English versions, but αὐτοὺς Compl., Erasm., Steph. REV. i. 11³. ἐπὶ is prefixed to ἐκκλησίαις in Compl., Vulg., Great Bible, Geneva 1557, Bishops'; but not in Erasm., Steph., Tyndale, Coverdale. iii. 1. ἐπὶ is prefixed to πνεύματα in Compl., Vulg., all English except Tyndale ("the spirit"); but not in Erasm., Steph., Luther. v. 11. Erasm., Steph. omit καὶ ἦν ὁ ἀριθμὸς αὐτῶν μυριάδες μυριάδων with Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Bishops': μυριάδες μυριάδων is omitted in Vulg., Geneva 1557. But Compl. and the Authorized have the whole clause. vii. 2. ἀναβαίνοντα Compl., Vulg., Bishops' ("ascend" other English): ἀναβάντα Erasm., Steph. ver. 3. σφραγίσωμεν Compl., English versions: σφραγίζωμεν Erasm., Steph. ver. 10. τῷ θεῷ ἡμῶν τῷ καθήμενῳ ἐπὶ τοῦ θρόνου Compl., Vulg., Geneva 1557: but τῷ καθήμενῳ ἐπὶ τοῦ θρόνου τοῦ θεοῦ ἡμῶν Erasm., Steph., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Bishops'. ver. 14. αὐτὰς (after ελεῖκται) Compl., Vulg., English versions: στολὰς αὐτῶν Erasm.⁴, Steph. viii. 6. οἱ

¹ The word "as" in the Authorized Version was not italicised before 1629, and is now restored by us to Roman type.

² Canon Westcott considers ζήσομεν a conjecture of our Translators: if so, it was a happy one, being the reading of the three great manuscripts NAB.

⁴ Erasmus 1516 has αὐτὰς for the catchword only, but στολὰς αὐτῶν in the text, agreeing with his later editions.

ἔχοντες Compl., Vulg., all English: but Erasm., Steph. omit οἱ. ver. 11. τῶν ὑδάτων after τὸ τρίτον is omitted by Tyndale, Great Bible, Bishops'; but not by Compl., Vulg., Coverdale, Geneva 1557. ix. 19. αἱ γὰρ ἐξουσίαι αὐτῶν ἐν τῷ στόματι αὐτῶν εἰσιν (omitting καὶ ἐν ταῖς οὐραῖς αὐτῶν) Erasm., Steph., against Compl., English ("their powers be" Bishops'). xi. 1. καὶ ὁ ἄγγελος εἰστήκει before λέγων is omitted by Erasm., Steph., Vulg., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible: the words are found, less correctly, in Compl., Geneva 1557, Bishops'. ver. 2. ἔξωθεν (before τοῦ ναοῦ) Compl., Vulg., Geneva 1557, Bishops'; but ἔσωθεν Erasm., Steph., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible. xiii. 3. ἐθαύμασεν ὅλη ἡ γῆ Compl., Vulg., all English: ἐθαυμάσθη ἐν ὅλῃ τῇ γῇ Erasm., Steph. xiv. 18. τοὺς βότρυας τῆς ἀμπέλου Compl., Vulg., Geneva 1557, Bishops': but τῆς ἀμπέλου is omitted in Erasm. (but not his Latin of 1516), Steph., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible. xvi. 5. ἐσόμενος (for ὁσῖος), a bold variation of Beza's last three editions, is adopted in our version and the Elzevir text of 1633. ver. 14. ἃ ἐκπορεύεται Compl., Vulg. (Clementine): but ἐκπορεύεσθαι of Erasm., Steph., all English versions before the Authorized, is perhaps preferable. xix. 14. τὰ is prefixed to ἐν τῷ οὐρανῷ in Compl., Vulg., all English versions ("which were" not being italicised in the Authorized before 1769): but τὰ is omitted by Erasm., Steph. Total 81.

§ 111. Passages in which the text of the Authorized Version agrees with that of Stephens (1550) against Beza (1589).

S. MATT. i. 23. καλέσουσι all English. Beza's καλέσεις must be derived from Codex D (Greek, but its Latin version vocabit), which in 1565 had been in his possession about three years. It has little other support. xx. 15. εἰ ὁ ὀφθαλμός σου Compl., Erasm., Vulg., English versions, but ἦ (for εἰ) Beza. S. MARK xvi. 20 fin. Ἀμήν of Compl., Vulg. (manuscripts), is omitted by Erasm., Vulg. (Clementine), and all English versions except the Authorized. S. LUKE vii. 12. αὐτῇ ἦν χήρα Erasm., Ald., Vulg., all English except Geneva 1557: but αὐτῇ χήρα Compl. S. JOHN iv. 5. Συχάρ Compl., Erasm., Vulg., Bishops', but Σιχάρ other English. ix. 10. σου Compl., Erasm., all English: σοι Vulg. xiv. 11. ἐστίν after ἐν ἐμοί is in Erasm., Vulg., Coverdale only. xviii. 20. πάντες of Erasm., Vulg., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Geneva 1557, Bishops', is the true reading: our Authorized Version derives πάντοτε from Compl., Steph.: πάντοθεν seems a mere conjecture of Beza. ACTS ii. 36. καὶ κύριον Compl., Erasm., Vulg., Geneva 1557, Bishops': καὶ, not rendered by Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, is omitted by Beza. iv. 27. ἐν τῇ πόλει ταύτῃ is added after ἐπ' ἀληθείας only in Stephens 1546, 1549, Beza's last three editions, the Vulgate, and Great Bible (in other type and within brackets). xvi. 17. ἡμῖν Compl., Erasm., all English: ἐμῖν Vulg., &c. xxiv. 14. τοῖς προφήταις (without ἐν)

Compl., Erasm., Vulg., all English except Coverdale. The word "in" before "the prophets" in modern Bibles is as late as 1762. xxvi. 8. τί ἄπιστον Compl., Erasm., all English, rather than τί; ἄπιστον. 1 COR. vii. 29. ὁ καιρὸς συνεσταλμένος τὸ λοιπὸν ἐστίν (omitting ὅτι before ὁ καιρὸς) Compl., Erasm., Vulg., Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible (the Bishops' renders ὅτι, "because"): but ὅτι ὁ καιρὸς συνεσταλμένος τὸ λοιπὸν ἐστίν Geneva 1557 after Beza. xi. 22. ὑμᾶς ἐν τούτῳ; οὐκ ἐπαινῶ Compl., Geneva 1557: but ὑμᾶς; ἐν τούτῳ οὐκ ἐπαινῶ Erasm., Beza, Tyndale, Coverdale, Great Bible, Bishops'. 2 COR. iii. 14. ὃ τι Erasm. 1519, all English: but ὅτι Compl., Erasm. 1516, Beza, Vulg. viii. 24. καὶ εἰς πρόσωπον Erasm., Beza 1565, Coverdale, with the Authorized: καὶ is omitted in Compl., Beza's last three editions, Vulg., and the other English versions. xi. 1. τῇ ἀφροσύνῃ Compl., Erasm., Ald., all our English: τί τῆς ἀφροσύνης Beza, Vulg. ("some little of my folly" Rhemish). PHIL. i. 23. πολλῶ Compl., Erasm., Vulg., all English: Beza, &c. add γάρ. TITUS ii. 7. ἀφθαρσίαν of Compl., Bishops', Authorized, is omitted by Erasm., Ald., Vulg., and the other English versions. HEBR. x. 2. οὐκ ἂν ἐπαύσαντο προσφερόμεναι; Erasm., Vulg., Tyndale, Great Bible, Geneva 1557, Bishops': ἂν ἐπαύσαντο προσφερόμεναι, Compl., Beza, Coverdale. Total 21.

The following variations of the Greek could scarcely be represented in our English versions: Acts vii. 26 & xv. 32. τε Compl., Erasm., Steph. δὲ Beza. xix. 27. μέλλειν δὲ Compl., Erasm. 1516, Steph. μέλλειν τε Erasm. 1519, Beza. xxvii. 3. πρὸς τοὺς φίλους Compl., Erasm.: τοὺς omitted by Stephens and Beza. 1 Cor. vii. 5. συνέρχησθε Compl., Erasm., Steph., Beza 1565, 1589: συνέρχεσθε Beza 1598, Vulg., Tyndale 1534 (perhaps also 1526), Great Bible, Geneva 1557, Bishops'. See Introd. p. xlii. 2 Thess. ii. 4. "all that is called God" is the rendering of all our versions from Tyndale downwards, or it might be thought to represent Beza's conjectural reading πᾶν τὸ for πάντα. Rev. iv. 10. Since all read πεσοῦνται, no stress can be laid on the variation between the present and future in the verbs that follow. x. 7. τελεσθῇ Compl., Erasm., Steph., Beza 1565, "shall be finished" other English versions after Vulg. But Beza's last three editions have τελεσθήσεται, which ill suits "should be finished" of the Authorized.

His Grace the Archbishop has permitted the editor to search for himself the Records of the Convocation of the Province of Canterbury, with the following results. No trace of any synodical action about a new edition of the Bible in 1699 now remains either in the Registers or in the Schedules, which for that year are not complete. Those for 1703 (the year ending on March 24) are all preserved, and in a long list of Gravamina, brought to the Upper House on Feb. 11, 1703³, as

"The humble representation of the Lower House," one article declares "That in some late editions of the Holy Bible and of the Liturgy of the Church of England, several gross errors have been committed." The temper of the whole document, as well as the express testimony of Lewis, renders it likely that the complaint was aimed chiefly at Lloyd's edition by men willing enough to wound, but half afraid to strike.

THE TRANSLATORS TO THE READER.¹

The best things have been calumniated.

ZEAL to promote the common good, whether it be by devising any thing ourselves, or revising that which hath been laboured by others, deserveth certainly much respect and esteem, but yet findeth but cold entertainment in the world. It is welcomed with suspicion instead of love, and with emulation instead of thanks: and if there be any hole left for cavil to enter, (and cavil, if it do not find a hole, will make one) it is sure to be misconstrued, and in danger to be condemned. This will easily be granted by as many as know story, or have any experience. For was there ever any thing projected, that savoured any way of newness or renewing, but the same endured many a storm of gainsaying or opposition? A man would think that civility, wholesome laws, learning and eloquence, synods, and Church-maintenance, (that we speak of no more things of this kind) should be as safe as a sanctuary, and 'out of shot, as they say, that no man would lift up the heel, no, nor dog move his tongue against the motioners of them. For by the first we are distinguished from brute beasts led with sensuality: by the second we are bridled and restrained from outrageous behaviour, and from doing of injuries, whether by fraud or by violence: by the third we are enabled to inform and reform others, by the light and feeling that we have attained unto ourselves: briefly, by the fourth, being brought together to a parle face to face, we sooner compose our differences than by writings, which are endless: and lastly, that the Church be sufficiently provided for is so agreeable to good reason and conscience, that those mothers are holden to be less cruel, that kill their children as soon as they are born, than those nursing fathers and mothers (wheresoever they be) that withdraw from them who hang upon their breasts (and upon whose breasts again themselves do hang to receive the spiritual and sincere milk of the word) livelihood and support fit for their estates. Thus it is apparent, that these things which we speak of are of most necessary use, and therefore that none, either without absurdity can speak against them, or without note of wickedness can spurn against them.

Yet for all that, the learned know that certain worthy men have been brought to untimely death for none other fault, but for seeking to reduce their countrymen to good order and discipline: and that in some Commonweals it was made a capital crime, once to motion the making of a new law for the abrogating of an old, though the same were most pernicious: And that certain, which would be counted pillars of the State, and patterns of virtue and prudence, could not be brought for a long time to give way to good letters and refined speech; but bare themselves as averse from them, as from rocks or boxes of poison: And fourthly, that he was no babe, but a great clerk, that gave forth, (and in writing to remain to posterity) in passion peradventure, but yet he gave forth, That he had not seen any profit to come by any synod or meeting of the Clergy, but rather the contrary: And lastly, against Church-maintenance and allowance, in such sort as the ambassadors and messengers of the great King of kings should be furnished, it is not unknown what a fiction or fable (so it is esteemed, and for no better by the reporter himself, though superstitious) was devised: namely, That at such time as the professors and teachers of Christianity in the Church of Rome, then a true Church, were liberally endowed, a voice forsooth was heard from heaven, saying,

The marginal notes set within brackets are added in the present volume: the rest are in the Bible of 1611.

Now is poison poured down into the Church, &c. Thus not only as oft as we speak, as one saith, but also as oft as we do any thing of note or consequence, we subject ourselves to every one's censure, and happy is he that is least tossed upon tongues; for utterly to escape the snatch of them it is impossible. If any man conceit that this is the lot and portion of the meaner sort only, and that princes are privileged by their high estate, he is deceived. As the sword devoureth as well one as another, as it is in Samuel; nay, as the great commander charged his soldiers in a certain battle to strike at no part of the enemy, but at the face; and as the king of Syria commanded his chief captains to fight neither with small nor great, save only against the king of Israel: so it is too true, that envy striketh most spitefully at the fairest, and at the chiefest. David was a worthy prince, and no man to be compared to him for his first deeds; and yet for as worthy an act as ever he did, even for bringing back the ark of God in solemnity, he was scorned and scoffed at by his own wife. Solomon was greater than David, though not in virtue, yet in power; and by his power and wisdom he built a temple to the Lord, such a one as was the glory of the land of Israel, and the wonder of the whole world. But was that his magnificence liked of by all? We doubt of it. Otherwise why do they lay it in his son's dish, and call unto him for 'easing of the burden? Make, say they, the grievous servitude of thy father, and his sore yoke, lighter. Be-like he had charged them with some levies, and troubled them with some carriages; hereupon they raise up a tragedy, and wish in their heart the temple had never been built. So hard a thing it is to please all, even when we please God best, and do seek to approve ourselves to every one's conscience.

Constantine.

If we will descend to later times, we shall find many the like examples of such kind, or rather unkind, acceptance. The first Roman Emperor did never do a more pleasing deed to the learned, nor more profitable to posterity, for conserving the record of times in true supputation, than when he corrected the Calendar, and ordered the year according to the course of the sun: and yet this was imputed to him for novelty and arrogancy, and procured to him great obloquy. So the first Christened Emperor,

(at the leastwise, that openly professed the faith himself, and allowed others to do the like) for strengthening the empire at his great charges, and providing for the Church, as he did, got for his labour the name Pupillus, as who would say, a wasteful Prince, that had need of a guardian or overseer. So the best Christened Emperor, for the love that he bare unto peace, thereby to enrich both himself and his subjects, and because he did not seek war, but find it, was judged to be no man at arms, (though in deed he excelled in feats of chivalry, and shewed so much when he was provoked) and condemned for giving himself to his ease, and to his pleasure. To be short, the most learned Emperor of former times, (at the least, the greatest politician) what thanks had he for cutting off the superfluities of the laws, and digesting them into some order and method? This, that he hath been blotted by some to be an Epitomist, that is, one that extinguished worthy whole volumes, to bring his abridgments into request. This is the measure that hath been rendered to excellent Princes in former times, even, cum bene facerent, male audire, for their good deeds to be evil spoken of. Neither is there any likelihood that envy and malignity died and were buried with the ancient. No, no, the reproof of Moses taketh hold of most ages, You are risen up in your fathers' stead, an increase of sinful men. What is that that hath been done? that which shall be done: and there is no new thing under the sun, saith the wise man: and S. Stephen, As your fathers did, so do ye. This, and more to this purpose, his Majesty that now reigneth (and long and long may he reign, and his offspring for ever, *Himself and children and children's children always) knew full well, according to the singular wisdom given unto him by God, and the rare learning and experience that he hath attained unto; namely, that whosoever attempteth any thing for the publick, (specially if it pertain to religion, and to the opening and clearing of the word of God) the same setteth himself upon a stage to be glouted upon by every evil eye; yea, he casteth himself headlong upon pikes, to be gored by every sharp tongue. For he that meddleth with men's religion in any part meddleth with their custom, nay, with their freehold; and though they find no content in that which they have, yet they cannot abide to hear of altering. Notwithstanding his royal heart was not daunted or discouraged for this or that colour, but stood resolute, as a statue immoveable, and an anvil not easy to be beaten into plates, as one saith; he knew who had chosen him to be a soldier, or rather a captain; and being assured that the course which he intended made much for the glory of God, and the building up of his Church, he would not suffer it to be broken off for whatsoever speeches or practices. It doth certainly belong unto kings, yea, it doth specially belong unto them, to have care of religion, yea, to know it aright, yea, to profess it zealously, yea, to promote it to the uttermost of their power. This is their glory before all nations which mean well, and this will bring unto them a far most excellent weight of glory in the day of the Lord Jesus. For the Scripture saith not in vain, Them that honour me I will honour: neither was it a vain word that Eusebius delivered long ago, That piety towards God was the weapon, and the only weapon, that both preserved Constantine's person, and avenged him of his enemies.

But now what piety without truth? What truth, what saving truth, without the word of God? What word of God, whereof we may be sure, without the Scripture? The Scriptures we are commanded to search. John 5. 39. Isaiah 8. 20. They are commended that searched and studied them. Acts 17. 11. and 8. 28, 29. They are reprov'd that were unskillful in them, or slow to believe them. Matth. 22. 29. Luke 24. 25. They can make us wise unto salvation. 2 Tim. 3. 15. If we be ignorant, they will instruct us; if out of the way, they will bring us home; if out of order, they will reform us; if in heaviness, comfort us; if dull, quicken us; if cold, inflame us. Tolle, lege; tolle, lege; Take up and read, take up and read the Scriptures, (for unto them was the direction) it was said unto S. Augustine by a supernatural voice. Whatsoever is in the Scriptures, believe me, saith the same S. Augustine, is high and divine; there is verily truth, and a doctrine most fit for the refreshing and renewing of men's minds, and truly so temperal, that every one may draw from thence that which is sufficient for him, if he come to draw with a devout and pious mind, as true religion requireth. Thus S. Augustine. And S. Hierome, Ama Scripturas, et amabit te sapientia, &c. Love the Scriptures, and wisdom will love thee. And S. Cyrill against Julian, Even boys that are bred up in the Scriptures, become most religious, &c. But what mention we three or four uses of the Scripture, whereas whatsoever is to be believed, or practised, or hoped for, is contained in them? or three or four sentences of the Fathers, since whosoever is worthy the name of a Father, from Christ's time downward, hath likewise written not only of the riches, but also of the perfection of the Scripture? I adore the fulness of the Scripture, saith Tertullian against Hermogenes. And again, to Apelles a heretick of the like stamp he saith, I do not admit that which thou bringest in (or concludest) of thine own (head or store, de tuo) without Scripture. So Saint Justin Martyr before him; We must know by all means (saith he) that it is not lawful (or possible) to learn (any thing) of God or of right piety, save only out of the Prophets, who teach us by divine inspiration. So Saint Basil after Tertullian, It is a manifest falling away from the faith, and a fault of presumption, either to reject any of those things that are written, or to bring in (upon the head of them, ἐπιεσάγειν) any of those things that are not written. We omit to cite to the same effect S. Cyrill, Bishop of Jerusalem, in his 4. Cateches. Saint Hierome against Helvidius, Saint Augustine in his third book against the letters of Petilian, and in very many other places of his works. Also we forbear to descend to latter Fathers, because we will not weary the reader. The Scriptures then being acknowledged to be so full and so perfect, how can we excuse ourselves of negligence, if we do not study them? of curiosity, if we be not content with them? Men talk much of εἰρεσιώγη, how many sweet and goodly things it had hanging on it; of the Philosopher's stone, that it turneth copper into gold; of Cornucopia, that it had all things necessary for food in it; of Panaces the herb, that it was good for all diseases; of Catholicon the drug, that it is instead of all purges; of Vulcan's armour, that it was an armour of proof against all thrusts and all blows, &c. Well, that which they falsely or vainly attributed to these things for bodily good, we may justly and with full measure ascribe unto the Scripture for spiritual. It is not only an armour, but also a whole armoury of weapons, both offensive and defensive; whereby we may save ourselves, and put the enemy to flight. It is not an herb, but a tree, or rather a whole paradise of trees of life, which bring forth fruit every month, and the fruit thereof is for meat, and the leaves for medicine. It is not a pot of Manna or a cruse of oil, which were for memory only, or for a meal's meat or two; but as it were a shower of heavenly bread sufficient for a whole host, be it never so great, and as it were a whole cellar full of oil vessels; whereby all our necessities may be provided for, and our debts discharged. In a word, it is a panary of wholesome food against fenowed* traditions; a physician's shop (Saint Basil calleth it) of preservatives against poisoned heresies; a pandect of profitable laws against rebellious spirits; a treasury of most costly jewels against beggarly rudiments; finally, a fountain of most pure water springing up unto everlasting life. And what marvel? the original thereof being from heaven, not from earth; the author being God, not man; the inditer, the Holy Spirit, not the wit of the Apostles or Prophets; the penmen, such as were sanctified from the womb, and endued with a principal portion of God's Spirit; the matter, verity, piety, purity, uprightness; the form, God's word, God's testimony, God's oracles, the word of truth, the word of salvation, &c.; the effects, light of understanding, stableness of persuasion, repentance from dead works, newness of life, holiness, peace, joy in the Holy Ghost; lastly, the end and reward of the study thereof, fellowship with the saints, participation of the heavenly nature, fruition of an inheritance immortal, undefiled, and that never shall fade away: Happy is the man that delighteth in the Scripture, and thrice happy that meditateth in it day and night.

But how shall men meditate in that which they cannot understand? How shall they understand that which is kept close in an unknown tongue? as it is written, Except I know the power of the voice, I shall be to him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian to me. The Apostle excepteth no tongue; not Hebrew the ancientest, not Greek the most copious, not Latin the finest. Nature taught a natural man to confess, that all of us in those tongues which we do not understand are plainly deaf; we may turn the deaf ear unto them. The Scythian counted the Athenian, whom he did not understand, barbarous: so the Roman did the Syrian and the Jew: (even S. Hierome himself calleth the Hebrew tongue barbarous; belike, because it was strange to so many;) so the Emperor of Constantinople calleth the Latin tongue barbarous, though Pope Nicolas do storm at it: so the Jews long before Christ called all other nations *Lognazim, which is little better than barbarous. Therefore as one complaineth that always in the Senate of Rome there was one or other that called for an interpreter; so, lest the Church be driven to the like exigent, it is necessary to have translations in a readiness. Translation it is that openeth the window, to let in the light; that breaketh the shell, that we may eat the kernel; that putteth aside the curtain, that we may look into the most holy place; that removeth the cover of the well, that we may come by the water; even as Jacob rolled away the stone from the mouth of the well, by which means the flocks of Laban were watered. Indeed without translation into the vulgar tongue, the unlearned are but like children at Jacob's well (which was deep) without a bucket or something to draw with: or as that person mentioned by Esay, to whom when a sealed book was delivered with this motion, Read this, I pray thee, he was fain to make this answer, I cannot, for it is sealed.

While God would be known only in Jacob, and have his name great in Israel, and in none other place: while the dew lay on Gideon's fleece only, and all the earth besides was dry; then for one and the same people, which spake all of them the language of Canaan, that is, Hebrew, one and the same original in Hebrew was sufficient. But when the fulness of time drew near, that the Sun of righteousness, the Son of God, should come into the world, whom God ordained to be a reconciliation through faith in his blood, not of the Jew only, but also of the Greek, yea, of all them that were scattered abroad; then lo, it pleased the Lord to stir up the spirit of a Greek Prince, (Greek for descent and language) even of Ptolemy Philadelph king of Egypt, to procure the translating of the book of God out of Hebrew into Greek. This is the translation of the Seventy interpreters, commonly so called, which prepared the way for our Saviour among the Gentiles by written preaching, as Saint John Baptist did among the Jews by vocal. Grecians, being desirous of learning, were not wont to suffer books of worth to lie moulding in kings' libraries, but had many of their servants, ready scribes, to copy them out, and so they were dispersed and made common. Again, the Greek tongue was well known and made familiar to most inhabitants in Asia by reason of the conquest that there the Grecians had made, as also by the colonies which thither they had sent. For the same causes also it was well understood in many places of Europe, yea, and of Africk too. Therefore the word of God being set forth in Greek, becometh hereby like a candle set upon a candlestick, which giveth light to all that are in the house; or like a proclamation sounded forth in the market-place, which most men presently take knowledge of; and therefore that language was fittest to contain the Scriptures, both for the first preachers of the Gospel to appeal unto for witness, and for the learners also of those times to make search and trial by. It is certain, that that translation was not so sound and so perfect, but that it needed in many places correction; and who had been so sufficient for this work as the Apostles or apostolick men? Yet it seemed good to the Holy Ghost and to them to take that which they found, (the same being for the greatest part true and sufficient) rather than by making a new, in that new world and green age of the Church, to expose themselves to many exceptions and cavillations, as though they made a translation to serve their own turn, and therefore bearing witness to themselves, their witness not to be regarded. This may be supposed to be some cause, why the translation of the Seventy was allowed to pass for current. Notwithstanding, though it was commended generally, yet it did not fully content the learned, no not of the Jews. For not long after Christ, Aquila fell in hand with a new translation, and after him Theodotion, and after him Symmachus: yea, there was a fifth and a sixth edition, the authors whereof were not known. These with the Seventy made up the Hexapla, and were worthily and to great purpose compiled together by Origen. Howbeit the edition of the Seventy went away with the credit, and therefore not only was placed in the midst by Origen, (for the worth and excellency thereof above the rest, as Epiphanius gathereth) but also was used by the Greek Fathers for the ground and foundation of their commentaries. Yea, Epiphanius above-named doth attribute so much unto it, that he holdeth the authors thereof not only for interpreters, but also for prophets in some respect: and Justinian the Emperor, enjoining the Jews his subjects to use specially the Translation of the Seventy, rendereth this reason thereof, Because they were, as it were, enlightened with prophetic grace. Yet for all that, as the Egyptians are said of the Prophet to be men and not God, and their horses flesh and not spirit: so it is evident, (and Saint Hierome affirmeth as much) that the Seventy were interpreters, they were not prophets. They did many things well, as learned men; but yet as men they stumbled and fell, one while through oversight, another while through ignorance: yea, sometimes they may be noted to add to the original, and sometimes to take from it: which made the Apostles to leave them many times, when they left the Hebrew, and to deliver the sense thereof according to the truth of the word, as the Spirit gave them utterance. This may suffice touching the Greek translations of the Old Testament.

There were also within a few hundred years after Christ translations many into the Latin tongue: for this tongue also was very fit to convey the law and the Gospel by, because in those times very many countries of the West, yea of the South, East, and North, spake or understood Latin, being made provinces to the Romans. But now the Latin translations were too many to be all good, for they were infinite; (Latini interpretes nullo modo numerari possunt, saith S. Augustine.) Again, they were not out of the Hebrew fountain, (we speak of the Latin translations of the Old Testament) but out of the Greek stream; therefore the Greek being not altogether clear, the Latin derived from it must needs be muddy. This moved S. Hierome, a most learned Father, and the best linguist without controversy of his age, or of any that went before him, to undertake the translating of the Old Testament out of the very fountains themselves; which he performed with that evidence of great learning, judgment, industry, and faithfulness, that he hath for ever bound the Church unto him in a debt of special remembrance and thankfulness.

Now though the Church were thus furnished with Greek and Latin translations, even before the faith of Christ was generally embraced in the Empire: (for the learned know that even in S. Hierome's time the Consul of Rome and his wife were both Ethnicks, and about the same time the greatest part of the Senate also) yet for all that the godly learned were not content to have the Scriptures in the language which themselves understood, Greek and Latin, (as the good lepers were not content to fare well themselves, but acquainted their neighbours with the store that God had sent, that they also might provide for themselves) but also for the behoof and edifying of the unlearned which hungered and thirsted after righteousness, and had souls to be saved as well as they, they provided translations into the vulgar for their countrymen, insomuch that most nations under heaven did shortly after their conversion hear Christ speaking unto them in their mother tongue, not by the voice of their minister only, but also by the written word translated. If any doubt hereof, he may be satisfied by examples enough, if enough will serve the turn. First, S. Hierome saith, Multarum gentium linguis Scriptura ante translata docet falsa esse quæ addita sunt, &c. i.e. The Scripture being translated before in the language of many nations doth shew that those things that were added (by Lucian or Hesychius) are false. So S. Hierome in that place. The same Hierome elsewhere affirmeth that he, the time was, had set forth the translation of the Seventy, sæc lingue hominibus; i.e. for his countrymen of Dalmatia. Which words not only Erasmus doth understand to purport, that S. Hierome translated the Scripture into the Dalmatian tongue; but also Sixtus Senensis, and Alphonsus a Castro, (that we speak of no more) men not to be excepted against by them of Rome, do ingenuously confess as much. So S. Chrysostome, that lived in S. Hierome's time, giveth evidence with him: The doctrine of S. John (saith he) did not in such sort (as the Philosophers did) vanish away: but the Syrians, Egyptians, Indians, Persians, Ethiopians, and infinite other nations, being barbarous people, translated it into their (mother) tongue, and have learned to be (true) Philosophers, he meaneth Christians. To this may be added Theodoret, as next unto him both for antiquity, and for learning. His words be these, Every country that is under the sun is full of these words, (of the Apostles and Prophets) and the Hebrew tongue (he meaneth the Scriptures in the Hebrew tongue) is turned not only into the language of the Grecians, but also of the Romans, and Egyptians, and Persians, and Indians, and Armenians, and Scythians, and Sauromatians, and, briefly, into all the languages that any nation useth. So he. In like manner Ulpilas is reported by Paulus Diaconus and Isidore, and before them by Sozomen, to have translated the Scriptures into the Gothick tongue: John Bishop of Sevil by Vasseus, to have turned them into Arabick about the Year of our Lord 717: Beda by Cistertiensis, to have turned a great part of them into Saxon: Efnard by Trithemius, to have abridged the French Psalter (as Beda had done the Hebrew) about the year 800: King Alured by the said Cistertiensis, to have turned the Psalter into Saxon: Methodius by Aventinus (printed at Ingolstadt) to have turned the Scriptures into Sclavonian!: Valdo Bishop of Frising by Beatus Rhenanus, to have caused about that time the Gospels to be translated into Dutch rhythm, yet extant in the library of *Corbinian: Valdus by divers, to have turned them himself, or to have gotten them turned, into French about the year 1160: Charles the fifth of that name, surnamed The wise, to have caused them to be turned into French, about 200 years after Valdus his time; of which translation there be many copies yet extant, as witnesseth Beroaldus. Much about that time, even in our King Richard the second's days, John Trevisa translated them into English, and many English Bibles in written hand are yet to be seen with divers; translated, as it is very probable, in that age. So the Syrian translation of the New Testament is in most learned men's libraries, of Widminstadius his setting forth; and the Psalter in Arabick is with many, of Augustinus Nebensis' setting forth. So Postel affirmeth, that in his travel he saw the Gospels in the Ethiopian tongue: And Ambrose Thesius allegeth the Psalter of the Indians, which he testifieth to have been set forth by Potken in Syrian characters. So that to have the Scriptures in the mother tongue is not a quaint conceit lately taken up, either by the Lord Cromwell in England, or by the Lord Radevil in Polonic, or by the Lord Ungnadius in the Emperor's dominion, but hath been thought upon, and put in practice of old, even from the first times of the conversion of any nation; no doubt, because it was esteemed most profitable to cause faith to grow in men's hearts the sooner, and to make them to be able to say with the words of the Psalm, As we have heard, so we have seen.

Tertul. de resur. carnis [cap. 47].

Now the Church of Rome would seem at the length to bear a motherly affection towards her children, and to allow them the Scriptures in their mother tongue: but indeed it is a gift, not deserving to be called a gift*, an unprofitable gift: they must first get a licence in writing before they may use them; and to get that, they must approve themselves to their Confessor, that is, to be such as are, if not frozen in the dregs, yet soured with the leaven of their superstition. Howbeit, it seemed too much to Clement the eighth that there should be any licence granted to have them in the vulgar tongue, and therefore he overruleth and frustrateth the grant of Pius the fourth. So much are they afraid of the light of the Scripture, (Lucifuge Scripturarum, as Tertulian speaketh) that they will not trust the people with it, no not as it is set forth by their own sworn men, no not with the licence of their own Bishops and Inquisitors. Yea, so unwilling they are to communicate the Scriptures to the people's understanding in any sort, that they are not ashamed to confess that we forced them to translate it into English against their wills. This seemeth to argue a bad cause, or a bad conscience, or both. Sure we are, that it is not he that hath good gold, that is afraid to bring it to the touchstone, but he that hath the counterfeit; neither is it the true man that shunneth the light, but the malefactor, lest his deeds should be reprov'd; neither is it the plain-dealing merchant that is unwilling to have the weights, or the meteyard, brought in place, but he that useth deceit. But we will let them alone for this fault, and return to translation.

John 3. 20.

The speeches and reasons, both of our brethren, and of our adversaries, against this work.

Many men's mouths have been open a good while (and yet are not stopped) with speeches about the translation so long in hand, or rather perusals of translations made before: and ask what may be the reason, what the necessity, of the employment. Hath the Church been deceived, say they, all this while? Hath her sweet bread been mingled with leaven, her silver with dross, her wine with water, her milk with lime? (lacte gypsum malè miscetur, saith S. Ireney.) We hoped that we had been in the right way, that we had had the oracles of God delivered unto us, and that though all the world had cause to be offended, and to complain, yet that we had none. Hath the nurse holden out the breast, and nothing but wind in it? Hath the bread been delivered by the Fathers of the Church, and the same proved to be lapisosus, as Seneca speaketh? What is it to handle the word of God deceitfully, if this be not? Thus certain brethren. Also the adversaries of Judah and Hierusalem, like Sanballat in Nehemiah, mock, as we hear, both at the work and workmen, saying, What do these weak Jews, &c. will they make the stones whole again out of the heaps of dust which are burnt? Although they build, yet if a fox go up, he shall even break down their stony wall. Was their translation good before? Why do they now mend it? Was it not good? Why then was it obtruded to the people? Yea, why did the Catholicks (meaning Popish Romanists) always go in jeopardy for refusing to go to hear it? Nay, if it must be translated into English, Catholicks are fittest to do it. They have learning, and they know when a thing is well, they can manum de tabulâ. We will answer them both briefly: and the former, being brethren, thus with St. Hierome, Damnatus veteres? Minime. sed post priorum studia in domo Domini quod possumus laboramus. That is, Do we condemn the ancient? In no case: but after the endeavours of them that were before us, we take the best pains we can in the house of God. As if he said, Being provoked by the example of the learned that lived before my time, I have thought it my duty to assay whether my talent in the knowledge of the tongues may be profitable in any measure to God's Church, lest I should seem to have laboured in them in vain, and lest I should be thought to glory in men (although ancient) above that which was in them. Thus S. Hierome may be thought to speak.

or correction of a translation, in his time) or Queen Elizabeth's of ever renowned memory, that we acknowledge them to have been raised up of God for the building and furnishing of his Church, and that they deserve to be had of us and of posterity in everlasting remembrance. The judgment of Aristotle is worthy and well known: If Timotheus had not been, we had not had much sweet musick: But if Phrynis (Timotheus his master) had not been, we had not had Timotheus. Therefore blessed be they, and most honoured be their name, that break the ice, and give the onset upon that which helpeth forward to the saving of souls. Now what can be more available thereto, than to deliver God's book unto God's people in a tongue which they understand? Since of an hidden treasure, and of a fountain that is sealed, there is no profit, as Ptolemy Philadelph wrote to the Rabbins or masters of the Jews, as witnesseth Epiphanius: and as S. Augustine saith, A man had rather be with his dog than with a stranger (whose tongue is strange unto him.) Yet for all that, as nothing is begun and perfected at the same time, and the latter thoughts are thought to be the wiser: so, if we building upon their foundation that went before us, and being holpen by their labours, do endeavour to make that better which they left so good; no man, we are sure, hath cause to mislike us; they, we persuade ourselves, if they were alive, would thank us. The vintage of Abiezer, that strake the stroke: yet the gleanings of grapes of Ephraim was not to be despised. See Judges viii. verse 2. Joash the king of Israel did not satisfy himself till he had smitten the ground three times; and yet he offended the Prophet for giving over then. Aquila, of whom we spake before, translated the Bible as carefully and as skilfully as he could; and yet he thought good to go over it again, and then it got the credit with the Jews to be called κατὰ ἀκριβείαν, that is, accurately done, as St. Hierome witnesseth. How many books of profane learning have been gone over again and again, by the same translators, by others? Of one and the same book of Aristotle's Ethics there are extant not so few as six or seven several translations. Now if this cost may be bestowed upon the gourd, which affordeth us a little shade, and which to-day flourisheth, but to-morrow is cut down; what may we bestow, nay, what ought we not to bestow, upon the vine, the fruit whereof maketh glad the conscience of man, and the stem whereof abideth for ever? And this is the word of God, which we translate. What is the chaff to the wheat? saith the Lord. Tanti vitrum, quanti verum margaritum (saith Tertullian;) if a toy of glass be of that reckoning with us, how ought we to value the true pearl? Therefore let no man's eye be evil, because his Majesty's is good; neither let any be grieved, that we have a Prince that seeketh the increase of the spiritual wealth of Israel; (let Sanballats and Tobiah's do so, which therefore do bear their just reproof) but let us rather bless God from the ground of our heart for working this religious care in him to have the translations of the Bible maturely considered of and examined. For by this means it cometh to pass, that whatsoever is sound already, (and all is sound for substance in one or other of our editions, and the worst of ours far better than their authentick Vulgar) the same will shine as gold more brightly, being rubbed and polished; also, if any thing be halting, or superfluous, or not so agreeable to the original, the same may be corrected, and the truth set in place. And what can the King command to be done, that will bring him more true honour than this? And wherein could they that have been set a work approve their duty to the King, yea, their obedience to God, and love to his Saints, more, than by yielding their service, and all that is within them, for the furnishing of the work? But besides all this, they were the principal motives of it, and therefore ought least to quarrel it. For the very historical truth is, that upon the importunate petitions of the Puritans at his Majesty's coming to this crown, the conference at Hampton Court having been appointed for hearing their complaints, when by force of reason they were put from all other grounds, they had recourse at the last to this shift, that they could not with good conscience subscribe to the Communion book, since it maintained the Bible as it was there translated, which was, as they said, a most corrupted translation. And although this was judged to be but a very poor and empty shift, yet even hereupon did his Majesty begin to bethink himself of the good that might ensue by a new translation, and presently after gave order for this translation which is now presented unto thee. Thus much to satisfy our scrupulous brethren.

An answer to the imputations of our adversaries.

Now to the latter we answer, that we do not deny, nay, we affirm and avow, that the very meanest translation of the Bible in English set forth by men of our profession (for we have seen none of theirs of the whole Bible as yet*) containeth the word of God, nay, is the word of God: as the King's speech which he uttered in Parliament. being translated into French, Dutch, Italian, and Latin, is still the King's speech, though it be not interpreted by every translator with the like grace, nor peradventure so fitly for phrase, nor so expressly for sense. every where. For it is confessed. that things are to take their denomination of the greater part; and a natural man could say, Verum ubi multa nitent in carmine, non ego paucis offendor maculis, &c. A man may be counted a virtuous man, though he have made many slips in his life, (else there were none virtuous, for in many things we offend all,) also a comely man and lovely, though he have some warts upon his hand, yea, not only freckles upon his face, but also scars. No cause therefore why the word translated should be denied to be the word, or forbidden to be current, notwithstanding that some imperfections and blemishes may be noted in the setting forth of it. For whatever was perfect under the sun, where Apostles or apostolick men, that is, men endued with an extraordinary measure of God's Spirit, and privileged with the privilege of infallibility, had not their hand? The Romanists therefore in refusing to hear, and daring to burn the word translated, did no less than despite the Spirit of grace, from whom originally it proceeded, and whose sense and meaning, as well as man's weakness would enable, it did express. Judge by an example or two.

Plutarch writeth, that after that Rome had been burnt by the Gauls, they fell soon to build it again: but doing it in haste, they did not cast the streets, nor proportion the houses, in such comely fashion, as had been most sightly and convenient. Was Catiline therefore an honest man, or a good patriot, that sought to bring it to a combustion? or Nero a good Prince, that did indeed set it on fire? So by the story of Ezra and the prophecy of Haggai it may be gathered, that the temple built by Zerubabel after the return from Babylon was by no means to be compared to the former built by Solomon: (for they that remembered the former wept when they considered the latter) notwithstanding might this latter either have been abhorred and forsaken by the Jews, or profaned by the Greeks? The like we are to think of translations. The translation of the Seventy dissenteth from the Original in many places, neither doth it come near it for perspicuity, gravity, majesty: yet which of the Apostles did condemn it? Condemn it? Nay, they used it. (as it is apparent, and as Saint Hierome and most learned men do confess) which they would not have done, nor by their example of using of it so grace and commend it to the Church, if it had been unworthy the appellation and name of the word of God. And whereas they urge for their second defence of their vilifying and abusing of the English Bibles, or some pieces thereof, which they meet with, for that Hereticks forsooth were the authors of the translations: (Hereticks they call us by the same right that they call themselves Catholicicks, both being wrong) we marvel what divinity taught them so. We are sure Tertullian was of another mind: Ex personis probamus fidem, an ex fide personas? Do we try men's faith by their persons? We should try their persons by their faith. Also S. Augustine was of another mind: for he, lighting upon certain rules made by Tychonius a Donatist for the better understanding of the Word, was not ashamed to make use of them, yea, to insert them into his own book, with giving commendation to them so far forth as they were worthy to be commended, as is to be seen in St. Augustine's third book De Doctrina Christiana. To be short, Origen, and the whole Church of God for certain hundred years, were of another mind: for they were so far from treading under foot (much more from burning) the translation of Aquila a proselyte, that is, one that had turned Jere, of Symmachus, and Theodotion, both Ebionites, that is, most vile hereticks, that they joined them together with the Hebrew original, and the translation of the Seventy, (as hath been before signified out of Epiphanius) and set them forth openly to be considered of and perused by all. But we weary the unlearned, who need not know so much; and trouble the learned, who know it already.

Yet before we end, we must answer a third cavil and objection of theirs against us, for altering and amending our Translations so oft; wherein truly they deal hardly and strangely with us. For to whom ever was it imputed for a fault (by such as were wise) to go over that which he had done, and to amend it where he saw cause? Saint Augustine was not afraid to exhort S. Hierome to a Palinodia or recantation. The same S. Augustine was not ashamed to retractate, we might say, revoke, many things that had passed him, and doth even glory that he seeth his infirmities. If we will be sons of the truth, we must consider what it speaketh, and trample upon our own credit, yea, and upon other men's too, if either be any way a hinderance to it. This to the cause. Then to the persons we say, that of all men they ought to be most silent in this case. For what varieties have they, and what alterations have they made. not only of their service books, portesses, and breviaries, but also of their Latin translation? The service book supposed to be made by S. Ambrose (Officium Ambrosianum) was a great while in special use and request: but Pope Adrian, calling a council with the aid of Charles the Emperor, abolished it, yea, burnt it, and commanded the service book of Saint Gregory universally to be used. Well, Officium Gregorianum gets by this means to be in credit; but doth it continue without change or altering? No, the very Roman service was of two fashions; the new fashion, and the old, the one used in one Church, the other in another; as is to be seen in Pamelius a Romanist his preface before Micrologus. The same Pamelius reporteth out of Radulphus de Rivo, that about the year of our Lord 1277 Pope Nicolas the third removed out of the churches of Rome the more ancient books (of service) and brought into use the missals of the Friers Minorites, and commanded them to be observed there:

insomuch that about an hundred years after, when the above named Radulphus happened to be at Rome, he found all the books to be new, of the new stamp. Neither was there this chopping and changing in the more ancient times only, but also of late. Pius Quintus himself confesseth, that every bishoprick almost had a peculiar kind of service, most unlike to that which others had; which moved him to abolish all other breviaries, though never so ancient, and privileged and published by Bishops in their Dioceses, and to establish and ratify that only which was of his own setting forth in the year 1568. Now when the Father of their Church, who gladly would heal the sore of the daughter of his people softly and slightly, and make the best of it, findeth so great fault with them for their odds and jarring; we hope the children have no great cause to vaunt of their uniformity. But the difference that appeareth between our translations, and our often correcting of them, is the thing that we are specially charged with; let us see therefore whether they themselves be without fault this way, (if it be to be counted a fault to correct) and whether they be fit men to throw stones at us: O tandem major parcas insane minori: they that are less sound themselves ought not to object infirmities to others. If we should tell them that Valla, Stapulensis, Erasmus, and Vives, found fault with their vulgar translation, and consequently wished the same to be mended, or a new one to be made; they would answer peradventure, that we produced their enemies for witnesses against them; albeit they were in no other sort enemies, than as S. Paul was to the Galatians, for telling them the truth: and it were to be wished, that they had dared to tell it them plainlier and oftener. But what will they say to this, That Pope Leo the tenth allowed Erasmus's translation of the New Testament, so much different from the Vulgar, by his apostolick letter and bull? That the same Leo exhorted Pagnine to translate the whole Bible, and bare whatsoever charges was necessary for the work? Surely, as the Apostle reasoneth to the Hebrews, that if the former Law and Testament had been sufficient, there had been no need of the latter: so we may say, that if the old Vulgar had been at all points allowable, to small purpose had labour and charges been undergone about framing of a new. If they say, it was one Pope's private opinion, and that he consulted only himself; then we are able to go further with them, and to aver, that more of their chief men of all sorts, even their own Trent champions, Paiva and Vega, and their own Inquisitors, Hieronymus ab Oleastro, and their own Bishop Isidorus Clarius, and their own Cardinal Thomas a Vio Cajetan, do either make new translations themselves, or follow new ones of other men's making, or note the Vulgar interpreter for halting, none of them fear to dissent from him, nor yet to except against him. And call they this an uniform tenor of text and judgment about the text, so many of their worthies disclaiming the now received conceit? Nay, we will yet come nearer the quick. Doth not their Paris edition differ from the Lorraine, and Hentenius his from them both, and yet all of them allowed by authority? Nay, doth not Sixtus Quintus confess, that certain Catholics (he meaneth certain of his own side) were in such a humour of translating the Scriptures into Latin, that Satan taking occasion by them, though they thought of no such matter, did strive what he could, out of so uncertain and manifold a variety of translations, so to mingle all things, that nothing might seem to be left certain and firm in them? &c. Nay further, did not the same Sixtus ordain by an inviolable decree, and that with the counsel and consent of his Cardinals, that the Latin edition of the Old and New Testament, which the Council of Trent would have to be authentick, is the same without controversy which he then set forth, being diligently corrected and printed in the printinghouse of Vatican? Thus Sixtus in his Preface before his Bible. And yet Clement the eighth, his immediate successor, published another edition of the Bible, containing in it infinite differences from that of Sixtus, and many of them weighty and material; and yet this must be authentick by all means. What is to have the faith of our glorious Lord Jesus Christ with yea and nay, if this be not? Again, what is sweet harmony and consent, if this be? Therefore, as Demaratus of Corinth advised a great King, before he talked of the dissensions among the Grecians, to compose his domestic broils; (for at that time his Queen and his son and heir were at deadly feud with him) so all the while that our adversaries do make so many and so various editions themselves, and do jar so much about the worth and authority of them, they can with no show of equity challenge us for changing and correcting.

But it is high time to leave them, and to shew in brief what we proposed to ourselves, and what course we held, in this our perusal and survey of the Bible. Truly, good Christian Reader, we never thought from the beginning that we should need to make a new translation, nor yet to make of a bad one a good one; (for then the imputation of Sixtus had been true in some sort, that our people had been fed with gall of dragons instead of wine, with whey instead of milk;) but to make a good one better, or out of many good ones one principal good one, not justly to be excepted against; that hath been our endeavour, that our mark. To that purpose there were many chosen, that were greater in other men's eyes than in their own, and that sought the truth rather than their own praise. Again, they came, or were thought to come, to the work, not exercendi causa, (as one saith) but exercitati, that is, learned, not to learn: For the chief overseer and ἐργοδότης under his Majesty, to whom not only we, but also our whole Church was much bound*, knew by his wisdom, which thing also Nazianzen taught so long ago, that it is a preposterous order to teach first, and to learn after, yea that τὸ ἐν πῶθ κεραμίαν μαθήσθαι, to learn and practise together, is neither commendable for the workman, nor safe for the work. Therefore such were thought upon, as could say modestly with Saint Hierome. Et Hebraicum sermonem ex parte didicimus, et in Latino penè ab ipsis incunabulis, &c. detriti sumus; Both we have learned the Hebrew tongue in part, and in the Latin we have been exercised almost from our very cradle. S. Hierome maketh no mention of the Greek tongue, wherein yet he did excel; because he translated not the Old Testament out of Greek, but out of Hebrew. And in what sort did these assemble? In the trust of their own knowledge, or of their sharpness of wit, or deepness of judgment, as it were in an arm of flesh? At no hand. They trusted in him that hath the key of David, [Rev. 3: 7] opening, and no man shutting; they prayed to the Lord, the Father of our Lord, to the effect that St. Augustine did; O let thy Scriptures be my pure delight; let me not be deceived in them, neither let me deceive by them. In this confidence, and with this devotion, did they assemble together; not too many, lest one should trouble another; and yet many, lest many things haply might escape them. If you ask what they had before them, truly it was the Hebrew text of the Old Testament, the Greek of the New. These are the two golden pipes, or rather conduits, wherethrough the olive branches empty themselves into the gold. Saint Augustine calleth them precedent, or original, tongues; Saint Hierome, fountains. The same Saint Hierome affirmeth, and Gratian hath not spared to put it into his decree, That as the credit of the old books (he meaneth of the Old Testament) is to be tried by the Hebrew volumes; so of the New by the Greek tongue. If truth be to be tried by these tongues, then whence should a translation be made, but out of them? These tongues therefore (the Scriptures, we say, in those tongues) we set before us to translate, being the tongues wherein God was pleased to speak to his Church by his Prophets and Apostles. Neither did we run over the work with that posting haste that the Septuagint did, if that be true which is reported of them, that they finished it in seventy two days; neither were we barred or hindered from going over it again, having once done it, like S. Hierome, if that be true which himself reporteth, that he could no sooner write any thing, but presently it was caught from him, and published, and he could not have leave to mend it: neither, to be short, were we the first that fell in hand with translating the Scripture into English, and consequently destitute of former helps, as it is written of Origen, that he was the first in a manner, that put his hand to write commentaries upon the Scriptures, and therefore no marvel if he overshot himself many times. None of these things: the work hath not been huddled up in seventy two days, but hath cost the workmen, as light as it seemeth, the pains of twice seven times seventy two days, and more. Matters of such weight and consequence are to be speeded with maturity: for in a business of moment a man feareth not the blame of convenient slackness. Neither did we think much to consult the translators or commentators, Chaldee, Hebrew, Syrian, Greek, or Latin; no, nor the *Spanish, French, Italian, or Dutch; neither did we disdain to revise that which we had done, and to bring back to the anvil that which we had hammered: but having and using as great helps as were needful, and fearing no reproach for slowness, nor coveting praise for expedition, we have at the length, through the good hand of the Lord upon us, brought the work to that pass that you see.

Some peradventure would have no variety of senses to be set in the margin, lest the authority of the Scriptures for deciding of controversies by that show of uncertainty should somewhat be shaken. But we hold their judgment not to be so sound in this point. For though whatsoever things are necessary are manifest, as S. Chrysostome saith; and, as S. Augustine, in those things that are plainly set down in the Scriptures all such matters are found that concern faith, hope, and charity: yet for all that it cannot be dissembled, that partly to exercise and whet our wits, partly to wean the curious from loathing of them for their every where plainness, partly also to stir up our devotion to crave the assistance of God's Spirit by prayer, and lastly, that we might be forward to seek aid of our brethren by conference, and never scorn those that be not in all respects so complete as they should be, being to seek in many things ourselves, it hath pleased God in his Divine Providence here and there to scatter words and sentences of that difficulty and doubtfulness, not in doctrinal points that concern salvation, (for in such it hath been vouched that the Scriptures are plain) but in matters of less moment, that fearfulness would better beseech us than confidence, and if we will resolve, to resolve upon modesty with S. Augustine, (though not in this same case altogether, yet upon the same ground) Melius est dubitare de occultis, quam litigare de incertis: It is better to make doubt of those things which are secret, than to strive about those things that are uncertain. There be many words in the Scriptures which be never found there but once, (having neither brother nor neighbour, as the Hebrews speak) so that we cannot be holpen by conference of places. Again, there be many rare names of certain birds, beasts, and precious stones, &c. concerning which the Hebrews themselves are so divided among themselves for judgment, that they may seem to have defined this or that, rather because they would say something, than because they were sure of that which they said, as S. Hierome somewhere saith of the Septuagint. Now in such a case doth not a margin do well to admonish the Reader to seek further, and not to conclude or dogmatize upon this or that peremptorily? For as it is a fault of incredulity, to doubt of those things that are evident; so to determine of such things as the Spirit of God hath left (even in the judgment of the judicious) questionable, can be no less than presumption. Therefore as S. Augustine saith, that variety of translations is profitable for the finding out of the sense of the Scriptures: so diversity of signification and sense in the margin, where the text is not so clear, must needs do good; yea, is necessary, as we are persuaded. We know that Sixtus Quintus expressly forbiddeth that any variety of readings of their Vulgar edition should be put in the margin: (which though it be not altogether the same thing to that we have in hand, yet it looketh that way;) but we think he hath not all of his own side his favourers for this conceit. They that are wise had rather have their judgments at liberty in differences of readings, than to be captivated to one, when it may be the other. If they were sure that their high priest had all laws shut up in his breast, as Paul the second bragged, and that he were as free from error by special privilege, as the dictators of Rome were made by law inviolable, it were another matter; then his word were an oracle, his opinion a decision. But the eyes of the world are now open, God be thanked, and have been a great while; they find that he is subject to the same affections and infirmities that others be, that his skin is penetrable, and therefore so much as he groweth, not as much as he claimeth, they grant and embrace.

Another thing we think good to admonish thee of, gentle Reader, that we have not tied ourselves to an uniformity of phrasing, or to an identity of words, as some peradventure would wish that we had done, because they observe, that some learned men somewhere have been as exact as they could that way. Truly, that we might not vary from the sense of that which we had translated before, if the word signified the same thing in both places, (for there be some words that be not of the same sense every where) we were especially careful, and made a conscience, according to our duty. But that we should express the same notion in the same particular word; as for example, if we translate the Hebrew or Greek word once by purpose, never to call it intent; if one where journeying, never travelling; if one where think, never suppose; if one where pain, never ache; if one where joy, never gladness. &c. thus to mince the matter, we thought to savour more of curiosity than wisdom, and that rather it would breed scorn in the atheist, than bring profit to the godly reader. For is the kingdom of God become words or syllables? Why should we be in bondage to them, if we may be free? use one precisely, when we may use another no less fit as commodiously? A godly Father in the primitive time shewed himself greatly moved, that one of newfangledness called κράββατον, σκίμπος, though the difference be little or none; and another reporteth, that he was much abused for turning cucurbita (to which reading the people had been used) into hedera. Now if this happen in better times, and upon so small occasions, we might justly fear hard censure, if generally we should make verbal and unnecessary changings. We might also be charged (by scoffers) with some unequal dealing towards a great number of good English words. For as it is written of a certain great Philosopher, that he should say, that those logs were happy that were made images to be worshipped; for their fellows, as good as they, lay for blocks behind the fire: so if we should say, as it were, unto certain words, Stand up higher, have a place in the Bible always; and to others of like quality, Get ye hence, be banished for ever; we might be taxed peradventure with S. James his words, namely, To be partial in ourselves, and judges of evil thoughts. Add hereunto, that niceness in words was always counted the next step to trifling; and so was to be curious about names too: also that we cannot follow a better pattern for elocution than God himself; therefore he using divers words in his holy writ, and indifferently for one thing in nature; we, if we will not be superstitious, may use the same liberty in our English versions out of Hebrew and Greek, for that copy or store that he hath given us. Lastly, we have on the one side avoided the scrupulosity of the Puritans, who leave the old Ecclesiastical words, and betake them to other, as when they put washing for Baptism, and Congregation instead of Church: as also on the other side we have shunned the obscurity of the Papists, in their Azimcs, Tunike, Rational, Holocausts, Præpuce, Pasche, and a number of such like, whereof their late translation is full*, and that of purpose to darken the sense, that since they must needs translate the Bible, yet by the language thereof it may be kept from being understood. But we desire that the Scripture may speak like itself, as in the language of Canaan, that it may be understood even of the very vulgar.

Many other things we might give thee warning of, gentle Reader, if we had not exceeded the measure of a preface already. It remaineth that we commend thee to God, and to the Spirit of his grace, which is able to build further than we can ask or think. He removeth the scales from our eyes, the vail from our hearts, opening our wits that we may understand his word, enlarging our hearts, yea, correcting our affections, that we may love it above gold and silver, yea, that we may love it to the end. Ye are brought unto fountains of living water which ye digged not; do not cast earth into them, with the Philistines, neither prefer broken pits before them, with the wicked Jews. Others have laboured, and you may enter into their labours. O receive not so great things in vain: O despise not so great salvation. Be not like swine to tread under foot so precious things, neither yet like dogs to tear and abuse holy things. Say not to our Saviour with the Gergesites, Depart out of our coasts; neither yet with Esau sell your birthright for a mess of pottage. If light be come into the world, love not darkness more than light: if food, if clothing, be offered, go not naked, starve not yourselves. Remember the advice of Nazianzen, It is a grievous thing (or dangerous) to neglect a great fair, and to seek to make markets afterwards: also the encouragement of S. Chrysostome, It is altogether impossible, that he that is sober (and watchful) should at any time be neglected: lastly, the admonition and menacing of S. Augustine, They that despise God's will inviting them shall feel God's will taking vengeance of them. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God; but a blessed thing it is, and will bring us to everlasting blessedness in the end, when God speaketh unto us, to hearken; when he setteth his word before us, to read it; when he stretcheth out his hand and calleth, to answer. Here am I, here we are to do thy will, O God. The Lord work a care and conscience in us to know him and serve him, that we may be acknowledged of him at the appearing of our Lord JESUS CHRIST, to whom with the Holy Ghost be all praise and thanksgiving. Amen.

TO THE MOST HIGH AND MIGHTY PRINCE

JAMES,

BY THE GRACE OF GOD

KING OF GREAT BRITAIN, FRANCE, AND IRELAND,

DEFENDER OF THE FAITH, &c.

The Translators of the Bible wish Grace, Mercy, and Peace, through JESUS CHRIST our Lord.

GREAT and manifold were the blessings, most dread Sovereign, which Almighty God, the Father of all mercies, bestowed upon us the people of England, when first he sent Your Majesty's Royal Person to rule and reign over us. For whereas it was the expectation of many, who wished not well unto our Sion, that upon the setting of that bright Occidental Star, Queen Elizabeth of most happy memory, some thick and palpable clouds of darkness would so have overshadowed this land, that men should have been in doubt which way they were to walk; and that it should hardly be known, who was to direct the unsettled State; the appearance of Your Majesty, as of the Sun in his strength, instantly dispelled those supposed and surmised mists, and gave unto all that were well affected exceeding cause of comfort; especially when we beheld the Government established in Your Highness, and Your hopeful Seed, by an undoubted Title, and this also accompanied with peace and tranquillity at home and abroad.

But amongst all our joys, there was no one that more filled our hearts, than the blessed continuance of the preaching of God's sacred Word amongst us; which is that inestimable treasure, which excelleth all the riches of the earth; because the fruit thereof extendeth itself, not only to the time spent in this transitory world, but directeth and disposeth men unto that eternal happiness which is above in heaven.

Then, not to suffer this to fall to the ground, but rather to take it up, and to continue it in that state, wherein the famous Predecessor of Your Highness did leave it: nay, to go forward with the confidence and resolution of a man in maintaining the truth of Christ, and propagating it far and near, is that which hath so bound and firmly knit the hearts of all Your Majesty's loyal and religious people unto You, that Your very name is precious among them: their eye doth behold You with comfort, and they bless You in their hearts, as that sanctified person, who, under God, is the immediate author of their true happiness. And this their contentment doth not diminish or decay, but every day increaseth and taketh strength, when they observe, that the zeal of Your Majesty towards the house of God doth not slack or go backward, but is more and more kindled, manifesting itself abroad in the furthest parts of Christendom, by writing in defence of the Truth, (which hath given such a blow unto that man of sin, as will not be healed,) and every day at home, by religious and learned discourse, by frequenting the house of God, by hearing the Word preached, by cherishing the teachers thereof, by caring for the Church, as a most tender and loving nursing Father.

There are infinite arguments of this right Christian and religious affection in Your Majesty ; but none is more forcible to declare it to others than the vehement and perpetuated desire of the accomplishing and publishing of this work, which now with all humility we present unto Your Majesty. For when Your Highness had once out of deep judgment apprehended how convenient it was, that out of the Original Sacred Tongues, together with comparing of the labours, both in our own, and other foreign Languages, of many worthy men who went before us, there should be one more exact Translation of the holy Scriptures into the English Tongue; Your Majesty did never desist to urge and to excite those to whom it was commended, that the work might be hastened. and that the business might be expedited in so decent a manner, as a matter of such importance might justly require.

And now at last, by the mercy of God, and the continuance of our labours, it being brought unto such a conclusion, as that we have great hope that the Church of England shall reap good fruit thereby; we hold it our duty to offer it to Your Majesty, not only as to our King and Sovereign, but as to the principal mover and Author of the work : humbly craving of Your most Sacred Majesty, that since things of this quality have ever been subject to the censures of illmeaning and discontented persons, it may receive approbation and patronage from so learned and judicious a Prince as Your Highness is, whose allowance and acceptance of our labours shall more honour and encourage us, than all the calumniations and hard interpretations of other men shall dismay us. So that if, on the one side, we shall be traduced by Popish persons at home or abroad, who therefore will malign us, because we are poor instruments to make God's holy Truth to be yet more and more known unto the people, whom they desire still to keep in ignorance and darkness ; or if, on the other side, we shall be maligned by self-conceited brethren, who run their own ways, and give liking unto nothing but what is framed by themselves, and hammered on their anvil ; we may rest secure, supported within by the truth and innocency of a good conscience, having walked the ways of simplicity and integrity, as before the Lord ; and sustained without by the powerful protection of Your Majesty's grace and favour, which will ever give countenance to honest and Christian endeavours against bitter censures and uncharitable imputations.

The Lord of heaven and earth bless Your Majesty with many and happy days, that, as his heavenly hand hath enriched Your Highness with many singular and extraordinary graces, so You may be the wonder of the world in this later age for happiness and true felicity, to the honour of that great GOD, and the good of his Church, through Jesus Christ our Lord and only Saviour.

Acts 14. 15.
& 17. 24.
Col. 1. 16, 17.
Heb. 1.
8—10. & 11.

IN the ^abeginning God created the heaven and the earth. And the earth ² was ^bwithout form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

And God said, ^cLet there be light: ³ and there was light. And God saw the ⁴ light, that it was good: and God divided ¹the light from the darkness. And ⁵ God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. ¹And the evening and the morning were the first day.

And God said, ^dLet there be a ⁶firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.
And God made the firmament, and divided ⁷the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were ^eabove the firmament: and it was so.
And God called the firmament Heaven. ⁸
And the evening and the morning were the second day.

And God said, ^fLet the waters under ⁹ the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear:
and it was so. And God called the dry ¹⁰ land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good. And God said, ¹¹ Let the earth bring forth ¹grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so. And ¹² the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good. And the evening and the morn- ¹³
ing were the third day.

And God said, Let there be lights in ¹⁴
the firmament of the heaven to divide ¹the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, ¹⁵and years: and let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light ¹⁶upon the earth: and it was so. And God ^gmade two great lights; the greater light ¹to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars ¹⁷also. And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon ¹⁸the earth, and to ^hrule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it ¹⁹*was* good. And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

And God said, Let the waters bring forth abundantly the ¹moving ¹creature that hath life, and ¹fowl that may fly above the earth in the ¹open firmament ²¹of heaven. And God created great whales, and every living creature that moveth, which the waters brought forth abundantly, after their kind, and every winged fowl after his kind: and God ²²saw that it was good. And God blessed them, saying, ¹Be fruitful, and multiply, and fill the waters in the seas, and let ²³fowl multiply in the earth. And the evening and the morning were the fifth day.

And God said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature after his kind, cattle, and creeping thing, and beast of the ²⁵earth after his kind: and it was so. And God made the beast of the earth after his kind, and cattle after their kind, and every thing that creepeth upon the earth
after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

And God said, ^kLet us make man in our image, ¹after our likeness: ^mand let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created²⁷ man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; ^amale and female created he them. And God blessed them,²⁸ and God said unto them. ^oBe fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that [†]moveth upon the earth.

And God said, Behold, I have given²⁹ you every herb [†]bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree [†]yielding seed; to ^pyou it shall be for meat. And to every beast of the earth,³⁰ and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is [†]life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so. And ^qGod saw every thing that he had made, and behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

II.

Thus the heavens and the earth were finished, and ^aall the host of them. And ^bon the seventh day God ended his work which he had made; and he rested on the seventh day from all his work which he had made. And God blessed the seventh day, and sanctified it: because that in it he had rested from all his work which God [†]created and made.

^cThese are the generations of the heavens and of the earth when they were created, in the day that the LORD God made the earth and the heavens, and every ^dplant of the field before it was in the earth, and every herb of the field before it grew: for the LORD God had not caused it to rain upon the earth, and there was not a man to till the ground. But [†]there went up a mist from the earth, and watered the whole face of the ground. And the LORD God formed⁷ man [†]of the ^edust of the ground, and ^fbreathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

And the LORD God planted a ^ggarden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed. And out of⁹ the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; ^hthe tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil. And a¹⁰ river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads. The name of [†] the first is ⁱPison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of ^kHavilah, where ¹²*there is* gold; and the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the ¹³onyx stone. And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of ¹⁴Ethiopia. And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth [†]toward the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates. And the LORD God took ¹⁵the man, and put him into the garden of ¹⁶Eden to dress it and to keep it. And the LORD God commanded the man, saying, Of every tree of the garden ¹⁷thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof [†]thou shalt surely die.

And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; ^mI will make him a help [†]meet for him. ¹⁹And out of the ground the LORD God formed every beast of the field, and every fowl of the air; and ^obrought them unto [†]Adam to see what he would call them: and whatsoever Adam called every living creature, that was the name thereof. And Adam [†]gave names to all cattle, and to the fowl of the air, and to every beast of the field; but for Adam there was not found a help meet for ²¹him. And the LORD God caused a ^pdeep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed ²²up the flesh instead thereof; and the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, [†]made he a woman, and brought ²³her unto the man. And Adam said, This is now ^qbone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh: she shall be called [†]Woman, because she was ^rtaken out of [†]Man. ²⁴Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one ²⁵flesh. And they were both naked, the man and his wife, and were not ashamed.

Now the serpent was ^amore subtil than any beast of the field which the LORD God had made. And he said unto the woman, [†]Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: ^bbut of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither ⁴shall ye touch it, lest ye die. And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die : for God doth know that ⁵ in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil. And when ⁶ the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was ¹pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, ^cand did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat. And ^dthe eyes of them both were opened, ⁷ ^eand they knew that they were naked; and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves ^faprons. And they ⁸ heard the voice of the LORD God walking in the garden in the ^gcool of the day: and Adam and his wife hid themselves from the presence of the LORD God amongst the trees of the garden. And the LORD God called unto Adam, ⁹ and said unto him, Where art thou? And ¹⁰ he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself. And he said, Who ¹¹ told thee that thou wast naked? Hast thou eaten of the tree, whereof I commanded thee that thou shouldst not eat? And the man said, ¹² ^hThe woman whom thou gavest to be with me, she gave me of the tree, and I did eat. And ¹³ the LORD God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, ¹⁴ ⁱThe serpent beguiled me, and I did eat. And the LORD God said unto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed above all cattle, and above every beast of the field; upon thy belly shalt thou go, and ¹⁵ ^jdust shalt thou eat all the days of thy life: and I will put enmity between thee and ¹⁶ the woman, and between thy seed and ^kher seed; ^lit shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel. Unto the wo- ¹⁷ man he said, I will greatly multiply thy sorrow and thy conception: in sorrow thou shalt bring forth children; ¹⁸ ^mand thy desire shall be ⁿto thy husband, and he shall ^orule over thee. And unto Adam ¹⁹ he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, ^pof which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: ²⁰ ^qcursed is the ground for thy sake; ^rin sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life; thorns also and thistles shall ²¹ ^sbring forth to thee; and thou shalt eat the herb of the field; in the sweat of ²² thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: ²³ ^tfor dust thou art, and ^uunto dust shalt thou return. And Adam called his wife's name ^vEve; because she was the mother of all living. Unto Adam also and to his wife did the LORD God make coats of skins, and clothed them. ²⁴ And the LORD God said, ^wBehold, the man is become as one of us, to know good and evil: and now, lest he put forth his hand, ^xand take also of the tree of life, and eat, and live for ever: therefore the LORD God sent him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground from whence he was taken. So he drove out the man; and he placed ^yat the east of the garden of Eden Cherubims, and a flaming sword ^zwhich turned every way, to keep the way of the tree of life.

And Adam knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare ¹Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the LORD. ² And she again bare his brother ³Abel. And Abel was ⁴a keeper of sheep, but ⁵Cain was a tiller of the ground. And ⁶in process of time it came to pass, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the LORD. And Abel, he also brought of ⁷a the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the LORD had ⁸b respect unto Abel and to his offering: but unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect. And Cain was very wroth, ⁹and his countenance fell. ¹⁰ And the LORD said unto Cain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen? If thou doest well, ¹¹shalt thou not ¹²be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. And ¹³unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him. And Cain talked with Abel his brother: and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and ¹⁴slaw him. And the LORD said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? And he said, ¹⁵ ^cI know not: Am I my brother's keeper? And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's ¹⁶blood crieth unto me from the ground. And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand. When thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in ¹⁷the earth. And Cain said unto the LORD, ¹⁸ ^dMy punishment is greater than I can bear. Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the earth; and ^ffrom thy face shall I be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth; and it shall come to pass, ^gthat every one that findeth me shall slay me. And the LORD said unto him, ^hsevenfold. Therefore whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him ^hsevenfold. And the LORD set a mark upon Cain, lest any finding him should kill him. And ^hCain went out from the presence of the LORD, and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden. And Cain knew his [†]wife; and she conceived, and bare [†]Enoch: and he builded a city, and called the name of the city, after the name of his son, Enoch. And unto Enoch was born Irad: ^hand Irad begat Mehujael: and Mehujael begat Methusael: and Methusael begat [†]Lamech. And Lamech took unto him ^htwo wives: the name of the one was Adah, and the name of the other Zillah. And Adah bare Jabal: he was the father ^hof such as dwell in tents, and of such as have cattle. And his brother's name was ^hJubal: he was the father of all such as handle the harp and organ. And Zillah, ^hshe also bare Tubal-cain, an [†]instructor of every artificer in brass and iron: and the sister of Tubal-cain was Naamah. And ^hLamech said unto his wives, Adah and Zillah, Hear my voice; Ye wives of Lamech, hearken unto my speech: For [†]I have slain a man to my ^hwounding, And a young man [†]to my hurt. ^kIf Cain shall be avenged sevenfold, ^hTruly Lamech seventy and sevenfold. And Adam knew his wife again; and she ^hbare a son, and called his name [†]Seth: For God, [†]said she, hath appointed me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain slew. And to Seth, ^hto him also there was ^hborn a son; and he called his name [†]Enos; then began ^hmen ^hto call upon the name of the LORD.

This is the book of the generations of Adam. In the day that God created man, in ^athe likeness of God made he him; male and female created he them; and blessed them, and called their name Adam, in the day when they were created. And Adam lived an hundred and thirty years, and begat ^aa son in his own likeness, after his image; and ^hcalled his name Seth: ^cand the days of Adam after he had begotten Seth were eight hundred years: and he begat sons and daughters: and all the days that Adam lived were nine hundred and thirty years: ^dand he died. ^d ch. 3. 19.

^hAnd Seth lived an hundred and five years, and ^ebegat [†]Enos: and Seth lived after he begat Enos eight hundred and seven years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years: and he died.

^hAnd Enos lived ninety years, and begat [†]Cainan: and Enos lived after he begat Cainan eight hundred and fifteen years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Enos were nine hundred and five years: and he died. And Cainan lived seventy years, and begat [†]Mahalaleel: and Cainan lived after he begat Mahalaleel eight hundred and forty years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Cainan were nine hundred and ten years: and he died.

^hAnd Mahalaleel lived sixty and five years, and begat [†]Jared: and Mahalaleel lived after he begat Jared eight hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Mahalaleel were eight hundred ninety and five years: and he died. And Jared lived an hundred sixty and two years, and he begat [†]Enoch: and Jared lived after he begat Enoch eight hundred years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Jared were nine hundred sixty and two years: and he died. And Enoch lived sixty and five years, and begat [†]Methuselah: and Enoch ^gwalked with God after he begat Methuselah three hundred years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Enoch were three hundred sixty and five years: and ^hEnoch walked with God: and he ^hwas not; for God took him. And Methuselah lived an hundred eighty and seven years, and begat Lamech: and Methuselah lived after he begat [†]Lamech seven hundred eighty and two years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Methuselah were nine hundred sixty and nine years: and he died.

^hAnd Lamech lived an hundred eighty and two years, and begat a son: and he called his name [†]Noah, saying, This same shall comfort us concerning our work and [†]toil of our hands, because of the ground ^kwhich the LORD hath cursed.

^hAnd Lamech lived after he begat Noah five hundred ninety and five years, and begat sons and daughters: and all the days of Lamech were seven hundred seventy and seven years: and he died.

VI. And it came to pass, when men began to multiply on the face of the earth, and daughters were born unto them, that the sons of God saw the daughters of men that they ^{were} fair ; and they ^atook them wives of all which they chose.

^b Gal. 5. 16, 17. And the LORD said, ^bMy spirit shall not always strive with man, ^cfor that he also

^c Ps. 78. 39. is flesh : yet his days shall be an hundred and twenty years. There were giants in the earth in those days ; and also after that, when the sons of God came in unto the daughters of men, and they bare children to them, the same became mighty men which were of old, men of renown. And God saw that the wickedness of man was great in the earth, and that ^devery ^dimagination of the thoughts of his heart was only evil ^econtinually. And ^eit repented the LORD that he had made man on the earth, and it ^fgrieved him at his heart. And the LORD said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth ; ^gboth man, and beast, and the creeping thing, and the fowls of the air ; for it repenteth me that I have made them.

But Noah ^hfound grace in the eyes of the LORD.

These are the generations of Noah : ⁱNoah was a just man and ⁱperfect in his generations, and Noah ⁱwalked with God. And Noah begat three sons, Shem, Ham, and Japheth. The earth also was corrupt ^kbefore God, and the earth was ^lfilled with violence. And God ^mlooked upon the earth, and behold, it was corrupt : for all flesh had corrupted his way upon the earth. And God said unto Noah, ⁿThe end of all flesh is come before me ; for the earth is filled with violence through them ; and behold, I will destroy them ^owith the earth. Make thee an ark of gopher wood ; ^prooms shalt thou make ^qin the ark, and shalt pitch it within and without with pitch. And this is the fashion which thou shalt make it of : the length of the ark shall be three hundred cubits, the breadth of it fifty cubits, and the height of it thirty cubits. A window shalt thou make to the ark, and in a cubit shalt thou finish it above ; and the door of the ark shalt thou set in the side thereof ; with lower, second, and third stories shalt thou make it. And behold, I, ^r even I, do bring a flood of waters upon the earth, to destroy all flesh, wherein is the breath of life, from under heaven ; and every thing that is in the earth shall die. But with thee will I establish my covenant ; and thou shalt come into the ark, thou, and thy sons, and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee. And of every living thing of all flesh, two of every sort shalt thou bring into the ark, to keep them alive with thee ; they shall be male and female. Of fowls after their kind, and of cattle after their kind, of every creeping thing of the earth after his kind, ^stwo of every sort shall come unto thee, to keep them alive. And take thou unto thee of all food that is eaten, and thou shalt gather it to thee ; and it shall be for food for thee, and for them. ^tThus did Noah ; according to all that God commanded him, so did he.

And the LORD said unto Noah, ^uCome thou and all thy house into the ark ; for ^vthee have I seen righteous before me in this generation. Of every ^wclean beast thou shalt take to thee ^xby sevens, the male and his female : and of beasts that are not clean by two, the male and his female. Japheth, the sons of Noah, and Noah's wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, into the ark; they, and every beast after his kind, and all the cattle after their kind, and every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth after his kind, and every fowl after his kind, every bird of every [†]sort. And they [§]went in unto Noah into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein ^{is} the breath of life. And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the LORD ^hshut him in. And the flood was forty days upon the earth; and the waters increased, and bare up the ark, and it was lift up above the earth. And the waters prevailed, and were increased greatly upon the earth; and the ark went upon the face of the waters. And the waters prevailed exceedingly upon the earth; and all the high hills, that ^{were} under the whole heaven, were covered. Fifteen cubits upward did the waters prevail; and the mountains were covered. And all flesh died that moved upon the earth, ^{both} of fowl, and of cattle, and of beast, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth, and every man: all in ⁱwhose nostrils ^{was} [†]the breath of life, of all that ^{was} in the dry land, died. And every living substance was destroyed which ^{was} upon the face of the ground, both man, and cattle, and the creeping things, and the fowl of the heaven; and they were destroyed from the earth: and ^kNoah only remained ^{alive}, and ^{they} that ^{were} with him in the ark. And the waters prevailed upon the earth an hundred and fifty days.

VIII.

And God ^aremembered Noah, and every living thing, and all the cattle that ^{was} with him in the ark: ^band God made a wind to pass over the earth, and the waters asswaged; ^cthe fountains also of the deep and the windows of heaven were stopped, and the rain from heaven was restrained; and the waters returned from off the earth [†]continually: and after the end ^dof the hundred and fifty days the waters were abated. And the ark rested in the seventh month, on the seventeenth day of the month, upon the mountains of Ararat. And the waters [†]decreased continually until the tenth month: in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, were the tops of the mountains seen. And it came to pass at the end of forty days, that Noah opened ^ethe window of the ark which he had made: and he sent forth a raven, which went forth [†]to and fro, until the waters were dried up from off the earth. Also he sent forth a dove from him, to see if the waters were abated from off the face of the ground; but the dove found no rest for the sole of her foot, and she returned unto him into the ark, for the waters ^{were} on the face of the whole earth: then he put forth his hand, and took her, and [†]pulled her in unto him into the ark. And he stayed yet other seven days; and again he sent forth the dove out of the ark; and the dove came in to him in the evening; and lo, in her mouth ^{was} an olive leaf pluckt off: so Noah knew that the waters were abated from off the earth. And he stayed yet other seven days; and sent forth the dove; which returned not again unto him any more.

And it came to pass in the six hundredth and first year, in the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were dried up from off the earth: and Noah removed the covering of the ark, and looked, and behold, the face of the ground was dry. And in the second month, on the seven and twentieth day of the month, was the earth dried. And God spake unto Noah, saying, Go forth of the ark, thou, and thy wife, and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee.

Bring forth with thee every living thing that ^{is} with thee, of all flesh, ^{both} of fowl, and of cattle, and of every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth; that they may breed abundantly in the earth, and [†]be fruitful, and multiply upon the earth. And Noah went forth, and his sons, and his wife, and his sons' wives with him: every beast, every creeping thing, and every fowl, ^{and} whatsoever creepeth upon the earth, after their [†]kinds, went forth out of the ark.

And Noah builded an altar unto the LORD; and took of every clean beast, and of every clean fowl, and offered burnt offerings on the altar. And the LORD smelled [§]a sweet savour; and the LORD said in his heart, I will not again [†]curse the ground any more for man's sake; [¶]for the [†]imagination of man's heart ^{is} evil from his youth; ^kneither will I again smite any more every ^{thing} living, as I have done. And God blessed Noah and his sons, and said unto them, ^aBe fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth. And the fear of you and the dread of you shall be upon every beast of the earth, and upon every fowl of the air, upon all that moveth upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea; into your hand are they delivered. ^bEvery moving thing that liveth shall be meat for you; even as the ^cgreen herb have I given you all things. And the border of the Canaanites was ¹⁹ from Sidon, as thou comest to Gerar, unto [†]Gaza; as thou goest unto Sodom, and Gomorrah, and Admah, and Zeboim, even unto Lasha. These are the sons of Ham, ²⁰ after their families, after their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.

Unto Shem also, the father of all the children of Eber, the brother of Japheth the elder, even to him were children born. The ⁿchildren of Shem; Elam, and As- ²² shur, and [†]Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram. ^oAnd the children of Aram; Uz, ²³ and Hul, and Gether, and Mash. And ²⁴ Arphaxad begat ^pSalah; and Salah begat Eber. And unto Eber were born ²⁵ two sons: the name of one was [†]Peleg; for in his days was the earth divided; and his brother's name was Joktan. And ²⁶ Joktan begat Almodad, and Sheleph, and Hazarmaveth, and Jerah, and Hadoram, and Uzal, and Diklah, and Obal, ²⁸ and Abimael, and Sheba, and ^qOphir, ²⁹ and Havilah, and Jobab: all these were the sons of Joktan. And their dwelling ³⁰ was from Mesha, as thou goest unto Sephar, a mount of the east. These are the sons of Shem, after their families, after their tongues, in their lands, after their nations. These are the families of the sons ³² of Noah, after their generations, in their nations: and by these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood.

XI.

And the whole earth was of one [†]language, and of one [†]speech. And it came ² to pass, as they journeyed ^lfrom the east, that they found a plain in the land of ^aShinar; and they dwelt there. And ³ they said one to another, Go to, let us make brick, and [†]burn them thoroughly.

^a ch. 10. 10. & 14. 1. Isai. 11. 11. Dan. 1. 2. Zech. 5. 11. [†]Heb. a man said to his neighbour. So ver. 7. [†]Heb. burn them to a burning.

And they had brick for stone, and ^bslime ^bch. 14. 10. ^{Ex. 2. 3.} had they for mortar. And they said, Go to, let us build us a city and a tower, ^cwhose top may reach unto heaven; and let us make us a name, lest we be scattered abroad upon the face of the whole ⁵ earth. ^dAnd the LORD came down to see the city and the tower, which the ⁶ children of men builded. And the LORD said, Behold, the people is one, and they have all one language; and this they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have ⁷ imagined to do. Go to, ^elet us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's ⁸ speech. So the LORD scattered them abroad from thence ^fupon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the ⁹ city. Therefore is the name of it called [†]Babel; because the LORD did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the LORD scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth.

¹⁰ ^gThese are the generations of Shem: ^gch. 10. 22—²⁵ Shem was an hundred years old, and begat Arphaxad two years after the flood: ¹¹ and Shem lived after he begat Arphaxad five hundred years, and begat sons and ¹² daughters. And Arphaxad lived five and ¹³ thirty years, ^hand begat Salah; and Arphaxad lived after he begat Salah four hundred and three years, and begat sons ¹⁴ and daughters. And Salah lived thirty ¹⁵ years, and begat Eber: and Salah lived after he begat Eber four hundred and three years, and begat sons and daughters. ¹⁶ And Eber lived four and thirty years, ¹⁷ and begat [†]Peleg: and Eber lived after he begat Peleg four hundred and thirty years, and begat sons and daughters. ¹⁸ And Peleg lived thirty years, and begat ¹⁹ Reu: and Peleg lived after he begat Reu two hundred and nine years, and ²⁰ begat sons and daughters. And Reu lived two and thirty years, and begat ²¹ [†]Serug; and Reu lived after he begat Serug two hundred and seven years, and ²² begat sons and daughters. And Serug ²³ lived thirty years, and begat Nahor: and Serug lived after he begat Nahor two hundred years, and begat sons and ²⁴ daughters. And Nahor lived nine and ²⁵ twenty years, and begat [†]Terah; and Nahor lived after he begat Terah an hundred and nineteen years, and begat ²⁶ sons and daughters. And Terah lived seventy years, and begat Abram, Nahor, and Haran.

Now these are the generations of Te-²⁷rah: Terah begat Abram, Nahor, and Haran; and Haran begat Lot. And ²⁸ Haran died before his father Terah in the land of his nativity, in Ur of the Chaldees. And Abram and Nahor took ²⁹ them wives: the name of Abram's wife was ¹ Sarai; and the name of Nahor's wife, ^k Milcah, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcah, and the father of Iscah. But Sarai was barren; she had ³⁰ no child. And Terah ¹ took Abram his ³¹ son, and Lot the son of Haran his son's son, and Sarai his daughter in law, his son Abram's wife; and they went forth with them ^m from Ur of the Chaldees, to go into ⁿ the land of Canaan; and they came unto Haran, and dwelt there. And ³² the days of Terah were two hundred and five years: and Terah died in Haran.

XII. Now the ^a LORD had said unto Abram, Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and from thy father's house, unto a land that I will shew thee: and I ² will make of thee a great nation, and I will bless thee, and make thy name great; and thou shalt be a blessing: ^b and I will bless them that bless thee, and curse him that curseth thee: ^c and in thee shall all families of the earth be blessed. So Abram departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him: and Abram was seventy and five years old when he departed out of Haran. And ⁵ Abram took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's son, and all their substance that they had gathered, and ^d the souls that they had gotten ^e in Haran; and they went forth to go into the land of Canaan; and into the land of Canaan they came. And Abram ^f passed through the land unto the place of Sichem, unto the ^g plain of ^h Moreh. ¹ And the Canaanite was then in the land. And the LORD appeared unto Abram, and said, ^k Unto thy seed will I give this land: and there builded he an altar unto the LORD, who appeared unto him. And he removed from thence unto a mountain on the east of Beth-el, and pitched his tent, having Beth-el on the west, and Hai on the east: and there he builded an altar unto the LORD, and ¹ called upon the name of the LORD. And Abram ⁹ journeyed, ¹ going on still toward the south.

And there was ^m a famine in the land: ¹⁰ and Abram went down into Egypt to sojourn there; for the famine was ⁿ grievous in the land. And it came to pass, when ¹¹ he was come near to enter into Egypt, that he said unto Sarai his wife, Behold now, I know that thou art a fair woman ¹² to look upon: therefore it shall come to pass, when the Egyptians shall see thee, that they shall say, This is his wife: and they ^o will kill me, but they will save thee ¹³ alive. Say, I pray thee, thou art my sister: that it may be well with me for thy sake; and my soul shall live because of ¹⁴ thee. And it came to pass, that, when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman that she was ¹⁵ very fair. The princes also of Pharaoh saw her, and commended her before Pharaoh: and the woman was taken into ¹⁶ Pharaoh's house. And he entreated Abram well for her sake: and he had sheep, and oxen, and he asses, and menservants, and maidservants, and she asses, ¹⁷ and camels. And the LORD ^p plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues ¹⁸ because of Sarai Abram's wife. And Pharaoh called Abram, and said, What is this that thou hast done unto me? why didst thou not tell me that she was thy ¹⁹ wife? Why saidst thou, She is my sister? so I might have taken her to me to wife: now therefore behold thy wife, take her, ²⁰ and go thy way. And Pharaoh commanded his men concerning him: and they sent him away, and his wife, and all that he had.

And Abram went up out of Egypt, he, and his wife, and all that he had, and ² Lot with him, into the south. ^a And Abram was very rich in cattle, in silver, ³ and in gold. And he went on his journeys from the south even to Beth-el, unto the place where his tent had been at the ⁴ beginning, between Beth-el and Hai; unto the ^b place of the altar, which he had made there at the first: and there Abram ⁵ called on the name of the LORD. And Lot also, which went with Abram, had ⁶ flocks, and herds, and tents. And ^c the land was not able to bear them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not ⁷ dwell together. And there was ^d a strife between the herdmen of Abram's cattle and the herdmen of Lot's cattle: ^e and the Canaanite and the Perizzite dwelled ⁸ then in the land. And Abram said unto Lot, Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen; for we be ⁹ f brethren. ^g Is not the whole land before thee? separate thyself, I pray thee, from me: ^h if thou wilt take the left hand, thine, lest thou shouldest say, I have made Abram rich: save only that which ²⁴ the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men ¹which went with me. Aner, Eshcol, and Mamre; let them take their portion.

XV. After these things the word of the LORD came unto Abram in a vision, saying, ^aFear not, Abram: I am thy ^bshield, and thy exceeding ^cgreat reward. And Abram said, Lord GOD, what wilt thou give me, seeing I go childless, and the steward of my house is this Eliezer of ^dDamascus? And Abram said, Behold, to me thou hast given no seed: and lo, ^eone born in my house is mine heir.

And behold, the word of the LORD came ⁴ unto him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that ^fshall come forth out of thine own bowels shall be thine heir.

And he brought him forth abroad, and ⁵ said, Look now towards heaven, and ^gtell the ^hstars, if thou be able to number them: and he said unto him, ⁱSo shall thy seed be. And he ^kbelieved in the LORD; and he ^lcounted it to him for righteousness. And he said unto him, I am the LORD that brought thee out of ^mUr of the Chaldees, ⁿto give thee this land to inherit it. And he said, Lord GOD, ^owhereby shall I know that I shall inherit it? And he said unto him, Take me a heifer of three years old, and a she goat of three years old, and a ram of three years old, and a turtle-dove, and a young pigeon. And he took unto him all these, and ^pdivided them in the midst, and laid each piece one against another: but ^qthe birds divided he not. And when the fowls came down upon the carcases, Abram drove them away. And when the sun was going down, ^ra deep sleep fell upon Abram; and, lo, a horror of great darkness fell upon him. And he said unto Abram, Know of a surety ^sthat thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serve them; and ^tthey shall afflict them ^ufour hundred years; and ^valso that nation, whom they shall serve, ^wwill I judge: and afterward ^yshall they come out with great substance. And ^zthou shalt go ^ato thy ^bfathers in peace; thou shalt be buried ^bin a good old age. But ^cin the fourth ^dgeneration they shall come hither again: for the iniquity ^dof the Amorites ^eis not yet full. And it came to pass, that, when the sun went down, and it was ^fdark, behold a smoking furnace, and ^{†a} burning lamp that passed between those ¹⁸ pieces. In the same day the LORD made a covenant with Abram, saying, ^gUnto thy seed have I given this land, from ^hthe river of Egypt unto the great ¹⁹ river, the river Euphrates: the ⁱKenites, and the Kenizzites, and the Kadmonites, and the ^kHittites, and the ²⁰ Perizzites, and the ^mRephaims, and the Amorites, and the ⁿCanaanites, and the ^oGirgashites, and the Jebusites.

And Abram hearkened to the voice ³ of Sarai. And Sarai Abram's wife took Hagar her maid the Egyptian, after Abram ^fhad dwelt ten years in the land of Canaan, and gave her to her husband ⁴ Abram to be his wife. And he went in unto Hagar, and she conceived: and when she saw that she had conceived, her mistress was ^gdespised in her eyes. ⁵And Sarai said unto Abram, My wrong ^hbe upon thee: I have given my maid into thy bosom; and when she saw that she had conceived, I was despised in her eyes: ^hthe LORD judge between me and ⁶ thee. But Abram said unto Sarai, ⁱBehold, thy maid is in thy hand; do to her ^jas it pleaseth thee. And when Sarai ^kdealt hardly with her, ^kshe fled from ⁷ her face. And the angel of the LORD found her by a fountain of water in the ^lwilderness, by the fountain in the way ⁸ to ^mShur. And he said, Hagar, Sarai's maid, whence camest thou? and whither wilt thou go? And she said, I flee from ⁹ the face of my mistress Sarai. And the angel of the LORD said unto her, Return to thy mistress, and submit thyself under ¹⁰ her hands. And the angel of the LORD said unto her, ⁿI will multiply thy seed exceedingly, that it shall not be num- ¹¹ bered for multitude. dwelt in the presence of all his brethren. And she called the name of the LORD¹³ that spake unto her, Thou God seest me: for she said, Have I also here looked after him that seeth me? Wherefore the well was called ¹⁴Beer-lahai-roi; behold, it is between ¹⁵Kadesh and Bered. And Hagar bare Abram a son: and Abram called his son's name, which Hagar bare, ¹⁶Ishmael. And Abram was fourscore and six years old, when Hagar bare Ishmael to Abram.

XVII. And when Abram was ninety years old and nine, the LORD appeared to Abram, and said unto him, I am ²the Almighty God; ³walk before me, and be thou ⁴perfect. And I will make my covenant between me and thee, and ⁵will multiply thee exceedingly. And Abram ⁶fell on his face: and God talked with him, saying, As for me, behold, my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be ⁷a father of many nations. Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but ⁸thy name shall be ⁹Abraham; ¹⁰for a father of many nations have I made thee. And I will make thee exceeding ¹¹fruitful, and I will make ¹²nations of thee, and ¹³kings shall come out of thee. And I will ¹⁴establish my covenant between me and thee and thy seed after thee in their generations for an everlasting covenant, ¹⁵to be a God unto thee, and to thy seed after thee. And ¹⁶I will give unto thee, and to thy seed after thee, the land ¹⁷wherein thou art a stranger, all the land of Canaan, for an everlasting possession; and ¹⁸I will be their God. And God said unto Abraham, Thou shalt keep my covenant therefore, thou, and thy seed after thee in their generations. This is my covenant, which ye shall keep, between me and you and thy seed after thee; Every man child among you shall be circumcised. And ye shall circumcise the flesh of your foreskin; and it shall be ¹⁹a token of the covenant betwixt me and you. And ²⁰he that is eight days old ²¹shall be circumcised among you, every man child in your generations, he that is born in the house, or bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed. He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with thy money, must needs be circumcised: and my covenant shall be in your flesh for an everlasting covenant.

14 And the uncircumcised man child whose flesh of his foreskin is not circumcised, that soul shall be cut off from his people; 15 he hath broken my covenant. And God said unto Abraham, As for Sarai thy wife, thou shalt not call her name Sarai, 16 but ¹Sarah shall her name be. And I will bless her, ²and give thee a son also of her: yea, I will bless her, and ³she shall be a mother ⁴of nations; kings of 17 people shall be of her. Then Abraham fell upon his face, ⁵and laughed, and said in his heart, Shall a child be born unto him that is an hundred years old? and shall Sarah, that is ninety years old, bear? 18 And Abraham said unto God, O that 19 ¹Ishmael might live before thee! And God said, ²Sarah thy wife shall bear thee a son indeed; and thou shalt call his name Isaac: and I will establish my covenant with him for an everlasting covenant, and with his seed after him. And as for Ishmael, I have heard thee: Behold, I have blessed him, and will make him fruitful, and ³will multiply him exceedingly; ⁴twelve princes shall he beget, ⁵and I will make him a great nation. 21 But my covenant will I establish with Isaac, which Sarah shall bear unto thee 22 at this set time in the next year. And he left off talking with him, and ⁶God went up from Abraham.

23 And Abraham took Ishmael his son, and all that were born in his house, and all that were bought with his money, every male among the men of Abraham's house; and circumcised the flesh of their foreskin in the selfsame day, as God had 24 said unto him. And Abraham was ninety years old and nine, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin. 25 And Ishmael his son was thirteen years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh 26 of his foreskin. your feet, and rest yourselves under the tree: and ^eI will fetch a morsel of bread, ⁵ and ¹comfort ye your hearts; after that you shall pass on: ^ffor therefore ¹are you come to your servant. And they said, So do, as thou hast said. And Abraham ⁶ hastened into the tent unto Sarah, and said, ¹Make ready quickly three measures of fine meal, knead it, and make cakes upon the hearth. And Abraham ⁷ ran unto the herd, and fetcht a calf tender and good, and gave it unto a young man; and he hastened to dress it. And he ⁸ took butter, and milk, and the calf which he had dressed, and set it before them; and he stood by them under the tree, and they did eat. And they said unto ⁹ him, Where is Sarah thy wife? And he said, Behold, ¹⁰in the tent. And he said, I will certainly return unto thee ¹¹according to the time of life; and lo, ¹²Sarah thy wife shall have a son. And Sarah heard it in the tent door, which was behind him. Now ¹³Abraham and Sarah ¹⁴were old and well stricken in age; and ¹⁵it ceased to be with Sarah after the manner of women. Therefore Sarah ¹⁶laughed within herself, saying, After I am waxed old shall I have pleasure, my ¹⁷lord being old also? And the LORD ¹⁸said unto Abraham, Wherefore did Sarah laugh, saying, Shall I of a surety bear a child, which am old? ¹⁹Is any thing too hard for the LORD? ²⁰At the time appointed I will return unto thee, according to the time of life, and Sarah shall have a son. Then Sarah ²¹denied, saying, I ²²laughed not; for she was afraid. And he said, Nay; but thou didst laugh.

And the men rose up from thence, ¹⁶ and looked toward Sodom: and Abraham went with them ¹⁷to bring them on the way. And the LORD said, ¹⁸Shall I ¹⁹hide from Abraham that thing which I do; seeing that Abraham shall surely become a great and mighty nation, and all the nations of the earth shall be ²⁰blessed in him? For I know him, ²¹that he will command his children and his ²²household after him, and they shall keep the way of the LORD, to do justice and judgment; that the LORD may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him. And the LORD said, Because ²³the cry of Sodom and Gomorrah is great, and because their sin is very grievous; ²⁴I will go down now, and see whether they have done altogether according to the cry of it, which is come unto me; and if not, ²⁵I will know. And the men turned their faces from thence, ²⁶and went toward Sodom: but Abraham ²⁷stood yet before the LORD.

And Abraham ²⁸drew near, and said, ²⁹Wilt thou also destroy the righteous with the wicked? Peradventure there be fifty righteous within the city: wilt thou also destroy and not spare the place for the fifty righteous that are therein? That be far from thee to do after this manner, to slay the righteous with the wicked: and ³⁰that the righteous should be as the wicked, that be far from thee: ³¹Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right? And the LORD said, ³²If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes. And Abraham answered and said, ³³Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord, which am but dust and ashes: ³⁴Peradventure there shall lack five of the fifty righteous: wilt thou destroy all the city for lack of five? And he said, If I find there forty and five, I will not destroy it. And he spake unto him yet again, and said, Peradventure there shall be forty found there. And he said, I will not do it for forty's sake. And he said ³⁵unto him, Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak: Peradventure there shall thirty be found there. And he said, I will not do it, if I find thirty there. ³⁶And he said, Behold now, I have taken upon me to speak unto the Lord: Peradventure there shall be twenty found there. And he said, I will not destroy it for twenty's sake. And he said, ³⁷Oh let not the Lord be angry, and I will speak yet but this once: Peradventure ten shall be found there. And he said, ³⁸I will not destroy it for ten's sake. And the LORD went his way, as soon as he had left communing with Abraham: and Abraham returned unto his place.

And there ³⁹came two angels to Sodom at even; and Lot sat in the gate of Sodom: and ⁴⁰Lot seeing them rose up to meet them; and he bowed himself with his ⁴¹face toward the ground; and he said, Behold now, my lords, ⁴²turn in, I pray you, into your servant's house, and tarry all night, and ⁴³wash your feet, and ye shall rise up early, and go on your ways. But before they lay down, the men of the city, even the men of Sodom, compassed the house round, both old and young, all the people from every quarter: ^fand they called unto Lot, and said unto him, Where are the men which came in to thee this night? ^gBring them out unto us, that we ^hmay know them. And Lot said unto them, Oh, ^unot so, my Lord: behold now, thy servant hath found grace in thy sight, and thou hast magnified thy mercy, which thou hast shewed unto me in saving my life; and I cannot escape to the mountain, lest some evil take me, and I die: behold now, this city is near to flee unto, and it is a little one: Oh, let me escape thither, (is it not a little one?) and my soul shall live. And he said unto him, See, ^wI have accepted ^xthee concerning this thing, that I will not overthrow this city, for the which thou hast spoken. Haste thee, escape thither; for ^yI cannot do any thing till thou be come thither. Therefore ^zthe name of the city was called ^{aa}Zoar. The sun was ^{ab}risen upon the earth when Lot entered into Zoar. Then ^{ac}the LORD rained upon Sodom and upon Gomorrah brimstone and fire from the LORD out of heaven; and he overthrew those cities, and all the plain, and all the inhabitants of the cities, and that which grew upon the ground. And they made³⁵ their father drink wine that night also: and the younger arose, and lay with him; and he perceived not when she lay down, nor when she arose. XX. And Abraham journeyed from ^athence toward the south country, and dwelled between ^bKadesh and Shur, and ^cso journeyed in ^dGerar. And Abraham said ² of Sarah his wife, She is my sister: and Abimelech king of Gerar sent, and took Sarah. But ¹God came to Abimelech ³in a dream by night, and said to him, ⁴Behold, thou art but a dead man, for the woman which thou hast taken; for she is ¹a man's wife. But Abimelech ⁴had not come near her: and he said, Lord, ⁱwilt thou slay also a righteous nation? Said he not unto me, She is my ⁵sister? and she, even she herself said, He is my brother: in the ¹integrity of my heart and innocency of my hands have I done this. And God said unto ⁶him in a dream, Yea, I know that thou didst this in the integrity of thy heart; for I also withheld thee from sinning ^kagainst me: therefore suffered I thee not to touch her. Now therefore restore the man ⁷his wife; ¹for he is a prophet, and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: and if thou restore ^{her} not, know thou that thou shalt surely die, thou, ^mand all that are thine. Therefore Abimelech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and told all these things in their ears: and the men were sore afraid. Then Abimelech called Abraham, and said unto him, What hast thou done unto us? and what have I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my kingdom a great sin? thou hast done deeds unto me ⁿthat ought not to be done. And Abimelech said ¹⁰unto Abraham, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing? And Abraham said, Because I thought, Surely ^othe fear of God is not in this place; and they will slay me for my wife's sake. And ¹²yet indeed ^pshe is my sister; she is the daughter of my father, but not the daughter of my mother; and she became my wife. And it came to pass, when ⁹God caused me to wander from my father's house, that I said unto her, This is thy kindness which thou shalt shew unto me; at every place whither we shall come, ¹⁴say of me, He is my brother. And Abimelech ⁵took sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and womenservants, and gave ^{them} unto Abraham, and restored ¹⁵him Sarah his wife. And Abimelech said, Behold, ¹my land is before thee: ¹⁶dwell ¹where it pleaseth thee. And unto Sarah he said, Behold, I have given ^uthy brother a thousand ^{pieces} of silver: behold, he is to thee ^xa covering of the eyes, unto all that are with thee, and with all ^{other}: thus she was ^yreproved. ¹⁷So Abraham prayed unto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidservants; and they bare ^{children}. ¹⁸For the LORD ^zhad fast closed up all the wombs of the house of Abimelech, because of Sarah Abraham's wife.

And the LORD ^avisited Sarah as he had said, and the LORD did unto Sarah ²as he had spoken. For Sarah ^cconceived, and bare Abraham a son in his old age, ^dat the set time of which God ³had spoken to him. And Abraham called the name of his son that was born unto him, whom Sarah bare to him, ^eIsaac. ⁴And Abraham ^fcircumcised his son Isaac being eight days old, ⁵as God had commanded him. And ^hAbraham was an hundred years old, when his son Isaac ⁶was born unto him. And Sarah said, ¹God hath made me to laugh, ^{so that} all that hear will laugh with me. And she said, Who would have said unto Abraham, that Sarah should have given children suck? ^kfor I have born ^{him} a son in his old age. And the child grew, and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast the same day that Isaac was weaned. ⁹And Sarah saw the son of Hagar ¹the Egyptian, ^mwhich she had born unto Abraham, ⁿmocking. Wherefore she said unto Abraham, ^oCast out this bondwoman and her son: for the son of this bondwoman shall not be heir with my son, ^{even} with Isaac. And the thing was very grievous in Abraham's ¹²sight ^pbecause of his son. And God said unto Abraham, Let it not be grievous in thy sight because of the lad, and because of thy bondwoman; in all that Sarah hath said unto thee, hearken unto her voice; for ^qin Isaac shall thy seed be called.

ed. And also of the son of the bondwo-¹³ man will I make ^ra nation, because he is thy seed. And Abraham rose up early in the morning, and took bread, and a bottle of water, and gave it unto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, and the child, and sent her away: and she departed, and wandered in the wilderness of ^sBeer-sheba. And the water was spent in the bottle, and she cast the child under one of the shrubs. And she went, and sat ¹⁶ her down over against him a good way off, as it were a bowshot: for she said, Let me not see the death of the child. And she sat over against him, and lift up her voice, and wept. And God heard ¹⁷ the voice of the lad; and the angel of God called to Hagar out of heaven, and said unto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? fear not; for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is. Arise, lift up the ¹⁸ lad, and hold him in thine hand; for I will make him a great nation. And God ¹⁹ opened her eyes, and she saw a well of water; and she went, and filled the bottle with water, and gave the lad drink. And ²⁰ God ^twas with the lad; and he grew, and dwelt in the wilderness, ^uand became an archer. And he dwelt in the wilderness ²¹ of Paran: and his mother ^xtook him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

And it came to pass at that time, that ²² ^yAbimelech and Phichol the chief captain of his host spake unto Abraham, saying, ^zGod is with thee in all that thou doest: now therefore ^aswear unto me ²³ here by God ^tthat thou wilt not deal falsely with me, nor ^bwith my son, nor ^bwith my son's son: but according to the kindness that I have done unto thee, thou shalt do unto me, and to the land wherein thou hast sojourned. And A-²⁴ braham said, I will swear. And Abra-²⁵ ham reproved Abimelech because of a well of water, which Abimelech's servants ^chad violently taken away. And ²⁶ Abimelech said, I wot not who hath done this thing: neither didst thou tell me, neither yet heard I of it, but to day. And Abraham took sheep and oxen, and ²⁷ gave them unto Abimelech; and both of them ^dmade a covenant. And Abraham ²⁸ set seven ewe lambs of the flock by themselves. And Abimelech said unto ²⁹ Abraham, ^eWhat mean these seven ewe lambs which thou hast set by themselves? And he said, For these seven ewe lambs ³⁰ shalt thou take of my hand, that they may be a witness unto me, that I have digged this well. Wherefore he ^fcalled that place ^gBeer-sheba; because there ³² they swore both of them. Thus they made a covenant at Beer-sheba: then Abimelech rose up, and Phichol the chief captain of his host, and they returned ³³ into the land of the Philistines. And Abraham planted a ^hgrove in Beer-sheba, and ^gcalled there on the name of the ³⁴ LORD, ^hthe everlasting God. And Abraham sojourned in the ⁱPhilistines' land many days.

And it came to pass after these things, that ^aGod did tempt Abraham, and said unto him, Abraham: and he said, ^tBehold, here I am. And he said, Take now thy son, thine only son Isaac, whom thou lovest, and get thee into the land of ^bMoriah; and offer him there for a burnt offering upon one of the mountains ³ which I will tell thee of. And Abraham rose up early in the morning, and saddled his ass, and took two of his young men with him, and Isaac his son, and clave the wood for the burnt offering, and rose up, and went unto the place of ⁴ which God had told him. Then on the third day Abraham lift up his eyes, and ⁵ saw the place afar off. And Abraham said unto his young men, Abide you here with the ass; and I and the lad will go yonder and worship, and come again ⁶ to you. And Abraham took the wood of the burnt offering, and ^claid it upon Isaac his son; and he took the fire in his hand, and a knife; and they went both ⁷ of them together. And Isaac spake unto Abraham his father, and said, My father: and he said, ^tHere am I, my son. And he said, Behold the fire and the wood; but where is the ^hlamb for a burnt offering? And Abraham said, My son, God will provide himself a lamb for a burnt offering: so they went both of them together. And they came to the place which God had told him of; and Abraham built an altar there, and laid the wood in order, and bound Isaac his son, and ^dlaid him on the altar upon the ¹⁰ wood. And Abraham stretched forth his hand, and took the knife to slay his son. ¹¹ And the angel of the LORD called unto him out of heaven, and said, Abraham, ¹² Abraham: and he said, Here am I. And he said, ^eLay not thine hand upon the lad, neither do thou any thing unto him: for ^fnow I know that thou fearest God, seeing thou hast not withheld thy son, thine ¹³ only son from me. up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Abraham went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son. And ¹⁴ Abraham called the name of that place ¹⁵ Jehovah-jireh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen. And the angel of the LORD called ¹⁶ unto Abraham out of heaven the second time, and said, ¹⁷ By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son: that in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed ¹⁸ as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea ¹⁹ shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies; ²⁰ and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; ²¹ because thou hast obeyed my voice. So Abraham returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to ²² Beer-sheba; and Abraham dwelt at Beer-sheba.

And it came to pass after these things, ²³ that it was told Abraham, saying, Behold, ²⁴ Milcah, she hath also born children unto thy brother Nahor; ²⁵ Huz his firstborn, and ²⁶ Buz his brother, and ²⁷ Kemuel the father of Aram, and ²⁸ Chesed, and ²⁹ Hazo, and ³⁰ Pildash, and ³¹ Jidlaph, and ³² Bethuel. And ³³ Bethuel begat ³⁴ Rebekah: these eight Milcah did bear to Nahor, Abraham's brother. And his ³⁵ concubine, whose name was Reumah, she bare also Tebah, and Gaham, and Thahash, and Maachah.

XXIII. And Sarah was an hundred and seven and twenty years old: these were the years of the life of Sarah. And Sarah ² died in ³ Kirjath-arba; the same is ⁴ Hebron in the land of Canaan: and Abraham came to mourn for Sarah, and to weep for her. And Abraham stood up ⁵ from before his dead, and spake unto the sons of Heth, saying, ⁶ I am a stranger and a sojourner with you: ⁷ give me a possession of a buryingplace with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight. And the children of Heth answered Abraham, saying unto him, ⁸ Hear us, my lord: thou art ⁹ a mighty prince among us: in the choice of our sepulchres bury thy dead; none of us shall withhold from thee his sepulchre, but that thou mayest bury thy dead. And ¹⁰ Abraham stood up, and bowed himself to the people of the land, even to the ¹¹ children of Heth. And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight; hear me, and intreat for me to ¹² Ephron the son of Zohar, that he may give me the cave of Machpelah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field; for ¹³ as much money as it is worth he shall give it me for a possession of a buryingplace amongst you. And Ephron dwelt amongst the children of Heth: and Ephron the Hittite answered Abraham in the ¹⁴ audience of the children of Heth, even of all that ¹⁵ went in at the gate of his city, saying, ¹⁶ Nay, my lord, hear me: the field give I thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee; in the presence of the sons of my people give I it thee: ¹⁷ bury thy dead. And Abraham bowed down himself before the people of the ¹⁸ land. And he spake unto Ephron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, But if thou wilt give it, I pray thee, hear me: I will give thee money for the field; take it of me, and I will ¹⁹ bury my dead there. And Ephron answered Abraham, saying unto him, My lord, hearken unto me: the land is worth ²⁰ four hundred ²¹ shekels of silver; what is that betwixt me and thee? bury therefore thy dead. And Abraham hearkened unto Ephron; and Abraham ²² weighed to Ephron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Heth, four hundred shekels of silver, current ²³ money with the merchant. And ²⁴ the field of Ephron, which was in Machpelah, which was before Mamre, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure ²⁵ unto Abraham for a possession in the presence of the children of Heth, before all that went in at the gate of his city. ²⁶ And after this, Abraham buried Sarah his wife in the cave of the field of Machpelah before Mamre: the same is ²⁷ Hebron in the land of Canaan. And the field, and the cave that is therein, ²⁸ were made sure unto Abraham for a possession of a buryingplace by the sons of Heth. And Abraham was old, and ²⁹ well stricken in age: and the LORD ³⁰ had blessed Abraham in all things. And Abraham said ³¹ unto his eldest servant of his house that ³² ruled over all that he had, ³³ Put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh: ³⁴ and I will make thee ³⁵ swear by the

LORD, the God of heaven, and the God of the earth, that ^fthou shalt not take a wife unto my son of the daughters of the Canaanites, amongst whom I dwell: ^gbut thou shalt go ^hunto my country, and to my kindred, and take a wife unto my son Isaac. And the servant said unto him, Peradventure the woman will not be willing to follow me unto this land:
 must I needs bring thy son again unto the land from whence thou camest? And Abraham said unto him, Beware thou that thou bring not my son thither again.
 The LORD God of heaven, which ⁱtook me from my father's house, and from the land of my kindred, and which spake unto me, and that sware unto me, saying, ^kUnto thy seed will I give this land; ^lhe shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife unto my son from thence. And if the woman will not be willing to follow thee, then ^mthou shalt be clear from this my oath: only bring not my son thither again. And the servant ⁿput his hand under the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him concerning that matter.

And the servant took ten ^ocamels of the camels of his master, and departed; ^pfor all the goods of his master ^qwere in his hand:
 and he arose, and went to Mesopotamia;
 unto ^rthe city of Nahor. And he made ^shis camels to kneel down without the city by a well of water at the time of the evening, ^teven the time ^uthat ^vwomen go out to draw ^wwater. And he said, ^xO LORD God of my master Abraham, I pray thee, ^ysend me good speed ^zthis day, and shew kindness unto my master Abraham. Behold, ^aI stand ^bhere by the well of water; and ^cthe daughters of the men of the city come out to draw water:
 and let it come to pass, ^dthat the damsel to whom I shall say, Let down thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drink; and she shall say, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: ^elet the same be she that thou hast appointed for thy servant
 Isaac; and ^fthereby shall I know that thou hast shewed kindness unto my master. And it came to pass, before he had done speaking, that behold, Rebekah came out, who was born to Bethuel, son of ^gMilcah, the wife of Nahor, Abraham's brother, with her pitcher upon her shoulder. And the damsel ^hwas ⁱvery fair to look upon, a virgin, neither had any man known her: and she went down to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came up. And the servant ran to meet her, and said, Let me, I pray thee, drink a little water of thy pitcher. And she said, Drink, my lord: and she hastened, and let down her pitcher upon her hand, and gave him drink. And when she had done giving him drink, she said, I will draw ^jwater for thy camels also, until they have done drinking. And she hastened, and emptied her pitcher into the trough, and ran again unto the well to draw ^kwater, and drew for all his camels.

 And the man wondering at her held his peace, to wit whether ^lthe LORD had made his journey ^mprosperous or not.
 And it came to pass, as the camels had done drinking, that the man took a golden ⁿcarrion of half a shekel weight, and two bracelets for her hands of ten ^oshekels weight of gold; and said, Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there room ^pin thy father's house for us to lodge in? And she said unto him, ^qI am the daughter of Bethuel the son of Milcah, which she bare unto Nahor.
 She said moreover unto him, We have both straw and provender enough, and room to lodge in. And the man ^rbowed down his head, and worshipped the LORD.
 And he said, Blessed ^sbe the LORD God of my master Abraham, who hath not left destitute my master of ^this mercy and his truth: I ^ubeing in the way, the LORD ^vfled me to the house of my master's brethren. And the damsel ran, and told ^wthem of her mother's house these things. And Rebekah had a brother, and his name ^xwas ^yLaban: and Laban ran out unto the man, unto the well.
 And it came to pass, when he saw the carrion and bracelets upon his sister's hands, and when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, Thus spake the man unto me; that he came unto the man; and behold, he stood by the camels at the well. And he said, Come in, ^zthou blessed of the LORD; wherefore standest thou without? for I have prepared the house, and room for the camels. And the man came into the house: and he ungirded ^ahis camels, and ^bgave straw and provender for the camels, and ^cwater to wash his feet, and the men's feet that ^dwere with him. And there was set ^emeat before him to eat: but he said, I will not eat, until I have told mine errand. And he said, Speak on.
 And he said, I ^fam Abraham's servant.
 And the LORD ^ghath blessed my master

^q ver. 5. ^qAnd I said unto my master, Peradventure the woman will not follow me. ^rAnd ⁴⁰ he ^rsaid unto me, The LORD, ^sbefore whom I walk, will send his angel with thee, and ^tprosper thy way; and thou shalt take a wife for my son of my kindred, and of my father's house: ^uthen shalt thou be clear from this my oath, when thou comest to my kindred; and if they give not thee one, thou shalt be clear from my oath. And I came this ^x ver. 12. day unto the well, and said, ^xO LORD God of my master Abraham, if now thou do ^yprosper my way which I go: ^zbehold, I stand by the well of water; and it shall come to pass, that when the virgin cometh forth to draw water, and I say to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drink; ^aand she say to me, Both drink thou, and I will also draw for thy camels: let the same be the woman whom the LORD ^bhath appointed out for my master's son. And ^b ch. 20. 16. & 21. 25. I pray thee. And she made haste, and let down her pitcher from her shoulder, and said, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink also: so I drank, and she made the camels drink also. And I ^d ver. 22. Ezek. 16. 11, 12. ^e ver. 26, 52. asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? And she said, The daughter of Bethuel, Nahor's son, whom Milcah bare unto him: and I put ^dthe earring upon her face, and the bracelets upon her hands. ^eAnd I bowed down my head, ^fand worshipped the LORD, and blessed the LORD God of my master Abraham, which had led me in the right way to take ^fmy master's brother's daughter unto his son. And now if ye will ^gdeal ⁴⁰ kindly and truly with my master, tell me: and if not, tell me; that I may turn

50 to the right hand, or to the left. Then Laban and Bethuel answered and said, The thing proceedeth from the LORD: we cannot ^hspeak unto thee bad or good.

⁵¹ Behold, Rebekah is before thee, take her, and go, and let her be thy master's son's wife, ⁱas the LORD hath spoken. ⁵² And it came to pass, that, when Abraham's servant heard their words, he ^kworshipped the LORD, bowing himself ⁵³ to the earth. And the servant brought forth ^jjewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment, and gave them to Rebekah: he gave also to her brother and ⁵⁴ to her mother ^jprecious things. And they did eat and drink, he and the men that were with him, and tarried all night; and they rose up in the morning, and he said, ^mSend me away unto my master.

⁵⁵ And her brother and her mother said, Let the damsel abide with us ^la few days, at the least ten; after that she ⁵⁶ shall go. And he said unto them, Hinder me not, seeing the LORD hath prospered my way; send me away that I ⁵⁷ may go to my master. And they said, We will call the damsel, and inquire at ⁵⁸ her mouth. And they called Rebekah, and said unto her, Wilt thou go with this ⁵⁹ man? And she said, I will go. And they sent away Rebekah their sister, and ⁿher nurse, and Abraham's servant, and ⁶⁰ his men. And they blessed Rebekah, and said unto her, Thou art our sister. be thou ^othe mother of thousands of millions, and ^plet thy seed possess the gate of those which hate them.

⁶³ And Isaac went out ^rto meditate in the field at the eventide: and he lift up his eyes, and saw, and behold, the ⁶⁴ camels were coming. And Rebekah lift up her eyes, and when she saw Isaac, ⁶⁵ ^sshe lighted off the camel. For she had said unto the servant, What man is this that walketh in the field to meet us? and will give unto thy seed all these countries; ¹and in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; ²because that Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my charge, my commandments, my statutes, and my laws. And Isaac dwelt in Gerar: and ³the men of the place asked him of his wife; and ⁴he said, She is my sister: for he feared to say, She is my wife; lest, ⁵*he* said he, the men of the place should kill me for Rebekah; because she ⁶*was* fair to look upon. And it came to pass, ⁷when he had been there a long time, that Abimelech king of the Philistims looked out at a window, and saw, and behold, Isaac ⁸*was* sporting with Rebekah his wife. And Abimelech called Isaac, ⁹and said, Behold, of a surety she is thy wife: and how saidst thou, She is my sister? And Isaac said unto him, Because I said, Lest I die for her. And Abimelech said, What is this thou hast done unto us? one of the people might lightly have lien with thy wife, and ¹⁰thou shouldst have brought guiltiness upon us. And Abimelech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man or his wife shall surely be put to death. Then Isaac sowed in that land, and ¹¹received in the same year an hundredfold: and the LORD ¹²blessed him. And the man waxed great, and ¹³went forward, and grew until he became very great: for he had possession of flocks, and ¹⁴possession of herds, and great store of ¹⁵servants: and the Philistims ¹⁶envied him. For all the wells ¹⁷which his father's servants had digged in the days of Abraham his father, the Philistims had stopped them, and filled them with earth. And Abimelech said unto Isaac, ¹⁸Go from us; for ¹⁹thou art much mightier than we.

And Isaac departed thence, and pitched ²⁰his tent in the valley of Gerar, and dwelt there. And Isaac digged again the wells ²¹of water, which they had digged in the days of Abraham his father; for the Philistims had stopped them after the death of Abraham: ²²and he called their names after the names by which his father had called them. And Isaac's servants digged ²³in the valley, and found there a well of ²⁴springing water. And the herdmen of Gerar ²⁵did strive with Isaac's herdmen, saying, The water is ours; and he called the name of the well ²⁶Esek; because they strove with him. And they digged ²⁷ another well, and strove for that also:

and he called the name of it ²⁸Itsnah.

And he removed from thence, and digged another well; and for that they strove not: and he called the name of it ²⁹Rehoboth; and he said, For now the LORD hath made room for us, and we shall ³⁰be fruitful in the land. And he went up from thence to Beer-sheba. And the LORD appeared unto him the same night, and said, ³¹*I am* the God of Abraham thy father: ³²be not afraid, for ³³*I am* with thee, and will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.

And he ³⁴built an altar there, and called upon the name of the LORD, and pitched his tent there: and there Isaac's servants digged a well. Then Abimelech went to him from Gerar, and Ahuzzath

³⁵one of his friends, and ³⁶Phichol the chief captain of his army. And Isaac said unto them, Wherefore come ye to me, seeing ye hate me, and have ³⁷sent me

³⁸away from you? And they said, ³⁹*We* saw certainly that the LORD ⁴⁰was with thee: and we said, Let there be now an oath betwixt us, ⁴¹even betwixt us and thee, and let us make a covenant with thee; ⁴²that thou wilt do us no hurt, as we have not touched thee, and as we have done unto thee nothing but good, and have sent thee away in peace: ⁴³thou

⁴⁴art now the blessed of the LORD. ⁴⁵And he made them a feast, and they did eat and drink. And they rose up betimes in the morning, and ⁴⁶swore one to another: and Isaac sent them away, and they departed from him in peace. And it came to pass the same day, that Isaac's servants came, and told him concerning the well which they had digged, and said unto him, We have found water. And he called it ⁴⁷Shebah: ⁴⁸therefore the name of the city is Beer-sheba unto this day.

And Esau was forty years old when he took to wife ⁴⁹Judith the daughter of Beeri the Hittite, and Bashemath the daughter of Elon the Hittite: ⁵⁰which were ⁵¹a grief of mind unto Isaac and to Rebekah.

And it came to pass, that when Isaac was old, and ⁵²his eyes were dim, so that he could not see, he called Esau his eldest son, and said unto him, My son: and he said unto him, Behold, ⁵³here am I. And he said, Behold now, I am old, I know not the day of my death: ⁵⁴now therefore take, I pray thee, thy weapons, thy quiver and thy bow, and go out to the field, and ⁵⁵take me some venison;

And of the dew of heaven from above; And by thy sword shalt thou live, ⁴⁰ And ^gshalt serve thy brother; And it shall come to pass when thou shalt have the dominion, That ^hthou shalt break his yoke from off thy neck.

And Esau ⁱhated Jacob because of ⁴¹ the blessing wherewith his father blessed him: and Esau said in his heart, ^kThe days of mourning for my father are at hand; ^lthen will I slay my brother Jacob. And these words of Esau her ⁴² elder son were told to Rebekah: and she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said unto him, Behold, thy brother Esau, as touching thee, doth comfort himself, purposing to kill thee. Now ⁴³ therefore, my son, obey my voice; and arise, flee thou to Laban my brother ^mto Haran; and tarry with him a few days, ⁴⁴ until thy brother's fury turn away; until thy brother's anger turn away from thee, and he forget that which thou hast done to him: then I will send, and fetch thee from thence: why should I be deprived also of you both in one day? And ⁵ Isaac sent away Jacob: and he went to

And he looked, and beheld a well ² in the field, and lo, there ^{were} three flocks of sheep lying by it; for out of that well they watered the flocks: and a great stone ^{was} upon the well's mouth. And thither were all the flocks gathered: and they rolled the stone from the well's mouth, and watered the sheep, and put the stone again upon the well's mouth in his place. And Jacob said unto them, ⁴ My brethren, whence ^{be} ye? And they said, Of ^b Haran ^{are} we. And he said ⁵ unto them, Know ye Laban the son of Nahor? And they said, We know ^{him}. And he said unto them, ⁶ Is he well? And they said, ^c He is well: and behold, Rachel his daughter cometh with the sheep. And Jacob ¹² told Rachel that he ^{was} ^g her father's brother, and that he ^{was} Rebekah's son: ^h and she ran and told her father. And ¹³ it came to pass, when Laban heard the ¹ tidings of Jacob his sister's son, that ¹ he ran to meet him, and embraced him, and kissed him, and brought him to his house. And he told Laban all these things. And Laban said to him, ^k Surely ¹⁴ thou ^{art} my bone and my flesh. And he abode with him ¹ the space of a month. And Laban said unto Jacob, Because ¹⁵ thou ^{art} my brother, shouldest thou therefore serve me for nought? tell me, what ¹⁶ shall thy wages ^{be}? And Laban had two daughters: the name of the elder ^{was} Leah, and the name of the younger ^{was} Rachel. Leah was tender eyed; but Rachel ^{was} ¹ beautiful and well favoured. ¹⁸ And Jacob loved Rachel; and said, ^m I will serve thee seven years for Rachel ¹⁹ thy younger daughter. And Laban said, It is better that I give her to thee, than that I should give her to another ²⁰ man: abide with me. And Jacob ⁿ served seven years for Rachel; and they seemed unto him ^{but} a few days, for the love he had to her.

²¹ And Jacob said unto Laban, Give ^{me} my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I ²² may go in unto her. And Laban gathered together all the men of the place, ²³ and ^o made a feast. And it came to pass in the evening, that he took Leah his daughter, and brought her to him; and ²⁴ he went in unto her. And Laban gave unto his daughter Leah ^p Zilpah his maid ²⁵ for a handmaid. And it came to pass, that in the morning, behold, it ^{was} Leah: and he said to Laban, What ^{is} this thou hast done unto me? did not I serve with thee for Rachel? wherefore then hast ²⁶ thou beguiled me? And Laban said, It ^q must not be so done in our ¹ country, to give the younger before the firstborn. ²⁷ ^r Fulfil her week, and we will give thee this also for the service which thou shalt serve with me yet seven other years. ²⁸ And Jacob did so, and fulfilled her week: and he gave him Rachel his ²⁹ daughter to wife ^{also}. And Laban gave to Rachel his daughter ^s Bilhah his hand- ³⁰ maid to be her maid. And he went in also unto Rachel, and he ¹ loved also Rachel more than Leah, and served with him ^u yet seven other years.

³¹ And when the LORD saw that Leah ^{was} hated, he ^w opened her womb: but ³² Rachel ^{was} barren. And Leah conceived, and bare a son, and she called his name ¹ Reuben: for she said, Surely the LORD hath ^x looked upon my affliction; now therefore my husband will love ³³ me. And she conceived again, and bare a son; and said, Because the LORD hath heard that I ^{was} hated, he hath therefore given me this ^{son} also: and she called his name ¹ Simeon. And she conceived again, and bare a son; and said, Now ^{this} time will my husband ^y be joined unto me, because I have born him three sons: therefore was his name ³⁵ called ¹ Levi. ^b That is, ^c Praise. So ^d his name ^e Judah; and ^f left bearing.
 And when Rachel saw that ^g she bare Jacob no ^h children, Rachel ⁱ envied her sister; and said unto Jacob, Give me children, or else I die. And Jacob's anger was kindled against Rachel: and he said, Am I in God's stead, who hath withheld from thee the fruit of the womb? And she said, Behold my maid ^j Bilhah, ^k ego in unto her; ^l and she shall bear upon my knees, that I may also have children by her. And she gave him Bilhah her handmaid ^m to wife: and Jacob went in unto her. And Bilhah conceived, and bare Jacob a son. And Rachel said, God hath judged me, and hath also heard my voice, and hath given me a son: therefore called she his name ⁿ Dan. And Bilhah Rachel's maid conceived again, and bare Jacob a second son. And Rachel said, With ^o 'great wrestlings have I wrestled with my sister, and I have prevailed: and she called his name ^p 'Naphtali. When Leah saw that ^q she had left bearing, she took Zilpah her maid, and ^r gave her Jacob to wife. And Zilpah Leah's maid bare Jacob a son.
 And Leah said, A troop cometh: and she called his name ^s Gad. And Zilpah Leah's maid bare Jacob a second son.
 And Leah said, ^t 'Happy am I, for the daughters ^u will call me blessed: and she called his name ^v 'Asher. And Reuben went in the days of wheat harvest, and found ^w mandrakes in the field, and brought them unto his mother Leah. Then Rachel said to Leah, Give me, I pray thee, of thy son's mandrakes. And she said unto her, ^x Is it a small matter that thou hast taken my husband? and wouldest thou take away my son's mandrakes also?
 And Rachel said, Therefore he shall lie with thee to night for thy son's man-drakes. And Jacob came out of the field in the evening, and Leah went out to meet him, and said, Thou must come in unto me; for surely I have hired thee with my son's mandrakes. And he lay with her that night. And God hearkened unto Leah, and she conceived, and bare Jacob the fifth son. And Leah said, God hath given ^y me my hire, because I have given my maiden to my husband:
 and she called his name ^z 'Issachar. And Leah conceived again, and bare Jacob the sixth son. And Leah said, God hath endued me with a good dowry;
 now will my husband dwell with me, because I have born him six sons: and she called his name ^{aa} 'Zebulun. And afterwards she bare a daughter, and called her name ^{ab} 'Dinah. And God ^{ac} 'remem- bered Rachel, and God hearkened to her, and ^{ad} 'opened her womb. And she conceived, and bare a son; and said, God hath taken away ^{ae} 'my reproach:

 and she called his name ^{af} 'Joseph; and said, ^{ag} 'The LORD shall add to me an- other son.

And it came to pass, when Rachel had born Joseph, that Jacob said unto Laban, Send me away, that I may go unto mine own place, and to my country. Give ^{ah} me my wives and my children, ^{ai} 'for whom I have served thee, and let me go: for thou knowest my service which I have done thee. And Laban said unto him, I pray thee, if I have found favour in thine eyes, ^{aj} 'tarry: for I have learned by experience that ^{ak} 'the LORD hath blessed me for thy sake.
 And he said, ^{al} 'Appoint me thy wages, and I will give ^{am} it. And he said unto him, ^{an} 'Thou knowest how I have served thee, and how thy cattle was with me.
 For ^{ao} it was little which thou hadst before I came, and it is ^{ap} now ^{aq} 'increased unto a multitude; and the LORD hath blessed thee ^{ar} 'since my coming: and now when shall I ^{as} 'provide for mine own house also? And he said, What shall I give thee? And Jacob said, Thou shalt not give me any thing: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again feed ^{at} and keep thy flock: I will pass through all thy flock to day, removing from thence all the speckled and spotted cattle, and all the brown cattle among the sheep, and the spotted and speckled among the goats: and ^{au} 'of such shall be my hire. So shall my righteousness answer for me in time to come, when it shall come for my hire before thy face: every one that is not speckled and spotted amongst the goats, and brown amongst the sheep, that shall be counted stolen with me. And Laban said, Behold, I would it might be according to thy word. And he removed that day the he goats that were ringstraked and spotted, and all the she goats that were speckled and spotted,
 and every one that had some white in it, and all the brown amongst the sheep, and gave ^{av} them into the hand of his sons.
 And he set three days' journey betwixt himself and Jacob: and Jacob fed the rest of Laban's flocks.

(More correct: Num. 7. 17, 23, &c.).

And ^zJacob took him rods of green ³⁷ poplar, and of the hazel and chesnut tree; and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appear which was in the rods. And he set the rods which ³⁸ he had pilled before the flocks in the ^agutters in the watering troughs when the flocks came to drink, that they should conceive when they came to drink. And ³⁹ the flocks conceived before the rods, and brought forth cattle ^bringstraked, speckled, and spotted. And Jacob did separate the lambs, and set the faces of the flocks toward the ringstraked, and all the brown in the flock of Laban; and he put his own flocks by themselves, and put them not unto Laban's cattle. And it ⁴¹ came to pass, whensoever the stronger cattle did conceive, that Jacob laid the rods before the eyes of the cattle in the gutters, that they might conceive among the rods. But when the cattle were feeble, he put them not in: so the feebler were Laban's, and the stronger Jacob's. And the man ^cincreased exceedingly, ⁴³ and ^dhad much cattle, and maidservants, and menservants, and ^ecamels, and asses.

And he heard the words of Laban's sons, saying, Jacob hath taken away all that was our father's; and of that which was of our father's hath he gotten all this aglory. And Jacob beheld ^bthe countenance of Laban, and behold, it was not toward him [†]as before. And the LORD ³ said unto Jacob, ^cReturn unto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kindred; and I will be with thee. And Jacob sent and called Rachel and Leah to the field unto his flock, and said unto them, ^dI see ⁵ your father's countenance, that it is not toward me as before; but the God of my father ^ehath been with me. And ⁶ ^fye know that with all my power I have served your father. And your ⁷ father hath deceived me, and changed my wages ^gten times; but God suffered him not to hurt me. If he said thus, ⁸ ^hThe speckled shall be thy wages; then all the cattle bare speckled: and if he said thus, The ringstraked shall be thy hire; then bare all the cattle ringstraked. Thus God hath ⁱtaken away the cattle of your father, and given them to me. And ¹⁰ it came to pass at the time that the cattle conceived, that I lifted up mine eyes, and saw in a dream, and behold, the [†]rams which leaped upon the cattle were ringstraked, speckled, and grised. And ¹¹ the angel of God spake unto me in a dream, saying, Jacob: And I said, Here ¹² am I. And he said, Lift up now thine eyes, and see, all the rams which leap upon the cattle are ringstraked, speckled, and ^kgrised: for [†]I have seen all that Laban doeth unto thee. I am the God of Beth-el, ^mwhere thou anointedst the pillar, and where thou vowedst a vow unto me: ⁿnow arise, get thee out from this land, and return unto the land of thy ¹⁴ kindred. And Rachel and Leah answered and said unto him, Is there yet any portion or inheritance for us in our father's house? Are we not counted of him strangers? for ^ohe hath sold us, and hath quite devoured also our money. ¹⁶ For all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours, and our children's: now then, whatsoever God hath said unto thee, do.

Then Jacob rose up, and set his sons ¹⁸ and his wives upon camels; and he carried away all his cattle, and all his goods which he had gotten, the cattle of his getting, which he had gotten in Padan-aram, for to go to Isaac his father in the ¹⁹ land of Canaan. And Laban went to shear his sheep: and Rachel had stolen ²⁰ the [†]images that were her father's. And Jacob stole away [†]unawares to Laban the Syrian, in that he told him not that he ²¹ fled. So he fled with all that he had; and he rose up, and passed over the river, and ^pset his face toward the mount ²² Gilead. And it was told Laban on the ²³ third day that Jacob was fled. And he took his brethren with him, and pursued after him seven days' journey; and they ²⁴ overtook him in the mount Gilead. And God ^qcame to Laban the Syrian in a dream by night, and said unto him, Take heed that thou speak not to Jacob [†]either ²⁵ good or bad. Then Laban overtook Jacob. Now Jacob had pitched his tent in the mount: and Laban with his brethren pitched in the mount of Gilead. ²⁶ And Laban said to Jacob, What hast thou done, that thou hast stolen away [†]unawares to me, and ^scarried away my daughters, as captives taken with the ²⁷ sword? Wherefore didst thou flee away secretly, and [†]steal away from me; and didst not tell me, that I might have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, ²⁸ with tabret, and with harp? and hast not suffered me ^tto kiss my sons and my daughters? ^uthou hast now done foolishly in so doing. And ³⁰ now, though thou wouldest needs be gone, because thou sore longedst after thy father's house, yet wherefore hast thou ³¹ stolen my gods? And Jacob answered ³² and said to Laban, Because I was afraid: for I said, Peradventure thou wouldest take by force thy daughters from me. With whomsoever thou findest thy gods, ³³ let him not live: before our brethren discern thou what is thine with me, and take it to thee. For Jacob knew not that Rachel had stolen them. And Laban went into Jacob's tent, and into Leah's tent, and into the two maidservants' tents; but he found them not. Then went he out of Leah's tent, and entered into Rachel's tent. Now Rachel had taken the images, and put them in the camel's furniture, and sat upon them. And Laban ³⁴ searched all the tent, but found them not. And she said to her ³⁵ father, Let it not displease my lord that I cannot ²rise up before thee; for the custom of women is upon me. And he searched, but found not the images. And ³⁶ Jacob was wroth, and chode with Laban: and Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my trespass? what is my sin, that thou hast ³⁷ so ^ahotly pursued after me? Whereas thou hast searched all my stuff, what hast thou found of all thy household stuff? set it here before ^bmy brethren and ^cthy brethren, that they may judge betwixt us both. This twenty ³⁸ years have I been with thee; thy ewes and thy she goats have not cast their young, and the rams of thy flock have I not eaten. That which was torn of beasts I ³⁹ brought not unto thee; I bare the loss of it; of ^dmy hand didst thou require it, whether stolen by day, or stolen by night. Thus I was in the day, the drought consumed me, and the frost by night; and my sleep departed from mine eyes. Thus ⁴⁰ have I been twenty years in thy house; I ^eserved thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years for thy cattle: and ^fthou hast changed my wages ten times. ^gExcept the God of my father, ⁴¹ the God of Abraham, and ^hthe fear of Isaac, had been with me, surely thou hadst sent me away now empty. ⁱGod hath seen mine affliction and the labour of my hands, and ^krebuked thee ⁴² yesternight. And Laban answered and said unto Jacob, These daughters are my daughters, and these children are my children, and these cattle are my cattle, and all that thou seest is mine: and what can I do this day unto these my daughters, or unto their children which they have ⁴⁴ born? Now therefore come thou, ^mlet us make a covenant, I and thou; ⁿand let it be for a witness between me and ⁴⁵ thee. And Jacob ^otook a stone, and set it up for a pillar. And Jacob said unto his brethren, Gather stones; and they took stones, and made a heap: and ⁴⁶ they did eat there upon the heap. And Laban called it ^pJegar-sahadutha: but Jacob called it ^qGaleed. And Laban said, ^rThis heap is a witness between me and thee this day. Therefore was the name ⁴⁷ of it called Galeed; and ^sMizpah; for he said, The LORD watch between me and thee, when we are absent one from ⁴⁸ another. If thou shalt afflict my daughters, or if thou shalt take other wives beside my daughters, no man is with us; see, God is witness betwixt me and thee. ⁴⁹ And Laban said to Jacob, Behold this heap, and behold this pillar, which I ⁵⁰ have cast betwixt me and thee; ^tthis heap be witness, and this pillar be witness, that I will not pass over this heap to thee, and that thou shalt not pass over this heap and this pillar unto me, for ⁵¹ harm. The God of Abraham, and the God of Nahor, the God of their father, judge betwixt us. And Jacob sware by ⁵² ^uthe fear of his father Isaac. Then Jacob ^voffered sacrifice upon the mount, and called ^whis brethren to eat bread: and they did eat bread, and tarried ⁵³ all night in the mount. And early in the morning Laban rose up, and kissed ^xhis sons and his daughters, and ^yblessed them: and Laban departed, and returned unto his place.

And Jacob went on his way, and the ⁵⁴ angels of God met him. And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is God's ⁵⁵ ^zhost: and he called the name of that place ^aMahanaim. And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother unto the land of ^bSeir, the ^ccountry of ^dEdom. And he commanded them, saying, Thus shall ye speak unto my lord Esau; Thy servant Jacob saith thus, I have sojourned with Laban, and stayed ⁵⁶ there until now: and I have oxen, and asses, flocks, and menservants, and womenservants: and I have sent to tell my lord, that ^eI may find grace in thy sight. And he lodged there that same night; and took of that which came to his hand ^ka present for Esau his brother; two hundred she goats, and twenty he goats, two hundred ewes, and twenty rams, thirty milch camels with their colts, forty kine, and ten bulls, twenty she asses, and ten foals. And he delivered them into the hand of his servants, every drove by themselves; and said unto his servants, Pass over before me, and put a space betwixt drove and drove. And he commanded the foremost, saying, When Esau my brother meeteth thee, and asketh thee, saying, Whose art thou? and whither goest thou? and whose are these before thee? then thou shalt say, They be thy servant Jacob's; it is a present sent unto my lord Esau: and behold, also he is behind us. And so commanded he the second, and the third, and all that followed the drives, saying, On this manner shall you speak unto Esau, when you find him. And say ye moreover, Behold, thy servant Jacob is behind us. For he said, I will appease him with the present that goeth before me, and afterward I will see his face; peradventure he will accept ^lof me. So went the present over before him: and himself lodged that night in the company. And he rose up that night, and took his two wives, and his two womenservants, and his eleven sons, and passed over the ford ^kJabbok. And he took them, and ^lsent them over the brook, and sent over that he had.

ing of the day. And when he saw that he prevailed not against him, he touched the hollow of his thigh; and the hollow of Jacob's thigh was out of joint, as he wrestled with him. And he said, ^oLet me go, for the day breaketh. And he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me. And he said unto him, What is thy name? And he said, Jacob. And he said, ^pThy name shall be called no more Jacob, but ^qIsrael: for as a prince hast thou power with God and ^rwith men, and hast prevailed. And Jacob asked him, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, thy name. And he said, ^sWherefore is it that thou dost ask after my name? And he blessed him there. And Jacob called the name of the place ^tPenniel: for ^uI have seen God face to face, and my life is preserved. And as he passed over ^vPenuel the sun rose upon him, and he ^whalted upon his thigh. Therefore the children of Israel eat not of the sinew which ^xshrank, which is upon the hollow of the thigh, unto this day: because he touched the hollow of Jacob's thigh in the sinew that shrank.

And Jacob lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold, ^yEsau came, and with him four hundred men. And he divided the children unto Leah, and unto Rachel, and unto the two handmaids. And he put the handmaids and their children foremost, and Leah and her children after, and Rachel and Joseph hindermost. And he passed over before them, and ^zbowed himself to the ground seven times, until he came near to his brother. ^{aa}And Esau ran to meet him, and embraced him, ^{ab}and fell on his neck, and kissed him: and they wept. And he lift up his eyes, and saw the women and the children; and said, Who are those ^{ac}with thee? And he said, The children ^{ad}which God hath graciously given thy servant. Then the handmaidens came near, they and their children, and they bowed themselves. And Leah also with her children came near, and bowed themselves: and after came Joseph near and Rachel, and they bowed themselves. And he said, ^{ae}What meanest thou by ^fall this drove which I met? And he said, These are ^gto find grace in the sight of my lord. And Esau said, I have enough, my brother; ^hkeep that thou hast unto thyself. And Jacob said, Nay, I pray thee, if now I have found grace in thy sight, then receive my present at my hand: ⁱfor therefore I have seen thy face, as though I had seen the face of God, and thou wast pleased with me. Take, I pray thee, ^jmy blessing that is brought to thee; because God hath dealt graciously with me, and because I have ^kenough. And he ^lurged him, and he took it. And he said, Let us take our journey, and let us go, and I will go before thee. And he said unto him, My lord knoweth that the children are tender, and the flocks and herds with young are with me: and if ^mmen should overdrive them one day, all the flock will die. Let my lord, I pray thee, pass over before his servant: and I will lead on ⁿsoftly, ^oaccording as the cattle that goeth before me and the children be able to endure, until I come unto my lord ^punto Seir. And Esau said, Let me now ^qleave with thee some of the folk that are with me. And he said, ^rWhat needeth it? ^slet me find grace in the sight of my lord. So Esau returned that day on his way unto Seir. And Jacob journeyed to ^tSuccoth, and built him a house, and made booths for his cattle: therefore the name of the place is called ^uSuccoth. And Jacob came to ^vShalem, a city of ^wShechem, which is in the land of Canaan, when he came from Padan-aram; and pitched his tent before the city. And ^xhe bought a parcel of a field, where he had spread his tent, at the hand of the children of ^yHamor, Shechem's father, for an hundred ^zpieces of money. And he erected there an altar, and ^{aa}called it ^{ab}El-Elohe-Israel.

XXXIV. And ^aDinah the daughter of Leah, which she bare unto Jacob, went out to see the daughters of the land. And when ^bShechem the son of Hamor the Hivite, prince of the country, saw her, he took her, and lay with her, and ^cdefiled her. And his soul clave unto Dinah the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the damsel, and spake ^dkindly unto the damsel. And Shechem ^espake unto his father Hamor, saying, Get me this damsel to wife. And Jacob heard that he had defiled Dinah his daughter: now his sons were with his cattle in the field: and Jacob ^fheld his peace until they were come. And Hamor the father of Shechem went out unto Jacob to commune with him. And the sons of Jacob came out of the field when they heard ^g*it*: and the men were grieved, and they ^hwere very wroth, because he ⁱhad wrought folly in Israel in lying with Jacob's daughter; which thing ^jought not to be done. And Hamor communed with them, saying, The soul of my son Shechem longeth for your daughter: ^kI pray you give her him to wife. And make ye marriages with us, and give your daughters unto us, and take our daughters unto you. And ye shall dwell with us: and ^lthe land shall be before you; dwell and ^mtrade you therein, and ⁿget you possessions therein. And Shechem said unto her father and unto her brethren, ^oLet me find grace in your eyes, and what ye shall say unto me ^pI will give. Ask me never so much ^qdowry and gift, and I will give according as ye shall say unto me: but give me the damsel to wife. And the sons of Jacob answered Shechem and Hamor his father ^rdeceitfully, and said, because he had ^sdefiled Dinah their sister: and they said unto them, We cannot do this thing, to give our sister to one that is uncircumcised; for ^tthat were a reproach unto us: but in this will we consent unto you: If ye will be as we ^u*be*, that every male of you be circumcised; then will we give our daughters unto you, and we will take your daughters to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will become one people. But if ye will not hearken unto us, to be circumcised; then will we take our daughter, and we will be gone. And their words pleased Hamor, and Shechem Hamor's son. And the young man deferred not to do the thing, because he had delight in Jacob's daughter: and he ^v*was* ^wmore honourable than all the house of his father. And Hamor and Shechem his son came unto the gate of their city, and communed with the men of their city, saying, These men ^x*are* peaceable with us; therefore let them dwell in the land, and ^ytrade therein; for the land, behold, ^z*it is* large enough for them; let us take their daughters to us for wives, and let us give them our daughters. Only herein will the men consent unto us for to dwell with us, to be one people, if every male among us be circumcised, as they are circumcised. Shall not their cattle and their substance ²³ and every beast of theirs be ours? only let us consent unto them, and they will dwell with us. And unto Hamor and ²⁴ unto Shechem his son hearkened all that ²⁵ went out of the gate of his city; and every male was circumcised, all that went out of the gate of his city. And it came to pass on the third day, when they were sore, that two of the sons of Jacob, ²⁶ Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city boldly, and slew all the males. And they slew Hamor and Shechem his son with the ²⁷ edge of the sword, and took Dinah out of Shechem's house, and went out. The sons of Jacob came upon the slain, and spoiled the city, because they had ²⁸ defiled their sister. They took their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses, and that which was in the city, and that which was in the field, and all their wealth, and all their ²⁹ little ones, and their wives took they captive, and spoiled even all that was in the house. And Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, ³⁰ Ye have troubled me to make me to stink among the inhabitants of the land, amongst ³¹ the Canaanites and the Perizzites: and I being few in number, they shall gather themselves together against me, and slay me; and I shall be destroyed, I and my house. And they said, Should he deal with our sister as with a harlot?

XXXV.

And God said unto Jacob, Arise, go up to ^a Beth-el, and dwell there: and make there an altar unto God, that appeared unto thee ^b when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother. Then Jacob said unto his ^c household, and to all that were with him, Put away ^d the strange gods that are among you, and ^e be clean, and change your garments: and let us arise, and go up to Beth-el; and I will make there an altar unto God, ^f who answered me in the day of my distress, ^g and was with me in the way which I went. And they gave unto Jacob all the strange gods which were in their hand, and ^h all their earrings which were in their ears; and Jacob hid them under ⁱ the oak which was by Shechem. And they journeyed: and ^k the terror of God was upon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue after the sons of Jacob. So Jacob came to ^l Luz, which is in the land of Canaan, that is, Beth-el, he and all the people ⁷ that were with him. And he built there an altar, and called the place ⁸ El-beth-el: because there God appeared unto him, when he fled from the face of his brother. But ⁹ Deborah Rebekah's nurse died, and she was buried beneath Beth-el under ¹⁰ an oak: and the name of it was called Allon-bachuth. And God appeared unto Jacob again, when he came out of Padan-aram, and blessed him. And God said unto him, Thy name is Jacob: ¹¹ thy name shall not be called any more Jacob, ¹² but Israel shall be thy name: and he called his name Israel. And God said unto him, ¹³ I am God Almighty: be ¹⁴ fruitful and multiply; ¹⁵ a nation and a company of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins; and the land ¹⁶ which I gave Abraham and Isaac, to thee I will give it, and to thy seed after thee will I give the land. And God ¹⁷ went up from him in the place where he talked with him. And Jacob ¹⁸ set up a pillar in the place where he talked with him, ¹⁹ even a pillar of stone: and he poured a drink offering thereon, and he poured oil thereon. And Jacob called the name of the place where God spake with him, ²⁰ Beth-el. And they journeyed from Beth-el; and there was but ²¹ a little way to come to Ephrath: and Rachel travailed, and she had hard labour. And it came to pass, when she was in hard labour, that the midwife said unto her, Fear not; ²² thou shalt have this son also. And it came to pass, as her soul was in departing (for she died) that she called his name ²³ Ben-oni: but his father called him Ben-jamin. And ²⁴ Rachel died, and was buried in the way to ²⁵ Ephrath, which is Beth-lehem. And Jacob set a pillar upon her grave: that is ²⁶ the pillar of Rachel's grave unto this day. And Israel journeyed, and spread his tent beyond ²⁷ the tower of Edar. And it came to pass, when Israel dwelt in that land, that Reuben went and ²⁸ lay with Bilhah his father's concubine: and Israel heard it. Now the sons of Jacob were twelve: the sons of Leah; ²⁹ Reuben, Jacob's first-born, and Simeon, and Levi, and Judah, and Issachar, and Zebulun: the sons of Rachel; Joseph, and Benjamin: and the sons of Bilhah, Rachel's handmaid; Dan, and Naphtali: and the sons of Zilpah, Leah's handmaid; Gad, and Asher: these ³⁰ are the sons of Jacob, which were born the son of Achbor died, and ^aHadar reigned in his stead: and the name of his city was Pau; and his wife's name was Mehetabel, the daughter of Matred, the daughter of Mezahab. And these ⁴⁰ are the names of ^bthe dukes that came of Esau, according to their families, after their places, by their names; duke Timnah, duke ⁴¹ Alvah, duke Jetheth, duke Aholibamah, duke Elah, duke Pinon, duke Kenaz, duke Teman, duke Mibzar, ⁴² duke Magdiel, duke Iram: these be the dukes of Edom, according to their habitations in the land of their possession: he is Esau the father of ⁴³ the Edomites. And Jacob dwelt in the land ¹ wherein his father was a stranger, in the land of Canaan. These are ² the generations of Jacob. Joseph, being ^bseventeen years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren; and the lad was with the sons of Bilhah, and with the sons of Zilpah, his father's wives: and Joseph brought unto his father ^ctheir evil report. Now Israel ³ loved Joseph more than all his children, because he was ^dthe son of his old age; and he made him a coat of many ^ecolours. And when his brethren saw that their father loved him more than all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speak peaceably unto him. And Joseph ⁵ dreamed a dream, and he told it his brethren: and they hated him yet the more. And he said unto them, Hear, ⁶ I pray you, this dream which I have dreamed: for, ^ebehold, we were binding ⁷ sheaves in the field, and lo, my sheaf arose, and also stood upright; and behold, your sheaves stood round about, and ^fmade obeisance to my sheaf. And ⁸ his brethren said to him, Shalt thou indeed reign over us? or shalt thou indeed have dominion over us? And they hated him yet the more for his dreams, and for his words. And he dreamed yet another ⁹ dream, and told it his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream more; and behold, the sun and the moon and the eleven stars made obeisance to me. And he told it to his father, and to his ¹⁰ brethren: and his father rebuked him, and said unto him, What is this dream that thou hast dreamed? Shall I and ^gthy mother and thy brethren indeed come to bow down ourselves to thee to the earth? And ^hhis brethren envied him; but his ¹¹ father observed the saying. And his brethren went to feed their ¹² father's flock in ^kShechem. And Israel ¹³ said unto Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed the flock in Shechem? come, and I will send thee unto them. And he said ¹⁴ to him, Here am I. And he said to him, Go, I pray thee, ⁱsee whether it be well with thy brethren, and well with the flocks; and bring me word again. So he sent him out of the vale of ¹Hebron, and ¹⁵ he came to Shechem. And a certain man found him, and behold, he was wandering in the field: and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou? ¹⁶ And he said, I seek my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they feed their ¹⁷flocks. And the man said, They are departed hence; for I heard them say, Let us go to Dothan. And Joseph went after his brethren, and found them in ¹⁸ ^mDothan. And when they saw him afar off, even before he came near unto them, they conspired against him to slay him. ¹⁹ And they said one to another. Behold, this ¹dreamer cometh. Come now therefore, and let us slay him, and cast him into some pit, and we will say, Some evil beast hath devoured him: and we shall see what will become of his dreams. ²¹ And ⁿReuben heard it, and he delivered him out of their hands; and said, Let us not kill him. And Reuben said unto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, and lay no hand upon him, ^othat he might rid him out of their hands, to deliver him to his father again. And it came to pass, when Joseph was come unto his brethren, that they stript Joseph out of his coat, ²³ his coat of many ¹colours that was on him; and they took him, and cast him into a pit: and the pit was empty, ²⁵ there was no water in it. And they sat down to eat bread: and they lift up their eyes and looked, and behold, a company of ^pIshmeelites came from Gilead with their camels bearing ^qspicery and ^rbalm and myrrh, going to carry it down to Egypt. And Judah said unto his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and ^sconceal his blood? ²⁷ Come, and let us sell him to the Ishmeelites, and ^tlet not our hand be upon him; for he is our brother and ^uour flesh. ²⁸ And his brethren ^vwere content. Then there passed by ^wMidianites merchantmen; and they drew and lift up Joseph out of the pit, ^xand sold Joseph to the Ishmeelites for twenty ^ypieces of silver: and they brought Joseph into Egypt. ²⁹ And Reuben returned unto the pit; and

XXXVIII.

And it came to pass at that time, that Judah went down from his brethren, and turned in to a certain ^bAdullamite, whose name was Hirah. And Judah saw there a daughter of a certain Canaanite, whose name was ^cShuah; and he took her, and went in unto her. And she conceived, and bare a son; and he called his name Er. And she conceived again, and bare a son; and she called his name ^dOnan. And she yet again conceived, and bare a son; and called his name Shelah: and he was at ^eChezib, when she bare him. And Judah took a wife for Er his firstborn, whose name was Tamar. And Er, Judah's firstborn, was wicked in the sight of the LORD;
 and the LORD slew him. And Judah said unto Onan, Go in unto ^bthy brother's wife, and marry her, and raise up seed to thy brother. And Onan knew that the seed should not be his; and it came to pass, when he went in unto his brother's wife, that he spilled it on the ground, lest that he should give seed to his brother. And the thing which he did displeased the LORD: wherefore he slew him also. Then said Judah to Tamar his daughter in law, ⁱRemain a widow at thy father's house, till Shelah my son be grown: for he said, Lest peradventure he die also, as his brethren did.
 And Tamar went and dwelt ^kin her father's house. And ⁱin process of time the daughter of Shuah Judah's wife died;

 and Judah ^lwas comforted, and went up unto his sheepshearers to ^mTimnath, he and his friend Hirah the Adullamite.
 And it was told Tamar, saying, Behold thy father in law goeth up to ^mTimnath to shear his sheep. And she put her widow's garments off from her, and covered her with a vail, and wrapped herself, and sat in ⁿan open place, which is by the way to ^mTimnath; for she saw that Shelah was grown, and she was not given unto him to wife. When Judah saw her, he thought her to be a harlot; because she had covered her face. And he turned unto her by the way, and said, Go to, I pray thee, let me come in unto thee; (for he knew not that she was his daughter in law:) and she said, What wilt thou give me, that thou mayest come in unto me? And he said, I will send thee ^aa kid from the flock. And she said, Wilt thou give me a pledge, till thou send it? And he said, What pledge shall I give thee? And she said, Thy signet, and thy bracelets, and thy staff that is in thine hand. And he gave it her, and came in unto her, and she conceived by him. And she arose, and went away, and laid by ^pher vail from her, and put on the garments of her widowhood. And Judah sent the kid by the hand of his friend the Adullamite, to receive his pledge from the woman's hand: but he found her not. Then he asked the men of that place, saying, Where is the harlot, that was ^qopenly by the way side?
 And they said, There was no harlot in this place. And he returned to Judah, and said, I cannot find her; and also the men of the place said, that there was no harlot in this place. And Judah said, Let her take it to her, lest we ^rbe shamed:
 behold, I sent this kid, and thou hast not found her. And it came to pass about three months after, that it was told Judah, saying, Tamar thy daughter in law hath played the harlot; and also, behold, she is with child by whoredom.
 And Judah said, Bring her forth, and ^slet her be burnt. When she was brought forth, she sent to her father in law, saying, By the man, whose these are, ^tam I with child: and she said, Discern, I pray thee, whose are these, ^uthe signet, and bracelets, and staff. And Judah acknowledged them, and said, ^vShe hath been more righteous than I; because that

I gave her not to Shelah my son. And he knew her again no more. And it came to pass in the time of her travail, that, behold, ^utwins were in her womb. And it came to pass, when she travailed, that the one put out his hand: and the midwife took and bound upon his hand a ^{*}scarlet thread, saying, This came out first. And it came to pass, as he drew back his hand, that, behold, his brother came out: and she said, ^{||}How hast thou broken forth? this breach be upon thee: therefore his name was called ^{||}Pharez. XXXIX. And Joseph was brought down to Egypt; and ^aPotiphar, an officer of Pharaoh, captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hand of the ^bIshme-elites, which had brought him down thither. And ^cthe LORD was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house of his master the Egyptian. And his master saw that the LORD was with him, and that the LORD ^dmade all that he did to prosper in his hand. And Joseph ^efound grace in his sight, and he served him: and he made him overseer over his house, and all that he had he put into his hand. And it came to pass from the time that he had made him overseer in his house, and over all that he had, that the LORD blessed the Egyptian's house ^ffor Joseph's sake; and the blessing of the LORD was upon all that he had in the house, and in the field. And he left all that he had in Joseph's hand; and he knew not ought he had, save the bread which he did eat. And Joseph ^gwas a goodly person, and well favoured. And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph; and she said, Lie with me. But he refused, and said unto his master's wife, Behold, my master wotteth not what is with me in the house, and ^hhe hath committed all that he hath to my hand; there is none greater in this house than I; neither hath he ⁱkept back any thing from me but thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness, and ^ksin against God? And it came to pass, as she spake to Joseph day by day, that he hearkened not unto her, to lie by her, or to be with her. And it came to pass about this time, that Joseph went into the house to do his business; and there was none of the men of the house there within. And she caught him by his garment, saying, Lie with me: and he left his garment in her hand, and fled, and got him out. And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled forth, that she called unto the men of her house, and spake unto them, saying, See, he hath brought in a Hebrew unto us to mock us; he came in unto me to lie with me, and I cried with a loud voice: and it came to pass, when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled, and got him out. And she laid up his garment by her, until his lord came home. And she spake unto him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant, which thou hast brought unto us, came in unto me to mock me: and it came to pass, as I lift up my voice and cried, that he left his garment with me, and fled out. And it came to pass, when his master heard the words of his wife, which she spake unto him, saying, After this manner did thy servant to me; that his wrath was kindled. And Joseph's master took him, and ^lput him into the ^mprison, a place where the king's prisoners were bound: and he was there in the ^mprison. But ⁿthe LORD was with Joseph, and ^{||}shewed him mercy, and ^ogave him favour in the sight of the keeper of the prison. And the keeper of the prison ^pcommitted to Joseph's hand all the prisoners that were in the prison; and whatsoever they did there, ^qhe was the doer of it. The keeper of the prison looked not to any thing that was under his hand; because ^rthe LORD was with him, and that which he did, the LORD made it to prosper.

And it came to pass after these things, that the ^abutler of the king of Egypt and his baker had offended their lord the king of Egypt. And Pharaoh was wroth against two of his ^bofficers, against the chief of the butlers, and against the chief of the bakers. ^cAnd he put them in ward in the house of the ^dcaptain of the guard, into the prison, the place where Joseph was bound. which were bound in the prison. And Joseph came in unto them in the morning, and looked upon them, and behold, they were sad. And he asked Pharaoh's officers that were with him in the ward of his lord's house, saying, Wherefore ¹look ye so sadly to day? And they said unto him, ²'We have dreamed a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Joseph said unto them, ³'Do not interpretations belong to God? tell me them, I pray you. And the chief butler told his dream to Joseph, and said to him, In my dream, behold, a vine was before me; and in the vine were three branches: and it was as though it budded, and her blossoms shot forth; and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes: and Pharaoh's cup was in my hand: and I took the grapes, and pressed them into Pharaoh's cup, and I gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand. And Joseph said unto him, ⁴This is the interpretation of it: The three branches ⁵*are* three days: yet within three days shall Pharaoh ⁶lift up thine head, and restore thee unto thy place: and thou shalt deliver Pharaoh's cup into his hand, after the former manner when thou wast his butler. But ⁷'think on me when it shall be well with thee, and ⁸'shew kindness, I pray thee, unto me, and make mention of me unto Pharaoh, and bring me out of this house: for indeed I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews: ⁹'and here also have I done nothing that they should put me into the dungeon. When the chief baker saw that the interpretation was good, he said unto Joseph, I also was in my dream, and behold, ¹⁰I had three ¹¹'white baskets on my head: and in the uppermost basket there was of all manner of ¹²'bake-meats for Pharaoh; and the birds did eat them out of the basket upon my head. And Joseph answered and said, ¹³'This is the interpretation thereof: The three baskets are three days: ¹⁴'yet within three days shall Pharaoh ¹⁵lift up thy head from off thee, and shall hang thee on a tree; and the birds shall eat thy flesh from off thee. And it came to pass the third day, which was Pharaoh's ¹⁶'birth-day, that he made a feast unto all his servants: and he ¹⁷lifted up the head of the chief butler and of the chief baker among his servants. And he ¹⁸restored the chief butler unto his butlership again; and ¹⁹'he gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand: but he ²⁰'hanged the chief baker: as Joseph had interpreted to them. Yet did not the chief butler remember Joseph, but forgot him.

And it came to pass at the end of ²¹two full years, that Pharaoh dreamed: and behold, he stood by the river. And behold, there came up out of the river seven well favoured kine and fatfleshed; and they fed in a ²²meadow. And behold, seven other kine came up after them out of the river, ill favoured and leanfleshed; and stood by the ²³other kine upon the brink of the river. And the ill favoured and leanfleshed kine did eat up the seven well favoured and fat kine. So Pharaoh awoke. And he slept and dreamed the second time: and behold, seven ears of corn came up upon one stalk, ²⁴'rank and good. And behold, seven thin ears and blasted with the east wind sprang up after them. And the seven thin ears devoured the seven rank and full ears. And Pharaoh awoke, and behold, it was a dream. And it came to pass in the morning ²⁵'that his spirit was troubled; and he sent and called for all ²⁶the magicians of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharaoh told them his dream; but there was none that could interpret them unto Pharaoh. Then spake the chief butler unto Pharaoh, saying, I do remember my faults ²⁷this day: Pharaoh was ²⁸'wroth with his servants, and put me in ward in the ²⁹'captain of the guard's house, both me and the chief baker: and ³⁰'we dreamed a dream in one night, I and he; we dreamed each man according to the interpretation of his dream. And there was there with us a young man, a Hebrew, servant to the captain of the guard; and we told him, and he ³¹'interpreted to us our dreams; to each man according to his dream he did interpret. And it came to pass, ³²'as he interpreted to us, so it was; me he restored unto mine office, and him he hanged.

Then Pharaoh sent and called Joseph, and they ³³'brought him hastily ³⁴'out of the dungeon: and he shaved ³⁵'himself, and changed his raiment, and came in unto Pharaoh. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, I have ³⁶'dreamed a dream, and there is none that can interpret it: ³⁷'and I have heard say of thee, ³⁸'that ³⁹'thou canst understand a dream to interpret it. And Joseph answered Pharaoh, saying, ⁴⁰'It is not in me: ⁴¹'God shall give Pharaoh an answer of peace.

^a ver. 1—7. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, ^aIn my ¹⁷ dream, behold, I stood upon the bank of the river: and behold, there came up ¹⁸ out of the river seven kine, fattished and well favoured; and they fed in a meadow: and behold, seven other kine ¹⁹ came up after them, poor and very ill favoured and leanfleshed, such as I never saw in all the land of Egypt for badness: and the lean and the ill favoured kine ²⁰ did eat up the first seven fat kine: and ²¹ when they had ¹eaten them up, it could not be known that they had ¹eaten them; but they were still ill favoured, as at the beginning. So I awoke. And I saw in ²² my dream, and behold, seven ears came up in one stalk, full and good: and be- ²³ hold, seven ears, ¹withered, thin, and blasted with the east wind, sprung up after them: and the thin ears devoured ²⁴ the seven good ears: and ¹I told this unto the magicians; but there was none that could declare it to me. And Joseph ²⁵ said unto Pharaoh, The dream of Pharaoh is one: ²God hath shewed Pharaoh what he is about to do. The seven good kine are ²⁶ seven years; and the seven good ears are seven years: the dream is one. And the ²⁷ seven thin and ill favoured kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven empty years blasted with the east wind shall be ¹seven years of famine. ²⁸ This is the thing which I have spoken unto Pharaoh: ²⁹ What God is about to do he sheweth unto Pharaoh. Behold, there come ³⁰ seven years of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt: and there shall ³¹ rise after them seven years of famine; and all the plenty shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt; and the famine ³² shall consume the land; and the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of that famine following; for ³³ it shall be very ¹grievous. And for that the dream was doubled unto Pharaoh twice; ³⁴ it is because the ²thing is ³established by God, and God will shortly bring it to pass. Now therefore let Pha- ³⁵ roah look out a man discreet and wise, and set him over the land of Egypt. Let Pharaoh ³⁶ do this, and let him appoint ¹officers over the land, and take up the fifth part of the land of Egypt in the seven plenteous years. And ³⁷ let them gather all the food of those good years that come, and lay up corn under the hand of Pharaoh, and let them keep food in the cities. ⁵² And the seven years of plenteousness, that was in the land of Egypt, were ended. ^aAnd the seven years of dearth ⁴⁴ began to come, ^aAccording as Joseph had said: and the dearth was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread. And when all the land of ⁵⁵ Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread: and Pharaoh said unto all the Egyptians, Go unto Joseph; what he saith to you, do. And the ⁵⁶ famine was over all the face of the earth: and Joseph opened [†]all the store-houses, and [‡]sold unto the Egyptians; and the famine waxed sore in the land of Egypt. And all countries came into ⁵⁷ Egypt to Joseph for to buy corn; because that the famine was so sore [†]in all lands.

XLII. Now when ^aJacob saw that there was corn in Egypt, Jacob said unto his sons, Why do ye look one upon another? And he said, Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt: get you down thither, and buy for us from thence; that we may ^blive, and not die. And Joseph's ten brethren went down to buy ³ corn in Egypt. But Benjamin, ^cJoseph's brother, Jacob sent not with his brethren; for he said, ^dLest peradventure mischief befall him. And the sons of Israel came to buy corn among those that came: for the famine was in the land of Canaan. And Joseph ^ewas the governor ^eover the land, and he ^eit was that sold to all the people of the land: and Joseph's brethren came, and ^fbowed down themselves before him with their faces to the earth. And Joseph saw his brethren, and he knew them, but made himself strange unto them, and spake ⁷roughly unto them; and he said unto them, Whence come ye? And they said, From the land of Canaan to buy food. And Joseph knew his brethren, but they ⁸knew not him. And Joseph ^gremembered the dreams which he dreamed of them, and said unto them, Ye ^hare ^hspies; to see the nakedness of the land you are come. And they said unto him, Nay, ¹⁰my lord, but to buy food are thy servants come. We ⁱare all one man's sons; ¹¹we ⁱare true men, thy servants are no spies. And he said unto them, Nay, ¹²but to see the nakedness of the land you are come. And they said, Thy servants ¹³are twelve brethren, the sons of one man in the land of Canaan; and behold, the youngest ⁱis this day with our father, and one ⁱis not. And Joseph said unto ¹⁴ them, That ⁱis it that I spake unto you, ¹⁵saying, Ye ⁱare spies: hereby ye shall be proved: ^kBy the life of Pharaoh ye shall not go forth hence, except your youngest brother come hither. Send one of you, and let him fetch your brother, and ye shall be [†]kept in prison, that your words may be proved, whether [‡]there be any truth in you: or else by the life of ¹⁷Pharaoh surely ye ⁱare spies. And he [†]put them all together into ward three ¹⁸days. And Joseph said unto them the third day, This do, and live; [†]for I fear ¹⁹God: if ye ^{be} true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: go ye, carry corn for the famine ²⁰of your houses: but [‡]bring your youngest brother unto me; so shall your words be verified, and ye shall not die. And ²¹they did so. And they said one to another, ^aWe ⁱare verily guilty concerning our brother, in that we saw the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we would not hear; therefore is this ²²distress come upon us. And Reuben answered them, saying, ^oSpake I not unto you, saying, Do not sin against the child; and ye would not hear? therefore, ²³behold, also his blood is [‡]required. And they knew not that Joseph understood ²⁴them; for [†]he spake unto them by ^qan interpreter. And he turned himself about from them, and wept; and returned to them ^{again}, and communed with them, and took from them Simeon, and bound ²⁵him before their eyes. Then Joseph commanded to fill their sacks ^{with} corn, and to restore every man's money into his sack, and to give them provision for the way: and thus did he unto them.

And it came to pass, when they had eaten up the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, their father said unto them, Go again, buy us a little food. And Judah spake unto him, saying, The man ^ddid solemnly protest unto us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, except you ^bbrother be with you. If thou wilt send our brother with us, we will go down and buy thee food: but if thou wilt not send him, we will not go down: for the man said unto us, Ye shall not see my face, except your brother be with you. And Israel said, Wherefore dealt ye so ill with me, as to tell the man whether ye had yet a brother? And they said, The man ^easked us straitly of our state, and of our kindred, saying, Is your father yet alive? have ye ^fanother brother? and we told him according to the ^gtenor of these words: ^h'could we certainly know that he would say, Bring your brother down? And Judah said unto Israel his father, Send the lad with me, and we will arise and go; that we may ⁱlive, and not die, both we, and thou, and also our little ones. I will be surety for him; of my hand shalt thou require him: ^dif I bring him not unto thee, and set him before thee, then let me bear the blame for ever: for except we had lingered, surely now we had returned ^lthis second time. And their father Israel said unto them, If it must be so now, do this; take of the best fruits in the land in your vessels, and carry down the man a present, a little ^ebalm, and a little honey, spices, and myrrh, nuts, and almonds: and take double money in your hand; and the money ^fthat was brought again in the mouth of your sacks, carry it again in your hand; peradventure it was an oversight: ^gtake also your brother, and arise, go again unto the man: and ^hGod Almighty give you mercy before the man, that he may send away your other brother, and Benjamin. ⁱIf I be bereaved of my children, I am bereaved. ^jAnd the men took that present, and they took double money in their hand, and Benjamin; and rose up, and went down to Egypt, and stood before Joseph. And when Joseph saw Benjamin with them, he said to the ^kruler of his house, Bring these men home, and ^lslay, and make ready; for these men shall ^mdine with me at noon. And the man did as Joseph bade; and the man brought the ⁿmen into Joseph's house. And the men were afraid, because they were brought into Joseph's house; and they said, Because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first time are we brought in; that he may ^oseek occasion against us, and fall upon us, and take us for bondmen, and our asses. And they came near to the steward of Joseph's house, and they communed with him at the door of the house, and said, O sir, ^pwe came indeed down at the first time to buy food: and ^qit came to pass, when we came to the inn, that we opened our sacks, and behold, every man's money was in the mouth of his sack, our money in full weight: and we have brought it again in our hand. And other money have we brought down in our hands to buy food: we cannot tell who put our money in our sacks. XLV.

Then Joseph could not ^a refrain himself before all them that stood by him; and he cried, Cause every man to go out from me. And there stood no man with him, while Joseph made himself known unto his brethren. And he ^t wept aloud: ² and the Egyptians and the house of Pharaoh heard. And Joseph said unto his brethren, ^b I am Joseph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him; for they were ³ troubled at his presence. And Joseph said unto his brethren, Come near to me, I pray you. And they came near. And he said, I ⁴ am Joseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt. Now therefore be not grieved, ⁵ nor angry with yourselves, that ye sold me hither: ^c for God did send me before you to preserve life. For these ⁶ two years hath the famine been in the land: and yet there are five years, in the which there shall neither ^d be dearing nor harvest. And God sent me before you ⁷ to preserve you a posterity in the earth, and to save your lives by a great deliverance. So now it was not you that sent me hither, but God: and he hath made me a ^e father to Pharaoh, and lord of all his house, and a ^e ruler throughout all the ⁹ land of Egypt. Haste you, and go up to my father, and say unto him, Thus saith thy son Joseph, God hath made me lord of all Egypt: come down unto me, tarry ¹⁰ not: and ^f thou shalt dwell in the land of Goshen, and thou shalt be near unto me, thou, and thy children, and thy children's children, and thy flocks, and thy ¹¹ herds, and all that thou hast: and there will I nourish thee; for yet there are five years of famine; lest thou, and thy household, and all that thou hast, ^g come to ¹² poverty. And behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin, that it is my mouth that speaketh unto ¹³ you. And you shall tell my father of all my glory in Egypt, and of all that you have seen; and ye shall haste and ^h bring ¹⁴ down my father hither. And he fell upon his brother Benjamin's neck, and wept; and Benjamin wept upon his neck. ¹⁵ Moreover he kissed all his brethren, and wept upon them: and after that his brethren talked with him.

And the fame thereof was heard in Pharaoh's house, saying, Joseph's brethren are come: and it ⁱ pleased Pharaoh ¹⁷ well, and his servants. And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, Say unto thy brethren, This do ye; lade your beasts, and go, ¹⁸ get you unto the land of Canaan; and take your father and your households, and come unto me: and I will give you the good of the land of Egypt, and ye ¹⁹ shall eat ⁱ the fat of the land. Now thou art commanded, this do ye; take you wagons out of the land of Egypt for your little ones, and for your wives, and ²⁰ bring your father, and come. Also regard not your stuff; for the good of all the land of Egypt is yours. And the children of Israel did so: and Joseph gave them wagons, according to the ^j commandment of Pharaoh, and gave them ²² provision for the way. To all of them he gave each man ^k changes of raiment; but to Benjamin he gave three hundred ^{pieces} of silver, and ^l five changes of raiment. ²³ And to his father he sent after this manner; ten asses ^{laden} with the good things of Egypt, and ten she asses ^{laden} with corn and bread and ^m meat for his ²⁴ father by the way. XLVI. And Israel took his journey with all that he had, and came to ^a Beer-sheba, and offered sacrifices ^b unto the God of his father Isaac. And God spake unto ² Israel ^c in the visions of the night, and said, Jacob, Jacob. And he said, Here ^{am} I. And he said, I ^{am} God, ^d the God of thy father: fear not to go down ³ into Egypt; for I will there ^e make of thee a great nation. I will go down with thee into Egypt; and I will also surely ^f bring thee up again: and ^g Joseph shall put his hand upon thine eyes. And Jacob ⁵ rose up from Beer-sheba: and the sons of Israel carried Jacob their father, and their little ones, and their wives, in the wagons ^h which Pharaoh had sent to carry him. And they took their cattle, ⁶ and their goods, which they had gotten in the land of Canaan, and came into Egypt, Jacob, and all his seed with him: his sons, and his sons' sons with him, ⁷ his daughters, and his sons' daughters, and all his seed brought he with him into Egypt.

[†] And the sons of Issachar; To-¹⁴ la, and [†] Phuvah, and Job, and Shimron. And the sons of Zebulun; Sered, and E-¹⁵ lon, and Jahleel. These be the sons of Leah, [†] which she bare unto Jacob in Padan-aram, with his daughter Dinah:

all the souls of his sons and his daughters ¹⁶ were thirty and three. cob, [†]How old art thou? And Jacob said unto Pharaoh, The days of the years of my ^lpilgrimage are an hundred and thirty years: few and evil have the days of the years of my life been, and ^mhave not attained unto the days of the years of the life of my fathers in the days of their pilgrimage. And Jacob ⁿblessed Pharaoh, and went out from before Pharaoh. And Joseph placed his father and his brethren, and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, in the land of ^oRameses, ^pas Pharaoh had commanded. And Joseph ^qnourished his father, and his brethren, and all his father's household, with bread, [†]according to their families.

And there was no bread in all the land; for the famine was very sore, so that the land of Egypt and all the land of Canaan fainted by reason of the famine. ^rAnd Joseph gathered up all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corn which they bought: and Joseph brought the money into Pharaoh's house.

¹⁵ And when money failed in the land of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, all the Egyptians came unto Joseph, and said, Give us bread: for ^swhy should we die in thy presence? for the money fail-¹⁶ eth. And Joseph said, Give your cattle; and I will give you for your cattle, if
¹⁸ that year. When that year was ended, they came unto him the second year, and said unto him, We will not hide it from my lord, how that our money is spent; my lord also had our herds of cattle; there is not ought left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies, and ¹⁹ our lands: wherefore shall we die before thine eyes, both we and our land? buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants unto Pharaoh: and give us seed, that we may live, and not die, that the land be not desolate.

²¹ Pharaoh's. And as for the people, he removed them to cities from one end of the borders of Egypt even to the other
²² end thereof. [†]Only the land of the [†]priests bought he not; for the priests had a portion assigned them of Pharaoh, and did eat their portion which Pharaoh gave them: wherefore they sold not their ²³ lands. Then Joseph said unto the people, Behold, I have bought you this day and your land for Pharaoh: lo, here is seed for you, and ye shall sow the land.

²⁴ And it shall come to pass in the increase, that you shall give the fifth part unto Pharaoh, and four parts shall be your own, for seed of the field, and for your food, and for them of your households, and for food for your little ones.

And Jacob lived in the land of Egypt seventeen years: so ²⁸ the whole age of Jacob was an hundred forty and seven years. And the time ²⁹ drew nigh that Israel must die: and he called his son Joseph, and said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, ³⁰ put, I pray thee, thy hand under my thigh, and ³¹ deal kindly and truly with me; ³² bury me not, I pray thee, in Egypt: but ³³ I will lie with my fathers, ³⁴ and thou shalt carry me out of Egypt, and ³⁵ bury me in their buryingplace. And he said, I will do as thou hast said. And he said, ³⁶ Swear unto me. And he ³⁷ sware unto him. And ³⁸ Israel bowed himself upon the bed's head.

XLVIII. And it came to pass after these things, that one told Joseph, Behold, thy father is sick: and he took with him his two sons, Manasseh and Ephraim. And one told Jacob, and said, Behold, thy son Joseph cometh unto thee: and Israel strengthened himself, and sat upon the bed. And Jacob said unto Joseph, ^a God Almighty appeared unto me at ^b Luz in the land of Canaan, and blessed me, and said unto me, Behold, I will make thee fruitful, and multiply thee, and I will make of thee a multitude of people; and will give this land to thy seed after thee ^c for an everlasting possession. And now thy ^d two sons, Ephraim and Manasseh, which were born unto thee in the land of Egypt before I came unto thee into Egypt, ^e are mine; as Reuben and Simeon, they shall be mine. And thy issue, which thou begetteth after them, shall be thine, and shall be called after the name of their brethren in their inheritance. And as for me, when I came from Padan, ^f Rachel died by me in the land of Canaan in the way, when yet there was ^g but a little way to come unto Ephrath: and I buried her there in the way of Ephrath; the same is Bethlehem. And Israel beheld Joseph's sons, and said, Who are these? And Joseph said unto his father, ^h They are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said, Bring them, I pray thee, unto me, and ⁱ I will bless them. Now the eyes of Israel were ^j dim for age, so that he could not see. And he brought them near unto him; and ^k he kissed them, and embraced them. And Israel said unto Joseph, I had not thought to see thy face: and lo, God hath shewed me also thy seed. And Joseph brought them out ^m from between his knees, and he bowed himself with his face to the earth. And Joseph took them both, Ephraim in his right hand toward Israel's left hand, and Manasseh in his left hand towards Israel's right hand, and brought them near unto him. And Israel stretched out his right hand, and laid it upon Ephraim's head, who was the younger, and his left hand upon Manasseh's head, ⁿ guiding his hands wittingly; for Manasseh was the firstborn. And he blessed Joseph, and said, God, ^o before whom my fathers Abraham and Isaac did walk, the God which fed me all my life long unto this day, ^p the Angel which ^q redeemed me from all evil, bless the lads; and let ^r my name be named on them, and the name of my fathers Abraham and Isaac; and let them ^s grow into a multitude in the midst of the earth. And when Joseph saw that his father laid his right hand upon the head of Ephraim, it ^t displeased him: and he held up his father's hand, to remove it from Ephraim's head unto Manasseh's head. And Joseph said unto his father, Not so, my father: for this is the firstborn; put thy right hand upon his head. And his father refused, and said, ^u I know it, my son, I know it: he also shall become a people, and he also shall be great: but truly ^v his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a ^w multitude of nations. And he blessed them that day, saying, ^x In thee shall Israel bless, saying, God make thee as Ephraim and as Manasseh: and he set Ephraim before Manasseh. And Israel said unto Joseph, Behold, I die: but ^y God shall be with you, and bring you again unto the land of your fathers. Moreover I have given to ^z thee one portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the Amorite with my sword and with my bow.

¹⁵ And when Joseph's brethren saw that their father was dead, they said, Joseph will peradventure ⁱhate us, and will certainly requite us all the evil which we ¹⁶ did unto him. And they [†]sent a messenger unto Joseph, saying, Thy father ¹⁷ did command before he died, saying, So shall ye say unto Joseph, Forgive, I pray thee now, the trespass of thy brethren, and their sin; for they did unto thee evil: and now, we pray thee, forgive the trespass of the servants of ^kthe God of thy father. And Joseph wept when they ¹⁸ spake unto him. And his brethren also went and fell down before his face; and they said, Behold, we ^{be} thy servants. ¹⁹ And Joseph said unto them. Fear not: ²⁰ [†]for am I in the place of God? But as for you, ye thought evil against me; ^{but} ^mGod meant it unto good, to bring to pass, as it is this day, to save much people alive. Now therefore fear ye not: ²¹ ⁿI will nourish you and your little ones. And he comforted them, and spake ^{kindly} unto them.

THE SECOND BOOK OF MOSES,

CALLED

EXODUS.

I. NOW ^athese are the names of the children of Israel, which came into Egypt; every man and his household came with Jacob. Reuben, Simeon, Levi, and Judah, Issachar, Zebulun, and Benjamin, Dan, and Naphtali, Gad, and Asher. And all the souls that came out of the loins of Jacob were ^bseventy souls: for Joseph was in Egypt already. And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.

^dAnd the children of Israel were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty; and the land was filled with them. Now there arose up a new king over Egypt, ^ewhich knew not Joseph. And he said unto his people, Behold, ^fthe people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we: ^gcome on, let us ^hdeal wisely with them; lest they multiply, and it come to pass, that, when there falleth out any war, they join also unto our enemies, and fight against us, and so get them up out of the land. Therefore they did set over them ⁱtaskmasters to afflict them with their ^kburdens. And they built for Pharaoh ^ltreasure cities, Pithom and Raamses. ¹But the more they afflicted them, the more they multiplied and ^mgrew. And they ⁿwere grieved because of the children of Israel. And the Egyptians made the children of Israel to serve with rigour: and they made their lives bitter with hard bondage, in mortar, and in brick, and in all manner of service in the field: all their service, wherein they made them serve, was with rigour.

And the king of Egypt spake to the Hebrew midwives, of which the name of the one was Shiphrah, and the name of the other Puah: and he said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the Hebrew women, and see them upon the stools; if it be a son, then ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then she shall live. But the midwives ^ofeared God, and did not ^pas the king of Egypt commanded them, but saved the men children alive. And the king of Egypt called for the midwives, and said unto them, Why have ye done this thing, and have saved the men children alive? And the midwives said unto Pharaoh, Because the Hebrew women are not as the Egyptian women; for they are lively, and are delivered ere the midwives come in unto them. ^qTherefore God dealt well with the midwives: and the people multiplied, and waxed very mighty. And it came to pass, because the midwives feared God, ^rthat he made them houses. And Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, ^sEvery son that is born ye shall cast into the river, and every daughter ye shall save alive.

And there went ^aa man of the house of Levi, and took to wife a daughter of Levi. And the woman conceived, and bare a son: and ^bwhen she saw him that he was a goodly child, she hid him three months. And when she could not longer hide him, she took for him an ark ^cof bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and with pitch, and put the child therein; and she laid it in ^dthe flags by the river's brink. And ^ehis sister stood afar off, to wit what would be done to him. And the ^fdaughter of Pharaoh came down to wash herself at the river; and her maidens walked along by the river's side; and when she saw the ark among the flags, she sent her maid to fetch it. And when she had opened it, she saw the child: and behold, the babe wept. And she had compassion on him, and said, This is one of the Hebrews' children. Then said his sister to Pharaoh's daughter, Shall I go and call to thee a nurse of the Hebrew women, that she may nurse the child for thee? And Pharaoh's daughter said to her, Go. And the maid went and called the child's mother. And Pharaoh's daughter said unto her, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages. And the woman took the child, and nursed it. And the child grew, and she brought him unto Pharaoh's daughter, and he became her son. And she called his name Moses: and she said, Because I drew him out of the water.

And it came to pass in those days, when Moses was grown, that he went out unto his brethren, and looked on their burdens: and he spied an Egyptian smiting a Hebrew, one of his brethren. And he looked this way and that way, and when he saw that there was no man, he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand. And when he went out the second day, behold, two men of the Hebrews strove together: and he said to him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow? And he said, Who made thee a prince and a judge over us? intendest thou to kill me, as thou killedst the Egyptian? And Moses feared, and said, Surely this thing is known. Now when Pharaoh heard this thing, he sought to slay Moses. But Moses fled from the face of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Midian: and he sat down by a well. Now the priest of Midian had seven daughters: and they came and drew water, and filled the troughs to water their father's flock. And the shepherds came and drove them away: but Moses stood up and helped them, and watered their flock. And when they came to Reuel their father, he said, How is it that you are come so soon to day? And they said, An Egyptian delivered us out of the hand of the shepherds, and also drew water enough for us, and watered the flock. And he said unto his daughters, And where is he? why is it that ye have left the man? call him, that he may eat bread. And Moses was content to dwell with the man: and he gave Moses Zipporah his daughter. And she bare him a son, and he called his name Gershom: for he said, I have been a stranger in a strange land.

And it came to pass in process of time, that the king of Egypt died: and the children of Israel sighed by reason of the bondage, and they cried, and their cry came up unto God by reason of the bondage. And God heard their groaning, and God remembered his covenant with Abraham, with Isaac, and with Jacob. And God looked upon the children of Israel, and God had respect unto them.

Now Moses kept the flock of Jethro his father in law, the priest of Midian: and he led the flock a to the backside of the desert, and came to b the mountain of God, even to Horeb. And c the angel of the LORD appeared unto him in a flame of fire out of the midst of d a bush: and he looked, and behold, the bush burned with fire, and the bush was not consumed. And Moses said, I will now turn aside, and see this great sight, why e the bush is not burnt. And when the LORD saw that he turned aside to see, God called unto him out of the midst of the bush, and said, Moses, Moses. And he said, Here am I. And he said, Draw not nigh hither: f put off thy shoes from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground. Moreover he said, g I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses hid his face; for h he was afraid to look upon God. And the LORD said, i I have surely seen the affliction of my people which are in Egypt, and have heard their j cry by reason of their taskmasters; for I k know their sorrows; and k I am come down to l deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them up out of that land m unto a good land and a large, unto a land n flowing with milk and honey; unto the place of o the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites. Now therefore, behold, p the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me: and I have also seen the oppression wherewith the Egyptians oppress them. Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt. And Moses said unto God, q Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?

And God said ¹⁴ unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, ¹⁵ ^tI AM hath sent me unto you. And God said moreover unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, ^uThe LORD God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath sent me unto you: this is ^xmy name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations. Go, and ^ygather the ¹⁶ elders of Israel together, and say unto them, The LORD God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, appeared unto me, saying, I ^zhave surely visited you, and seen that which is done to you in Egypt: and I have said, ¹⁷ ^aI will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt unto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites, unto a land flowing with milk and honey. And ^bthey shall hear- ¹⁸ en to thy voice: and ^cthou shalt come, thou and the elders of Israel, unto the king of Egypt, and you shall say unto him, The LORD God of the Hebrews hath ^dmet with us: and now let us go, we beseech thee, three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to the LORD our God. And I am sure that ¹⁹ the king of Egypt ^ewill not let you go, ^fno, not by a mighty hand. And I will ²⁰ ^fstretch out my hand, and smite Egypt with all my wonders which I will do in the midst thereof: and ^gafter that he will let you go. And ^hI will give this ²¹ people favour in the sight of the Egyptians: and it shall come to pass, that, when ye go, ye shall not go empty: but ²² every woman ⁱshall borrow of her neighbour, and of her that sojourneth in her house, jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: and ye shall put them upon your sons, and upon your daughters: and ^kye shall spoil ^lthe Egyptians.

IV.

And Moses answered and said, But behold, they will not believe me, nor hearken unto my voice: for they will say, The LORD hath not appeared unto ² thee. And the LORD said unto him, What is that in thine hand? And he ³ said, ^aA rod. And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent; and ⁴ Moses fled from before it. And the LORD said unto Moses, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the tail. And he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it ⁵ became a rod in his hand: that they may ^bbelieve that ^cthe LORD God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath ap- ⁶ peared unto thee. And the LORD said furthermore unto him, Put now thine hand into thy bosom. And he put his hand into his bosom: and when he took it out, behold, his hand was leprous ^das ⁷ snow. And he said, Put thine hand into thy bosom again. And he put his hand into his bosom again; and plucked it out of his bosom, and behold, ^eit was ⁸ turned again as his other flesh. And it shall come to pass, if they will not be- lieve thee, neither hearken to the voice of the first sign, that they will believe ⁹ the voice of the latter sign. And it shall come to pass, if they will not believe also these two signs, neither hearken unto thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river, and pour it upon the dry land: and ^fthe water which thou takest out of the river ¹⁰ shall become blood upon the dry land. And Moses said unto the LORD, O my Lord, I am not ¹¹ eloquent, neither ¹² heretofore, nor since thou hast spoken unto thy servant: but ¹³ ^gI am slow of speech, and of a slow tongue. And the LORD said unto him, Who hath made man's mouth? or who maketh the dumb, or deaf, or the seeing, or the blind? have not I the LORD? ¹⁴ Now therefore go, and I will be ^hwith thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say. And he said, O my Lord, send, I pray thee, by the hand ⁱof him ¹⁵ ^jwhom thou ^kwilt send. And the anger of the LORD was kindled against Moses, and he said, Is not Aaron the Levite thy brother? I know that he can speak well. And also, behold, he cometh forth to meet thee: and when he seeth thee, ¹⁶ he will be glad in his heart. And ^lthou shalt speak unto him, and ^mput words in his mouth: and I will be with thy mouth, and with his mouth, and will teach you ⁿwhat ye shall do. And he shall be thy spokesman unto the people: and he shall be, even he shall be to thee instead of a mouth, and ^mthou shalt be to him instead of God. And thou shalt take ⁿthis rod in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt do signs. And Moses went and returned to ^tJethro his father in law, and said unto him, Let me go, I pray thee, and return unto my brethren which are in Egypt, and see whether they be yet alive. And Jethro said to Moses, Go in peace. And the LORD said unto Moses in Midian, Go, return into Egypt: for ^oall the men are dead which sought thy life. And Moses took his wife and his sons, and set them upon an ass, and he returned to the land of Egypt: and Moses took ^pthe rod of God in his hand. And the LORD said unto Moses, When thou goest to return into Egypt, see that thou do all those ^qwonders before Pharaoh, which I have put in thine hand: but ^rI will harden his heart, that he shall not let the people go. And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, Thus saith the LORD, ^sIsrael is my son, even my firstborn: and I say unto thee, Let my son go, that he may serve me: and if thou refuse to let him go, behold, ^uI will slay thy son, even thy firstborn.

And it came to pass by the way ^xin the inn, that the LORD ^ymet him, and sought to kill him. Then Zipporah took ^za sharp stone, and cut off the foreskin of her son, and ¹cast it at his feet, and said, Surely a bloody husband art thou to me. So he ²let him go: then she said, ³A bloody husband thou art, because of the circumcision. And the LORD said to Aaron, Go into the wilderness ^ato meet Moses. And he went, and met him in ^bthe mount of God, and kissed him. And Moses ^ctold Aaron all the words of the LORD who had sent him, and all the ^dsigns which he had commanded him. And Moses and Aaron ^ewent and gathered together all the elders of the children of Israel: ^fand Aaron spake all the words which the LORD had spoken unto Moses, and did the signs in the sight of the people. And the people ^gbelieved: and when they heard that the LORD had ^hvisited the children of Israel, and that he ⁱhad looked upon their affliction, then ^kthey bowed their heads and worshipped.

V. And afterward Moses and Aaron went in, and told Pharaoh, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Let my people go, that they may hold ^aa feast unto me in the wilderness. And Pharaoh said, ^bWho is the LORD, that I should obey his voice to let Israel go? I know not the LORD, neither will I let Israel go. And they said, ^cThe God of the Hebrews hath met with us: let us go, we pray thee, three days' journey into the desert, and sacrifice unto the LORD our God; lest ^dhe fall upon us with pestilence, or with the sword. And the king of Egypt said unto them, Wherefore do ye. Moses and Aaron, let the people from their works? ^eget you unto your ^eburdens. And Pharaoh said, Behold, the people of the land now are many, and you make them rest from their ^eburdens. And Pharaoh commanded the same day the ^ftaskmasters of the people, and ^gtheir officers, saying, ^hYe shall no more give the people straw to make brick, as ^hheretofore: let them go and gather straw for themselves. And the tale of the bricks, which they did make ^hheretofore, you shall lay upon them; you shall not diminish ought thereof: for they be idle; therefore they cry, saying, Let us go and sacrifice to our God. ⁱLet there more work be laid upon the men, that they may labour therein; and let them not regard vain words. And the taskmasters of the people went out, and their officers, and they spake to the people, saying, Thus saith Pharaoh, I will not give you straw. Go ye, get you straw where you can find it: yet not ought of your work shall be diminished. So the people were scattered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt to gather stubble instead of straw. And the taskmasters hastened them, saying, Fulfil your works, ^jyour daily tasks, as when there was straw. And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaoh's taskmasters had set over them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore have ye not fulfilled your task in making brick both yesterday and to day, as ⁱheretofore? Then the officers of the children of Israel came and cried unto Pharaoh, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy servants? ^kThere is no straw given unto thy servants, and they say to us, Make brick: and behold, thy servants are beaten; but the fault is in thine own people. But he said, Ye are idle, ye are idle: therefore ye say, Let us go and do sacrifice to the LORD. Go therefore now, and work; for there shall no straw be given you, yet shall ye deliver the tale of bricks. And the officers of the children of Israel did see that they were in evil case, after it was said, Ye shall not minish ought from your bricks of your daily task. And they met Moses and Aaron, who stood in the way, as they came forth from Pharaoh: ¹and they said unto them, The LORD look upon you, and judge; because you have made our savour [†]to be abhorred in the eyes of Pharaoh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.

And Moses returned unto the LORD, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou so evil entreated this people? why is it that thou hast sent me? For since I came to Pharaoh to speak in thy name, he hath done evil to this people; [†]neither hast thou delivered thy people at all. Then the LORD said unto Moses, Now shalt thou see what I will do to Pharaoh: for ^awith a strong hand shall he let them go, and with a strong hand ^bshall he drive them out of his land.

And God spake unto Moses, and said ²unto him, I am [†]the LORD: and I appeared unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, by the name of ^cGod Almighty, but by my name ^dJEHOVAH was I not known to them. ^eAnd I have also established my covenant with them, ^fto give them the land of Canaan, the land of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers. And ^gI have also heard the groaning of the children of Israel, whom the Egyptians keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant. Wherefore say unto the children of Israel, ^hI am the LORD, and ⁱI will bring you out from under the burdens of the Egyptians, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will ^kredeem you with a stretched out arm, and with great judgments: and I will ^ltake you to me for a people, and ^mI will be to you a God: and ye shall know that I am the LORD your God, which bringeth you out ⁿfrom under the burdens of the Egyptians. And I will bring you in unto the land, concerning the which I did [†]swear to give it to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob; and I will give it you for an heritage: I am the LORD. And Moses spake so unto the children of Israel: ^obut they hearkened not unto Moses for ^panguish of spirit, and for cruel bondage.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Go in, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel go out of his land. And Moses spake before the LORD, saying, Behold, the children of Israel have ^qnot hearkened unto me; how then shall Pharaoh hear me, ^rwho am of uncircumcised lips? And the LORD spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, and gave them a charge unto the children of Israel, and unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, to bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

And it came to pass on the day ^{n ver. 2.} ^{o ver. 11.} ^{ch. 7. 2.} when 28 the LORD spake unto Moses in the land of Egypt, that the LORD spake unto 29 Moses, saying, ⁿ I am the LORD: ^o speak thou unto Pharaoh king of Egypt all that I say unto thee. And Moses said 30 before the LORD, Behold, ^p I am of uncircumcised lips, and how shall Pharaoh hearken unto me? And the LORD said unto Moses, See, I have made thee ^a a god to Pharaoh: and Aaron thy brother shall be ^b thy prophet. Thou ^c shalt speak all that I command thee: and Aaron thy brother shall speak unto Pharaoh, that he send the children of Israel out of his land. And ^d I will harden Pharaoh's heart, and ^e multiply ^f my signs and ^g my wonders in the land of Egypt. But 4 Pharaoh shall not hearken unto you, ^g that I may lay my hand upon Egypt, and bring forth mine armies, and my people the children of Israel, out of the land of Egypt ^h by great judgments. And the Egyptians ^h shall know that I 5 am the LORD, when I stretch forth mine hand upon Egypt, and bring out the children of Israel from among them. And Moses and Aaron did as the LORD 6 commanded them, so did they. And 7 Moses was ⁱ fourscore years old, and Aaron fourscore and three years old, when they spake unto Pharaoh.

And the LORD spake unto Moses and 8 unto Aaron, saying, When Pharaoh shall 9 speak unto you, saying, ^k Shew a miracle for you: then thou shalt say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and cast ^l it before Pharaoh, and it shall become a ^l serpent. And Moses and Aaron went in unto 10 Pharaoh, and they did so as the LORD had commanded: and Aaron cast down his rod before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it became a serpent. Then 11 Pharaoh also called ^m the wise men and ⁿ the sorcerers: now ^m the magicians of Egypt, they also did in like manner with their enchantments. For they cast down 12 every man his rod, and they became serpents: but Aaron's rod swallowed up their rods. And ^o he hardened Pharaoh's 13 heart, that he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had said.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Pha- 14 raoh's heart ^{is} hardened, he refuseth to let the people go. Get thee unto Pha- 15 raoh in the morning: lo, he goeth out unto the water; and thou shalt stand by the river's brink against he come; and ^p the rod which was turned to a serpent

16 shalt thou take in thine hand. And thou shalt say unto him, ^q The LORD God of the Hebrews hath sent me unto thee, saying, Let my people go, ^r that they may serve me in the wilderness: and behold, ^s hitherto thou wouldest not 17 hear. Thus saith the LORD, In this ^s thou shalt know that I am the LORD: behold, I will smite with the rod that ^{is} in mine hand upon the waters which ^{are} in the river, and they shall be turned ^t to 18 blood. And the fish that ^{is} in the river shall die, and the river shall stink: and the Egyptians shall ^u lothe to drink of 19 the water of the river. And the LORD spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Take thy rod, and ^x stretch out thine hand upon the waters of Egypt, upon their streams, upon their rivers, and upon their ponds, and upon all their ^y pools of water, that they may become blood; and ^z that there may be blood throughout all the land of Egypt, both in ^{vessels of} wood, and in ^{vessels of} stone. And Mo- ses and Aaron did so, as the LORD com- manded; and he ^y lift up the rod, and smote the waters that ^{were} in the river, in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of his servants; and all the ^z waters that ^{were} in the river were turned to blood. 21 And the fish that ^{was} in the river died; and the river stunk, and the Egyptians ^a could not drink of the water of the river; and there was blood throughout 22 all the land of Egypt. ^b And the magicians of Egypt did so with their enchantments: and ^c Pharaoh's heart was hardened, neither did he hearken unto 23 them; ^d as the Lord had said. And Pharaoh turned and went into his house, neither did he set his heart to this also. 24 And all the Egyptians digged round about the river ^{for} water to drink; for they could not drink of the water of the 25 river. And seven days were fulfilled, after ^{that} the LORD had smitten the river.

And the LORD spake unto Moses. Go VIII. unto Pharaoh, and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD, Let my people go, ^a that 2 they may serve me. And if thou ^b refuse to let ^{them} go, behold, I will smite all 3 thy borders with ^c frogs: and the river shall bring forth frogs abundantly, which shall go up and come into thine house, and into ^d thy bedchamber, and upon thy bed, and into the house of thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thine ovens, and into thy ^e kneadingtroughs:

and the frogs shall come up both on thee, and upon thy people, and upon all thy servants. And the LORD spake unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, ^cStretch forth thine hand with thy rod over the streams, over the rivers, and over the ponds, and cause frogs to come up upon the land of Egypt. And Aaron stretched out his hand over the waters of Egypt; and the frogs came up, and covered the land of Egypt. ^fAnd the magicians did so with their enchantments, and brought up frogs upon the land of Egypt. Then Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron, and said, ^hIntreat the LORD, that he may take away the frogs from me, and from my people; and I will let the people go, that they may do sacrifice unto the LORD. And Moses said unto Pharaoh, ⁱGlory over me: ^jwhen shall I intreat for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, ^kto destroy the frogs from thee and thy houses, ^lthat they may remain in the river only? And he said, ^mTo morrow. And he said, ⁿBe it according to thy word: that thou mayest know that ^othere is none like unto the LORD our God. And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, and from thy servants, and from thy people; they shall remain in the river only. And Moses and Aaron went out from Pharaoh: and Moses cried unto the LORD because of the frogs which he had brought against Pharaoh. And the LORD did according to the word of Moses; and the frogs died out of the houses, out of the villages, and out of the fields. And they gathered them together upon heaps: and the land stank. But when Pharaoh saw that there was ^prespite, ^qhe hardened his heart, and hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had said.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Say unto Aaron, Stretch out thy rod, and smite the dust of the land, that it may become lice throughout all the land of Egypt. And they did so; for Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth, and it became lice in man, and in beast; all the dust of the land became lice throughout all the land of Egypt. And the magicians did so with their enchantments to bring forth lice, but they could not: so there were lice upon man, and upon beast. Then the magicians said unto Pharaoh, ^rThis is the finger of God: and Pharaoh's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had said.

And the LORD said unto Moses, ^sRise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh; lo, he cometh forth to the water; and say unto him, Thus saith the LORD, ^tLet my people go, that they may serve me. Else, if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I will send ^uswarms of flies upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of swarms of flies, and also the ground whereon they are. And I will sever in that day the land of Goshen, in which my people dwell, that no swarms of flies shall be there; to the end thou mayest know that I am the LORD in the midst of the earth. And I will put ^va division between my people and thy people: ^wto morrow shall this sign be. And the LORD did so; and there came a grievous swarm of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his servants' houses, and into all the land of Egypt: the land was ^xcorrupted by reason of the swarm of flies. And Pharaoh called for Moses and for Aaron, and said, Go ye, sacrifice to your God in the land. And Moses said, It is not meet so to do; for we shall sacrifice ^ythe abomination of the Egyptians to the LORD our God: lo, shall we sacrifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and will they not ^zstone us? We will go ^{aa}three days' journey into the wilderness, and sacrifice to the LORD our God, as he shall command us. And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, that ye may sacrifice to the LORD your God in the wilderness; only you shall not go very far away: ^{ab}intreat for me. And Moses said, Behold, I go out from thee, and I will intreat the LORD that the swarms of flies may depart from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people, to morrow: but let not Pharaoh deal deceitfully any more in not letting the people go to sacrifice to the LORD. And Moses went out from Pharaoh, and intreated the LORD. And the LORD did according to the word of Moses; and he removed the swarms of flies from Pharaoh, from his servants, and from his people; there remained not one. And Pharaoh ^{ac}hardened his heart at this time also, neither would he let the people go.

Then the LORD said unto Moses, ^{ad}Go in unto Pharaoh, and tell him, Thus

For if thou refuse to let them go, ^c and wilt hold them still, behold, the ^chand of the LORD is upon thy cattle which is in the field, upon the horses, upon the asses, upon the camels, upon the oxen, and upon the sheep: there shall be a very grievous murrain. And ^dthe LORD shall sever between the cattle of Israel and the cattle of Egypt; and there shall nothing die of all that is the children's of Israel. And the LORD appointed a set time, saying, To morrow the LORD shall do this thing in the land. And the LORD did that thing on ^e morrow, and ^eall the cattle of Egypt died: but of the cattle of the children of Israel died not one. And Pharaoh sent, and behold, there was not one of the cattle of the Israelites dead. And ^fthe heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

And the LORD said unto Moses and unto Aaron, Take to you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses sprinkle it towards the heaven in the sight of Pharaoh. And it shall become small dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be ^ga boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast, throughout all the land of Egypt. And they took ashes of the furnace, and stood before Pharaoh; and Moses sprinkled it ^hup toward heaven; and it became a boil breaking forth with blains upon man, and upon beast. And the ⁱmagicians could not stand before Moses because of the boils; for the boil was upon the magicians, and upon all the Egyptians. ^kAnd the LORD hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he hearkened not unto them; as the LORD had spoken unto Moses.

And the LORD said unto Moses, ^lRise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh, and say unto him, Thus saith ^mthe LORD God of the Hebrews, Let my people go, that they may serve me. For I will at this time send all my plagues upon thine heart, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people; ⁿthat thou mayest know that there is none like me in all the earth. For now I will stretch out my hand, that I may smite thee and thy people with pestilence; and thou shalt be cut off from the earth. And in very deed for ^othis cause have I ^lraised thee up, for to shew in thee my power; and that my name may be declared throughout all the earth. As yet exaltest thou thyself against my people, that thou wilt not let them go? Behold, to morrow about this time I will cause it to rain a very grievous hail, such as hath not been in Egypt since the foundation thereof even until now. Send therefore now, and gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the field; for upon every man and beast which shall be found in the field, and shall not be brought home, the hail shall come down upon them, and they shall die. He that feared the word of the LORD amongst the servants of Pharaoh made his servants and his cattle flee into the houses: and he that ¹regarded not the word of the LORD left his servants and his cattle in the field. And the LORD said unto Moses, Stretch forth thine hand toward heaven, that there may be ^phail in all the land of Egypt, upon man, and upon beast, and upon every herb of the field, throughout the land of Egypt. And Moses stretched forth his rod toward heaven: and ^qthe LORD sent thunder and hail, and the fire ran along upon the ground; and the LORD rained hail upon the land of Egypt. So there was hail, and ^rfire mingled with the hail, very grievous, such as there was none like it in all the land of Egypt since it became a nation. And the hail smote throughout all the land of Egypt all that was in the field, both man and beast; and the hail ^ssmote every herb of the field, and ^tbrake every tree of the field. ^uOnly in the land of Goshen, where the children of Israel ^vwere, was there no hail. And Pharaoh sent, and called for Moses and Aaron, and said unto them, ^wI have sinned this time: ^xthe LORD is righteous, and I and my people are wicked. ^yIntreat the LORD (for it is enough) that there be no ^zmore ¹mighty thunderings and hail; and I will let you go, and ye shall stay no longer. And Moses said unto him, As soon as I am gone out of the city, I will ²spread abroad my hands unto the LORD; and the thunder shall cease, neither shall there be any more hail; that thou mayest know how that the ³earth ³is the LORD's. But as for thee and thy servants, I know that ye will not yet fear the LORD God. And the flax and the barley was smitten: ^bfor the barley was in the ear, and the flax was boiled.

But the wheat and the rye were not smit-³²

Moses went out of the city from Pharaoh, and ^espread abroad his hands unto the LORD: and the thunders and hail ceased, and the rain was not poured upon the earth. And when Pharaoh saw ³⁴ that the rain and the hail and the thunders were ceased, he sinned yet more, and hardened his heart, ^dhe and his servants. And ^ethe heart of Pharaoh was ³⁵ hardened, neither would he let the children of Israel go; as the LORD had spoken [†]by Moses.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Go in unto Pharaoh: ^afor I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants, that I might shew these my signs before him: and that ^bthou mayest tell in the ears of thy son, and of thy son's son, what things ^cI have wrought in Egypt, and my signs which I have done amongst them; that ye may know how that I am the LORD. And Moses and Aaron came ³ in unto Pharaoh, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD God of the Hebrews, How long wilt thou refuse to humble thyself before me? let my people go, that they may serve me. Else, if thou refuse to let my people go, behold, to morrow will I bring the ^dlocusts into thy coast: and they shall cover the ⁵ face of the earth, that one cannot be able to see the earth: and ^ethey shall eat the residue of that which is escaped which remaineth unto you from the hail, and shall eat every tree which groweth for you out of the field: and they ^fshall fill thy houses, and the houses of all thy servants, and the houses of all the Egyptians; which neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers' fathers have seen, since the day that they were upon the earth unto this day. And he turned himself, and went out from Pharaoh. And Pharaoh's servants said unto him, How long shall this man be ^ga snare unto us? let the men go, that they may serve the LORD their God: knowest thou not yet that Egypt is destroyed? And Moses and Aaron ⁸ were brought again unto Pharaoh: and he said unto them, Go, serve the LORD your God: but [†]who are they that shall go? And Moses said, We will go with our young and with our old, with our sons and with our daughters, with our flocks and with our herds will we go;
for ^hwe must hold a feast unto the LORD.
And he said unto them, Let the LORD ¹⁰ be so with you, as I will let you go, and your little ones: look to it; for evil is before you. Not so: go now ye that are men, and serve the LORD; for that you did desire. And they were driven out from Pharaoh's presence. And the LORD said unto Moses, ⁱStretch out thine hand over the land of Egypt for the locusts, that they may come up upon the land of Egypt, and ^keat every herb of the land, ⁱ³ even all that the hail hath left. And Moses stretched forth his rod over the land of Egypt, and the LORD brought an east wind upon the land all that day, and all that night; and when it was morning, the east wind brought the locusts. And ¹⁴ the locusts went up over all the land of Egypt, and rested in all the coasts of Egypt: very grievous were they; ^mbefore them there were no such locusts as they, ¹⁵ neither after them shall be such. For they covered the ⁿface of the whole earth, so that the land was darkened;

and they ^odid eat every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees which the hail had left: and there remained not any green thing in the trees, or in the herbs of the field, through all the land of Egypt. Then Pharaoh [†]called for Moses and Aaron in haste; and he said, ^pI have sinned against the LORD your God, and against you. Now therefore forgive,
I pray thee, my sin only this once, and ^qintreat the LORD your God, that he may take away from me this death only.
And he ^rwent out from Pharaoh, and ¹⁹ intreated the LORD. And the LORD turned a mighty strong west wind, which took away the locusts, and [†]cast them ^sinto the Red sea; there remained not one locust in all the coasts of Egypt.
²⁰ But the LORD [†]hardened Pharaoh's heart, so that he would not let the children of Israel go.

And ye shall observe this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sons for ever. And it shall come to pass, when ye be come to the land which the LORD will give you, [¶]according as he hath promised, that ye shall keep this service. And it shall come to pass, [¶]when your children shall say unto you, What mean you by this service? that ye shall say, [¶]It is the sacrifice of the LORD's passover, who passed over the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, when he smote the Egyptians, and delivered our houses. And the people [¶]bowed the head and worshipped. And the children of Israel went away, and did as the LORD had commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

29 And it came to pass, that [¶]at midnight [¶]the LORD smote all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, [¶]from the firstborn of Pharaoh that sat on his throne unto the firstborn of the captive that was in the [¶]dungeon; and all the firstborn of cattle.

30 And Pharaoh rose up in the night, he, and all his servants, and all the Egyptians; and there was a [¶]great cry in Egypt; for there was not a house where [¶]there was not one dead. And he called for Moses and Aaron by night, and said, Rise up, and get you forth from amongst my people, [¶]both you and the children of Israel; and go, serve the LORD, as ye have said. [¶]Also take your flocks and your herds, as ye have said, and be gone; and bless me also. [¶]And the Egyptians were urgent upon the people, that they might send them out of the land in haste; for they said, We be all dead men. And the people took their dough before it was leavened, their [¶]kneadingtroughs being bound up in their clothes upon their shoulders. And the children of Israel did according to the word of Moses; and they [¶]borrowed of the Egyptians jewels of silver, and jewels of gold, and raiment: [¶]and the LORD gave the people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they lent unto them such things as they required. And [¶]they spoiled the Egyptians.

37 And [¶]the children of Israel journeyed from [¶]Rameses to Succoth, about [¶]six hundred thousand on foot that were men, beside children. And [¶]a mixed multitude went up also with them; and flocks, and herds, even very much cattle. 39 And they baked unleavened cakes of the dough which they brought forth out of Egypt, for it was not leavened; because [¶]they were thrust out of Egypt, and could not tarry, neither had they prepared for themselves any victual. Now the sojourning of the children of Israel, who dwelt in Egypt, was [¶]four hundred and thirty years. And it came to pass at the end of the four hundred and thirty years, even the selfsame day it came to pass, that all [¶]the hosts of the LORD went out from the land of Egypt. It is [¶]a night to be much observed unto the LORD for bringing them out from the land of Egypt: this is that night of the LORD [¶]to be observed of all the children of Israel in their generations.

43 And the LORD said unto Moses and Aaron, This is the ordinance of the pass-

not eat thereof. In one house shall it be eaten; thou shalt not carry forth ought of the flesh abroad out of the house; ^uneither shall ye break a bone thereof. ^{*}All the congregation of Israel shall [†]keep it. And [‡]when a his males be circumcised, and then let him come near and keep it; and he shall be as one that is [‡]born in the land: for no uncircumcised person shall eat there-

of. ^aOne law shall be to him that is homeborn, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among you. Thus did all the children of Israel; as the LORD commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

^bAnd it came to pass the selfsame day, that the LORD did bring the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their armies.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^aSanctify unto me all the first-the Jebusites, which he ^fswore unto thy fathers to give thee, a land ^gflowing with milk and honey, ^hthat thou shalt keep this service in this month.

ⁱSeven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, and in the seventh day shall be a feast to the LORD. Unleavened bread shall be eaten seven days; and there shall no leavened bread be seen with thee, neither shall there be leaven seen with thee in all thy quarters. And thou shalt ^kshew thy son in that day, saying,

This is done because of that which the LORD did unto me when I came forth out of Egypt. And it shall be for ^la sign unto thee upon thine hand, and for ^ma memorial ⁿbetween thine eyes, that the LORD's law may be in thy mouth: for

with a strong hand hath the LORD brought thee out of Egypt. ⁿThou shalt therefore keep this ordinance in his season from year to year. And it shall be when the LORD shall bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as he swore unto thee and to thy fathers, and shall give it thee, ^othat thou shalt [†]set apart unto the LORD all that openeth the matrix, and every firstling that cometh of a beast which thou hast; the males shall be the LORD'S. And ^pevery firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a [†]lamb; and if thou wilt not redeem it, then thou shalt break his neck: and all the firstborn of man amongst thy children ^qshalt thou redeem. ^rAnd it shall be when thy son asketh thee [†]in time to come, saying,

What is this? that thou shalt say unto him, ^sBy strength of hand the LORD brought us out from Egypt, from the house of [†]bondage: and it came to pass, when Pharaoh would hardly let us go, that [†]the LORD slew all the firstborn in the land of Egypt, both the firstborn of man, and the firstborn of beast: therefore I sacrifice to the LORD all that openeth the matrix, being males; but ^uall the firstborn of my children I redeem. And it shall be for ^{*}a token upon thine hand, and for frontlets between thine eyes: for by strength of hand the LORD brought us forth out of Egypt.

And it came to pass, when Pharaoh had let the people go, that God led them not through the way of the land of the Philistines, although that was near; for God said, Lest peradventure the people ^vrepent when they see war, and they return to Egypt: but God ^wled the people about, through the way of the wilderness of the Red sea: and the children of Israel went up [†]harnessed out of the land of [†]Egypt. And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him: for he had straitly sworn the children of Israel, saying, ^xGod will surely visit you; and ye shall carry up my bones away hence with you. And ^ythey took their journey from Succoth, and encamped in Etham, in the edge of the wilderness. And ^zthe LORD went before them by day in a pillar

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, ^athat they turn and encamp before Pi-hahiroth, between ^bMigdol and the sea, over against Baal-zephon: before it shall ye encamp by the sea. For Pharaoh will say of the children of Israel, They ^care entangled in the land, the wilderness hath shut them in. And ^dI will harden Pharaoh's heart, that he shall follow after them; and I ^ewill be honoured upon Pharaoh, and upon all his host; ^fthat the Egyptians may know that I am the LORD. And they did so. And it was told the king of Egypt that the people fled: and ^gthe heart of Pharaoh and of his servants was turned against the people, and they said, Why have we done this, that we have let Israel go from serving us? And he made ready his chariot, and took his people with him: and he took ^hsix hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots of Egypt, and captains over every one of them. And the LORD ⁱhardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and he pursued after the children of Israel: and ^kthe children of Israel went out with a high hand. But the ^lEgyptians pursued after them (all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, and his horsemen, and his army) and overtook them encamping by the sea, beside Pi-hahiroth, before Baal-zephon.

And when Pharaoh drew nigh, the children of Israel lift up their eyes, and behold, the Egyptians marched after them; and they were sore afraid: and the children of Israel ^mcried out unto the LORD. ⁿAnd they said unto Moses, ^oBecause there were no graves in Egypt, hast thou taken us away to die in the wilderness? wherefore hast thou dealt thus with us, to carry us forth out of Egypt? ^pIs not this the word that we did tell thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone, that we may serve the Egyptians? For it had been better for us to serve the Egyptians, than that we should die in the wilderness. And Moses said unto the people, ^qFear ye not, stand still, and see the salvation of the LORD, which he will shew to you to day: ^rfor the Egyptians whom ye have seen to day, ye shall see them again no more for ever. ^sThe LORD shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace. And the LORD said unto Moses, Wherefore criest thou unto me? speak unto the children of Israel, that they go forward: but ^tlift thou up thy rod, and stretch out thine hand over the sea, and divide it: and the children of Israel shall go on dry ground through the midst of the sea. And I, behold, I will ^uharden the hearts of the Egyptians, and they shall follow them: and I will ^vget me honour upon Pharaoh, and upon all his host, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen. And the Egyptians ^wshall know that I am the LORD, when I have gotten me honour upon Pharaoh, upon his chariots, and upon his horsemen. And ^xthe angel of God, which went before the camp of Israel, removed and went behind them; and the pillar of the cloud went from before their face, and stood behind them: and it came between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel; and it was a cloud and darkness to them, but it gave light by night to these: so that the one came not near the other all the night.

And Moses ^ystretched out his hand over the sea; and the LORD caused the sea to go back by a strong east wind all that night, and ^zmade the sea dry land, and the waters were ^adivided. And ^bthe children of Israel went into the midst of the sea upon the dry ground: and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. And the Egyptians pursued, and went in after them to the midst of the sea, even all Pharaoh's horses, his chariots, and his horsemen. And it came to pass, that in the morning watch the LORD looked unto the host of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, and troubled the host of the Egyptians, and took off their chariot wheels, ^cthat they drave them heavily: so that the Egyptians said, Let us flee from the face of Israel; for the LORD ^dfighteth for them against the Egyptians. And the LORD said unto Moses, ^eStretch out thine hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots, and upon their horsemen. ^fAnd Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the sea ^greturned to his strength when the morning appeared; and the Egyptians fled against it; ^hand the LORD ⁱoverthrew the Egyptians in the midst of the sea. And ^jthe waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horsemen, and all the host of Pharaoh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as ^kone of them. But ^lthe children of Israel walked upon dry land in the midst of the sea; and the waters were a wall unto them on their right hand, and on their left. Thus the LORD ³⁰ saved Israel that day out of the hand of the Egyptians; and Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore. And Israel saw that great ³¹ work which the LORD did upon the Egyptians: and the people feared the LORD, and ^abelieved the LORD, and his servant Moses.

XV. Then sang ^aMoses and the children of Israel this song unto the LORD, and spake, saying,

I will ^bsing unto the LORD, for he hath triumphed gloriously:

The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

The LORD is my strength and ^csong, ² And he is become my ^dsalvation:

He is my God, and I will prepare him a habitation;

My ^efather's God, and I ^fwill exalt him.

The LORD is a man of ^gwar:

^hThe LORD is his name.

ⁱPharaoh's chariots and his host hath ⁴ he cast into the sea:

His chosen ^kcaptains also are drowned in the Red sea.

The depths ^lhave covered them:

^mThey sank into the bottom as a stone.

ⁿThy right hand, O LORD, is become ⁶ glorious in power:

Thy right hand, O LORD, hath dashed in pieces the enemy.

And in the greatness of thine ^oexcellency thou hast overthrown them that rose up against thee:

Thou sentest forth thy wrath, which consumed them ^pas stubble.

And ^qwith the blast of thy nostrils ⁸ the waters were gathered together, ^rThe floods stood upright as a heap, And the depths were congealed in the heart of the sea.

The enemy said, ^sI will pursue, I will ⁹ overtake.

I will ^tdivide the spoil; my lust shall be satisfied upon them;

I will draw my sword, my hand shall ^udestroy them.

Thou didst blow with thy wind, ^vthe ¹⁰ sea covered them:

They sank as lead in the mighty waters.

^xWho is like unto thee, O LORD, ^{a-11} among the ^lgods?

Who is like thee, glorious in holiness, Fearful in praises, ^ydoing wonders?

Thou stretchedst out ^zthy right hand, ¹²

The earth swallowed them.

¹³ Thou in thy mercy hast ^aled forth the people which ^bthou hast redeemed: Thou hast ^cguided them in thy strength unto thy holy ^dhabitation.

¹⁴ ^eThe people shall hear, and be afraid: ^fSorrow shall take hold on the inhabitants of Palestina.

¹⁵ Then ^gthe dukes of Edom ^hshall be amazed;

The mighty men ⁱof Moab, trembling shall take hold upon them;

All the inhabitants of Canaan shall ^kmelt away.

¹⁶ ^lFear and ^mdread shall fall upon them: By the greatness of thine arm they shall be as still ⁿas a stone;

Till thy people pass over, O LORD, Till the people pass over, which ^othou hast purchased.

¹⁷ Thou shalt bring them in, and ^pplant them in the mountain of thine inheritance.

In the place, O LORD, which thou hast made for thee to dwell in,

In the ^qSanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have established.

¹⁸ ^rThe LORD shall reign for ever and ever.

¹⁹ For the ^shorse of Pharaoh went in with his chariots and with his horsemen into the sea, and ^tthe LORD brought again the waters of the sea upon them; but the children of Israel went on dry ^uland in the midst of the sea. And Miriam ^vthe prophetess, ^wthe sister of Aaron, ^xtook a timbrel in her hand; and all the women went out after her

²¹ ^ywith timbrels and ^zwith dances. And Miriam ^aanswered them, ^bSing ye to the LORD, for he hath triumphed gloriously;

The horse and his rider hath he thrown into the sea.

²³ water. And when they came to Marah, they could not drink of the waters of Marah, for they were bitter: therefore

²⁵ saying, What shall we drink? And he ^fcried unto the LORD; and the LORD

shewed him ^ga tree, ^h*which* when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweet: there he ⁱmade for them a statute and an ordinance, and there ^jhe

²⁶ proved them, and said, ^kIf thou wilt diligently hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, and wilt do that which is right in his sight, and wilt give ear to his commandments, and keep all his statutes, I will put none of these ¹diseases upon thee, which I have brought upon the Egyptians: for I am the LORD ^mthat healeth thee. ⁿAnd they came to Elim, ²⁷where were twelve wells of water, and threescore and ten palm trees: and they encamped there by the waters.

XVI.

And they ^atook their journey from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came unto the wilderness of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai, on the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Egypt. And the whole congregation of the children of Israel ^bmurmured against Moses and Aaron in the wilderness: and the children of Israel said unto them, Would to God we had died by the hand of the LORD in the land of Egypt, ^cwhen we sat by the flesh pots, and when we did eat bread to the full; for ye have brought us forth into this wilderness, to kill this whole assembly with hunger. Then said the LORD unto Moses, Behold, I will rain ^dbread from heaven for you; and the people shall go out and gather ^aa certain rate every day, that I may ^eprove them, whether they will walk in my law, or no. And it shall come to pass, that on the sixth day they shall prepare that which they bring in; and ^fit shall be twice as much as they gather daily. And Moses and Aaron said unto all the children of Israel, ^gAt even, ^hthen ye shall know that the LORD hath brought you out from the land of Egypt: and in the morning, then ye shall see ⁱthe glory of the LORD; for that he heareth your murmurings against the LORD: and ^kwhat are we, that ye murmur against us? And Moses said, This shall be, when the LORD shall give you in the evening flesh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full; for that the LORD heareth your murmurings which ye murmur against him: and what are we? your murmurings are not against us, but ^lagainst the LORD. And Moses ^mspake unto Aaron, Say unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, ⁿCome near before the LORD: for he hath heard your murmurings. And it came to pass, as Aaron ¹⁰spake unto the whole congregation of the children of Israel, that they looked toward the wilderness, and behold, the glory of the LORD ^oappeared in the ¹¹cloud. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^pI have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: speak unto them, saying, ^qAt even ye shall eat flesh, and ^rin the morning ye shall be filled with bread; and ^sye shall know that I am the LORD your God. And it came to pass, that at even ^tthe quails came up, and covered the camp: and in the morning ^uthe dew lay round about the host. And when the dew that lay was gone up, behold, upon the face of the wilderness there lay ^ua small round thing, as small as the hoar frost on the ¹⁵ground. And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, ^vIt is manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, ^xThis is the bread which the LORD hath given you to eat. This is the thing which the LORD hath commanded, Gather of it every man ^yaccording to his eating, ^zan omer ¹⁶for every man, according to the number of your ¹persons; take ye every man for them which are in his tents. And the children of Israel did so, and gathered, some more, some less. And when they did mete it with an omer, ^ahe that gathered much had nothing over, and he that gathered little had no lack; they gathered every man ^baccording to his eating. And Moses said, Let no man leave of it till the morning. Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto Moses; but some of them left of it until the morning, and it bred worms, and stank: and Moses was wroth with them. And they gathered it every morning, every man ^baccording to his eating: and when the sun waxed hot, it melted. And it came to pass, that on the sixth day they gathered twice as much bread, two omers for one man: and all the rulers of the congregation came and told Moses. And he said unto them, This is that which the LORD hath said, To morrow is ^cthe rest of the holy sabbath unto the LORD: bake that which you will bake to day, and seethe that ye will seethe; and that which remaineth over lay up for you to be kept until the morning. And they laid it up till the morning, as Moses bade: and it did not ^dstink, neither was there any worm therein. And Moses said, Eat that to day; for to day is a sabbath unto the LORD: to day ye shall not find it in the field. Six days ye shall gather it; ²⁶ but on the seventh day, which is the sabbath, in it there shall be none. And ²⁷ it came to pass, that there went out some of the people on the seventh day for to gather, and they found none. And the LORD said unto Moses, How ²⁸ long refuse ye to keep my commandments and my laws? See, for that the LORD hath given you the sabbath, there- ²⁹ fore he giveth you on the sixth day the bread of two days; abide ye every man ³⁰ in his place, let no man go out of his place on the seventh day. So the peo- ³¹ ple rested on the seventh day. And the house of Israel called the name thereof ³² Manna: and it was like coriander seed, white; and the taste of it was like wafers made with honey. And Moses said, ³³ This is the thing which the LORD com- mandeth, Fill an omer of it to be kept for your generations; that they may see the bread wherewith I have fed you in the wilderness, when I brought you forth ³⁴ from the land of Egypt. And Moses ³⁵ said unto Aaron, ^bTake a pot, and put an omer full of manna therein, and lay it up before the LORD, to be kept for your generations. As the LORD com- ³⁶ manded Moses, so Aaron laid it up ¹ be- fore the Testimony, to be kept. And the children of Israel did eat manna ² forty years, ³ until they came to a land inhabited; they did eat manna, until they came unto the borders of the land of Canaan. Now an omer is ⁴ the tenth ⁵ part of an ephah.

And ^aall the congregation of the chil- dren of Israel journeyed from the wil- derness of Sin, after their journeys, ac- cording to the commandment of the LORD, and pitched in Rephidim: and there was no water for the people to drink. ^bWherefore the people did chide ² with Moses, and said, Give us water that we may drink. And Moses said unto them, Why chide you with me? where- fore do ye ³ tempt the LORD? And the people thirsted there for water; and the people ⁴ murmured against Moses, and said, Wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst? And Moses ⁵ cried unto the LORD, saying, What shall I do unto this people? they be almost ready to ⁶ stone me. And the LORD said unto ⁷ Moses, Go on before the people, and take with thee of the elders of Israel; and thy rod, wherewith ⁸ thou smotest ⁹ the river, take in thine hand, and go. ¹⁰ Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock in Horeb; and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight ¹¹ of the elders of Israel. And he called the name of the place ¹² Massah, and ¹³ Meribah, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and because they tempted the LORD, saying, Is the LORD amongst us, or not?

¹⁴ Then came Amalek, and fought with ¹⁵ Israel in Rephidim. And Moses said unto ¹⁶ Joshua, Choose us out men, and go out, fight with Amalek: to morrow I will stand on the top of the hill with ¹⁷ the rod of God in mine hand. So Joshua did as Moses had said to him, and fought with Amalek: and Moses, Aaron, and ¹⁸ Hur went up ¹⁹ to the top of the hill. And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hand, that Israel prevailed: and when he let down his hand, Amalek prevailed. ²⁰ But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon; and Aaron and Hur stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going ²¹ down of the sun. And Joshua discom- fited Amalek and his people with the ²² edge of the sword. And the LORD said unto Moses, ²³ Write this for a memorial in a book, and rehearse it in the ears of Joshua: for ²⁴ I will utterly put out the remembrance of Amalek from under ²⁵ heaven. And Moses built an altar, and called the name of it ²⁶ Jehovah-nissi: ²⁷ for he said, ²⁸ Because ²⁹ the LORD hath sworn that the LORD will have war with Amalek from generation to generation.

When ^aJethro, ^bthe priest of Midian, Moses' father in law, heard of all that God had done for Moses, and for Israel his people, and that the LORD had ² brought Israel out of Egypt; then Je- thro, Moses' father in law, took Zippo- rah, Moses' wife, ³ after he had sent her back, and her ⁴ two sons; of which the name of the one was ⁵ Gershom; for he said, I have been an alien in a strange ⁶ land: and the name of the other was ⁷ Eliezer; for the God of my father, ⁸ said he, was mine help, and delivered me from ⁹ the sword of Pharaoh: and Jethro, Mo- ses' father in law, came with his sons and his wife unto Moses into the wilderness, where he encamped at ¹the mount of God: and he said unto Moses, I thy father in law Jethro am come unto thee, and thy wife, and her two sons with her. And Moses ²went out to meet his father in law, and did obeisance, and ³kissed him; and they asked each other of their ⁴welfare: and they came into the tent. And Moses told his father in law all that the LORD had done unto Pharaoh and to the Egyptians for Israel's sake, and all the travail that had ⁵come upon them by the way, and how the LORD delivered them. And Jethro ⁶rejoiced for all the goodness which the LORD had done to Israel, whom he had delivered out of the hand of the Egyptians. And Jethro said, ⁷Blessed be the LORD, who hath delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of Pharaoh, who hath delivered the people from under the hand of the Egyptians. Now I know that the LORD is ⁸greater than all gods: ⁹for in the thing wherein they ¹⁰dealt proudly he was above them. And Jethro, Moses' father in law, took a burnt offering and sacrifices for God: and Aaron came, and all the elders of Israel, to eat bread with Moses' father in law ¹¹before God.

And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses sat to judge the people: and the people stood by Moses from the morning unto the evening. And when Moses' father in law saw all that he did to the people, he said, What is this thing that thou doest to the people? why sittest thou thyself alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning unto even? And Moses said unto his father in law, Because ¹²the people come unto me to inquire of God: when they have ¹³a matter, they come unto me; and I judge between ¹⁴one and another, and I do ¹⁵make them know the statutes of God, and his laws. And Moses' father in law said unto him, The thing that thou doest is not good. ¹⁶Thou wilt surely wear away, both thou, and this people that is with thee: for this thing is too heavy for thee; ¹⁷thou art not able to perform it thyself alone. Harken now unto my voice, I will give thee counsel, and ¹⁸God shall be with thee: be thou ¹⁹for the people to God-ward, that thou mayest ²⁰bring the causes unto God: and thou shalt ²¹teach them ordinances and laws, and shalt shew them ²²the way wherein they must walk, and ²³the work that they must do. Moreover thou shalt provide out of all the people ²⁴able men, such as ²⁵fear God, ²⁶men of truth, ²⁷hating covetousness; and place such over them, ²⁸to be rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens: and let them judge the people ²⁹at all seasons: ³⁰and it shall be, that every great matter they shall bring unto thee, but every small matter they shall judge: so shall it be easier for thyself, and they shall bear ³¹the burden with thee. If thou shalt do this thing, and God command thee so, then thou shalt be ³²able to endure, and all this people shall also go to ³³their place in peace. So Moses hearkened to the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said. And ³⁴Moses chose able men out of all Israel, and made them heads over the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens. And they judged the people ³⁵at all seasons: the hard causes they brought unto Moses, but every small matter they judged themselves. And Moses let his father in law depart; and ³⁶he went his way into his own land.

In the third month, when the children of Israel were gone forth out of the land of Egypt, the same day ³⁷came they into the wilderness of Sinai. For they were departed from ³⁸Rephidim, and were come to the desert of Sinai, and had pitched in the wilderness; and there Israel ³⁹camped before ⁴⁰the mount. And ⁴¹Moses went up unto God, and the LORD ⁴²called unto him out of the mountain, saying, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel; ⁴³I have seen what I did unto the Egyptians, and how ⁴⁴I bare you on eagles' wings, and brought you unto myself. Now ⁴⁵therefore, if ye will obey my voice indeed, and keep my covenant, then ye shall be a ⁴⁶peculiar treasure unto me above all people: for ⁴⁷all the earth is mine: and ye shall be unto me a ⁴⁸kingdom of priests, and a ⁴⁹holy nation. These are the words which thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel. And Moses came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before their faces all these words which the LORD commanded him. And ⁵⁰all the people answered together, and said, All that the LORD hath spoken we will do. And Moses returned the words of the people unto the LORD. And the LORD said unto Moses, Lo, I come unto thee ⁵¹in a thick cloud, ⁵²that

the people may hear when I speak with thee, and ^abelieve thee for ever. And Moses told the words of the people unto the LORD.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Go ¹⁰unto the people, and ^rsanctify them to day and to morrow, and let them ^swash their clothes, and be ready against the ¹¹third day: for the third day the LORD ^twill come down in the sight of all the people upon mount Sinai. And thou ¹²shalt set bounds unto the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves, *that ye go not up into the mount, or touch the border of it: ^uwhosoever toucheth the mount shall be surely put to death: there shall not a ¹³hand touch it, but he shall surely be stoned, or shot through: whether it be beast or man, it shall not live: when the ¹⁴trumpet soundeth long, they shall come up to the mount. And Moses ^vwent down from the mount unto the people, and sanctified the people; and they washed their clothes. And he said unto the people, ²Be ready against the third day: ^acome not at your wives.*

And it came to pass on the third day in ¹⁵the morning, that there were ^bthunders and lightnings, and a ^cthick cloud upon the mount, and the ^dvoice of the trumpet exceeding loud; so that all the people that was in the camp ^etrembled. And ^fMoses brought forth the people ¹⁷out of the camp to meet with God; and they stood at the nether part of the mount. And mount Sinai ^gwas altogether on a smoke, because the LORD descended upon it ^hin fire: ⁱand the smoke thereof ascended as the smoke of a furnace, and ^kthe whole mount quaked greatly. And ^lwhen the voice of the trumpet sounded long, and waxed louder and louder, Moses spake, and ^mGod answered him by a voice. And ²⁰the LORD came down upon mount Sinai, on the top of the mount: and the LORD called Moses ⁿup to the top of the mount; and Moses went up. And the LORD ²¹said unto Moses, Go down, ^tcharge the people, lest they break through unto the LORD ^oto gaze, and many of them perish. And let the priests also, which come ²²near to the LORD, ^osanctify themselves, lest the LORD ^pbreak forth upon them. And Moses said unto the LORD, The people cannot come up to mount Sinai: for thou ^qchargedst us, saying, ⁴Set bounds about the mount, and sanctify ²⁴it. And the LORD said unto him, Away, get thee down, and thou shalt come up, thou, and Aaron with thee: but let not the priests and the people break through to come up unto the LORD, lest he break ²⁵forth upon them. So Moses went down unto the people, and spake unto them.

^aAnd ^bGod spake all these words, ²saying, ^cI am the LORD thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of ^tbondage. ³^dThou shalt have no other gods before me. Thou shalt not make unto thee ^eany ^egraven image, or any likeness of ^fany thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the water under the earth: ⁵thou shalt not bow down thyself to them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am ^ga jealous God, ^hvisiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth ⁱgeneration of them that hate me; and ^jshewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me, and keep my ^kcommandments. ⁷Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain; for the LORD will not hold him guiltless that taketh his name in vain. ⁸Remember the sabbath day, to keep it holy. ⁹^mSix days shalt thou labour, and do all thy work: but the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thy cattle, ⁿnor thy stranger that is within thy gates: for ^oin six days the LORD made heaven and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seventh day: wherefore the LORD blessed the ¹²sabbath day, and hallowed it. ^pHonour thy father and thy mother: ^qthat thy days may be long upon the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee. ^rThou shalt not kill. ¹⁴^sThou shalt not commit adultery. ¹⁵^tThou shalt not steal. ^uThou shalt not bear false witness against thy ¹⁷neighbour. ^vThou shalt not covet ^xthy neighbour's house, ^ythou shalt not covet thy neighbour's wife, nor his manservant, nor his maidservant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor any thing that is thy neighbour's.

Gen. 28. 8. & 38. 10. ^k Now these are the judgments which thou shalt ^aset before them. ^b If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years he shall serve: and in the seventh he shall go out free for nothing. If he came in ^cby himself, he shall go out by himself: if he were married, then his wife shall go out with him. If his master have given him a wife, and she have born him sons or daughters; the wife and her children shall be her master's, and he shall go out by himself. ^d And if the servant ^eshall plainly say, I love my master, my wife, and my children; I will not go out free: then his master shall bring him unto the ^fjudges; he shall also bring him to the door, or unto the door post; and his master shall ^gbore his ear through with an aul; and he shall serve him for ever. ^h And if a man ⁱsell his daughter to be a maid-servant, she shall not go out ^jas the menservants do. If she ^kplease not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall he let her be redeemed: to sell her unto a strange nation he shall have no power, seeing he hath ^ldealt deceitfully with her. And if he have betrothed her unto his son, he shall deal with her after the manner of ^mdaughters. If he take him another ⁿwife; her food, her raiment, ^oand her duty of ^pmarriage, shall he not diminish. And if he do not these three unto her, then shall she go out free without money.

^q He that smiteth a man, so that he die, shall be surely put to death. And ^rif a man lie not in wait, but God deliver ^shim into his hand; then ^tI will appoint thee a place whither he shall flee. But if a man come ^upresumptuously upon his neighbour, to slay him with guile; ^vthou shalt take him from mine altar, ^wthat he may die. And he that smiteth his father, or his mother, shall be surely ^xput to death. And ^yhe that stealeth a man, and ^zselleth him, or if he be ^{aa}found in his hand, he shall surely be ^{ab}put to death. And ^{ac}he that ^{ad}curseth his father, or his mother, shall ^{ae}surely be put to death. And if men strive together, and one smite ^{af}another with a stone, or with ^{ag}his fist, and he die ^{ah}not, but keepeth ^{ai}his bed: if he rise again, and walk abroad ^{aj}upon his staff, then shall he that smote ^{ak}him be quit: only he shall pay ^{al}for ^{am}the loss of his time, and shall cause ^{an}him to be thoroughly ^{ao}healed. And if a man smite his servant, or his maid, with a rod, and he die under his hand; he shall be surely ^{ap}punished. Notwithstanding, if he continue a day or ^{aq}two, he shall not be ^{ar}punished: for ^{as}he is his money. If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart ^{at}from her, and yet no mischief follow: he shall be surely ^{au}punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him; and he shall ^{av}pay as ^{aw}the judges determine. And if ^{ax}any mischief follow, then thou shalt give ^{ay}life for life, ^{az}eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot, ^{ba}burning for burning, ^{bb}wound for wound, ^{bc}stripe for stripe. And if a man smite the eye of his servant, or the eye of his maid, that it perish; he shall let him go ^{bd}free for his eye's sake. And if he smite out his manservant's tooth, or his maid-servant's tooth; he shall let him go free for his tooth's sake.

^{be} If an ox gore a man or a woman, that they die; then ^{bf}the ox shall be surely stoned, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox ^{bg}shall be quit.

But if the ox were wont to push with his horn in time past, and it hath been testified to his owner, and he hath not kept him in, but that he hath killed a man or a woman; the ox shall be stoned, and his owner also shall be put to death.

If there be laid on him ^ca sum of money, then he shall give for the ransom of his life whatsoever is laid upon him. Whether he have gored a son, or have gored a daughter, according to this judgment shall it be done unto him. If the ox shall push a manservant or a maid-servant; he shall give unto their master ^dthirty shekels of silver, and the ^eox shall be stoned. And if a man shall open a pit, or if a man shall dig a pit, and not cover it, and an ox or an ass fall therein; the owner of the pit shall make it good, and give money unto the owner of them; and the dead beast shall be his. And if one man's ox hurt another's, that he die; then they shall sell the live ox, and divide the money of it; and the dead ox also they shall divide. Or if it be known that the ox hath used to push in time past, and his owner hath not kept him in; he shall surely pay ox for ox; and the dead shall be his own.

If a man shall steal an ox, or a ¹sheep, and kill it, or sell it; he shall restore five oxen for an ox, and ²four sheep for a sheep. If a thief be found ^bbreaking up, and be smitten that he die, there shall ^cno blood be shed for him. If the sun be risen upon him, there shall be blood shed for him; for he should make full restitution; if he have nothing, then he shall be ^dsold for his theft. If the theft be certainly ^efound in his hand alive, whether it be ox, or ass, or sheep; he shall ^frestore double.

If a man shall cause a field or vineyard to be eaten, and shall put in his beast, and shall feed in another man's field; of the best of his own field, and of the best of his own vineyard, shall he make restitution. If fire break out, and catch in thorns, so that the stacks of corn, or the standing corn, or the field, be consumed therewith; he that kindled the fire shall surely make restitution. If a man shall deliver unto his neighbour money or stuff to keep, and it be stolen out of the man's house; ^gif the thief be found, let him pay double. If the thief be not found, then the master of the house shall be brought unto the ^hjudges, to see whether he have put his hand unto his neighbour's goods. For all manner of trespass, whether it be for ox, for ass, for sheep, for raiment, or for any manner of lost thing, which another chal-length to be his, the cause of both parties shall come before ⁱthe judges; ⁱ ¹ver. 8. and whom ⁱthe judges shall condemn, he shall pay double unto his neighbour.

If a man deliver unto his neighbour an ass, or an ox, or a sheep, or any beast, to keep; and it die, or be hurt, or driven away, no man seeing it: then shall an ^koath of the LORD be between them both, that he hath not put his hand unto his neighbour's goods; and the owner of it shall accept thereof, and he shall not make it good. And ^lif it be stolen from him, he shall make restitution unto the owner thereof. If it be ¹torn in pieces, then let him bring it for witness, and he shall not make good that which was torn. And if a man borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be hurt, or die, the owner thereof being not with it, he shall surely make it good. ¹⁵But if the owner thereof be with it, he shall not make it good: if it be a hired thing, it came for his hire.

And ^mif a man entice a maid that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely endow her to be his wife. If her father utterly refuse to give her unto him, he shall ⁿpay money according to the ^odowry of virgins. ^oThou shalt not suffer a witch to live. ^pWhosoever lieth with a beast shall surely be put to death. ^qHe that sacrificeth unto any god, save unto the LORD only, he shall be utterly destroyed.

^rThou shalt neither vex a stranger, nor oppress him: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt. ^sYe shall not afflict any widow, or fatherless child. If thou afflict them in any wise, and they ^tcry at all unto me, I will surely ^uhear their cry; and my ^vwrath shall wax hot, and I will kill you with the sword; and ^wyour wives shall be widows, and your children fatherless.

²If thou lend money to any of my people that is poor by thee, thou shalt not be to him as an usurer, neither shalt thou lay upon him usury. ³If thou at all take thy neighbour's raiment to pledge, thou shalt deliver it unto him by that the sun goeth down: for that is his covering only, it is his raiment for his skin: wherein shall he sleep? and it shall come to pass, when he ^hcrieth unto me, that I will hear; for I am gracious.

Thou shalt not ^drevile the ^egods, nor ²⁸curse the ruler of thy people. Thou ²⁹shalt not delay to offer the first of ^fthy ripe fruits, and of thy ^gliquors: ^hthe firstborn of thy sons shalt thou give unto me. ⁱLikewise shalt thou do with ³⁰thine oxen, and with thy sheep: ^jseven days it shall be with his dam; on the eighth day thou shalt give it me. And ³¹ye shall be ^kholy men unto me: ^lneither shall ye eat any flesh that is torn of beasts in the field; ye shall cast it to the dogs.

Thou shalt not ^mraise a false report: put not thine hand with the wicked to be an ⁿunrighteous witness. ^oThou shalt not follow a multitude to do evil; neither shalt thou ^pspeak in a cause to decline after many to wrest ^qjudgment: neither shalt thou ^rcountenance a poor ³man in his cause. ^sIf thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt surely bring it back to him again. If thou see the ass of him that hateth thee lying under his burden, ^tand wouldst forbear to help him, thou shalt surely help with him. ^uThou shalt not wrest ⁶the judgment of thy poor in his cause. ^vKeep thee far from a false matter; ⁷and the innocent and righteous slay thou not: for ^wI will not justify the wicked. And ^xthou shalt take no gift: ⁸for the gift blindeth ^ythe wise, and perverteth the words of the righteous. Also ⁹thou shalt not oppress a stranger: for ye know the ^zheart of a stranger, seeing ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

And ^{aa}six years thou shalt sow thy ¹⁰land, and shalt gather in the fruits thereof: but the seventh ^{ab}year thou shalt let it rest and lie still; that the poor of thy people may eat: and what they leave the beasts of the field shall eat. In like manner thou shalt deal with thy vineyard, and with thy ^{ac}oliveyard. ^{ad}Six ¹²days thou shalt do thy work, and on the seventh day thou shalt rest: that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and the son of thy handmaid, and the stranger, may be refreshed. And in all ^{ae}things that I have said unto you be ^{af}circumspect: and ^{ag}make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.

Thou shalt not ^{ah}bow down to their gods, nor serve them, ^{ai}nor do after their works: ^{aj}but thou shalt utterly overthrow them, and quite break down ^{ak}their images. And ye shall ^{al}serve the LORD your God, and ^{am}he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and ^{an}I will take sickness away from the midst of thee.

There shall nothing cast their young, nor be barren, in thy land: the number of thy days I will ^{ao}fulfil. I will send ^{ap}my fear before thee, and will ^{aq}destroy all the people to whom thou shalt come, and I will make all thine enemies turn ^{ar}their backs unto thee. Three ^{av}times thou shalt keep a feast unto me in the year. ^{aw}Thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread: thou shalt eat unleavened bread seven days, as I commanded thee, in the time appointed of the month Abib; for in it thou camest out from Egypt: ^{ax}and none shall appear before me empty: ^{ay}and the feast of harvest, the firstfruits of thy labours, which thou hast sown in the field: and ^{az}the feast of ingathering, which is in the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labours out of the field.

Three times in the year all thy males shall appear before the LORD God.

Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leavened bread; neither shall the fat of my ^{ba}sacrifice remain until the morning. ^{bb}The first of the firstfruits of thy land thou shalt bring into the house of the LORD thy God. ^{bc}Thou shalt not seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

They shall not dwell in thy land, lest³⁴ they make thee sin against me: for if thou serve their gods, ^ait will surely be a snare unto thee.

XXIV.

And he said unto Moses, Come up unto the LORD, thou, and Aaron, ^aNadab, and Abihu, ^band seventy of the elders of Israel; and worship ye afar off. And Moses ^calone shall come near the LORD: but they shall not come nigh; neither shall the people go up with him. And Moses came and told the people ³all the words of the LORD, and all the judgments: and all the people answered ^dwith one voice, and said, ^dAll the words which the LORD hath said will we do. And Moses ^ewrote all the words of the LORD, and rose up early in the morning, and builded an altar under the hill, and twelve ^fpillars, according to the twelve tribes of Israel. And he sent young ⁵men of the children of Israel, which offered burnt offerings, and sacrificed ^gpeace offerings of oxen unto the LORD. And Moses ^htook half of the blood, and put ⁱit in basons; and half of the blood he sprinkled on the altar. And he ⁷took the book of the covenant, and read in the audience of the people: and they said, ^jAll that the LORD hath said will we do, and be obedient. ^kAnd Mo-⁸ses took the blood, and sprinkled ⁱit on the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which the LORD hath made with you concerning all these words. Then ⁹went up Moses, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and seventy of the elders of Israel: and they ¹⁰saw the God of Israel: and ^{there} was under his feet as it were a paved work of a ^lsapphire stone, and as it were the body of heaven in ^{his} clearness. And upon ^mthe nobles of the children of Israel he ⁿlaid not his hand: also they saw God, and did ^{eat} and drink. And the LORD said unto Moses, ¹²

⁵Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee ¹tables of stone, and a law, and commandments which I have written; that thou mayest ¹³teach them. And Moses rose up, and ¹⁴his minister Joshua: and Moses ^{went} up into the mount of God. And he said unto the elders, Tarry ye here for us, until we come again unto you: and behold, Aaron and ¹⁵Hur ^{are} with you: if any man ^yhave any matters to do, let ¹⁵him come unto them. And Moses went up into the mount, and ¹⁶a cloud covered the mount. And ^athe glory of the LORD abode upon mount Sinai, and the cloud covered it six days: and the seventh day he called unto Moses out of the ¹⁷midst of the cloud. And the sight of the glory of the LORD ^{was} like ^bdevouring fire on the top of the mount in the eyes of the children of Israel. And Moses went into the midst of the cloud, and gat him up into the mount: and ^cMoses was in the mount forty days and forty nights.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, ²saying, ^aSpeak unto the children of Israel, that they ¹bring me an ¹offering: ^bof every man that giveth it willingly with his heart ye shall take my ¹offer-
ing. And this ^{is} the ¹offering which ye shall take of them; gold, and silver, and brass, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, and ¹fine linen, and goats' ⁵hair, and rams' skins dyed red, and ⁶badgers' skins, and shittim wood, ^coil for the light, ^dspices for anointing oil, and for ^esweet incense, ^fonyx stones, and stones to be set in the ^gephod, and in the ^hbreastplate. And let them make me a ¹sanctuary; that ⁱI may dwell amongst them. ^jAccording to all that I shew thee, ^{after} the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all the instruments thereof, even so shall ye make ^{it}.
¹⁰ ^kAnd they shall make an ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half ^{shall be} the length thereof, and a cubit and a half the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof. And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, ¹within and without shalt thou overlay it, and shalt make upon it a ^mcrown of gold round about. And thou shalt cast four rings of gold for it, and put ^{them} in the four ⁿcorners thereof; and two rings ^{shall be} in the one side of it, and two rings in ¹³the other side of it. And thou shalt make staves of shittim wood, and over-

^eAnd thou shalt make a candlestick³¹ of pure gold: of beaten work shall the candlestick be made: his shaft, and his branches, his bowls, his knops, and his³² flowers, shall be of the same. And six branches shall come out of the sides of it; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side:³³ three bowls made like unto almonds, with a knop and a flower in one branch; and three bowls made like almonds in the other branch, with a knop and a flower: so in the six branches that come out of the candlestick. hair to be a covering upon the tabernacle: eleven curtains shalt thou make. The length of one curtain shall be thirty cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: and the eleven curtains shall be all of one measure. And thou shalt couple five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by themselves, and shalt double the sixth curtain in the forefront of the tabernacle. And thou shalt make fifty loops on the edge of the one curtain that is outmost in the coupling, and fifty loops in the edge of the curtain which coupleth the second. And thou shalt make fifty taches of brass, and put the taches into the loops, and couple the tent together, that it may be one. And the remnant that remaineth of the curtains of the tent, the half curtain that remaineth, shall hang over the backside of the tabernacle. And a cubit on the one side, and a cubit on the other side of that which remaineth in the length of the curtains of the tent, it shall hang over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and on that side, to cover it. And thou shalt make a covering for the tent of rams' skins dyed red, and a covering above of badgers' skins.

And thou shalt make boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood standing up. Ten cubits shall be the length of a board, and a cubit and a half shall be the breadth of one board. Two tenons shall there be in one board, set in order one against another: thus shalt thou make for all the boards of the tabernacle. And thou shalt make the boards for the tabernacle, twenty boards on the south side southward. And thou shalt make forty sockets of silver under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons. And for the second side of the tabernacle on the north side there shall be twenty boards: and their forty sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board. And for the sides of the tabernacle westward thou shalt make six boards. And two boards shalt thou make for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides. And they shall be coupled together beneath, and they shall be coupled together above the head of it unto one ring: thus shall it be for them both; they shall be for the two corners. And they shall be eight boards, and their sockets of silver, sixteen sockets; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board. And thou shalt make bars of shittim wood; five for the boards of one side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the side of the tabernacle, for the two sides westward. And the middle bar in the midst of the boards shall reach from end to end. And thou shalt overlay the boards with gold, and make their rings of gold for places for the bars: and thou shalt overlay the bars with gold. And thou shalt rear up the tabernacle according to the fashion thereof which was shewed thee in the mount.

And thou shalt make a vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen of cunning work: with cherubims shall it be made: and thou shalt hang it upon four pillars of shittim wood overlaid with gold: their hooks shall be of gold, upon the four sockets of silver. And thou shalt hang up the vail under the taches, that thou mayest bring in thither within the vail the ark of the Testimony: and the vail shall divide unto you between the holy place and the most holy. And thou shalt put the mercy seat upon the ark of the Testimony in the most holy place. And thou shalt set the table without the vail, and the candlestick over against the table on the side of the tabernacle toward the south: and thou shalt put the table on the north side. And thou shalt make a hanging for the door of the tent, of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, wrought with needlework. And thou shalt make for the hanging five pillars of shittim wood, and overlay them with gold, and their hooks shall be of gold: and thou shalt cast five sockets of brass for them.

And thou shalt make an altar of shittim wood, five cubits long, and five cubits broad; the altar shall be foursquare: and the height thereof shall be three cubits. And thou shalt make the horns of it upon the four corners thereof: his horns shall be of the same: and thou shalt overlay it with brass. And ^hthou shalt command the children of Israel, that they bring thee pure oil olive beaten for the light, to cause the lamp [†]to burn always. In the tabernacle of the congregation ⁱwithout the vail, which is before the Testimony, ^kAaron and his sons shall order it from evening to morning before the LORD: ^lit shall be a statute for ever unto their generations on the behalf of the children of Israel.

And take thou unto thee ^aAaron thy brother, and his sons with him, from among the children of Israel, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office, ^beven Aaron, ^bNadab and Abihu, ²Eleazar and Ithamar, Aaron's sons. And ^cthou shalt make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, for glory and for beauty. And thou shalt speak unto all that are ^dwise hearted, ^ewhom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aaron's garments to consecrate him, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office. And these are the garments which they shall make; ^fa breastplate, and ^gan ephod, and ^ha robe, and ⁱa broidered coat, ⁱa mitre, and ⁱa girdle: and they shall make holy garments for Aaron thy brother, and his sons, that he may minister unto me in the priest's office. And they shall take gold, and ^kblue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen.

⁶ And they shall make the ephod of gold, of ^kblue, and of purple, of scarlet, and fine twined linen, with ^mcunning work. It shall have the two shoulder-pieces thereof joined at the two edges thereof; and so it shall be joined together. And the [†]curious girdle of the ephod, which is upon it, shall be of the same, according to the work thereof; ^{even} of gold, of ^kblue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen. And thou shalt take two ⁿonyx stones, and grave on them the names of the children of Israel: six of their names on one stone, and the other six names of the rest on the other stone, according to their birth. ^oWith the work of an engraver in stone, like the engravings of a signet, shalt thou engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Israel: thou shalt make them to be set in ouches of gold. And thou shalt put the two stones upon the shoulders of the ephod for stones of memorial unto the children of Israel: and ^pAaron shall bear their names before the LORD upon his two shoulders ^qfor a memorial.

And thou shalt make ^aan altar to burn ^{XXX.} incense upon: of shittim wood shalt thou ^bmake it. A cubit shall be the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof; foursquare shall it be: and two cubits shall be the height thereof: the horns ³ thereof shall be ^bof the same. And thou shalt overlay it with pure gold, the ^{top} thereof, and the ^tsides thereof round about, and the horns thereof; and thou shalt make unto it a ^ccrown of gold round ⁴about. And two golden rings shalt thou make to it under the crown of it, by the two ^{corners} thereof, upon the two sides of it shalt thou make it; and they shall be for ^dplaces for the staves to bear it ⁵withal. And thou shalt make the staves of shittim wood, and overlay them with ⁶gold. And thou shalt put it before the vail that is by the ark of the Testimony, before the ^emercy seat that is over the Testimony, where I will meet with thee. ⁷And Aaron shall burn thereon ^tsweet incense every morning: when ^fhe dresseth the lamps, he shall burn incense upon it. ⁸And when Aaron ^{lighteth} the lamps ^{at} even, he shall burn incense upon it, a perpetual incense before the LORD throughout your generations. Ye shall offer no ^gstrange incense thereon, nor burnt sacrifice, nor meat offering; neither shall ye ¹⁰pour drink offering thereon. And ^hAaron shall make an atonement upon the horns of it once in a year with the blood ⁱof the sin offering of atonements: once in the year shall he make atonement upon it throughout your generations: it is most holy unto the LORD.

¹¹ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^kWhen thou takest the sum of the children of Israel after ^ltheir number, then shall they give every man ^aa ransom for his soul unto the LORD, when ^mthou numberest them; that there be no ⁿplague amongst them, when ^{thou} numberest them. This they shall give, every one that passeth among them that are numbered, half a shekel after the shekel of the sanctuary: (^oa shekel is twenty gerahs;) ^oa half shekel shall be the offering of the LORD. Every one that passeth among them that are numbered, from twenty years old and above, shall give an ¹⁵offering unto the LORD. The rich shall not ^pgive more, and the poor shall not ^qgive less than half a shekel, when ^rthey give an offering unto the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls. And thou shalt take the atonement money of the children of Israel, and shalt appoint it for the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; that it may be a memorial unto the children of Israel before the LORD, to make an atonement for your souls.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Thou shalt also make a laver of brass, and his foot also of brass, to wash withal: and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of the congregation and the altar, and thou shalt put water therein. For Aaron and his sons shall wash their hands and their feet thereat: when they go into the tabernacle of the congregation, they shall wash with water, that they die not; or when they come near to the altar to minister, to burn offering made by fire unto the LORD: so they shall wash their hands and their feet, that they die not: and it shall be a statute for ever to them, even to him and to his seed throughout their generations.

Moreover the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Take thou also unto thee principal spices, of pure myrrh five hundred shekels, and of sweet cinnamon half so much, even two hundred and fifty shekels, and of sweet calamus two hundred and fifty shekels, and of cassia five hundred shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, and of oil olive a hin: and thou shalt make it an oil of holy ointment, an ointment compound after the art of the apothecary: it shall be a holy anointing oil. And thou shalt anoint the tabernacle of the congregation therewith, and the ark of the Testimony, and the table and all his vessels, and the candlestick and his vessels, and the altar of incense, and the altar of burnt offering with all his vessels, and the laver and his foot. And thou shalt sanctify them, that they may be most holy: whatsoever toucheth them shall be holy. And thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and consecrate them, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office. And thou shalt speak unto the children of Israel, saying, This shall be a holy anointing oil unto me throughout your generations. Upon man's flesh shall it not be poured, neither shall ye make any other like it, after the composition of it: it is holy, and it shall be holy unto you. Whosoever compoundeth any like it, or whosoever

putteth any of it upon a stranger, shall even be cut off from his people.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Take unto thee sweet spices, stacte, and onycha, and galbanum; these sweet spices with pure frankincense: of each shall there be a like weight: and thou shalt make it a perfume, a confection after the art of the apothecary, tempered together, pure and holy: and thou shalt beat some of it very small, and put of it before the Testimony in the tabernacle of the congregation, where I will meet with thee: it shall be unto you most holy. And as for the perfume which thou shalt make, you shall not make to yourselves according to the composition thereof: it shall be unto thee holy for the LORD. Whosoever shall make like unto that, to smell thereto, shall even be cut off from his people.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, See, I have called by name Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah: and I have filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, and in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship, to devise cunning works, to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in cutting of stones, to set them, and in carving of timber, to work in all manner of workmanship. And I, behold, I have given with him Aholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan: and in the hearts of all that are wise hearted I have put wisdom, that they may make all that I have commanded thee; the tabernacle of the congregation, and the ark of the Testimony, and the mercy seat that is thereupon, and all the furniture of the tabernacle, and the table and his furniture, and the pure candlestick with all his furniture, and the altar of incense, and the altar of burnt offering with all his furniture, and the laver and his foot, and the clothes of service, and the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and the garments of his sons, to minister in the priest's office, and the anointing oil, and sweet incense for the holy place: according to all that I have commanded thee shall they do.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak thou also unto the children of Israel, saying, Verily my sabbaths ye shall keep: for it is a sign between me and you throughout your generations; that ye may know that I am

And when the people saw that Moses ^adelayed to come down out of the mount, the people gathered themselves together unto Aaron, and said unto him, ^bUp, make us gods, which shall ^cgo before us; for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And Aaron said unto ² them, Break off the ^dgolden earrings, which are in the ears of your wives, of your sons, and of your daughters, and bring them unto me. And all the people ³ brake off the golden earrings which were in their ears, and brought them unto Aaron. ^eAnd he received them at their hand, and fashioned it with a graving tool, after he had made it a ^emolten calf: and they said, These be thy gods, O Israel, which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt. And when Aaron saw ⁵ it, he built an altar before it; and Aaron made ^fproclamation, and said, To morrow is a feast to the LORD. And they ⁶ rose up early on the morrow, and offered burnt offerings, and brought peace offerings; and the ^gpeople sat down to eat and to drink, and rose up to ^hplay.

And the LORD said unto Moses, ⁱGo, ⁷ get thee down; for thy people, which thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, ⁸ have corrupted themselves: they have turned ⁸ aside quickly out of the way which ^kI commanded them: they have made them a molten calf, and have worshipped it, and have sacrificed thereunto, and said,

And the LORD said unto Moses, ⁹I have seen this people, and behold, it is a stiff-necked people: now therefore ¹⁰let me alone, that ¹⁰my wrath may wax hot against them, and that I may consume them: and ¹¹I will make of thee a great nation. ¹¹And Moses besought ¹¹the LORD his God, and said, LORD, why doth thy wrath wax hot against thy people, which thou hast brought forth out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with ¹²a mighty hand? ¹²Wherefore should the Egyptians speak, and say, For mischief did he bring them out, to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and ¹³repent of this evil against thy people. Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, thy servants, to whom thou ¹⁴swarest by thine own self, and saidst unto them, ¹⁴I will multiply your seed as the stars of heaven, and all this land that I have spoken of will I give unto your seed, and they shall inherit ¹⁵it for ever. And the LORD ¹⁵repented of the evil which he thought to do unto his people.

And ¹⁵Moses turned, and went down from the mount, and the two tables of the Testimony were in his hand: the tables were written on both their sides; on the one side and on the other ¹⁶were they written. And the ¹⁶tables were the work of God, and the writing was the writing of God, graven upon the ¹⁷tables. And when ¹⁷Joshua heard the noise of the people as they shouted, he said unto Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp. And he said, ¹⁸It is not the voice of them that ¹⁸shout for mastery, neither is it the voice of them that ¹⁹cry for ¹⁹being overcome: but the noise of them that ²⁰sing do I hear. And it came to pass, as soon as he came nigh unto the camp, that ²¹he saw the calf, and the dancing: and Moses' anger waxed hot, and he cast the tables out of his hands, and brake them beneath the ²²mount. And he took the calf which they had made, and burnt it in the fire, and ground it to powder, and strawed it upon the water, and made the children of Israel drink of it. And Moses said unto Aaron, ²³What did this people unto thee, that thou hast brought so great a ²⁴sin upon them? And Aaron said, Let not the anger of my lord wax hot: ²⁵thou knowest the people, that they are set on mischief. For they said unto me, ^eMake us gods, which shall go before us: for as for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him. And I said unto them, ^fWhosoever hath any gold, let them break it off. So they gave it me: then I cast it into the fire, and there came out this calf. And when Moses saw that the people were naked; (for Aaron ^ghad made them naked unto their shame amongst ^htheir enemies;) then Moses stood in the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on the LORD's side? let him come unto me. And all the sons of Levi gathered themselves together unto him. And he said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Put every man his sword by his side, and go in and out from gate to gate throughout the camp, and ⁱslay every man his brother, and every man his companion, and every man his neighbour. And the children of Levi did according to the word of Moses: and there fell of the people that day about three thousand men. ^jFor Moses had said, ^kConsecrate yourselves to day to the LORD, even every man upon his son, and upon his brother; that he may bestow upon you a blessing this day.

And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses said unto the people, ^kYe have sinned a great sin: and now I will go up unto the LORD; ^lperadventure I shall ^mmake an atonement for your sin. And Moses ⁿreturned unto the LORD, and said, Oh, this people have sinned a great sin, and have ^omade them gods of gold. Yet now, if thou wilt forgive their sin^p; and if not, ^qblot me, I pray thee, ^rout of thy book which thou hast written. And the LORD said unto Moses, ^sWhosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book. Therefore now go, lead the people unto the place of which I have spoken unto thee: ^tbehold, mine Angel shall go before thee: nevertheless in the day when I visit, I will visit their sin upon them. And the LORD plagued the people, because they made the calf, which Aaron made.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Depart, and go up hence, thou ^aand the people which thou hast brought up out of the land of Egypt, unto the land which I swear unto Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, saying, ^bUnto thy seed will I give it: and I will send ^can angel before thee; ^dand I will drive out the Canaanite, the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite: ^eunto a land flowing with milk and honey: ^ffor I will not go up in the midst of thee; for thou art a ^gstiffnecked people: lest ^hI consume thee in the way. And when the people heard these evil tidings, ⁱthey mourned: ^kand no man did put on him his ornaments. ^lFor the LORD had said unto Moses, Say unto the children of Israel, ^mYe are a stiffnecked people: I will come up into the midst of thee in ⁿa moment, and ^oconsume thee: therefore now put off thy ornaments from thee, that I may know what to do unto thee. And the children of Israel stript themselves of their ornaments by the mount Horeb.

And Moses took the tabernacle, and pitched it without the camp, afar off from the camp, ^oand called it the Tabernacle of the Congregation. And it came to pass, that every one which ^psought the LORD went out unto the tabernacle of the Congregation, which ^qwas without the camp. And it came to pass, when Moses went out unto the tabernacle, that all the people rose up, and stood every man ^rat his tent door, and looked after Moses, until he was gone into the tabernacle. And it came to pass, as Moses entered into the tabernacle, the ^rcloudy pillar descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, ^sand the LORD ^ttalked with Moses. And all the people saw the cloudy pillar stand at the tabernacle door: and all the people rose up and ^uworshipped, every man in his tent door. And ^vthe LORD spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp: but ^whis servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle.

And Moses said unto the LORD, See, ^xthou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, ^yI know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight. Now therefore, I pray thee, ^zif I have found grace in thy sight, ^ashew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is ^bthy people. ^o ver. 1—3. said unto him, ^eIf thy presence go not with me, carry us not up hence. For ¹⁶ wherein shall it be known here that I and thy people have found grace in thy sight? ^f*is it* not in that thou goest with us? so ^gshall we be separated, I and thy people, from all the people that are upon the face of the earth. And the LORD said unto Moses, I will do this thing also that thou hast spoken: for ^hthou hast found grace in my sight, and ⁱI know thee by name. And he said, I ¹⁸ beseech thee, shew me ^kthy glory. And ¹⁹ he said, I will make all ^lmy goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the name of the LORD before thee; ^mand will be ⁿgracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy. And ²⁰ he said, Thou canst not see my face: for ^othere shall no man see me, and live. And the LORD said, Behold, there is a ²¹ place by me, and thou shalt stand upon a rock: and it shall come to pass, while ²² my glory passeth by, that I will put thee ^pin a cleft of the rock, and will ^qcover thee with my hand while I pass by: and I will take away mine hand, and ²³ thou shalt see my back parts: but my face shall ^rnot be seen.

XXXIV.

And the LORD said unto Moses, ^aHew thee two tables of stone like unto the first: ^band I will write upon these tables the words that were in the first tables, ^cwhich thou brakest. And be ² ready in the morning, and come up in the morning unto mount Sinai, and present thyself there to me ^din the top of the mount. And no man shall ^ecome up with thee, neither let any man be seen throughout all the mount; neither let the flocks nor herds feed before that mount. And he hewed two tables of ⁴ stone like unto the first; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and went up unto mount Sinai, as the LORD had commanded him, and took in his hand the two tables of stone. And the LORD ⁵ descended in the cloud, and stood with him there, and ^fproclaimed the name of the LORD. And the LORD passed by ⁶ before him, and proclaimed, ^gThe LORD, The LORD God, merciful and ^hgracious, longsuffering, and abundant in ⁱgoodness and ^jtruth, ^kkeeping mercy for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin, and ^lthat will by no means clear the guilty: visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and upon

And he said, If now I have found grace in thy sight, O Lord, ^olet my Lord, I pray thee, go amongst us; for ^pit is a stiffnecked people; and pardon our iniquity and our sin, and take us for ^qthine inheritance. And he said, Behold, ^rI make a covenant: before all thy people I will ^sdo marvels, such as have not been done in all the earth, nor in any nation: and all the people among which thou ^tart shall see the work of the LORD: for it ^uis a terrible thing that I will do with thee. ¹¹ Observe thou that which I command thee this day: behold, ^vI drive out before thee the Amorite, and the Canaanite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and the Hivite, and the Jebusite. ^xTake heed to thyself, lest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land whither thou goest, lest it be for ^ya snare in the midst of thee: but ye shall ^zdestroy their altars, break their ^{aa}images, and ^{ab}cut down their groves: for thou shalt worship ^bno other god: for the LORD, whose ^cname is Jealous, is a ¹⁵ jealous God: ^dlest thou make a covenant with the inhabitants of the land, and they ^ego a whoring after their gods, and do sacrifice unto their gods, and ^fone ^gcall thee, and thou ^heat of his sacrifice; and thou take of ⁱtheir daughters unto thy sons, and their daughters ^kgo a whoring after their gods, and make thy sons go a whoring after their gods. ¹⁷ Thou shalt make thee no molten gods. ¹⁸ The feast of ^munleavened bread shalt thou keep: seven days thou shalt eat unleavened bread, as I commanded thee, in the time of the month Abib: for in the ⁿmonth Abib thou camest out from Egypt. ^oAll that openeth the matrix is mine; and every firstling amongst thy cattle, whether ox or ^psheep, that is male. And †he wrote upon the tables the words of the covenant, the ten †commandments.

And when Aaron and all the children of³⁰ Israel saw Moses, behold, the skin of his face shone; and they were afraid to come nigh him. And Moses called unto³¹ them; and Aaron and all the rulers of the congregation returned unto him: and Moses talked with them.  tion of the children of Israel together, and said unto them, †These are the words which the LORD hath commanded, that ye should do them. †Six days shall² work be done, but on the seventh day there shall be to you †a holy day, a ^d ver. 24. the LORD. And every man, ^dwith whom ²³ was found ^eblue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and goats' hair, and red skins of rams, and badgers' skins, brought them. Every one that did offer ²⁴ an offering of silver and brass brought the LORD'S offering: and every man, with whom was found shittim wood for any work of the service, brought it.

^f See ch. 28. 3. And all the women that were ^fwise ²⁵ hearted did spin with their hands, and brought that which they had ^gspun, both of blue, and of purple, and of scarlet, and of fine linen. And all the women ²⁶

^h whose heart stirred them up in wisdom ^h spun goats' hair. And ⁱ the rulers ²⁷ brought ^konyx stones, and stones to be set, for the ephod, and for the breastplate; ^l and ^mspice, and oil for the light, ²⁸ and for the anointing oil, and for the sweet incense. The children of Israel ²⁹ brought a ⁿ willing offering unto the LORD, every man and woman, whose heart made them willing to bring for all manner of work, which the LORD had commanded to be made by the hand of Moses.

And Moses said unto the children of ³⁰ Israel, See, ^o the LORD hath called by name Bezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah; and he ³¹ hath filled him with the spirit of God, in wisdom, in understanding, and in knowledge, and in all manner of workmanship; and to devise curious works, to ³² work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in the cutting of stones, to set them, ³³ and in carving of wood, to make any manner of cunning work. And he hath ³⁴ put in his heart that he may teach, both he, and Aholiab, the son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan. Them hath he ³⁵ filled with wisdom of heart, to work all manner of work, of the engraver, and of the cunning workman, and ^q of the embroiderer, in blue, and in purple, in scarlet, and in fine linen, and ^r of the weaver, even of them that do any work, and of those that devise cunning work.

XXXVI. Then wrought Bezaleel and Aholiab, ^a and every ^a wise hearted man, in whom the LORD put wisdom and understanding to know how to work all manner of work for the service of the sanctuary, according to all that the LORD had commanded. And Moses called Bezaleel ² and Aholiab, and every wise hearted man, in whose heart the LORD had put wisdom, even every one ^b whose heart stirred him up to come unto the work to do it: and they received of Moses all ^c the offering, which the children of Israel had brought for the work of the service of the sanctuary, to make it withal. And they brought yet unto him ^d free offerings ⁴ every morning. And all the wise men, that wrought all the work of the sanctuary, came every man from his work ⁵ which they made; and they spake unto Moses, saying, ^e The people bring much more than enough for the service of the work, which the LORD commanded to ⁶ make. And Moses gave commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman make any more work for the offering of the sanctuary. So the people were restrained from bringing. ⁷ For the stuff they had was sufficient for all the work to make it, and too much.

⁸ And every wise hearted man among them that wrought the work of the tabernacle made ten curtains of fine twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet: with cherubims of cunning work made ⁹ he them. The length of one curtain was twenty and eight cubits, and the breadth of one curtain four cubits: the curtains ¹⁰ were all of one size. And he coupled the five curtains one unto another: and the other five curtains he coupled one ¹¹ unto another. And he made loops of blue on the edge of one curtain from the selvedge in the coupling: likewise he made in the uttermost side of another curtain, in the coupling of the second. ¹² Fifty loops made he in one curtain, and fifty loops made he in the edge of the curtain which was in the coupling of the second: the loops held one curtain to ¹³ another. And he made fifty taches of gold, and coupled the curtains one unto another with the taches: so it became ¹⁴ one tabernacle. And he made curtains of goats' hair for the tent over the tabernacle: eleven curtains he made them. ¹⁵ The length of one curtain was thirty cubits, and four cubits was the breadth of one curtain: the eleven curtains were ¹⁶ of one size. And he coupled five curtains by themselves, and six curtains by ¹⁷ themselves. And he made fifty loops upon the uttermost edge of the curtain in the coupling, and fifty loops made he upon the edge of the curtain which ¹⁸ coupled the second. And he made fifty taches of brass to couple the tent to ¹⁹ gether, that it might be one. And he made a covering for the tent of rams'

skins dyed red, and a covering of badgers' skins above that. ^gAnd he made ²⁰boards for the tabernacle of shittim wood, standing up. The length of a board was ²¹ten cubits, and the breadth of a board one cubit and a half. One board had ²²two tenons, ^hequally distant one from another: thus did he make for all the boards of the tabernacle. And he made ²³boards for the tabernacle; twenty boards for the south side southward: and forty ²⁴sockets of silver he made under the twenty boards; two sockets under one board for his two tenons, and two sockets under another board for his two tenons. And for the other side of the tabernacle, ²⁵*which is* toward the north corner, he made twenty boards, and their forty ²⁶sockets of silver; two sockets under one board, and two sockets under another board. And for the sides of the tabernacle westward he made six boards. And ²⁸two boards made he for the corners of the tabernacle in the two sides. And ²⁹they were ⁱcoupled beneath, and ⁱcoupled together at the head thereof, to one ring: thus he did to both of them in both the corners. And there were eight ³⁰boards; and their sockets were sixteen sockets of silver, ⁱunder every board two sockets. And he made bars ⁱof shittim wood; five for the boards of the one side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the ³²boards of the other side of the tabernacle, and five bars for the boards of the tabernacle for the sides westward. And he made the middle bar to shoot through the boards from the one end to the other. And he overlaid the boards with gold, and made their rings of gold to be places for the bars, and overlaid the bars with gold.

^kAnd he made a vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen: with cherubims made he it of cunning work. And he made thereunto four pillars of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold: their hooks were of gold; and he cast for them four sockets of silver. And he made a hanging for the tabernacle door of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen, ⁱof needlework; and the five pillars of it with their hooks: and he overlaid their ^lchapiters and their ^lfillets with gold: but their five sockets were of brass.

XXXVII. And Bezaleel made ^athe ark of shittim wood: two cubits and a half was the length of it, and a cubit and a half the breadth of it, and a cubit and a half the height of it: and he overlaid it with pure gold within and without, and made a ³crown of gold to it round about. And he cast for it four rings of gold, to be set by the four corners of it; even two rings upon the one side of it, and two rings upon the other side of it. And he made staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold. And he put the staves into the rings by the sides of the ark, to bear the ark. And he made the ^bmercy seat of pure gold: two cubits and a half was the length thereof, and one cubit and a half the breadth thereof. And he made two cherubims of gold, beaten out of one piece made he them, ^lon the two ends of the mercy seat; one cherub ^lon the end on this side, and another cherub ^lon the other end on that side: ^bout of the mercy seat made he the cherubims upon the two ends thereof. And the cherubims spread out their wings on high, and covered with their wings over the mercy seat, with their faces one to another; even to the mercy seatward were the faces of the cherubims.

^cAnd he made the table of shittim wood: two cubits was the length thereof, and a cubit the breadth thereof, and a cubit and a half the height thereof: and he overlaid it with pure gold, and made thereunto a crown of gold round about. Also he made thereunto a border of a handbreadth round about; and made a crown of gold for the border thereof round about. And he cast for it four rings of gold, and put the rings upon the four corners that were in the four feet thereof. Over against the border were the rings, the places for the staves to bear the table. And he made the staves of shittim wood, and overlaid them with gold, to bear the table. And he made the vessels which were upon the table, his dishes, and his spoons, and his bowls, and his covers ^lto cover withal, of pure gold.

^dAnd he made the candlestick of pure gold: of beaten work made he the candlestick; his shaft, and his branch, his bowls, his knops, and his flowers, were of the same: and six branches going out of the sides thereof; three branches of the candlestick out of the one side thereof, and three branches of the candlestick out of the other side thereof: three bowls made after the fashion of almonds in one branch, a knop and a flower; and three bowls made like almonds in another

21 This is the sum of the tabernacle, even of ^ethe tabernacle of Testimony, as it was counted, according to the commandment of Moses, for the service of the Levites, ^fby the hand of Ithamar, son to 22 Aaron the priest. And ^gBezaleel the son of Uri, the son of Hur, of the tribe of Judah, made all that the LORD commanded Moses. And with him was ^hAholiab, son of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, an engraver, and a cunning workman, and an ⁱembroiderer in blue, and in purple, and in scarlet, and fine linen. 24 All the gold that was occupied for the work in all the work of the holy place, even the gold of the ^joffering, was twenty and nine talents, and seven hundred and thirty shekels, after ^kthe shekel of the sanctuary. And the silver of them that ²⁵ were numbered of the congregation was an hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and threescore and fifteen shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary: ¹a bekah for [†]every man, that is, half a ²⁶ shekel, after the shekel of the sanctuary, for every one that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upward. for ^msix hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty men. And of the hundred talents of silver were ²⁷ cast ⁿthe sockets of the sanctuary, and the sockets of the vail; an hundred sockets of the hundred talents, a talent for a socket. And of the thousand seven hundred seventy and five shekels he made hooks for the pillars, and overlaid their chapiters, and filleted them. And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and two thousand and four hundred shekels. And therewith he made ^othe sockets to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and ^pthe brasen altar, and the brasen grate for it, and all the vessels of the altar, and ^qthe sockets of the court ³¹ round about, and ^rthe sockets of the court gate, and all ^sthe pins of the tabernacle, and all the pins of the court round about.

And of ^athe blue, and purple, and scarlet, they made ^bclothes of service, to do service in the holy place, and made the holy garments for Aaron; ^cas the LORD commanded Moses. ^dAnd he ²made the ephod of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen. And they ^edid beat the gold into thin ³plates, and cut it into ^fwires, to work it in the blue, and in the purple, and in the scarlet, and in the fine linen, with cunning work. They made shoulderpieces for it, to couple it together: by the two edges was it coupled together. And the curious girdle of his ephod, that was upon it, was of the same, according to the work thereof; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined linen; as the LORD commanded Moses. And they wrought onyx ⁶stones inclosed in ouches of gold, graven as signets are graven, with the names of the children of Israel. And he put them ⁷on the shoulders of the ephod, that they should be stones for a memorial to the children of Israel; ^gas the LORD commanded Moses. And he made the breastplate of cunning work, like the work of the ephod; of gold, blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine twined ⁹linen. It was foursquare; they made the breastplate double: a span was the length thereof, and a span the breadth ¹⁰thereof, being doubled. And they set in it four rows of stones: the first row was a ¹sardius, a topaz, and a carbuncle: ¹¹*this was* the first row. And the second row, an emerald, a sapphire, and a diamond. And the third row, a figure, an agate, and an amethyst. And the fourth row, a beryl, an onyx, and a jasper: they were inclosed in ouches of gold in ¹⁴their inclosings. And the stones were according to the names of the children of Israel, twelve, according to their names, like the engravings of a signet, every one with his name, according to ¹⁵the twelve tribes. And they made upon the breastplate chains at the ends, of ¹⁶wreathen work of pure gold. And they made two ouches of gold, and two gold rings; and put the two rings in the two ¹⁷ends of the breastplate. And they put the two wreathen chains of gold in the two rings on the ends of the breastplate. And the two ends of the two wreathen chains they fastened in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulderpieces of the ephod, before it. And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two ends of the breastplate, upon the border of it, which was on the side ²⁰of the ephod inward. And they made two other golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the ephod underneath, toward the forepart of it, over against the other coupling thereof, above the ²¹curious girdle of the ephod. And they did bind the breastplate by his rings unto the rings of the ephod with a lace of blue, that it might be above the curious girdle of the ephod, and that the breastplate might not be loosed from the ephod; ^has the LORD com- ²²manded Moses. And he made the robe of the ephod of woven work, all of blue. ²³And there was a hole in the midst of the robe, as the hole of an habergeon, with a band round about the hole, that ²⁴it should not rend. And they made upon the hems of the robe pomegranates of blue, and purple, and scarlet, ²⁵and twined linen. And they made bells of pure gold, and put the bells between the pomegranates upon the hem of the robe, round about between the pomegranates; a bell and a pomegranate, a bell and a pomegranate, round about

^{39, 40, 42.} they made coats of fine linen of woven work for Aaron, and for his sons, and ²⁸ a mitre of fine linen, and goodly bon-nets of fine linen, and linen breeches of fine twined linen, and a girdle of fine ²⁹ twined linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet, of needlework; as the LORD commanded Moses. ¹And they made ³⁰
the plate of the holy crown of pure gold, and wrote upon it a writing, like to the engravings of a signet, HOLINESS TO THE LORD. And they tied unto it a ³¹ lace of blue, to fasten it on high upon the mitre; as the LORD commanded Moses.

Thus was all the work of the taber- ³²
nacle of the tent of the congregation finished: and the children of Israel did ^maccording to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so did they. And they ³³ brought the tabernacle unto Moses, the tent, and all his furniture, his taches, his boards, his bars, and his pillars, and his sockets, and the covering of rams' ³⁴ skins dyed red, and the covering of badgers' skins, and ⁿthe vail of the covering, the ark of the Testimony, and ³⁵
the staves thereof, and the mercy seat, the table, and all the vessels thereof, ³⁶ and the shewbread, ^othe pure candlestick, with the lamps thereof, even with-the lamps to be set in order, and all the vessels thereof, and the oil for light, and ^pthe golden altar, and the anointing ³⁸
oil, and ¹the sweet incense, and ^qthe hanging for the tabernacle door, the ³⁹ brass altar, and his grate of brass, his staves, and all his vessels, the laver and his foot, ^rthe hangings of the court, his ⁴⁰ pillars, and his sockets, and ^sthe hanging for the court gate, ^this cords, and his pins, and all the vessels of the service of the tabernacle, for the tent of the congregation, the clothes of service ⁴¹ to do service in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aaron the priest, and his sons' garments, to minister in the priest's office. According to all that the ⁴² LORD commanded Moses, so ^uthe children of Israel made all the work. And ⁴³ Moses did look upon all the work, and behold, they had done it as the LORD had commanded, even so had they done it: and Moses ^xblessed them.

XL.

And the LORD spake unto Moses,
saying, On the first day of the ^afirst ² month shalt thou ^bset up the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation. And thou shalt put therein the ark of the Testimony, and ^ccover the ark with the ⁴vail. And ^dthou shalt bring in the table, and set in order ^tthe things that are to be set in order upon it; ^eand thou shalt bring in the candlestick, and light the ⁵lamps thereof. ^fAnd thou shalt set the altar of gold for the incense before the ark of the Testimony, and put the hang-⁶ing of the door to the tabernacle. ^gAnd thou shalt set the altar of the burnt offering before the door of the tabernacle of the tent of the congregation.

⁷And ^hthou shalt set the laver between the tent of the congregation and the ⁸altar, and shalt put water therein. And thou shalt set up the court round about,
and hang up the hanging at the court ⁹gate. And thou shalt take the anointing oil, and ⁱanoint the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and shalt hallow it, and all the vessels thereof: and it shall ¹⁰be holy. And thou shalt anoint ^kthe altar of the burnt offering, and all his vessels, and sanctify the altar: and it ¹¹shall be an altar ¹most holy. And thou shalt anoint ^kthe laver and his foot, and ¹²sanctify it. ¹And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and wash ¹³them with water. And thou shalt put upon Aaron the holy garments, ^mand anoint him, and sanctify him; that he may minister unto me in the priest's ¹⁴office. And thou shalt bring his sons, ¹⁵and clothe them with coats: and thou shalt anoint them, as thou didst anoint their father, that they may minister unto me in the priest's office: for their anoint-¹⁶ing shall surely be ⁿan everlasting priesthood throughout their generations. Thus did Moses: according to all that the LORD commanded him, so did he.

And it came to pass in the first month in the second year, on the first day of the month, that the ^otabernacle was ¹⁸reared up. And Moses reared up the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set up the boards thereof, and put in the bars thereof, and reared up his pil-¹⁹lars. And he spread abroad the tent over the tabernacle, and put the covering of the tent above upon it; as the ²⁰LORD commanded Moses. And he took and put ^pthe Testimony into the ark, and set the staves on the ark, and put ²¹the mercy seat above upon the ark: and he brought the ark into the tabernacle,

So Moses finished the work.

³⁴ Then ^fa cloud covered the tent of the congregation, and ^gthe glory of the LORD ³⁵ filled the tabernacle. And Moses ^gwas not able to enter into the tent of the congregation, because the cloud abode thereon, and the glory of the LORD filled ³⁶ the tabernacle. ^hAnd when the cloud was taken up from over the tabernacle, the children of Israel ⁱwent onward in ³⁷ all their journeys: but ⁱif the cloud were not taken up, then they journeyed not ³⁸ till the day that it was taken up. For the cloud of the LORD was upon the tabernacle by day. and fire was on it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their journeys.

THE THIRD BOOK OF MOSES,

CALLED

LEVITICUS.

I. AND the LORD ^acalled unto Moses, and ^bspake unto him ^cout of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying, Speak ^dunto the children of Israel, and say unto them, ^eIf any man of you bring an offering unto the LORD, ye shall bring your offering of the cattle, even of the herd, and of the flock. If his offering be ^fa burnt sacrifice of the herd, let him offer a male ^gwithout blemish: he shall offer it of his own voluntary will at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD. ^hAnd he shall put his hand upon the head of the burnt offering; and it shall be ⁱaccepted for him ^jto make atonement for him. And he shall kill the bullock before the LORD: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall bring the blood, ^kand sprinkle the blood round about upon the altar that is ^lby the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And he shall ^mflay the burnt offering, and cut it into his ⁿpieces. And the sons of Aaron the priest shall put fire upon the altar, and ^olay the wood in order upon the fire: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall lay ^pthe parts, the head, and ^qthe fat, in order upon the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar: but ^rhis inwards and his legs shall he wash in water: and the priest shall burn all on the altar, to be a burnt sacrifice, ^san offering made by fire, of a ^tsweet savour unto the LORD. And if his offering be of the flocks, namely, of the sheep, or of the goats, for a burnt sacrifice; he shall bring it a male without blemish. ^uAnd he shall kill it on the side of the altar northward before the LORD: and the priests, Aaron's sons, shall sprinkle his blood round about upon the altar. And he shall cut it into his ^vpieces, with his head and his fat: and the priest shall lay them in order on the wood that is on the fire which is upon the altar: but he shall wash the inwards and the legs with water: and the priest shall bring it all, and burn it upon the altar: it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD. And if the burnt sacrifice for his offering to the LORD be of fowls, then he shall bring his offering of ^wturtledoves, or of young pigeons. And the priest shall bring it unto the altar, and ^xwring off his head, and burn it on the altar; and the blood thereof shall be wrung out at the side of the altar: and he shall pluck away his crop with ^yhis feathers, and cast it ^zbeside the altar on the east part, by the place of the ashes: and he shall cleave it with the wings thereof, ^{aa}but ^{ab}shall not divide it asunder: and the priest shall burn it upon the altar, upon the wood that is upon the fire: ^{ac}it is a burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

And when any will offer ^{ad}a meat offering unto the LORD, his offering shall be ^{ae}of fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and put frankincense thereon: and he shall bring it to Aaron's sons the priests: and he shall take thereof his handful of the flour thereof, and of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof; and the priest shall burn ^{af}the memorial of it upon the altar, to be an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD: and ^{ag}the remnant of the meat offering ^{ah}shall be Aaron's and his sons': it is a thing ^{ai}most holy of the offerings of the LORD made by fire. And if thou bring an oblation of a meat offering baken in the oven, it shall be ^{aj}unleavened cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, or unleavened wafers anointed with

And if thy oblation be a meat offering baken ¹in the fryingpan, it shall be made of fine flour with oil. And thou shalt bring the meat offering that is made of these things unto the LORD: and when it is presented unto the priest, he shall bring it unto the altar. And the priest shall take from the meat offering ²a memorial thereof, and shall burn it upon the altar: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD. And ³that which is left of the meat offering shall be Aaron's and his sons': it is a thing most holy of the offerings of the LORD made by fire. No meat offering, which ye shall bring unto the LORD, shall be made with ⁴leaven: for ye shall burn no leaven, nor any honey, in any offering of the LORD made by fire. ⁵As for the oblation of the firstfruits, ye shall offer them unto the LORD: but they shall not ⁶be burnt on the altar for a sweet savour. And every oblation of thy meat offering ⁷thalt thou season with salt; neither shalt thou suffer ⁸the salt of the covenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering: ⁹with all thine offerings thou shalt offer salt. And if thou offer a meat offering of thy firstfruits unto the LORD, thou shalt offer for the meat offering of thy firstfruits green ears of corn ¹⁰dried by the fire, even corn beaten out of ¹¹full ears. And ¹²thou shalt put oil upon it, and lay frankincense thereon: it is a meat offering. And the priest shall burn ¹³the memorial of it, part of the beaten corn thereof, and part of the oil thereof, with all the frankincense thereof: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD.

III.

And if his oblation be a sacrifice of peace offering, if he offer it of the herd; whether it be a male or female, he shall offer it ¹without blemish before the LORD. And ²he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron's sons the priests shall sprinkle the blood upon the altar round about. which is by the flanks, and the ¹caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away. And Aaron's sons ²shall burn it on the altar upon the burnt sacrifice, which is upon the wood that is on the fire: it is an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD. And if his offering for a sacrifice of peace offering unto the LORD be of the flock, male or female, ³he shall offer it without blemish. If he offer a lamb for his offering, then shall he offer it before the LORD. And he shall lay his hand upon the head of his offering, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation: and Aaron's sons shall sprinkle the blood thereof round about upon the altar. And he shall offer of the sacrifice of the peace offering an offering made by fire unto the LORD; the fat thereof, ⁴and ⁵the whole rump, it shall he take off hard by the back bone; and the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away. And the priest shall burn it upon the altar: it is ⁶the food of the offering made by fire unto the LORD. And if his offering be a goat, then ⁷he shall offer it before the LORD. And he shall lay his hand upon the head of it, and kill it before the tabernacle of the congregation: and the sons of Aaron shall sprinkle the blood thereof upon the altar round about. And he shall offer thereof his offering, even an offering made by fire unto the LORD; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away. the sin of the people; then let him bring for his sin, which he hath sinned, a young bullock without blemish unto the LORD for a sin offering. And he shall bring the bullock ^dunto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation before the LORD; and shall lay his hand upon the bullock's head, and kill the bullock before the LORD. And the priest that is anointed ^eshall take of the bullock's blood, and bring it to the tabernacle of the congregation: and the priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and ^esprinkle of the blood seven times before the LORD, before the vail of the sanctuary. And the priest shall ^fput some of the blood upon the horns ^gof the altar of sweet incense before the LORD, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation; and shall pour ^hall the blood of the bullock at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And he shall take off from it all the fat of the bullock for the sin offering; the fat that covereth the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is by the flanks, and the caul above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away, ⁱas it was taken off from the bullock of the sacrifice of peace offerings: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar of the burnt offering. ^kAnd the skin of the bullock, and all his flesh, with his head, and with his legs, and his inwards, and his dung, even the whole bullock shall he carry forth ^lwithout the camp unto a clean place. ^lwhere the ashes are poured out, and ^lburn him on the wood with fire: ^lwhere the ashes are poured out shall he be burnt.

And ^mif the whole congregation of Israel sin through ignorance, ⁿand the thing be hid from the eyes of the assembly, and they have done somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which should not be done, and are guilty; when the sin, which they have sinned against it, is known, then the congregation shall offer a young bullock for the sin, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation. And the elders of the congregation ^oshall lay their hands upon the head of the bullock before the LORD: and the bullock shall be killed before the LORD. ^pAnd the priest that is anointed shall bring of the bullock's blood to the tabernacle of the congregation: and the priest shall dip his finger in some of the blood, and sprinkle it seven times before the LORD, even before the vail. And he shall put some of the blood upon the horns of the altar which is before the LORD, that is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of the burnt offering, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And he shall take all his fat from him, and burn it upon the altar. And he shall do with the bullock as he did ^qwith the bullock for a sin offering, so shall he do with this: ^rand the priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiven them. And he shall carry forth the bullock without the camp, and burn him as he burned the first bullock: it is a sin offering for the congregation.

When a ruler hath sinned, and ^sdone somewhat through ignorance against any of the commandments of the LORD his God concerning things which should not be done, and is guilty; or ^tif his sin, wherein he hath sinned, come to his knowledge, he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a male without blemish; and ^uhe shall lay his hand upon the head of the goat, and kill it in the place where they kill the burnt offering before the LORD: it is a sin offering. ^xAnd the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering with his finger, and put it upon the horns of the altar of burnt offering, and shall pour out his blood at the bottom of the altar of burnt offering. And he shall burn all his fat upon the altar, as ^ythe fat of the sacrifice of peace offerings: ^zand the priest shall make an atonement for him as concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

And ^aif ^aany one of the ^acommon people sin through ignorance, while he doeth somewhat against any of the commandments of the LORD concerning things which ought not to be done, and be guilty; or ^bif his sin, which he hath sinned, come to his knowledge, then he shall bring his offering, a kid of the goats, a female without blemish, for his sin which he hath sinned. ^cAnd he shall lay his hand upon the head of the sin offering, and slay the sin offering in the place of the burnt offering. V.

And if a soul sin, ^aand hear the voice of swearing, and is a witness, whether he hath seen or known of it; if he do not utter it, then he shall ^bbear his iniquity. Or ^cif a soul touch any unclean thing, whether it be a carcase of an unclean beast, or a carcase of unclean cattle, or the carcase of unclean creeping things, and if it be hidden from him; he also shall be unclean, and ^dguilty. Or if he touch ^ethe uncleanness of man, whatsoever uncleanness it be that a man shall be defiled withal, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty. Or if a soul swear, ^fpronouncing with his lips ^gto do evil, or to do good, whatsoever it be that a man shall pronounce with an oath, and it be hid from him; when he knoweth of it, then he shall be guilty in one of these. And it shall be, when he shall be guilty in one of these things, that he shall ^hconfess that he hath sinned in that thing; and he shall bring his trespass offering unto the LORD for his sin which he hath sinned, a female from the flock, a lamb or a kid of the goats, for a sin offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sin. And ⁱif ^jhe be not able to bring a lamb, then he shall bring for his trespass, which he hath committed, two ^kturtledoves, or two young pigeons, unto the LORD; one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering. And he shall bring them unto the priest, who shall offer that which is for the sin offering first, and ^lwring off his head from his neck, but ^mshall not divide it asunder; and he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin offering upon the side of the altar; and ⁿthe rest of the blood shall be wrung out ^oat the bottom of the altar: it is a sin offering. And he shall offer the second ^pfor a burnt offering, according to the ^qmanner: ^rand the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he had sinned, and it shall be forgiven him. But if he be not able to bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, then he that sinned shall bring for his offering ^sthe tenth ^tpart of an ephah of fine flour for a sin offering; ^uhe shall put no oil upon it, neither shall he put ^vany frankincense thereon: for it is a sin offering. Then shall he bring it to the priest, and ^wthe priest shall take his handful of it, ^xeven a memorial thereof, and burn it on the altar, ^yaccording to the offerings made by fire unto the LORD: it is a sin offering. ^zAnd the priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sin that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiven him: and ^{aa}the remnant shall be the priest's, as a meat offering.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^{ab}If a soul commit a trespass, and sin through ignorance, in the holy things of the LORD; then ^{ac}he shall bring for his trespass unto the LORD a ram without blemish out of the flocks, with thy estimation ^{ad}by shekels of silver, after ^{ae}the shekel of the sanctuary, for a trespass offering; and he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and ^{af}shall add the fifth ^{ag}part thereto, and give it unto the priest: ^{ah}and the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him. And if a ^{ai}soul sin, and commit any ^{aj}of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandments of the LORD; ^{ak}though he wist it not, ^{al}yet is he guilty, and shall bear his iniquity. ^{am}And he shall bring a ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: ^fand the priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance wherein he erred and wist it not, and it shall be forgiven him. It is a trespass offering: he hath ¹⁹ certainly trespassed against the LORD.

VI.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, If a soul sin, and ^acommit ² a trespass against the LORD, and ^blie unto his neighbour in that ^cwhich was delivered him to keep, or ^din ^efellowship, or in a thing taken away by violence, or hath ^ddeceived his neighbour; or ^ehave ³ found that which was lost, and lieth concerning it, and ^fswareth falsely; in any of all these that a man doeth, sinning therein: then it shall be, because ⁴ he hath sinned, and is guilty, that he shall restore that which he took violently away, or the thing which he hath deceitfully gotten, or that which was delivered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found, or all that about which he hath ⁵ sworn falsely; he shall even ^grestore it in the principal, and shall add the fifth part more thereto, and give it unto him to whom it appertaineth, ^hin the day of his trespass offering. And he shall bring ⁶ his trespass offering unto the LORD, ^aa ram without blemish out of the flock, with thy estimation, for a trespass offering, unto the priest: ¹and the priest shall ⁷ make an atonement for him before the LORD: and it shall be forgiven him for any thing of all that he hath done in trespassing therein.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, ⁸ saying, Command Aaron and his sons, ⁹ saying, This is the law of the burnt offering: It is the burnt offering, ¹because of the burning upon the altar all night unto the morning, and the fire of the altar shall be burning in it. And ¹⁰ the priest shall put on his linen garment, and ^{his} ^klinen breeches shall he put upon his flesh, and take up the ashes which the fire hath consumed with the burnt offering on the altar, and he shall put them ¹besides the altar. And ¹¹ ^mhe shall put off his garments, and put on other garments, and carry forth the ashes ⁿwithout the camp unto a clean place. And the fire upon the altar shall ¹² be burning in it; it shall not be put out: and the priest shall burn wood on it every morning, and lay the burnt offering in order upon it; and he shall burn thereon ^othe fat of the peace offerings.

¹³ The fire shall ever be burning upon the altar; it shall never go out.

¹⁴ ^pAnd this is the law of the meat offering: the sons of Aaron shall offer it before the LORD, before the altar.

¹⁵ And he shall take of it his handful, of the flour of the meat offering, and of the oil thereof, and all the frankincense which is upon the meat offering, and shall burn it upon the altar for a sweet savour, even the ^qmemorial of it, unto ¹⁶ the LORD. And ^rthe remainder thereof shall Aaron and his sons eat: with unleavened bread shall it be eaten ^sin the holy place; in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation they shall eat

¹⁷ it. ^tIt shall not be baked with leaven.

^uI have given it unto them for their portion of my offerings made by fire; ^xit is most holy, as is the sin offering, ¹⁸ and as the trespass offering. ^yAll the males among the children of Aaron shall eat of it. ^zIt shall be a statute for ever in your generations concerning the offerings of the LORD made by fire: ^aevery one that toucheth them shall be holy.

²⁴ And the LORD spake unto Moses, ²⁵ saying, Speak unto Aaron and to his sons, saying, ^fThis is the law of the sin offering: ^gIn the place where the burnt offering is killed shall the sin offering be killed before the LORD: ^hit is most ²⁶ holy. ⁱThe priest that offereth it for sin shall eat it: ^kin the holy place shall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation. ¹Whatsoever shall touch the flesh thereof shall be holy: and when there is sprinkled of the blood thereof upon any garment, thou shalt wash that whereon it was sprinkled in the holy place. But the ^mearthen vessel wherein it is sodden shall be broken: and if it be sodden in a brasen pot, it shall be both scoured, and rinsed in water. ⁿAll the males among the priests shall eat thereof: ^oit is most holy. ^pAnd no sin offering, whereof any of the blood is brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withal in the holy place, shall be eaten: it shall be burnt in the fire.

Likewise ^athis is the law of the trespass offering: ^bit is most holy. ^cIn the place where they kill the burnt offering shall they kill the trespass offering: and the blood thereof shall he sprinkle round about upon the altar. And he shall offer of it ^dall the fat thereof; the rump, and the fat that covereth the inwards, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, which is by the flanks, and the caul that is above the liver, with the kidneys, it shall he take away: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar for an offering made by fire unto the LORD: it is a trespass offering. ^eEvery male among the priests shall eat thereof: it shall be eaten in the holy place: ^fit is most holy. As the sin offering is, so is ^gthe trespass offering: there is one law for them: the priest that maketh atonement therewith shall have it. And the priest that offereth any man's burnt offering, even the priest shall have to himself the skin of the burnt offering which he hath offered. And ^hall the meat offering that is baken in the oven, and all that is dressed ⁱin the fryingpan, and ^jin the pan, shall be the priest's that offereth it. And every meat offering, mingled with oil, and dry, shall all the sons of Aaron have, one as much as another.

And ^kthis is the law of the sacrifice of peace offerings, which he shall offer unto the LORD. If he offer it for thanksgiving, then he shall offer with the sacrifice of thanksgiving ^lunleavened cakes mingled with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and cakes mingled with oil, of fine flour, ^mfried. Besides the cakes, he shall offer for his offering ⁿleavened bread with the sacrifice of thanksgiving of his peace offerings. And of it he shall offer one out of the whole oblation for a heave offering unto the LORD, ^oand it shall be the priest's that sprinkleth the blood of the peace offerings. And the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings ^ofor thanksgiving shall be eaten the same day that it is offered; he shall not leave ^pany of it until the morning. But ^qif the sacrifice of his offering be a vow, or a voluntary offering, it shall be eaten the same day that he offereth his sacrifice: and on the morrow also the remainder of it shall be eaten: but the remainder of the flesh of the sacrifice on the third day shall be burnt with fire. And if ^rany of the flesh of the sacrifice of his peace offerings be eaten at all on the third day, it shall not be accepted, neither ^sshall it be imputed unto him that offereth it: it shall be an ^tabomination, and the soul that eateth of it shall bear his iniquity. And the flesh that toucheth any unclean thing shall not be eaten; it shall be burnt with fire: and as for the flesh, all that be clean shall eat thereof. But the soul that eateth ^uof the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings, that pertain unto the LORD, ^vhaving his uncleanness upon him, even that soul shall be cut off from his people. Moreover the soul that shall touch any unclean thing, as ^wthe uncleanness of man, or ^xany unclean beast, or any ^yabominable unclean thing, and eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of peace offerings, which pertain unto the LORD, even that soul shall be cut off from his people.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, ^zYe shall eat no manner fat, of ox, or of sheep, or of goat. And the fat of the ¹beast that dieth of itself, and the fat of that which is torn with beasts, may be used in any other use: but ye shall in no wise eat of it. For whosoever eateth the fat of the beast, of which ²men offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD, even the soul that eateth it shall be cut off from his people. ^aMoreover ye shall eat no manner of blood, whether it be of fowl or of beast, in any of your dwellings. Whatsoever soul it be that eateth any manner of blood, even that soul shall be cut off from his people. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^bHe that offereth the sacrifice of his peace offerings unto the LORD shall bring his oblation unto the LORD of the sacrifice of his peace offerings. ^cHis own hands shall bring the offerings of the LORD made by fire, the fat with the breast, it shall he bring, that ^dthe breast may be waved for a wave offering before the LORD. ^eAnd the priest shall burn ³¹the fat upon the altar: ^fbut the breast shall be Aaron's and his sons'. And ³²the right shoulder shall ye give unto the priest for a heave offering of the sacrifices of your peace offerings. He among ³³the sons of Aaron, that offereth the blood of the peace offerings, and the fat, shall have the right shoulder for his part. ³⁴For ^hthe wave breast and the heave shoulder have I taken of the children of Israel from off the sacrifices of their peace offerings, and have given them unto Aaron the priest and unto his sons by a statute for ever from among the children of Israel.

This is the portion of the anointing of ³⁵Aaron, and of the anointing of his sons, out of the offerings of the LORD made by fire, in the day when he presented them to minister unto the LORD in the priest's office; which the LORD com- ³⁶manded to be given them of the children of Israel, ⁱin the day that he anointed them, by a statute for ever throughout their generations. This is the law ^kof ³⁷the burnt offering, ^lof the meat offering, ^mand of the sin offering, ⁿand of the trespass offering, ^oand of the consecra- tions, and ^pof the sacrifice of the peace offerings; which the LORD commanded ³⁸Moses in mount Sinai, in the day that he commanded the children of Israel ^qto offer their oblations unto the LORD, in the wilderness of Sinai.

VIII.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, say- ^aing, ^aTake Aaron and his sons with him, ²and ^bthe garments, and ^cthe anointing oil, and ^da bullock for the sin offering, and two rams, and a basket of unleavened bread; and gather thou all the congrega- ³tion together unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And ⁴Moses did as the LORD commanded him; and the assembly was gathered to- ⁵gether unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And Moses said ⁵unto the congregation, ^eThis is the thing which the LORD commanded to be done. And Moses brought Aaron and his sons, ⁶and washed them with water. ^fAnd ⁷he put upon him the ^gcoat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the robe, and put the ephod upon him, and he girded him with the curious girdle of the ephod, ^hand bound it unto him therewith. And he put the breast- ⁱplate upon him: also he ^jput in the ^hbreastplate the Urim and the Thummim. ⁹And he put the mitre upon his head; ⁱalso ^kupon the mitre, even upon his forehead, did he put the golden plate, the holy crown; as the LORD command- ¹⁰ed Moses. ¹And Moses took the anoint- ing oil, and anointed the tabernacle and all that was therein, and sanctified them. ¹¹And he sprinkled thereof upon the altar seven times, and anointed the altar and all his vessels, both the laver and his ¹²foot, to sanctify them. And he ^mpour- ed of the anointing oil upon Aaron's head, and anointed him, to sanctify him. ¹³And Moses brought Aaron's sons, and put coats upon them, and girded them with girdles, and ^lput bonnets upon them; ¹⁴as the LORD commanded Moses. ^oAnd he brought the bullock for the sin offer- ing: and Aaron and his sons ^plaid their hands upon the head of the bullock for ¹⁵the sin offering. And he slew it; ^qand Moses took the blood, and put it upon the horns of the altar round about with his finger, and purified the altar, and poured the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make recon- ¹⁶ciliation upon it. ^rAnd he took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Moses burned it upon ¹⁷the altar. But the bullock, and his hide, his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp; as the LORD ^scom- ¹⁸manded Moses. ^tAnd he brought the ram for the burnt offering: and Aaron and his sons laid their hands upon the ¹⁹head of the ram. And he killed it; and Moses sprinkled the blood upon the ²⁰altar round about. And he cut the ram into pieces; and Moses burnt the head, ²¹and the pieces, and ^uthe fat. And he washed the inwards and the legs in water; and Moses burnt the whole ram upon the altar: it was a burnt sacrifice for a sweet savour, and an offering made by fire unto the LORD; as the LORD com- ²²manded Moses. And ^whe brought the other ram, the ram of consecration: and Aaron and his sons laid their hands up- ²³on the head of the ram. And he slew it; and Moses took of the blood of it, and put it upon the tip of Aaron's right ear, and upon the thumb of his right hand, and upon the great toe of his right foot. ²⁴And he brought Aaron's sons, and Moses put of the blood upon the tip of their right ear, and upon the thumbs of their right hands, and upon the great toes of their right feet: and Moses sprinkled the blood upon the altar round about.

^a Ex. 29. 22. ^a And he took the fat, and the rump, ²⁵ and all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the caul above the liver, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and the right shoulder: ²⁶ and out of the basket of unleavened bread, that was before the LORD, he took one unleavened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right shoulder: and he put all ²⁷ ²⁴ upon Aaron's hands, and upon his sons' hands, and waved them for a wave offering before the LORD. ²⁸ ^a And Moses took them from off their hands, and burnt them on the altar upon the burnt offering: they were consecrations for a sweet savour: it is an offering made by fire unto the LORD. And Moses took the breast, and waved it for a wave offering before the LORD: for of the ram of consecration it was Moses' ^b part; as the LORD commanded Moses. And ^c Moses ³⁰ took of the anointing oil, and of the blood which was upon the altar, and sprinkled it upon Aaron, and upon his garments, and upon his sons, and upon his sons' garments with him; and sanctified Aaron, and his garments, and his sons, and his sons' garments with him.

And Moses said unto Aaron and to ³¹ his sons, ^d Boil the flesh at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and there eat it with the bread that is in the basket of consecrations, as I commanded, saying, Aaron and his sons shall eat it. ^e And that which remaineth of the flesh and of the bread shall ye burn with fire. And ye shall not go out of the door of the tabernacle of the congregation in seven days, until the days of your consecration be at an end: for ^f seven days shall he consecrate you. As he hath done this day, so the LORD hath commanded to do, to make an atonement for you. Therefore shall ye abide ³⁵ at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation day and night seven days, and ^g keep the charge of the LORD, that ye die not: for so I am commanded. So Aaron and his sons did all things which the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses.

IX.

And ^a it came to pass on the eighth day, that Moses called Aaron and his sons, and the elders of Israel; and he said unto Aaron, ^b Take thee a young calf for a sin offering, ^c and a ram for a burnt offering, without blemish, and ³ offer them before the LORD. And unto the children of Israel thou shalt speak, saying, ^d Take ye a kid of the goats for a sin offering; and a calf and a lamb, both of the first year, without blemish, ⁴ for a burnt offering; also ^e a bullock and a ram for peace offerings, to sacrifice before the LORD; and ^f a meat offering mingled with oil: for ⁵ ^g to day the LORD will appear unto you. And they brought that which Moses commanded before the tabernacle of the congregation: and all the congregation drew near and stood ⁶ before the LORD. And Moses said, This is the thing which the LORD commanded that ye should do: and the glory of ⁷ the LORD shall appear unto you. And Moses said unto Aaron, Go unto the altar, and offer ^h thy sin offering, and ^h thy burnt offering, and make an atonement for thyself, and for the people: and ⁱ offer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them; as the LORD commanded.

¹⁵ ^s And he brought the people's offering, and took the goat, which was the sin offering for the people, and slew it, and ^t offered it for sin, as the first. And he brought the burnt offering, and offered it according to the ^u manner. And he brought ^v the meat offering, and ^w took a handful thereof, and burnt it upon the altar, ^x beside the burnt sacrifice of ¹⁸ the morning. He slew also the bullock

And Aaron ^blift up his hand to ²² wards the people, and ^cblessed them, and came down from offering of the sin offering, and the burnt offering, and peace offerings. And Moses and Aaron went ²³ into the tabernacle of the congregation, and came out, and blessed the people: ^dand the glory of the LORD appeared unto all the people. And ^ethere came ²⁴ a fire out from before the LORD, and consumed upon the altar the burnt offering and the fat: which when all the people saw, ^fthey shouted, and ^gfell on their faces.

And ^aNadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, ^btook either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered ^cstrange fire before the LORD, which he commanded them not. And there ^dwent out fire from the LORD, and devoured them, and they died before the LORD. Then Moses said unto Aaron, This is it that the LORD spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them ^ethat come nigh me, and before all the people I will be ^fglorified. ^gAnd Aaron held his peace. And Moses called Mi- ⁴ shael and Elzaphan, the sons of ^hUzziel the uncle of Aaron, and said unto them, Come near, carry your ⁱbrethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp. So they went near, and carried them in ⁵ their coats out of the camp; as Moses had said. And Moses said unto Aaron, ⁶ and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar his sons, ^kUncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes; lest you die, and lest ^lwrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, the whole house of Israel, bewail the burning which the LORD hath kindled. ^mAnd ye shall not ⁷ go out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, lest you die: ⁿfor the anointing oil of the LORD is upon you. And they did according to the word of Moses.

8 And the LORD spake unto Aaron, saying, ^oDo not drink wine nor strong drink, thou, nor thy sons with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations: and that ^pye may ^qput difference between holy and unholy, and between ¹⁰ unclean and clean; ^qand that ^rye may teach the children of Israel all the statutes which the LORD hath spoken unto them by the hand of Moses.

12 And Moses spake unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar his sons that were left, Take ^rthe meat offering that remaineth of the offerings of the LORD made by fire, and eat it without leaven ^sbeside the altar: for ^tit ¹³ is most holy: and ye shall eat it in the holy place, because it is thy due, and thy sons' due, of the sacrifices of the LORD made by fire: for ^uso I am com- ¹⁴ manded. And ^vthe wave breast and heave shoulder shall ye eat in a clean place; thou, and thy sons, and thy daughters with thee: for they be thy due, and thy sons' due, which are given out of the sacrifices of peace offerings of the ¹⁵ children of Israel. The heave shoulder and the wave breast shall they bring with the offerings made by fire of the fat, to wave it for a wave offering before the LORD; and it shall be thine, and thy sons' with thee, by a statute for ever; as the LORD hath commanded.

16 And Moses diligently sought ^ythe goat of the sin offering, and behold, it was burnt: and he was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar the sons of Aaron which ¹⁷ were left alive, saying, ^zWherefore have ye not eaten the sin offering in the holy place, seeing it is most holy, and God hath given it you to bear the iniquity of the congregation, to make atonement for ¹⁸ them before the LORD? Behold, ^athe blood of it was not brought in ^bwithin the holy place: ye should indeed have eaten it in the holy place, ^cas I com- ¹⁹ manded. And Aaron said unto Moses, Behold, ^dthis day have they offered their sin offering and their burnt offering before the LORD; and such things have befallen me: and if I had eaten the sin offering to day, should it have been ac- ²⁰ cepted in the sight of the LORD? And when Moses heard that, he was content.

are the beasts which ye shall eat among all the beasts that are on the earth. Whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is clovenfooted, and cheweth cud, among the beasts, that shall ye eat. Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you. And ^bthe cony, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you. And the hare, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you. And the swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; ^che is unclean to you. Of their flesh shall ye not eat, and their carcase shall ye not touch; they are unclean to you.

These shall ye eat of all that are in the waters: whatsoever hath fins and ^dscales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat. And all that have not fins nor scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of all that move in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, they shall be an ^eabomination unto you: they shall be even an ^eabomination unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, but you shall have their carcasses in abomination. Whatsoever hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an ^eabomination unto you.

And these are they which ye shall have in abomination among the fowls; they shall not be eaten, they are an ^eabomination: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray, and the vulture, and the kite after his kind; every ^fraven after his kind; and the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the ^ghawk after his kind, and the ^hlittle owl, and the cormorant, and the great owl, and the swan, and the ⁱpelican, and the gier eagle, and the stork, the heron after his kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

All fowls that creep, going upon all four, shall be an ^eabomination unto you. Yet these may ye eat of every flying creeping thing that goeth upon all four, which have legs above their feet, to leap withal upon the earth; even these of them ye may eat; ^kthe locust after his kind, and the bald locust after his kind, and the beetle after his kind, and the grasshopper after his kind. But all other flying creeping things, which have four feet, shall be an abomination unto you.

And for these ye shall be unclean: whosoever toucheth the carcase of them shall be unclean until the even. And whosoever beareth ought of the carcase of them ^lshall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even. The carcasses of every beast which divideth the hoof, and is not clovenfooted, nor cheweth the cud, are unclean unto you: every one that toucheth them shall be unclean. And whatsoever goeth upon his paws, among all manner of beasts that go on all four, those are unclean unto you: whoso toucheth their carcase shall be unclean until the even. And he that beareth the carcase of them shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: they are unclean unto you.

These also shall be unclean unto you among the creeping things that creep upon the earth; the weasel, and ^mthe mouse, and the tortoise after his kind, and the ferret, and the chameleon, and the lizard, and the snail, and the mole.

These are unclean to you among all that creep: whosoever doth touch them, when they be dead, shall be unclean until the even. And upon whatsoever any of them, when they are dead, doth fall, it shall be unclean; whether it be any vessel of wood, or raiment, or skin, or sack, whatsoever vessel it be, wherein any work is done, ⁿit must be put into water, and it shall be unclean until the even; so it shall be cleansed. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel. ² saying, If a woman have conceived seed, and born a man child: then she shall be unclean seven days; ^aaccording to the days of the separation for her infirmity shall she be unclean. And in ³ the ^beighth day the flesh of his foreskin shall be circumcised. And she shall ⁴ then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirty days; she shall touch no hallowed thing, nor come into the sanctuary, until the days of her purifying be fulfilled. But if she bear ⁵ a maid child, then she shall be unclean two weeks, as in her separation: and she shall continue in the blood of her purifying threescore and six days. And ⁶ when the days of her purifying are fulfilled, for a son, or for a daughter, she shall bring a lamb ^tof the first year for a burnt offering, and a young pigeon, or a turtledove, for a sin offering, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest: who shall offer it ⁷ before the LORD, and make an atonement for her; and she shall be cleansed from the ^dissue of her blood. This is the law for her that hath born a male or ⁸ a female. And if [†]she be not able to bring a lamb, then she shall bring ^etwo turtles, or two young pigeons; [†]the one for the burnt offering, and the other for a sin offering: [‡]and the priest shall make an atonement for her, and she shall be clean.

him that hath the plague from his head even to his foot, wheresoever the priest looketh; then the priest shall consider: ¹³ and behold, if the leprosy have covered all his flesh, he shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: it is all turned white: he is clean. But when ¹⁴ raw flesh appeareth in him, he shall be unclean. And the priest shall see the ¹⁵ raw flesh, and pronounce him to be unclean: for the raw flesh is unclean: it is a leprosy. Or if the raw flesh turn ¹⁶ again, and be changed unto white, he shall come unto the priest; and the ¹⁷ priest shall see him: and behold, if the plague be turned into white; then the priest shall pronounce him clean that hath the plague: he is clean.

Job 2. 7.

The flesh also, in which, even in the ¹⁸ skin thereof, was a ^gboil, and is healed, and in the place of the boil there be a ¹⁹ white rising, or a bright spot, white, and somewhat reddish, and it be shewed to the priest; and if, when the priest seeth ²⁰ it, behold, it be in sight lower than the skin, and the hair thereof be turned white; the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy broken out of the boil. But if the priest look ²¹ on it, and behold, there be no white hairs therein, and if it be not lower than the skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days: and ²² if it spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague. ^h ver. 19.

Or if there be any flesh, in the skin ²⁴ whereof there is ⁱa hot burning, and the quick flesh that burneth have a white bright spot, ^hsomewhat reddish, or white; then the priest shall look upon it: and ²⁵ behold, if the hair in the bright spot be turned white, and it be in sight deeper than the skin; it is a leprosy broken out of the burning: wherefore the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy. But if the priest look on it, ²⁶ and behold, there be no white hair in the bright spot, and it be no lower than the other skin, but be somewhat dark; then the priest shall shut him up seven days: and the priest shall look upon him the ²⁷ seventh day: and if it be spread much abroad in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is the plague of leprosy. And if the bright spot stay ²⁸

ⁱ in his place, and spread not in the skin, but it be somewhat dark; it is a rising of the burning, and the priest shall pronounce him clean: for it is an inflammation of the burning. ¹ ver. 23.

²⁹ If a man or woman hath a plague ³⁰ upon the head or the beard; then the priest shall see the plague: and behold, if it be in sight deeper than the skin; and there be in it a yellow thin hair; then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a dry scall, even a leprosy upon the ³¹ head or beard. And if the priest look on the plague of the scall, and behold, it be not in sight deeper than the skin, and that there is no black hair in it; then the priest shall shut up him that hath ³² the plague of the scall seven days: and in the seventh day the priest shall look on the plague: and behold, if the scall spread not, and there be in it no yellow hair, and the scall be not in sight deeper ³³ than the skin; he shall be shaven, but the scall shall he not shave; and the priest shall shut up him that hath the ³⁴ scall seven days more: and in the seventh day the priest shall look on the scall: and behold, if the scall be not spread in the skin, nor be in sight deeper than the skin; then the priest shall pronounce him clean: and ^khe shall wash ^k ver. 6.

³⁸ If a man also or a woman have in the skin of their flesh bright spots, even ³⁹ white bright spots: then the priest shall look: and behold, if the bright spots in the skin of their flesh be darkish white; it is a freckled spot that groweth in the ⁴⁰ skin: he is clean. And the man whose ⁱhair is fallen off his head, he is bald: ⁱ Heb. head is pille.
So ver. 41.
⁴¹ yet is he clean. And he that hath his hair fallen off from the part of his head toward his face, he is forehead bald: yet ⁴² is he clean. And if there be in the bald head, or bald forehead, a white reddish sore; it is a leprosy sprung up in his ⁴³ bald head, or his bald forehead. Then the priest shall look upon it: and behold, if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his bald head, or in his bald forehead, as the leprosy appeareth in the skin of the flesh; he is a leprous man, ⁴⁴ he is unclean: the priest shall pronounce him utterly unclean, his plague is in his head. And the leper in whom the plague ⁴⁵ is, ¹his clothes shall be rent, and his head bare, and he shall ^mput a covering upon his upper lip, and shall cry, ⁿ"Unclean, unclean. All the days wherein ⁴⁶ the plague shall be in him he shall be defiled; he is unclean: he shall dwell alone; ^owithout the camp shall his habitation be.

The garment also that the plague of ⁴⁷ leprosy is in, whether it be a woollen garment, or a linen garment; whether it ⁴⁸ be in the warp, or woof; of linen, or of woollen; whether in a skin, or in any ⁴⁹ thing made of skin; and if the plague be ^pgreenish or reddish in the garment, or in the skin, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any ¹thing of skin; it is a plague of leprosy, and shall be shewed unto the priest: and the priest shall look ⁵⁰ upon the plague, and shut up it that hath the plague seven days: and he shall ⁵¹ look on the plague on the seventh day: if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in a skin, or in any work that is made of skin; the plague is ^qa fretting leprosy; it is unclean. He shall therefore burn ⁵² that garment, whether warp or woof, in woollen or in linen, or any thing of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a fretting leprosy; it shall be burnt in the fire. And if the priest shall look, and be- ⁵³ hold, the plague be not spread in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; then the priest shall command that they wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shall shut it up seven days more: and the priest shall look on the plague, after that it is washed: and behold, if the plague have not changed his colour, and the plague be not spread; it is unclean; thou shalt burn it in the fire; it is fret inward, ¹*whether it be* bare within or without. And if the priest look, and behold, the plague be somewhat dark after the washing of it; then he shall rend it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warp, or out of the woof: and if it appear still in the gar- ⁵⁷ ment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any thing of skin; it is a spreading plague: thou shalt burn that wherein the plague is with fire. And the gar- ⁵⁸

ment, either warp, or woof, or whatsoever thing of skin it be, which thou shalt wash, if the plague be departed from them, then it shall be washed the second time, and shall be clean. This is the law of the plague of leprosy in a garment of woollen or linen, either in the warp, or woof, or any thing of skins, to pronounce it clean, or to pronounce it unclean.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, XIV.
²saying, This shall be the law of the leper in the day of his cleansing: He ^ashall be brought unto the priest: and the priest shall go forth out of the camp; and the priest shall look, and behold, if the plague of leprosy be healed in the ⁴leper; then shall the priest command to take for him that is to be cleansed two ^bbirds alive and clean, and ^bcedar wood, ⁵and ^cscarlet, and ^dhyssop: and the priest shall command that one of the birds be killed in an earthen vessel over running ⁶water: as for the living bird, he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the scarlet, and the hyssop, and shall dip them and the living bird in the blood of the bird that was killed over the running water: and he shall ^esprinkle upon him that is to be cleansed from the leprosy ^fseven times, and shall pronounce him clean, and shall let the living bird loose ¹into the open field. ⁸And he that is to be cleansed ^gshall wash his clothes, and shave off all his hair, and wash himself in water, that he may be clean: and after that he shall come into the camp, and ^hshall tarry ⁹abroad out of his tent seven days. ^x ver. 24.

And the LORD spake unto Moses after ³⁴the death of the two sons of Aaron, when they offered before the LORD, and died; and the LORD said unto Moses, Speak unto Aaron thy brother, that he ³⁵come not at all times into the holy place within the vail before the mercy seat, which is upon the ark; that he die not: for ³⁶I will appear in the cloud upon the mercy seat. Thus shall Aaron come into the holy place: ³⁷with a young bullock for a sin offering, and ³⁸a ram for a burnt offering. He shall put on ³⁹the holy linen coat, and he shall have the linen breeches upon his flesh, and shall be girded with a linen girdle, and with the linen mitre shall he be attired: these ⁴⁰are holy garments; therefore ⁴¹shall he wash his flesh in water, and ⁴²so put them on. And he shall take of ⁴³the congregation of the children of Israel two kids of the goats for a sin offering, and one ⁴⁴ram for a burnt offering. And Aaron shall offer ⁴⁵his bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and make an atonement ⁴⁶for himself, and for his house. And he shall take the two goats, and present them before the LORD ⁴⁷at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats; one lot for the LORD, and ⁴⁸the other lot for the [†]scapegoat. And Aaron shall bring the goat upon which the LORD's lot ⁴⁹fell, and offer him for a sin offering. But the goat, on which the lot fell to be the scapegoat, shall be presented alive before the LORD, to make an atonement with him, and to let him go for a scapegoat into the wilderness. And Aaron shall bring ⁵⁰the bullock of the sin offering, which is for himself, and shall make an atonement for himself, and for his house, and shall kill the bullock of the sin offering which is for himself: and he shall take ⁵¹a censer full of burning coals of fire from off the altar before the LORD, and his hands full of ⁵²sweet incense beaten small, and bring ⁵³it within the vail: ⁵⁴and he shall put the incense upon the fire before the LORD, that the cloud of the incense may cover the ⁵⁵mercy seat that is upon the Testimony, that he die not: and ⁵⁶he shall take of the blood of the bullock, and ⁵⁷sprinkle it with his finger upon the

And he shall go out unto the altar that ^{is} before the LORD, and ^xmake an atonement for it; and shall take of the blood of the bullock, and of the blood of the goat, and put ^{it} upon the horns of the altar round about. And ^yhe shall sprinkle of the blood upon it with his finger seven times, and cleanse it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel. And when he ^yhath made an end of ^yreconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and ^zthe altar, he shall bring the live goat: and Aaron shall lay ^zboth his hands upon the head of the live goat, and confess over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their transgressions in all their sins, ^aputting them upon the head of the goat, and shall send ^{him} away by the hand of ^aa fit man into the wilderness: and the goat shall ^bbear upon him all their iniquities unto a land ^tnot inhabited: and he shall let go the goat in the wilderness. And Aaron shall come ^tinto the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall put off the linen garments, which he put on when he went into the holy place, and shall leave them there: and he shall wash his flesh with water ^din the holy place, and put on his garments, and come forth, ^dand offer his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himself, and for the people. And ^ethe fat of the sin offering shall he burn upon the altar. And he that let go the goat for the scapegoat shall wash his clothes, ^fand bathe his flesh in water, and afterward come into the camp. ^sAnd the bullock for the sin offering, and the goat for the sin offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, shall ^{one} carry forth without the camp; and they shall burn in the fire their skins, and their flesh, and their dung. And he that burneth them shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp.

²⁹ And ^{this} shall be a statute for ever unto you: ^{that} ^hin the seventh month, on the tenth ^{day} of the month, ye ⁱshall afflict your souls, and do no work ^{at all}, ^{whether it be} one of your own country, or a stranger that sojourneth among you: for on that day shall ^{the priest} make an atonement for you, to ^kcleanse you, ^{that ye may be clean} from all your sins before the LORD. ^lIt ^{shall be} a sabbath of rest unto you, and ye shall afflict your souls, ^{by} a statute for ever. ³² And the priest, ^mwhom he shall anoint, and whom he shall ^{consecrate} ⁿto minister in the priest's office in his father's stead, shall make the atonement, and ^oshall put on the linen clothes, ^{even} the holy garments: and he shall make an atonement for ^pthe holy sanctuary, and he shall make an atonement for ^pthe tabernacle of the congregation, and for ^qthe altar, and he shall make an atonement for ^rthe priests, and for ^sall the people of the congregation. they may bring them unto the LORD, unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, unto the priest, and offer them ^dfor peace offerings unto the LORD. And the priest ^dshall sprinkle the blood upon the altar of the LORD at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burn the fat ^efor a sweet savour unto the LORD. And they shall no more offer their sacrifices ^funto devils, after whom they ^ghave gone a whoring. This shall be a statute for ever unto them throughout their generations. And thou shalt say unto them, Whatsoever man there be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which sojourn among you, ^hthat offereth a burnt offering or sacrifice, and ⁱbringeth it not unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it unto the LORD; even that man shall be cut off from among his people.

And whatsoever man there be of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, ^kthat eateth any manner of blood; I will even ^lset my face against that soul that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people. ^mFor the life of the flesh is in the blood: and I have given it to you upon the altar ⁿto make an atonement for your souls: for ^o*it is* the blood that maketh an atonement for the soul. Therefore I said unto the children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood, neither shall any stranger that sojourneth among you eat blood. And whatsoever man there be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that sojourn among you, ^pwhich hunteth and catcheth any beast or fowl that may be eaten; he shall even ^qpour out the blood thereof, and ^rcover it with dust. ^sFor it is the life of all flesh; the blood of it is for the life thereof: therefore I said unto the children of Israel, Ye shall eat the blood of no manner of flesh: for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoever eateth it shall be cut off. ^tAnd every soul that eateth ^uthat which died of itself, or ^vthat which was torn with beasts, whether it be ^wone of your own country, or a stranger, ^xhe shall both wash his clothes, ^yand bathe himself in water, and be unclean until the even: then shall he be clean. But if he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh; then ^zhe shall bear his iniquity.

XVIII. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, ^a*I am* the LORD your God. ^bAfter the doings of the land of Egypt, wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not do: and ^cafter the doings of the land of Canaan, whither I bring you, shall ye not do: neither shall ye walk in their ^dordinances. ^eYe shall do my judgments, and keep mine ordinances, to walk therein: I am the LORD your God. Ye shall therefore keep my statutes, and my judgments: ^fwhich if a man do, he shall live in them: I am the LORD.

^gNone of you shall approach to any that is ^hnear of kin to him, to uncover ⁱtheir nakedness: I am the LORD. ^jThe nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, shalt thou not uncover: she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. ^kThe nakedness of thy father's wife shalt thou not uncover: it is thy father's nakedness. ^lThe nakedness of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or born abroad, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover. The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or of thy daughter's daughter, even their nakedness thou shalt not uncover: for theirs ^mis thine own nakedness. The nakedness of thy father's wife's daughter, begotten of thy father, she is thy sister, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness. ⁿThou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister: she is thy father's near kinswoman. Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of a woman and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her son's daughter, or her daughter's daughter, to uncover her nakedness; for they are her near kinswomen: ^q*it is* wickedness. Neither shalt thou take ^ra wife to her sister, ^sto vex her, to uncover her nakedness, ^tbesides the other in her life time. ^uAlso thou shalt not approach unto a woman to Thou shalt not lie with mankind, as with womankind: it is abomination. ^eNeither shalt thou lie with any beast to defile thyself therewith: neither shall any woman stand before a beast to lie down thereto: it is confusion. ^fDefile not you yourselves in any of these things: ^gfor in all these the nations are defiled which I cast out before you: and ^hthe land is defiled: therefore I do ⁱvisit the iniquity thereof upon it, and the land itself ^jvomiteth out her inhabitants. ^kYe shall therefore keep my statutes and my judgments, and shall not commit any of these abominations; neither any of your own nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you: (for all these abominations have the men of the land done, which were before you, and the land is defiled;) that ^lthe land spue not you out also, when ye defile it, as it spued out the nations that were before you. For whosoever shall commit any of these abominations, even the souls that commit them ^mshall be cut off from among their people. ⁿTherefore ye shall keep mine ordinance, ^othat ye commit not any one of these abominable customs, which were committed before you, and that ye ^pdefile not yourselves therein: I am the LORD your God.

XIX.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto all the congregation of the children of Israel, and say unto them, ^aYe shall be holy: for I the LORD your God am holy. ^bYe shall fear every man his mother, and his father, and ^ckeep my sabbaths: I am the LORD your God. Turn ye not unto ^didols, ^enor make to yourselves molten gods: I am the LORD your God.

And if ye offer a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD, ye shall offer it ^fat your own will. It shall be eaten the same day ye offer it, and on the morrow: and if ought remain until the third day, it shall be burnt in the fire. And if it be eaten at all on the third day, it is ^gabominable; it shall not be accepted. Therefore every one that eateth it ^hshall bear his iniquity, because he hath profaned the hallowed thing of the LORD: and ⁱthat soul shall be cut off from among his people.

And ^jwhen ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shalt thou gather the gleanings of thy harvest. And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather every grape of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and stranger: I am the LORD your God. ^kYe shall not steal, ^lneither deal falsely. neither lie one to another. And ye shall not ^mswear by my name falsely, ⁿneither shalt thou profane the name of thy God: I am the LORD. Thou shalt not ^odefraud thy neighbour, neither rob him: ^pthe wages of him that is hired shall not abide with thee all night until the morning. Thou shalt not ^qcurse the deaf. ^rnor put a stumblingblock before the blind, but shalt ^sfear thy God: I am the LORD. ^tYe shall do no unrighteousness in judgment: thou shalt not respect the person of the poor, nor honour the person of the mighty: but in righteousness shalt thou judge thy neighbour. ^uThou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people: neither shalt thou ^vstand against the blood of thy neighbour: I am the LORD. ^wThou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: ^xthou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, ^yand not suffer sin upon him. ^zThou shalt not avenge, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people, but ^{aa}thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself: I am the LORD.

Ye shall keep my statutes. Thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with a diverse kind: ^athou shalt not sow thy field with mingled seed: ^bneither shall a garment mingled of linen and woollen come upon thee. And whosoever lieth carnally with a woman that is a bondmaid, ^chetrothed to a husband, and not at all redeemed, nor freedom given her; ^dshe shall be scourged, they shall not be put to death, because she was not free. Ye shall therefore keep all my ^hstatutes, and all my judgments, and do them: that the land, whither I bring you to dwell therein, ⁱspue you not out. And ye shall not walk in ^kthe manners of the nation, which I cast out before you: for they committed all these ^{things}, and ^ltherefore I abhorred them. But I ^mhave said unto you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it unto you to possess it, a land ⁿthat floweth with milk and honey: I ^{am} the LORD your God, ^owhich have separated you from ^{other} people. XXI. And the LORD said unto Moses. Speak unto the priests the sons of Aaron, and say unto them, ^aThere shall none be defiled for the dead among his people: but for his kin, that is near unto him, ^bthat is, for his mother, and for his father, and for his son, and for his daughter, and for his brother, and for his sister a virgin, that is nigh unto him, which hath had no husband; for her may he be defiled. ^cBut [†]he shall not defile himself, ^dbeing a chief man among his people, to profane himself. ^bThey shall not make baldness upon their head, neither shall they shave off the corner of their beard, nor make any cuttings in their flesh. ^cThey shall be holy unto their God, and ^enot profane the name of their God: for the offerings of the LORD made by fire, ^{and} ^dthe bread of their God, they do offer: therefore they shall be holy. ^eThey shall not take a wife ^{that is} a whore, or profane; neither shall they take a woman ^fput away from her husband: for he ^{is} holy unto his God. Thou shalt sanctify him therefore; for he offereth the bread of thy God: he shall be holy unto thee: for ^gI the LORD, which sanctify you, ^{am} holy. And the daughter of any priest, if she profane herself by playing the whore, she profaneth her father: ^hshe shall be burnt with fire.

ⁱAnd ^{he that is} ^kthe high priest among his brethren, upon whose head the anointing oil was poured, and ^lthat is consecrated to put on the garments, ^lshall not uncover his head, nor rend his clothes: neither shall he ^mgo in to any dead body, nor defile himself for his father, or for his mother; ⁿneither shall he go out of the sanctuary, nor profane the sanctuary of his God; for ^othe crown of the anointing oil of his God ^{is} upon him: I ^{am} the LORD. And ^phe shall take a wife in her virginity. A widow, or a divorced woman, or profane, ^{or} a harlot, these shall he not take: but he shall take a virgin of his own people to wife. Neither shall he profane his seed among his people: for ^qI the LORD do sanctify him. ^rAnd the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto Aaron, saying, Whosoever ^{he be} of thy seed in their generations that hath ^{any} blemish, let him not ^rapproach to offer the ^{bread} of his God. For whatsoever man ^{he be} that hath a blemish, he shall not approach: a ^sblind man, or a lame, or he that hath a flat nose, or any thing ^tsuperfluous, or a man that is brokenfooted, or brokenhanded, or crookbackt, or ^ua dwarf, or that hath a blemish in his eye, or be ^vscurvy, or ^wscabbed, or ^xhath his stones broken: no man that hath a blemish, of the seed of Aaron the priest, shall come nigh to offer the offerings of the LORD made by fire: he hath a blemish; he shall not come nigh to offer the bread of his God. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, ² and say unto them, Concerning ^a the feasts of the LORD, which ye shall ^b proclaim to be ^c holy convocations, even these are my feasts.

^d Six days shall work be done: but the ³ seventh day is the sabbath of rest, a ^c holy convocation; ye shall do no work therein: it is the sabbath of the LORD in all your dwellings.

These are the feasts of the LORD, even ⁴ ^c holy convocations, which ye shall ^b proclaim in their seasons. ^e In the fourteenth ⁵ day of the first month at even is the LORD's passover. And on the fifteenth ⁶ day of the same month is the feast of unleavened bread unto the LORD: seven days ye must eat unleavened bread. ^f In the first day ye shall have a ⁷ holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein. But ye shall offer an offering made by fire unto the LORD seven days: in the seventh day is a holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work therein.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, ⁹ saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, ¹⁰ and say unto them, ^g When ye be come into the land which I give unto you, and shall reap the harvest thereof, then ye shall bring a ^h ⁱ sheaf of the firstfruits of your harvest unto the priest: and he shall ¹¹ ^j wave the sheaf before the LORD, ⁱ to be accepted for you: on the morrow after the sabbath the priest shall wave it. And ye shall offer that day when ye ¹² wave the sheaf a he lamb without blemish of the first year for a burnt offering unto the LORD. ¹³ And the meat offering thereof shall be two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, an offering made by fire unto the LORD for a sweet savour: and the drink offering thereof shall be of wine, the fourth ¹⁴ part of a hin. And ye shall eat neither bread, nor ^k parched corn, nor ^k green ears, until the selfsame day that ye have brought an offering unto your God: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

And ¹⁵ ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wave offering; seven sabbaths shall be complete:

¹⁶ even unto the morrow after the seventh sabbath shall ye number ^m fifty days; and ye shall offer ⁿ a new meat offering unto

est, neither shalt thou gather any glean- ing of thy harvest: thou shalt leave them unto the poor, and to the stranger: I am the LORD your God.

Ye shall have ²³ one manner of law, as well for the stranger, as for one of your own country: for I am the LORD your God. And Moses spake ²⁴ to the children of Israel, ²⁵ that they should bring forth him that had cursed out of the camp, and stone him with stones. And the children of Israel did as the LORD commanded Moses.

XXV.

And the LORD spake unto Moses in mount Sinai, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into the land which I give you, then shall the land ² keep ³ a sabbath unto the LORD. Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof; but in the seventh ⁴ year shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath for the LORD: thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard. ⁵ That which groweth of it own accord of thy harvest thou shalt not reap, neither gather the grapes ⁶ of thy vine undressed: for it is a year of rest unto the land. And the sabbath of the land shall be meat for you; for thee, and for thy servant, and for thy maid, and for thy hired servant, and for thy stranger that sojourneth with thee, and ⁷ for thy cattle, and for the beast that are in thy land, shall all the increase thereof be meat.

And thou shalt number seven ⁸ sabbaths of years unto thee, seven times seven years; and the space of the seven sabbaths of years shall be unto thee forty and nine years. Then shalt thou ⁹ cause the trumpet ¹⁰ of the jubile to sound on the tenth day of the seventh month, ¹¹ in the day of atonement shall ye make the trumpet sound throughout all your land. And ye shall hallow the fiftieth ¹² year, and proclaim ¹³ liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof: it shall be a jubile unto you; ¹⁴ and ye shall return every man unto his possession, and ye shall return every man unto his family. A jubile shall ¹⁵ that fiftieth year be unto you: ¹⁶ ye shall not sow, neither reap that which groweth of itself in it, nor gather the grapes

³⁶ The land shall not be sold ³⁷ for ever: for ³⁸ the land is mine; for ye were ³⁹ strangers and sojourners with me. And in all the land of your possession ye shall ⁴⁰ grant a redemption for the land. If thy brother be waxen poor, and hath sold away some of his possession, and if ⁴¹ any of his kin come to redeem it, ⁴² then shall he redeem that which his brother sold. And if the man have none to redeem it, ⁴³ and ⁴⁴ himself be able to redeem it; then ⁴⁵ let him count the years of the sale thereof, and restore the overplus unto the man to whom he sold it; that he ⁴⁶ may return unto his possession. But if he be not able to restore it to him, then that which is sold shall remain in the hand of him that hath bought it until the year of jubile: and in the jubile it shall go out, and he shall return unto ⁴⁷ his possession. And if a man sell a dwelling house in a walled city, then he

And if it be not redeemed ³⁰ within the space of a full year, then the house that is in the walled city shall be established for ever to him that bought it throughout his generations: it shall not go out in the jubile. But the houses of ³¹ the villages which have no wall round about them shall be counted as the fields of the country: [†]they may be redeemed, and they shall go out in the jubile. Notwithstanding ^dthe cities of the Le- ³² vites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Levites redeem at any time. And if [†]a man purchase ³³ of the Levites, then the house that was sold, and the city of his possession, ^eshall go out in the year of jubile: for the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession among the children of Israel. But the field ^fof the suburbs of ³⁴ their cities may not be sold; for it is their perpetual possession.

And if thy brother be waxen poor, ³⁵ and [†]fallen in decay with thee; then thou shalt [†]relieve him: yea, though he be a stranger, or a sojourner; that he may live with thee. ^hTake thou no ³⁶ usury of him, or increase: but [†]fear thy God; that thy brother may live with thee. Thou shalt not give him thy money ³⁷ upon usury, nor lend him thy victuals for increase. ^k*I am* the LORD your God, ³⁸ which brought you forth out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Canaan, and to be your God.

And [†]if thy brother that dwelleth by ³⁹ thee be waxen poor, and be sold unto thee; thou shalt not [†]compel him to serve as a bondservant: but as a hired ⁴⁰ servant, and as a sojourner, he shall be with thee, and shall serve thee unto the year of jubile: and then shall he depart ⁴¹ from thee, ^m*both* he and his children with him, and shall return unto ⁿhis own family, and ⁿunto the possession of his fathers shall he return. For they ⁴² are ^omy servants, which I brought forth out of the land of Egypt: they shall not be sold [†]as bondmen. ^pThou shalt not ⁴³ rule over him ^qwith rigour; but [†]shalt fear thy God. Both thy bondmen, and ⁴⁴ thy bondmaids, which thou shalt have, shall be of the heathen that are round about you; of them shall ye buy bondmen and bondmaids. Moreover of the ⁴⁵ children of the strangers that do sojourn among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begat in your land: and they shall be your possession. And ^sye shall take them as an inheritance for your children after you, to inherit them for a possession; [†]they shall be your bondmen for ever: but over your brethren the children of Israel, [†]ye shall not rule one over another with rigour.

⁵¹ If there be yet many years behind, ^bac- cording unto them he shall give again the price of his redemption out of the ⁵² money that he was bought for. And if there remain but few years unto the year of jubile, then he shall count with him, and according unto his years shall he give him again the price of his redemption. ⁵³ And as a yearly hired servant shall he be with him: and the other shall not rule ^cwith rigour over him in thy sight. AND the LORD spake unto Moses ^ain the wilderness of Sinai, ^bin the tabernacle of the congregation, on the first day of the second month, in the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying, ^cTake ye the sum ²of all the congregation of the children of Israel, after their families, by the house of their fathers, with the number of their names, every male by ^dtheir polls; from twenty years old and upward, all that are able to go forth to war in Israel: thou and Aaron shall number them by their armies. And ⁴with you there shall be a man of every tribe; every one head of the house of his fathers.

And these are the names of the men ⁵that shall stand with you: of the tribe of Reuben; Elizur the son of Shedeur. Of ⁶Simeon; Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai. Of Judah; ^eNahshon the son of Amminadab. Of Issachar; Nethaneel ⁸the son of Zuar. Of Zebulun; Eliab ⁹the son of Helon. Of the children of ¹⁰Joseph: of Ephraim; Elishama the son of Ammihud: of Manasseh; Gamaliel the son of Pedahzur. Of Benjamin; ¹¹Abidan the son of Gideoni. Of Dan; ¹²Ahiezer the son of Ammishaddai. Of ¹³Asher; Pagiel the son of Ocran. Of ¹⁴Gad; Eliasaph the son of ^fDeuel. Of ¹⁵Naphtali; Ahira the son of Enan. These were the renowned of the con- ¹⁶gregation, ^gprinces of the tribes of their fathers, ^hheads of thousands in Israel. And Moses and Aaron took these men ¹⁷which ^hare expressed by their names: and they assembled all the congregation ¹⁸together on the first day of the second month, and they declared their pedigrees after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old ¹⁹and upward, by their polls. As the LORD commanded Moses, so he numbered them in the wilderness of Sinai.

²⁰And the children of Reuben, Israel's eldest son, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, by their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, all that ²¹*were able to go forth to war*; those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Reuben, were forty and six ²²thousand and five hundred. Of the children of Asher, by their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war; those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Asher, were forty and one thousand and five hundred. Of the children of Naphtali, throughout their generations, after their families, by the house of their fathers, according to the number of the names, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war; those that were numbered of them, even of the tribe of Naphtali, were fifty and three thousand and four hundred. ⁱThese ¹are those that were numbered, which Moses and Aaron numbered, and the princes of Israel, being twelve men: each one was for the house of his fathers. ⁴⁵So were all those that were numbered of the children of Israel, by the house of their fathers, from twenty years old and upward, all that were able to go forth to war in Israel; even all they that were numbered were ¹six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.

⁴⁷But ^kthe Levites after the tribe of their fathers were not numbered among them. For the LORD had spoken unto ⁴⁸Moses, saying, Only thou shalt not number the tribe of Levi, neither take the sum of them among the children of Israel: ⁵⁰but thou shalt appoint the Levites over the tabernacle of Testimony, and over all the vessels thereof, and over all things that belong to it: they shall bear the tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof; and they shall minister unto it, ^mand shall encamp round about the tabernacle. ⁿAnd when the tabernacle setteth forward, the Levites shall take it down: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Levites shall set it up: ^oand the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death. And the children of Israel shall pitch their tents, every man by his own camp, and ^pevery man by his own standard, throughout their hosts. ^qBut the Levites shall pitch round about the tabernacle of Testimony, that there be no ^rwrath upon the congregation of the children of Israel: and the Levites ^sshall keep the charge of the tabernacle of Testimony. And the children of Israel did according to all that the LORD commanded Moses, so did they.

And the LORD spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying, ^aEvery man of the children of Israel shall pitch by his own standard, with the ensign of their father's house: ^bfar off about the tabernacle of the congregation shall they pitch.

³And on the east side toward the rising of the sun shall they of the standard of the camp of Judah pitch throughout their armies: and ^cNahshon the son of

And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and he shall blot them out with the bitter water: and he shall cause the woman to drink the bitter water that causeth the curse: and the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter. Then the priest²⁵ shall take the jealousy offering out of the woman's hand, and shall [†]wave the offering before the LORD, and offer it upon the altar: and the priest²⁶ shall take a handful of the offering, even the memorial thereof, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward shall cause the woman to drink the water. And when²⁷ he hath made her to drink the water, then it shall come to pass, that if she be defiled, and have done trespass against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman²⁸ shall be a curse among her people. And if the woman be not defiled, but be clean; then she shall be free, and shall conceive seed. This is the law of²⁹ jealousies, when a wife goeth aside to another [†]instead of her husband, and is defiled; or when the spirit of jealousy cometh upon him, and he be jealous over his wife, and shall set the woman before the LORD, and the priest shall execute upon her all this law. Then³¹ shall the man be guiltless from iniquity, and this woman ²shall bear her iniquity.

VI.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel,² and say unto them, When either man or woman shall [†]separate themselves to vow a vow of [†]a Nazarite, [†]to separate themselves unto the LORD: he shall separate ³himself from [†]wine and strong drink, and shall drink no vinegar of wine, or vinegar of strong drink, neither shall he drink any liquor of grapes, nor eat moist grapes, or dried. All the days of his⁴ separation shall he eat nothing that is made of the [†]vine tree, from the kernels even to the husk. All the days of the⁵ vow of his separation there shall no [†]razor come upon his head: until the days be fulfilled, in the which he separateth himself unto the LORD, he shall be holy, and shall let [†]the locks of the 6 hair of his head grow. All the days that he separateth himself unto the LORD [†]he[†] shall come at no dead body. ⁸He shall not make himself unclean for his father, or for his mother, for his brother, or for his sister, when they die: because the[†] consecration of his God is upon his⁸ head. All the days of his separation he⁹ is holy unto the LORD. And if any man die [†]very suddenly by him, and he hath defiled the head of his consecration; then he shall [†]shave his head in the day of his cleansing, on the seventh day shall¹⁰ he shave it. And [†]on the eighth day he shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the door of the¹¹ tabernacle of the congregation: and the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, and make an atonement for him, for that he sinned by the dead, and shall¹² hallow his head that same day. And he shall consecrate unto the LORD the days of his separation, and shall bring a lamb of the first year [†]for a trespass offering: but the days that were before shall [†]be lost, because his separation was defiled.

 13 And this is the law of the Nazarite, [†]when the days of his separation are fulfilled: he shall be brought unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and he shall offer his offering unto the LORD, one he lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish [†]for a sin offering, and one ram[†] without blemish [†]for peace offerings, and a basket of unleavened bread, [†]cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread [†]anointed with oil, and their meat offering, and their [†]drink[†] offerings. And the priest shall bring them before the LORD, and shall offer¹⁵ his sin offering, and [†]his burnt offering: and he shall offer [†]the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD, with the basket of unleavened bread: the priest shall offer also [†]his meat offering,¹⁸ and his drink offering. And the Nazarite [†]shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the hair of the head of his separation, and put it in the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings. And the priest shall take the [†]sodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and [†]shall put them upon the hands of the Nazarite,

VII. And it came to pass on the day that ^aMoses had fully ¹⁷set up the tabernacle, and had ¹⁸anointed it, and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, both the altar and all the vessels thereof, and had anointed them, and sanctified them; ¹⁹that the princes of Israel, ^bheads of the house of their fathers, who were the princes of the tribes, ^cand were over them that were numbered, offered: and they brought their offering before the LORD, six ^ecovered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon for two of the princes, and for each one an ox: and they brought them before the tabernacle. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Take it of them, that they may be to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; and thou shalt give them unto the Levites, to every man according to his service. And Moses took the wagons and the oxen, and gave them unto the Levites. Two wagons and four oxen ^dhe gave unto the sons of Gershon, according to their service: and four wagons and eight oxen ^ehe gave unto the sons of Merari, according unto their service, under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest. But unto the sons of Kohath he gave none: because ^fthe service of the sanctuary belonging unto them ^gwas that they should bear upon ^htheir shoulders. And the princes offered ⁱfor ^jdedicating of the altar in the day that it was anointed, even the princes offered their offering before the altar.

11 And the LORD said unto Moses, They shall offer their offering, each prince on his day, for ^hthe dedicating of the altar.

12 And he that offered his offering the first day was ⁱNahshon the son of Am-

And the LORD spake unto Moses in the wilderness of Sinai, ¹in the first month of the second year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying, Let the children of Israel also ²keep ³the passover at his appointed season.  then they journeyed: whether it was by day or by night that the cloud was taken up, they journeyed. Or whether it were ²² two days, or a month, ^xor a year, that the cloud tarried upon the tabernacle, remaining thereon, the children of Israel ^yabode in their tents, and journeyed not: but when it was taken up, they journeyed. At the commandment of the ²³ LORD they rested in the tents, and at the commandment of the LORD they journeyed; they ^zkept the charge of the LORD, at the commandment of the LORD
 by the hand of Moses.

X.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Make thee two trumpets of silver; of ^aa whole piece thou shalt make them: that thou mayest use them for the ^bcalling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps. And ³ when ^cthey shall blow with them, all the assembly shall assemble themselves to thee at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. And if they blow ⁴ with one trumpet, then the princes, which are ^dheads of the thousands of Israel, shall gather themselves unto thee. When ⁵ ye blow ^ean alarm, then ^fthe camps that lie on the east parts shall go forward.
 When you blow ^ean alarm the second ⁶ time, then the camps that lie ^gon the south side shall take their journey: they shall blow ^ean alarm for their journeys.
 But when the congregation is to be ⁷ gathered together, you shall blow, but you shall not ^hsound an alarm. ¹And the sons of Aaron, the priests, shall blow ⁸ with the trumpets; and they shall be to you for an ordinance for ever throughout your generations. And ^kif ye go ⁹ to war in your land against the enemy that ^loppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets; and ye shall be ^mremembered before the LORD your God, and ye shall be saved from your 10 enemies. Also ⁿin the day of your gladness, and in your solemn days, and ^oin the beginnings of your months, ye shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings; that they may be to you for a memorial before your God: I am the LORD your God.

11 And it came to pass on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud ^pwas taken up from off the tabernacle of the Testimony.

12 And the children of Israel took ^qtheir journeys out of the ^rwilderness of Sinai;
 and the cloud rested in the ^swilderness 13 of Paran. And they first took their journey ^taccording to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Moses. ^uIn the first place went the standard of the camp of the children of Judah according to their armies: and over his host was ^xNahshon the son of Am-minadab. And over the host of the 15 tribe of the children of Issachar was 16 Nethaneel the son of Zuar. And over the host of the tribe of the children of Zebulun was Eliab the son of Helon.
 17 And ^ythe tabernacle was taken down; ^yand the sons of Gershon and the sons of Merari set forward, ^zbearing the tabernacle.

18 And ^athe standard of the camp of Reuben set forward according to their armies: and over his host was ^bElizur 19 the son of Shedeur. And over the host of the tribe of the children of Simeon was Shelumiel the son of Zurishaddai.
 20 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Gad was Eliasaph the son 21 of Deuel. And the Kohathites set forward, bearing the ^csanctuary: and ^dthe other did set up the tabernacle against they came.

22 And ^dthe standard of the camp of the children of Ephraim set forward according to their armies: and over his host was ^eElishama the son of Ammihud.
 23 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Manasseh was Gamaliel the 24 son of Pedahzur. And over the host of the tribe of the children of Benjamin was Abidan the son of Gideoni.

25 And ^fthe standard of the camp of the children of Dan set forward, which was ^gthe rereward of all the camps throughout their hosts: and over his host was 26 ^hAhiezzer the son of Ammishaddai. And dren of Asher was Pagiel the son of Ocran. And over the host of the tribe of the children of Naphtali was Ahira the son of Enan. [†]Thus were the journeyings of the children of Israel according to their armies, when they set forward.

And Moses said unto Hobab, the son of [†]Raguel the Midianite, Moses' father in law, We are journeying unto the place of which the LORD said, [†]I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for [†]the LORD hath spoken good concerning Israel. And he said unto him, I will not go; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred. And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us [†]instead of eyes. And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that [†]what goodness the LORD shall do unto us, the same will we do unto thee.

And they departed from [†]the mount of the LORD three days' journey: and the ark of the covenant of the LORD [†]went before them in the three days' journey, to search out [†]a resting place for them. And [†]the cloud of the LORD was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp. And it came to pass, when the ark set forward, that Moses said,

[†]Rise up, LORD, and let thine enemies be scattered;
And let them that hate thee flee before thee.

And when it rested, he said,
Return, O LORD, unto the [†]many thousands of Israel.

And [†]when the people [†]complained, [†]it displeased the LORD: and the LORD heard it; [†]and his anger was kindled; and the [†]fire of the LORD burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp. And the people cried unto Moses; and when Moses [†]prayed unto the LORD, the fire [†]was quenched. And he called the name of the place [†]Taberah: because the fire of the LORD burnt among them.

And the [†]mixt multitude that was among them [†]fell a lusting: and the children of Israel also [†]wept again, and said, [†]Who shall give us flesh to eat?

[†]That is, A burning. Deut. 9. 22. [†]As Ex. 12. 38. [†]Heb. lusted a lust. [†]Heb. returned and wept. [†]Ps. 106. 14. So Ps. 78. 18.

[†]We remember the fish, which we did eat in Egypt freely; the cucumbers, and the melons, and the leeks, and the onions, and the garlick: but now our soul is dried away: there is nothing at all, beside this manna, before our eyes.

And [†]the manna was as coriander seed, and the [†]colour thereof as the colour of [†]bdellium. And the people [†]went about, and gathered it, and ground it in mills, or beat it in a mortar, and baked it in pans, and made cakes of it: and the taste of it was as the taste of [†]fresh oil.

And [†]when the dew fell upon the camp in the night, the manna fell upon it.

Then Moses heard the people weep throughout their families, every man in the door of his tent: and the anger of the LORD was kindled greatly; Moses also [†]was displeased. And Moses said unto the LORD, Wherefore hast thou afflicted thy servant? and wherefore have I not found favour in thy sight, that thou layest the burden of all this people upon me? Have I conceived all this people? have I begotten them, that thou shouldest say unto me, [†]Carry them in thy bosom, as a [†]nursing father beareth the sucking child, unto the land which thou [†]swarest unto their fathers?

[†]Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people? for they weep unto me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat. [†]I am not able to bear all this people alone, because it is too heavy for me. And if thou deal thus with me, [†]kill me, I pray thee, out of hand, if I have found favour in thy sight; and let me not [†]see my wretchedness.

And the LORD said unto Moses, Gather unto me [†]seventy men of the elders of Israel, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and [†]officers over them; and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, that they may stand there with thee. And I will [†]come down and talk with thee there: and [†]I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear [†]the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone. And say thou unto the people, [†]Sanctify yourselves against to morrow, and ye shall eat flesh: for you have wept in the ears of the LORD, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat? [†]for it was well with us in Egypt: therefore the LORD will give you flesh, and ye shall eat. Ye shall not eat one day, nor two days, nor five days, neither ten days, nor twenty days; but even a ²⁰ whole month, [†]until it come out at your nostrils, and it be loathsome unto you: because that ye have despised the LORD which is amongst you, and have wept before him, saying, [§]Why came we forth out of Egypt? And Moses said, ^hThe ²¹ people, amongst whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month. Shall the ²² flocks and the herds be slain for them, to [†]suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to [†]suffice them? And the LORD said ²³ unto Moses, ^kIs the LORD's hand waxed short? thou shalt see now whether [†]my word shall come to pass unto thee or not. And Moses went out, and told ²⁴ the people the words of the LORD, and ^mgathered the seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the tabernacle. And the LORD ²⁵ came down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and ⁿtook of the spirit that was upon him, and gave it unto the seventy elders: and it came to pass, that when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and did not cease. But there remained ²⁶ two of the men in the camp, the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Medad: and the spirit rested upon them; and they were of them that were written, but ^owent not out unto the tabernacle: and they prophesied in the camp. And there ran a young man, ²⁷ and told Moses, and said, Eldad and Medad do prophesy in the camp. And ²⁸ Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of Moses, ^qone of his young men, answered and said, My lord Moses, ^rforbid them. And Moses said unto him, Enviest thou ²⁹ for my sake? ^swould God that all the LORD's people were prophets, and that the LORD would put his spirit upon them! And Moses gat him into the ³⁰ camp, he and the elders of Israel.

And there went forth a [†]wind from ³¹ the LORD, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, [†]as it were a day's journey on this side, and [†]as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth. And the people stood up all ³² that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered the quails: he that gathered least gathered ten ⁿho-mers: and they spread them all abroad for themselves round about the camp.

³³ And while the ^xflesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the LORD was kindled against the people, and the LORD smote the people ³⁴ with a very great plague. And he called the name of that place [†]Kibroth-hattaavah: because there they buried the ³⁵ people that lusted. ^yAnd the people journeyed from Kibroth-hattaavah unto Hazereth; and [†]abode at Hazereth.

And Miriam and Aaron spake against Moses because of the [†]Ethiopian woman whom he had [†]married: for ²he had [†]married an [†]Ethiopian woman. And they said, Hath the LORD indeed spoken only by Moses? ^bhath he not spoken also by us? And the LORD ^cheard it. ³(Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the ⁴ face of the earth.) ^dAnd the LORD spake suddenly unto Moses, and unto Aaron, and unto Miriam, Come out ye three unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out. ^eAnd the LORD came down in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the door of the tabernacle, and called Aaron and Miriam:

⁶ and they both came forth. And he said, Hear now my words: If there be a prophet among you, ^fI the LORD will make myself known unto him [†]in a vision; and will speak unto him [§]in a dream.

⁷ ^hMy servant Moses is not so, ⁱwho is faithful in all ^kmine house. With him will I speak [†]mouth to mouth, even apparently, and not in ^mdark speeches; and ⁿthe similitude of the LORD shall he behold: wherefore then were ye not afraid to speak against ^omy servant Mo- ⁹ses? And the anger of the LORD was kindled against them; and he departed.

¹⁰ And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle; and ^pbehold, Miriam became ^qleprous, white as snow: and Aaron looked upon Miriam, and behold, she ¹¹ was leprous. And Aaron said unto Mo- ses, Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, ^rlay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly, and wherein we have ¹² sinned. Let her not be as one dead, of whom the flesh is half consumed when he cometh out of his mother's womb. ¹³ And Moses cried unto the LORD, saying, Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee. ¹⁴ And the LORD said unto Moses, If her father had but ^sspit in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days? let her be ^tshut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again. And Miriam ^uwas shut out from 15 the camp seven days: and the people journeyed not till Miriam was brought in again. And afterward the people re- 16 moved from ^xHazereth, and pitched ^yin the wilderness of Paran.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^aSend thou men, that they may 2 search the land of Canaan, which I give unto the children of Israel: of every tribe of their fathers shall ye send a man, every one a ruler among them. And Moses by the commandment of 3 the LORD sent them ^bfrom the wilderness of Paran: all those men were heads of the children of Israel. And these 4 were their names: of the tribe of Reuben, Shammua the son of Zaccur. Of 5 the tribe of Simeon, Shaphat the son of Hori. ^cOf the tribe of Judah, ^dCaleb 6 the son of Jephunneh. Of the tribe of 7 Issachar, Igal the son of Joseph. Of the tribe of Ephraim, ^eOshea the son of Nun. Of the tribe of Benjamin, Palti 9 the son of Raphu. Of the tribe of 10 Zebulun, Gaddiel the son of Sodi. Of 11 the tribe of Joseph, namely, of the tribe of Manasseh, Gaddi the son of Susi. Of 12 the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the son of Gemalli. Of the tribe of Asher, Sethur 13 the son of Michael. Of the tribe of 14 Naphtali, Nahbi the son of Vophsi. Of 15 the tribe of Gad, Geuel the son of Machi. These are the names of the 16 men which Moses sent to spy out the land. And Moses called ^fOshea the 17 son of Nun, Jehoshua. And Moses sent 18 them to spy out the land of Canaan, and said unto them, Get you up this 19 way ^gsouthward, and go up into ^hthe mountain: and see the land, what it is; 18 and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weak, few or many; and what the land is that they 19 dwell in, whether it be good or bad; and what cities they be that they dwell in, whether in tents, or in strong holds; and what the land is, whether it be ⁱfat 20 or lean, whether there be wood therein, or not. And ^kbe ye of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land. Now the time was the time of the first ripe 21 grapes. So they went up, and searched 22 the land ^lfrom the wilderness of Zin unto ^mRehob, ⁿas men come to Hamath. And they ascended by the south, and 22 came unto Hebron; where ^oAhiman, Sheshai, and Talmi, the children of Anak, were. (Now ^pHebron was built seven years before ^qZoan in Egypt.) ^rAnd they came unto the ^sbrook of Eshcol, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they bare it between two upon a ^sstaff; and they brought of the pomegranates, 24 and of the figs. The place was called the ^sbrook ^sEshcol, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of 25 Israel cut down from thence. And they returned from searching of the land after forty days. 26 And they went and came to Moses, and to Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel, unto the wilderness of Paran, to ^tKadesh; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and shewed them 27 the fruit of the land. And they told him, and said, We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with ^umilk and honey; ^xand 28 this is the fruit of it. Nevertheless ^ythe people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are ^ywalled, and very great: and moreover we saw the chil- 29 dren of Anak there. ^zThe Amalekites dwell in the land of the south: and the Hittites, and the Jebusites, and the Amorites, dwell in the mountains: and 30 ^athe Canaanites dwell by the sea, and 30 by the coast of Jordan. And ^bCaleb stilled the people before Moses, and said, Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are well able to overcome it. 31 ^cBut the men that went up with him said, We be not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than 32 we. And they brought up ^dan evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of Israel, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that eateth up the inhabitants thereof; and ^eall the people that we saw in it are ^fmen of a great 33 stature. And there we saw ^fthe giants, the sons of Anak, which come of ^fthe giants: and we were in our own sight as ^ggrasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

And all the congregation ^alifted up their voice, and cried; and ^bthe people 2 wept that night. And all the children of Israel ^cmurmured against Moses and against Aaron: and the whole congregation said unto them, Would God that we had died in the land of Egypt! or ^dwould God we had died in this wilderness! and wherefore hath the LORD ³brought us unto this land, to fall by the sword, that our wives and our children should be a prey? were it not better for us to return into Egypt? And they said ⁴one to another, ^eLet us make a captain, and ^flet us return into Egypt. Then ⁵Moses and Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the children of Israel. And ⁶Joshua the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Jephunneh, which were of them that searched the land, rent their clothes: and they spake unto all the company of ⁷the children of Israel, saying, ^hThe land, which we passed through to search it, is an exceeding good land. If the LORD ⁸delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; ^ka land which floweth with milk and honey. Only ⁹^lrebel not ye against the LORD, ^mneither fear ye the people of the land; for ⁿthey are bread for us: their ^odefence is departed from them, ^oand the LORD is with us: fear them not. ^pBut all the con- ¹⁰gregation bade stone them with stones. And ^qthe glory of the LORD appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of Israel. And ¹¹the LORD said unto Moses, How long will this people ^rprovoke me? and how long will it be ere they ^sbelieve me, for all the signs which I have shewed among them? I will smite them with the pestilence, and ^tdisinherit them, and ^uwill make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they. And ^wMoses said ¹³unto the LORD, Then the Egyptians shall hear it, (for thou broughtest up this people in thy might from among them;) and they will tell it to the in- ¹⁴habitants of this land: ^xfor ^ythey have heard that thou LORD art among this people, that thou LORD art seen face to face, and ^ythy cloud standeth over them, and ^zthat thou goest before them, by day time in a pillar of a cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night. Now ^{if} thou ¹⁵shalt kill all this people as one man, then the nations which have heard the fame of thee will speak, saying, Because ¹⁶the LORD was not ^zable to bring this people into the land which he sware unto them, therefore he hath slain them in the wilderness. And now, I beseech ¹⁷thee, let the power of my Lord be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying,

¹⁸The LORD is ^alongsuffering, and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression, and by no means clearing the guilty, ^bvisiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth ¹⁹generation. ^cPardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people ^daccording unto the greatness of thy mercy, and ^eas thou hast forgiven this people, from Egypt ²⁰even ^funtil now. And the LORD said, I have pardoned ^faccording to thy word: ²¹but as truly as I live, ^gall the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD. ²²^hBecause all those men which have seen my glory, and my miracles, which I did in Egypt and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now ⁱthese ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice; ²³^ksurely they shall not see the land which I sware unto their fathers, neither shall any of them that provoked me see ²⁴it: but my servant ^lCaleb, because he had another spirit with him, and ^mhath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and his ²⁵seed shall possess it. (Now ⁿthe Amalekites and ⁿthe Canaanites dwelt in the valley.) To morrow turn you, and ^oget you into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.

²⁶And the LORD spake unto Moses and ²⁷unto Aaron, saying, How long shall I bear with this evil congregation, which murmur against me? ^pI have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel, ²⁸which they murmur against me. Say unto them, ^q*As truly as* I live, saith the LORD, ^ras ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you: your carcases shall fall in this wilderness; and ^sall that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured ³⁰against me, doubtless ye shall not come into the land, ^tconcerning which I ^tsware to make you dwell therein, ^usave Caleb the son of Jephunneh, and Joshua the ³¹son of Nun. ^uBut your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the ³²land which ^xye have despised. But as ^{for} you, ^yyour carcases, they shall fall in this wilderness. And your children shall ^zwander in the wilderness ^aforty years, and ^bbear your whoredoms, until your carcases be wasted in the wilderness. ^cAfter the number of the days in which ye searched the land, ^deven ^dforty days, each day for a year, shall ye ^ebear

And ¹⁸ they took every man his censer, and put fire in them, and laid incense thereon, and stood in the door of the tabernacle of the congregation with Moses and Aaron. And Korah gathered all ¹⁹ the congregation against them unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and ^uthe glory of the LORD appeared unto all the congregation. And ²⁰ the LORD spake unto Moses and unto Aaron, saying, ^xSeparate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may consume them ^yin a moment. And ²² they ^zfell upon their faces, and said, O God, ^athe God of the spirits of all flesh, shall one man sin, and wilt thou be wroth with all the congregation? And ²³ the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the congregation, saying, ²⁴ Get you up from about the tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram. And ²⁵ Moses rose up and went unto Dathan and Abiram; and the elders of Israel followed him. And he spake unto the ²⁶ congregation, saying, ^bDepart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest ye ^cbe consumed in all their sins. So ²⁷ they gat up from the tabernacle of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, on every side: and Dathan and Abiram came out, and ^dstood in the door of their tents, and their wives, and their sons, and their ²⁸ little children. And Moses said, ^eHereby ye shall know that the LORD hath sent me to do all these works; for ^f*I have not done them* ^gof mine own mind. ²⁹ If these men die ^hthe common death of all men, or if they be ⁱvisited after the visitation of all men; then the LORD ³⁰ hath not sent me. But if the LORD ^jmake a new thing, and ^kthe earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertain unto them, and they ^hgo down quick into the pit; then ye shall understand that these men ³¹ have provoked the LORD. ^jAnd it came to pass, as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them: ³² and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and ^kall the men that appertained unto Korah, and all their goods. They, and all that appertained to them, went down alive into the pit, and the earth closed upon them: and they perished from among the congregation. And all Israel that were round about them fled at the cry of them: for they said, Lest the earth ³⁵ swallow us up also. And there ^lcame out a fire from the LORD, and consumed the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense. ³⁶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, ³⁷ saying, Speak unto ^mEleazar the son of Aaron the priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning, and scatter thou the fire yonder; for they are hallowed. The censers of these ⁿsinners against their own souls, let them make them ^pbroad plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the LORD, therefore they are hallowed: ^oand they shall be a sign unto the children of Israel. And Eleazar the priest took the brasen censers, wherewith they that were burnt had offered; and ^pthey were made broad plates for a covering of the altar: to be a memorial unto the children of Israel, ^qthat no stranger, which is not of the seed of Aaron, come near to offer incense before the LORD; that he be not as Korah, and as his company: as the LORD said to him by the hand of Moses. ⁴¹ But on the morrow all the congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron, saying, Ye have killed the people of the LORD. ⁴² And it came to pass, when the congregation was gathered against Moses and

And Moses said unto Aaron, Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and make an atonement for them: ^xfor there is wrath gone out from the LORD; the plague is begun. And Aaron took as Moses commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people. And he stood between the dead and the living; and ^ythe plague was stayed. Now they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, ^zbeside them that died about the matter of Korah. And Aaron returned unto Moses unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the plague was stayed.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, and take of every one of them a rod according to the house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the house of their fathers twelve rods: write thou every man's name upon his rod. And thou shalt write Aaron's name upon the rod of Levi: for one rod shall be for the head of the house of their fathers. And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the congregation before the Testimony, ^awhere I will meet with you. And it shall come to pass, that the man's rod, ^bwhom I shall choose, shall blossom: and I will make to cease from me the murmurings of the children of Israel, ^cwhereby they murmur against you. And Moses spake unto the children of Israel, and every one of their princes gave him ^ta rod apiece, for each prince one, according to their fathers' houses, even twelve rods: and the rod of Aaron was among their rods. And Moses laid up the rods before the LORD in ^dthe tabernacle of Witness. And it came to pass, that on the morrow Moses went into the tabernacle of Witness; and behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi was budded, and brought forth buds, and bloomed blossoms, and yielded almonds. And Moses brought out all the rods from before the LORD unto all the children of Israel: and they looked, and took every man his rod. And the LORD said unto Moses, Bring ^eAaron's rod again before the Testimony, ^fto be kept ^gfor a token against the ^hrebels; and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not. And Moses did so: as the LORD commanded him, so did he. And the children of Israel spake unto Moses, saying, Behold, we die, we perish, we all perish. ⁱWhosoever cometh any thing near unto the tabernacle of the LORD shall die: shall we be consumed with dying?

And the LORD said unto Aaron, ^aThou and thy sons and thy father's house with thee shall ^bbear the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood. And thy brethren also of the tribe of Levi, the tribe of thy father, bring thou with thee, that they may be ^cjoined unto thee, and ^dminister unto thee: but ^ethou and thy sons with thee shall minister before the tabernacle of Witness. And they shall keep thy charge, and ^fthe charge of all the tabernacle: ^gonly they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary and the altar, ^hthat neither they, nor you also, die. And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, for all the service of the tabernacle: ⁱand a stranger shall not come nigh unto you. And ye shall ^kkeep the charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar: ^lthat there be no wrath any more upon the children of Israel. And I, behold, I have ^mtaken your brethren the Levites from among the children of Israel: ⁿto you they are given as a gift for the LORD, to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation. Therefore thou and thy sons with thee ^oshall keep your priest's office for every thing of the altar, and ^pwithin the veil; and ye shall serve: I have given your priest's office unto you as a service of gift: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death. ing, and to thy sons, ^sby an ordinance for ever. This shall be thine of ^tthe most holy things, reserved from the fire: every oblation of theirs, every ^umeat offering of theirs, and every ^vtrespass offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall be ^wmost holy for thee and for thy sons. ^xIn the most holy place shalt thou eat it; every male shall eat it: it shall be holy unto thee. And this is ^ythe heave offering of their gift, with all the wave offerings of the children of Israel: I have given them unto thee, and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: ^aevery one that is clean in thy house shall eat of it. ^bAll the ^c'best of the oil, and all the ^d'best of the wine, and of the wheat, ^ethe firstfruits of them which they shall offer unto the LORD, them have I given thee. And whatsoever is ^ffirst ripe in the land, ^gwhich they shall bring unto the LORD, shall be thine; ^hevery one that is clean in thine house shall eat of it. ⁱEvery thing devoted in Israel shall be thine. ^jEvery thing that openeth the matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the LORD, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine: nevertheless ^kthe firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem. And those that are ^lto be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, ^maccording to thine estimation, for the money of five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, ⁿwhich is twenty gerahs. ^oBut the firstling of a cow, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: ^pthou shalt sprinkle their blood upon the altar, and shalt burn their fat for an offering made by fire, for a sweet savour unto the LORD. And the flesh of them shall be thine, as the ^qwave breast and as the right shoulder are thine. ^rAll the heave offerings of the holy things, which the children of Israel offer unto the LORD, have I given thee, and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: ^sit is a covenant of salt for ever before the LORD unto thee and to thy seed with thee.

And the LORD spake unto Aaron, ^tThou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them: ^uI am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Israel.

And behold, ^vI have given the children of Levi all the tenth in Israel for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, even ^wthe service of the tabernacle of the congregation. ^xNeither must the children of Israel henceforth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, ^ylest they bear sin, ^zand die. But the Levites ^ashall do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and ^bthey shall bear their iniquity: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations, that among the children of Israel they have no inheritance. But the tithes of the children of Israel, which ^cthey offer as a heave offering unto the LORD, I have given to the Levites to inherit: therefore I have said unto them, ^dAmong the children of Israel they shall have no inheritance.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, ^esaying, Thus speak unto the Levites, and say unto them, When ye take of the children of Israel the tithes which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then ye shall offer up a heave offering of it for the LORD, even ^fa tenth ^gpart of the tithe. ^hAnd this your heave offering shall be reckoned unto you, as though it were the corn of the threshing-floor, and as the fulness of the winepress. ⁱThus you also shall offer a heave offering unto the LORD of all your tithes, which ye receive of the children of Israel; and ye shall give thereof the LORD's heave offering to Aaron the priest. Out of all your gifts ye shall offer every heave offering of the LORD, of all the ^j'best thereof, even the hallowed ^kpart thereof out of it. Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the ^l'best thereof from it, ^mthen it shall be counted unto the Levites as the increase of the threshing-floor, and as the increase of the winepress. And ye shall eat it in every place, ye and your households: for it ⁿis ^oyour reward for your service in the tabernacle of the congregation. And ye shall ^pbear no sin by reason of it, when ye have heaved from it the best of it: neither shall ye ^qpollute the holy things of the children of Israel, lest ye die.

He that toucheth the dead body of any man shall be unclean seven days. And every open vessel, which hath no covering bound upon it, is unclean. And whosoever toucheth one that is slain with a sword in the open fields, or a dead body, or a bone of a man, or a grave, shall be unclean seven days. running water shall be put thereto in a vessel: and a clean person shall take hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the persons that were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or one slain, or one dead, or a grave: and the clean person shall sprinkle upon the unclean on the third day, and on the seventh day: and on the seventh day he shall purify himself, and wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and shall be clean at even. But the man that shall be unclean, and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from among the congregation, because he hath defiled the sanctuary of the LORD: the water of separation hath not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean. And it shall be a perpetual statute unto them, that he that sprinkleth the water of separation shall wash his clothes; and he that toucheth the water of separation shall be unclean until even. And Moses ^o lift up his hand, and with his rod he smote the rock twice: and ^o the water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also. And the LORD spake unto Moses and Aaron, Because ^p ye believed me not, to ^q sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them. ^r This is the water of ^s Meribah; because the children of Israel strove with the LORD, and he was sanctified in them.

^s And Moses sent messengers from Kadesh unto ^t the king of Edom, Thus saith ^u thy brother Israel, Thou knowest all the travail that hath ^v befallen us: ^w how our fathers went down into Egypt, ^x and we have dwelt in Egypt a long time; ^y and the Egyptians vexed us, and our fathers: and ^z when we cried unto the LORD, he heard our voice, and ^z sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of Egypt: and behold, we are in Kadesh, a city in the uttermost of thy border: ^a let us pass, I pray thee, through thy country: we will not pass through the fields, or through the vineyards, neither will we drink of the water of the wells: we will go by the king's high way, we will not turn to the right hand nor to the left, until we have passed thy borders. And Edom said unto him, Thou shalt not pass by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword. And the children of Israel said unto him, We will go by ^b the high way: and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, ^c then I will pay for it: I will only, without doing any thing else, go through on my feet. And he said, Thou shalt not go through. And Edom came out against him with much people, and with a strong hand. Thus Edom ^d refused to give Israel passage through his border: wherefore Israel ^e turned away from him.

And the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, journeyed from ^f Kadesh, and came unto ^g mount Hor. And the LORD spake unto Moses and Aaron in mount Hor, by the coast of the land of Edom, saying, Aaron shall be ^h gathered unto his people: for he shall not enter into the land which I have given unto the children of Israel, because ⁱ ye rebelled against my ^j word at the water of Meribah. Take Aaron and Eleazar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hor: and strip Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son: and Aaron shall be gathered ^k unto his people, and shall die there. And Moses did as the LORD commanded: and they went up into mount Hor in the sight of all the congregation. ^l And Moses stripped Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar his son; and Aaron died there ^m in the top of the mount: and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mount. And when all the congregation saw that Aaron was dead, they mourned for Aaron ⁿ thirty days, even all the house of Israel.

And when ^a king Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt in the south, heard tell that Israel came ^b by the way of the spies; then he fought against Israel, and took ^c some of them prisoners. ^c And Israel vowed a vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then ^d I will utterly destroy their cities. And the LORD hearkened to the voice of Israel, and delivered up the Canaanites; and they utterly destroyed them and their cities: and he called the name of the place ^e Hormah.

And ^e they journeyed from mount Hor by the way of the Red sea, to ^f compass the land of Edom: and the soul of the people was much ^g discouraged because of the way. And the people ^g spake against God, and against Moses, ^h Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Egypt to die in the wilderness? for there is no bread, neither is there any water; and ⁱ our soul loatheth this light bread. And the LORD sent ^k fiery serpents among the people, and ^l they bit the people; and ^m much people of Israel died. ^m Therefore the people came to Moses, and said, We have sinned, for ⁿ we have spoken against the LORD, and against thee; ^o pray unto the LORD, that he take away the serpents from us. And Moses ^o prayed for the people. And the LORD said unto Moses, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when ^p he looketh upon it, shall live. And Moses made ^q a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he beheld the serpent of brass, he lived. And the children of Israel set ¹⁰ forward, and ⁹pitched in Oboth. And ¹¹ they journeyed from Oboth, and ¹pitched at ¹Ije-abarim, in the wilderness which ¹²is before Moab, toward the sunrising. From thence they removed, and pitched ¹³in ⁵the valley of Zared. From thence ¹⁴they removed, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, which is in the wilderness that cometh out of the coasts of the Amorites: for ¹⁵Arnon is the border of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites. Wherefore it is said in the book ¹⁶of the wars of the LORD,

And in the brooks of Arnon,
And at the stream of the brooks that goeth down to the dwelling of ¹⁷Ar,
And ¹⁸lieth upon the border of Moab.
And from thence they went ^{*}to Beer: ¹⁹that is the well whereof the LORD spake unto Moses, Gather the people together, and I will give them water. ²⁰Then Israel sang this song, † Spring up, O well;
† Sing ye unto it:
The princes digged the well,
The nobles of the people digged it,
By the direction of ²¹the lawgiver, with their staves.

And from the wilderness they went to Mattanah: and from Mattanah to Nahaliel: and from Nahaliel to Bamoth:
and from Bamoth in the valley, that is in the ²²country of Moab, to the top of † Pishgah, which looketh ²³toward ¹Jeshimon.

And ²⁴Israel sent messengers unto Sihon king of the Amorites, saying, ²⁵Let me pass through thy land: we will not turn into the fields, or into the vineyards; we will not drink of the waters of the well: but we will go along by the king's high way, until we be past thy borders. ²⁶And Sihon would not suffer Israel to pass through his border: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and went out against Israel into the wilderness: and he came to ²⁷Jahaz, and fought against Israel. And ²⁸Israel smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed his land from Arnon unto † Jabbok, even unto the children of Ammon: for the border of the children of Ammon was strong. And Israel took all these cities: and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites, in Heshbon, ²⁹and in all the ¹villages thereof. For Heshbon was the city of Sihon the king of the Amorites, who had fought against the former king of Moab, and taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Ar-³⁰non. Wherefore they that speak in ¹proverbs say,

Come into Heshbon, Let the city of Sihon be built and prepared:
³¹For there is ^{1a}a fire gone out of Heshbon,
A flame from the city of Sihon:
It hath consumed Ar of Moab,
And the lords of the high places of Arnon.

³²Woe to thee, Moab!
Thou art undone, O people of ¹Chemosh:
He hath given his sons that escaped,
And his daughters into captivity Unto Sihon king of the Amorites.
³³We have shot at them;
Heshbon is perished even unto ^kDi-
bon,
And we have laid them waste even unto Nophah,
Which reacheth unto ¹Medeba.

Thus Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorites. And Moses sent to spy out ^mJaazer, and they took the ¹villages thereof, and drove out the Amorites that were there. And they turned and went up by the way of Bashan: and Og the king of Bashan went out against them, he, and all his people, to the ³⁴battle ^oat Edrei. And the LORD said unto Moses, ^pFear him not: for I have delivered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land; and ^qthou shalt do to him as thou didst unto Sihon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Hesh-³⁵bon. So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until ^rthere was none left him alive: and they possessed his land.

And ^athe children of Israel set forward, and pitched ^ain the plains of Moab on this side Jordan by Jericho.
²And Balak the son of Zippor saw all that Israel had done to the Amorites.
³And ^bMoab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many: and Moab ^cwas distressed because of the children of Israel. And Moab said unto ^dthe field. And Balak the son of Zippor was king of the Moabites at that time. ^eHe sent messengers therefore unto Balaam the son of Beor to ^fPethor, which is by the river of the land of the children of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out from Egypt: behold, they cover the ^gface of the earth, and they abide over against me: come now therefore, I pray thee, ^hcurse me this people; for they are too mighty for me: peradventure I shall prevail, that we may smite them, and that I may drive them out of the land: for I wot that he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed. And the elders of Moab and the elders of Midian departed with ⁱthe rewards of divination in their hand; and they came unto Balaam, and spake unto him the words of Balak. And he said unto them, ^jLodge here this night, and I will bring you word again, as the LORD shall speak unto me: and the princes of Moab abode with Balaam. ^kAnd God came unto Balaam, and said, What men are these with thee? And Balaam said unto God, Balak the son of Zippor, king of Moab, hath sent unto me, saying, Behold, there is a people come out of Egypt, which covereth the face of the earth: come now, curse me them; peradventure ^lI shall be able to overcome them, and drive them out. And God said unto Balaam, Thou shalt not go with them; thou shalt not curse the people: for ^mthey are blessed. And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said unto the princes of Balak, Get you into your land: for the LORD refuseth to give me leave to go with you. And the princes of Moab rose up, and they went unto Balak, and said, Balaam refuseth to come with us. And Balak sent yet again princes, more, and more honourable than they. And they came to Balaam, and said to him, Thus saith Balak the son of Zippor, ⁿLet nothing, I pray thee, hinder thee from coming unto me: for I will promote thee unto very great honour, and I will do whatsoever thou sayest unto me: ^ocome therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people. And Balaam answered and said unto the servants of Balak, ^pIf Balak would give me his house full of silver and gold, ^qI cannot go beyond the word of the LORD my God, to do less or more. Now therefore, I pray you, ^rtarry ye also here this night, that I may know what the LORD will say unto me more. ^sAnd God came unto Balaam at night, and said unto him, If the men come to call thee, rise up, and go with them; but ^tyet the word which I shall say unto thee, that shalt thou do. And Balaam rose up in the morning, and saddled his ^uass, and went with the princes of Moab. And God's anger was kindled because he went: ^vand the angel of the LORD stood in the way for an adversary against him. Now he was riding upon his ass, and his two servants were with him. And the ass saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field: and Balaam smote the ass, to turn her into the way. But the angel of the LORD stood in a path of the vineyards, a wall being on this side, and a wall on that side. And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she thrust herself unto the wall, and crusht Balaam's foot against the wall: and he smote her again. And the angel of the LORD went further, and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turn either to the right hand or to the left. And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she fell down under Balaam: and Balaam's anger was kindled, and he smote the ass with a staff. And the LORD ^wopened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Balaam, What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three ^xtimes? And Balaam said unto the ass, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a sword in mine hand, for now would I kill thee. And the ass said unto Balaam, Am not I thine ass, ^yupon which thou hast ridden ^zever since I was thine unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee? And he said, Nay. Then the LORD ^zopened the eyes of Balaam, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and he ^{aa}bowed down his head, and ^{ab}fell flat on his face. And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine ass these three ^{ac}times? behold, I went out ^{ad}to withstand thee, because thy way ^{ae}is perverse before me: and the ass saw me, and turned from me these three ^{af}times: unless she had turned from me, surely now also I had slain thee, and saved her alive. Balaam said unto the angel of the LORD, ^{b1} I have sinned; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against me: now therefore, if it ¹displease thee, I will get me back again. And the angel of the LORD said unto Balaam, Go with the men: ^cbut only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that thou shalt speak. So Balaam went with the princes of Balak. And when Balak heard that Balaam was come, he went out to meet him unto a city of Moab, which ^dis in the border of Arnon, which ^dis in the utmost coast. And Balak said unto Balaam, ³⁷ Did I not earnestly send unto thee to call thee? wherefore camest thou not unto me? am I not able indeed ^eto promote thee to honour? And Balaam said ³⁸ unto Balak, Lo, I am come unto thee: have I now any power at all to say any thing? ^fthe word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak. And Balaam ³⁹ went with Balak, and they came unto ¹¹Kirjath-huzoth. And Balak offered ⁴⁰ oxen and sheep, and sent to Balaam, and to the princes that ^gwere with him. And it came to pass on the morrow, ⁴¹ that Balak took Balaam, and brought him up ^hinto the ^hhigh places of Baal, that thence he might see the utmost part of the people.

And Balaam said unto Balak, ^aBuild me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven oxen and seven rams. And Balak did as Balaam had spoken; and Balak and Balaam ^boffered on ^{every} altar a bullock and a ram. And Balaam said unto Balak, ^cStand by thy burnt offering, and I will go: peradventure the LORD will come ^dto meet me: and whatsoever he sheweth me I will tell thee. And ¹¹he went to a high place. ^cAnd God met Balaam: and he said unto him, I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered upon ^{every} altar a bullock and a ram. And the LORD ^fput a word in Balaam's mouth, and said, Return unto Balak, and thus thou shalt speak. And he returned unto him, and lo, ^hhe stood by his burnt sacrifice, he, and all the princes of Moab. And he ^gtook up his parable, ⁷ and said,

Balak the king of Moab hath brought me from Aram,
Out of the mountains of the east, ^{saying},
Come, ^bcurse me Jacob,
And come, ⁱdefy Israel.
How shall I ^kcurse, whom God hath ⁸ not ^kcursed?

Or how shall I defy, ^{whom} the LORD hath not defied?

⁹ For from the top of the rocks I see him, And from the hills I behold him:
Lo, ¹the people shall dwell alone,
And ^mshall not be reckoned among the nations.
¹⁰ ⁿWho can count the dust of Jacob, And the number ^{of} the fourth part of Israel?

Let ¹me die ^othe death of the righteous,
And let my last end be like his!

¹¹ And Balak said unto Balaam, What hast thou done unto me? I took thee ^pto curse mine enemies, and behold, thou hast blessed ^{them} altogether. And he answered and said, ^qMust I not take heed to speak that which the LORD hath put in my mouth? And Balak said unto him, Come, I pray thee, with me unto another place, from whence thou mayest see them: thou shalt see but the utmost part of them, and shalt not see them all: ¹⁴ and curse me them from thence. And he brought him ^{into} the field of Zophim, to the top of ¹¹Pisgah, ^rand built seven altars, and offered a bullock and a ram ¹⁵ on ^{every} altar. And he said unto Balak, Stand here by thy burnt offering, while ¹⁶ I meet ^sthe LORD yonder. And the LORD met Balaam, and ^tput a word in his mouth, and said, Go again unto Balak, and say thus. And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his burnt offering, and the princes of Moab with him. And Balak said unto him, What ¹⁸ hath the LORD spoken? And he took up his parable, and said,

Rise up, Balak, and hear;
Hearken unto me, thou son of Zippor:
¹⁹ ^uGod ^{is} not a man, that he should lie; Neither the son of man, that he should repent:
Hath he said, and shall he not do ^{it}? Or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?

²⁰ Behold, I have received ^{commandment} to bless: and ^xhe hath blessed; And I cannot reverse it.
²¹ He hath not beheld iniquity in Jacob, Neither hath he seen ^yperverseness in Israel:
The LORD his God ^{is} with him,
^zAnd the shout of a king ^{is} among them.

XXV.

And Israel abode in ^aShittim, and ^bthe people begun to commit whoredom with the daughters of Moab. ^cAnd ² they ^dcalled ^ethe people unto the sacrifices of their gods: and the people did eat, and bowed down to their gods.

And Israel ^ejoined himself unto ^fBaal-peor: and the anger of the LORD was kindled against Israel. And the LORD ⁴ said unto Moses, ^gTake all the heads of the people, and hang them up before the LORD against the sun, ^hthat the fierce anger of the LORD may be turned away from Israel. And Moses said unto ⁵ the judges of Israel, ^kSlay ye every one his men that were joined unto ^fBaal-peor. And behold, one of the children ⁶ of Israel came and brought unto his brethren a Midianitish woman in the sight of Moses, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Israel, who were ¹weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

And ^mwhen Phinehas, ⁿthe son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, he rose up from amongst the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand; and he went after the man of Israel into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the man of Israel, and the woman through her belly. So ^othe plague was stayed from the children of Israel. And ^pthose that died in the plague were twenty and four thousand.

¹⁰ And the LORD spake unto Moses,

¹² Wherefore say, ^sBehold, I give unto him

¹³ my covenant of peace: and he shall have it, and ^this seed after him, even the covenant of ^uan everlasting priesthood; because he was zealous for his God, and made an atonement for the

¹⁴ children of Israel. Now the name of the Israelite that was slain, even that was slain with the Midianitish woman, was Zimri, the son of Salu, a prince of a ^tchief house among the Simeonites.

¹⁵ And the name of the Midianitish woman that was slain was Cozbi, the daughter of ^xZur; he was head over a people, and of a chief house in Midian.

¹⁶ And the LORD spake unto Moses, say-

¹⁷ ing, ^yVex the Midianites, and smite

And it came to pass after the plague, that the LORD spake unto Moses and unto Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, ² saying, ^aTake the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, ^bfrom twenty years old and upward, throughout their fathers' house, all that are able ³ to go to war in Israel. And Moses and Eleazar the priest spake with them ^cin the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying, ^dTake the sum of the people, from twenty years old and upward; as the LORD ^ecommanded Moses and the children of Israel, which went forth out of the land of Egypt.

^p ver. 31. of the first year: ^pthey shall be unto you without blemish: and their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil: three tenth deals shall ye offer for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram; a several tenth deal shalt thou offer for ²¹ every lamb, throughout the seven lambs; and ²² one goat for a sin offering, to make ²³ an atonement for you. Ye shall offer ²⁴ these beside the burnt offering in the morning, which is for a continual burnt offering. After this manner ye shall ²⁴ offer ^rdaily, throughout the seven days, the meat of the sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD: it shall be offered beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering. And ²⁵ on the seventh day ye shall have ²⁵ a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

^t Also ^tin the day of the firstfruits, ²⁶ when ye bring a new meat offering unto the LORD, after your weeks be out, ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: but ye shall offer ²⁷ the burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the LORD; ^utwo young bullocks, one ram, seven lambs of the first year; and their meat offering of flour mingled ²⁸ with oil, three tenth deals unto one bullock, two tenth deals unto one ram, ²⁹ a several tenth deal unto one lamb, throughout the seven lambs; and ³⁰ one kid of the goats, to make an atonement for you. Ye shall offer them besides the ³¹ continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, (^vthey shall be unto you without blemish) and their drink offerings.

And in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work: ^ait is a day of blowing the trumpets unto you. And ye shall offer ² a burnt offering for a sweet savour unto the LORD; one young bullock, one ram, and seven lambs of the first year without blemish: and their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals for a bullock, and two tenth deals for a ram, and one tenth deal for one lamb, throughout the seven lambs: and one kid of the goats for a sin offering, to make an atonement for you: beside ^bthe burnt offering of the month, and his meat offering, and ^cthe daily burnt offering, and his meat offering, and their drink offerings, according unto their manner, for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

⁷ And ^dye shall have on the tenth day ^d See Lev. 16. 29. of this seventh month a holy convocation; and ye shall ^eafflict your souls: ye ^e ch. 30. 13. shall not do any work therein: but ye Ps. 35. 13. shall offer a burnt offering unto the marg. ¹² And ⁱon the fifteenth day of the ⁱ See Lev. 23. 34. seventh month ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall keep a feast unto the LORD ¹³ seven days: and ^kye shall offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD; thirteen young bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year; they shall be ¹⁴ without blemish: and their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil, three tenth deals unto every bullock of the thirteen bullocks, two tenth deals to ¹⁵ each ram of the two rams, and a several tenth deal to each lamb of the fourteen ¹⁶ lambs: and one kid of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink ¹⁷ offering. And on the second day ye shall offer twelve young bullocks, two rams, fourteen lambs of the first year ¹⁸ without spot: and their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, ¹⁹ after the manner: and one kid of the goats ¹⁹ for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and the meat offering ²⁰ thereof, and their drink offerings. And on the third day eleven bullocks, two rams, fourteen lambs of the first year ²¹ without blemish; and their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, ^m after ^m See ver. 18. the manner: and one goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering. And on the fourth day ten bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish: their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner: and one kid ²⁵ of the goats for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering. And ²⁶ on the fifth day nine bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without spot: and their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner: and one goat for a sin offer- ²⁸ ing; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering. And on the sixth day eight ²⁹ bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish: and their meat offering and their drink offer- ³⁰ ings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner: and one goat ³¹ for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering. And on the seventh day ³² seven bullocks, two rams, and fourteen lambs of the first year without blemish: and their meat offering and their drink ³³ offerings for the bullocks, for the rams, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner: and one ³⁴ goat for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, his meat offering, and his drink offering. On the eighth ³⁵ day ye shall have a ⁿsolemn assembly; ye shall do no servile work therein: but ye shall offer a burnt offering, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD: one bullock, one ram, seven ³⁷ lambs of the first year without blemish: their meat offering and their drink offerings for the bullock, for the ram, and for the lambs, shall be according to their number, after the manner: and one goat ³⁸ for a sin offering; beside the continual burnt offering, and his meat offering, and his drink offering. These things ye ³⁹ shall ^odo unto the LORD in your ^oset feasts, besides your ^pvows, and your ^qwill offerings, for your burnt offerings, and for your meat offerings, and for your drink offerings, and for your peace offerings. ² the LORD hath commanded. ^bIf a man vow a vow unto the LORD, or ^cswear an oath to bind his soul with a bond; he shall not ^dbreak his word, he shall ^ddo according to all that proceedeth out of ³ his mouth. If a woman also vow a vow unto the LORD, and bind herself

 by a bond, being in her father's house ⁴ in her youth; and her father hear her vow, and her bond wherewith she hath bound her soul, and her father shall hold his peace at her: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she hath bound her soul shall ⁵ stand. But if her father disallow her in the day that he heareth; not any of her vows, or of her bonds wherewith she hath bound her soul, shall stand:
 and the LORD shall forgive her, because ⁶ her father disallowed her. And if she had at all a husband, when ^tshe vowed, or uttered ought out of her lips, where-⁷ with she bound her soul; and her husband heard it, and held his peace at her in the day that he heard it: then her vows shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soul shall ⁸ stand. But if her husband disallow her on the day that he heard it; then he shall make her vow which she vowed,
 and that which she uttered with her lips, wherewith she bound her soul, of none effect: and the LORD shall forgive her.
⁹ But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced, wherewith they have bound their souls, shall stand against ¹⁰ her. And if she vowed in her husband's house, or bound her soul by a ¹¹ bond with an oath; and her husband heard it, and held his peace at her,
 and disallowed her not: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond where-

¹² But if her husband hath utterly made them void on the day he heard them;
 then whatsoever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows, or concerning the bond of her soul, shall not stand:
 her husband hath made them void; and ¹³ the LORD shall forgive her. Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict the soul, her husband may establish it, or tablisheth all her vows, or all her bonds, which are upon her: he confirmeth them, because he held his peace at her in the ¹⁵ day that he heard them. But if he shall

^a So ch. 25. ¹⁷ And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, ^b Avenge the children of Israel of the Midianites: afterward shalt thou ^bbe gathered unto thy people. And Moses ²⁴ spake unto the people, saying, Arm some of yourselves unto the war, and let them go against the Midianites, and avenge the LORD of Midian. ¹ Of every tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of Israel, shall ye send to the war. So there were delivered out of the thousands of Israel, a thousand of every tribe, twelve thousand ^carmed for war. And ⁶ Moses sent them to the war, a thousand of every tribe, them and Phinehas the son of Eleazar the priest, to the war, with the holy instruments, and ^dthe trumpets to blow in his hand. And ⁷ they warred against the Midianites, as the LORD commanded Moses; and ⁸ they slew all the males. And they slew the kings of Midian, beside the rest of them that were slain; namely, ^eEvi, and Rekem, and ^gZur, and Hur, and Reba, five kings of Midian: ^hBalaam also the son of Beor they slew with the sword. And ⁹ the children of Israel took all the women of Midian captives, and their little ones, and took the spoil of all their cattle, and all their flocks, and all ⁱtheir goods. And ¹⁰ they burnt all their cities wherein they dwelt, and all their goodly castles, with fire. And ^jthey took all the spoil, and ¹¹ all the prey, both of men and of beasts. And they brought the captives, and the prey, and the spoil, unto Moses, and Eleazar the priest, and unto the congregation of the children of Israel, unto the camp at ^kthe plains of Moab, which are by Jordan near Jericho.

And Moses, and Eleazar the priest, ¹³ and all the princes of the congregation, went forth to meet them ¹without the camp. And Moses was wroth with ¹⁴ the ^mofficers of the host, with the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, which came from the ¹battle. And Moses said unto them, ¹⁵ Have ye saved ⁿall the women alive? Behold, ^othese caused the children of Israel, through the ^pcounsel of Balaam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of ^qPeor, and there was ^{ra} a plague among the congregation of the ¹⁷ LORD. Now therefore ^skill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman that hath known man by lying ¹⁸ with ^thim. But all the women children, that have not known a man by lying with him, keep alive for yourselves. ¹⁹ And ^tdo ye abide without the camp seven days: whosoever hath killed any person, and ^uwhosoever hath touched any slain, ^vpurify both yourselves and your captives on the third day, and on the ²⁰ seventh day. And ^vpurify all your raiment, and all ^tthat is made of skins, and all work of goats' hair, and all things made ²¹ of wood. And Eleazar the priest said unto the men of war which went to the battle, This is the ordinance of the law which ²² the LORD commanded Moses; only the gold, and the silver, the brass, the iron, ²³ the tin, and the lead, every thing that may abide the fire, ye shall make it go through the fire, and it shall be clean: nevertheless it ^vshall be purified ^wwith the water of separation: and all that abideth not the fire ye shall make go ²⁴ through the water. And ye shall ^xwash your clothes on the seventh day, and ye shall be clean, and afterward ye shall come into the camp.

²⁵ And the LORD spake unto Moses, ²⁶ saying, Take the sum of the prey ^tthat was taken, both of man and of beast, thou, and Eleazar the priest, and the chief fathers of the congregation: ²⁷ and ^ydivide the prey into two parts; between them that took the war upon them, who went out to battle, and between all the congregation: and levy a tribute unto the LORD of the men of war which went out to battle: ^zone soul of five hundred, both of the persons, and of the beeves, and of the asses, and of the sheep: take it of their half, and give it unto Eleazar the priest, for a heave offering of the LORD. And of the children of Israel's half, thou shalt take ^aone portion of fifty, of the persons, of the beeves, of the asses, and of the ^bflocks, of all manner of beasts, and give them unto the Levites, ^bwhich keep the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD. And Moses and Eleazar the priest did as the LORD ³² commanded Moses. And the booty, being the rest of the prey which the men of war had caught, was six hundred thousand and seventy thousand and five ³³ thousand sheep, and threescore and twelve thousand beeves, and threescore ³⁴ and one thousand asses, and thirty and ³⁵ two thousand persons in all, of women that had not known man by lying with him. And the half, which was the por- ³⁶ tion of them that went out to war, was in number three hundred thousand and seven and thirty thousand and five hundred sheep: and ³⁷ the LORD's tribute of the sheep was six hundred and threescore and fifteen. And the beeves were ³⁸ thirty and six thousand; of which the LORD's tribute was threescore and twelve. And the asses were thirty thousand and ³⁹ five hundred; of which the LORD's tribute was threescore and one. And the ⁴⁰ persons were sixteen thousand; of which the LORD's tribute was thirty and two persons. And Moses gave the tribute, ⁴¹ which was the LORD's heave offering, unto Eleazar the priest, ⁴² as the LORD commanded Moses. And of the children of Israel's half, which Moses divided from the men that warred, (now the half ⁴³ that pertained unto the congregation was three hundred thousand and thirty thousand and seven thousand and five hundred sheep, and thirty and six thousand ⁴⁴ beeves, and thirty thousand asses and five hundred, and sixteen thousand persons;) even ⁴⁵ of the children of Israel's half, Moses took one portion of fifty, both of man and of beast, and gave them unto the Levites, which kept the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD; as the LORD commanded Moses.

And the ⁴⁶ officers which were over ⁴⁷ thousands of the host, the captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, came near unto Moses: and they said unto Moses, Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war which are ⁴⁸ under our ⁴⁹ charge, and there lacketh not one man of us. We have therefore brought an oblation for the LORD, what every man hath ⁵⁰ gotten, of jewels of gold, ⁵¹ chains, and ⁵² bracelets, rings, ⁵³ earrings, and ⁵⁴ tablets, ⁵⁵ to make an atonement for our souls before the LORD. And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold of them, even all wrought jewels. And all the gold of the ⁵⁶ offering that they offered up to the LORD, of the captains of thousands, and of the captains of hundreds, was sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels. (For ⁵⁷ the men of war had taken spoil, every man for himself.) And Moses and Eleazar ⁵⁸ the priest took the gold of the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of the congregation, ⁵⁹ for a memorial for the children of Israel before the LORD.

Now the children of Reuben and the children of Gad had a very great multitude of cattle: and when they saw the land of ⁶⁰ a Jazer, and the land of Gilead, that behold, the place was a place for ⁶¹ cattle; the children of Gad and the children of Reuben came and spake unto Moses, and to Eleazar the priest, and unto the princes of the congregation, saying, Ataroth, and ⁶² b Dibon, and ⁶³ Jazer, and ⁶⁴ c Nimrah, and Heshbon, and Elealeh, and ⁶⁵ d Shebam, and ⁶⁶ e Nebo, and ⁶⁷ f Beon, even the country ⁶⁸ g which the LORD smote before the congregation of Israel, is a land for cattle, and thy ⁶⁹ servants have cattle: wherefore, said they, if we have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given unto thy servants for a possession, and bring us ⁷⁰ not over Jordan. And Moses said unto the children of Gad and to the children of Reuben, Shall your brethren go to ⁷¹ war, and shall ye sit here? And wherefore ⁷² discourage ye the heart of the children of Israel from going over into the land which the LORD hath given ⁷³ them? Thus did your fathers, ⁷⁴ when I sent them from Kadesh-barnea to see ⁷⁵ the land. For when they went up unto ⁷⁶ the valley of Eshcol, and saw the land, they discouraged the heart of the children of Israel, that they should not go into the land which the LORD had given ⁷⁷ them. ⁷⁸ And the LORD's anger was kindled the same time, and he sware, ⁷⁹ saying, ⁸⁰ h Surely none of the men that came up out of Egypt, ⁸¹ from twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I sware ⁸² k unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob; because they have not ⁸³ wholly followed me: ⁸⁴ I will save Caleb the son of Jephunneh the ⁸⁵ l Kenezite, and Joshua the son of Nun: ⁸⁶ m for they have wholly followed the ⁸⁷ LORD. And the LORD's anger was kindled against Israel, and he made them ⁸⁸ wander in the wilderness forty years, until ⁸⁹ n all the generation, that had done evil in the sight of the LORD, was consumed. And behold, ye are risen up in your fathers' stead, an increase of sinful men, to augment yet the fierce ⁹⁰ anger of the LORD toward Israel. For if ye ⁹¹ turn away from after him, he will yet again leave them in the wilderness; and ye shall destroy all this people. For we will not inherit with them on ¹⁹your side Jordan, or forward; ^tbecause our inheritance is fallen to us on ^{this} side Jordan eastward. And ^uMoses said ²⁰unto them, If ye will do this thing, if ye will go armed before the LORD to war, and will go all of you ^warmed over Jordan before the LORD, until he hath ^xdriven out his enemies from before him, and the land be subdued before ²²the LORD: then afterward ye shall return, and be guiltless before the LORD, and before Israel; and this land shall be your possession before the LORD. But if ye will not do so, behold, ye ²³have sinned against the LORD: and be sure ^yyour sin will find you out. ^zBuild ²⁴ye cities for your little ones, and folds for your sheep; and do that which hath proceeded out of your mouth. And the children of Gad and the children of Reuben spake unto Moses, saying, Thy servants will do as my lord commandeth. Our little ones, our wives, our flocks, ²⁶and all our cattle, shall be there in the cities of Gilead: but thy servants will ²⁷pass over, every man ^aarmed for war, before the LORD to battle, as my lord saith. So concerning them Moses com- ²⁸manded Eleazar the priest, and ^bJoshua the son of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel: and Moses said unto them, If the children of Gad and the children of Reuben will pass with you over Jordan, every man armed to battle, before the LORD, and the land shall be subdued before you; then ye shall give them the land of Gilead for a possession: but if they ³⁰will not pass over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Canaan. And the children of ³¹Gad and the children of Reuben answered, saying, As the LORD hath said unto thy servants, so will we do. We ³²will pass over armed before the LORD into the land of Canaan, that the possession of our inheritance on ^{this} side ³³Jordan may be ours. And ^cMoses gave unto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, and unto half the tribe of Manasseh the son of Joseph, ^dthe kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, the land, with the cities thereof in the coasts, even the cities of the country round about.

And they removed from Marah, and came unto ^kElim: and in Elim ^{were} twelve fountains of water, and threescore and ten palm trees; and they pitched there. And they removed from Elim, and encamped by the Red sea. And they removed from the Red sea, and encamped in the ¹wilderness of Sin. And they took their journey out of the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in Dophkah. And they departed from Dophkah, and encamped in Alush. And they removed from Alush, and encamped at ^mRephidim, where was no water for the people to drink. And they departed from Rephidim, and pitched in the ⁿwilderness of Sinai. And they removed from the desert of Sinai, and pitched at ^oKibroth-hattaavah. And they departed from Kibroth-hattaavah, and encamped at ^pHazereth. And they departed from Hazereth, and pitched in Rithmah. And they departed from Rithmah, and pitched at Rimmon-parez. And they departed from Rimmon-parez, and pitched in Libnah. And they moved from Libnah, and pitched at Rissah. And they journeyed from Rissah, and pitched in Kehelathah. And they went from Kehelathah, and pitched in mount Shapher. And they removed from mount Shapher, and encamped in Haradah. And they removed from Haradah, and pitched in Makheloth. And they removed from Makheloth, and encamped at Tahath. And they departed from Tahath, and pitched at Tarah. And they removed from Tarah, and pitched in Mithcah. And they went from Mithcah, and pitched in Hashmonah. And they departed from Hashmonah, and encamped at ^rMoseroth. And they departed from Moseroth, and pitched in ^sBene-jaakan. And they removed from ^sBene-jaakan, and encamped at ^tHor-hagidgad. And they went from Hor-hagidgad, and pitched in ^uJotbathah. And they removed from Jotbathah, and encamped at Ebronah. And they departed from Ebronah, and encamped at ^vEzion-gaber. And they removed from Ezion-gaber, and pitched in the ^wwilderness of Zin, which is Kadesh. And they removed from ^xKadesh, and pitched in mount Hor, in the edge of the land of Edom. And Aaron

the priest went up into ^ymount Hor at the commandment of the LORD, and died there, in the fortieth year after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, in the first ^{day} of the fifth month. And Aaron ^{was} an hundred and twenty and three years old when he died in mount Hor. And ^aking Arad the Canaanite, which dwelt in the south in the land of Canaan, heard of the coming of the children of Israel. And they departed from mount ^bHor, and pitched in Zalmonah. And they departed from Zalmonah, and pitched in Punon. And they departed from Punon, and pitched in ^cOboth. And they departed from Oboth, and pitched in ^dIje-abarim, in the border of Moab. And they departed from Ije-abarim, and pitched in ^eDibon-gad. And they removed from ^eDibon-gad, and encamped in Almon-diblathaim. And they removed from Almon-diblathaim, and pitched in the mountains of Abarim, before Nebo. And they departed from the mountains of Abarim, and pitched in ^hthe plains of Moab by Jordan ^{near} Jericho. And they pitched by Jordan, from Beth-jesimoth ^{even} unto ⁱAbel-shittim in the plains of Moab. XXXIV. And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, Command the children of Israel, and say unto them, When ye come into ^athe land of Canaan; (this is the land that shall fall unto you for an inheritance, even the land of Canaan with the coasts thereof:) then ^byour south quarter shall be from the wilderness of Zin along by the coast of Edom, and your south border shall be the outmost coast of ^cthe salt sea eastward: and your border shall turn from the south ^dto the ascent of Akrabbim, and pass on to Zin: and the going forth thereof shall be from the south ^eto Kadesh-barnea, and shall go on to ^fHazar-addar, and pass on to Azmon: and the border shall fetch a compass from Azmon ^gunto the river of Egypt, and the goings out of it shall be at the sea. And as for the western border, you shall even have the great sea for a border: this shall be your west border. And this shall be your north border: from the great sea you shall point out for you ^hmount Hor: from mount Hor ye shall point out your border ⁱunto the entrance of Hamath; and the goings forth of the border shall be to ^kZedad: and the border shall go on to Ziphron, and the goings out of it shall be at ^lHazar-enan: this shall be your north border. And ye shall point out your east border ^mfrom Hazar-enan to Shepham: and the coast shall go down from Shepham ⁿto Riblah, on the east side of Ain; and the border shall descend, and shall reach unto the ^oside of the sea ^pof Chinnereth eastward: and the border shall go down to Jordan, and the goings out of it shall be at ^qthe salt sea: this shall be your land with the coasts thereof round about. And Moses commanded the children of Israel, saying, ^rThis is the land which ye shall inherit by lot, which the LORD commanded to give unto the nine tribes, and to the half tribe: ^sfor the tribe of the children of Reuben according to the house of their fathers, and the tribe of the children of Gad according to the house of their fathers, have received their inheritance; and half the tribe of Manasseh have received their inheritance: the two tribes and the half tribe have received their inheritance on this side Jordan near Jericho eastward, toward the sunrising.

And the LORD spake unto Moses, saying, These are the names of the men which shall divide the land unto you:

^rEleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun. And ye shall take one ^sprince of every tribe, to divide the land by inheritance. And the names of the men are these: Of the tribe of Judah, Caleb the son of Jephunneh. And of the tribe of the children of Simeon, Shemuel the son of Ammihud. Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the son of Chislon. And the prince of the tribe of the children of Dan, Bukki the son of Jogli. The prince of the children of Joseph, for the tribe of the children of Manasseh, Hanniel the son of Ephod. And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ephraim, Kemuel the son of Shiphtan. And the prince of the tribe of the children of Zebulun, Elizaphan the son of Parnach. And the prince of the tribe of the children of Issachar, Paltiel the son of Azzan. And the prince of the tribe of the children of Asher, Ahihud the son of Shelomi. And the prince of the tribe of the children of Naphtali, Pedahel the son of Ammihud. These are they whom the LORD commanded to divide the inheritance unto the children of Israel in the land of Canaan.

And the LORD spake unto Moses in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying, ^tCommand the children of Israel, that they give unto the Levites of the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Levites ^usuburbs for the cities round about them. And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the ^vsuburbs of them shall be for their cattle, and for their goods, and for all their beasts. And the ^wsuburbs of the cities, which ye shall give unto the Levites, shall reach from the wall of the city and outward a thousand cubits round about. And ye shall measure from without the city on the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits; and the city shall be in the midst: this shall be to them the ^xsuburbs of the cities.

And among the cities which ye shall give unto the Levites there shall be ^ysix cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint for the manslayer, that he may flee thither: and ^zto them ye shall add forty and two cities. So all the cities which ye shall give to the Levites shall be

And the LORD spake unto Moses, ⁱ saying, Speak unto the children of Israel, ^j and say unto them, ^k When ye be come over Jordan into the land of Canaan; then ⁱ ye shall appoint you cities ^l to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer may flee thither, which killeth ^m any person ⁿ at unawares. And they ^o shall be unto you cities for refuge from the avenger; that the manslayer die not, until he stand before the congregation in judgment. And of these cities which ^p ye shall give ^q six cities shall ye have for refuge. ^r Ye shall give three cities on ^s this side Jordan, and three cities shall ye give in the land of Canaan, ^t which shall be cities of refuge. These six ^u cities shall be a refuge, ^v both for the children of Israel, and ^v for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them: that every one that killeth ^w any person unawares may flee thither. ^x And if he ^y smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he ^z is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. And ^{aa} if he smite him ^{ab} with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he ^{ac} is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. Or ^{ad} if he smite him ^{ae} with a hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he ^{af} is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death. ^{ag} The revenger of blood ^{ah} himself shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him, he shall slay him. But ^{ai} if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him ^{aj} by laying of wait, that he die; or ^{ak} in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die: he that smote ^{al} him shall surely be put to death; ^{am} for he ^{an} is a murderer: the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him. But ^{ao} if he thrust him suddenly without enmity, or have cast upon him any ^{ap} thing ^{aq} without laying of wait, or with any ^{ar} stone, wherewith a man may die, seeing ^{as} him not, and cast ^{at} it upon him, that he die, and ^{au} was not his enemy, neither sought his harm: then ^{av} the congregation ^{aw} shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood according to these ^{ax} judgments: and the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide in it unto the death of ^{ay} the high priest, ^{az} which was anointed with the ^{ba} holy oil. But if the slayer shall at any time come ^{bb} without the border of the city of his refuge, whither he was fled; ^{bc} and the revenger of blood find him without the borders of the city of his refuge, and the revenger of blood kill the slayer; ^{bd} he shall not be guilty of ^{be} blood: because he should have remained in the city of his refuge until the death of the high priest: but after the death of the high priest the slayer shall return into the land of his possession. ^{bf} So these ^{bg} things shall be for ^{bh} a statute of judgment unto you throughout your generations in all your dwellings. Whoso killeth ^{bi} any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the ^{bj} mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against ^{bk} any person to cause him to die. ^{bl} Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which ^{bm} is ^{bn} guilty of death: but he shall be surely ^{bo} put to death. And ye shall take no satisfaction for him that is fled to the city of his refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land, until the ^{bp} death of the priest. So ye shall not ^{bq} pollute the land wherein ye ^{br} are: for blood ^{bs} it defileth the land: and ^{bt} the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but ^{bu} by the blood of him that ^{bv} shed it. ^{bw} Defile not therefore the land which ye shall inhabit, wherein I dwell: for ^{bx} I the LORD dwell among the children of Israel.

And the chief fathers of the families ^{by} XXXVI. of the ^{bz} children of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, of the families of the sons of Joseph, came near, and spake before Moses, and before the princes, the chief fathers of ^{ca} the children of Israel: and they said, ^{cb} The LORD commanded my lord to give the land for an inheritance by lot to the children of Israel: and ^{cc} my lord was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zelophehad our brother unto his daughters. search us out the land, and bring us word again by what way we must go up, and into what cities we shall come. And the saying pleased me well: and

^a Num. 13. 3. ^aI took twelve men of you, one of a tribe: and ^bthey turned and went up into the mountain, and came unto ^cthe valley of Eshcol, and searched it out. And they took of the fruit of the land in their hands, and brought it down unto us, and brought us word again, and said, It is a good land which the LORD our God doth give us. Notwithstanding ye would not go up, but ^drebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God: and ^eye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the LORD

^fhated us, he hath brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us.

Whither shall we go up? ^gour brethren have ^hdiscouraged our heart, saying, ⁱThe people is greater and taller than we; the cities are great and walled up to heaven; and moreover we have seen the sons of the ^jAnakims there. Then

I said unto you, Dread not, neither be afraid of them. The LORD your God which goeth before you, ^khe shall fight for you, according to all that he did for you in Egypt before your eyes; and in the wilderness, where thou hast seen how that the LORD thy God ^lbare thee, as a man doth bear his son, in all the way that ye went, until ye came into this place. Yet in this thing ^mye did not believe the LORD your God, ⁿwho went in the way before you, ^oto search you out a place to pitch your tents in, in fire by night, to shew you by what way ye should go, and in a cloud by day. And the LORD heard the voice of your words, and was wroth, ^pand sware, saying, ^qSurely there shall not one of these men of this evil generation

see that good land, which I sware to give unto your fathers, ^rsave Caleb the son of Jephunneh, he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath ^swholly followed the LORD. Also the LORD ^twas angry with me for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not go in thither. But ^uJoshua the son of Nun, ^vwhich standeth before thee, he shall go in thither: ^wencourage him: for he shall cause Israel to inherit it. Moreover ^xyour little ones, which ye said should be a prey, and your chilit, and they shall possess it. But as for you, ^zturn ye, and take your journey into the wilderness by the way of the ^{aa} Red sea. Then ye answered and said unto me, ^{ab}We have sinned against the LORD, we will go up and fight, according to all that the LORD our God commanded us. And when ye had girded on every man his weapons of war, ye were ready to go up into the hill. And the LORD said unto me, Say unto them, ^{ac}Go not up, neither fight; for I am not among you; lest ye be smitten before ^{ad} your enemies. So I spake unto you; and you would not hear, but ^{ae}rebelled against the commandment of the LORD, and ^{af}went presumptuously up into the

And ye returned and wept before the LORD; but the LORD would not hearken to your voice, nor give ear unto you.

Bashan came out against us, he and all his people, to battle ^bat Edrei. And the LORD said unto me, Fear him not: for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land, into thy hand; and thou shalt do unto him as thou didst unto ^cSihon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Heshbon. So the LORD our God delivered into our hands Og also, the king of Bashan, and all his people: ^dand we smote him until none was left to him remaining. And we took all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, three-score cities, ^eall the region of Argob, the kingdom of Og in Bashan. All these cities ^fwere fenced with high walls, gates, and bars; beside ^gunwalled towns a great many. And we ^hutterly destroyed them, as we did unto Sihon king ⁱof Heshbon, utterly destroying the men, women, and children, of every city. But all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took for a prey to ourselves. And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorites the land that ^jwas on this side Jordan, from the river of Arnon unto mount Hermon; (^kwhich ^lHermon the Sidonians call ^mSirion; and the Amorites call it ⁿShenir;) all the cities of the plain, and all Gilead, and all Bashan, unto ^oSalchah and Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan. For only Og king of Bashan remained of the remnant of ^pgiants; behold, his bedstead ^qwas a bedstead of iron; ^ris it not in ^sRabbath of the children of Ammon? nine cubits ^twas the length thereof, and four cubits the breadth of it, after the cubit ^uof a man. And this land, ^vwhich we possessed at that time, ^wfrom Aroer, which ^xis by the river Arnon, and half mount Gilead, and ^ythe cities thereof, gave I unto the Reubenites and to the Gadites. And ^zthe rest of Gilead, and all Bashan, ^{aa}being the kingdom of Og, gave I unto the half tribe of Manasseh; ^{ab}all the region of Argob, with all Bashan, which was called the land of ^{ac}giants. ^{ad}Jair the son of Manasseh took all the country of Argob unto the coasts of ^{ae}Geshuri and Maachathi; and called them after his own name, Bashan-^{af}havoth-jair, unto this day. ^{ag}And I gave Gilead unto Machir. And unto the Reubenites ^{ah}and unto the Gadites I gave from Gilead even unto the river Arnon, half the valley, and the border, even unto the river Jabbok, ^{ai}which is the border of the children of Ammon; the plain also, and Jordan, and the coast ^{aj}thereof, from ^{ak}Chinnereth ^{al}even unto the sea of the plain, ^{am}even the salt sea, ^{an}under Ashdodth-pisgah eastward. And I commanded you at that time, saying, The LORD your God hath given you this land to possess it: ye shall pass over ^{ao}armed before your brethren the children of Israel, all ^{ap}that are ^{aq}meet for the war. But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattle, (^{ar}for ^{as}I know that ye have much cattle,) shall abide in your cities which I have given you; until ^{at}the LORD have given rest unto your brethren, as well as unto you, and ^{au}until they also possess the land which the LORD your God hath given them beyond Jordan: and ^{av}then shall ye return every man unto his possession, which I have given you. And I commanded ^{aw}Joshua at that time, saying, Thine eyes have seen all that the LORD your God hath done unto these two kings: so shall the LORD do unto all the kingdoms whither thou passest. Ye shall not fear them: for ^{ax}the LORD your God he shall fight for you. And I besought the LORD at that time, saying, O Lord God, thou hast begun to shew thy servant ^{ay}thy greatness, and thy mighty hand: for ^{az}what God ^{ba}is there in heaven or in earth, that can do according to thy works, and according to thy might? I pray thee, let me go over, and see ^{bb}the good land that ^{bc}is beyond Jordan, that goodly mountain, and ^{bd}Lebanon. But the LORD ^{be}was wroth with me for your sakes, and would not hear me: and the LORD said unto me, ^{bf}Let it suffice thee; speak no more unto me of this matter. ^{bg}Get thee up ^{bh}into the top of ^{bi}Pisgah, and lift up thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold ^{bj}it with thine eyes: for thou shalt not go over this Jordan. But ^{bk}charge Joshua, and ^{bl}encourage him, ^{bm}and strengthen him: for ^{bn}he shall go over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which thou shalt see. shall you diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the LORD your God which I command you. Your eyes have seen what the LORD did because of ^eBaal-peor: for all the men that followed Baal-peor, the LORD thy God hath destroyed them from among you. But ye that did cleave unto the LORD your God are alive every one of you this day. Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the LORD my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it. Keep therefore and do them; for this is ^dyour wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, ^eSurely this great nation is a wise and understanding people. For ^fwhat nation is there so great, who hath ^gGod so nigh unto them, as the LORD our God is in all things that we call upon him for? And what nation is there so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day? Only take heed to thyself, and ^hkeep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but ⁱteach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons; ^kspecially ^lthe day that thou stoodest before the LORD thy God in Horeb, when the LORD said unto me, Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and that they may teach their children. And ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the ^mmountain burnt with fire unto the ⁿmidst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness. ^oAnd the LORD spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ^pye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude; ^qonly ye heard a voice. ^rAnd he declared unto you his covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten ^scommandments; and ^the wrote them upon two tables of stone. And ^uthe LORD commanded me at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it. ^vTake ye therefore good heed unto ^wyour-selves; for ye saw no manner of ^xsimilitude on the day that the LORD spake unto you in Horeb out of the midst of

But the LORD hath taken you, and brought you forth ^{ak}out of the iron furnace, ^{al}even out of Egypt, to be unto him a people ^{am}of inheritance, as ye are this day. Furthermore ^{an}the LORD was angry with me for your sakes, and sware that I should not go over Jordan, and that I should not go in unto that good land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance: but ^{ao}I must die in this land, ^{ap}I must not go over Jordan: but ye shall go over, and possess ^{aq}that good land. ^{ar}Take heed unto yourselves, ^{as}lest ye forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, ^{at}and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the LORD thy God hath forbidden thee. For ^{au}the LORD thy God is a consuming fire, ^{av}even ^{aw}a jealous God. When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have remained long in the land, and ^{ax}shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, and ^{ay}shall do evil in the sight of the LORD thy God, ^{az}to provoke him to anger: ^{ba}I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto you go over Jordan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed. and all these things ¹are come upon thee, ²*even* in the latter days, if thou ³turn to the LORD thy God, and shalt be obedient unto his voice; (for the LORD thy ⁴God is ⁵a merciful God;) he will not forsake thee, neither destroy thee, nor forget the covenant of thy fathers which he sware unto them. For ⁶ask now of ⁷the days that are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man upon the earth, and ⁸ask ⁹from the one side of heaven unto the other, whether there hath been any such thing as this great thing is, or hath been heard like it? ¹⁰Did ever people hear the voice of ¹¹God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and live? Or ¹²hath God assayed to go and take him a nation from the midst of another nation, ¹³by temptations, ¹⁴by signs, and ¹⁵by wonders, and by war, and ¹⁶by a mighty hand, and ¹⁷by a stretched out arm, and ¹⁸by great terrors, according to all that the LORD your God did for you in Egypt before your eyes? Unto thee it ¹⁹was shewed, that thou mightest know that the LORD he is God; ²⁰*there is* none else besides him. ²¹Out of heaven he ²²made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee: and upon earth he shewed thee his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire. And because ²³he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mighty power out of Egypt; ²⁴to drive out nations from before thee greater and mightier than thou art, to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as it is this day. Know therefore this day, and ²⁵consider it in thine heart, that ²⁶the LORD he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: ²⁷*there is* none else. ²⁸Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, ²⁹and his commandments, which I command thee this day, ³⁰that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the LORD thy God giveth thee, for ever.

Then Moses ³¹severed three cities on this side Jordan toward the sunrising; that the slayer might flee thither, which ³²should kill his neighbour ³³unawares, and hated him not ³⁴in times past; and that fleeing unto one of these cities he might live: namely, ³⁵Bezer in the wilderness, ³⁶in ³⁷the plain country, of the Reubenites;

and Ramoth in Gilead, of the Gadites; and Golan in Bashan, of the Manassites.

And this is the law which Moses set before the children of Israel: these are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which Moses spake unto the children of Israel, after they came forth out of Egypt, on this side Jordan, ¹in the valley over against Beth-peor, in the land of Sihon king of the Amorites, who dwelt at Heshbon, whom Moses and the children of Israel ²smote, after they were come forth out of Egypt: and they possessed his land, and the land ³of Og king of Bashan, two kings of the Amorites, which were on this side Jordan toward the sunrising; ⁴from Aroer, which is by the bank of the river Arnon, even unto mount ⁵Sion, which ⁶is ⁷Hermon, and all the plain on this side Jordan eastward, even unto ⁸the sea of the plain, under the ⁹springs of Pishah.

And Moses called all Israel, and said unto them, Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, that ye may learn them, ¹and ²keep, and do them. ³The LORD our God made a covenant with us in ⁴Horeb. The LORD ⁵made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day. ⁶The LORD talked with you ⁷face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire, ⁸(⁹I stood between the LORD and you at that time, to shew you the word of the LORD: for ¹⁰ye were afraid by reason of the fire, and went not up into the mount;) saying,

¹I am the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the ²house of ³bondage. Thou shalt have ⁴none other gods before me. Thou shalt not make thee any graven image, or any likeness of any thing that is in heaven above, or that is in the earth beneath, or that is in the waters beneath the earth: ⁵thou shalt not bow down thyself unto them, nor serve them: for I the LORD thy God am a jealous God, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of ⁶them that hate me, ⁷and shewing mercy unto thousands of them that love me ⁸and keep my commandments. Thou shalt not take the name of the LORD thy God in vain: for the LORD will not hold ⁹him guiltless that taketh his name in ¹⁰vain. Keep the sabbath day to sanctify it, as the LORD thy God hath commanded thee. Six days thou shalt labour, ¹³ and do all thy work: but ¹⁴ the seventh day is the sabbath of the LORD thy God: in it thou shalt not do any work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, nor thy manservant, nor thy maidservant, nor thine ox, nor thine ass, nor any of thy cattle, nor thy stranger that is within thy gates; that thy manservant and thy maidservant may rest as well as thou. ¹⁵ And remember that thou wast a servant in the land of Egypt, and that the LORD thy God brought thee out thence ¹⁶ through a mighty hand and by a stretched out arm: therefore the LORD thy God commanded thee to keep the sabbath day. Honour thy father and thy mother, as the LORD thy God hath commanded thee; ¹⁷ that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee, in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee. ¹⁸ Neither shalt thou commit adultery. ¹⁹ Neither shalt thou steal. ²⁰ Neither shalt thou bear false witness against thy neighbour. ²¹ Neither shalt thou desire thy neighbour's wife, neither shalt thou covet thy neighbour's house, his field, or his manservant, or his maidservant, his ox, or his ass, or any thing that is thy neighbour's.

These words the LORD spake unto all ²² your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and he added no more. And ²³ he wrote them in two tables of stone, and delivered them unto me. And it came to pass, ²⁴ when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, (for the mountain did burn with fire,) that ye came near unto me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders; and ye said, Behold, the LORD our God hath shewed us his glory and ²⁵ his greatness, and ²⁶ we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: we have seen this day that God doth talk with man, and he ²⁷ liveth. Now therefore why should we die? for this great fire will consume us: ²⁸ if we hear the voice of the LORD our God any more, then we shall die. ²⁹ For who is there of all flesh, that hath heard the voice of the living God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have, and lived? Go thou near, and hear all that the LORD our God shall say: and ³⁰ speak thou unto us all that the LORD our God shall speak unto thee; and we will hear ³¹ it, and do it. And the LORD heard the voice of your words, when ye spake unto me; and the LORD said unto me, I have heard the voice of the words of this people, which they have spoken unto thee: ³² they have well said all that they have spoken. ³³ O that there were such a heart in them, that they would fear me, and keep all my commandments always, ³⁴ that it might be well with them, and with their children for ever! Go say to them, Get you into your tents again. ³⁵ But as for thee, stand thou here by me, and ³⁶ I will speak unto thee all the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, that they may do them in the land which ³⁷ I give them to possess it. Ye shall observe to do therefore as the LORD your God hath commanded you: ³⁸ ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left. ³⁹ You shall walk in all the ways which the LORD your God hath commanded you, that ye may live, and ⁴⁰ that it may be well with you, and that ye may prolong your days in the land which ye shall possess.

Now these are ^a the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the LORD your God commanded to teach you, that ye might do them in the land

² whither ye ³ go to possess it: that ⁴ thou mightest fear the LORD thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; ⁵ and that thy days may be prolonged. Hear therefore, O Israel, and observe to do it; ⁶ that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, ⁷ as the LORD God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in ⁸ the land that floweth with milk and honey. ⁹ Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God ¹⁰ is one LORD: and ¹¹ thou shalt love the LORD thy God ¹² with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and ¹³ with all thy ¹⁴ might. And ¹⁵ these words, which I command thee this day, shall ¹⁶ be in thine heart: and ¹⁷ thou shalt ¹⁸ teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and ¹⁹ when thou risest up. ²⁰ And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between ²¹ thine eyes. ²² And thou shalt write them

And the LORD will take away from thee all sickness, and will put none of the evil ^bdiseases of Egypt, which thou knowest, upon thee; but will lay them upon all them that hate thee. And ^cthou shalt consume all the people which the LORD thy God shall deliver thee; ^dthine eye shall have no pity upon them: neither shalt thou serve their gods; for that will be ^ea snare unto thee. If thou shalt say in ^fthine heart, These nations are more than I; how can I ^gdispossess them? ^hthou shalt not be afraid of them: but shalt well ⁱremember what the LORD thy God did unto Pharaoh, and unto all Egypt; ^jthe great temptations which thine eyes saw, and the signs, and the wonders, and the mighty hand, and the stretched out arm, whereby the LORD thy God brought thee out: so shall the LORD thy God do unto all the people of whom thou art afraid. Moreover the LORD thy God will send ^kthe hornet among them, until they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed. ^lThou shalt not be affrighted at them: for the LORD thy God is ^mamong you, ⁿa mighty God and terrible. ^oAnd the LORD thy God will ^pput out those nations before thee by little and little: thou mayest not consume them at once, lest the beasts of the field increase upon thee. But the LORD thy God shall deliver them ^qunto thee, and shall destroy them with a mighty destruction, until they be destroyed. And ^rhe shall deliver their kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name ^sfrom under heaven: ^tthere shall no man be able to stand before thee, until thou have destroyed them. The graven images of their gods ^ushall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver or gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be ^vsnared therein: for it is ^wan abomination to the LORD thy God. Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is ^xa cursed thing.

All the commandments which I command thee this day ^ashall ye observe to do, that ye may live, and multiply, and go in and possess the land which the LORD swore unto your fathers. And thou shalt remember all the way which the LORD thy God led thee ^bthese forty years in the wilderness, to humble thee, and ^cto prove thee, ^dto know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments, or no. And he humbled thee, and ^esuffered thee to hunger, and ^ffed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; that he might make thee know that ^gman doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the LORD doth man live. ^hThy raiment waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy foot swell, these forty years. Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man ⁱchasteneth his son, so the LORD thy God chasteneth thee. Therefore thou shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, ^kto walk in his ways, and to fear him. For the LORD thy God bringeth thee into a good land, ^la land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of the valleys and hills; a land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land ^mof oil olive, and honey; a land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land ⁿwhose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass. When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the LORD thy God for the good land which he hath given thee. Beware that thou forget not the LORD thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day: ^olest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein; and when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied; ^pthen thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the LORD thy God, which brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage; who ^qled thee through that great and terrible wilderness, wherein were ^rfiery serpents, and scorpions, and ^sdrought, where there was no water; ^twho brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint; who fed

But thou shalt remember the LORD thy God: ^y for it is he that giveth thee power to get wealth, ^z that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day. And it shall be, if thou do at all forget ¹⁹ the LORD thy God, and walk ^a after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, ^b I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish. As the nations ²⁰ which the LORD destroyeth before your face, ^c so shall ye perish; because ye would not be obedient unto the voice of the LORD your God.

IX.

Hear, O Israel: Thou art to ^a pass over Jordan this day, to go in to possess nations ^b greater and mightier than thyself, cities great and ^c fenced up to heaven, a people great and tall, ^d the children of the Anakims, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anak! Understand therefore this day, ³ that the LORD thy God is he which ^e goeth over before thee; as a ^f consuming fire ^g he shall destroy them, and he shall bring them down before thy face: ^h so shalt thou drive them out, and destroy them quickly, as the LORD hath said unto thee. ⁱ Speak not thou in thine heart, after that the LORD thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, For my righteousness the LORD hath brought me in to possess this land: but ^k for the wickedness of these nations the LORD ^h doth drive them out from before thee. ^l Not for thy righteousness, or for the uprightness of thine heart, dost thou go to possess their land: but for the wickedness of these nations the LORD thy God ^h doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform ^m the word which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Understand therefore, that the LORD thy ⁶ God giveth thee not this good land to possess it for thy righteousness; for thou art ⁿ a stiffnecked people. Remember, ⁷ and forget not, how thou provokedst the LORD thy God to wrath in the wilderness: ^o from the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Egypt, until ye came unto this place, ye have been re-

⁸ bellious against the LORD. Also ^p in Horeb ye provoked the LORD to wrath, so that the LORD was angry with you to ⁹ have destroyed you. ^q When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the LORD made with you, then I abode in the mount ^r forty days and forty nights, I neither did eat bread nor drink ¹⁰ water: ^s and the LORD delivered unto me two tables of stone written with the finger of God; and on them was written according to all the words, which the LORD spake with you in the mount out of the midst of the fire ^t in the day of the ¹¹ assembly. And it came to pass at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the LORD gave me the two tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant. ¹² And the LORD said unto me, ^u Arise, get thee down quickly from hence; for thy people which thou hast brought forth out of Egypt have corrupted themselves; they are ^x quickly turned aside out of the way which I commanded them; they ¹³ have made them a molten image. Furthermore ^y the LORD spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and behold, ^z it is a stiffnecked people: ^a let me alone, that I may destroy them, and ^b blot out their name from under heaven: ^c and I will make of thee a nation ¹⁵ mightier and greater than they. ^d So I turned and came down from the mount, and ^e the mount burned with fire: and the two tables of the covenant were in ¹⁶ my two hands. And ^f I looked, and behold, ye had sinned against the LORD your God, and had made you a molten calf: ye had turned aside quickly out of the way which the LORD had commanded ¹⁷ you. And I took the two tables, and cast them out of my two hands, and ¹⁸ brake them before your eyes. And I ^g fell down before the LORD, ^h as at the first, forty days and forty nights: I did neither eat bread, nor drink water, because of all your sins which ye sinned, ⁱ in doing wickedly in the sight of the ¹⁹ LORD, to provoke him to anger. For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the LORD was wroth against you to destroy you. ^j But the LORD hearkened unto me at that time ²⁰ also. And the LORD was very angry with Aaron to have destroyed him: and I prayed for Aaron also the same time. ²¹ And ^k I took your sin, the calf which ye had made, and burnt it with fire, and

XI.

Therefore thou shalt ^alove the LORD thy God, and ^bkeep his charge, and his statutes, and his judgments, and his commandments alway. And know you ²this day: for I speak not with your children which have not known, and which have not seen ^cthe chastisement of the LORD your God, ^dhis greatness, ^ehis mighty hand, and his stretched out arm, ^fand his miracles, and his acts, which he did in the midst of Egypt unto Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and unto all his land; and what he did unto the army of Egypt, unto their horses, and to their chariots; ^gshow he made the water of the Red sea to overflow them as they pursued after you, and how the LORD hath destroyed them unto this day; and what he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came into this place; and ^hwhat he did unto Dathan and Abiram, the sons of Eliab, the son of Reuben: how the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their households, and their tents, and all the ⁱsubstance that ^jwas in their possession, in the midst of all Israel: but your eyes ⁷have seen all the great acts of the LORD which he did. Therefore shall ye keep ⁸all the commandments which I command you this day, that ye may ^kbe strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it; and ⁹that ye may prolong your days in the land, ^mwhich the LORD sware unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, ⁿa land that floweth with milk and honey. For the land, whither thou ¹⁰goest in to possess it, is not as the land of Egypt, from whence ye came out, where thou sowedst thy seed, and ^owateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs: ^pbut the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven: a land which the LORD thy God ¹²careth for: ^qthe eyes of the LORD thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of the year. And it shall come to pass, ¹³if you shall hearken diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, ^rto love the LORD your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul, that ^sI will give ¹⁴

you the rain of your land in his due season, ^tthe first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and ¹⁵thy wine, and thine oil. ^uAnd I will ^vsend grass in thy fields for thy cattle, ¹⁶that thou mayest ^xeat and be full. Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not ^ydeceived, and ye turn aside, and ^zserve other gods, and worship them; ¹⁷and then ^athe LORD's wrath be kindled against you, and he ^bshut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that ^cthe land yield not her fruit; and ^dlest ^eye perish quickly from off the good land which ¹⁸the LORD giveth you. Therefore ^fshall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, and ^gbind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may ¹⁹be as frontlets between your eyes. ^hAnd ye shall teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up. ⁱAnd thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine ²¹house, and upon thy gates: that ^jyour days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give them, ^kas the days of heaven upon the ²²earth. For if ^lye shall diligently keep all these commandments which I command you, to do them, to love the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, ²³and ^mto cleave unto him; then will the LORD ⁿdrive out all these nations from before you, and ye shall ^opossess greater nations and mightier than yourselves. ²⁴Every place whereon the soles of your feet shall tread shall be yours: ^qfrom the wilderness and Lebanon, from the river, the river Euphrates, even unto ^rthe uttermost sea shall your coast be. ²⁵There shall no man be able to stand before you: for the LORD your God shall lay ^tthe fear of you and the dread of you upon all the land that ye shall tread upon, ^uas he hath said unto you. ²⁶Behold, I set before you this day a ^vblessing and a curse; ^xa blessing, if ye obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you this ²⁸day: and a ^ycurse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, ^zto go after other gods, which ye have not ²⁹known. And it shall come to pass, when the LORD thy God hath brought

^a These are the statutes and judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the LORD God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, ^b all the days that ye live upon the earth. Ye shall utterly destroy all the places, ² wherein the nations which ye shall ¹ possess served their gods, ^c upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree: and you shall ³ overthrow their altars, and break ^d their pillars, and burn their groves with fire; and ^e you shall hew down the graven images of their gods, and destroy the names of them out of that place. ^f Ye shall not do so unto the LORD your God. But ^g unto the place which the LORD your God shall choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come: and thither ye ⁶ shall bring your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your ^h tithes, and heave offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your freewill offerings, and ⁱ the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks: and ^j there ye shall eat before ⁷ the LORD your God, and ^k ye shall rejoice in all ¹ that you put your hand unto, ye and your households, wherein the LORD thy God hath blessed thee. Ye ⁸ shall not do after all the things that we do here this day, ^m every man whatsoever is right in his own eyes. For ye ⁹ are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the LORD your God giveth you. But when ⁿ ye go over ¹⁰ Jordan and dwell in the land which the LORD your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety; then there shall be ^o ¹¹ a place which the LORD your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there;

thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all ¹ your choice vows which ye vow unto the LORD: and ¹² ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God, ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your menservants, and your maidservants, and the Levite that is within your gates; forasmuch as ¹³ he hath no part nor inheritance with you. ¹³ Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in every place that thou seest: ¹⁴ but in the place which the LORD shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do ¹⁵ all that I command thee. Notwithstanding ¹ thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy gates, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, according to the blessing of the LORD thy God which he hath given thee: ¹⁶ the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, ¹⁷ as of the roebuck, and ¹⁸ as of the hart. ¹⁹ Only ye shall not eat the blood; ye shall pour it upon the earth as water. Thou mayest not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, or the firstlings of thy herds or of thy flock, nor any of thy vows which thou vowest, nor thy freewill offerings, or heave offering of thine hand: ²⁰ but thou must eat them before the LORD thy God in the place which the LORD thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt rejoice before the LORD thy God in all ¹ that thou puttest thine hands unto. ²¹ Take heed to thyself that thou forsake not the Levite ¹ as long as thou livest upon the earth. When the LORD thy God shall enlarge thy border, ²² as he hath promised thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh, because thy soul longeth to eat flesh; thou mayest eat flesh, ²³ whatsoever thy soul lusteth after. If the place which the LORD thy God hath chosen to put his name there be too far from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock, which the LORD hath given thee, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy gates ²⁴ whatsoever thy soul lusteth after. ²⁵ Even as the roebuck and the hart is eaten, so thou shalt eat them: the unclean and the clean shall eat of them

If there arise among you a prophet, or a ^a dreamer of dreams, ^b and giveth thee a sign or a wonder, and ^c the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them; thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: for the LORD your God ^d proveth you, to know whether you love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul. Ye shall ^e walk after the LORD your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and you shall serve him, and ^f cleave unto him. And ^g that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; because he hath [†] spoken to turn you away from the LORD your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage, to ^h thrust thee out of the way which the LORD thy God commanded thee to walk in. ^h So shalt thou put the evil away from the midst ⁶ of thee. ⁱ If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or ^j the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, ^k which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, ⁷ thou, nor thy fathers; namely, ^l of the gods of the people which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth; ⁸ thou shalt ^m not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither ⁿ shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, ⁹ neither shalt thou conceal him: but thou shalt surely kill him; ^o thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all ¹⁰ the people. ^p And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; because he hath sought to [†] thrust thee away from the LORD thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the ¹¹ house of [†] bondage. And ^q all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is ¹² among you. ^r If thou shalt hear say in one of thy cities, which the LORD thy God hath given thee to dwell there, say-¹³ ing, Certain men, [†] the children of Belial, are gone out from among you, and have ^s withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, ¹⁴ which ye have not known; then shalt thou inquire, and make search, and ask [†] diligently; and behold, if it be truth, and the thing certain, that such abomi-

Nevertheless ⁷these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you. And the swine, ⁸because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, ⁹nor touch their dead carcase.

These ye shall eat of all that are in ⁹the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat: and whatsoever hath not ¹⁰fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you.

Of all clean birds ye shall eat. But ¹¹these are ¹²they of which ye shall not eat: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray, and ^kthe glade, and the kite, ¹³and ^lthe vulture after his kind, and every ¹⁴raven after his kind, and the owl, and ¹⁵the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind, the little owl, ¹⁶and the great owl, and the swan, and the ¹⁷pelican, and the gier eagle, and the cormorant, and the stork, and the heron ¹⁸after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat. And ¹¹ the LORD shall make thee plentiful ^q in goods, in the fruit of thy ^r body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy ground, in the land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers to give ¹² thee. The LORD shall open unto thee his good treasure, the heaven ^p to give the rain unto thy land in his season, and ^q to bless all the work of thine hand: and ^r thou shalt lend unto many nations, and thou shalt not borrow. ¹³ And the LORD shall make thee ^s the head, and not the tail; and thou shalt be above only, and thou shalt not be beneath; if that thou hearken unto the commandments of the LORD thy God, which I command thee this day, to observe and to do them: ^t and thou shalt not go aside from any of the words which I command thee this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

¹⁵ But it shall come to pass, ^u if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and ^w overtake thee: cursed shalt thou be ^x in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the ¹⁷ field. Cursed shall ^y be thy basket and ¹⁸ thy store. Cursed shall ^z be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of ¹⁹ thy sheep. Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be ²⁰ when thou goest out. The LORD ¹ shall send upon thee cursing, ² vexation, and ³ rebuke, in all ⁴ that thou settest thine hand unto ⁵ for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, ²¹ where⁶ thou hast forsaken me. The LORD shall make ⁷ the pestilence cleave unto thee, until he have consumed thee from off the land, whither thou goest to possess it. The LORD shall smite thee with ⁸ ^a a consumption, and with ⁹ ^d a fever, and with an inflammation, and with an extreme burning, and with the ¹⁰ sword, and with ¹¹ blasting, and with ¹² mildew; and they shall pursue thee until thou ²³ perish. And ¹³ thy heaven that is over thy head shall be brass, and the earth ²⁴ that is under thee shall be iron. The LORD shall make the rain of thy land powder and dust: from heaven shall it come down upon thee, until thou be destroyed. ²⁵ The LORD shall cause thee to be smitten before thine enemies: thou shalt go out one way against them, and flee seven ways before them: and ¹⁹ ¹ shalt be ² removed into all the kingdoms of the earth. And ¹thy carcase shall be ²⁶ meat unto all fowls of the air, and unto the beasts of the earth, and ¹no man shall fray them away. The LORD will ²⁷ smite thee with ^kthe botch of Egypt, and with ¹the emerods, and with ^mthe scab, and with the itch, whereof thou canst not be healed. The LORD shall ²⁸ smite thee with ⁿmadness, and blindness, and ^oastonishment of heart: and ²⁹ thou shalt ^pgrope at noondays, as the blind gropeth in darkness, and thou shalt not prosper in thy ways: and thou shalt be only oppressed and spoiled evermore, and no man shall save thee. ^qThou ³⁰ shalt betroth a wife, and another man shall lie with her: ^rthou shalt build a house, and thou shalt not dwell therein: thou shalt plant a vineyard, and shalt not [†]gather the grapes thereof. Thine ³¹ ox shall be slain before thine eyes, and thou shalt not eat thereof: thine ass shall be violently taken away from before thy face, and ¹shall not be restored to thee: thy sheep shall be given unto thine enemies, and thou shalt have none to rescue them. Thy sons and thy daughters ³² shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and ^sfail with longing for them all the day long: and there shall be ^tno might in thine hand. The ³³ fruit of thy land, and all thy labours, shall a nation which thou knowest not eat up; ^uand thou shalt be only oppressed and crushed away: so that thou shalt ³⁴ be mad ^vfor the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see. The LORD shall smite ³⁵ thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore ^wbotch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head. The LORD shall ^xbring thee, ³⁶ and thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and ^ythere shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone. And thou shalt become ^zan ³⁷ astonishment, ^{aa}a proverb, and ^{za}a byword, among all nations whither the LORD shall lead thee. ^bThou shalt carry ³⁸ much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for ^cthe locust shall consume it. Thou shalt plant vineyards, ³⁹ and dress them, but shalt neither drink of the wine, nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them. Thou shalt ⁴⁰ have olive trees throughout all thy coasts, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with the oil; for thine olive shall cast his fruit. Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but [†]thou shalt not enjoy them; for ⁴² ^dthey shall go into captivity. All thy trees and fruit of thy land shall the locust ⁴³ ^lconsume. ^eThe stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very ⁴⁴ low. ^fHe shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: ^ehe shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail. Moreover ⁴⁵ ^gall these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee: and they shall be upon thee ^hfor a sign and for a wonder, and ⁴⁷ upon thy seed for ever. Because thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with ⁱgladness of heart, ^kfor the abundance of all things; therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he ¹shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he ⁴⁹ have destroyed thee. ^mThe LORD shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, ⁿas swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not ⁵⁰ [†]understand; a nation ^oof fierce countenance, ^owhich shall not regard the person of the old, nor shew ⁵¹ favour to the young: and he shall ^{peat} the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruit of thy land, until thou be destroyed: which also shall not leave thee either corn, wine, or oil, or the increase of thy kine, or flocks of thy sheep, until he have ⁵² [†]destroyed thee. And he shall ^qbesiege thee in all thy gates, until thy high and fenced walls come down, wherein thou trustedst, throughout all thy land: and he shall besiege thee in all thy gates throughout all thy land, which the LORD ⁵³ thy God hath given thee. And ^rthou shalt eat the fruit of thine own [†]body, the flesh of thy sons and of thy daughters, which the LORD thy God hath given thee, ^sin the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall ⁵⁴ [†]distress thee: so that the man that is tender among you, and very delicate, [†]his eye shall be evil toward his brother, and toward ^uthe wife of his bosom, and towards the remnant of his children which ⁵⁵ he shall leave: so that he will not give to any of them of the flesh of his children whom he shall eat: because: he hath nothing left him ⁵in the siege, and in the straitness, wherewith thine enemies shall distress thee in all thy gates. The ^wtender and delicate woman among ⁵⁶you, which would not adventure to set the sole of her foot upon the ground for delicateness and tenderness, [†]her eye shall be evil towards the husband of her bosom, and towards her son, and towards her daughter, and towards her [†]young ⁵⁷one that cometh out ^{*}from between her feet, and towards her children which she shall bear: for she shall eat them for want of all things secretly ⁵in the siege and straitness, wherewith thine enemy shall distress thee in thy gates.

If thou wilt not observe to do all the ⁵⁸words of this law that are written in this book, that thou mayest fear this glorious and fearful name, [†]THE LORD THY GOD; then the LORD ^zwill make thy ⁵⁹plagues wonderful, and the plagues of thy seed, even great plagues, and of long continuance, and sore sicknesses, and of long continuance. Moreover he will ⁶⁰bring upon thee all the ^adiseases of Egypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee. Also every ⁶¹sickness, and every plague, which is not written in the book of this law, them will the LORD [†]bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed. And ye shall be left ⁶²few in number, whereas ye were ^cas the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the LORD thy God. And it shall ⁶³come to pass, that as the LORD ^drejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you; so the LORD ^ewill rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it. And the LORD ^fshall scatter ⁶⁴thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and ^gthere thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone. And ^hamong ⁶⁵these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: [†]but the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart, and ^kfailing of eyes, and ^ksorrow of mind: and thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life: [†]in the morn- ⁶⁷ing thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and ^mfor the sight of thine eyes which ⁶⁸thou shalt see. And the LORD ⁿshall bring thee into Egypt again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, ^oThou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

These are the words of the covenant, which the LORD commanded Moses to make with the children of Israel in the land of Moab, beside ^athe covenant ^awhich he made with them in Horeb.

² And Moses called unto all Israel, and said unto them, ^bYe have seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of Egypt unto Pharaoh, and unto all his servants, and unto all his land; ³ ^cthe great temptations which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great miracles: yet ^dthe LORD hath not given you a heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day. ^eAnd I have led you forty years in the wilderness: ^fyour clothes are not waxen old upon you, and thy shoe is not waxen ⁶old upon thy foot. ^gYe have not eaten bread, neither have you drunk wine or strong drink: that ye might know that I ⁷*am* the LORD your God. And when ye came unto this place, ^hSihon the king of Heshbon, and Og the king of Bashan, came out against us unto battle, and we ⁸smote them: and we took their land, and ⁱgave it for an inheritance unto the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to ⁹the half tribe of Manasseh. ^jKeep therefore the words of this covenant, and do them, that ye may ^kprosper in all that ye do.

¹⁰ Ye stand this day all of you before the LORD your God: your captains of your tribes, your elders, and your [†]officers, with all the men of Israel, your little ones, your wives, and thy stranger that is in thy camp, from ^mthe hewer of thy wood unto the drawer of thy water: ¹² that thou shouldest [†]enter into covenant with the LORD thy God, and into his ⁿoath, which the LORD thy God maketh ¹³with thee this day: that he may ^oestablish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, ^pas he hath said unto thee, and ^qas he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to ¹⁴Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob. standeth here with us this day before the LORD our God, ^aand also with him that is not here with us this day: (for ye ¹⁶ know how we have dwelt in the land of Egypt; and how we came through the nations which ye passed by; and ye ¹⁷ have seen their abominations, and their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which were among them:) lest there ¹⁸ should be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart turneth away this day from the LORD our God, to go and serve the gods of these nations; ¹⁹lest there should be among you a root that beareth ¹⁹gall and ¹⁹worm-wood; and it come to pass, when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, I shall have peace, though I walk in the ²⁰imagination of mine heart, ²⁰to add ²⁰drunkenness to thirst: the LORD will not spare him, but then ²¹the anger of the LORD and ²¹this jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the LORD ²²shall blot out his name from under heaven. And the LORD ²³shall separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Israel, according to all the curses of the covenant that ²⁴are written in this book of the law: so that the ge-²⁵neration to come of your children that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a far land, ²⁶shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses ²⁷which the LORD hath laid upon it; and that the whole land thereof is brimstone, and ²⁸salt, and burning, that it is not sown, nor beareth, nor any grass groweth there-²⁹in, ²⁹like the overthrow of Sodom, and Gomorrah, Admah, and Zeboim, which the LORD overthrew in his anger, and in his wrath: even all nations ³⁰shall say, ³¹Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this land? what meaneth ³²the heat of this great anger? Then men shall say, ³³Because they have forsaken the cove-³⁴nant of the LORD God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt: for they went and served other ³⁵gods, and worshipped them, gods whom they knew not, and ³⁶whom he had not ³⁷given unto them: and the anger of the LORD was kindled against this land, to bring upon it all the curses that are writ-³⁸ten in this book: and the LORD ³⁹rooted ⁴⁰them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, as it is this day.

⁴¹The secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our chil-⁴²dren for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

And ⁴³it shall come to pass, when ⁴⁴ball XXX. these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and ⁴⁵thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, whither the ⁴⁶LORD thy God hath driven thee, and shalt ⁴⁷return unto the LORD thy God, and shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thine heart, and ⁴⁸with all thy soul; that then the LORD thy God ⁴⁹will turn thy captivity, and have compassion upon thee, and will return and ⁵⁰gather thee from all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath scatter-⁵¹ed thee. ⁵²If any of thine be driven out unto the outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the LORD thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee: ⁵³and the LORD thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possess-⁵⁴ed, and thou shalt possess it; and he will ⁵⁵do thee good, and multiply thee ⁵⁶above thy fathers. And ⁵⁷the LORD thy God will circumcise thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all ⁵⁸thy soul, that thou mayest live. And the LORD thy God will put all these curses upon thine enemies, and on them that hate thee, which persecuted thee. ⁵⁹And thou shalt return and obey the voice of the LORD, and do all his commandments which I command thee this day. ⁶⁰And the LORD thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy land, for good: for the LORD will again ⁶¹rejoice over thee for good, as he ⁶²rejoiced over thy fathers: if thou shalt hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which are written in this book of the law, and if thou turn unto the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and ⁶³with all thy soul. For this command-⁶⁴ment which I command thee this day, ⁶⁵it is not hidden from thee, neither is it far off. ⁶⁶It is not in heaven, that ⁶⁷thou shouldst say, Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us,

^a ver. 19. See, ^a I have set before thee this day ¹⁵ life and good, and death and evil; in ¹⁶ that I command thee this day ^o to love the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that thou mayest live and multiply: and the LORD thy God shall bless thee in the land whither thou goest to possess it. But ¹⁷ if ^p thine heart turn away, so that thou wilt not hear, but ^q shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them; ^r I denounce unto you this day, that ye ¹⁸ shall surely perish, and that ^s ye shall not prolong your days upon the land, whither thou passest over Jordan to go to possess it. ^s I call heaven and earth ¹⁹ to record this day against you, that ^t I have set before you life and death, ^u blessing and cursing: therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live: that thou mayest love the LORD thy ²⁰ God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and ^x that thou mayest cleave unto him: for he is thy ^y life, and the length of thy days: that thou mayest dwell in the land ^z which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, to give them.

XXXI.

And Moses went and spake these words unto all Israel. And he said unto ² them, I am ^a an hundred and twenty years old this day; I can no more ^b go out and come in: also the LORD hath said unto me, ^c Thou shalt not go over this Jordan. The LORD thy God, ^d he ³ will go over before thee, and he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possess them: and Joshua, he shall go over before thee, ^e as the LORD hath said. ^f And the LORD shall ⁴ do unto them ^g as he did to Sihon and to Og, kings of the Amorites, and unto the land of them, whom he destroyed. And the LORD shall give them up before ⁵ your face, that ye may do unto them ^h according unto all the commandments which I have commanded you. ⁱ Be ⁶ strong and of a good courage, ^k fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the LORD thy God, ^l he it is that doth go with thee;

^m he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

⁷ And Moses called unto Joshua, and said unto him in the sight of all Israel, ⁿ Be strong and of a good courage: for thou must go with this people unto the land which the LORD hath sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou ⁸ shalt cause them to inherit it. And the LORD, ^o he it is that doth go before thee; he will be with thee, ^m he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither ^p be dismayed.

¹⁴ And the LORD said unto Moses, ^b Behold, thy days approach that thou must die: call Joshua, and present yourselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, that ^c I may give him a charge. And Moses and Joshua went, and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the ¹⁵ congregation. And ^d the LORD appeared in the tabernacle in a pillar of a cloud: and the pillar of the cloud stood over ¹⁶ the door of the tabernacle. And the LORD said unto Moses, Behold, thou shalt ^e sleep with thy fathers; and this people will ^f rise up, and ^g go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they go to be amongst them, and will ^h forsake me, and ⁱ break my covenant which I have made with them. ¹⁷ Then my anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and ^j I will forsake them, and I will ^k hide my face from them, and they shall be devoured, and many evils and troubles shall ^l befall them; so that they will say in that day, Are not these evils come upon us, because ¹our God is not amongst us? And ^mI will surely hide my face in that day for all the evils which they shall have wrought, in that they are turned unto other gods. Now there-¹⁹fore write ye this song for you, and teach it the children of Israel: put it in their mouths, that this song may be ⁿa witness for me against the children of Israel. For when I shall have brought ²⁰them into the land which I swore unto their fathers, ^othat floweth with milk and honey; and they shall have eaten and filled themselves, and ^pwaxen fat; ^qthen will they turn unto other gods, and serve them, and ^rprovoke me, and ^hbreak my covenant. And it shall come ²¹to pass, ^swhen many evils and troubles are befallen them, that this song shall testify ^tagainst them as a witness; for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouths of their seed: for ¹I know their ^uimagination which they ^tgo about, even now, before I have brought them into the land which I swear. Moses therefore ²²wrote this song the same day, and taught it the children of Israel. ^wAnd he gave Joshua the son of Nun a charge, and said, ^xBe strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land which I swear unto them: and ^yI will be with thee.

And it came to pass, when Moses ²⁴had made an end of ^zwriting the words of this law in a book, until they were finished, that Moses commanded the ²⁵Levites, ^zwhich bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, saying, Take this ²⁶book of the law, ^aand put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there ^bfor a witness against thee. For I know thy rebellion, and thy ^cstiff neck: behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, ^dye have been rebellious against the LORD; and how much more after my death? Gather unto me all the elders ²⁸of your tribes, and your ^eofficers, that I may speak these words in their ears, ^fand call heaven and earth to record against them. For I know that after my death ye will utterly ^gcorrupt yourselves, and turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and evil will befall you ^hin the latter days; because ye will do evil in the sight of the LORD, ⁱto provoke him to anger through ³⁰the work of your hands. And Moses spake in the ears of all the congregation of Israel the words of this song, until they were ended.

Give ear, ^aO ye heavens, and I will speak;
And hear, O earth, the words of my mouth.
² ^bMy doctrine ^cshall drop as the rain,
My speech shall distil as the dew,
As the small rain upon the tender herb,
And ^das the showers upon the grass:
³ Because I will publish the name of the LORD:
Ascribe ye ^egreatness unto our God.
⁴ He is ^fthe Rock, his work is perfect:
For ^gall his ways are judgment:
^hA God of truth and ⁱwithout iniquity,
Just and right is he.
⁵ ^tThey have corrupted themselves, ^ltheir spot is not the spot of his children:

⁶ Do ye thus ^lrequite the LORD,
O foolish people and unwise?
Is not he ^mthy Father that hath ⁿbought thee?
Hath he not ^omade thee, and established thee?
⁷ Remember the days of old,
Consider the years of ^tmany generations:
^pAsk thy father, and he will shew thee;
Thy elders, and they will tell thee.
⁸ When the most High ^adivided to the nations their inheritance,
When he ^rseparated the sons of Adam,
He set the bounds of the people
According to the number of the children of Israel.
⁹ For the LORD's portion is his people;
Jacob is the ^llot of his inheritance.
¹⁰ He found him ^sin a desert land,
And in the ^twaste howling ^uwilderness;
He ^lled him about, he instructed him,
He kept him as ^xthe apple of his eye.

THE BOOK OF JOSHUA.

I. NOW after the death of Moses the servant of the LORD it came to pass, that the LORD spake unto Joshua the son of Nun, Moses' ^aminister, saying, ^bMoses my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this Jordan, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Israel. ^cEvery place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, ^cas I said unto Moses. ^dFrom the wilderness and ^ethis Lebanon even unto the great river, the river Euphrates, all the land of the Hittites, and unto the great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your coast. ^fThere shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: ^gas I was with Moses, so ^hI will be with thee: ⁱI will not fail thee, nor forsake thee. ^kBe strong and of a good courage: for ^lunto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land, which I swear unto their fathers to give them. Only ^kbe thou strong and very courageous, that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, ^lwhich Moses my servant commanded thee: ^mturn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest ⁿprosper whithersoever thou goest. This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but ⁿthou shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt ⁿhave good success. Have not I commanded thee? ^oBe strong and of a good courage; ^pbe not afraid, neither ^qbe thou dismayed: for the LORD thy God is with thee ^rwhithersoever thou goest.

Then Joshua commanded ^sthe officers of the people, saying, Pass through the host, and command the people, saying, Prepare you victuals; for ^twithin three

And to the Reubenites, and to the Gadites, and to half the tribe of Manasseh, spake Joshua, saying, Remember the word which ^uMoses the servant of the LORD commanded you, saying, The LORD your God hath given you rest, and hath given you this land. Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle, shall remain in the land which Moses gave you on this side Jordan; but ye shall pass before your brethren ^varmed, all the mighty men of valour, and help them; ^wuntil the LORD have given your brethren rest, as he hath given you, and they also have possessed the land which the LORD your God giveth them: ^xthen ye shall return unto the land of your possession, and enjoy it, which Moses the LORD's servant gave you on this side Jordan toward the sunrising. And they answered Joshua, saying, All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go. According as we hearkened unto Moses in all things, so will we hearken unto thee: only the LORD thy God ^ybe with thee, as he was with Moses. thee, which are entered into thine house: for they be come to search out all the country. ^dAnd the woman took the two ⁴ men, and hid them, and said thus, There came men unto me, but I wist not whence they were: and it came to pass ⁵ about the time of shutting of the gate, when it was dark, that the men went out; whither the men went I wot not: pursue after them quickly; for ye shall overtake them. But she had brought ⁶ them up to the roof of the house, and hid them with the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order upon the roof. And the men pursued after them the way to Jordan unto the fords: and as soon as they which pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate. And ⁸ before they were laid down, she came up unto them upon the roof; and she ⁹ said unto the men, I know that the LORD hath given you the land, and that ¹⁰ your terror is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint because of you. For we have heard how the LORD dried up the water of the Red sea for you, when you came out of Egypt; and what you did unto the two kings of the Amorites, that were on the other side Jordan, Sihon and Og, whom ¹¹ ye utterly destroyed. And as soon as ¹² we had heard these things, your hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you: for the LORD your God, he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath. Now therefore, I pray you, ¹³ swear unto me by the LORD, since I have shewed you kindness, that ye will also shew kindness unto my father's house, and give me a true token: and ¹⁴ that ye will save alive my father, and my mother, and my brethren, and my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death. And the ¹⁵ men answered her, Our life for yours, if ye utter not this our business. And it shall be, when the LORD hath given us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with thee. Then she let them ¹⁶ down by a cord through the window: for her house was upon the town wall, and she dwelt upon the wall. And she said unto them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you; and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned: and afterward may ye go your way. And the men ¹⁷ said unto her, We will be blameless of this thine oath which thou hast made us ¹⁸ swear. ¹⁹Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this line of scarlet thread in the window which thou didst let us down by: ²⁰and thou shalt bring thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy father's household, home unto thee. And it shall be, that whosoever shall go out of the doors of thy house into the street, his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guiltless: and whosoever shall be with thee in the house, ²¹his blood shall be on our head, if any hand be upon him. And if thou utter ²²this our business, then we will be quit of thine oath which thou hast made us to swear. And she said, According unto your words, so be it. And she sent them away, and they departed: and she bound the scarlet line ²³ in the window. And they went, and came unto the mountain, and abode there three days, until the pursuers were returned: and the pursuers sought them throughout all the way, but found them ²⁴ not. So the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to Joshua the son of Nun, and told him all things that befell them: and they said unto Joshua, Truly ²⁵ the LORD hath delivered into our hands all the land; for even all the inhabitants of the country do faint because of us.

And Joshua rose early in the morning; and they removed ²⁶ from Shittim, and came to Jordan, he and all the children of Israel, and lodged there before they passed over. And it came to pass ²⁷ after three days, that the officers went through the host; and they commanded the people, saying, When ye see the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, and ²⁸ the priests the Levites bearing it, then ye shall remove from your place, and go after it. ²⁹Yet there shall be a space between you and it, about two thousand cubits by measure: come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go: for ye have not passed this way ³⁰ heretofore. And Joshua said unto the people, Sanctify yourselves: for to morrow the LORD will do wonders among you. And Joshua spake unto the priests, saying, ³¹Take up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. And they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people. ³²And the LORD said unto Joshua, This ⁿ Ex. 25. 16, ⁿ the ark of the Testimony, that they come up out of Jordan. Joshua there-¹⁷ fore commanded the priests, saying, Come ye up out of Jordan. And it came to pass, when the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD were come up out of the midst of Jordan, ^{and} the soles of the priests' feet were [†]lift up unto the dry land, that the waters of Jordan returned unto their place, and [†]flowed over all his banks, ^{as} they did before. And the people came ¹⁹ up out of Jordan on the tenth day of the first month, and encamped [†]in Gilgal, in the east border of Jericho. And ²⁰ those twelve stones, which they took out of Jordan, did Joshua pitch in Gilgal. And he spake unto the children ²¹ of Israel, saying, [†]When your children shall ask their fathers [†]in time to come, saying, What mean these stones? then ²² ye shall let your children know, saying, [†]Israel came over this Jordan on dry land. For the LORD your God dried ²³ up the waters of Jordan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the LORD your God did to the Red sea, [†]which he dried up from before us, until we were gone over: [†]that all the people of the earth might know the hand of the LORD, that it is ^{*}mighty: that ye might [†]fear the LORD your God [†]for ever.

V.

And it came to pass, when all the kings of the Amorites, which were on the side of Jordan westward, and all the kings of the Canaanites, ^{*}which were by the sea, ^bheard that the LORD had dried up the waters of Jordan from before the children of Israel, until we were passed over, that their heart ^cmelted, ^dneither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Israel.

At that time the LORD said unto ² Joshua, Make thee [†]sharp knives, and circumcise again the children of Israel the second time. And Joshua made him ³ sharp knives, and circumcised the children of Israel at [†]the hill of the foreskins. And this is the cause why Joshua did circumcise: ^eAll the people that came out of Egypt, that were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Egypt. Now all the people that came out were ⁵ circumcised: but all the people that were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Egypt, them they had not circumcised. For the children ⁶ of Israel walked [†]forty years in the wilderness, till all the people that were men of war, which came out of Egypt, were consumed, because they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: unto whom the LORD ^gswore that he would not shew them the land, which the LORD swore unto their fathers that he would give us, ^ha land that floweth with milk and honey. ⁷ And [†]their children, whom he raised up in their stead, them Joshua circumcised: for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them by the ⁸ way. And it came to pass, [†]when they had done circumcising all the people, that they abode in their places in the ⁹ camp, ^ktill they were whole. And the LORD said unto Joshua, This day have I rolled away [†]the reproach of Egypt from off you. Wherefore the name of the place is called [†]Gilgal unto this day.

¹³ And it came to pass, when Joshua was by Jericho, that he lift up his eyes and looked, and behold, there stood ^qa man over against him [†]with his sword drawn in his hand: and Joshua went unto him, and said unto him, Art thou ¹⁴ for us, or for our adversaries? And he said, Nay; but as [†]captain of the host of the LORD am I now come. And Joshua [†]fell on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said unto him, What saith ¹⁵ my lord unto his servant? And the captain of the LORD's host said unto Joshua, [†]Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Joshua did so. Now Jericho [†]was straitly shut up because of the children of Israel: none went out, and none came ² in. And the LORD said unto Joshua, See, [†]I have given into thine hand Jericho, and the king thereof, and [†]the mighty ³ men of valour. And ye shall compass the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do ⁴ six days. And seven priests shall bear before the ark seven ^ctrumpets ^dof rams' horns: and the seventh day ye shall compass the city seven times, and ^ethe priests shall blow with the trumpets. And it shall come to pass, that when ^fthey ^fmake a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down [†]flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.

And Joshua the son of Nun called ^gthe priests, and said unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD. And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let him that is armed pass on before the ark of the LORD. And it came to pass, when ^hJoshua had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns passed on before the LORD, and blew with the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of the LORD followed them. And the armed men went ⁱbefore the priests that blew with the trumpets, and the [†]rereward came after the ark, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets. And Joshua had ^jcommanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shout, nor ^kmake any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall ye shout. So ^lthe ark of the LORD compassed the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp. And ^mJoshua rose early in the morning, and ⁿthe priests took up the ark of the LORD. And seven priests bearing seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD went on continually, and blew with the trumpets: and the armed men went before them; but the rereward came after the ark of the LORD, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets. And the second day they compassed ^othe city once, and returned into the camp: so they did six days. And it came to ^ppass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times. And ^qit came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Joshua said unto the people, Shout; for ^rthe LORD hath given you the city. And the city shall be ^saccursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the LORD: only Rahab the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because ^tshe hid the messengers that we sent. ^uAnd you, ^vin any wise keep yourselves from the ^waccursed thing, lest ye make yourselves accursed, when ye take of the ^xaccursed thing, and make the camp of ^yIsrael ^za curse, and ^{aa}trouble it. But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, ^{ab}are [†]consecrated unto the LORD: they shall come into the treasury ^{ac}of the LORD. So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that ^{ad}the wall fell down ^{ae}flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the ^{af}city. And they ^{ag}utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the ^{ah}sword. But Joshua had said unto the two men that had spied out the country, Go into the harlot's house, and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, ^{ai}as ye sware unto her. And the young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rahab, ^{aj}and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they brought out all her ^{ak}kindred, and left them without the camp ^{al}of Israel. And they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: ^{am}only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD. And Joshua saved Rahab the harlot alive, and her father's household, and all that she had; and ^{an}she dwelleth in Israel even unto this day; because she hid the messengers, which Joshua sent to spy out ^{ao}Jericho. And Joshua ^{ap}adjured them at that time, saying, ^{aq}Cursed be the man before the LORD, that riseth up and buildeth this city Jericho: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his firstborn, and in his youngest ^{ar}son shall he set up the ^{as}gates of it. ^{at}So the LORD was with Joshua; and ^{au}his fame was noised throughout all the country.

Judah, took of the accursed thing: and the anger of the LORD was kindled against the children of Israel. And Joshua sent men from Jericho to Ai, which is beside Beth-aven, on the east side of Beth-el, and spake unto them, saying, Go up and view the country. And the men went up and viewed Ai. And they returned to Joshua, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and smite Ai; and make not all the people to labour thither; for they are but few. So there went up thither of the people about three thousand men: and they fled before the men of Ai. And the men of Ai smote of them about thirty and six men: for they chased them from before the gate even unto Shebarim, and smote them in the going down: wherefore the hearts of the people melted, and became as water.

And Joshua rent his clothes, and fell to the earth upon his face before the ark of the LORD until the eventide, he and the elders of Israel, and put dust upon their heads. And Joshua said, Alas, O Lord God, wherefore hast thou at all brought this people over Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy us? would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other side Jordan! O Lord, what shall

I say, when Israel turneth their backs before their enemies! For the Canaanites and all the inhabitants of the land shall hear of it, and shall environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth: and what wilt thou do unto thy great name? And the LORD said unto Joshua, Get thee up; wherefore liest thou thus upon thy face? Israel hath sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I commanded them: for they have even taken of the accursed thing, and have also stolen, and dissembled also, and they have put it even amongst their own stuff. Therefore cut off the children of Israel could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because they were accursed: neither will I be with you any more, except ye destroy the accursed from amongst you.

Up, sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against to morrow: for thus saith the LORD God of Israel, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Israel: thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you.

In the morning therefore ye shall be brought according to your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which the LORD taketh shall come according to the families thereof; and the family which the LORD shall take shall come by households; and the household which the LORD shall take shall come man by man. And it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath: because he hath transgressed the covenant of the LORD, and because he hath wrought folly in Israel.

So Joshua rose up early in the morning, and brought Israel by their tribes; and the tribe of Judah was taken: and he brought the family of Judah; and he took the family of the Zarahites: and he brought the family of the Zarahites man by man; and Zabdi was taken: and he brought his household man by man; and Achan, the son of Carni, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zerah, of the tribe of Judah, was taken. And Joshua said unto Achan, My son, give, I pray thee, glory to the LORD God of Israel, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me. And Achan answered Joshua, and said, Indeed I have sinned against the LORD God of Israel, and thus and thus have I done: when I saw among the spoils a goodly Babylonish garment, and two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, then I coveted them, and took them; and behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the silver under it. So Joshua sent messengers, and they ran unto the tent; and behold, it was hid in his tent, and the silver under it.

And they took them out of the midst of the tent, and brought them unto Joshua, and unto all the children of Israel, and laid them out before the LORD. And Joshua, and all Israel with him, took Achan the son of Zerah, and the silver, and the garment, and the wedge of gold, and his sons, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had: and they brought them unto the valley of Achor. And Joshua said, Why hast thou troubled us? the LORD shall trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had ^cstoned them with stones. VIII.

And the LORD said unto Joshua, ^aFear not, neither be thou dismayed: take all the people of war with thee, and arise, go up to Ai: see, ^bI have given into thy hand the king of Ai, and his people, and his city, and his land: and thou shalt do to Ai and her king as thou didst unto ^cJericho and her king: only ^dthe spoil thereof, and the cattle thereof, shall ye take for a prey unto yourselves: lay thee an ambush for the city behind it. So Joshua arose, and all the people of war, to go up against Ai: and Joshua chose out thirty thousand mighty men of valour, and sent them away by night. And he commanded them, saying, Behold, ^eye shall lie in wait against the city, even behind the city: go not very far from the city, but be ye all ready: and I, and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city: and it shall come to pass, when they come out against us, as at the first, that ^fwe will flee before them, (for they will come out after us) till we have ^gdrawn them from the city; for they will say, They flee before us, as at the first: therefore we will flee before them. Then ye shall rise up from the ambush, and seize upon the city: for the LORD your God will deliver it into your hand. And it shall be, when ye have taken the city, that ye shall set the city on fire: according to the commandment of the LORD shall ye do. ^hSee, I have commanded you. Joshua therefore sent them forth: and they went to lie in ambush, and abode between Beth-el and Ai, ⁱon the west side of Ai: but Joshua lodged that night among the people. And Joshua rose up early in the morning, and numbered the people, and went up, he and the elders of Israel, before the people to Ai. And all the people, even the people of war that were with him, went up, and drew nigh, and came before the city, and pitched on the north side of Ai: now there was a valley between them and Ai. And he took about five thousand men, and set them to lie in ambush between Beth-el and Ai, on the west side ^jof the city. And when they had set the people, even all the host that was on the north of the city, and ^ktheir liers in wait on the west of the city, Joshua went that night into the midst of the valley. And it came to pass, when the king of Ai saw it, that they hastened and rose up early, and the men of the city went out against Israel to battle, he and all his people, at a time appointed, before the plain; but he ^lwist not that there were liers in ambush against him behind the city. And Joshua and all Israel ^mmade as if they were beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness. And all the people that were in Ai were called together to pursue after them: and they pursued after Joshua, and ⁿwere drawn away from the city. And there was not a man left in Ai or Beth-el, that went not out after Israel: and they left the city open, and pursued after Israel. And the LORD said unto Joshua, Stretch out the spear that is in thy hand toward Ai; for I will give it into thine hand. And Joshua stretched out the spear that he had in his hand toward the city. And the ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand: and they entered into the city, and took it, and hastened and set the city on fire. And when the men of Ai looked behind them, they saw, and behold, the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven, and they had no ^opower to flee this way or that way: and the people that fled to ^pthe wilderness turned back upon the pursuers. And when Joshua and all Israel saw that the ambush had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended, then they turned again, and slew the men of Ai. And the other issued out of the city against them; so they were in the midst of Israel, some on this side, and some on that side: and they smote them, so that they ^qlet none of them remain or escape. And the king of Ai they took alive, and brought him to Joshua. And it came to pass, when Israel had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai in the field, in the wilderness wherein they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, that all the Israelites returned unto Ai, and smote it with the edge of the sword. And so it was, that all that fell that day, ²⁵ both of men and women, were twelve thousand, even all the men of Ai. For ²⁶ Joshua drew not his hand back, where-with he stretched out the spear, until he had utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Ai. Only the cattle and the spoil ²⁷ of that city Israel took for a prey unto themselves, according unto the word of the LORD which he ^acommanded Joshua. And Joshua burnt Ai, and made it ^a ²⁸ heap for ever, even a desolation unto this day. ^bAnd the king of Ai he hanged on ²⁹ a tree until eventide: ^cand as soon as the sun was down, Joshua commanded that they should take his carcase down from the tree, and cast it at the entering of the gate of the city, and ^draise there-on a great heap of stones, that remaineth unto this day.

Then Joshua built an altar unto the ³⁰ LORD God of Israel ^ein mount Ebal, as ³¹ Moses the servant of the LORD commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in the ^fbook of the law of Moses, an altar of whole stones, over which no ^gman hath lift up any iron: and ^hthey offered thereon burnt offerings unto the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings. And ^hhe wrote there upon the stones ^a ³² copy of the law of Moses, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Israel. And all Israel, and their elders, and ³³ ⁱofficers, and their judges, stood on this side the ark and on that side before the priests the Levites, ^jwhich bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, as well ^kthe stranger, as he that was born among them; half of them over against mount Gerizim, and half of them over against mount Ebal; ^las Moses the servant of the LORD had commanded before, that they should bless the people of Israel. And afterward ^bhe read all the words of ³⁴ the law, ^mthe blessings and ⁿcursings, according to all that is written in the book of the law. There was not a word ³⁵ of all that Moses commanded, which Joshua read not before all the congregation of Israel, ^owith the women, and the little ones, and ^pthe strangers that ^qwere conversant among them.

And it came to pass, when all the kings which were on this side Jordan, ^ain the hills, and in the valleys, and in all the coasts of ^bthe great sea over against Lebanon, ^cthe Hittite, and the Amorite, the Canaanite, the Perizzite, the Hivite, and the Jebusite, heard there-² of; that they gathered themselves to-³ gether, to fight with Joshua and with Israel, with one ^daccord. And when the inhabitants of ^dGibeon ^eheard what Jo-⁴ shua had done unto Jericho and to Ai, they did work wilily, and went and made as if they had been ambassadors, and took old sacks upon their asses, and wine bottles, old, and rent, and bound ⁵ up; and old shoes and ^fclouted upon their feet, and old garments upon them; and all the bread of their provision was ⁶ dry and ^gmouldy. And they went to Joshua ^gunto the camp at Gilgal, and said unto him, and to the men of Israel, We be come from a far country: now ⁷ therefore make ye a league with us. And the men of Israel said unto the ^hHivites, Peradventure ye dwell among us; and ⁱhow shall we make a league with you? ⁸ And they said unto Joshua, ^jWe are thy servants. And Joshua said unto them, Who are ye? and from whence come ye? ⁹ And they said unto him, ^kFrom a very far country thy servants are come be- cause of the name of the LORD thy God: for we have ^lheard the fame of him, and ¹⁰ all that he did in Egypt, and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites, that were beyond Jordan, to Sihon king of Heshbon, and to Og king of Bashan, ¹¹ which was at ^mAshtaroath. Wherefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spake to us, saying, Take victuals ^lwith you for the journey, and go to meet them, and say unto them, We are your servants: therefore now make ¹² ye a league with us. This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go unto you; but now, behold, it is dry, and ¹³ it is mouldy: and these bottles of wine, which we filled, were new; and behold, they be rent: and these our garments and our shoes are become old by reason of the ¹⁴ very long journey. And ^lthe men took of their victuals, and ⁿasked not counsel ¹⁵ at the mouth of the LORD. And Joshua ^omade peace with them, and made a league with them, to let them live: and the princes of the congregation sware unto them.

Now it came to pass, when Adoni-ze-dek king of Jerusalem had heard how Joshua had taken Ai, and had utterly destroyed it; ^aas he had done to Jericho and her king, so he had done to ^bAi and her king; and ^chow the inhabitants of Gibeon had made peace with Israel, and were among them; that they ^dfeared ² greatly, because Gibeon was a great city, as one of the ^troyal cities, and because it was greater than Ai, and all the men thereof were mighty. Wherefore ³ Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem sent unto Hoham king of ^eHebron, and unto Pi-ram king of ^fJarmuth, and unto Japhia king of ^gLachish, and unto Debir king ⁴of ^hEglon, saying, Come up unto me, and help me, that we may smite Gibeon:

 for it hath made peace with Joshua and ⁵with the children of Israel. Therefore the five kings of the Amorites, the king of Jerusalem, the king of ^hHebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, the king of Eglon, gathered themselves together, and went up, they and all their hosts, and encamped before Gibeon, and ⁶made war against it. And the men of Gibeon sent unto Joshua ⁱto the camp to Gilgal, saying, Slack not thy hand from thy servants; come up to us quickly, and save us, and help us: for all the kings of the Amorites that dwell in the mountains are gathered together against ⁷us. So Joshua ascended from Gilgal, he, and ^jall the people of war with him, ⁸and all the mighty men of valour. And the LORD said unto Joshua, ^kFear them not: for I have delivered them into thine hand; there shall not a man of ⁹them stand before thee. Joshua therefore came unto them suddenly, and went ¹⁰up from Gilgal all night. And the LORD ^ldiscomfited them before Israel, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and chased them along the way that goeth up to ^mBeth-horon, and smote them to ⁿAzekah, and unto ^oMakkedah.

And it came to pass, as they fled from before Israel, and were in the going down to ^mBeth-horon, ^pthat the LORD cast down great stones from heaven upon them unto Azekah, and they died:
they were more which died with hailstones than they whom the children of Israel slew with the sword.

Then spake Joshua to the LORD in the day when the LORD delivered up the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel,

^qSun, ^tstand thou still upon Gibeon;

it or after it, that the LORD hearkened unto the voice of a man: for ^uthe LORD fought for Israel.

^v And Joshua ^vreturned, and all Israel ¹⁵ with him, unto the camp to Gilgal. But ¹⁶ these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave at ^wMakkedah. And it was ¹⁷ told Joshua, saying, The five kings are found hid in a cave at Makkedah. And ¹⁸ Joshua said, Roll great stones upon the mouth of the cave, and set men by it for

to keep them: and stay you not, but pursue after your enemies, and ¹⁹ smite the hindmost of them; suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the LORD your

God hath delivered them into your hand. And it came to pass, when Joshua and ²⁰ the children of Israel had made an end of slaying them with a very great slaughter, ²¹ till they were consumed, that the rest which remained of them entered into fenced cities. And all the people returned to the camp to Joshua at Mak-kedah in peace: ²² none moved his tongue against any of the children of Israel. Then said Joshua, Open the mouth of ²³ the cave, and bring out those five kings unto me out of the cave. And they did ²⁴ so, and brought forth those five kings unto him out of the cave, the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jarmuth, the king of Lachish, and the king of Eglon. And it came to pass, ²⁵ when they brought out those kings unto Joshua, that Joshua called for all the men of Israel, and said unto the captains of the men of war which went with him, Come near, put your feet upon the necks of these kings. And they came near, and put their feet upon the necks of them. And Joshua said unto them, ²⁶

²⁷ Fear not, nor be dismayed, ^abe strong and of good courage: for ^bthus shall the LORD do to all your enemies against whom ye fight. And afterward Joshua ²⁸

smote them, and slew them, and hanged them on five trees: and they ^cwere hanging upon the trees until the evening. And it came to pass at the time of the ²⁹ going down of the sun, that Joshua commanded, and they took them down off the trees, and cast them into the cave wherein they had been hid, and ^dlaid great stones in the cave's mouth, which remain until this very day.

And that day Joshua took Makkedah, ³⁰ and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof he utterly destroyed, them, and all the souls that were therein;

and he let none remain: and he did to the king of Makkedah ^eas he did unto the king of Jericho. Then Joshua passed from Makkedah, and all Israel with him, unto ³¹ Libnah, and fought against Libnah: and the LORD delivered it also, and the king thereof, into the hand of Israel; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain in it; but did unto the king thereof as he did unto the king of Jericho. And Joshua passed from Libnah, and all Israel with him, unto Lachish, and encamped against it, and fought against it: and the LORD delivered Lachish into the hand of Israel, which took it on the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein, according to all that he had done to Libnah. Then Horam king of ³² Gezer came up to help Lachish; and Joshua smote him and his people, until he had left him none remaining. And from Lachish Joshua passed unto Eglon, and all Israel with him; and they encamped against it, and fought against it: and they took it on that day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein he utterly destroyed that day, according to all that he had done to Lachish. And Joshua went up from Eglon, and all Israel with him, unto Hebron; and they fought against it: and they took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the cities thereof, and all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Eglon; but destroyed it utterly, and all the souls that were therein. And Joshua returned, and all Israel with him, to ³³ Debir; and fought against it: and he took it, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining: as he had done to Hebron, so he did to Debir, and to the king thereof: as he had done also to Libnah, and to her king.

So Joshua smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and ³⁴ of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but ^kutterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Israel commanded. And Joshua smote them from ³⁵ Kadesh-bar-

nezer to Debir, and to the king thereof: as he had done also to Libnah, and to her king.

So Joshua smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and ³⁶ of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but ^kutterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Israel commanded. And Joshua smote them from ³⁷ Kadesh-bar-

So Joshua smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and ³⁸ of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but ^kutterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Israel commanded. And Joshua smote them from ³⁹ Kadesh-bar-

So Joshua smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and ⁴⁰ of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but ^kutterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Israel commanded. And Joshua smote them from ⁴¹ Kadesh-bar-

So Joshua smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and ⁴² of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but ^kutterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Israel commanded. And Joshua smote them from ⁴³ Kadesh-barnea even unto ^mGaza, and all the country of ⁿGoshen, even unto Gibeon. And ^qall these kings and their land did Joshua take at one time, ^obecause the LORD God of Israel fought for Israel. ^pAnd ^qJoshua returned, and all Israel with him, unto the camp to Gilgal.

XI.

And it came to pass, when ^aJabin king of ^bHazor had heard those things, that ^che sent to Jobab king of ^dMadon, and to the king of ^eShimron, and to the king of ^fAchshaph, and to the kings that were on the north of the mountains, and of the plains south of ^gCinneroth, and in the valley, and in ^hthe borders of Dor on the west, and to the Canaanite on the east and on the west, and to the Amorite, and the Hittite, and the Perizzite, and ⁱthe Jebusite in the mountains, and to ^jthe Hivite under ^kHermion in the land of ^lMizpeh. And they went out, they and all their hosts with them, much people, even as the sand that is upon the sea shore in multitude, with horses and chariots very many. And when all these kings were ^mmet together, they came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, to fight against Israel.

And the LORD said unto Joshua, ⁿBe not afraid because of them: for to morrow about this time will I deliver them up all slain before Israel: thou shalt ^ohough their horses, and burn ^ptheir chariots with fire. So Joshua came, and all the people of war with him, against them by the waters of Merom ^qsuddenly; and they fell upon them. And the LORD delivered them into the hand of Israel, who smote them, and chased them unto ^rgreat Zidon, and unto ^sMisrephoth-maim, and unto the valley of ^tMizpeh eastward; and they smote them, until they left them none remaining. And Joshua did unto them ^uas the LORD bade him: he houghed their horses, and burnt their chariots with fire. And Joshua at that time turned back, and took Hazor, and smote the king thereof with the sword: for Hazor beforetime was the head of all those kingdoms. And they smote all the souls that were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying them: there was not ^vany left to breathe: and he burnt Hazor with fire. And all the cities of those kings, and all the kings of them, did Joshua take, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and he utterly destroyed them, ^was Moses the servant of the LORD commanded. But as for the cities that stood still ^xin their strength, Israel burned none of them, save Hazor only; that did Joshua burn.

And all the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Israel took for a prey unto themselves; but every man they smote with the edge of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any to breathe. ^yAs the LORD commanded Moses his servant, so ^zdid Moses command Joshua, and ^{aa}so did Joshua; ^{ab}he left nothing undone of all that the LORD commanded Moses. So Joshua took all that land, ^{ac}the hills, and all the south country, ^{ad}and all the land of Goshen, and the valley, and the plain, and ^{ae}the mountain of Israel, and the valley of the same; ^{af}even from ^{ag}the mount Halak, that goeth up to ^{ah}Seir, even unto ^{ai}Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon under ^{aj}mount Hermon: and all their kings he took, and smote them, and slew them. Joshua made war ^{ak}a long time with all those kings. There was not a city that made peace with the children of Israel, save ^{al}the Hivites the inhabitants of Gibeon: all other they took in battle. For ^{am}it was of the LORD to harden their hearts, that they should come against Israel in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, and that they might have no favour, but that he might destroy them, ^{an}as the LORD commanded Moses. And at that time came Joshua, and cut off ^{ao}the Anakims from the mountains, from ^{ap}Hebron, from ^{aq}Debir, from Anab, and from all the mountains of Judah, and from all the mountains of Israel: Joshua destroyed them utterly with their cities. There was none of the Anakims left in the land of the children of Israel: only in ^{ar}Gaza, in ^{as}Gath, and in ^{at}Ashdod, there remained. So Joshua took the whole land, ^{au}according to all that the LORD said unto Moses; and ^{av}Joshua gave it for an inheritance unto Israel according to their ^{aw}divisions by their tribes. ^{ax}And the land rested from war.

Now these are the kings of the land, which the children of Israel smote, and possessed their land on the other side Jordan toward the rising of the sun, ^{ay}from the river Arnon ^{az}unto mount Hermon, and all the plain on the east: ^{ba}Sihon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Heshbon, and ruled from ^{bb}Aroer, which is upon the bank of the river of Arnon, and from the middle of the river,

And Moses gave unto the tribe of¹⁵ the children of Reuben inheritance according to their families. And their¹⁶ coast was ^efrom Aroer, that is on the bank of the river Arnon, and the city that is in the midst of the river, and all ^ethe plain by ^eMedeba; Heshbon, and¹⁷ all her cities that are in ^ethe plain; ^eDibon, and ^hBamoth-baal, and Beth-baal-meon, and ^fJahazah, and ^gKedemoth, and ^gMephaath, and ^hKirjathaim, and ⁱSibmah, and Zareth-shahar in the mount of the valley, and ^kBeth-peor,²⁰ and ^lAshdodh-pisgah, and ^lBeth-jeshimoth, and ^mall the cities of the plain,²¹ and all the kingdom of Sihon king of the Amorites, which reigned in Heshbon, ⁿwhom Moses smote ^owith the princes of Midian, Evi, and Rekem, and Zur, and Hur, and Reba, which were ^pdukes of Sihon, dwelling in the country.²² ^oBalaam also the son of Beor, the ²²soothsayer, did the children of Israel slay with the sword among them that were slain by them. And the border of²³ the children of Reuben was Jordan, and the border thereof. This was the inheritance of the children of Reuben after their families, the cities and villages thereof.

And Moses gave inheritance unto the²⁴ tribe of Gad, even unto the children of Gad according to their families. And²⁵ their coast was ^qJazer, and all the cities of Gilead, and ^rhalf the land of the children of Ammon, unto Aroer that is before ^sRabbah; and from Heshbon²⁶ unto Ramath-^tmizpeh, and Betonim; and from ^uMahanaim unto the border of ^wDebir; and in the valley, ^xBeth-²⁷aram, and ^yBeth-ninrah, and ^zSuccoth, and Zaphon, the rest of the kingdom of Sihon king of Heshbon, Jordan and his border, even unto the edge of the sea of ^aCinnereth on the other side Jordan eastward. This is the inheritance of the²⁸ children of Gad after their families, the cities, and their villages.

And Moses gave inheritance unto the²⁹ half tribe of Manasseh: and this was the possession of the half tribe of the children of Manasseh by their families. And³⁰ their coast was from Mahanaim, all Bashan, all the kingdom of Og king of Bashan, and ^ball the towns of Jair, which are in Bashan, threescore cities: and half Gilead, and ^cAshtaroth, and³¹ Edrei, cities of the kingdom of Og in Bashan, were pertaining unto the children of Machir the son of Manasseh, even to the one half of the children of³² Machir by their families. These *are*³² the countries which Moses did distribute for inheritance ^ein the plains of Moab, on the other side Jordan, by Jericho,³³ eastward. ^fBut unto the tribe of Levi Moses gave not any inheritance: the LORD God of Israel was their inheritance, ^gas he said unto them. And³⁴ these are the countries which the children of Israel inherited in the land of Canaan, ^awhich Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, distributed for inheritance to them. ^bBy lot was their inheritance, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses, for the nine tribes, and for the half tribe. ^cFor Moses had given the inheritance of two tribes and a half tribe on the other side Jordan: but unto the Levites he gave none inheritance among them. For ^dthe children of Joseph were two tribes, Manasseh and Ephraim: therefore they gave no part unto the Levites in the land, save cities to dwell in, with their suburbs for their ^ecattle and for their³⁵ substance. ^fAs the LORD commanded Moses, so the children of Israel did, and they divided the land.

Then the children of Judah came unto Joshua in Gilgal: and Caleb the son of Jephunneh the ^gKenezite said unto him, Thou knowest ^hthe thing that the LORD said unto Moses ⁱthe man of God concerning me and thee ⁷in Kadesh-barnea. Forty years old was I when Moses the servant of the LORD ^jsent me from Kadesh-barnea to espy out the land; and I brought him word ⁸again as it was in mine heart. Nevertheless ^kmy brethren that went up with me ^kmade the heart of the people melt: but I wholly ^lfollowed the LORD my⁹ God. And Moses sware on that day, saying, ^mSurely the land ⁿwhereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance, and thy children's for ever, because thou hast ^lwholly followed the¹⁰ LORD my God. And now behold, the LORD hath kept me alive, ^oas he said, these forty and five years, even since the LORD spake this word unto Moses, while the children of Israel ^twandered in the wilderness: and now lo, I *am this*¹¹ day ^pfourscore and five years old. ^qAs yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Moses sent me: as my

And their south border was ^afrom the shore of the salt sea, from the ^tbay that looketh southward: and it went out to the south side to ¹Maaleh-acrabbim, and passed along to Zin, and ascended up on the south side unto Kadesh-barnea, and passed along to Hezron, and went up to Adar, and fetched a compass to Karkaa: from thence it passed ^dtoward Azmon, and went out ^dunto the river of Egypt; and the goings out of that coast were at the sea: this shall be your south coast. And the east border was the salt sea, even unto the end of Jordan. And their border in the north quarter was from the bay of the sea at the uttermost part of Jordan: and the border went up ^eto Beth-hogla, and passed along by the north of Beth^f-arabah; and the border went up ^gto the stone of Bohan the son of Reuben: and the border went up toward ^hDebir from ⁱthe valley of Achor, and so northward, looking toward Gilgal, that is ^gbefore the going up to Adummin, which is on the south side of the river: and the border passed towards the waters of ^gEn-shemesh, and the goings out thereof were at ^jEn-rogel: and the border went up ^kby the valley of the son of Hinnom unto the south side of the ^lJebusite; the same is Jerusalem: and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lieth before ^mthe valley of Hinnom westward, which is at the end of ⁿthe valley of the giants northward: and the border was drawn from the top of the hill unto ⁿthe fountain of the water of Nephtoah, and went out to the cities of mount Ephron; and the border was drawn ^oto Baalah, which ¹⁰ ^pis Kirjath-jearim: and the border compassed from Baalah westward unto mount Seir, and passed along unto the side of mount Jearim, which is Chesalon, on the north side, and went down ^qto Beth-she-mesh, and passed on ^rto Timnah: and the border went out unto the side of ^sEkrone northward: and the border was drawn to Shicron, and passed along ^tto mount Baalah, and went out ^uunto Jabneel; and the goings out of the border ¹² were at the sea. And the west border ^uto the great sea, and the coast thereof. This is the coast of the children of Judah round about according to their families. ¹³ ^wAnd unto Caleb the son of Jephunneh he gave a part among the children of Judah, according to the commandment of the LORD to Joshua. even ^tthe city of Arba the father of Anak, which ¹⁴ ^vcity is Hebron. And Caleb drove thence the three sons of Anak, ^xSheshai, and Ahiman, and Talmai, the children of ¹⁵ Anak. And he went up thence to the inhabitants of ^yDebir: and the name of ¹⁶ Debir before was Kirjath-sepher. ²And Caleb said, He that smiteth Kirjath-sepher, and taketh it, to him will I give ¹⁷ Achsah my daughter to wife. And Othniel the ^ason of Kenaz, the brother of Caleb, took it: and he gave him Achsah his daughter to wife. And it came to pass, as she came ^uunto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and ^bshe lighted off ^{her} ass; and Caleb ¹⁹ said unto her, What wouldest thou? Who answered, Give me a ^cblessing; for thou hast given me a south land; ^dgive me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs. ²⁰ This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Judah according to their families. And the uttermost cities of the tribe of the children of Judah toward the coast of Edom southward were ^eKabzeel, and ^fEder, and Jagur, and Kinah, ²³ and Dimonah, and Adadah, and ^gKedesh, and Hazor, and Ithnan, ^hZiph, and ²⁵ Telem, and Bealoth, and Hazor, Hadattah, and Kerioth, and Hezron, which ²⁶ ⁱis Hazor, Amam, and Shema, and ²⁷ ¹Mo-ladah, and Hazar-gaddah, and Heshmon, and ¹Beth-palet, and ²⁸ ²Hazar-shual, 63 their villages. ^m As for the Jebusites the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the children of Judah could not drive them out: but the Jebusites dwell with the children of Judah at Jerusalem unto this day.

And the lot of the children of Joseph ^t fell from Jordan by Jericho, unto the water of Jericho on the east, to ^a the wilderness that goeth up from Jericho ^z throughout mount Beth-el, and goeth out from Beth-el to ^b Luz, and passeth along unto the borders of ^c Archi to Ataroth, and goeth down westward to the coast of Japhleti, unto the coast of ^d Beth-horon the nether, and to ^e Gezer: and the goings out thereof are at the sea. ⁴ So the children of Joseph, Manasseh and Ephraim, took their inheritance.

And the border of the children of Ephraim according to their families was thus: even the border of their inheritance on the east side was ^g Ataroth-addar, unto ^b Beth-horon the upper; and the border went out toward the sea to ⁱ Michmethah on the north side; and the border went about eastward unto Taanath-^k shiloh, and passed by it on ⁷ the east to Janohah; and it went down from Janolah to Ataroth, and to ¹ Na-arath, and came to Jericho, and went ⁸ out at Jordan. The border went out from ^m Tappuah westward unto the ^a river Kanah, and the goings out thereof were at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by ⁹ their families. And ^o the separate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasseh, all the cities with their villages. ¹⁰ And they drave not out the Canaanites that dwelt in Gezer: but the Canaanites dwell among the Ephraimites unto this day, and ^q serve under tribute.

There was also a lot for the tribe of Manasseh; for he was the ^a firstborn of Joseph; to wit, for ^b Machir the firstborn of Manasseh, the father of Gilead: because he was a man of war, therefore he ² had ^c Gilead and Bashan. There was also a lot for ^d the rest of the children of Manasseh by their families; for the children of ^e Abiezer, and for the children of Helek, and for the children of Asriel, and for the children of Shechem, and for the children of ^d Hephher, and for the children of ^d Shemida: these were the male children of Manasseh the son of Joseph ³ by their families. But ^f Zelophehad, the son of Hephher, the son of Gilead, the son of Machir, the son of Manasseh, had no sons, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Mahlah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milcah, and Tirzah. And they came near before ^gEleazar the priest, and before Joshua the son of Nun, and before the princes, saying, ^hThe LORD commanded Moses to give us an inheritance among our brethren. Therefore according to the commandment of the LORD he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father. And there fell ⁱten portions to Manasseh, ^jbeside the land of Gilead and Bashan, which were on the other side Jordan; because the daughters of Manasseh had an inheritance among his sons: and the rest of Manasseh's sons had the land of Gilead.

And the coast of Manasseh was from ^kAsher to ^kMichmethah, that lieth before ^lShechem; and the border went along on the right hand unto the inhabitants of En-^mtappuah. Now Manasseh had the land of Tappuah: but ^mTappuah on the border of Manasseh belonged to the children of Ephraim; and the coast descended unto the ⁿriver Kanah, southward of the river: ⁿthese cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasseh: the coast of Manasseh also was on the north side of the river, and the outgoings of it were at the sea: southward ^oit was Ephraim's, and northward it was Manasseh's, and the sea is his border; and they met together in Asher on the north, and in Issachar on the east. ^oAnd Manasseh had in Issachar and in Asher ^pBeth-shean and her towns, and ^qIbleam and her towns, and the inhabitants of ^rDor and her towns, and the inhabitants of ^sEndor and her towns, and the inhabitants of ^tTaanach and her towns, and the inhabitants of ^tMegiddo and her towns, even three countries. Yet ^uthe children of Manasseh could not drive out the inhabitants of those cities; but the Canaanites would dwell in that land. Yet it came to pass, when the children of Israel were waxen strong, that they put the Canaanites to ^wtribute; but did not utterly drive them out.

And ^xthe children of Joseph spake ^yunto ^yJoshua, saying, Why hast thou given me but ^zone lot and one portion to inherit, seeing I am ^aa great people, forasmuch as the LORD hath blessed me hitherto? And Joshua answered them, ^bIf thou be a great people, then get thee up to ^bthe wood country, and ^ccut down for thyself there in the land of the Perizzites and of the ^dgiants, if ^dmount Ephraim be too narrow for thee. And the children of Joseph said, The hill is not enough for us: and all the Canaanites that dwell in the land of the valley have ^echariots of iron, both they who are of Beth-shean and her towns, and they who are ^fof the valley of Jezreel. And Joshua spake unto the house of Joseph, even to Ephraim and to Manasseh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power: thou shalt not have one lot ^gonly: but the mountain shall be thine; for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it down: and the outgoings of it shall be thine: for thou shalt drive out the Canaanites, though they have ^hiron chariots, and though they be strong.

And the whole congregation of the children of Israel assembled together ^aat Shiloh, and set up the tabernacle of the congregation there. And the land was subdued before them. And there remained among the children of Israel seven tribes, which had not yet received their inheritance. And Joshua said unto the children of Israel, ^bHow long are you slack to go to possess the land, which the LORD God of your fathers hath given ^cyou? Give out from among you three men for each tribe: and I will send them, and they shall rise, and go through the land, and describe it according to the inheritance of them; and they shall come again to me. And they shall divide it into seven parts: ^dJudah shall abide in their coast on the south, and ^ethe house of Joseph shall abide in their coasts on the north. Ye shall therefore describe the land into seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, ^fthat I may cast lots for you here before the LORD our God. ^gBut the Levites have no part among you; for the priesthood of the LORD is their inheritance: ^hand Gad, and Reuben, and half the tribe of Manasseh, have received their inheritance beyond Jordan on the east, which Moses the servant of the LORD gave them. And the men arose, and went away: and Joshua charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and come again to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the LORD ⁱin Shiloh. And the men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seven parts in a book, and came again to Joshua to the host at Shiloh. And Joshua cast lots for them in Shiloh before the LORD: and there Joshua divided the land unto the children of Israel according to ^htheir divisions.

And the lot of the tribe of the children of Benjamin came up according to their families: and the coast of their lot came forth between the children of Judah and the children of Joseph. ⁱAnd their border on the north side was from Jordan; and the border went up to the side of Jericho on the north side, and went up through the mountains westward; and the goings out thereof were ^jat the wilderness of ^jBeth-aven. And the border went over from thence toward Luz, to the side of Luz, ^kwhich is Beth-el, southward; and the border descended to ^lAtaroth-adar, near the hill that lieth on the south side ^mof the nether Beth-horon. And the border was drawn thence, and compassed the corner of the sea southward, from the hill that lieth before ^mBeth-horon southward; and the goings out thereof were at ⁿKirjath-baal, which is Kirjath-jearim, a city of the children of Judah: this was the west quarter. And the south quarter was from the end of Kirjath-jearim, and the border went out on the west, and went out to ^othe well of waters of Nephtoah: and the border came down to the end of the mountain that lieth before the valley of the son of Hinnom, and which is in ^pthe valley of the giants on the north, and descended to the ^qvalley of Hinnom, to the side of Jebusi on the south, and descended to ^rEn-rogel, and was drawn from the north, and went forth to ^rEn-shemesh, and went forth toward ^sGeliloth, which is over against the going up of Adummim, and descended to ^tthe stone of Bohan the son of Reuben, and passed along toward the side over against ^uArabah northward, and went down unto Arabah: and the border passed along to the side of ^uBeth-hoglah northward: and the outgoings of the border were at the north ^vbay of the salt sea at the south end of Jordan: this was the south coast. And Jordan was the border of it on the east side. This was the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, by the coasts thereof round about, according to their families.

Now the cities of the tribe of the children of Benjamin according to their families were ^wJericho, and ^uBeth-hoglah, and the valley of Keziz, and ^xBeth-arabah, and ^yZemaraim, and ^zBeth-el, and Avim, and Parah, and ^aOphrah, and Chephar-haammonai, and Ophni, and ^bGaba; twelve cities with their villages. ^cGibeon, and ^dRamah, and ^eBeeroth, and ^fMizpeh, and ^eChephirah, and Mozah, and Rekem, and Irpeel, and Taralah, and ^gZelah, Eleph, and ^hJebusi, which is Jerusalem, ⁱGibeath, and ^kKirjath; fourteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin according to their families.

And the second lot came forth to Simeon, even for the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families: ^aand their inheritance was within the inheritance of the children of Judah. ²And ^bthey had in their inheritance ^cBeer-sheba, ^dor Sheba, and Moladah, and ^eHazar-shual, and Balah, and ^eAzem, and ^eEltolad, and Bethul, and ^fHormah, and ^gZiklag, and Beth-marcaboth, and Hazar-susah, and Beth-lebaoth, and Sharuben; thirteen cities and their villages: ^hAin, ^hRemmon, and ⁱEther, and ⁱAshan; four cities and their villages: ⁸and all the villages that were round about these cities to ^jBaalath-beer, ^kRamath of the south. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Simeon according to their families. Out of the portion of the children of Judah was the inheritance of the children of Simeon: for the part of the children of Judah was too much for them: ^ltherefore the children of Simeon had their inheritance within the inheritance of them.

And the third lot came up for the children of Zebulun according to their families: and the border of their inheritance was unto Sarid: and their border went up ^mtoward the sea, and Maralah, and reached to Dabbasheth, and reached to the river that is before ⁿJokneam; and turned from Sarid eastward toward the sunrising unto the border of Chisloth-tabor, and then goeth out to ^pDaberath, and goeth up to Japhia, and from thence passeth on along on the east to ^qGittah-hepher, to Ittah-kazin, and goeth out to Remmon-methoar to Neah; and the border compasseth it on the north side to Hannathon: and the outgoings thereof are in the valley of Jiphthah-el: and Kattath, and ⁹Nahal-lal, and ¹⁰Shimron, and Idalah, and ¹¹Beth-lehem: ¹²twelve cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the children of Zebulun according to their families, these cities with their villages.

And the fourth lot came out to Issa-¹³char, for the children of Issachar according to their families. And their ¹⁴border was toward ¹⁵Jezreel, and ¹⁶Chesulloth, and ¹⁷Shunem, and Hapharaim, and Shion, and Anaharath, and Rab-¹⁸bith, and ¹⁹Kishion, and Abez, and Remeth, and ²⁰En-gannim, and En-had-²¹dah, and Beth-pazzez; and the coast ²²reacheth to ²³Tabor, and Shahazimah, and ²⁴Beth-shemesh; and the outgoings of their border were at Jordan: sixteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families, the cities and their villages.

And the fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Asher accord-²⁵ing to their families. And their bor-²⁶der was ²⁷Helkath, and Hali, and Beten, and ²⁸Achshaph, and Alammelech, and Amad, and ²⁹Misheal; and reacheth to ³⁰Carmel westward, and to Shihor-lib-³¹nath; and turneth toward the sunrising ³²to Beth-dagon, and reacheth to Zebulun, and to ³³the valley of Jiphthah el toward the north side of Beth-emek, and Neiel, and goeth out to ³⁴Cabul on the left hand, and Helbron, and ³⁵Rehob, and Hammon, and Kanah, even unto ³⁶great Zidon; and then the coast turneth to ³⁷Ramah, and to the strong city ³⁸Tyre; and the coast turneth to Hosah; and the outgoings thereof are at the sea from the coast to ³⁹Achzib: Ummah also, and ⁴⁰Aphek, and ⁴¹Rehob: ⁴²twenty and two cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Asher according to their families, these cities with their villages.

The sixth lot came out to the chil-⁴³dren of Naphtali, even for the children of Naphtali according to their families. And their coast was from Heleph, from ⁴⁴Allon to Zaanannim, and Adami, Ne-⁴⁵keb, and Jabneel, unto Lakum; and the outgoings thereof were at Jordan: and then the coast turneth ⁴⁶westward ⁴⁷to Aznoth-tabor, and goeth out from thence to Hukkok, and reacheth to Ze-⁴⁸bulun on the south side, and reacheth to Asher on the west side, and to Judah ⁴⁹upon Jordan toward the sunrising. And the fenced cities are Ziddim, Zer, and ⁵⁰Hammath, Rakkath, and ⁵¹Chinnereth, and Adamah, and Ramah, and ⁵²Hazor, and ⁵³Kedesh, and Edrei, and En-hazor, and Iron, and ⁵⁴Migdal-el, Horem, and ⁵⁵Beth-anath, and ⁵⁶Beth-shemesh; ⁵⁷nineteen cities with their villages. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Naphtali according to their families, the cities and their villages.

And the seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dan according ⁵⁸to their families. And the coast of their inheritance was ⁵⁹Zorah, and ⁶⁰Eshtaol, and Ir-shemesh, and ⁶¹Shaalabbin, and ⁶²Aijalon, and Jethlah, and Elon, and ⁶³Thimnathah, and ⁶⁴Ekron, and ⁶⁵Eltekeh, and ⁶⁶Gibbethon, and ⁶⁷Baalath, and Jehud, and Bene-berak, and ⁶⁸Gath-rimon, and Me-jarkon, and Rakkon, with ⁶⁹the border ⁷⁰before ⁷¹Japho. And ⁷²the coast of the children of Dan went out too little for them: therefore the children of Dan went up to fight against Leshem, and took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called ⁷³Leshem, Dan, after the name of Dan their fa-⁷⁴ther. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families, these cities with their villages.

When they had made an end of dividing the land for inheritance by their coasts, the children of Israel gave an inheritance to Joshua the son of Nun among them: according to the word of the LORD they gave him the city which he asked, even ⁷⁵Timnath-serah in mount Ephraim: and he built the city, and ⁷⁶dwelt therein. ⁷⁷These are the inheritances, which Eleazar the priest, and Joshua the son of Nun, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel, divided for an inheritance by lot ⁷⁸in Shiloh before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congrega-⁷⁹tion. So they made an end of dividing the country.

The LORD also spake unto Joshua, ⁸⁰saying, Speak to the children of Israel, saying, ⁸¹Appoint out for you cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Moses: that the slayer that ⁸²killeth any person unawares and ⁸³un-⁸⁴wittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood. And when he that doth flee ^aunto one of those cities ^dshall stand ^aat the entering of the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city unto them, and give him a place, that he may dwell among them. And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not ^edeliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour ^funwittingly, and hated him not beforetime. And he shall dwell in that city, ^guntil he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of ^hthe high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled. And they ⁱappointed ⁱKedesh in Galilee in mount Naphtali, and ^jShechem in ^kmount Ephraim, and ^kKirjath-arba, which ^lis Hebron, in the mountain of Judah. And on the ^mother side Jordan ⁿby Jericho eastward, they assigned ⁿBezer in the wilderness upon ^othe plain out of the tribe of Reuben, and ^oRamoth in Gilead out of the tribe of Gad, and ^pGolan in Bashan out of the tribe of Manasseh. These were the cities ^qappointed for all the children of Israel, and for ^qthe stranger that sojourneth among them, that whosoever ^rkilleth any person at unawares might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, ^suntil he stood before the congregation.

XXI.

Then came near the heads of the fathers of the Levites unto ^aEleazar the priest, and unto Joshua the son of Nun, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel; and they spake unto them at ^bShiloh in the land of Canaan, saying, ^cThe LORD commanded by the hand of Moses to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattle. And the children of Israel gave unto the Levites out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the LORD, these cities and their suburbs. And the lot came out for the families of the Kohathites: and ^dthe children of Aaron the priest, ^ewhich were of the Levites, ^ehad by lot out of the tribe of Judah, and out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Benjamin, thirteen cities. And ^fthe rest of the children of Kohath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half ^gtribe of Manasseh, ten cities. And ^gthe children of Gershon ^hhad by lot out of the families of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Asher, and out of the tribe of Naphtali, and out of the half tribe of Manasseh in Bashan, thirteen ⁱcities. ⁱThe children of Merari by their families ^jhad out of the tribe of Reuben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulun, twelve cities. ^jAnd the children of Israel gave by lot unto the Levites these cities with their suburbs, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Moses.

And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Judah, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, these cities which are ^khere ^kmentioned by name, ^kwhich the children of Aaron, ^lbeing of the families of the Kohathites, ^lwho were of the children of Levi, had: for theirs ^mwas the first lot. ^mAnd they gave them ⁿthe city of Arbah the father of ⁿAnak, which ⁿcity ⁿis Hebron, ⁿin the hill ⁿcountry of Judah, with the suburbs thereof round ^oabout it. But ^othe fields of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to Caleb the son of Jephunneh for his possession. Thus they gave to the children of Aaron the priest ^pHebron with her suburbs, ^pto be a city of refuge for the slayer; ^qand ^qLibnah with her suburbs, and ^rJattir with her suburbs, and ^rEshtemoa with her suburbs, and ^sHolon with her suburbs, and ^sDebir with her suburbs, and ^tAin with her suburbs, and ^tJuttah with her suburbs, and ^uBeth-shemesh with her suburbs; nine cities out of those ^vtwo tribes. And out of the tribe of Benjamin, ^vGibeon with her suburbs, ^wGeba with her suburbs, ^wAnathoth with her suburbs, and ^xAlmon with her suburbs; four cities. All the cities of the children of Aaron, the priests, ^ywere thirteen cities with their suburbs.

And the families of the children of Kohath, the Levites which remained of the children of Kohath, even they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of Ephraim. For they gave them ^zShechem with her suburbs in mount Ephraim, ^zto be a city of refuge for the slayer; and ^{aa}Gezer with her suburbs, and ^{aa}Kibzaim with her suburbs, and ^{ab}Beth-horon with her suburbs; four cities. And out of the tribe of Dan, ^{ac}Eltekeh with her suburbs, ^{ac}Gibbethon with her suburbs, ^{ad}Aijalon with her suburbs, ^{ad}Gathrim-

And the LORD gave unto Israel ^kall the land which he swore to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it, and dwelt therein. And the LORD ^lgave them rest round about, according to all that he swore unto their fathers: and ^mthere stood not a man of all their enemies before them; ⁿthe LORD delivered ⁴⁵all their enemies into their hand. ^oThere failed not ought of any good thing which the LORD had spoken unto the house of Israel; all came to pass.

Then Joshua called the Reubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manasseh, and said unto them, Ye have kept ^aall that Moses the servant of the LORD commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded ³you: ye have not left your brethren these many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of ⁴the LORD your God. And now ^bthe LORD your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get ye unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, ^cwhich Moses the servant of the LORD gave you on the other side Jordan. But ^dtake diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Moses the servant of the LORD charged you, ^eto love the LORD your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to ^fcleave unto him, and to serve him with all your ⁶heart and with all your soul. So Joshua ^gblessed them, and sent them away: and ⁷they went unto their tents. Now to the one half of the tribe of Manasseh Moses had given possession in Bashan: ^hbut unto the other half thereof gave Joshua among their brethren on this side Jordan westward. And when Joshua sent them away also unto their tents, then he blessed ⁸ed them, and he spake unto them, saying, Return with much ⁱriches unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with brass, and with iron, and with very much raiment: ^jdivide the spoil of your enemies ⁹with your brethren. And the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh returned, and departed from the children of Israel out of ^kShiloh, which is in the land of Canaan, to go unto ^lthe country of Gilead, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Moses. And when they came unto the borders of Jordan, that are in the land of Canaan, the children of Reuben and the children of Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh built there an altar by Jordan, a great altar to see to.

And it came to pass a long time after that the LORD ^ahad given rest unto Israel from all their enemies round about, that Joshua ^bwaxed old and ^tstricken in age. And Joshua ^ccalled for all Israel, ² and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their ^dofficers, and said unto them, I am old and stricken in age: and ye have seen all ³ that the LORD your God hath done unto all these nations because of you; for the ^eLORD your God is he that hath fought for you. Behold, ^fI have divided unto ⁴ you by lot these nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from Jordan, with all the nations that I have cut off, even unto ^gthe great sea ^twestward. And I brought you into the land ⁸ of the Amorites, which dwelt on the other side Jordan; ^{*}and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess their land; and I destroyed them from before you. Then ^vBalak the son of Zippor, king ⁹ of Moab, arose and warred against Israel, and ^zsent and called Balaam the son of Beor to curse you: ^abut I would ¹⁰ not hearken unto Balaam; ^btherefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand. And ^cye went over Jordan ¹¹ and came unto Jericho: and ^dthe men ^eof Jericho fought against you, the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Girgashites, the Hivites, and the Jebusites; and I delivered them into your hand. And I sent ^fthe hornet before ¹² you, which drove them out from before you, even the two kings of the Amorites; ^gbut ^hnot with thy sword, nor with thy bow. And I have given you ¹³ a land for which ye did not labour, and ⁱcities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat. ^jNow therefore fear the LORD, and serve ¹⁴ him in ^ksincerity and in truth: and ^lput away the gods which your fathers served on the other side of the flood, and ^min Egypt; and serve ye the LORD. And if ¹⁵ it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, ⁿchoose you this day whom you will serve; whether ^othe gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, or ^pthe gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: ^qbut as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.

And the people answered and said, ¹⁶ God forbid that we should forsake the LORD, to serve other gods; for the LORD ¹⁷ our God, he is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, from the house of ^rbondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed: and ¹⁸ the LORD drove out from before us all the people, even the Amorites which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the LORD; for he is our God.

^r Matt. 6. 24. And Joshua said unto the people, ^sYe ¹⁹ cannot serve the LORD: for he is a ^tholy God; he is ^ta jealous God; ^uhe will not forgive your transgressions nor ²⁰ your sins. ^vIf ye forsake the LORD, and serve strange gods, ^xthen he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

²¹ And the people said unto Joshua, Nay; but we will serve the LORD. And Joshua said unto the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ^yye have chosen you the LORD, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

²² Now therefore ^zput away, ^asaid he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the LORD God ²³ of Israel. And the people said unto Joshua, The LORD our God will we ²⁴ serve, and his voice will we obey. So Joshua ^bmade a covenant with the people that day, and set them ^ca statute and an ordinance in Shechem.

²⁵ And Joshua ^dwrote these words in the book of the law of God, and took ^ea great stone, and set it up there ^funder an oak, that was by the sanctuary of the LORD. And Joshua said unto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be ^ga witness unto us; for ^hit hath heard all the words of the LORD which he spake unto us: it shall be therefore ⁱa witness unto you, lest ye ^jdeny your God.

³² And ⁿthe bones of Joseph, which the children of Israel brought up out of Egypt, buried they in Shechem, in a parcel of ground ^owhich Jacob bought of the sons of Hamor the father of Shechem for an hundred ^ppieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Joseph. And Eleazar the son of Aaron died; and they buried him in a hill that pertained to ^qPhinehas his son, which was given him in ^rmount Ephraim.

THE BOOK OF JUDGES.

I. NOW after the death of Joshua it came to pass, that the children of Israel ^aasked the LORD, saying, ^bWho shall go up for us against the Canaanites first, to fight against them? And the LORD said, Judah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand. And Judah said unto Simeon his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the Canaanites; and ^cI likewise will go with thee into thy lot. So Simeon went with him. And Judah went up; and the LORD delivered the Canaanites and the Perizzites into their hand: and they slew of them in ^dBezek ten thousand men. And they found Adoni-bezek in Bezek: and they fought against him, and they slew the Canaanites and the Perizzites. But Adoni-bezek fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes. And Adoni-bezek said, Three-score and ten kings, having ^etheir thumbs and their great toes cut off, ^fgathered their meat under my table: ^gas I have done, so God hath requited me. And they brought him to Jerusalem, and there he died. Now ^hthe children of Judah had fought against Jerusalem, and had taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and set the city on fire.

And afterward the children of Judah went down to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in the mountain, and in the south, and in the ⁱvalley. And Judah went against the Canaanites that dwelt in ^jHebron: (now the name of Hebron before was Kirjath-arba:) and they slew ^kSheshai, and Ahiman, and Talmi. And from thence he went against the inhabitants of ^lDebir: and the name of Debir before was Kirjath-sepher. ^mAnd Caleb said, He that smiteth Kirjath-sepher, and taketh it, to him will I give Achsah my daughter to wife. And Othniel the son of Kenaz, ⁿCaleb's younger brother, took it: and he gave him Achsah his daughter to wife. And it came to pass, when she came to him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she lighted from off her ass; and Caleb said unto her, What wilt thou? And she said unto him, Give me a blessing: for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And Caleb gave her the upper springs and the nether springs.

And the children of the ^oKenite, Moses' father in law, went up out of the city of palm trees with the children of Judah into the wilderness of Judah, which lieth in the south of ^pArad; and they went and dwelt among the people.

And Judah went with Simeon his brother, and they slew the Canaanites that inhabited ^qZephath, and utterly destroyed it: and the name of the city was called ^rHormah. Also Judah took ^sGaza with the coast thereof, and ^tAskelon with the coast thereof, and ^uEkrone with the coast thereof. And ^vthe LORD was with Judah; and ^whe drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had ^xchariots of iron. ^yAnd they gave Hebron unto Caleb, as Moses said: and he expelled thence the three sons of Anak. ^zAnd the children of Benjamin did not drive out the Jebusites that inhabited Jerusalem; but ^{aa}the Jebusites dwell with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem unto this day.

And the house of Joseph, they also went up against Beth-el: and the LORD ^{ab}was with them. And the house of Joseph ^{ac}sent to descry Beth-el. (Now the name of the city before was ^{ad}Luz.) And the spies saw a man come forth

Neither did Asher drive out the inhabitants of Accho, nor the inhabitants of ^hZidon, nor of Ahlab, nor of ^hAchzib, nor of Helbah, nor of ^hAphik, nor of ^hRehob: but the Asherites ^hdwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: for they did not drive them out. Neither did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of ^hBeth-she-mesh, nor the inhabitants of ^hBeth-anath; but he ^hdwelt among the Canaanites, the inhabitants of the land: nevertheless the inhabitants of Beth-she-mesh and of Beth-anath ^hbecame tributaries unto them. And ^hthe Amorites forced the children of Dan into the mountain: for they would not suffer them to come down to the valley: but the Amorites would dwell in mount ^hHeres in ^hAijalon, and in ^hShaalbim: yet the hand of the house of Joseph ^hprevailed, so that they became tributaries. And the coast of the Amorites ^hwas from ^hthe going up to Akrabbim, from the rock, and upward.

And an ^hangel of the LORD came up from Gilgal ^hto Bochim, and said, I made you to go up out of Egypt, and have brought you unto the land which I swear unto your fathers; and I said, I will never ^hbreak my covenant with ^hyou. And ^hye shall make no league with the inhabitants of this land; ^hye shall throw down their altars: ^hbut ye have not obeyed my voice: why have ^hye done this? Wherefore I also said, I will not drive them out from before you; but they shall be ^has thorns in your sides, and ^htheir gods shall be a ^hsnare unto you. And it came to pass, when the angel of the LORD spake these words unto all the children of Israel, that the people lift up their voice, and ^hswept. And they called the name of that place ^hBochim: and they sacrificed there unto the LORD.

And when ^hJoshua had let the people go, the children of Israel went every man unto his inheritance to possess ^hthe land. And the people served the LORD all the days of Joshua, and all the days of the elders that ^houtlived Joshua, who had seen all the great works of the LORD, that he did for Israel. And Joshua the son of Nun, the servant of the LORD, died, ^hbeing an hundred and ten years old. And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in ^hTimnath-heres, ^hin the mount of Ephraim, on the north side of the hill Gaash.

And also all that generation were gathered unto their fathers: and there arose another generation after them, which ^hknew not the LORD, nor yet the works ^hwhich he had done for Israel. And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the LORD, and served Baalim: and they ^hforsook the LORD God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, and followed ^hother gods, of the gods of the people that ^hwere round about them, and ^hbowed themselves unto them, and ^hprovoked the LORD to anger. And they forsook the LORD, and ^hserved Baal and Ashtaroth. And ^hthe anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he ^hdelivered them into the hands of spoilers that spoiled them, and ^hhe sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they ^hcould not any longer stand before their enemies. Whithersoever they went out, the hand of the LORD was against them for evil, as the LORD had said, and ^has the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were greatly ^hdistressed. Nevertheless ^hthe LORD raised up judges, which ^hdelivered them out of the hand of those that spoiled them. And yet they would not hearken ¹⁷ unto their judges, but they ¹⁸ went a whoring after other gods, and bowed themselves unto them: ¹⁹ they turned quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, obeying the commandments of the LORD; but they did not so. And when the LORD raised them up ²⁰

^a judges, then ^a the LORD was with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge: for ^b it repented the LORD because of their ^c groanings by reason of them that oppressed them and vexed them. And it came to pass, ^d when the judge was dead, that they returned, and ^e corrupted themselves more than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them, and to bow down unto them; ^f they ceased not from their own doings, nor from their stubborn way. And ^g the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel: and he said, Because that this people hath ^h transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not hearkened unto my voice; ⁱ I also ^j will not henceforth drive out any from before them of the nations which Joshua left when he died: that ^k through them ^l I may ^m prove Israel, whether they will keep the way of the LORD to walk therein, as their fathers did keep it, or not. Therefore the LORD ⁿ left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Joshua. Now these ^o are ^p the nations which the LORD left, to prove Israel by them, even as many of Israel as had not known all the wars of Canaan; only ^q that the generations of the children of Israel might know, to teach them war, at the least such as before knew nothing thereof: namely, ^r five lords of the Philistines, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hivites that dwelt in mount ^s Lebanon, from mount Baal-hermon unto the entering in of Hamath. And they were ^t to prove Israel by them, to know whether they would hearken unto the commandments of the LORD, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

Therefore ^j the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he ^k sold them into the hand of ^l Chushan-rishathaim king of ^m Mesopotamia: and the children of Israel served ⁿ Chushan-rishathaim eight years. And when the children of Israel ^o cried unto the LORD, the LORD ^p raised up a ^q deliverer to the children of Israel, who delivered them, even ^r Othniel the son of ^s Kenaz, Caleb's younger brother. And ^t the spirit of the LORD ^u came upon him, and he judged Israel, and went out to war: and the LORD delivered Chushan-rishathaim king of ^v Mesopotamia into his hand; and his hand prevailed against ^w Chushan-rishathaim. And ^x the land had rest forty years. And Othniel the son of Kenaz died.

^y And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the LORD: and the LORD strengthened Eglon ^z the king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil in the sight of the LORD. ^{aa} And he gathered unto him the children of ^{ab} Ammon and ^{ac} Amalek, and went and smote Israel, and possessed ^{ad} the city of ^{ae} palm trees. And ^a the children of Israel again did evil in the sight of the LORD, when Ehud was dead. And the LORD ^b sold them ² into the hand of ^c Jabin king of Canaan, that reigned in ^c Hazor; the captain of whose host was ¹ Sisera, which dwelt in ^d Harosheth of the Gentiles. And the ³ children of Israel ^e cried unto the LORD: for he had nine hundred ^f chariots of iron; and twenty years ^g he mightily oppressed the children of Israel. And Deborah, a prophetess, the wife of Lappidoth, she judged Israel at that time. And she dwelt under the palm tree of ⁵ Deborah between ^h Ramah and Beth-el in ⁱ mount Ephraim: and the children of Israel came up to her for judgment. And she sent and called Barak the son ⁶ of Abinoam out of ^k Kedesh-naphtali, and said unto him, Hath not the LORD God of Israel commanded, saying, Go and draw toward mount ¹ Tabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children ⁷ of Zebulun? And I will draw unto thee to the ^m river Kishon Sisera, the captain of Jabin's army, with his chariots and his multitude; and ⁿ I will deliver him ⁸ into thine hand. And Barak said unto her, ^o If thou wilt go with me, then I will go: but if thou wilt not go with me, ⁹ then I will not go. And she said, I will surely go with thee: notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honour; for the LORD shall ^p sell Sisera into the hand of a woman. And Deborah arose, and went with Barak to ¹⁰ Kedesh. And Barak called ^q Zebulun and Naphtali to Kedesh; and he went up with ten thousand men ^r at his feet: ¹¹ and Deborah went up with him. Now Heber ^s the Kenite, which was of the children of ^t Hobab the father in law of Moses, had severed himself from the Kenites, and pitched his tent unto ^u the plain of Zaanaïm, which is by Kedesh. ¹² And they shewed Sisera that Barak the son of Abinoam was gone up ^v to mount ¹³ Tabor. And Sisera ¹ gathered together all his ^w chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harosheth of the ¹⁴ Gentiles unto the river of Kishon. And Deborah said unto Barak, Up; for this ^x is the day in which ^y the LORD hath delivered Sisera into thine hand: ^z is not the LORD gone out before thee? So Barak went down from mount ¹ Tabor, and ¹⁵ ten thousand men after him. And the LORD ^a discomfited Sisera, and all ^b his chariots, and all ^{bis} host, with the edge of the sword before Barak; so that Sisera lighted down off ^{bis} chariot, and ¹⁶ fled away on his feet. But Barak pursued after the chariots, and after the host, unto Harosheth of the Gentiles; and all the host of Sisera fell upon the edge of the sword; and there was not ¹⁷ ^a man left. Howbeit Sisera fled away on his feet to the tent of Jael the wife of Heber the Kenite: for there was peace between Jabin the king of Hazor and ¹⁸ the house of Heber the Kenite. And Jael went out to meet Sisera, and said unto him, Turn in, my lord, turn in to me; fear not. And when he had turned in unto her into the tent, she covered ¹⁹ him with a ¹ mantle. And he said unto her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink; for I am thirsty. And she opened a bottle ^{of} milk, and gave him drink, and covered him. Again he said unto her, Stand in the door of the tent, and it shall be, when any man doth come and inquire of thee, and say, Is there any man here? that thou shalt say, No. Then Jael Heber's wife took ^a nail of the tent, and [†]took a hammer in her hand, and went softly unto him, and smote the nail into his temples, and fastened it into the ground: for he was fast asleep and weary. So he died. And behold, as Barak pursued Sisera, Jael came out to meet him, and said unto him, Come, and I will shew thee the man whom thou seekest. And when he came into her tent, behold, Sisera lay dead, and the nail was in his temples. So ^a God subdued on that day Jabin the king of Canaan before the children of Israel. And the hand of the children of Israel [†]prospered, and prevailed against Jabin the king of Canaan, until they had destroyed Jabin king of Canaan.

V. Then ^a sang Deborah and Barak the son of Abinoam on that day, saying, Praise ye the LORD for the ^bavenging of Israel, ^cWhen the people willingly offered themselves. Hear, O ye kings; give ear, O ye ^dprinces; I, even I, will sing unto the LORD; I will sing praise to the LORD God of Israel. LORD, ^ewhen thou wentest out of Seir, ^fWhen thou marchedst out of the field of Edom, ^gThe earth trembled, and the heavens dropped, The clouds also dropped water. ^hThe mountains [†]melted from before the LORD, Even that ⁱSinai from before the LORD God of Israel. In the days of ^jShamgar the son of Anath, In the days of ^kJael, [†]the highways were unoccupied, And the [†]travellers walked through [†]byways. The inhabitants of the ^mvillages ceased, they ceased in Israel, Until that I Deborah arose, That I arose a mother in Israel.

8 They ⁿchose new gods; Then was war in the gates: ^oWas there a shield or spear seen Among forty thousand in Israel? 9 My heart is toward the governors of Israel, That ^poffered themselves willingly among the people. Bless ye the LORD. 10 [†]Speak, ye ^qthat ride on white asses, [†]Ye that sit in judgment, And walk by the way. 11 They that are delivered from the noise of archers in ^rthe places of drawing water, There shall they rehearse the [†]righteous acts of the LORD, Even the [†]righteous acts towards the inhabitants of his ^mvillages in Israel: Then shall the people of the LORD go down to the gates. 12 [†]Awake, awake, Deborah: Awake, awake, utter a song: Arise, Barak, And ^ulead thy captivity captive, thou son of Abinoam. 13 Then he made him that remaineth ^xhave dominion over the nobles among the people: The LORD made me have dominion over the mighty. 14 Out of ^yEphraim was there a root of them against ^zAmalek; After thee, Benjamin, among thy people; Out of ^aMachir came down ^bgovernors, And out of Zebulun they that [†]handle the pen of the writer. 15 And the princes of Issachar were with Deborah; Even Issachar, and also ^cBarak: He was sent on [†]foot into the valley. [†]For the divisions of Reuben there were great [†]thoughts of heart. 16 Why abodest thou among the ^dsheepfolds, To hear the ^ebleatings of [†]the flocks? [†]For the divisions of Reuben there were great searchings of heart. ^gGilead abode beyond Jordan: And why did ^hDan remain in ships? ⁱAsher continued on the sea [†]shore, And abode in his [†]breaches. 18 ^jZebulun and Naphtali were a people that [†]jeopardied their lives unto the death In the high places of the field. 19 The kings came and fought, Then fought the kings of Canaan

ing, Did not the LORD bring us up from Egypt? but now the LORD hath forsaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the ^bMidianites. And the LORD looked ¹⁴ upon him, and said, ^aGo in this thy might, and thou shalt save Israel from the hand of the ^bMidianites: ¹⁵ have not I sent thee? And he said unto him, O my Lord, wherewith shall I save Israel? behold, ¹⁶ ^umy family is poor in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house. And the LORD said unto him, ¹⁷ Surely I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the ^bMidianites as one man. And he said unto him, If now ¹⁸ ^xI have found grace in thy sight, then ^yshew me a sign that thou talkest with me. ²De- part not hence, I pray thee, until I come unto thee, and bring forth my ¹⁹ present, and set it before thee. And he said, I will tarry until thou come again.

^aAnd Gideon went in, and made ready ²⁰ ¹a kid, and unleavened cakes of an ephah of flour: the flesh he put in a basket, and he put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oak, and presented it. And the angel of ²¹ God said unto him, Take the flesh and the unleavened cakes, and ^blay them upon this rock, and ^cpour out the broth. And he did so. Then the angel of the LORD put forth the end of the staff that ²² ^{was} in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and ^dthere rose up fire out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened cakes. Then the angel of the LORD departed out of his sight. And when Gideon ²³ perceived that he ^{was} an angel of the LORD, Gideon said, Alas, O Lord God! ^efor because I have seen an angel of the LORD face to face. And the LORD said unto him, ²⁴ ^gPeace be unto thee; fear not: thou shalt not die. Then Gideon built an altar there unto the LORD, and called it ¹Jehovah-shalom: unto this day it is yet in ^hOphrah of the Abi-ezrites.

And it came to pass the same night, ²⁵ that the LORD said unto him, Take thy father's young bullock, ⁱeven the second bullock of seven years old, and throw down the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and ^jcut down the grove that is by it: and build an altar unto the LORD ²⁶ ²thy God upon the top of this ¹rock, ³in the ordered place, and take the second bullock, and offer a burnt sacrifice with the wood of the grove which thou shalt ²⁷ cut down. Then Gideon took ten men of his servants, and did as the LORD had said unto him: and ^{so} it was, because he feared his father's household, and the men of the city, that ^{he} could not do it by day, that he did it by night. ²⁸ And when the men of the city arose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Baal was cast down, and the grove was cut down that ^{was} by it, and the second bullock was offered upon the altar that was built. And they said one to another, Who hath done this thing? And when they inquired and asked, they said, Gideon the son of Joash hath done ²⁹ this thing. Then the men of the city said unto Joash, Bring out thy son, that he may die: because he hath cast down the altar of Baal, and because he hath cut down the grove that ^{was} by it. ³⁰ And Joash said unto all that stood against him, Will ye plead for Baal? will ye save him? he that will plead for him, let him be put to death whilst it is yet morning: if he ^{be} a god, let him plead for himself, because ^{one} hath cast down his altar. Therefore on that day he called him ³¹ ¹Jerubbaal, saying, Let Baal plead against him, because he hath thrown down his altar.

Then all ³² ¹the Midianites and the Amalekites and the children of the east were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in ^mthe valley of Jezreel. But ³³ ⁿthe spirit of the LORD ¹came upon Gideon, and he ^{blew} a trumpet; and Abi-ezer ³⁴ ¹was gathered after him. And he sent messengers throughout all Manasseh; who also ¹was gathered after him: and he sent messengers unto Asher, and unto Zebulun, and unto Naphtali; and they came up to meet them.

And Gideon said unto God, If thou wilt save Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said, ³⁵ ^pbehold, I will put a fleece of wool in the floor; and if the dew be on the fleece only, and it ^{be} dry upon all the earth ^{beside}, then shall I know that thou wilt save Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said. And it was so: for he rose up early on the morrow, and thrust the fleece together, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, a ^qbowl full of water. And Gideon said unto God, ³⁶ ^rLet not thine anger be hot against me, and I will speak but ^{this} once: let me prove, I pray thee, but ^{this} once with the fleece; let it now be dry upon the

Then ^aJerubbaal, who ^{is} Gideon, and all the people that ^{were} with him, rose up early, and pitched beside ^bthe well of Harod: so that the host of the Midianites were on the north side of them, by the hill of ^cMoreh, ^bin the valley. And the LORD said unto Gideon, The people that ^{are} with thee ^{are} too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel ^dvaunt themselves against me, saying, Mine own hand hath saved me. Now therefore go to, ³proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, ^eWhosoever ^{is} fearful and ^bafraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gilead. And there returned of the people twenty and two thousand; and there remained ten thousand. And the LORD said unto Gideon, The people ^{are} yet ^{too} many; bring them down unto the water, and I ^fwill try them for thee there: and it shall be, ^{that} of whom I say unto thee, This shall go with thee, the same shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This shall not go with thee, the same shall not go. So he brought down the people unto ⁵the water: and the LORD said unto Gideon, Every one that lappeth of the water with his tongue, as a dog lappeth, him shalt thou set by himself; likewise every one that boweth down upon his knees to drink. And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, were three hundred men: but all the rest of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water. And the LORD said unto Gideon, ^gBy ⁷the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Midianites into thine hand: and let all the ^{other} people go every man unto his place. So the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets: and he sent all ^{the rest of} Israel every man unto his tent, and retained ^{those} three hundred men: and the host of Midian was beneath him ^hin the valley.

And it came to pass the same night, ⁹that the LORD said unto him, Arise, get thee down unto the host; for ^jI have delivered it into thine hand. But ¹⁰if thou fear to go down, go thou with Phurah thy servant down to the host: and thou shalt ^khear what they say: ¹¹

and afterward shall thine hands be strengthened to go down unto the host. Then went he down with Phurah his servant unto the outside of the ^{armed} ¹²men that ^{were} in the host. And the Midianites and the Amalekites and ^{all} the children of the east lay along ^hin the valley ^{like} grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels ^{were} without number, ^{as} the sand by the sea side ^mfor multitude. And when Gideon was come, behold, ^{there was} a man that told a dream unto his fellow, and said, Behold, I dreamed a dream, and lo, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the host of Midian, and came unto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and overturned ¹⁴it, that the tent lay along. And his fellow answered and said, This ^{is} nothing else save the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel: ^{for} into his hand hath God delivered Midian, ¹⁵and all the host. And it was ^{so}, when Gideon heard the telling of the dream, and ^{the} interpretation thereof, that he worshipped, and returned into the host of Israel, and said, Arise; for the LORD hath delivered into your hand the host ¹⁶of Midian. And he divided the three hundred men ^{into} three companies, and he put ^a a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and ^{lamps} within ¹⁷the pitchers. And he said unto them, Look on me, and do likewise: and behold, when I come to the outside of the camp, it shall be ^{that}, as I do, so shall ¹⁸ye do. When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that ^{are} with me, then blow ye the trumpets also on every side of all the camp, and say, ⁿThe sword of the ¹⁹LORD, and of Gideon. So Gideon, and ^othe hundred men that ^{were} with him, came unto the outside of the camp ⁱⁿ the beginning of the middle watch; and they had but newly set the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and brake the ²⁰pitchers that ^{were} in their hands. And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow ^{without}: and they cried, The sword of the LORD, and of Gideon. And they ^pstood every man ^qin his place round about the camp: and ^rall the host ran, and cried, ²²and fled. And the three hundred ^sblew the trumpets, and ^tthe LORD set ^uevery man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host: and the host fled to Beth-shittah ¹in ²Zererath, and to the ³border of ⁴Abel-meholah, unto Tabbath. And the men of Israel ⁵gathered themselves together ⁶out of Naph-tali, and out of Asher, and out of all Manasseh, and pursued after the Midianites.

And Gideon sent messengers through-⁷out all ⁸amount Ephraim, saying, Come down against the Midianites, and take before them the waters unto Beth-barah and Jordan. Then all the men of Ephraim ⁹gathered themselves together, and ¹⁰took the waters unto ¹¹Beth-barah and Jordan. And they took ¹²two princes of the Midianites, Oreb and Zeeb; and they slew Oreb upon ¹³the rock Oreb, and Zeeb they slew at the winepress of Zeeb, and pursued Midian, and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeeb to Gideon on the ¹⁴other side Jordan. And ¹⁵the men of Ephraim said unto him, ¹⁶Why hast thou served us thus, that ¹⁷thou calledst us not, when thou wentest to fight with the Midianites? And they did chide with him ¹⁸sharply. And he said ¹⁹unto them, What have I done now in comparison of you? ²⁰Is not ²¹the glean- ing of the grapes of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abi-ezer? ²²God hath ²³delivered into your hands the princes of Midian, Oreb and Zeeb: and what was I able to do in comparison of you? Then their ²⁴danger was abated toward him, when he had said that.

And Gideon came to Jordan, and ²⁵passed over, he, and ²⁶the three hundred men that ²⁷were with him, faint, yet pursuing ²⁸them. And he said unto the men ²⁹of ³⁰Succoth, Give, I pray you, loaves of bread unto the people ³¹that follow me; for they ³²be faint, and I am pursuing after Zebah and Zalmunna, kings of Midian. And the princes of Succoth ³³said, ³⁴Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hand, that we should give bread unto thine army? And Gideon said, Therefore when the ³⁵LORD hath delivered Zebah and Zalmunna into mine hand, ³⁶then I will ³⁷tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers. And he ³⁸went up thence to ³⁹Penuel, and spake unto them likewise: and the men of Penuel answered him as the men of Succoth had answered ⁴⁰him. And he ⁴¹spake also unto the men of Penuel, saying, ⁴²When I come again in peace, ⁴³I will break down this tower. Now ⁴⁴10

Zebah and Zalmunna ⁴⁵were in Karkor, and their hosts with them, about fifteen thousand ⁴⁶men, all that were left of ⁴⁷all the hosts of ⁴⁸the children of the east: for there fell ⁴⁹an hundred and twenty ⁵⁰thousand men that drew sword. And Gideon went up ⁵¹by the way of them that dwelt in tents on the east of ⁵²Nobah and Jogbehah, and smote the ⁵³host: for the host was ⁵⁴secure. And when Zebah and Zalmunna fled, he pursued after them, and ⁵⁵took the two kings of Midian, Zebah and Zalmunna, and ⁵⁶discomfited all the host.

And Gideon the son of Joash returned from battle before the sun was ⁵⁷up, and caught a young man of the men of Succoth, and inquired of him: and he ⁵⁸described unto him the princes of Succoth, and the elders thereof, ⁵⁹even three-⁶⁰score and seventeen men. And he came unto the men of Succoth, and said, Behold Zebah and Zalmunna, with whom ye did upbraid me, saying, ⁶¹Are ⁶²the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hand, that we should give bread ⁶³unto thy men ⁶⁴that are weary? And he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and with them he ⁶⁵taught the men of Succoth. And he beat down the tower of Penuel, and slew the men of the city. Then said he unto Zebah and Zalmunna, What manner of men ⁶⁶were they whom ye slew at ⁶⁷Tabor? And they answered, As thou ⁶⁸art, so ⁶⁹were they: ⁷⁰each one ⁷¹resembled the children of a ⁷²king. And he said, They ⁷³were my brethren, ⁷⁴even the sons of my mother: ⁷⁵as the LORD liveth, if ye had saved them ⁷⁶alive, I would not slay you. And he said unto Jether his firstborn, Up, and slay them. But the youth drew not his sword: for he feared, because he ⁷⁷was yet a youth. Then Zebah and Zalmunna said, Rise thou, and fall upon us: for as the man ⁷⁸is, so ⁷⁹is his strength. And Gideon arose, and ⁸⁰slew Zebah and Zalmunna, and took away the ⁸¹ornaments that ⁸²were on their camels' necks.

Then the men of Israel said unto Gideon, Rule thou over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son also: for thou hast delivered us from the hand of ⁸³Midian. And Gideon said unto them, I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: ⁸⁴the LORD shall rule ⁸⁵over you. And Gideon said unto them,

I would desire a request of you, that you would give me every man the ^aearrings of his prey. (For they had golden earrings, ^ybecause they were Ishmaelites.) And they answered, We will willingly ²⁵give them. And they spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the earrings of his prey. And the weight of ²⁶the golden earrings that he requested was a thousand and seven hundred shekels of gold; beside ^zornaments, and ^lcollars, and ^apurple raiment that was on the kings of Midian, and beside the ^bchains that were about their camels' necks. And Gideon made an ^eephod ²⁷thereof, and put it in his city, even ^din Ophrah: and all Israel ^ewent thither a whoring after it: which thing became ^aa snare unto Gideon, and to his house. Thus was Midian subdued before the ²⁸children of Israel, so that they lifted up their heads no more. ^zAnd the country was in quietness forty years in the days of Gideon.

And Jerubbaal the son of Joash went ²⁹and dwelt in his own house. And Gi- ³⁰deon had ^bthreescore and ten sons ^fof his body begotten: for he had many wives. And his concubine that was in ³¹Shechem, she also bare him a son, whose name he ^fcalled Abimelech. And ³²Gideon the son of Joash died ^jin a good old age, and was buried in the sepulchre of Joash his father, ^kin Ophrah of the Abiezrites. And it came to pass, ³³as soon as Gideon was dead, that the children of Israel turned again, and ^mwent a whoring after Baalim, and made ^pBaal-berith their god. And the children of ³⁴Israel ^oremembered not the LORD their God, who had delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies on every side: ³⁵^pneither shewed they kindness to the house of Jerubbaal, namely, Gideon, according to all the goodness which he had shewed unto Israel.

And Abimelech the son of Jerubbaal went to Shechem unto ^ahis mother's brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family of the house of his mother's father, saying, Speak, I pray ²you, in the ears of all ^bthe men of Shechem, ^fWhether is better for you, either that all the sons of Jerubbaal, which are ^cthreescore and ten persons, reign over you, or that one reign over you? remember also that I am ^ayour bone and your flesh. And his mother's brethren spake ³of him in the ears of all ^bthe men of Shechem all these words: and their hearts inclined ^fto follow Abimelech; for ⁴they said, He is our ^ebrother. And they gave him threescore and ten pieces of silver out of the house of ^fBaal-berith, wherewith Abimelech hired ^zvain and ⁵^blight persons, which followed him. And he went unto his father's house ⁱat Ophrah, and ^jslew his brethren the sons of Jerubbaal, being threescore and ten persons, upon one stone: notwithstanding yet Jotham the youngest son of Jerub- ⁶baal was left; for he hid himself. And all ^bthe men of Shechem gathered together, and all ^kthe house of Millo, and went, and made Abimelech king, ^lby the plain of ^lthe pillar that was in Shechem.

⁷ And when they told it to Jotham, he went and stood in the top of ^mmount Gerizim, and lift up his voice, and cried, and said unto them, Hearken unto me, you ^bmen of Shechem, that God may ⁸hearken unto you. ⁿThe trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said unto the olive tree, ⁹^oReign thou over us. But the olive tree said unto them, Should I leave my fatness, ^pwherewith by me they honour God and man, and ^lgo to be promoted ¹⁰over the trees? And the trees said to the fig tree, Come thou, and reign over ¹¹us. But the fig tree said unto them, Should I forsake my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over ¹²the trees? Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and reign over us. ¹³And the vine said unto them, Should I leave my wine, ^qwhich cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over ¹⁴the trees? Then said all the trees unto the ^rbramble, Come thou, and reign ¹⁵over us. And the bramble said unto the trees, If in truth ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your trust in my ^rshadow: and if not, ^slet fire come out of the bramble, and devour ¹⁶the cedars of Lebanon. Now therefore, if ye have done ^ttruly and sincerely, in that ye have made Abimelech king, and if ye have dealt well with Jerubbaal and his house, and have done unto him according to ^uthe deserving of his hands; ¹⁷(for my father fought for you, and ^vadventured his life far, and delivered you ¹⁸out of the hand of Midian: and ye are risen up against my father's house this day, and ^xhave slain his sons, threescore and ten persons, upon one stone,

When Abimelech had reigned three ²² years over Israel, then ^e God sent an evil ²³ spirit between Abimelech and the men of Shechem; and the men of Shechem [†] dealt treacherously with Abimelech: ^g that the cruelty done to the threescore ²⁴ and ten sons of Jerubbaal might come, and their blood be laid upon Abimelech their brother, which slew them; and upon the men of Shechem, which [†] aided him in the killing of his brethren. And ²⁵ the men of Shechem set liers in wait for him in the top of the mountains, and they robbed all that came along that way by them: and it was told Abimelech. And Gaal the son of Ebed came ²⁶ with his brethren, and went over to Shechem: and the men of Shechem put their confidence in him. And they went ²⁷ out into the fields, and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes, and made ^{||} merry, and went into ^h the house of their god, and did eat and drink, and cursed Abimelech. And Gaal the son ²⁸ of Ebed said, ⁱ Who is Abimelech, and who is Shechem, that we should serve him? is not he the son of Jerubbaal? and Zebul his officer? serve the men of ^j Hamor the father of Shechem: for why should we serve him? And ^k would to ²⁹ God this people were under my hand; then would I remove Abimelech. And he said to Abimelech, Increase thine army, and come out. And when Zebul ³⁰ the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Ebed, his anger was ^{||} kindled. And he sent messengers unto ³¹ Abimelech [†] privily, saying, Behold, Gaal the son of Ebed and his brethren be come to Shechem; and behold, they fortify the city against thee. Now therefore ³² up by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in wait in the field: and it shall be, that in the morning, as ³³

soon as the sun is up, thou shalt rise early, and set upon the city: and behold, when he and the people that is with him come out against thee, then mayest thou do to them [†] as thou shalt ³⁴ find occasion. And Abimelech rose up, and all the people that were with him, by night, and they laid wait against Shechem ³⁵ in four companies. And Gaal the son of Ebed went out, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and Abimelech rose up, and the people that ³⁶ were with him, from lying in wait. And when Gaal saw the people, he said to Zebul, Behold, there come people down from [†] the top of the mountains. And Zebul said unto him, Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as if they were ³⁷ men. And Gaal spake again and said, See there come people down by the [†] middle of the land, and another company come along by ^m the plain of [†] Meonenim. Then said Zebul unto him, Where is now thy mouth, wherewith thou saidst, ⁿ Who is Abimelech, that we should serve him? is not this the people that thou hast despised? go out, I pray ³⁸ now, and fight with them. And Gaal went out before the men of Shechem, ³⁹ and fought with Abimelech. And Abimelech chased him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrown and wounded, even unto the entering of the ⁴⁰ gate. And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thrust out Gaal and his brethren, that they should not dwell in ⁴¹ Shechem. And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people went out into the ⁴² field; and they told Abimelech. And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and laid wait in the field, and looked, and behold, the people were come forth out of the city; and he rose up against them, and smote ⁴³ them. And Abimelech, and the company that was with him, ^o rushed forward, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ^o ran upon all the people that were ⁴⁴ in the fields, and slew them. Then ^bhe called ⁵⁴ hastily unto the young man his armour-bearer, and said unto him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, that men say not of me, A woman slew him. And his young man thrust him through, and he died. And when the men of Israel saw that ⁵⁵ Abimelech was dead, they departed every man unto his place. ^cThus God ⁵⁶ rendered the wickedness of Abimelech, which he did unto his father, in slaying his seventy brethren: and all the evil of the men of Shechem did God render upon their heads: and upon them came ^dthe curse of Jotham the son of Jerubbaal.

X. And after Abimelech there arose to ¹defend Israel Tola the son of Puah, the son of Dodo, a man of Issachar; and he dwelt in Shamir in ^amount Ephraim. And he judged Israel twenty ²and three years, and died, and was buried in Shamir.

And after him arose Jair, a Gileadite, ³and judged Israel twenty and two years. And he had thirty sons that ^brode on thirty ass colts, and they had thirty cities, ^cwhich are called ¹Havoth-jair unto this day, which are in the land of Gilead. And Jair died, and was buried ⁵in Camon.

And ^dthe children of Israel did evil

again in the sight of the LORD, and ^eserved Baalim, and Ashtaroth, and the gods of Syria, and the gods of ^fZidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the ^gPhilistines, and ^hforsook the LORD, ⁷and served not him. And the anger of the LORD was hot against Israel, and he ⁱsold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of ^jthe children of Ammon. And ^kthat year they ^lvexed and ^moppressed the children of Israel: eighteen years, all the children of Israel that were on the other side Jordan in the land of the Amorites, ⁹which is in Gilead. Moreover ^jthe children of Ammon passed over Jordan to fight also against Judah, and against Benjamin, and against the house of Ephraim; ^mso that Israel was sore distressed. ⁿAnd the children of Israel cried unto the LORD, saying, We have sinned against thee, both because ^hwe have forsaken our God, and also served ¹¹Baalim. And the LORD said unto the children of Israel, *Did not I deliver you from ^othe Egyptians, and from ^pthe Amorites, from ^qthe children of Ammon, and from ^rthe Philistines? The Zidonians also, and ^sthe Amalekites, and ^tthe Maonites, ^udid oppress you; and ye cried to me, and I delivered you ¹³out of their hand. Yet ^wye have forsaken me, and served other gods: wherefore I will deliver you no more. Go and ^xcry unto the gods which ye have chosen; let them deliver you in the ¹⁵time of your tribulation. And the children of Israel said unto the LORD, We have sinned: do thou unto us whatsoever ¹⁶seemeth good unto thee; deliver ¹⁷us only, we pray thee, this day. And they put away the ¹⁸strange gods from among them, and served the LORD: ^yand his soul ^zwas grieved for the misery of Israel. Then the children of Ammon were ¹gathered together, and encamped in Gilead. And the children of Israel assembled themselves together, and encamped in ^aMizpeh. And the people and princes of Gilead said one to another, What man is he that will begin to fight against the children of Ammon? ^bhe shall be head over all the inhabitants of Gilead.*

Now ¹Jephthah the Gileadite was ^aa mighty man of valour, and he was the son of ^aharlot: and Gilead begat Jephthah. And Gilead's wife bare him sons; ² and his wife's sons grew up, and they thrust out Jephthah, and said unto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our father's house; for thou art the son of a strange woman. Then Jephthah fled ³ from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of ^bTob: and there were gathered ^cvain men to Jephthah, and went out with him. And ⁴ it came to pass ⁱin process of time, that the children of Ammon made war against Israel. And it was so, that when ⁵ the children of Ammon made war against Israel, ^dthe elders of Gilead went to fetch Jephthah out of the land of ^bTob: and they said unto Jephthah, Come, and be our captain, that we may fight with the children of Ammon. And ⁷ Jephthah said unto the elders of Gilead, ^eDid not ye hate me, and expel me out of my father's house? and why are ye come unto me now when ye are in distress? And the elders of Gilead said ⁸ unto Jephthah. Therefore we turn again to thee now, that thou mayest go with us, and fight against the children of Ammon, and be ^dour head over all the inhabitants of Gilead. And Jephthah ⁹ said unto the elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home again to fight against the children of Ammon, and the LORD deliver them before me, shall I be your head? And the elders of Gilead said ¹⁰ unto Jephthah, The LORD ^bbe witness between us, ^fif we do not so according to thy words. Then Jephthah went ¹¹ with the elders of Gilead, and the people made him ^ghead and captain over them: and Jephthah uttered all his words ^hbefore the LORD in ⁱMizpeh.

And Jephthah sent messengers unto ¹² the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land? And the king of the children of Ammon answered unto the messengers of Jephthah, ^kBecause Israel took away my land, when they came up out of Egypt, from ^lArnon even unto ^mJabbok, and unto Jordan: now therefore restore those lands again peaceably. And Jephthah sent messengers ¹⁴ again unto the king of the children of Ammon: and said unto him, Thus saith ¹⁵ Jephthah, ⁿIsrael took not away the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon: but when Israel came ¹⁶ up from Egypt, and walked through the wilderness ^ounto the Red sea, and

¹⁸ and Israel ^sabode in Kadesh. Then they went along through the wilderness, and ^tcompassed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and ^ucame by the east side of the land of Moab, ^xand pitched on the other side of Arnon, but came not within the border of Moab: for Arnon was the border of Moab.

¹⁹ And ^yIsrael sent messengers unto Sihon king of the Amorites, the king of Heshbon; and Israel said unto him, ^zLet us pass, we pray thee, through thy land ²⁰ into my place. ^aBut Sihon trusted not Israel to pass through his coast: but Sihon gathered all his people together, and pitched in ^bJahaz, and fought against Israel. And the LORD God of Israel delivered Sihon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they ^csmote them: so Israel possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that country. And they possessed all the coasts of the Amorites, ^dfrom Arnon even unto Jabbok, and from the wilderness even unto Jordan. So now the LORD God of Israel hath dispossessed the Amorites from before his people Israel, and shouldest thou possess it?

²⁴ Wilt not thou possess that which ^eChemosh thy god giveth thee to possess? So whomsoever ^fthe LORD our God shall drive out from before us, them will ²⁵ we possess. And now art thou any thing better than ^gBalak the son of Zippor, king of Moab? did he ever strive against Israel, or did he ever fight ²⁶ against them, while Israel dwelt in ^hHeshbon and her towns, and in ⁱAroer and her towns, and in all the cities that be along by the coasts of Arnon, ^jthree hundred years? why therefore did ye not ²⁷ recover them within that time? Wherefore I have not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to war against me: the LORD ^kthe Judge be judge this day between the children of Israel and the

²⁸ children of Ammon. Howbeit the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not unto the words of Jephthah which he sent him. ²⁹ Then ^lthe spirit of the LORD came upon ^mJephthah, and he passed over

Gilead and Manasseh, and passed over Mizpeh of Gilead, and from Mizpeh of Gilead he passed over unto the children of Ammon. And Jephthah ^mvowed a ³⁰vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou shalt without fail deliver the children of Ammon into mine hands, then it shall ³¹be, that [†]whatsoever cometh forth of the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace from the children of Ammon, ⁿshall surely be the LORD's, ^{||}and I will offer it up for a burnt offering. So Jephthah passed over unto the children of Ammon to fight against them; and the LORD delivered them into his hands. And he smote them from [†]Aroer, even till thou come to ^pMinnith, even twenty cities, and unto ^{||}the plain of the vineyards, with a very great slaughter. Thus the children of Ammon were subdued before the children of Israel.

And Jephthah came to ^qMizpeh unto ³⁴his house, and behold, his daughter came out ^rto meet him with ^stimbrels and with dances: and she was his only child; [†]beside her he had neither son nor daughter. And it came to pass, ³⁵when he saw her, that he ^trent his clothes, and said, Alas, my daughter, thou hast brought me very low, and thou art one of them that trouble me: for I have opened my mouth unto the LORD, and ^uI cannot go back. And ³⁶she said unto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth unto the LORD, do to me according to that which hath proceeded out of thy mouth; forasmuch as the LORD hath taken vengeance for thee of thine enemies, even of the children of Ammon. And she said unto ³⁷her father, Let this thing be done for me: ^xlet me alone two months, that I may [†]go up and down upon the mountains, and bewail my virginity, I and my fellows. And he said, Go. And ³⁸he sent her away for two months: and she went with her companions, and bewailed her virginity upon the mountains. And it came to pass at the end of two ³⁹months, that she returned unto her father, who ^ydid with her according to his vow which he had vowed: and she knew no man. And it was a ^{||}custom in Israel, that the daughters of Israel went ⁴⁰[†]yearly [†]to lament the daughter of Jephthah the Gileadite four days in a year.

And ^athe men of Ephraim [†]gathered themselves together, and went northward, and said unto Jephthah, Wherefore passedst thou over to fight against the children of Ammon, and didst not call us to go with thee? we will burn ²thine house upon thee with fire. And Jephthah said unto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Ammon; and when I called you, ye delivered me not out of their hands.

³And when I saw that ye delivered me not, I ^bput my life in my hands, and passed over against the children of Ammon, and the LORD delivered them into my hand: wherefore then are ye come up unto me this day, to fight against ⁴me? Then Jephthah gathered together all the men of Gilead, and fought with Ephraim: and the men of Gilead smote Ephraim, because they said, Ye Gileadites ^care fugitives of Ephraim among the Ephraimites, and among the Manassites. And the Gileadites took the ^dpassages of Jordan before the Ephraimites: and it was so, that when those Ephraimites which were escaped said, Let me go over; that the men of Gilead said unto him, Art thou an Ephraimite?

⁶If he said, Nay; then said they unto him, Say now ^{||}Shibboleth: and he said Shibboleth: for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him, and slew him at the passages of Jordan: and there fell at that time of the Ephraimites forty and two thousand. And Jephthah judged Israel six years. Then died Jephthah the Gileadite, and was buried in one of the cities of Gilead.

⁸And after him ^{||}Ibzan of ^eBeth-lehem ⁹judged Israel. And he had thirty sons, and thirty daughters, whom he sent abroad, and took in thirty daughters from abroad for his sons. And he ¹⁰judged Israel seven years. Then died Ibzan, and was buried at ^eBeth-lehem.

¹¹And after him ^{||}Elon, a Zebulonite, judged Israel; and he judged Israel ten ¹²years. And Elon the Zebulonite died, and was buried in Aijalon in the country of Zebulun.

¹³And after him ^{||}Abdon the son of Hillel, a [†]Pirathonite, judged Israel.

¹⁴And he had forty sons and thirty [†]nephews, that ^grode on threescore and ten ^hass colts: and he judged Israel eight ¹⁵years. And Abdon the son of Hillel the Pirathonite died, and was buried in Pirathon in the land of Ephraim, ⁱin the mount of the Amalekites.

And the children of Israel ^adid evil again in the sight of the LORD; ^band the LORD delivered them ^cinto the hand of the Philistines forty years. And there ^dwas a certain man of ^eZorah, of the family of the Danites, whose name was Manoah; and his wife was ^fbarren, and bare not. And the ^gangel of the LORD ^happeared unto the woman, and said unto her, Behold now, thou art barren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive, and bear a son. Now therefore ⁱbeware, I pray thee, and ^jdrink not wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing: for lo, thou shalt ^kconceive, and bear a son; and no ^lrazor shall come on his head: for the child shall be ^ma Nazarite unto God from the womb: and he shall ⁿbegin to deliver Israel out of the hand of the Philistines. Then the woman came and told her ^ohusband, saying, ^pA man of God came unto me, and his ^qcountenance was like the countenance of an angel of God, very terrible: but I ^rasked him not ^swhence he was, neither told he me ^this name: but he said unto me, ^uBe- ^vhold, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, neither eat any unclean thing: for the child shall be a Nazarite to God from the womb to the day of his death.

Then Manoah intreated the LORD, ^wand said, O my Lord, let the man of God which thou didst send come again unto us, and teach us what we shall do unto the child that shall be born. And God hearkened to the voice of Manoah; and the angel of God came again unto the woman as she sat in the field: but Manoah her husband was not with her. And the woman made haste, ^xand ran, and shewed her husband, and said unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto me, that came unto me the ^yother day. And Manoah arose, and ^zwent after his wife, and came to the man, and said unto him, Art thou the man that spakest unto the woman? And he said, I am. And Manoah said, ^{aa}Now let thy words come to pass. ^{ab}How shall we order the child, and ^{ac}how shall we do unto him? And the angel of the LORD said unto Manoah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware. She may not eat of any thing that com- ^{ad}eth of the vine, ^{ae}neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her ^{af}let her observe. And Manoah said unto the angel of the LORD, I pray thee, ^{ag}let us detain thee, until we shall have ^{ah}made ready a kid ^{ai}for thee. And the angel of the LORD said unto Manoah, Though thou detain me, I will not eat of thy bread: and if thou wilt offer a burnt offering, thou must offer it unto the LORD. For Manoah knew not that ^{aj}he was an angel of the LORD. And Manoah said unto the angel of the LORD, ^{ak}What is thy name, that when thy sayings come to pass we may do ^{al}thee honour? And the angel of the LORD said unto him, ^{am}Why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is ^{an}secret? ^{ao}So Manoah ^{ap}took a kid with ^{aq}a meat offering, and offered ^{ar}it upon a rock unto the LORD: and ^{as}the angel did wonderfully; and Manoah and his wife looked on. For it came to pass, ^{at}when the flame went up toward heaven from off the altar, that the angel of the LORD ascended in the flame of the altar. And Manoah and his wife looked on ^{au}it, and ^{av}fell on their faces to the ground. ^{aw}But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Manoah and to his wife. ^{ax}Then Manoah knew that he was an ^{ay}angel of the LORD. And Manoah said unto his wife, ^{az}We shall surely die, ^{ba}because we have seen God. But his wife said unto him, If the LORD were pleased to kill us, he would not have received ^{bb}a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have shewed us all these things, nor would as ^{bc}at this time have told us ^{bd}such things as these.

^{be}And the woman bare a son, and called his name ^{bf}a Samson: and ^{bg}the child grew, and the LORD blessed him. ^{bh}And the spirit of the LORD began to ^{bi}move him at times in ^{bj}the camp of Dan, ^{bk}between Zorah and Eshtaol.

And Samson went down ^{bl}to Timnath, and saw a woman in Timnath of the ^{bm}daughters of the Philistines. And he came up, and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Timnath of the daughters of the Philistines: now therefore ^{bn}get her for me ^{bo}to wife. Then his father and his mother said unto him, ^{bp}Is there never a woman among the daughters of ^{bq}thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the ^{br}uncircumcised Philistines? And Samson said unto his father, Get her for me;

 and his father and his mother, ^{to} Tim-nath, and came to the vineyards of Timnath: and behold, [§]a young lion roared ^tagainst him. And ^hthe spirit 6 of the LORD came mightily upon him, and he rent him as he would have rent
 a kid, and he had nothing in his hand:
 but he told not his father or his mother what he had done. And he went down 7 and talked with the woman; and she pleased Samson well.

And after a time he returned to take 8 her, and he turned aside to see the carcase of the lion: and behold, there was a swarm of bees and honey in the carcase of the lion. And he took there- 9 of in his hands, and went on eating, and came to his father and mother, and he gave them, and they did eat: but he told not them that he had taken the honey out of the carcase of the lion.
 So his father went down unto the wo- 10 man: and Samson made there a feast; for so used the young men to do. And 11
 it came to pass, when they saw him, that they brought thirty companions to be with him. And Samson said unto 12 them, I will now ⁱput forth a riddle unto you: if you can certainly declare it me within ^kthe seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty ^lsheets and thirty ^lchange of garments: but if ye cannot declare it me, 13 then shall ye give me thirty ^lsheets and thirty ^lchange of garments. And they said unto him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may hear it. And he said unto them, 14

Out of the eater came forth meat,
 And out of the strong came forth sweetness.

And they could not in three days expound the riddle. And it came to pass 15 on the seventh day, that they said unto Samson's wife, ^mEntice thy husband, that he may declare unto us the riddle, ⁿlest we burn thee and thy father's house with fire: have ye called us ^tto take that we have? is it not so? And 16 Samson's wife wept before him, and said, ^oThou dost but hate me, and lov-est me not: thou hast put forth a riddle unto the children of my people, and hast not told it me. And he said unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father nor my mother, and shall I tell ^r*it* thee? And she wept before him ^lthe seven days, while their feast lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because ^pshe lay sore upon him: and she told the riddle to the ^schildren of her people. And the men of the city said unto him on the seventh day before the sun went down,

What is sweeter than honey?

And what is stronger than a lion?

And he said unto them,

If ye had not plowed with my heifer,

Ye had not found out my riddle.

19 And ^qthe spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he went down ^{to} ^rAshkelon, and slew thirty men of them, and took their ^lspoils, and gave ^lchange of garments unto them which expounded the riddle. And his anger was kindled, and he went up ^{to} his father's house.
 20 But Samson's wife ^swas ^tgiven to his companion, whom he had ^tused as his friend.

But it came to pass within a while after, in the time of wheat harvest, that Samson visited his wife with ^aa kid; and he said, I will go in to my wife into the chamber. But her father would not 2 suffer him to go in. And her father said, I verily thought that thou hadst utterly hated her; therefore I gave her to thy companion: is not her younger sister fairer than she? ^ttake her, I pray 3 thee, instead of her. And Samson said concerning them, ^uNow shall I be more blameless than the Philistines, though 4 I do them a displeasure. And Samson went and caught three hundred foxes, and took ^vfirebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midst 5 between two tails. And when he had set the brands on fire, he let them go into the standing corn of the Philistines, and burnt up both ^wthe shocks, and also ^wthe standing corn, with the vine-6 yards and olives. Then the Philistines said, Who hath done this? And they answered, Samson, the son in law of the Timnite, because he had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. And the Philistines came up, and ^xburnt her 7 and her father with fire. And Samson said unto them, Though ye have done this, yet will I be avenged of you, and 8 after that I will cease. And he smote them hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went down and dwelt in ^ythe top of the rock ^zEtam.

Then the Philistines went up, and ^f pitched in Judah, and ^f spread themselves in ^g Lehi. And the men of Judah said, Why are ye come up against us? And they answered, To bind Samson are we come up, to do to him as he hath done to us. Then three thousand ^h men of Judah ^h went to ^d the top of the rock Etam, and said to Samson, Knowest thou not that the Philistines are ^h rulers over us? what is this that thou hast done unto us? And he said unto them, As they did unto me, so have I done unto them. And they said unto him, We are come down to bind thee, that we may deliver thee into the hand of the Philistines. And Samson said unto them, Swear unto me, that ye will not fall upon me yourselves. And they ⁱ spake unto him, saying, No; but we will bind thee fast, and deliver thee into their hand: but surely we will not kill thee. And they bound him with two ^j new cords, and brought him up from the rock. And when he came ^k unto Lehi, the Philistines shouted against him: and ^j the spirit of the LORD came mightily upon him, and ⁱ the cords that were upon his arms became as flax that was burnt with fire, and his bands ^l loosed from off his hands. And he ^m found a ^j new jawbone of an ass, and put forth his hand, and took it, and ^k slew a thousand men therewith. And ⁿ Samson said,

With the jawbone of an ass, ^h heaps upon heaps,

With the jaw of an ass have I slain a thousand men.

And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking, that he cast away the jawbone out of his hand, and called that place ^o Ramath-lehi.

And he was sore athirst, and called ^p on the LORD, and said, Thou hast given this great deliverance into the hand of thy servant: and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised? But God clave ^q a hollow place that was in ^h the jaw, and there came water thereout; and when he had drunk, ^r his spirit came again, and he revived: wherefore he called the name thereof ^h En-hakkore, which is in Lehi unto this day. ^h And he judged ^q Israel ^h in the days of the Philistines twenty years.

Then went Samson to ^a Gaza, and saw there ^a a harlot, and went in unto her. And it was told the Gazites, saying, Samson is come hither. And they ^b compassed him in, and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and were ^c quiet all the night, saying, In the morning, when it is day, we ^d shall kill him. And Samson lay till midnight, and arose at midnight, and took the doors of the gate of the city, and the two posts, and went away with them, ^e bar and all, and put them upon his shoulders, and carried them up to the top of a hill that is before Hebron.

And it came to pass afterward, that he loved a woman ^h in the valley of ^c Sorek, whose name was Delilah. And ^d the lords of the Philistines came up unto her, and said unto her, ^e Entice him, and see wherein his great strength ^f lieth, and by what means we may prevail against him, that we may bind him to ^g afflict him: and we will give thee every one of us eleven hundred ^h pieces of ^h silver. And Delilah said to Samson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength ⁱ lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bound to afflict thee. And Samson said unto her, If they bind me with seven ^j green withs that were never dried, then shall I be weak, and be as ^k another man. Then the lords of the Philistines brought up to her seven ^j green withs which had not been dried, and she bound him with them. Now ^l there were men lying in wait, abiding with her in the chamber. And she said unto him, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he brake the withs, as a thread of tow is broken when it ^m toucheth the fire. So his strength was not

ⁿ known. And Delilah said unto Samson, Behold, thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: now tell me, I pray thee, ^o wherewith thou mightest be bound. And he said unto her, If they bind me fast with ^p new ropes ^q that were never occupied, ^r then shall I be weak, and be as ^s another man. Delilah therefore took ^t new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said unto him, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And ^u there were liers in wait abiding in the chamber. And he brake them from off his arms like a thread.

And Delilah said unto Samson, Hitherto thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: tell me wherewith thou mightest be bound. And he said unto her, If thou weave the seven locks of my head with ^v the web. And ^w she fastened it with the pin, and said unto him, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he awaked out of his sleep, and went away with the pin of the beam, and with the web.

¹ So ch. 14. 16. And she said unto him, ¹How canst thou say, I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these three times, and hast not told me wherein thy great strength lieth. And ¹⁶ it came to pass, when she ^kpressed him daily with her words, and urged him, so that his soul was ¹vexed unto death; that he told her all his heart, and said ¹⁷ unto her, ¹There hath not come a razor upon mine head; for I have been a Nazarite unto God from my mother's womb: if I be shaven, then my strength will go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like any other man. And when Delilah saw that he had told her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Philistines, saying, Come up this once, for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Philistines came up unto her, and brought ^mmoney in their hand. And she made him sleep ¹⁹ upon her knees; and she called for a man, and she caused him to shave off the seven locks of his head; and she began to ⁿafflict him, and his strength went from him. And she said, The Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at other times before, and ^oshake myself. And he wist not that ^pthe LORD was departed from him. But ²¹ the Philistines took him, and ¹put out his eyes, and brought him down to Gaza, and ^qbound him with fetters of brass; and ²he did grind in the prison house. Howbeit the hair of his head began to ²²grow again ¹after he was shaven.

Then the lords of the Philistines gathered them together for to offer a great sacrifice unto ^sDagon their god, and to rejoice: for they said, Our god hath delivered Samson our enemy into our hand. And when the people saw him, ²⁴ they ¹praised their god: for they said, Our god hath delivered into our hands our enemy, and the destroyer of our country, ¹which slew many of us. And ²⁵ it came to pass, when their hearts were ^umerry, that they said, Call for Samson, that he may make us sport. And they called for Samson out of the prison house; and he made ¹them sport: and they set him between the pillars. And Samson said unto the lad that held him by the hand, Suffer me that I may feel the pillars whereupon the house standeth, that I may lean upon them. Now the house was full of men and women; and all the lords of the Philistines were there; and there were upon the roof about three thousand men and women, that beheld while Samson made sport.

²⁸ And Samson called unto the LORD, and said, O Lord God, ^wremember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, I pray thee, only this once, O God, that I may be at once avenged of the Philistines for ²⁹ my two eyes. And Samson ^xtook hold of the two middle pillars upon which the house stood, and ¹on which it was borne up, of the one with his right hand, and ³⁰ of the other with his left. And Samson said, Let ¹me die with the Philistines. And he bowed himself with all his might; and the house fell upon the lords, and upon all the people that were therein. So the dead which he slew at his death were more than they which he slew in ³¹ his life. Then his brethren and all the house of his father came down, and took him, and brought him up, and buried him ^ybetween Zorah and Eshtaol in the buryingplace of Manoah his father. And ²he judged Israel twenty years.

And there was a man of ^amount Ephraim, whose name was ^bMicah. And he said unto his mother, The eleven hundred shekels of silver that were taken from thee, about which thou cursedst, and spakest of also in mine ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it. And his mother said, ^cBlessed be thou of the LORD, my son. And when he had restored the eleven hundred shekels of silver to his mother, his mother said, I had wholly dedicated the silver unto the LORD from my hand for my son, to make ^da graven image and ^ea molten image: now therefore I will restore it ⁴unto thee. Yet he restored the money unto his mother; and his mother took two hundred shekels of silver, and gave them to ^fthe founder, who made thereof ^da graven image and ^ea molten image: and they were in the house of ^bMicah.

⁵ And the man Micah had a house of gods, and made an ^gephod, and ^hteraphim, and ¹consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest. In ¹those days there was no king in Israel, ^kbut every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

¹ Beth-lehem-judah of the family of Judah, who was a Levite, and he sojourned there. And the man departed out of ⁸ the city from Beth-lehem-judah to sojourn where he could find a place: and he came to ^amount Ephraim to the house of Micah, [†]as he journeyed. And Micah ⁹said unto him, Whence comest thou? And he said unto him, I am a Levite of Beth-lehem-judah, and I go to sojourn where I may find a place. And Micah ¹⁰said unto him, Dwell with me, ^mand be unto me a ⁿfather and a priest, and I will give thee ten shekels of silver by ^othe year, and [†]a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Levite went in. And the Levite ^pwas content to dwell ¹¹with the man; and the young man was unto him as one of his sons. And Micah ¹²consecrated the Levite; and the young man [†]became his priest, and was in the house of Micah. Then said Micah, Now ¹³know I that the LORD will do me good, seeing I have a Levite to my priest.

In ^athose days there was no king in Israel: and in those days ^bthe tribe of the Danites sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for unto that day all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Israel. And the children of Dan sent of their family five men from their coasts, [†]men of valour, from ^cZorah and from Eshtaol, ^dto spy out the land, and to search it; and they said unto them, Go, search the land: who when they came ^eto mount Ephraim, to the house of Micah, they lodged there. When they ^fwere by the house of ³Micah, they knew the voice of the young man the Levite: and they turned in thither, and said unto him, Who brought thee hither? and what makest thou in this ⁴place? and what hast thou here? And he said unto them, Thus and thus dealt Micah with me, and hath [†]hired me, and I am his priest. And they said ⁵unto him, ^gAsk counsel, we pray thee, ^bof God, that we may know whether our way which we go shall be prosperous. And the priest said unto them, [†]Go in ⁶peace: before the LORD is your way wherein ye go. Then the five men departed, and came to [†]Laish, and saw the people that ^fwere therein, how they dwelt careless, after the manner of the Zidonians, ^kquiet and secure; and there was no [†]magistrate in the land, that might put them to shame in any thing; and they ^fwere far from the Zidonians, and ⁸ had no business with any man. And they came unto their brethren to [†]Zorah and Eshtaol: and their brethren said ⁹unto them, What say ye? And they said, ^mArise, that we may go up against them: for we have seen the land, and behold, it is very good: and are ye ⁿstill? be not slothful to go, and to enter to ¹⁰possess the land. When ye go, ye shall come unto a people ^osecure, and to a large land: for God hath given it into your hands; ^pa place where there is no want of any thing that is in the earth.

And there went from thence of the family of the Danites, out of [†]Zorah and out of Eshtaol, six hundred men ¹²appointed with weapons of war. And they went up, and pitched in [†]Kirjath-jearim, in Judah: wherefore they called that place [†]Mahaneh-dan unto this day: behold, it is [†]behind Kirjath-jearim. And they passed thence unto [†]mount Ephraim, and came unto the house of ¹⁴Micah. Then [†]answered the five men that went to spy out the country of Laish, and said unto their brethren, Do ye know that [†]there is in these houses an ephod, and teraphim, and a graven image, and a molten image? now therefore consider what ye have to do. And they turned thitherward, and came to the house of the young man the Levite, even unto the house of Micah, and [†]saluted him. And the [†]six hundred men appointed with their weapons of war, which ^fwere of the children of Dan, stood ¹⁷by the entering of the gate. And [†]the five men that went to spy out the land went up, and came in thither, and took ^athe graven image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image; and the priest stood in the entering of the gate with the six hundred men that were appointed with weapons of war.

And these went into Micah's house, and fetched the carved image, the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image. Then said the priest unto them, What ¹⁹do ye? And they said unto him, Hold thy peace, [†]lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and go with us, ^eand be to us a father and a priest: is it better for thee to be a priest unto the house of one man, or that thou be a priest unto a ²⁰tribe and a family in Israel? And the priest's [†]heart was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the graven image, and went in the midst of the people. So they turned and departed, and went their way: and when Micah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back unto his house.

 And they took the things which Micah 27 had made, and the priest which he had,
 and came unto Laish, unto a people that were [†]at quiet and secure: [†]and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the city with fire. And 28 there was no deliverer, because it was far from Zidon, and they had no business with any man; and it was in the valley that lieth by [†]Beth-rehob. And they built a city, and dwelt therein, and 29
 they called the name of the city [†]Dan, after the name of Dan their father, [†]who was born unto Israel: howbeit the name of the city was [†]Laish at the first. And 30 the children of Dan set up the graven image: and Jonathan, the son of [†]Gershom, the son of Manasseh, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dan until the day [†]of the captivity of the land.
 And they set them up Micah's graven 31 image, which he made, all the time that [†]the house of God was in Shiloh.

And it came to pass in those days,
[†]when there was no king in Israel, that there was a certain Levite sojourning on the side of [†]mount Ephraim, who took to him [†]a concubine out of [†]Beth-lehemjudah. And his concubine played the whore against him, and went away from him unto her father's house to Beth-le-hem-judah, and was there [†]four whole months. And her husband arose, and 3 went after her, to speak [†]friendly unto her.

 servant with him, and a couple of asses:
 and she brought him into her father's him three days: so they did eat and 5 drink, and lodged there. And it came to pass on the fourth day, when they arose early in the morning, that he rose up to depart: and the damsel's father said unto his son in law, [†]Comfort thine heart with a morsel of bread, and after-and did eat and drink both of them together: for the damsel's father had said unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarry all night, and let thine [†]heart 7 be merry. And when the man rose up to depart, his father in law [†]urged him:

 he arose early in the morning on the

 when the man rose up to depart, he, and his concubine, and his servant, his father in law, the damsel's father, said unto him, Behold now, the day [†]draweth towards evening, I pray you tarry all night: behold, [†]the day groweth to an end, lodge here, that thine heart may be merry; and to morrow get you early on your way, that thou mayest go [†]home.
 10 But the man would not tarry that night, but he rose up and departed, and came unto his servant, Come, and let us draw

And behold, there came an old man ¹⁶ from his work out of the field at even, which was also of ⁱmount Ephraim; and he sojourned in Gibeah: but the men of the place were ^jBenjamites. And when ¹⁷ he had lift up his eyes, he saw a way-faring man in the street of the city: and the old man said, Whither goest thou? and whence comest thou? And he said ¹⁸ unto him, We are passing from Beth-lehem-judah toward the side of mount Ephraim; from thence am I: and I went to Beth-lehem-judah, but I am now going to ^kthe house of the LORD; and there is no man that ^lreceiveth me to house. Yet ¹⁹there is both straw and provender for our asses; and there is bread and wine also for me, and for thy handmaid, and for the young man which is with thy servants: there is ^mno want of any thing. And the old man said, ²⁰Peace be with thee; howsoever let all thy wants ²¹lie upon me; only ^olodge not in the street. So he brought him into his house, and gave provender unto the asses: and ^pthey washed their feet, and did eat and drink. Now as they were ²²making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, certain ^qsons of Belial, beset the house round about, and beat at the door, and spake to the master of the house, the old man, saying, ²³Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may know him. And the man, the master of the house, went out unto them, and said unto them, ²⁴Nay, my brethren, nay, I pray you, do not so wickedly; seeing that this man is come into mine house, ²⁵do not this folly. Behold, here is my daughter ²⁶a maiden, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and ²⁷humble ye them, and do with them ²⁸what seemeth good unto you: but unto this man do not ²⁹so vile a thing. But the men would not hearken to him: so the man took his concubine, and brought her forth unto them; and they knew her, and ³⁰abused her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go. Then came the woman ³¹in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's house where her lord was, till it was light. And her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went out to go his way: and behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the house, and her hands were upon the ³²threshold. And he said unto her, Up, and let us be going. But ³³none answered. Then the man took her up upon an ass, and the man rose up, and gat him unto his place.

³⁴ And when he was come into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and ³⁵divided her, together with her bones, into twelve pieces, and sent her into all the coasts of Israel. ³⁶ And it was so, that all that saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Israel came up out of the land of Egypt unto this day: consider of it, ³⁷take advice, and speak your minds.

Then ³⁸all the children of Israel went out, and the congregation was gathered together as one man, from ³⁹Dan even to Beer-sheba, with the land of Gilead, unto the LORD in ⁴⁰Mizpeh. And the ⁴¹chief of all the people, even of all the tribes of Israel, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God, four hundred thousand footmen ⁴²that drew sword. (Now the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Mizpeh.) Then said the children of Israel, Tell us, how was this wickedness? And ⁴³the Levite, the husband of the woman that was slain, answered and said, I came into Gibeah that belongeth to Benjamin, I and my concubine, to lodge. ⁴⁴ And ⁴⁵the men of Gibeah rose against me, and beset the house round about upon me by night, and thought to have slain me: and my concubine have ⁴⁶they ⁴⁷forced, that she is dead. And ⁴⁸I took my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Israel: for they have committed lewdness and ⁴⁹folly in Israel. Behold, ye are all children of Israel; ⁵⁰give here your advice and counsel. And all the people arose as one man, saying, We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will we any of us turn into his house. But now this shall be the thing which we will do to Gibeah; ⁵¹we will go up by ⁵²lot against it; and we will take ten men of an hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundred of a thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to fetch victual for the people, that they may do, when they come to Gibeah of Benjamin, according with the edge of the sword. Now there³⁸ was an appointed¹ sign between the men of Israel¹ and the liers in wait, that they should make a great¹ flame with smoke rise up out of the city. [†]And when the men of Israel retired in³⁹ the battle, Benjamin began[†] to smite and kill of the men of Israel about thirty persons: for they said, Surely they are smitten down before us, as in the first battle. But when the⁸ flame⁴⁰ began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Benjamites^h looked behind them, and behold, [†]the flame of the city ascended up to heaven. And⁴¹ when the men of Israel turned again, the men of Benjamin were amazed: for they saw that evil[†] was come upon them. Therefore they turned their backs before⁴² the men of Israel unto [†]the way of the wilderness; but the battle overtook them; and them which came out of the cities they destroyed in the midst of them. Thus they^k inclosed the Benjamites⁴³ round about, and chased them, and trode them down¹ with ease [†]over against Gibeah toward the sunrising. And there⁴⁴ fell of Benjamin eighteen thousand men; all these were men of valour. And they⁴⁵ turned and fled toward [†]the wilderness unto the rock of [†]Rimmon: and they^m gleaned of them in the highways five thousand men; and pursued hard after them unto Gidom, and slew two thousand men of them. So that all which⁴⁶ fell that day of Benjamin wereⁿ twenty and five thousand men that drew the sword; all these were men of valour. ^oBut six hundred men turned and fled⁴⁷ to [†]the wilderness unto the rock Rimmon, and abode in the rock Rimmon four months. And the men of Israel⁴⁸ turned again upon the children of Benjamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword, as well the men of every city, as the beast, and all that [†]came to hand: also they set on fire all the cities that [†]they came to.

Now the men of Israel had sworn in^a Mizpeh, saying, There shall not any of us give his daughter unto Benjamin to wife. And the people came^b to the² house of God, and abode there till even before God, and lift up their voices, and wept sore; and said, O LORD God³ of Israel, why is this come to pass in Israel, that there should be to day one tribe lacking in Israel? And it came to⁴ pass on the morrow, that the people rose early, and ^cbuilt there an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings. And the children of Israel said,⁵ Who is there among all the tribes of Israel that came not up with the congregation unto the LORD? For they had made a great oath concerning him^d that came not up to the LORD to Mizpeh, saying, He shall surely be put to death. ⁶And the children of Israel repented them for Benjamin their brother, and said, There is one tribe cut off from Israel⁷ this day. How shall we do for wives for them that remain, seeing we have sworn by the LORD that we will not give them of our daughters to wives? And they⁸ said, What one is there of the tribes of Israel that came not up to Mizpeh to the LORD? And behold, there came none to the camp from ^eJabesh-gilead⁹ to the assembly. For the people were numbered, and behold, there were none of the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead there. ¹⁰And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the valiantest, and commanded them, saying, [†]Go and smite the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead with the edge of the sword, with the women and¹¹ the children. And this is the thing that ye shall do, ⁸Ye shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman that [†]hath¹² lien by man. And they found among the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead four hundred [†]young virgins, that had known no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the camp to¹³ Shiloh, which is in the land of Canaan. ¹³And the whole congregation sent some [†]to speak to the children of Benjamin [†]that were in the rock Rimmon, and to¹⁴ [†]call peaceably unto them. And Benjamin came again at that time; and they gave them wives which they had saved alive of the women of Jabesh-gilead: and yet so they¹⁵ sufficed them not. And the people^k repented them for Benjamin, because that the LORD had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

Then the elders of the congregation said, [†]How shall we do for wives for¹⁶ them that remain, seeing the women are¹⁷ destroyed out of Benjamin? And they said, There must be an inheritance for them that be escaped of Benjamin, that a tribe be not destroyed out of Israel. ¹⁸Howbeit we may not give them wives of our daughters: ^mfor the children of Israel have sworn, saying, Cursed be he

THE BOOK OF RUTH.

NOW it came to pass in the days when ^athe judges ¹ruled, that there was ^ba famine in the land. And a cert-ain man of ^cBeth-lehem-judah went to sojourn in the country of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons. And the name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the name of his two sons Mahlon and Chilion, ^dEphrathites of Beth-lehem-judah. And they came ^einto the country of Moab, and ^fcontinued there. And Elimelech Naomi's husband died; and she was left, and her two sons. And they took them wives of the women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten years. And Mahlon and Chilion died also both of them; and the woman was left of her two sons and her husband.

Then she arose with her daughters in law, that she might return from the country of Moab: for she had heard in the country of Moab how that the LORD had ^fvisited his people in ^ggiving them bread. Wherefore she went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in law with her; and they went on the way to return unto the land of Judah. And Naomi said unto her two daughters in law, Go, return each to her mother's house: the LORD ^hdeal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with ⁱthe dead, and with me. The LORD ^jgrant you that you may find ^krest, each of you in the house of her husband. Then she kissed them; and they lift up their voice, and wept. And they said unto her, Surely we will return with thee unto thy people. And Naomi said, Turn again, my daughters: why will you go with me? are there yet any moe sons in my womb, ¹that they may be your husbands? Turn again, my daughters, go your way; for I am too old to have a husband. If I should say, I have hope, ²*if* I should have a husband also to night, and should also bear sons; would ye ³tarry for them till they were grown? would ye stay for them from having husbands? nay, my daughters; for ⁴'it grieveth me much for your sakes that ^mthe hand of the LORD is gone out against me. And they lift up their voice, and wept again: and Orpah kissed her mother in law; but Ruth clave ⁵unto her. And she said, Behold, thy sister in law is gone back unto her people, and unto her gods: ⁿreturn thou after thy sister in law. And Ruth said, ⁶Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: ⁷thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God: where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: ⁸the LORD do so to me, and more also, if ought but death part thee and me. ⁹When she saw that she ¹⁰*was* stedfastly minded to go with her, then she left speaking unto her. So they two went until they came to Beth-lehem. And it came to pass, when they were come to Beth-lehem, that ¹¹all the city was moved about them, and they said, Is this Naomi? And she said unto them, Call me not ¹²Naomi, call me ¹³Mara: for ¹⁴the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me. I went out full, and the LORD hath brought me home again empty: why ¹⁵then call ye me Naomi, seeing the LORD hath testified against me, and the Almighty hath afflicted me? So Naomi returned, and Ruth the Moabitess, her daughter in law, with

And she took it up, and went into the city: and her mother in law saw what she had gleaned: and she brought forth, and gave to her ^pthat she had reserved after she was sufficed. ¹⁹And her mother in law said unto her, Where hast thou gleaned to day? and where wroughtest thou? blessed be he that did ^qtake knowledge of thee. And she shewed her mother in law with whom she had wrought, and said, The man's name with whom I wrought to ²⁰day is Boaz. have done eating and drinking. And ⁴ it shall be, when he lieth down, that thou shalt mark the place where he shall lie, and thou shalt go in, and ⁵ uncover his feet, and lay thee down; and he will tell thee what thou shalt do. And she said unto her, All that thou ⁶ sayest unto me I will do. And she went down ⁷ unto the floor, and did according to all that her mother in law bade her. And when Boaz had eaten ⁸ and drunk, and ⁹ his heart was merry, he went to lie down at the end of the heap ¹⁰ of corn: and ¹¹ she came softly, and uncovered his feet, and laid her down. And it came to pass at midnight, that ¹² the man was afraid, and ¹³ turned himself: and behold, a woman lay at his feet. And he said, Who ¹⁴ art thou? And she answered, I ¹⁵ am Ruth thine handmaid: ¹⁶ spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid; for thou ¹⁷ art ¹⁸ a near kinsman. And he said, ¹⁹ Blessed be thou of the LORD, my daughter: for thou hast shewed more kindness in the latter end than ²⁰ at the beginning, inasmuch as ²¹ thou followedst not young men, whether poor or rich. And now, my ²² daughter, fear not; I will do to thee all that thou requirest: for all the ²³ city of my people doth know that thou ²⁴ art ²⁵ a virtuous woman. And now it is true that I ²⁶ am thy ²⁷ near kinsman: howbeit ²⁸ there is a kinsman nearer than I. Tarry this night, and it shall be in the morning, ²⁹ that if he will ³⁰ perform unto thee the part of a kinsman, well; let him do the kinsman's part: but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to thee, then will I do the part of a kinsman to thee, ³¹ as the LORD liveth: lie down until the morning. And she ³² lay at his feet until the morning: and she rose up before one could know another. And he said, Let it not be known that a woman came ³³ into the floor. Also he ³⁴ said, Bring the ³⁵ vail that ³⁶ thou hast upon thee, and hold it. And when she held it, he measured six ³⁷ measures of barley, and laid ³⁸ it on her: and he went ³⁹ into the city. And when she came to her ⁴⁰ mother in law, she said, Who ⁴¹ art thou, my daughter? And she told her all that the man had done to her. And she ⁴² said, These six ⁴³ measures of barley gave me; for he said to me, Go not empty unto thy mother in law. Then said ⁴⁴ she, ⁴⁵ Sit still, my daughter, until thou know how the matter will fall: for the man will not be in rest, until he have finished the thing ⁴⁶ this day.

Then went Boaz up ⁴⁷ to ⁴⁸ the gate, and sat him down there: and behold, ⁴⁹ the kinsman of whom Boaz spake came by; unto whom he said, ⁵⁰ Ho, such a one, turn aside, sit down here. And he turned aside, and sat down. And he took ten men of ⁵¹ the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye down here. And they sat down. And he said unto the kinsman, Naomi, that is come again out of the country of Moab, selleth a parcel of land, which ⁵² was our brother Elimelech's: and ⁵³ I thought to advertise thee, saying, ⁵⁴ Buy ⁵⁵ it ⁵⁶ before the inhabitants, and before the elders of my people. If thou wilt redeem ⁵⁷ it, redeem ⁵⁸ it: but if thou wilt not redeem ⁵⁹ it, then tell me, that I may know: for ⁶⁰ there is none to redeem ⁶¹ it besides thee; and I ⁶² am after thee. And he said, I will redeem ⁶³ it. Then said Boaz, What day thou buyest the field of the hand of Naomi, thou must buy ⁶⁴ it also of Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of the dead, ⁶⁵ to raise up the name ⁶⁶ of the dead upon his inheritance. ⁶⁷ And the kinsman said, I cannot redeem ⁶⁸ it for myself, lest I mar mine own inheritance: redeem thou my right to thyself; ⁶⁹ for I cannot redeem ⁷⁰ it. ⁷¹ Now this ⁷² was the manner in former time in Israel concerning redeeming and concerning ⁷³ changing, for to confirm all things; a man plucked off his shoe, and gave ⁷⁴ it to his neighbour: and this ⁷⁵ was a testimony in Israel. Therefore the kinsman said unto Boaz, Buy ⁷⁶ it for thee. So he drew off his shoe. And Boaz said unto the elders, and ⁷⁷ unto all the people, Ye ⁷⁸ are witnesses ⁷⁹ this day, that I have bought all that ⁸⁰ was Elimelech's, and all that ⁸¹ was ⁸² Chilion's and Mahlon's, of ⁸³ the hand of Naomi. Moreover Ruth the Moabitess, ⁸⁴ the wife of Mahlon, have I purchased to be my wife, ⁸⁵ to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, that the name of the dead be not cut off from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye ⁸⁶ are witnesses ⁸⁷ this day. And all the people that ⁸⁸ were in the gate, and the elders, said, ⁸⁹ We ⁹⁰ are witnesses. The LORD make the woman that is come into thine house like Rachel and like Leah, which two did ⁹¹ build the house of Israel: and ⁹² do thou worthily in ⁹³ Ephrathah, and ⁹⁴ be famous in Beth-lehem: and let thy house be like the house of

I will give him unto the LORD all the days of his life, and ^{ba}there shall no ^{bb}razor come upon his head. And it came to pass, as she ^{bc}continued praying before the LORD, that Eli marked her mouth. Now Hannah, she spake in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: therefore Eli thought she had been drunken. And Eli said unto her, How long wilt thou be drunken? put away thy wine from thee. And Hannah answered and said, No, my lord, I am a woman ^{bd}of a sorrowful spirit: I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but have ^{be}poured out my soul before the LORD. Count not thine handmaid for a daughter of ^{bf}Belial: for out of the abundance of my ^{bg}complaint and grief have I spoken hitherto. Then Eli answered and said, ^{bh}Go in peace: and ^{bi}the God of Israel grant thee thy petition that thou hast asked of him. And she said, ^{bj}Let thine handmaid find grace in thy sight. So the woman ^{bk}went her way, and did eat, and her countenance was no more ^{bl}sad. And they rose up in the morning early, and worshipped before the LORD, and returned, and came to their house to ^{bm}Ramah: and Elkanah knew Hannah his wife; and ^{bn}the LORD remembered her. Wherefore it came to pass, ^{bo}when the time was come about after Hannah had conceived, that she ^{bp}bare a son, and called his name ^{bq}Samuel, ^{br}saying, Because I have asked him of the LORD.

him, that he may appear before the LORD, and there abide ^efor ever. And ²³ ^dElkanah her husband said unto her, Do what seemeth thee good; tarry until thou have weaned him; ^eonly the LORD establish his word. So the woman abode, and gave her son suck until she weaned him. And when she had weaned him, ²⁴ she ^ftook him up with her, with three bullocks, and one ephah of flour, and a bottle of wine, and brought him unto the house of the LORD in ^gShiloh: and the child was young. And they slew a ²⁵ bullock, and brought the child to Eli. And she said, O my lord, ^has thy soul ²⁶ liveth, my lord, I am the woman that stood by thee here, praying unto the LORD. For this child I prayed; and ²⁷ the LORD ⁱhath given me my petition which I asked of him: ^ktherefore also I ²⁸ have ^jlent him to the LORD; as long as he liveth ^lhe shall be lent to the LORD. And Hannah prayed, and said, ^aMy heart rejoiceth in the LORD, ^bMine horn is exalted in the LORD: My mouth is enlarged over mine enemies; Because I ^crejoice in thy salvation. ^dThere is none holy as the LORD: ² For there is ^enone beside thee: Neither is there any ^frock like our God. Talk no more so exceeding proudly; ³ ^gLet not ^harrogancy come out of your mouth: For the LORD is a God of knowledge, And by him actions are weighed. ^hThe bows of the mighty men are ⁴ broken, And they that stumbled are girt with strength. ⁱThey that were full have hired out ⁵ themselves for bread; And they that were hungry ceased: So that ^kthe barren hath born seven; And ^lshe that hath many children is waxed feeble. ^mThe LORD killeth, and maketh alive: ⁶ He bringeth down to the grave, and bringeth up. The LORD ⁿmaketh poor, and maketh ⁷ rich: ^oHe bringeth low, and lifteth up. ^pHe raiseth up the poor out of the dust, ⁸ And lifteth up the beggar from the dunghill, ^qTo set them among princes, And to make them inherit the throne of glory: For ^rthe pillars of the earth are the LORD's, And he hath set the world upon them. ⁹ ^sHe will keep the feet of his saints, And the wicked shall be silent in darkness; For by strength shall no man prevail. ¹⁰ The adversaries of the LORD shall be ^tbroken to pieces; ^uOut of heaven shall he thunder upon them: ^vThe LORD shall judge the ends of the earth; And he shall give strength unto his king, And ^xexalt the horn of his anointed. ^ySee ver. 1. ¹¹ And Elkanah went to ^yRamah to his house. ^zAnd the child did minister unto the LORD before Eli the priest. ¹² Now the sons of Eli were ^asons of Belial; ^bthey knew not the LORD. And the priests' custom with the people was, ^cthat when any man offered sacrifice, the priest's servant came, while the flesh was in seething, with a fleshhook of three ¹³ teeth in his hand; and he strooke it into the pan, or kettle, or caldron, or pot; ^call that the fleshhook brought up the priest took for himself. So they did in Shiloh unto all the Israelites that came ¹⁴ thither. Also before they ^dburnt the fat, the priest's servant came, and said to the man that sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest; for he will not have ¹⁵ sodden flesh of thee, but raw. And if any man said unto him, Let them not fail to burn the fat ^epresently, and then take as much as thy soul desireth; then he would answer him, Nay; but thou shalt give it me now: and if not, I will take it by force. Wherefore the sin of the young men was very great ^ebefore the LORD: for men ^fabhorred the offering of the LORD. ¹⁶ But ^gSamuel ministered before the LORD, being a child, ^hgirded with a linen ephod. Moreover his mother made him a little coat, and brought it to him ⁱfrom year to year, when she came up with her husband to offer the ¹⁷ yearly sacrifice. And Eli ^kblessed Elkanah and his wife, and said, The LORD give thee seed of this woman for the ¹⁸ ^jloan which is lent to the LORD. And ¹⁹ they went unto their own home. And ²⁰ ²¹ they went unto their own home. And

^sAnd there came a man of God unto ²Eli, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, ^tDid I plainly appear unto the house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaoh's house? And did I ²choose him out of all the tribes of Israel to be my priest, to offer upon mine altar, to burn incense, to ^wwear an ephod before me? and ^xdid I give unto the house of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Israel? Wherefore ^ykick ye at my sacrifice and at mine offering, which I have commanded ^{in my} habitation; and honour-est thy sons above me, to make yourselves fat with the chiefest of all the offerings of Israel my people? Where-³fore the LORD God of Israel saith, ^aI said indeed that thy house, and the house of thy father, should walk before me for ever: but now the LORD saith, ^bBe it far from me; for them that honour me ^cI will honour, and ^dthey that despise me shall be lightly esteemed. Be-³hold, ^ethe days come, that I will cut off thine arm, and the arm of thy father's house, that there shall not be an old man in thine house. And thou shalt ³see ¹an enemy ^{in my} habitation, in all the ¹wealth which God shall give Israel: and there shall not be ¹an old man in thine house for ever. And this ^{shall}

^{be} a sign unto thee, that shall come upon thy two sons, on Hophni and Phinehas; ^hin one day they shall die both of them. And ⁱI will raise me up a faithful priest, ^{that shall} do according to ^{that which is} in my heart and in my mind: and ^kI will build him a sure house; and he shall walk before ¹mine anointed for ever. And it shall come to pass, ^{that every one that is left in} thine house shall come and crouch to him for a piece of silver and ^ma morsel of bread, and shall say, ¹Put me, I pray thee, into ¹one of the priests' offices, that I may eat a piece of bread.

And ^athe child Samuel ministered unto the LORD before Eli. And ^bthe word of the LORD was precious in those ²days; ^{there was} no open vision. And it came to pass at that time, when Eli ^{was} laid down in his place, ^cand his eyes began ^{to wax} dim, ^{that he could} not see; and ere ^dthe lamp of God went out ^ein the temple of the LORD, where the ark of God ^{was}, and Samuel was ⁴laid down ^{to sleep}; that the LORD called Samuel: and he answered, Here ^{am} I. And he ran unto Eli, and said, Here ^{am} I; for thou calledst me. And he said, I called not; lie down again. And he ⁶went and lay down. And the LORD called yet again, Samuel. And Samuel arose and went to Eli, and said, Here ^{am} I; for thou didst call me. And he answered, I called not, my son; lie down ⁷again. ¹Now Samuel did not yet know the LORD, neither was the word of the LORD yet revealed unto him. And the LORD called Samuel again the third time. And he arose and went to Eli, and said, Here ^{am} I; for thou didst call me. And Eli perceived that the LORD ⁹had called the child. Therefore Eli said unto Samuel, Go, lie down: and it shall be, if he call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak. LORD: for thy servant heareth. So Samuel went and lay down ¹⁰in his place. And the LORD came, and stood, and called as at other times, Samuel, Samuel. Then Samuel answered, Speak; for thy servant heareth. And the LORD said to Samuel, Behold, I will do a thing in Israel, ¹at which both the ears of every one that heareth it shall ¹²tingle. In that day I will perform against Eli ¹all things which I have spoken concerning his house: ¹when I ¹³begin, I will also make an end. ¹For I have told him that I will ^hjudge his house for ever for the iniquity which he knoweth; because ¹his sons made themselves ¹vile, and he ¹restrained them not. And therefore I have sworn unto ¹⁴the house of Eli, that ¹the iniquity of Eli's house shall not be purged with sacrifice nor offering for ever. And ¹⁵Samuel lay until the morning, and opened the doors of the house of the LORD. And Samuel feared to shew Eli the vision. Then Eli called Samuel, and ¹⁶said, Samuel, my son. And he answered, Here am I. And he said, What is ¹⁷the thing that the LORD hath said unto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: God do so to thee, and ¹more also, if thou hide any ¹thing from me of all the things that he said unto thee. And Samuel ^ggrew, and ^othe LORD ¹⁹was with him, and ^pdid let none of his words fall to the ground. And all Is- ²⁰rael ^qfrom Dan even to Beer-sheba knew that Samuel was ¹established to be a prophet of the LORD. And the ²¹LORD appeared again in ^rShiloh: for the LORD revealed himself to Samuel in Shiloh ^sby the word of the LORD. And the word of Samuel ¹came to all Israel.

Now Israel went out against the Philistines to battle, and pitched beside ^aEben-ezer: and the Philistines pitched ²in ^bAphek. And the Philistines put ²*themselves* in array against Israel: and when ¹they joined battle, Israel was smitten before the Philistines: and they slew of ¹the army in the field about four thousand men. And when the people ³were come into the camp, the elders of Israel said, Wherefore hath the LORD smitten us to day before the Philistines? ^cLet us ¹fetch the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of ^dShiloh unto us, that when it cometh among us, it may save us out of the hand of our enemies. So the people sent ^{to} ^dShiloh, that they might bring from thence the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, ^ewhich dwelleth between the cherubims: and the two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, ⁴were there with the ark of the covenant of God. And when the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, all Israel ¹shouted with a great shout, so that the earth ^grang again.

6 And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, they said, What meaneth the noise of this great shout in the camp of the Hebrews? And they understood that the ark of the LORD ⁷was come into the camp. And the Philistines were afraid, for they said, God is come into the camp. And they ¹said, Woe unto us: for there hath not ⁸been such a thing ¹heretofore. Woe ¹unto us: who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty Gods? these ⁹are the Gods that smote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the wilderness. ⁹^h Be strong, and ¹quit yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not servants unto the Hebrews, ⁱas they have been to you: ¹quit yourselves like ¹⁰men, and fight. And the Philistines fought, and ^jIsrael was smitten, and ^kthey fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand foot- ¹¹men. And ¹the ark of God was taken; and ^mthe two sons of Eli, Hophni and Phinehas, ¹were slain.

12 And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the army, and came ^{to} ^dShiloh the same day ⁿwith his clothes rent, and ^o*with* earth upon his head. And when he came, lo, Eli sat ^pupon a seat ^{by} the wayside watching: for his heart trembled for the ark of God. And when the man came into the city, and ¹⁴told it, all the city cried out. And when Eli heard the noise of the crying, he said, What meaneth the noise of this tumult? And the man came in hastily, ¹⁵and told Eli. Now Eli was ninety and eight years old; and ^qhis eyes ¹were ¹⁶dim, that he could not see. And the man said unto Eli, I am he that came out of the army, and I fled to day out of the army. And he said, What ¹⁷is there done, my son? And the messenger answered and said, Israel is fled before the Philistines, and there hath been also a great slaughter among the people, and thy two sons also, Hophni and Phinehas, are dead, and the ark of ¹⁸God is taken. And it came to pass, when he made mention of the ark of God, that he fell from off the seat backward by the side of the gate, and his neck brake, and he died: for he was an old man, and heavy. ¹And he had judged Israel forty years.

vered: and when she heard the tidings that the ark of God was taken, and that her father in law and her husband were dead, she bowed herself and travailed; for her pains [†]came upon her. And [†]about the time of her death the [†]women that stood by her said unto her, [†]Fear not; for thou hast born a son. But she answered not, [†]neither did she regard it. And she named the child [†]Ichabod, [†]saying, The [†]glory is departed from Israel: because the ark of God was taken, and because of her father in law and her husband. And she said, The glory [†]is departed from Israel: for the ark of God is taken.

V. And the Philistines took the ark of God, and brought it from [†]Eben-ezer unto [†]Ashdod. When the Philistines took the ark of God, they brought it into the house of [†]Dagon, and set it by Dagon. And when they of Ashdod arose early on the morrow, behold, Dagon was [†]fallen upon his face to the earth before the ark of the LORD. And they took Dagon, and set him in his place again. And when they arose early on the morrow morning, behold, Dagon was fallen upon his face to the ground before the ark of the LORD; and [†]the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threshold; only [†]the stump of Dagon was left to him. Therefore neither the priests of Dagon, nor any that come into Dagon's house, tread on the [†]threshold of Dagon in Ashdod unto this day. But [†]the hand of the LORD was heavy upon them of Ashdod, and he [†]destroyed them, and smote them with [†]emerods, even Ashdod and the coasts thereof. And when the men of Ashdod saw that it was so, they said, The ark of the God of Israel shall not abide with us: for his hand is sore upon us, and upon Dagon our god. They sent therefore and gathered all the [†]lords of the Philistines unto them, and said, What shall we do with the ark of the God of Israel? And they answered, Let the ark of the God of Israel be carried about unto [†]Gath. And they carried the ark of the God of Israel about thither. And it was so, that after they had carried it about, [†]the hand of the LORD was against the city with a very great destruction: and he smote the men of the city, both small and great, and they had emerods in their secret parts. Therefore they sent the ark of God to [†]Ekron. And it came to pass, as the ark of God came to [†]Ekron, that the Ekronites cried out, saying, They have brought about the ark of the God of Israel to [†]us, to slay us and our people. So they sent and gathered together all the [†]lords of the Philistines, and said, Send away the ark of the God of Israel, and let it go again to his own place, that it slay [†]us not, and our people: for there was a deadly destruction throughout all the city; [†]the hand of God was very heavy there. And the men that died not were smitten with the emerods: and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

And the ark of the LORD was in the country of the Philistines seven months. VI. And the Philistines called for the priests and the [†]diviners, saying, What shall we do to the ark of the LORD? tell us where- with we shall send it to his place. And they said, If ye send away the ark of the God of Israel, send it not [†]empty; but in any wise return him [†]a trespass offering: then ye shall be healed, and it shall [†]be known to you why his hand is not removed from you. Then said they, What shall be the trespass offering which we shall return to him? They answered, Five golden emerods, and five golden [†]mice, according to the number of the lords of the Philistines: for one plague was on [†]you all, and on your lords. Wherefore ye shall make images of your emerods, and images of your mice that [†]mar the land; and ye shall [†]give glory unto the God of Israel: peradventure he will [†]lighten his hand from off you, and from off [†]your gods, and from off your land. Wherefore then do ye harden your hearts, [†]as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? when he had wrought [†]wonderfully among them, [†]did they not let [†]the people go, and they departed? Now therefore make [†]a new cart, and take two milch kine, [†]on which there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring their calves home from them: and take the ark of the LORD, and lay it upon the cart; and put [†]the jewels of gold, which ye return him for a trespass offering, in a coffer by the side thereof; and send it away, that it may go. And see, if it goeth up by the way of his own coast to [†]Beth-shemesh, then [†]he hath done us this great evil: but if not, then [†]we shall know that it is not his hand that smote us; it was a chance that happened to us.

And the men did so; and took two ¹⁰ milch kine, and tied them to the cart, and shut up their calves at home: and ¹¹ they laid the ark of the LORD upon the cart, and the coffer with the mice of gold and the images of their emerods. And the kine took the straight way to ¹² the way of ^pBeth-shemesh, and went along the ^rhighway, lowing as they went, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left; and the lords of the Philistines went after them unto the border of Beth-shemesh. And they of Beth-she-¹³ mesh were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley: and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark, and rejoiced to see it. And the cart came into the field ¹⁴ of Joshua, a Beth-shemite, and stood there, where there was a great stone: and they clave the wood of the cart, and offered the kine a burnt offering unto the LORD. And the ^sLevites took ¹⁵ down the ark of the LORD, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the jewels of gold were, and put them on the great stone: and the men of Beth-shemesh offered burnt offerings and sacrificed sacrifices the same day unto the LORD. And ¹⁶ when ^tthe five lords of the Philistines had seen it, they returned to ^uEkron the same day. And these are the golden ¹⁷ emerods which the Philistines returned for a trespass offering unto the LORD; for ^vAshdod one, for ^wGaza one, for ^xAskelon one, for ^yGath one, for ^uEkron one; and the golden mice, according to ¹⁸ the number of all the cities of the Philistines belonging to the five lords, both of fenced cities, and of ^zcountry villages, even unto the ^lgreat stone of ^aAbel, whereon they set down the ark of the LORD: which stone remaineth unto this day in the field of Joshua, the Beth-shemite.

And ^bhe smote the men of Beth-she-¹⁹ mesh, because they had looked into the ark of the LORD, even he smote of the people fifty thousand and threescore and ten men: and the people ^alamented, because the LORD had smitten many of the people with a great slaughter. And the ²⁰ men of Beth-shemesh said, ^cWho is able to stand before this ^dholy LORD God? and to whom shall he go up from us? And they sent messengers to the in-²¹ habitants of ^eKirjath-jearim, saying, ^fThe Philistines have brought again the ark of the LORD; come ye down, and fetch it up to you. And the men of ^aKirjath-jearim came, and fetched up the ark of the LORD, and brought it into the house of ^bAbinadab in the hill, and sanctified Eleazar his son to keep the ark of the LORD.

² And it came to pass, while the ark abode in Kirjath-jearim, that the time was long: for it was twenty years: and all the house of Israel lamented after ³ the LORD. And Samuel spake unto all the house of Israel, saying, If ye do ^ereturn unto the LORD with all your hearts, then ^dput away the strange gods and ^eAshtaroth from among you, and ^fprepare your hearts unto the LORD, and ^gserve him only: and he will deliver you ⁴ out of the hand of the Philistines. Then the children of Israel did put away ^eBaalim and Ashtaroth, and served the ⁵ LORD only. And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to ^hMizpeh, and ⁱI will pray ⁶ for you unto the LORD. And they gathered together to Mizpeh, ^kand drew water, and poured it out before the LORD, and ^lfasted on that day, and said there, ^mWe have sinned against the LORD. And Samuel judged the chil-⁷ dren of Israel in Mizpeh. And when the Philistines heard that the children of Israel were gathered together to Mizpeh, the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel. And when the children of Israel heard it, they were afraid of the ⁸ Philistines. And the children of Israel said to Samuel, ⁿCease not to cry unto the LORD our God for us, that he will save us out of the hand of the Philis-⁹ tines. And Samuel took a sucking lamb, and offered it for a burnt offering wholly unto the LORD: and ^oSamuel cried unto the LORD for Israel; and the LORD ¹⁰ heard him. And as Samuel was offering up the burnt offering, the Philistines drew near to battle against Israel: but the LORD ^pthundered with a great thunder on that day upon the Philistines, and ^qdiscomfited them; and they were ¹¹ smitten before Israel. And the men of Israel went out of Mizpeh, and pursued the Philistines, and smote them, until ¹² they came under Beth-car. Then Samuel took ^ra stone, and set it between Mizpeh and Shen, and called the name of it ^sEben-ezer, saying, ^tHitherto hath the LORD helped us. ¹³ So the Philistines were subdued, and ^uthey came no more into the coast of Israel: and ^vthe hand of the LORD was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel. And the cities which the Philistines had taken from Israel were restored to Israel, from ^aEkroneven unto ^yGath; and the coasts thereof did Israel deliver out of the hands of the Philistines. And there was peace between Israel and the ^zAmorites. And Samuel ^ajudged Israel all the days of his life. And he went from year to year ⁱin circuit to ^bBeth-el, and ^cGilgal, and ^dMizpeh, and judged Israel in all those places. And his return was to ^eRamah; ¹⁷for there was his house; and there he judged Israel; and there he ^fbuilt an altar unto the LORD.

VIII. And it came to pass, when Samuel was old, that he ^amade his ^bsons judges over Israel. Now the name of his first-born was ⁱJoel; and the name of his second, Abiah; they were judges in ^cBeer-sheba. And his sons walked not in his ways, but turned aside ^dafter lucre, and ^etook bribes, and perverted judgment. Then all the elders of Israel gathered themselves together, and came to Samuel unto ^fRamah, and said unto him, Behold, thou art old, and thy sons walk not in thy ways: now ^gmake us a king to judge us like all the nations. But the thing ^hdispleased Samuel, when they said, Give us a king to judge us. And Samuel prayed unto the LORD. And the LORD ⁷said unto Samuel, Hearken unto the voice of the people in all that they say unto thee: for ^hthey have not rejected thee, but ⁱthey have rejected me, that I should not reign over them. According to all the works which they have done since the day that I brought them up out of Egypt even unto this day, where-with they have forsaken me, and served other gods, so do they also unto thee. Now therefore ^jhearken unto their voice: ⁹howbeit yet protest solemnly unto them, and ^jshew them the manner of the king that shall reign over them.

And Samuel told all the words of the LORD unto the people that asked of him a king. And he said, ^kThis will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: ¹He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots. And he will appoint him captains over thousands, and captains over fifties; and will set them to ^mear his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and ¹³instruments of his chariots. And he will take your daughters to be ⁿconfectionaries, and to be cooks, and to be bakers. And ^ohe will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants. And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his ^tofficers, and to his servants. And he will take your menservants, and your maidservants, and your goodliest young men, and your asses, and put ¹⁷*them* to his work. He will take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants. And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the LORD ^pwill not hear you in that day.

¹⁹Nevertheless the people refused to obey the voice of Samuel; and they said, Nay, but we will have a king over us; ²⁰that we also may be ^qlike all the nations; and that our king may judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles. And Samuel heard all the words of the people, and he rehearsed them in ²²the ears of the LORD. And the LORD said to Samuel, ^rHearken unto their voice, and make them a king. And Samuel said unto the men of Israel, Go ye every man unto his city.

Now there was a man of Benjamin, whose name was ^aKish, the son of Abiel, the son of Zeror, the son of Bechorath, the son of Aphiah, ¹a Benjamite, a mighty man of ^bpower. And he had a son, whose name was Saul, ²a choice young man, and a goodly; and there was not among the children of Israel a goodlier person than he: ^cfrom his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people. And the asses of Kish Saul's father were lost. And Kish said to Saul his son, Take now one of the servants with thee, and arise, ⁴go seek the asses. And he passed through ^dmount Ephraim, and passed through the land of ^eShalisha, but they found them not: then they passed through the land of ^fShalim, and there they were not: and he passed through the land of the Benjamites, but they found them not. ⁵And when they were come to the land of ^gZuph, Saul said to his servant that was with him, Come, and let us return; lest my father leave caring for the asses, and ^htake thought for us. And he said unto him, Behold now, there is in this city ⁱa man of God, and he is an honourable man; ¹all that he saith cometh surely to pass: now let us go thither; peradventure he can shew us our way that we should go. Then said Saul to his servant, But behold, if we go, ^kwhat shall we bring the man? for the bread ⁷is spent in our vessels, and there is not a present to bring to ⁱthe man of God: what [†]have we? And the servant answered Saul again, and said, Behold, ⁸I have here at hand the fourth part of a shekel of silver: that will I give to the man of God, to tell us our way. (Be- ⁹foretime in Israel, when a man [†]went to inquire of God, thus he spake, Come, and let us go to the seer: for he that is now called a Prophet was beforetime called ^{ma}a Seer.) Then said Saul to his ¹⁰servant, [†]Well said; come, let us go. So they went unto the city where the man of God was. And as they went up [†]the hill to the city, they found ⁿyoung maidens going out to draw water, and said unto them, Is the seer here? And they ¹²answered them, and said, He is; behold, he is before you: make haste now, for he came to day to the city; for there is a [†]sacrifice of the people to day in ^othe high place: as soon as ye be come ^{into} ¹³the city, ye shall straightway find him, before he go up to ^othe high place to eat: for the people will not eat until he come, because he doth bless the sacrifice; and afterwards they eat that be bidden. Now therefore get you up; for about [†]this time ye shall find him. And ¹⁴they went up ^{into} the city: and when they were come into the city, behold, Samuel came out against them, for to go up to the high place.

^pNow the LORD had [†]told Samuel in ¹⁵his ear a day before Saul came, saying, To morrow about this time I will send ¹⁶thee a man out of the land of Benjamin, and ^qthou shalt anoint him to be captain over my people Israel, that he may save my people out of the hand of the Philistines: for I have [†]looked upon my people, because their cry is come unto me. And when Samuel saw Saul, the ¹⁷LORD ^ssaid unto him, [†]Behold the man whom I spake to thee of: this same shall [†]reign over my people. Then Saul drew ¹⁸near to Samuel in the gate, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, where the seer's house is. And Samuel answered Saul, ¹⁹and said, I am the seer: go up before me ^{unto} the high place; for ye shall eat with me to day, and to morrow I will let thee go, and will tell thee all that is in ²⁰thine heart. And as for ^uthine asses that were lost [†]three days ago, set not thy mind on them; for they are found. And on whom is all the desire of Israel? Is it not on thee, and on all thy father's ²¹house? And Saul answered and [†]said, Am not I a Benjamite, of the ^wsmallest of the tribes of Israel? and ^xmy family the least of all the families of the tribe of Benjamin? wherefore then speakest ²²thou [†]so to me? And Samuel took Saul and his servant, and brought them into the ^yparlour, and made them sit in the chiefest place among them that were bidden, which were about thirty persons. ²³And Samuel said unto the cook, Bring the portion which I gave thee, of which ²⁴I said unto thee, Set it by thee. And the cook took up ^zthe shoulder, and that which was upon it, and set it before Saul. And Samuel said, Behold that which is [†]left; set it before thee, and eat: for unto this time hath it been kept for thee since I said, I have invited the people. So Saul did eat with Samuel that day.

²⁵And when they were come down from the high place ^{into} the city, Samuel communed with Saul upon ^athe top of the ²⁶house. And they arose early: and it came to pass about the spring of the day, that Samuel called Saul to the top of the house, saying, Up, that I may send thee away. And Saul arose, and they went out both of them, he and Samuel, abroad. And as they were going down to the end of the city, Samuel said to Saul, Bid the servant pass on before us, (and he passed on,) but stand thou still ^aa while, that I may shew thee the word of God. Then ^aSamuel took a vial of oil, and poured it upon his head, ^band kissed him, and said, Is it not because the LORD hath anointed thee to be captain over ^chis inheritance? ²When thou art departed from me to day, then thou shalt find two men by ^dRachel's sepulchre in the border of Benjamin at Zelzah; and they will say unto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seek are found: and lo, thy father hath left [†]the care of the asses, and ^esoroweth for you, saying, What shall I do ³for my son? Then shalt thou go on forward from thence, and thou shalt come to the ^fplain of Tabor, and there shall meet thee three men going up to God ^{to} ^gBeth-el, one carrying three kids, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine: and they will ¹salute thee, and give thee two loaves of bread; which thou shalt receive of their hands. After that thou shalt come to ²the hill of God, where is the ³garrison of the Philistines: and it shall come to pass, when thou art come thither to the city, that thou shalt meet a company of prophets coming down ⁴from the high place with a psaltery, and a ⁵tabret, and a pipe, and a ⁶harp, before them; and they shall prophesy: and ⁷the spirit of the LORD will come upon thee, and ⁸thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man. ⁹And let it be, when these ¹⁰signs are come unto thee, ¹¹that thou do as occasion serve thee; for ¹²God is with thee. And thou shalt go down before ¹³me ¹⁴to Gilgal; and behold, I will come down unto thee, to offer burnt offerings, and to sacrifice sacrifices of peace offerings: ¹⁵seven days shalt thou tarry, till I come to thee, and shew thee what thou shalt do.

And it was so, that when he had turned his ¹back to go from Samuel, God ²gave him another heart: and all those signs came to pass that day. And ³when they came thither to the hill, behold, ⁴a company of prophets met him; and ⁵the spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied among them. And ⁶it came to pass, when all that knew him beforetime saw that behold, he prophesied among the prophets, then the people said ⁷'one to another, What is this ⁸that is come unto the son of Kish? ⁹'Is Saul also among the prophets? And ¹⁰one ¹¹of the same place answered and said, But ¹²'who is their father? Therefore it became a proverb, ¹³'Is Saul also among the prophets? And when he ¹⁴had made an end of prophesying, he came ¹⁵to the high place. And ¹⁶'Saul's ¹⁷uncle said unto him and ¹⁸to his servant, Whither went ye? And he said, To seek the asses: and when we saw that ¹⁹they were no where, we came to Samuel. And Saul's uncle said, Tell me, I pray thee, what Samuel said unto you. And Saul said unto his uncle, He told us plainly that ²⁰the asses were found. But of the matter of the kingdom, whereof Samuel spake, he told him not.

And Samuel called the people together ¹unto the LORD ²to ³Mizpeh; and ⁴said unto the children of Israel, ⁵Thus

saith the LORD God of Israel, I brought up Israel out of Egypt, and delivered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all kingdoms, and of them that oppressed you: ¹and ye have this day rejected your God, who himself saved you out of all your adversities and your tribulations; and ye have said unto him, Nay, but set a king over us. Now therefore ²present yourselves before the LORD by your tribes, and by your thousands. And when Samuel had ³caused all the tribes of Israel to come near, the tribe of Benjamin was taken. ⁴When he had caused the tribe of Benjamin to come near by their families, the family of Matri was taken, and Saul the son of Kish was taken: and when they sought him, he could not be found. ⁵Therefore they ⁶inquired of the LORD further, if the man should yet come thither. And the LORD answered, Behold, he ⁷hath hid himself among the stuff. And they ran and fetched him thence: and when he stood among the people, ⁸he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders and upward. And Samuel said to all the people, See ye him ⁹whom the LORD hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted, and said, ¹⁰'God save the king. Then Samuel told the people ¹¹the manner of the kingdom, and wrote ¹²it in a book, and laid ¹³it up before the LORD. And Samuel sent all the people away, every man to his house. And Saul also went home to ¹⁴Gibeah; and there went with him a band of men, ¹⁵whose hearts God had touched. ¹⁶But the ¹⁷children of Belial said, How shall this man save us? And they despised him, and brought him no ¹⁸presents. But ¹⁹he held his peace.

Then Nahash the ¹Ammonite came up, and encamped against ²Jabesh-gilead: and all the men of Jabesh said unto Nahash, ³'Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee. And Nahash the Ammonite answered them, On ⁴this condition will I make ⁵a ⁶covenant with you, that ⁷I may ⁸thrust out all your right eyes, and lay it ⁹for ¹⁰a reproach upon all Israel. And the elders of Jabesh said unto him, ¹¹'Give us seven days' respite, that we may send messengers unto all the coasts of Israel: and then, if ¹²there be no man to save us, we will come out to thee. Then came the messengers ^{to} Gibeah of Saul, and told the tidings in the ears of the people: and ^{all} the people lift up their voices, and wept. And behold, Saul came after the herd out of the field; and Saul said, What aileth the people that they weep? And they told him the tidings of the men of Jabesh. And ^{the} spirit of God came upon Saul when he heard those tidings, and his anger was kindled greatly. And he took a yoke of oxen, and ^{hewed} them in pieces, and sent ^{them} throughout all the coasts of Israel by the hands of messengers, saying, ^{Whosoever} cometh not forth after Saul and after Samuel, so shall it be done unto his oxen. And the fear of the LORD fell on the people, and they came out ^{with} one consent. And when he numbered them ⁱⁿ Bezek, ^{the} children of Israel were three hundred thousand, and the men of Judah thirty thousand. And they said unto the messengers that came, Thus shall ye say unto the men of Jabesh-gilead, To morrow, by ^{that} time the sun be hot, ye shall have ^{help}. And the messengers came and shewed ^{it} to the men of Jabesh; and they were glad. Therefore the men of Jabesh said, To morrow ^{we} will come out unto you, and ye shall do with us all that seemeth good unto you. And it was ^{so} on the morrow, that ^{Saul} put the people ⁱⁿ three companies; and they came into the midst of the host in ^{the} morning watch, and slew the Ammonites until the heat of the day: and it came to pass, that they which remained were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

And the people said unto Samuel, ^{Who} ^{is} he that said, Shall Saul reign over us? ^{bring} the men, that we may put them to death. And Saul said, ^{There} shall not a man be put to death this day: for to day ^{the} LORD hath wrought salvation in Israel. Then said Samuel to the people, Come, and let us go ^{to} Gilgal, and renew the kingdom there. And all the people went ^{to} Gilgal; and there they made Saul king ^{before} the LORD in Gilgal; and ^{there} they sacrificed sacrifices of peace offerings before the LORD; and there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced greatly.

XII. And Samuel said unto all Israel, Behold, I have hearkened unto ^{your} voice in all that ye said unto me, and ^{have} made a king over you. And now behold, the king ^{walketh} before you: ^{and} I am old and grayheaded; and behold, my sons ^{are} with you: and I have walked before you from my childhood unto this day. Behold, here I ^{am}: ^{witness} against me before the LORD, and before ^{this} anointed: ^{whose} ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I ^{defrauded}? whom have I ^{oppressed}? or of whose hand have I received ^{any} ^{bribe}? ^I ^{will} ^{blind} mine eyes therewith? and I will ^{restore} ^{it} you. And they said, Thou hast not ^{defrauded} us, nor ^{oppressed} us, neither hast thou taken ought of any man's hand. And he said unto them, The LORD ^{is} witness against you, and ^{this} anointed ^{is} witness this day, that ye have not found ought ⁱⁿ my hand. And they answered, ^{He} ^{is} witness. And Samuel said unto the people, ^{It} ^{is} the LORD that ^{advanced} Moses and Aaron, and that brought your fathers up out of the land of Egypt. Now therefore stand still, that I may ^{reason} with you before the LORD of all the ^{righteous} acts of the LORD, which he did ^{to} you and ^{to} your fathers. ^{When} Jacob was come ^{into} Egypt, and your fathers ^{cried} unto the LORD, then the LORD ^{sent} Moses and Aaron, which brought forth your fathers out of Egypt, and made them dwell in this place. And when they ^{forgot} the LORD their God, ^{he} sold them into the hand of Sisera, captain of the host of Hazor, and into the hand of ^{the} Philistines, and into the hand of the king ^{of} Moab, and they fought against them. And they ^{cried} unto the LORD, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken the LORD, ^{and} have served Baalim and Ashtaroth: but now ^{deliver} us out of the hand of our enemies, and we ^{will} serve thee. And the LORD sent ^{Jerubbaal}, and ^{Bedan}, and ^{Jephthah}, and ^{Samuel}, and delivered you out of the hand of your enemies on every side, and ye dwelled safe. And when ye saw that ^{Nahash} the king of the children of Ammon came against you, ^{eye} said unto me, Nay; but a king shall reign over us: when ^{the} LORD your God ^{was} your king. Now therefore ^{behold} the king ^{whom} ye have chosen, ^{and} whom ye have desired: and behold, ^{the} LORD hath set a king over you. If ye will ^{fear} the LORD, and serve him, and obey his voice, and not rebel against the [†]commandment of the LORD, then shall both ye and also the king that reigneth over you [†]continue following the LORD your God: but if ye ¹⁵will [†]not obey the voice of the LORD, but rebel against the commandment of the LORD, then shall [†]the hand of the LORD be against you, ^kas it was against your fathers. Now therefore [†]stand and ¹⁶see this great thing, which the LORD will do before your eyes. Is it not ¹⁷^mwheat harvest to day? ⁿI will call unto the LORD, and he shall send thunder and rain; that ye may perceive and see that ^oyour wickedness is great, which ye have done in the sight of the LORD, in asking you a king.

So Samuel called unto the LORD; and ¹⁸the LORD sent thunder and rain that day: and [†]all the people greatly feared the LORD and Samuel. And all the ¹⁹people said unto Samuel, [†]Pray for thy servants unto the LORD thy God, that we die not: for we have added unto all our sins this evil, to ask us a king. And ²⁰Samuel said unto the people, Fear [†]not: ye have done all this wickedness: yet turn not aside from following the LORD, but serve the LORD with all your heart; and [†]turn ye not aside: for then should ²¹*ye go* after vain things, which cannot [†]profit nor deliver; for they are vain. For [†]the LORD will not forsake his peo- ²²ple for [†]his great name's sake: because [†]it hath pleased the LORD to make you his people. Moreover as for me, God ²³forbid that I should sin against the LORD [†]in ceasing [†]to pray for you: but ²⁴^zI will teach you the [†]good and the right way: ^bonly fear the LORD, and ²⁴serve him in truth with all your heart: for ^cconsider [†]how ^dgreat things he hath done for you. But if ye shall still do wickedly, ^dye shall be consumed, ^eboth ye and your king.

Saul [†]reigned one year; and when he had reigned two years over Israel, Saul ²chose him three thousand men of Israel; whereof two thousand were with Saul in ^aMichmash and in mount Beth-el, and a thousand were with Jonathan in ^bGibeah of Benjamin: and the rest of the people he sent every man to his tent. And Jonathan smote the ^cgarrison of the Philistines that was in [†]Geba, and the Philistines heard of it. And Saul ^dblew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, Let the Hebrews hear. And all Israel heard say that Saul had ⁴ smitten a ^cgarrison of the Philistines, and that Israel also [†]was had in abomination with the Philistines. And the people ^ewere called together after Saul ⁵to Gilgal. And the Philistines gathered themselves together to fight with Israel, thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and people ^fas the sand which is on the sea shore in multitude: and they came up, and pitched in Mich- ⁶mash, eastward from ^gBeth-aven. When the men of Israel saw that they were in a strait, (for the people ^hwere distressed,) then the people did hide themselves in ⁱcaves, and in thickets, and in rocks, ⁷and in ^jhigh places, and in pits. And some of the Hebrews went over Jordan to the land of Gad and Gilead. As for Saul, he was yet in Gilgal, and all the people [†]followed him trembling.

⁸ And ^khe tarried seven days, according to the set time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal; and the people were scattered from him. ⁹ And Saul said, Bring hither a burnt offering to me, and peace offerings. ¹⁰ And he offered the burnt offering. And it came to pass, that as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, behold, Samuel came; and Saul went out to meet him, that he might ¹¹salute him. And Samuel said, What hast thou done? And Saul said, Because I saw that the people were scattered from me, and that thou camest not within the days appointed, and that the Philistines gathered themselves together ¹²at Michmash; therefore said I, The Philistines will come down now upon me to Gilgal, and I have not [†]made supplication unto the LORD: I [†]forced myself therefore, and offered a burnt offering. And Samuel said to Saul, ^mThou hast done foolishly: ⁿthou hast not kept the commandment of the LORD thy God, which he commanded thee: for now would the LORD have established thy ¹⁴kingdom upon Israel for ever. ^oBut now thy kingdom shall not continue: ^pthe LORD hath sought him a man after his own heart, and the LORD hath commanded him to be captain over his people, because thou hast not kept that which the LORD commanded thee.

And between ^hthe passages, 4 ^hy which Jonathan sought to go over unto the Philistines' garrison, there was a sharp rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side: and the name of the one was Bozez, and the name of the other Seneh. The ⁱfore- 5 front of the one was ⁱsituate northward over against Michmash, and the other southward over against ^jGibeah. And 6 Jonathan said to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over unto the garrison of these ^kuncir-

cumcised: it may be that the LORD will work for us: for there is no restraint to the LORD ^lto save by many or by few. 7 And his armourbearer said unto him, Do all that is in thine heart: turn thee; behold, I am with thee according to thy 8 heart. Then said Jonathan, Behold, we will pass over unto these men, and we 9 will discover ourselves unto them. If they say thus unto us, [†]Tarry until we come to you; then we will stand still in our place, and will not go up unto them. 10 But if they say thus, Come up unto us; then we will go up: for ^mthe LORD hath delivered them into our hand: and ⁿthis 11 shall be a sign unto us. And both of them discovered themselves unto the garrison of the Philistines: and the Philistines said, Behold, the Hebrews ^ocome forth out of the holes where they had 12 hid themselves. And the men of the garrison answered Jonathan and his armourbearer, and said, Come up to us, and we will shew you a thing. And Jonathan said unto his armourbearer, Come up after me: for the LORD hath delivered them into the hand of Israel. 13 And Jonathan climbed up upon his hands and upon his feet, and his armourbearer after him: and they fell before Jonathan; and his armourbearer slew 14 after him. And that first slaughter, which Jonathan and his armourbearer made, was about twenty men, within as it were [†]a half acre of land, which a 15 yoke of oxen might plow. And there was trembling in the host, in the field, and among all the people: the garrison, and ^pthe spoilers, they also trembled, and the earth quaked: so it was [†]a very great trembling.
16 And the watchmen of Saul in ^qGibeah of Benjamin looked; and behold, the multitude ^rmelted away, and they went 17 on ^sbeating down one another. Then said Saul unto the people that were with him, Number now, and see who is gone from us. And when they had numbered, behold Jonathan and his armour- 18 bearer were not there. And Saul said unto Ahiah, Bring hither the ark of God. For the ark of God was at that time 19 with the children of Israel. And it came to pass, while ^tSaul talked unto the priest, that the [†]noise that was in the host of the Philistines went on and increased: and Saul said unto the priest, 20 Withdraw thine hand. sembled themselves, and they came to the battle: and behold, ^uevery man's sword was against his fellow, and there was a very great ^vdiscomfiture. More-²¹ over ^wthe Hebrews that were with the Philistines before that time, which went up with them into the camp from the country round about, even they also turned to be with the Israelites that were with Saul and Jonathan. Likewise ²²all the men of Israel which ^xhad hid themselves in ^ymount Ephraim, when they heard that the Philistines fled, even they also followed hard after them in the battle. ²³So the LORD saved Israel that day: and the battle passed over ^aunto Beth-aven.

And the men of Israel ^bwere distressed that day: for Saul had ^cadjured the people, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth any food until evening, that I may be avenged on mine enemies. So none of the people tasted any food. And ^dall they of the land came to a ²⁵wood; and there was ^ehoney upon the ground. And when the people were ²⁶come into the wood, behold ^ethe honey dropped; but no man put his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the oath. But Jonathan heard not when ²⁷his father charged the people with the oath: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hand, and dipt it in a ^fhoneycomb, and put his hand to his mouth; and his eyes were enlightened. Then ²⁸answered one of the people, and said, Thy father straitly charged the people with an oath, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth any food this day. And the people were ²⁹faint. Then said Jonathan, My father hath troubled the land: see, I pray you, how mine eyes have been enlightened, because I tasted a little of this honey. How much ³⁰more, if haply the people had eaten freely to day of the spoil of their enemies which they found? for had there not been now a much greater slaughter among the Philistines? And they smote ³¹the Philistines that day from ^hMichmash to ⁱAijalon: and the people were very faint. And the people ³²flew upon the spoil, and took sheep, and oxen, and calves, and slew them on the ground: and the people did eat them ^kwith the blood. Then they told Saul, saying, ³³Behold, the people sin against the LORD, in that they eat with the blood. And he said, Ye have ^ltransgressed: roll a

³⁶ And Saul said, Let us go down after the Philistines by night, and spoil them until the morning light, and let us not leave a man of them. And they said, Do whatsoever seemeth good unto thee. Then said the ⁿpriest, Let us draw near hither unto God. And Saul asked ³⁷counsel of God, Shall I go down after the Philistines? wilt thou deliver them into the hand of Israel? But ^ohe answered him not that day. And Saul said, ³⁸Draw ye near hither, all the ¹chief of the people: and know and see wherein this sin hath been this day. For, ^qas the LORD liveth, which saveth Israel, though it be in Jonathan my son, he shall surely die. But there was not a man among all the ⁴⁰people that answered him. Then said he unto all Israel, Be ye on one side, and I and Jonathan my son will be on the other side. And the people said unto Saul, Do what seemeth good unto ⁴¹thee. Therefore Saul said unto the LORD God of Israel, ¹Give a perfect ^rlot. And ^sSaul and Jonathan were taken: but the people ¹escaped. And Saul said, Cast lots between me and Jonathan my son. And Jonathan was ⁴³taken. Then Saul said to Jonathan, ^tTell me what thou hast done. And Jonathan told him, and said, ^uI did but taste a little honey with the end of the rod that was in mine hand, and lo, I ⁴⁴must die. And Saul answered, ^wGod do so and more also: ^xfor thou shalt surely die, Jonathan. And the people said unto Saul, Shall Jonathan die, who hath wrought this great salvation in Israel? God forbid: ^qas the LORD liveth, ^ythere shall not one hair of his head fall to the ground; for he hath wrought with God this day. So the people rescued Jonathan, that he died not. ⁴⁶Then Saul went up from following the Philistines: and the Philistines went to their own place.

and fought against all his enemies on every side, against Moab, and against the children of ^aAmmon, and against Edom, and against the kings of ^aZobah, and against the Philistines: and whithersoever he turned himself, he vexed them. And he ¹gathered a host, and smote ⁴⁸ ^bthe Amalekites, and delivered Israel out of the hands of them that spoiled them. Now ^cthe sons of Saul were ⁴⁹ Jonathan, and Ishui, and Melchishua: and the names of his two daughters were these; the name of the firstborn ^dMerab, and the name of the younger ^eMichal: and the name of Saul's wife ⁵⁰ was Ahinoam, the daughter of Ahimaaz: and the name of the captain of his host was ^fAbner, the son of Ner, ^gSaul's uncle. And ^hKish was the father of ⁵¹ Saul; and Ner the father of Abner was the son of ^hAbiel. And there was sore ⁵² war against the Philistines all the days of Saul: and when Saul saw any strong man, or any valiant man, ⁱhe took him unto him.

Samuel also said unto Saul, ^aThe LORD sent me to anoint thee to be king over his people, over Israel: now therefore hearken thou unto the voice of the words of the LORD. Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I remember that which Amalek did to Israel, ^bhow he ^claid wait for him in the way, when he came up from Egypt. Now go and smite ³ Amalek, and ^dutterly destroy all that they have, and spare them not; but slay ^eboth man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and ass. And Saul ^fgathered the people together, ⁴and numbered them in ^gTelaïm, two hundred thousand footmen, and ten thousand men of Judah. And Saul ⁵came to a city of Amalek, and ^hlaid wait in the valley. And Saul said unto ⁶ ^bthe Kenites, Go, depart, get you down from among the Amalekites, lest I destroy you with them: for ⁱye shewed kindness to all the children of Israel, when they came up out of Egypt. So the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites. And ^jSaul smote the Amalekites from ^kHavilah until thou comest to ^lShur, that is over against Egypt. And he took Agag the king of the Amalekites alive, and utterly destroyed ^mall the people with the edge of the sword. But Saul and the people ⁿspared Agag, and the best of the sheep, and of the oxen, and ^oof the fatlings, and the lambs, and all that was good, and would not utterly destroy them: but every thing that was vile and refuse, that they destroyed utterly.

¹⁰ Then came the word of the LORD ¹¹ unto Samuel, saying, ^oIt repenteth me that I have set up Saul to be king: for he is ^pturned back from following me, ^qand hath not performed my commandments. And it grieved Samuel; and he ¹²cried unto the LORD all night. And when Samuel rose early to meet Saul in the morning, it was told Samuel, saying, Saul came to ^rCarmel, and behold, he set him up a place, and is gone about, and passed on, and gone down to Gilgal. ¹³ And Samuel came to Saul: and Saul said unto him, ^sBlessed be thou of the LORD: I have performed the commandment of the LORD. And Samuel said, What meaneth then this bleating of the sheep in mine ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear? And Saul said, They have brought them from the Amalekites: ^tfor the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen, to sacrifice unto the LORD thy God; and the rest ¹⁶we have utterly destroyed. Then Samuel said unto Saul, Stay, and I will tell thee what the LORD hath said to me this night. And he said unto him, Say ¹⁷on. And Samuel said, ^uWhen thou wast little in thine own sight, wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Israel, and the LORD anointed thee king ¹⁸over Israel? And the LORD sent thee on a journey, and said, Go and utterly destroy the sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them until ^vthey be consumed. Wherefore then didst thou not obey the voice of the LORD, but didst ^wfly upon the spoil, and didst evil in the sight of the LORD? And Saul said unto Samuel, Yea, ^xI have obeyed the voice of the LORD, and have gone the way which the LORD sent me, and have brought Agag the king of Amalek, and have utterly destroyed the Amalekites. ²¹ ^yBut the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of ^zthe things which should have been utterly destroyed, to sacrifice unto the LORD thy God in Gilgal. And Samuel said, that he shall ^cplay with his hand, and thou shalt be well. And Saul said unto ¹⁷ his servants, Provide me now a man that can play well, and bring ^{him} to me. Then answered one of the servants, and ¹⁸ said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jesse the Beth-lehemite, that is cunning in playing, and ^da mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in ^ematters, and a comely person, and ^ethe LORD is with him. Wherefore Saul sent messen- ¹⁹ gers unto Jesse, and said, Send me David thy son, ^fwhich is with the sheep. And Jesse ^gtook an ass laden with bread, ²⁰ and a bottle of wine, and a kid, and sent them by David his son unto Saul. And David came to Saul, and ^hstood ²¹ before him: and he loved him greatly; and he became his armourbearer. And ²² Saul sent to Jesse, saying, Let David, I pray thee, stand before me; for he hath found favour in my sight. And it came ²³ to pass, when ⁱthe evil spirit from God was upon Saul, that David took a harp, and played with his hand: so Saul was ^krefreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him.

Now the Philistines ^agathered together their armies to battle, and were gathered together ^{at} ^bShochoh, which belongeth to Judah, and pitched between Shochoh and ^cAzekah, in ^dEphes-dammim. And Saul and the men of Israel were gathered together, and pitched by ^dthe valley of Elah, and ^eset the battle in array against the Philistines. And the Philis- ³ tines stood on a mountain on the one side, and Israel stood on a mountain on the other side: and there was a valley between them. And there went out a ⁴ champion out of the camp of the Philistines, named ^eGoliath, of ^fGath, whose height was six cubits and a span. And ⁵ he had a helmet of brass upon his head, and he was ^harmed with a coat of mail; and the weight of the coat was five thousand shekels of brass. And he had greaves ⁶ of brass upon his legs, and a ^htarget of brass between his shoulders. And the ⁷ staff of his spear was like a weaver's beam; and his spear's head weighed six hundred shekels of iron: and one bearing a shield went before him. And he ⁸ stood and cried unto the armies of Israel, and said unto them, Why are ye come out to set your battle in array? am not I a Philistine, and you ^gservants to Saul? choose you a man for you, and let him come down to me. If he be able ⁹

to fight with me, and to kill me, then will we be your servants: but if I prevail against him, and kill him, then shall ¹⁰ ye be our servants, and ^hserve us. And the Philistine said, I ⁱdefy the armies of Israel this day; give me a man, that we ¹¹ may fight together. When Saul and all Israel heard those words of the Philistine, they were dismayed, and greatly afraid.

¹² Now David was ^jthe son of that ^kEphrathite of Beth-lehem-judah, whose name was Jesse; and he had ^leight sons: and the man went among men ^{for} an old man in the days of Saul. And the three eldest sons of Jesse went and followed Saul to the battle: and the ^mnames of his three sons that went to the battle were Eliab the firstborn, and next unto him Abinadab, and the third ¹⁴ Shammah. And David was the youngest: and the three eldest followed Saul. ¹⁵ But David went and returned from Saul ⁿto feed his father's sheep at Beth-lehem.

¹⁶ And the Philistine drew near morning and evening, and presented himself forty ¹⁷ days. And Jesse said unto David his son, Take now for thy brethren an ephah of this parched corn, and these ten loaves, and run to the camp to thy brethren; ¹⁸ and ^ocarry these ten ^tcheeses unto the ^hcaptain of their thousand, and look ^phow thy brethren fare, and take their ¹⁹ pledge. Now Saul, and they, and all the men of Israel, were in the valley of ²⁰ Elah, fighting with the Philistines. And David rose up early in the morning, and left the sheep with a keeper, and took, and went, as Jesse had commanded him; and he came to the ^htrench, as the host was going forth to the ^hfight, and shouted ²¹ for the battle. For Israel and the Philistines had put the battle in array, army ²² against army. And David left ^hhis carriage in the hand of the keeper of the carriage, and ran into the army, and ²³ came and ^tsaluted his brethren. And as he talked with them, behold, there came up ^qthe champion, the Philistine of Gath, Goliath by name, out of the armies of the Philistines, and spake ^raccording to the same words: and David heard them.

²⁴ And all the men of Israel, when they saw the man, fled ^tfrom him, and were ²⁵ sore afraid. And the men of Israel said, Have ye seen this man that is come up? surely to defy Israel is he come up: and it shall be, that the man who killeth him, the king will enrich him with great riches, and ^swill give him his daughter, and make his father's house free in Israel. And David spake to the men that stood by him, saying, What shall be done to the man that killeth this Philistine, and taketh away ^tthe reproach from Israel? for who is this ^uuncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of ^xthe living God? And the people answered him after this manner, saying, ^ySo shall it be done to the man that killeth him. And Eliab his eldest brother heard when he spake unto the men; and Eliab's anger was kindled against David, and he said, Why comest thou down hither? and with whom hast thou left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know thy pride, and the naughtiness of thine heart; for thou art come down that thou mightest see the battle. And David said, What have I now done? ^z*Is there* not a cause? And he turned from him towards another, and ^aspake after the same ^tmanner: and the people answered him again after the former ^tmanner. And when the words were heard which David spake, they rehearsed them before Saul: and he ^tsent for him.

And David said to Saul, ^bLet no man's heart fail because of him; ^cthy servant will go and fight with this Philistine. And Saul said to David, Thou art not able to go against this Philistine to fight with him: for thou art but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth. And David said unto Saul, Thy servant kept his father's sheep, and there came a lion and a bear, and took a [†]lamb out of the flock: and I went out after him, and smote him, and delivered it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by his beard, and smote him, and slew him. Thy servant slew both the lion and the bear: and this ^duncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them, ^dseeing he hath defied the armies of the living God. David said moreover, ^eThe LORD that delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Philistine. And Saul said unto David, Go, and ^fthe LORD be with thee. And Saul [†]armed David with his armour, and he put a helmet of brass upon his head; also he armed him with a coat of mail. And David girded his sword upon his armour, and he assayed to go; for he had not proved it. And David said unto Saul, I cannot go with these; for I have not proved them. And David put them off him. And he took his staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the [†]brook, and put them in a shepherd's [†]bag which he had, even in a scrip; and his sling was in his hand: and he drew near to the Philistine. And the Philistine came on and drew near unto David; and ^gthe man that bare the shield went before him. And when the Philistine looked about, and saw David, he disdained him: for he was but a youth, and ^hruddy, and of a fair countenance. And the Philistine said unto David, [†]Am I a dog, that thou comest to me with staves? And the Philistine cursed David by his gods. And the Philistine said to David, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh unto the fowls of the air, and to the beasts of the field. Then said David to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with a sword, and with a spear, and with a ^kshield: but I come to thee in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Israel, whom thou hast [†]defied. This day will the LORD [†]deliver thee into mine hand; and I will smite thee, and take thine head from thee; and I will give ^mthe carcases of the host of the Philistines this day ⁿunto the fowls of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth; ^othat all the earth may know that there is a God in Israel. And all this assembly shall know that the LORD ^psaveth not with sword and spear: for ^qthe battle is the LORD's, and ^rhe will give you into our hands. And it came to pass, when the Philistine arose, and came and drew nigh to meet David, that David hastened, and ran toward the army to meet the Philistine. And David put his hand in his bag, and took thence a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistine in his forehead, that the stone sunk into his forehead; and he fell upon his face to the earth. So ^sDavid prevailed over the Philistine with a sling and with a stone, and smote the Philistine, and slew him; but there was no sword in the hand of David. Therefore David ran, and stood upon the Philistine, and took ^this sword, and drew it out of the sheath thereof, and slew him, and ^ucut off his head therewith. And when the Philistines saw their champion was dead, they fled. And the men of Israel and of Judah arose, and shouted, and pursued the Philistines, until thou come to the valley, and to the gates of Ekron. And the wounded of the Philistines fell down by the way to Shaaraim, even unto Gath, and unto Ekron. And the children of Israel returned from chasing after the Philistines, and they spoiled their tents. And David took the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Jerusalem; but he put his armour in his tent.

And when Saul saw David go forth against the Philistine, he said unto Abner, the captain of the host, Abner, whose son is this youth? And Abner said, As thy soul liveth, O king, I cannot tell. And the king said, Inquire thou whose son the stripling is. And as David returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, Abner took him, and brought him before Saul with the head of the Philistine in his hand. And Saul said to him, Whose son art thou, thou young man? And David answered, I am the son of thy servant Jesse the Beth-lehemite.

XVIII. And it came to pass, when he made an end of speaking unto Saul, that the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul. And Saul took him that day, and would let him go no more home to his father's house. Then Jonathan and David made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul. And Jonathan stript himself of the robe that was upon him, and gave it to David, and his garments, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle. And David went out whithersoever Saul sent him, and behaved himself wisely: and Saul set him over the men of war, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Saul's servants. And it came to pass as they came, when David was returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, that the women came out of all cities of Israel, singing and dancing, to meet king Saul, with tabrets, with joy, and with instruments of musick. And the women answered one another as they played, and said,

Saul hath slain his thousands,
And David his ten thousands.
And Saul was very wroth, and the saying displeased him; and he said, They have ascribed unto David ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed but thou- sands: and what can he have more but the kingdom? And Saul eyed David from that day and forward.

And it came to pass on the morrow, that the evil spirit from God came upon Saul, and he prophesied in the midst of the house: and David played with his hand, as at other times: and there was a javelin in Saul's hand. And Saul cast the javelin; for he said, I will smite David even to the wall with it. And David avoided out of his presence twice. And Saul was afraid of David, because the LORD was with him, and was departed from Saul. Therefore Saul removed him from him, and made him his captain over a thousand; and he went out and came in before the people. And David behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the LORD was with him. Wherefore when Saul saw that he behaved himself very wisely, he was afraid of him. But all Israel and Judah loved David, because he went out and came in before them.

And Saul said to David, Behold my elder daughter Merab, her will I give thee to wife: only be thou valiant for me, and fight the LORD's battles. For Saul said, Let not mine hand be upon him, but let the hand of the Philistines be upon him. And David said unto Saul, Who am I? and what is my life, or my father's family in Israel, that I should be son in law to the king? But it came to pass at the time when Merab Saul's daughter should have been given to David, that she was given unto Adriel the Meholathite to wife. And Michal Saul's daughter loved David: and they told Saul, and the thing pleased him. And Saul said, I will give him her, that she may be a snare to him, and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him. Wherefore Saul said to David, Thou shalt this day be my son in law in the one of the twain.

And Saul commanded his servants, saying, Commune with David secretly, and say, Behold, the king hath delight in thee, and all his servants love thee: now therefore be the king's son in law. And Saul's servants spake those words in the ears of David. And David said, Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a king's son in law, seeing that I am a poor man, and lightly esteemed? And the servants of Saul told him, saying, On this manner spake David. And Saul said, Thus shall ye say to David, The king desireth not any dowry, but an hundred foreskins of the Philistines, ^hto be avenged of the king's enemies. But ⁱSaul thought to make David fall by the hand of the Philistines. And when his servants told ²⁶ David these words, it ^jpleased David well to be the king's son in law: and ^kthe days were not ^lexpired. Where- ²⁷fore David arose and went, he and ^lhis men, and slew of the Philistines two hundred men; and ^mDavid brought their foreskins, and they gave them in full tale to the king, that he might be the king's son in law. And Saul gave him Michal his daughter to wife. And Saul ²⁸saw and knew that ⁿthe LORD was with David, and that Michal Saul's daughter loved him. And Saul was yet the more ²⁹^oafraid of David; and Saul became David's enemy ^ocontinually. Then the ³⁰princes of the Philistines ^pwent forth: and it came to pass, after they went forth, that David ^qbehaved himself more wisely than all the servants of Saul; so that his name was much ^rset by.

XIX.

And Saul spake to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, that they should kill David. But Jonathan Saul's son ²^adelighted much in David: and Jonathan told David, saying, Saul my father seeketh to kill thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take heed to thyself until the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thyself: and I will go out and ³stand beside my father in the field where thou art, and I will commune with my father of thee; and what I see, that I will tell thee. And Jonathan ⁴spake good of David unto Saul his father, and said unto him, Let not the king ^bsin against his servant, against David; because he hath not sinned against thee, and because his works have been to thee-ward very good: for ⁵he did ^cput his life in his hand, and ^dslew the Philistine, and ^ethe LORD wrought a great salvation for all Israel: thou sawest it, and didst rejoice: wherefore then wilt thou sin against ^finnocent blood, to slay David without a cause? And Saul hearkened unto the ⁶voice of Jonathan: and Saul sware, As ^gthe LORD liveth, he shall not be slain. And Jonathan called David, and ⁷Jonathan shewed him all those things. And Jonathan brought David to Saul, and he was in his presence, ^has ⁱin times past.

8 And there was war again: and David went out, and fought with the Philistines, and slew them with a great slaughter; and they fled from ^jhim. ⁹And ⁱthe evil spirit from the LORD was upon Saul, as he sat in his house with his javelin in his hand: and David ¹⁰^jplayed with his hand. And Saul sought to smite David even to the wall with the javelin; but he slipt away out of Saul's presence, and he smote the javelin into the wall: and David fled, and ¹¹escaped that night. ^kSaul also sent messengers unto David's house, to watch him, and to slay him in the morning: and Michal David's wife told him, saying, If thou save not thy life to night, to morrow thou shalt be slain.

¹² So Michal ^llet David down through a window: and he went, and fled, and ¹³escaped. And Michal took an ^mimage, and laid it in the bed, and put a pillow of goats' hair for his bolster, and covered ¹⁴*it* with a cloth. And when Saul sent messengers to take David, she said, He ¹⁵*is* sick. And Saul sent the messengers again to see David, saying, Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may slay ¹⁶him. And when the messengers were come in, behold there was an image in the bed, with a pillow of goats' hair for ¹⁷his bolster. And Saul said unto Michal, Why hast thou deceived me so, and sent away mine enemy, that he is escaped? And Michal answered Saul, He said unto me, Let me go; ^mwhy should I kill thee?

¹⁸ So David fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to ⁿRamah, and told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Samuel went and dwelt in Naioth. ¹⁹ And it was told Saul, saying, Behold, ²⁰David is at Naioth in ⁿRamah. And Saul sent messengers to take David: ^oand when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as appointed over them, the spirit of God was upon the messengers of ²¹Saul, and they also ^pprophesied. And when it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, and they prophesied likewise. And Saul sent messengers again the third time, and they prophesied also. ²² Then went he also to Ramah, and came to a great well that is in Sechu: and he asked and said, Where are Samuel and David? And one said, Behold, they be ²³at Naioth in ⁿRamah. And he went thither to Naioth in ⁿRamah: and ^qthe

And David fled from Naioth in ^aRamah, and came and said before Jonathan, What have I done? what is mine iniquity? and what is my sin before thy father, that he seeketh my life? And ²he said unto him, God forbid; thou shalt not die: behold, my father will do nothing either great or small, but that he will [†]shew it me: and why should my father hide this thing from me? it is not so. And David sware moreover, ³and said, Thy father certainly knoweth that ^bI have found grace in thine eyes; and he saith, Let not Jonathan know this, lest he be grieved: but truly as ^cthe LORD liveth, and as ^dthy soul liveth, there is but a step between me and death. Then said Jonathan unto David, ⁴[†]Whatsoever thy soul [†]desireth, I will even do it for thee. And David said ⁵unto Jonathan, Behold, to morrow is the ^enew moon, and I should not fail to sit with the king at meat: but let me go, that [†]I may hide myself in the fields unto the third day at even. If thy ⁶father at all miss me, then say, David earnestly asked leave of me that he might run ^gto Beth-lehem his city: for there is a ^hyearly [†]sacrifice there for all the family. If he say thus, It is well; ⁷thy servant shall have peace: but if he be very wroth, then be sure that ⁱevil is determined by him. Therefore thou ⁸shalt [†]deal kindly with thy servant; for ^kthou hast brought thy servant into a covenant of the LORD with thee: notwithstanding, [†]if there be in me iniquity, slay me thyself; for why shouldest thou bring me to thy father? And ⁹Jonathan said, Far be it from thee: for if I knew certainly that evil were determined by my father to come upon thee, then would not I tell it thee? Then said ¹⁰David to Jonathan, Who shall tell me? or what if thy father answer thee roughly? And Jonathan said unto David, Come, ¹¹and let us go out into the field. And they went out both of them into the field. And Jonathan said unto David, ¹²O LORD God of Israel, when I have [†]sounded my father about to morrow any time, or the third day, and behold, if there be good toward David, and I then send not unto thee, and [†]shew it ¹³thee; ^mthe LORD do so and much more to Jonathan: but if it please my father to do thee evil, then I will [†]shew it thee, and send thee away, that thou mayest go in peace: and ⁿthe LORD be with thee, as he hath been with my ¹⁴father. And thou shalt not only while yet I live shew me the kindness of the ¹⁵LORD, that I die not: but also ^othou shalt not cut off thy kindness from my house for ever: no, not when the LORD hath cut off the enemies of David every ¹⁶one from the face of the earth. So Jonathan [†]made a covenant with the house of David, saying, ^pLet the LORD even require it at the hand of David's ¹⁷enemies. And Jonathan caused David to swear again, [†]because he loved him: ^qfor he loved him as he loved his own ¹⁸soul. Then Jonathan said to David, ^rTo morrow is the new moon: and thou shalt be missed, because thy seat will ¹⁹be [†]empty. And when thou hast stayed three days, then thou shalt go down [†]quickly, and come to ^sthe place where thou didst hide thyself [†]when the business was in hand, and shalt remain by ²⁰the stone [†]Ezel. And I will shoot three arrows on the side thereof, as though I ²¹shot at a [†]mark. And behold, I will send a lad, saying, Go, find out the arrows. If I expressly say unto the lad, Behold, the arrows are on this side of thee, take them; then come thou: for there is peace to thee, and [†]no hurt; ²²^uas the LORD liveth. But if I say thus unto the young man, Behold, the arrows are beyond thee; go thy way: for the ²³LORD hath sent thee away. And as touching ^vthe matter which thou and I have spoken of, behold, the LORD be between thee and me for ever.

²⁴ So David hid himself in the field: and when the new moon was come, the ²⁵king sat him down to eat meat. And the king sat upon his seat, as at other times, even upon a seat by the wall: and Jonathan arose, and Abner sat by Saul's side, and David's place was ²⁶empty. Nevertheless Saul spake not any thing that day: for he thought, Something hath befallen him, ^whe is not clean; surely he is not clean. And it came to pass on the morrow, which was the second ^x*day* of the month, that David's place was empty: and Saul said unto Jonathan his son, Wherefore cometh not the son of Jesse to meat, neither yesterday, nor to day? And Jonathan answered Saul, [¶]David earnestly asked leave of me to go to Beth-lehem: and he said, Let me go, I pray thee; for our family hath a sacrifice in the city; and my brother, he hath commanded me to be there: and now, if I have found favour in thine eyes, let me get away, I pray thee, and see my brethren. Therefore he cometh not unto the king's table. Then Saul's anger was kindled against Jonathan, and he said unto him, [¶]Thou son of the perverse rebellious woman, do not I know that thou hast chosen the son of Jesse to thine own confusion, and unto the confusion of thy mother's nakedness? For as long as the son of Jesse liveth upon the ground, thou shalt not be stablished, nor thy kingdom. Wherefore now send and fetch him unto me, for he [†]shall surely die. And Jonathan answered Saul his father, and said unto him, [¶]Wherefore shall he be slain? what hath he done? And Saul [¶]cast a javelin at him to smite him: whereby Jonathan knew that [¶]it was determined of his father to slay David. So Jonathan arose from the table [¶]in fierce anger, and did eat no meat the second day of the month: for he was grieved for David, because his father had done him shame.

And it came to pass in the morning, that Jonathan went out into the field at the time appointed with David, and a little lad with him. And he said unto his lad, Run, find out now the arrows which I shoot. And as the lad ran, he shot an arrow [†]beyond him. And when the lad was come to the place of the arrow which Jonathan had shot, Jonathan cried after the lad, and said, Is not the arrow [¶]beyond thee? And Jonathan cried after the lad, Make speed, haste, stay not. And Jonathan's lad gathered up the arrows, and came to his master. But the lad knew not any thing: only Jonathan and David knew the matter. And Jonathan gave his [†]artillery unto [†]this lad, and said unto him, Go, carry them to the city. And as soon as the lad was gone, David arose out of a place toward the south, and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself three times: and they kissed one another, and wept one with another, until David exceeded.

42 And Jonathan said to David, [¶]Go in peace, [¶]forasmuch as we have sworn both of us in the name of the LORD, saying, The LORD be between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for ever. And he arose and departed: and [¶]Jonathan went into the city.

Then came David to [¶]Nob to [¶]Ahimelech the priest: and Ahimelech was [¶]afraid at the meeting of David, and said unto him, Why [¶]art thou alone, and no man with thee? And David said unto Ahimelech the priest, The king hath commanded me a business, and hath said unto me, Let no man know any thing of the business whereabout I send thee, and what I have commanded thee: and I have appointed my servants to such and such a place. Now therefore what is under thine hand? give me five loaves of bread in mine hand, or what there is [†]present. And the priest answered David, and said, There is no common bread under mine hand, but there is [¶]hallowed bread; [¶]if the young men have kept themselves at least from women. And David answered the priest, and said unto him, Of a truth women have been kept from us about these three days, since I came out, and the vessels of the young men are holy, and the bread is [¶]in a manner common, [¶]yea, though it were sanctified this day in the vessel. So the priest gave him hallowed bread: for there was no bread there but the shewbread, [†]that was taken from before the LORD, to put hot bread in the day when it was taken away. Now a certain man of the servants of Saul was there that day, [¶]detained before the LORD; and his name was [¶]Doeg, an Edomite, the chiefest of the herdmen that belonged to Saul. And David said unto Ahimelech, And is there not here under thine hand spear or sword? for I have neither brought my sword nor my weapons with me, because the king's business required haste. And the priest said, [¶]The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou slewest in [¶]the valley of Elah, [¶]behold, it is here wrapt in a cloth behind the ephod: if thou wilt take that, take it: for there is no other save that here. And David said, There is none like that; give it me. And David arose, and fled that day for fear of Saul, and went to [¶]Achish escaped to ^athe cave ^bAdullam: and when his brethren and all his father's house heard it, they went down thither to him. And ^cevery one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was ^ddiscontented, gathered themselves unto him; and he became a captain over them: and there were with him about ^dfour hundred men. And David went thence ³ to Mizpeh of Moab: and he said unto ^ethe king of Moab, Let my father and my mother, I pray thee, come forth, and be with you, till I know what God will do for me. And he brought them ⁴ before the king of Moab: and they dwelt with him all the while that David was in the hold. And the prophet ⁵ ^fGad said unto David, Abide not in the hold; depart, and get thee into the land of Judah. Then David departed, and came into the forest of Hareth.

When Saul heard that David was ⁶ discovered, and the men that were with him, (now Saul abode in ^gGibeah under a ^htree in ^hRamah, having his spear in his hand, and all his servants were standing about him;) then Saul said unto his servants that stood about him, Hear now, ye Benjamites; will the son of Jesse ⁱgive every one of you fields and vineyards. and make you all captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds; that all of you have conspired against ⁸ me, and there is none that ^jsheweth me that ⁱmy son hath made a league with the son of Jesse, and there is ^jnone of you that is sorry for me, or ^ksheweth unto me that my son hath stirred up my servant against me, to lie in wait, as at ⁹this day? Then answered ^kDoeg the Edomite, which was set over the servants of Saul, and said, I saw the son of Jesse coming to ¹Nob, to Ahimelech the son of ^mAhitub: and he ⁿinquired of the LORD for him, and ^ogave him victuals, and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine. Then the king sent to call Ahimelech the priest, the son of Ahitub, and all his father's house, the priests that were in ¹Nob: and they ¹²came all of them to the king. And Saul said. Hear now, thou son of Ahitub. And he answered, ¹Here I am, my lord. And Saul said unto him, Why have ye conspired against me, thou and the son of Jesse, in that thou hast given him bread and a sword, and hast ⁿinquired of God for him, that he should rise against me, ^pto lie in wait, as at ¹⁴this day? Then Ahimelech answered the king, and said, And who is so faithful among all thy servants as David, which is the king's son in law, and goeth at thy bidding, and is honourable ¹⁵in thine house? Did I then begin to ⁿinquire of God for him? be it far from me: let not the king impute any thing unto his servant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy servant knew nothing ¹⁶of all this, ¹less or more. And the king said, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, ¹⁷thou, and all thy father's house. And the king said unto the ¹footmen that stood about him, Turn, and slay the priests of the LORD; because their hand also is with David, and because they knew when he fled, and did not shew it to me. But the servants of the king would not put forth their hand to fall ¹⁸upon the priests of the LORD. And the king said to Doeg, Turn thou, and fall upon the priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and he fell upon the priests, and ^qslew on that day fourscore and five persons that ^rdid wear a linen ephod. ¹⁹And ¹Nob, the city of the priests, smote he with the edge of the sword, ^sboth men and women, children and sucklings, and oxen, and asses, and sheep, with the edge of the sword. ²⁰And one of the sons of Ahimelech the son of Ahitub, named ^tAbiathar, ²¹escaped, and fled after David. And Abiathar shewed David that Saul had ²²slain the LORD's priests. And David said unto Abiathar, I knew it that day,

XXIII. Then they told David, saying, Behold, the Philistines fight against ^aKeilah, and they rob the threshingfloors. Therefore David ^binquired of the LORD, saying, Shall I go and smite these Philistines? And the LORD said unto David, Go, and smite the Philistines, and save Keilah. And David's men said unto him, Behold, we be afraid here in Judah: how much more then if we come to Keilah against the armies of the Philistines? Then David inquired of the LORD yet again. And the LORD answered him and said, Arise, go down to Keilah; for ^cI will deliver the Philistines into thine hand. So David and his men went to Keilah, and fought with the Philistines, and brought away their cattle, and smote them with a great slaughter. So David saved the inhabitants of Keilah. And it came to pass, when Abiathar the son of Ahimelech ^dfled to David to Keilah, that he came down with an ephod in his hand.

And it was told Saul that David ^ecame to Keilah. And Saul said, God hath delivered him into mine hand; for he is shut in, by entering into a town that hath gates and bars. And Saul ^ecalled all the people together to war, to go down to Keilah, to besiege David and his men. And David knew that Saul secretly practised mischief against him; and ^fhe said to Abiathar the priest, Bring hither the ephod. Then said David, O LORD God of Israel, thy servant hath certainly heard that Saul seeketh to come to Keilah, ^gto destroy the city for my sake. Will ^hthe men of Keilah deliver me up into his hand? Will Saul come down, as thy servant hath heard? O LORD God of Israel, I beseech thee, tell thy servant. And the LORD said, He will come down. Then said David, Will ^hthe men of Keilah ⁱdeliver me and my men into the hand of Saul? And the LORD said, They will ⁱdeliver thee up. Then David and his men, which were about ⁱsix hundred, arose and departed out of Keilah, and ^kwent whithersoever they could go. And it was told Saul that David was escaped from Keilah; and he forbore to go forth. And David abode in the wilderness in strong holds, and remained in a mountain in the wilderness of ^lZiph. And Saul sought him every day, but God delivered him not into his hand. And David saw that Saul was come out to seek his life: and David was in the wilderness of ^lZiph in a wood.

And ^mJonathan Saul's son arose, and went to David into the wood, and strengthened his hand in God. And he said unto him, Fear not: for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee; and thou shalt be king over Israel, and I shall be next unto thee; and ⁿthat also Saul my father knoweth. And they two ^omade a covenant ^pbefore the LORD: and David abode in the wood, and Jonathan went to his house.
